GOP Touring Candidates Visit Artesia

The candidates were feted this noon at a barbecue luncheon held by Eddy County Republicans at Artesia Country Club. No formal appearances were scheduled by the candidates.

North's Tail to Hit State, Bringing Snow

A freezing norther howling toward the Texas Panhandle from the snow-laden Rockies is expected to bring New Mexico its first snow of the season late today. Only the tail of the storm, however, is supposed to hit the state and only the extreme northeast is expected to get the first fall of snow. But winds which Sunday ranged to peaks of 50 miles per hour raked the first real cold snap and temperatures were expected to drop to the 20 mark in the night and freezing marks are to be general over much of the state.

The district weather bureau said the storm, carrying light rain and snow, generally is moving from the east side of the Rockies, was snowing early today in Montana and North Dakota and South Dakota and western Kansas in addition to Colorado. The chill is expected to move to the Panhandle area of Arizona by sundown. Widely scattered showers accompanied the advance of the cool area into the northwestern corner of New Mexico last night with rain reporting a trace and drizzle all over the state generally in the 40-mile-per-hour gust with a chilly 29 was the lowest overnight spot while the 57 at Hobbs and Carlsbad was high, and the maximum ranged up to 65 degrees at Columbus.

Three Charged in Minor Stabbing

Another minor stabbing occurred in Artesia over the weekend, keeping the average for "one per week" intact, according to Police Chief Frank Powell. Powell said Raymond Wilson, a press worker from Alabama, was stabbed Saturday night, apparently in a "friendly fray" with his companions. Powell said Wilson was treated for minor cuts, then filed on for disturbing the peace, along with George and Curly Applin, also from Alabama. Police Judge John Ellicott fined the three men $25 each on the charge, after accepting pleas of guilty.

Chavez Urging Rio Arriba Men to Keep Land

TERRA AMARILLA — (AP) — Gen. Chavez (D-N.M.) has warned Rio Arriba County landowners against "hasty signing of leases in new uranium and oil and gas development in northwestern New Mexico in behalf of his party." "I am suggesting to my good friends of Rio Arriba county, of whatever political affiliation," Chavez said, "not to forget the experience of the past. Unbeknownst to you, because most of your ancestors did not understand the law, and because they trusted people who should not have been trusted, you lost the Tierra Amarilla Land Grant—an empire in itself."

He urged his audience to "remember the Tierra Amarilla Land Grant . . . and when they come asking for a lease on the little property you have left, do not sign with any Tom, Dick or Harry who may approach you with a smile and the idea only of depriving you of what is justly yours."

NEW MEXICO WEATHER
Fair south, partly cloudy north with moderate winds today and a few showers or snow flurries over northern mountains. Becoming overcast and cloudy east tonight and Tuesday with occasional light rain or snow northeast portion. Cooler today and tonight and east portion Tuesday. Highs today 50-60 north, 60-70 south. Lows tonight 30-40 northwest, 30-40 elsewhere.

Hagerman-Dexter Seeks Flood Control on Felix, Pecos River

An association for flood protection in the Hagerman-Dexter area has been organized to seek measures guarding the area against such heavy losses as sustained in the Oct. 7 flood.

Mark E. C. McMillan, temporary secretary of the association, said it was formed because 11 lives were lost near Hagerman and property damage has been estimated at $1 million to $1½ million as a result of the floods.

Meeting Saturday, 20 men representing 14 organizations in the Hagerman-Dexter area elected A. W. Langenegger of Hagerman temporary chairman.

The new association was shown aerial maps of the flood area by J. L. Redmond and T. A. Nylund of the Albuquerque district corps of engineers.

The two men explained to the association possibilities of securing flood control measures on the Felix and Pecos rivers. Redmond outlined the channels through which the association may do as a body sponsoring flood control measures.

N. D. Bloom, division engineer of Santa Fe railway, assured the 20 present his company would back all attempts to control the Felix river, since cost of replacing washed-out track between Hagerman and Dexter will run into thousands of dollars.

