Segregation Demonstrations Hit Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Demonstrations against mingling of the races in the public schools spread to the nation's capital today while the tension of last week at nearby Baltimore eased as white and Negro pupils resumed classes. The admission of Negroes to high schools in Washington was protested in demonstrations by hundreds of boys and girls, marking the first signs of trouble over the issue there. The schools have mixed the races this year for the first time following the Supreme Court decision in May voiding segregation. A demonstration at McKinley High was orderly with the youngsters "just talking and laughing." After milling about for some 45 minutes the students were persuaded by principal Charles E. Bish to re-enter the building and continue their protest meeting in a classroom. At Anacostia High some 400 students jeered and booed two score Negro pupils. The angry disturbances and violence of last Friday were missing as white and Negro pupils resumed classes at Baltimore. A crowd of several hundred demonstrated at Southern High school there Friday. Escorted by ministers and parents, Negroes entered Southern this morning as police kept persons moving outside the school.

BRIG. GEN. Ralph Zwicker, shown in Los Angeles with his wife Dorothy, said he felt a "deep sense of satisfaction" at action of the Senate committee in recommending censure of Senator Joseph McCarthy (R), Wisconsin. One censure recommendation was based on McCarthy's treatment of Zwicker as a witness. The Zwickers are en route to Japan. (International Soundphoto)

French Scandal Growing Over Military Leaks

PARIS — The military magistrate investigating the sensational leak of French defense secrets to the Communists prepared today to take testimony from ex-Premier Joseph Laniel and two of his ministers. The former Laniel Cabinet members are Pierre-Henri Teitgen, who was deputy premier, and Edmond Barrachin, formerly minister of state for constitutional reform. Information reportedly started filtering to the Reds from high defense counsels during the Laniel administration. He took office in June, 1953, and resigned after losing a vote of confidence as of June 12. Police said today the arrest of Andre Baranes, a Communist newspaperman, is bringing to light details on the pipeline by which the Reds obtained top secrets. Baranes was charged formally yesterday with endangering the security of the state. Today police searched the offices of his employer, the newspaper Liberation, and the home of the paper's managing editor. (Continued on Page Four)

Pact Restores Large Measure Of Sovereignty

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Dulles, returning from London in an evidently jubilant mood, said today the agreements reached there give the Atlantic community a "hard core of European unity." Dulles said in a statement on his arrival at the airport, "the United States will, I hope, cooperate with the result, because to do so will be very much in our national interest." Dulles said the agreement under which West Germany will rearm as a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization means the federal republic's sovereignty will be restored, "and beginning today the allied high commissioners will forego the exercise of most of their occupation rights." Dulles said in his statement, read for television, "the London conference produced solid results. It worked out a system, in place of the European Defense Community, which can preserve and strengthen the Atlantic community by giving it a hard core of European unity." In this way, he said, the new plan for West Germany to join its neighbors in a European pact and the broader community of North Atlantic Treaty powers, "salvages many of the features of the EDC plan." This plan, rejected by the French Parliament, would have set up German troops as part of a tightly unified European army. Dulles said the accomplishment of a substitute arrangement "within 33 days of the rejection of EDC shows the vitality of the Atlantic community." Dulles stressed that the agreements reached are not yet in effect but require further approvals "by other nations and by parliament."

Stockton Charges Old Regime Heads Democrats; Fernandez Says Childers Misleading on Schools

Charges Former Mabrymen Invade High Positions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Alvin Stockton today asked voters to "compare the campaign oratory with the facts." The Republican candidate for governor said that "there is no doubt whatsoever" that John Simms' campaign has "the flavor of the past which he is assiduously asking us to forget." In Roswell for a handshaking tour, Stockton said that "former Liquor Director Tom Montoya still holds a high post in party circles, that the man who served under Tom Mabry as lieutenant governor, is seeking that post again, and that John Simms is 'working hand and glove with the old machine characters, even inviting several of them into his home for a pep talk.' Representative Asks Federal Aid to Schools

By The Associated Press
Rep. A. M. Fernandez has asked a Republican opponent to speak more clearly on how he feels about federal aid for schools. Fernandez said Tom Childers, GOP nominee for U. S. representative, left much unsaid in his talk before state educators at Albuquerque last Thursday. Fernandez said Childers advocated federal aid only after maximum state effort. Fernandez insisted maximum effort and study have already been expended and asked about "the forgotten children in counties and school districts which are bonded to the limit and yet have deplorable school facilities." Fernandez further criticized Childers for saying he favors federal aid in defense areas. "Bless his heart," Fernandez said, "we already have federal aid for defense areas." The office of Sen. Anderson released a survey of legislation in (Continued on Page Four)

Federal Officials to Open New Oil Exploration Lands

By JOHN KAMPS
WASHINGTON — Federal officials are working out regulations for the opening of a sizeable area of the United States to prospecting for uranium and oil. Interior department regulations will administer a new law permitting prospectors, miners and drillers to work simultaneously on 70 million acres of land, nearly half of Uncle Sam's holdings. A spokesman for the department says miners and oilmen will be given a chance to voice their views before the regulations are made effective. This may be done through conference or publication of proposed regulations. The "multiple use" law, passed by the recent Congress, is expected to stimulate prospecting for the production of metals and petroleum throughout the West. It is aimed at ending conflict between miners and drillers and permitting maximum development of natural resources needed for national defense. The conflict has held back production of uranium—the atomic bomb ingredient—on the vast Colorado Plateau covering parts of Colorado, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico. This rugged area may contain the nation's biggest uranium reserves. Thousands of mining claims were staked on land in the plateau which, it was discovered later, had been leased for oil and gas exploration. The interior department held the claims were invalid. Congress, in 1953, passed a law making valid all claims filed since 1952, provided miners do the required paper work at the county clerk and recorders' office before mid-December of this year. The 1954 law also permits miners to file claims on public lands not leased for petroleum and authorize the secretary of the interior to carry an atomic warhead. (Continued on page four)

Charges Prepared Against Two Held In Store Breakins

CLOVIS — Charges are expected to be filed today against two men police say held up the Safeway supermarket Sunday morning. The two are being questioned in connection with grocery robberies at Hobbs and Roswell. Sheriff Val Baumgart said he and State Police Capt. Jimmy Clark arrested the two men about three hours after the robbery and that they had with them the $1,094.69 that was reported stolen. He said they admitted the gun-point robbery. Baumgart said the two men, 23 and 25 years old, were from Texas. He said they were caught as they walked toward the Texas border. The robbery was Safeway's second in a year. Baumgart gave this account of how it happened: When Assistant Manager Rollie Harmon unlocked the store at 7:40 a. m. he was confronted by two men wearing silk stockings over their heads. They ordered him to unlock the safe, then locked him up with a clerk, Leldon Masters, who came in shortly after. They cleaned out the money and left on foot. Outside, they got in Masters' car, but didn't take it. Instead they started down the alley on foot. Their whereabouts was reported by a farmer, Bud Winters, who lives about four miles east of here. He said they came to his house asking if they could buy some cigars.

Social State Meeting

Mrs. Donald Knorr was speaker at the luncheon held in the Presbyterian Parish hall Friday noon for the members of the district convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

In her program, "The Wheel of Fashion," Mrs. Knorr brought out the ways that fashion repeats itself during the years. Live models displayed fashions worn in the years 1890-1954.

To carry out the program idea further there were displays of a tea set, children's clothes, dolls and dishes of another day.

Arrangements of fall flowers decorated the tables, also individual place decorations of chili peppers in which was placed miniature New Mexico state flags.

Mrs. J. T. Caudle led the group in singing, "O Fair New Mexico."

MRS. T. L. ARCHER was hostess in her home Friday afternoon, honoring the delegates to the convention. Lovely arrangements of fall flowers decorated the rooms.