Leland C. Hendricks of Flying H ranch described upstream damage and expressed the hope small detention dams and spreader dams can be installed to protect ranchers.

E. O. Moore, representing the Hagerman-Dexter soil conservation district, said a grass improvement program and such structures as Hendrick advocated on ranchland would be helpful not only in checking flood water but also in preventing erosion, reducing silt deposit and providing more grass.

He stated that the small watershed act, passed by the recent Congress, encourages just such upstream improvement. It was the general feeling that both plans could be used effectively on the Felix.

Artesia's Retail Sales Show Cut

Retail sales for this year are $301,146 under the 1953 totals, inclusive of August, according to figures received by the Chamber of Commerce, derived from the sales tax reports in Santa Fe.

According to chamber Mgr. Paul Scott as far there has been no "feasible" explanation for the overall drop of sales this year, although the executive board of the retail merchants committee plans to take the problem up at their next meeting in November.

For the month of July, retail sales in Artesia totaled $1,489,632, compared to July 1953 which was $1,673,458, a monthly drop of $183,826 which brought the yearly total $120,019 below last year's.

For the month of August, the sales came to a total of $1,351,043, which fell below 1953's August $181,127, bringing the total yearly loss to $301,146.

According to the figures, which are broken down into business classifications, all sales have been lagging except subsistence, such as food and rent. Otherwise, Scott said, automobile, wearing apparel and even entertainment has been down so far.

Scott classified last year as a "normal retail sales year" but still feels the last months of this year will "bring us out of the hole."

Five committees were appointed to investigate and work from different approaches. It was agreed that those affected should write or wire their congressmen urging them to use their influence in making possible at least a survey and recommendations.

Present at the meeting were Wayne Graham, mayor of Hagerman; R. A. Welbourne, superintendent of Hagerman schools; Oscar Kunkel, Chaves County Farm Bureau president; J. J. Mann, Hagerman city manager; Amos Hampton, Southwestern Public Service; A. W. Langenegger, president Central Valley REA; R. M. Cumpston, postmaster, Hagerman.

Roseo Fletcher, Farmers Co-op Gin board, Dexter; W. E. Utterback, Farmers Co-op Gin board, Hagerman; E. O. Moore, Hagerman-Dexter Soil Conservation Service; John A. Melhop, Dexter Lions club; Charles Solga, Soil Conservation Service, Artesia; C. P. Stevens, Soil Conservation Service, Roswell.

Ike to Get Government Out of Food Business, Aide Says

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A top farm official said today the Eisenhower administration hopes to "get the government out of the food business, or at least substantially to reduce governmental activities in that area."

Earl L. Butz, assistant secretary of agriculture, outlined this goal in a speech prepared for a conference of farm extension service leaders from all 48 states.

The conference aims at providing an outlook on economic and agricultural conditions during the next year and will continue for five days. Speeches are scheduled by a number of administration and agriculture officials.

Butz said "the 'country hick' of a generation or two ago has almost disappeared from the American scene," and that the former "little guys" on family-sized farms now are "big business."

Butz said the average farm now is worth about $25,000 and that a good commercial corn belt farm in Indiana represents an investment of $86,500.

He said this means it costs about $50,000 to create one farm job while American industry invests about $12,000 to $15,000 to create one industrial job.

As a result, he said, the manager of a successful commercial farm "must make management decisions every week covering a much wider field than most the manager of a typical retail store in your county seat town."

He used this as an argument for, as he put it, getting the government out of the farm business. "We need to return more decision making in agriculture to the individual farm manager on his own farm, and reduce the direct participation of government in price making and marketing."

But this is almost impossible now, the assistant secretary said, because of the "mountain of foodstuffs held by the Commodity Credit Corp."

Also Leland C. Hendrick, Flying H ranch; Ralph Vandewort, Central Valley Soil Conservation District, Artesia; N. D. Bloom, Div. Engineer, AT&SF Railway Co.; J. L. Radmond, Corps of Engineers, Albuquerque; T. A. Nylund, Corps of Engineers, Albuquerque; Robert West, Hagerman Lion club; Mark E. C. McMillan, Soil Conservation Service, Hagerman.