The tea table was covered with an aqua organdy cloth which had a founce that hung to the floor. The centerpiece was flower filled twin cornucopia.

Mrs. Harold Kersey and Mrs. Robert Collins served small frosted cookies, mints, nuts, coffee and tea to the guests.

Members were attired in aqua dresses. Archer was assisted by Mrs. Land Wittkopp and Mrs. Francis.

THE ARTESIA Country club was the setting for a banquet held Friday evening for the delegates. Mrs. Jack Knorr played organ music while the group was gathering. Mrs. A. Douglas Smith of Pecos, Texas, state chaplain, gave the invocation. Mrs. James Hinkle of Roswell led the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Wilbur Ahlvers, with Mrs. Knorr at the organ, sang three selections, "The House I Live In," "Old River," and "The Surrey With Fringe on Top."

The speaker for the evening, Franklin L. Orth of Washington, D. C. Orth is deputy assistant secretary of the Army for the major and reserve forces. He spoke on national defense and world situation today. He stressed the need for preparedness.

The speaker's table had a low arrangement of fall flowers. Individual place decorations were paper candle holders with colored candles decorated with small clusters of fall flowers.

peeted, we were chopped off short Friday night when the Bulldogs took the Duke City team only two touchdowns.

Booster Mills told us the other day that he broke into baseball at the same time Dave Philley, Cleveland outfielder did, down in the East Texas league.

NEEDLESS TO SAY, WITH Clovis' 20-7 win over Carlsbad Friday, all eyes in the state will be focused on Morris field this Friday when the Wildcats meet the Bulldogs.

Leslie Martin ... are in Artesia ...

Clovis will undoubtedly be the favorite on the basis of their 27-0 win over Albuquerque as compared with Artesia's 13-0 win last week.

Ted Carder ... Jo and Margaret ...

With their weight, the Clovis gridgers will be hard to stop by the comparatively light Bulldogs, but the splendid Artesia backfield will play hobb with anybody's defense.

Philly was playing with the Marshall, Tex., team and the Rooster played with Longview, Ad.

THE BULLDOGS, ALSO, HAD better enjoy being favorites because comparative scores are completely nuts most of the time.

NEW YORK — Leo Durocher, manager of the world champion New York Giants, will be back at the helm in 1955.

For instance, New Mexico Aggies last year beat West Texas 19-13. Texas Tech beat West Texas 40-14 which would make the Red Raiders 20 points better than A&M.

Scotching all rumors he intended to quit the Giants and leave baseball entirely.

Tech beat Houston 41-21 which would put the Cougars on an even par with the Aggies. Houston turned around and clawed Baylor 37-7 which would seem to indicate that New Mexico A&M was 30 points better than Baylor.

Th triumphant manager left last night for his Beverly Hills, Calif., home for a rest.

No additional comment is necessary.

In between hugs and kisses, the elated Giant owner lauded Leo for his brilliant masterminding in the series.

State at Tempe, which out-scrambled Texas Western 34-27 for its third straight victory Saturday, meets San Jose. Both Border teams play at home.

Hardin-Simmons was blanked 14-0 by Trinity at Abilene, West Texas well 14-7 to Midwestern at Canyon and New Mexico A&M finally scored but still lost 42-18 to Sul Ross at Pecos.

Texas Tech, the leading conference power, saw the sheen of its season record marred in the third game Saturday by a 13-13 tie with Oklahoma A&M. It returns to conference play this week against El Paso's Texas Western Miners at Lubbock.

The other three teams fell to non-conference opponents they had been expected to beat.

Utah State, last season's runner-up, moved along side Wyoming and the C-Aggies with an unexpected 6-0 triumph over the New Mexico Lobos at Albuquerque.

But New Mexico showed up with its customary lack of offensive punch. The Utags stopped two plunges on the 1 to save the game.

Utah's unpredictable Utes surprised Oregon, 7-6, in their final tuneup before opening defense of their Skyline championship against Brigham Young at Provo Saturday.

Suspicious Arising Purdue Win Over Notre Dame No Fluke, Boilermakers Are Favored Over Duke

By ED CORRIGAN AP Sports Writer

Four years ago Purdue snapped a Notre Dame unbeaten streak at 39 games. That Boilermaker club won only one more game that season, so the suspicion was that it was one of those flukes that happen every so often.

This year they broke a modest Notre Dame unbeaten streak of 13 games and in the process handed 26-year-old Terry Brennan his first defeat as a varsity college coach. This one, you may be sure, was no fluke.

After whipping both Missouri and Notre Dame, the Boilermakers play host this week to Duke, which also has won both its games. The Blue Devils beat Penn in their opener and nipped Tennessee 7-6 Saturday. On that basis, Purdue should rule the solid favorite.

Coach Stu Holcomb has a solid club, several good veterans and a fine crop of sophomores headed by the fantastic Len Dawson, who in his first two games has pitched eight touchdown passes. He completed 7 of 12 in the Boilermakers' 27-14 conquest of the Irish.

No Manager Could Have Made Series Winner From Indians

By GAYLE TALBOT CLEVELAND — They were saying in this stricken city today that the World Series would have been an entirely different proposition if Willie Mays hadn't made that outlandish catch of Vic Wertz's potential game wrecker on the first day at the Polo Grounds.

American league champions simply are not a solid outfit. After you've said that they have two of the game's best pitchers in Bob Lemon and Early Wynn, you've just about exhausted the subject.

Even General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Indians subscribed to this sentiment. The suffering citizens could be right to some extent.

The Indians were supposed to have bench strength, yet at the very end, with only one more out to go before decommitment set in, Lopez found himself forced to send up a lefty swinger, Dale Mitchell, against one of the game's finest southpaws, Johnny Antonelli.

Skyline Loop Unsnarling Seen Saturday

By FRANK PITMAN DENVER, (AP) — The three-way jam for the leadership of the Skyline conference will be unsnarled a little Saturday night when Wyoming's Cowboys — running "scared" after barely edging Denver — tackle Colorado A&M at Fort Collins.

The most significant thing we heard in the winners' happy dressing room was Durocher's explanation of why he relished with Antonelli in the eighth inning of the clincher after Hoyt Wilhelm had wavered, instead of bringing on his other short-term specialist, Marv Grissom, who had proved his ability to throttle the Tribe in the opener.

Junior Hornets Capture 19-7 Win Over Eisenhower

Artesia Junior high's Hornets continued their winning ways Friday night with a 19-7 victory over Eisenhower Junior high school at Carlsbad.

The charges of Coach Bud Wilborn and Francis Robinson turned loose their split-T offense and scored James Mitchell from the three yard line in the first quarter, Jerry Bonds from the four in the third period, and Mitchell again in the last stanza on the last play of the game from 20 yards out.

Utah State, last season's runner-up, moved along side Wyoming and the C-Aggies with an unexpected 6-0 triumph over the New Mexico Lobos at Albuquerque.

Some of the Cleveland supporters we talked with after the final game were inclined to be critical of the way Lopez handled his team during the rout. That is, they didn't think he looked quite as sharp as Durocher did in the tight spots. We were forced to disagree.

Utah State, last season's runner-up, moved along side Wyoming and the C-Aggies with an unexpected 6-0 triumph over the New Mexico Lobos at Albuquerque.

It is true that Leo managed a terrific series, but he had the better club, the faster and smarter club. Lopez directed such talent as he had at his disposal in the exact manner he did during the season, and that was good enough to overwhelm the five weak teams in his league.

trict competition against Santa Fe this week. The Demons whipped Valley of Albuquerque 23-12 last week to bring their district mark to 1-1.

One of the other unbeaten giants faces its stiffest test of the season, but the fourth slacks off against class A competition as it looks for victory number five in an unblemished season.

The other league battle pits St. Mary's of Albuquerque, 20-12 victors over Farmington last week, and off-beaten Las Cruces.