Democratic Women Map Organization to Get Out Vote

Artesia area Democratic women are launching a "get out the vote" campaign for next week's general election, Mrs. K. J. Williams, chairman, has announced.

Meeting in the home of Eddy county Democratic women's chairman Mrs. H. R. Paton, Mrs. Williams and vice-chairman Mrs. Fred Cole launched plans for the campaign Nov. 2.

In the meeting precinct captains, transportation, and telephone committees were appointed. However, since a large number of voters still will not be reached, Mrs. Paton has asked every woman to join in the organization.

"To do the good job Artesia always does, we will need the cooperation and help of all Democratic women in North Eddy county," Mrs. Paton said.

Artesia's request for $19,100 worth of urban street and sewer repair funds from the federal government is presently being studied by members of the federal civil defense administration, although any major repairs will not be started until next spring, according to City Supervisor Doug Fowler.

Fowler said this morning it was likely that Artesia would receive assistance before the spring of 1955, but any major road repairs will have to wait for the warmer weather.

He explained that the city has most of the temporary repairs resulting from the Oct. 7 flood completed so they will be in fair shape until spring when a permanent job can be done.

Fowler, who managed the local store for five years, came to Artesia in 1949 from Las Cruces.

Nine of 14 Yule Pageant Scenes Chosen By Church

Nine out of the 14 scenes for the Christmas Pageant parade have been taken, according to chamber of commerce manager Paul Scott.

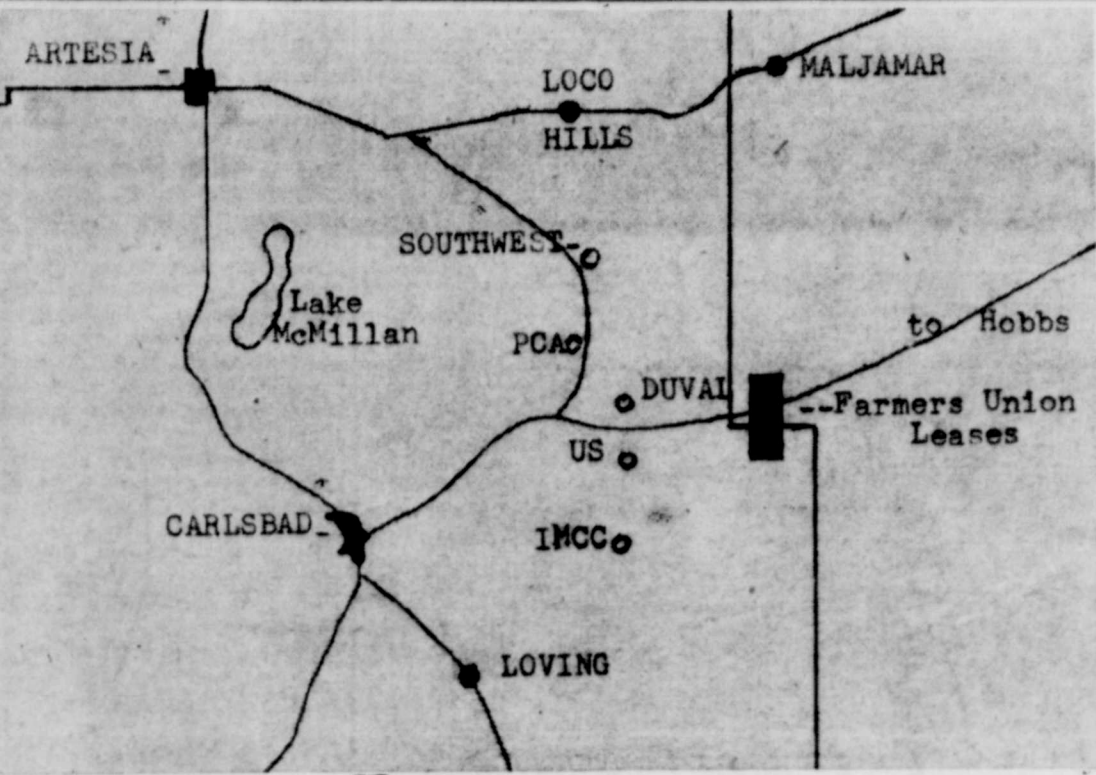

Scott listed the remaining five scenes to be distributed as the Annunciation, the Journey to Bethlehem, the Angelic choir, the awakened shepherds and the prophesy scenes.