Artesia got its fourth victory of the season at the expense of Albuquerque. The southern Bulldogs romped to a 13-0 decision with quarterback Johnny Riddle providing the spark that made the difference.

Hobbs, taking its fourth licking in a row from Classen of Oklahoma City last week, has still another out-of-state on the schedule. The Eagles will try Kermit, Tex., Friday. Valley and Farmington are idle.

But the Texas coach wasn't exactly pessimistic over chances of his team knocking down one of the highest ranking outfits in the country. He found his Longhorns pretty sharp last week as they bashed Washington State 40-14 and he was delighted that they didn't fumble a since time for the opposition to get the ball.

Riddle's running and passing, however, will stand its stiffest challenge of the season against a big Clovis line.

Defending state champ Roswell is the only other big school still boasting a clean slate. The Coyotes—with a couple of assists from Lady Luck—got past a surprising Trinidad, Colo., team 13-7 last week. The Coyotes are content to ease off against class A Portales this week.

This Is National Newspaper Week

THE FIRST WEEK in October has been set aside now as National Newspaper Week in the nation.

During this week special tribute is paid to the press for the contribution it makes to its community, for services rendered, and for the job done.

The kind of a job that is done depends on the owners, the operators, the editors, reporters, and staff members of the paper.

There are outstanding newspapers that do a top job. There are others that do only a mediocre job.

However, the average newspaper makes the greatest contribution off its shelves and of its stock in trade to a community of any institution in that community.

White space is their stock in trade. Income from their subscriptions and circulations help provide funds on which to operate newspapers but it is the revenue from the sale of advertising—display, classified and legal—which brings in the money necessary for the operation of the newspapers.

Through the years newspapers have donated white space for every worthy cause and movement in their own community and in the nation. Maybe this has been advertising for the sale of defense bonds, advertising for the various branches of the armed services, space for Red Cross campaigns. They have given for other causes.

In addition to all this they have given free publicity and they have contributed their time and their money to worthy causes and movements.

They deserve to have a word of thanks expressed because of the job they seek to do.

Far too often we take all this for granted and we forget that newspapers are business institutions requiring large investments and large payrolls and overhead costs to continue to serve their community.

We are proud of the job The Advocate has endeavored to do, not for just a few months, but for over 50 years. We are proud of the contributions this newspaper has made to this community and that it is continuing to make.

We appreciate the cooperation and the support of our friends, our subscribers, our readers and our advertisers, who have made this service possible.

And on this, the observance of another National Newspaper Week we pledge to continue this service and to try to warrant any thanks voiced to us.

French Scandal—

Editor, Emmanuel d'Astier de la Vigerie. He is deputy in the French National Assembly from the pro-Communist Progressive party.

Neither the purpose nor the results of the searches was revealed. Baranes was nabbed Saturday as he tried to flee to Switzerland.

Andre Hugues, a Radical-socialist member of the National Assembly who granted asylum to the journalist in his country home near Nover last week, also will be called before the investigating magistrate, police said.

Hugues said he sheltered Baranes after the man told him his life was threatened. Baranes at that time had already been questioned by the magistrate and freed. The warrant for his arrest was issued last Friday.

Roswell Fair Set to Open Tuesday Night

With 38 floats, 16 bands, military units, sheriff's posse, and specialty entries in the opening parade, the 32nd Eastern New Mexico State Fair will get under way in Roswell Tuesday, Oct. 5, and continue through Oct. 9. Amador Chamber of Commerce, with 70 business men, accompanied by the Amarillo Air Force band, will form one unit of the parade.

Artesia Chamber of Commerce will also have a float in the parade.

Bands will be here from Clovis, Dexter, Fort Sumner, Ruidoso, Portales, Carrizozo, Hagerman, Artesia, Tatum, Lovington, Plains, Texas, Vaughn, Elsworth Air Force Base, Amarillo, Texas and Eunice.

Gates at Fair Park will be thrown open immediately following the parade at 10:30 Tuesday morning with all exhibits ready. Judging in some departments will start Monday. Indications point to jammed quarters in most of the livestock buildings despite the enlargements which have been made.

In addition to the registered livestock divisions, the Junior division will have 100 calves, 300 lambs, and 150 swine. The tops of these three divisions will go in the auction ring at the Junior Livestock sale Friday evening, Oct. 8.

Beutler Brothers stock will be used in the give night rodeo program with Lynn Beutler the arena director. Extensive improvements have been made in the midway this year to accommodate a larger show there. The flower show sponsored by the Chavez County council of Garden clubs will occupy 7500 feet of floor space in the agricultural building.

New Jersey Man, Wife Chosen as Tourists of Week

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Ernst of Woodbridge, N. J., were Artesia's tourists of the week Friday.

On an extended vacation which started July 14 from their home 20 miles south of New York City, the Ernsts have covered the United States from New Jersey to California. They also included a two-week stay with their daughter in British Columbia, Canada.

The Ernsts were on their way to visit the Carlsbad Caverns when they were stopped here. Their hosts for the stay were Mr. and Mrs. George Ferriman.

They were to eat dinner at the Artesian Room of Mac's Drive In and spend the night at the Park Motel after seeing a movie at the Lansdown Theatre.

Cliff's Cafeteria was the donor of free breakfast Saturday morning and a free tank of gas from the Triangle Service Station was to send them on their way.

Three Artesians Enter Sul Ross

Charges—

GOP Campaign Manager Peter Gable said the strategy is to "kill us with kindness."

Gable said that after months of "attacking the administration of Gov. Edwin Mechem as being backward and rudderless, we suddenly hear Tom Brown admit that the last couple of years have seen a return to morality to government."

The sudden turnaround of the Democratic state chairman obviously resulted from Mr. Brown's campaign of fabrication and falsification.

Cable said he referred to a talk made by Brown in Artesia.

Brown appeared there Saturday at a non-partisan dinner in his honor at which he said morality in government has been apparent during the last two years, but that people are now demanding a spiritual outlook from their leaders.

Cable said, "The people expect some semblance of consistency from a candidate for public office. Instead we see Mr. Brown telling one group one thing, Mr. Simms saying another."

He called it an example of a "marvel of double talk and confusion."

Charges to Be Filed on Youths

ALBUQUERQUE — Charges are today to be filed against three local youths who were picked up Sunday and who police said admitted robbing three gas stations during the last three weeks.

The three said they held up gas stations in Albuquerque and gathered over $500, Hubbell said. He said he would question them about other station robberies.

Mrs. Enid Lewis Appointed as Chief Operator

Wayne Daugherty, Artesia manager of the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Co., has announced appointment of Mrs. Enid Lewis, 706 W. Missouri, as chief operator for Artesia succeeding Mrs. Mary Jones who retires Oct. 5.

Mrs. Lewis, her husband Homer, and son Bill, have lived in Artesia for the past seven years. She is active in Eastern Star, White Shrine, and the First Christian Church.

Mrs. Lewis will take over the chief operator post Oct. 3.

which the senator has participated as a sponsor. And Democratic State Chairman Tom Brown spoke of "trends toward the realization for a spiritual foundation in government affairs."

Anderson's report listed 45 pieces of legislation, saying 25 of these either became laws or had their provisions incorporated in laws. Prominent in the list were the flexible farm price support law, the new cotton acreage law, several drought-aid measures and mine aid legislation.

Brown said candidates are being chosen on the basis of their attitude toward spiritual values.

"The people are returning operation of the government," he said, "to the philosophy of spiritual democracy, where the church and state are separated as organizations but bound together when the citizen fulfills his obligation to his country and church."

"They are choosing their candidates on that basis," he said.

When Doctor Says 'Take It Easy,' Avoid Overdose

DETROIT - If your doctor advised you to "take it easy," don't immobilize yourself completely. It could be dangerous to your health. That's the warning of Dr. Milton R. Weed, associate editor of the Detroit Medical News.