Those churches now taking part in the parade will be the High School Acapella Choir, First Methodist Church, Spanish, Methodist school Church, Spanish Baptist Church, Church, Lakewood Baptist Church, St. Anthony Catholic Church, St. Thomas Church, Emmanuel Baptist Church, and the Church of the Nazarene.

Eleven persons were arrested for being drunk in a public place this week-end, according to Chief Frank Powell, who said this morning there have been fewer drunks this season than last.

Powell remarked that during the 1953 cotton season as many as 40 men were arrested over the week-end on a drunkenness charge. "This year has been very light," he said.

Another idea which Fowler "wrote in my little black book," was that of re-using waste water, such as the water from Artesia's disposal plant. According to Fowler, industries can take that water and with slight clarification measures, re-use it for their industrial needs. Fowler said all Artesia needs to conduct such a program is an industry near the disposal unit.

MAP SHOWS location of National Farmers Union leases (right) to be developed in Eddy and Lea counties through corporation formed by NFU and Kerr-McGee Industries, Inc. Freeport Sulphur leases, not indicated, are located near NFU Leases. (Advocate Map)

Farmers Union Potash Site 45 Miles from Artesia

Where are those leases on which National Farmers Union and Kerr-McGee will develop a potash mine and refinery?

Charles Hicks of Artesia, geologist employed by Roland McLean to conduct test boring and sign leases for NFU, spots the location straddling U.S. 62-186 in Eddy and Lea counties.

From Artesia by the potash cutoff road and proposed new road, it's 45 miles to Halfway bar, east of the leases. From Hobbs it's 35 miles, from Carlsbad 33, both on U.S. 62-186.

The leases are located in the southern half of township 20 south range 32 east and northern half of township 21 south range 31, east according to Hicks.

In what is expected to be a renewed campaign to "woo" Farmers Union, Artesia is thus at one disadvantage—distance.

Chamber of Commerce Mgr. Paul W. Scott believes Artesia, despite the disadvantage of distance, still has a good opportunity to attract NFU-employed miners to live at the city.

"However, we still have work to do," Scott points out.

Key among the "things to do" projects is securing construction of a southeasterly leg on the present potash cutoff road. The proposed new road would depart from the potash loop near Southwest Potash and strike out toward Halfway bar, located midway between Hobbs and Carlsbad on U.S. 60-182.

Scott also points to other projects — housing, transportation. "We do have the only potash mine bus service in Eddy county," he says (Gillman Lines operates a bus to Southwest).

NFU will make Artesia its headquarters city, Scott points out, just as Carlsbad is "headquarters" for other potash firms which have offices at the mine site.

According to Hicks, NFU will build its office at the mine site. In all its news releases, Farmers Union has referred to its lease locations as "near Artesia, N. M." The Carlsbad Current-Argus editorially pointed out last Friday it is NFU's "revenge" for the cold treatment given an NFU and Kerr-McGee delegation which wanted to visit the site 1½ years ago.

Actually, the Current-Argus pointed out, the leases are located near Carlsbad, which has prided itself on being the nation's potash capital.

Scott reported that C. O. "Pete" Erwin, state highway engineer, has meanwhile written the Eddy county commission asking it for a letter with a request for the state to survey the route for the proposed southeasterly leg on the potash loop road.

Part of the proposed road is in Lea county, where commissioners already have written a letter asking for the state highway department survey.