"Rest is effective medicine in some infectious and inflammatory diseases, but overdose of rest is toxic and may be lethal," he said in an article in the magazine. "Furthermore, prolonged rest is habit forming. Even though it is not included under the Harrison Act (federal narcotics law), it should be prescribed only when indicated and with the same exactness used in prescribing to her potent and dangerous medicines."

Dr. Weed cited an experiment conducted a few years ago by a group of medical researchers who immobilized four healthy young men for periods of six to seven weeks. Numerous undesirable physiological changes took place in the patients, Dr. Weed said. These included a decline in total blood volume, a deterioration of mechanisms for maintaining adequate circulation while standing erect and regressive personality changes. The doctor concluded: "It is illogical to advise inactivity without good reason as it is to prescribe penicillin for every infection."

ONE PHASE of integrating health program into Artesia school system is conferences between school nurses and faculty. Mrs. Holly Oberleas, right above, one of two full-time nurses, tells Park school faculty objectives of program and how they can cooperate. (Advocate Photo)

Sweeping New School Health Program Is Placed In Effect This Year in Big Artesia System

All the tests showed little Billy was a boy with normal intelligence—but that didn't change the fact his third grade performance was considerably under that of other youngsters in his class.

His parents were increasingly worried and his teacher highly concerned for his unhappy performance—until he was asked to read a sentence from the blackboard one day.

Billy couldn't read it and then everyone found out the secret to his miserable school life—his eyes were perfect when it came to reading at his desk, but he couldn't make out a thing on the blackboard.

"This little story points out why we're driving at in our new health program in the Artesia schools this year," says George P. White, a genial member of the school administrative team who carries the title "director" of instruction.

"Too often in the past school health programs have meant putting mercurochrome and bandages on cuts and bruises, taking sick children home, and giving shots," White says.

He adds: "Yet the child who is not physically at his healthful best isn't going to benefit from all our efforts to educate him."

THAT ATTITUDE has brought a sweeping new Artesia school program, forcefully put into effect this year.

For the first time each child now has a permanent health record card, which goes in the same folder as his permanent academic card.

It gives a record of symptoms observed by the teachers, from styes and frequent headaches to earaches, behavior symptoms such as speech defects and shyness, general condition and appearance, health habits, and absence for illnesses.

It also provides for recording regular height and weight measurements, as well as eye, teeth, and hearing examinations. It has an immunization record and reports physician's recommendations.

The health program has resulted in purchase of an audiometer, a $400 device smaller than its name or price would indicate but just the thing for testing hearing.

Hearing tests are planned for every child twice in his school career—once in the third, once in the fourth grades.

ALREADY THIS year several conferences between the three full-time school nurses—Mrs. Holly Oberleas, Mrs. Naomi Buckout and Mrs. Marguerite Breen—and faculties of the schools they serve have been held.

The purpose is to fully coordinate the school's health program into everyday school activity. Teachers have long been aware a child's physical health may be key to his school work—and now they have a chance to do something about it.

Under the new program a health appraisal is to be made of every child in the first, third, and sixth grades by the nurses.

If there are defects, the matter is referred to parents, who are asked to consult with a doctor.

The health integration into the school program is reflected in little things, too—for instance, when a nurse excuses a child from class because of illness, a duplicate is sent to the principal's office. When the child turns up missing, the principal now knows why, rather than wondering if he should send the truant officer around.

NURSES HAVE been assigned definite places in the school system. Mrs. Naomi Buckout, public health nurse, is assigned on a half-time basis to outlying schools in the Artesia district—Hope, Cottonwood, Atoka, and Loco Hills. Mrs. Oberleas is charged with Park, Junior, and Senior schools, Mrs. Breen with Hermosa, Central and Roselawn.

The current year is the first time in three years the Artesia school system has had its full quota of two nurses, due to a shortage in the field.