Under proposals agreed on by representatives of Artesia and Carlsbad chambers of commerce, the road would be a joint construction project by the state and Eddy and Lea county governments.

Home. The youngest child, Junior Malia, 3, went to bed at her usual time.

When the boys didn't show up for a roast beef dinner last night, the rest of the family telephoned neighbors and searched the house and grounds. No boys. The youngsters' bicycles were in the garage.

But a bedroll was missing. This eased Mrs. Crosby's mind, she said. She also recalled that the last time she saw the boys they all had on heavy hiking boots and jackets.

However, the youngsters never had left home before and the parents could give no explanation for their action. At 8:30 p. m. Crosby telephoned police.

Officers from the West Los Angeles station, augmented by Venice police, combed the Brentwood Hills. The weather was clear but the night was chilly. Motorcycle officers slithered over rough and precipitous firebreaks.

As the hours wore on, many of the searchers became more concerned.

Then early today Crosby recalled that three or four months ago he had received a note threatening the children. It was dropped in his pocket as he left a broadcasting studio and read: "Better watch out for your children."

Crosby caught the car license number of the man who gave him the message. Police traced the number to a religious crank and told Crosby to forget the incident. He did until early today.

Runaway Crosby Children Say They Don't Like Nurse

HOLLYWOOD — A neighbor boy on horseback today found bandleader Bob Crosby's three young sons, whose disappearance before supper yesterday touched off an all-night search by 90 policemen in rugged hills near their home.

Thirteen-year-old Tim Wellman, son of movie director William Wellman, spotted Christopher, 12, George (RH) Jr., 10, and Stephen, 8, in precipitous Barrington Canyon, where he frequently had trapped bobcats and coyotes.

The Crosby youngsters, who vanished from home without a word about 5 p. m., were laden with camping gear. They were unharmed.

Christopher said he and his brothers, all nephews of Crooner Bing Crosby, left home because "we don't like our nurse."

The children's nurse is Miss Teresa Flynn.

The boys admitted they saw police searching for them during the night. They were found three miles from their home.

Film director Wellman, who spent much of the night with Crosby looking for the boys in the wooded and brush-covered hills, routed out Tim about 3 a. m. The elder Wellman said his son knew the terrain well and would prove a valuable aid in the search.

Tim was accompanied by his three dogs.

Officers searched through the night as Mrs. Crosby and her daughter, Cathleen, 15, waited anxiously by the telephone at

Dulles Report Broadcast Is Slated Tonight

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower today arranged for the first nationally televised and broadcast Cabinet meeting in history to hear Secretary of State Dulles report on conference leading to the West European defense agreement. It will be a 5 o'clock MST tonight.

The White House announced these arrangements as Dulles is flying back from Europe toward a special airport ceremony and personal welcome from the President. Dulles was due in at noon.

Eisenhower planned to greet him at planeside—a welcoming gesture he has extended to no other government official since taking office.

OVER THE week-end, Eisenhower had hailed the agreements signed in Paris as "a great deal more than just a diplomatic victory. It is an historic step."

The White House said radio and television networks had requested an opportunity to cover the extraordinary Cabinet meeting and Eisenhower had decided Dulles' report "should be given to all the American people at the same time it is given to the Cabinet."

Press Secretary James Hagerty said NBC and CBS radio and television networks will carry the Cabinet meeting from 7 to 7:30 p. m. and that ABC will rebroadcast it by radio at 9:30 p. m. EST.

Hagerty said the full Cabinet would be present, except for Vice-President Nixon who is campaigning in Idaho for the Nov. 2 election, and foreign aid Administrator Harold Stassen, who is in Europe.

HAGERTY SAID the president would open the meeting, explain why he had called the special session, and explain that it was being televised and broadcast so the American people could see and hear Dulles' report immediately.

Hagerty said he expected Dulles would give his report on the European agreements off the cuff, and, if time permitted, Eisenhower and other Cabinet members might ask questions or discuss the agreements.

The agreements paved the way for restoration of freedom to West Germany and for rearming West Germans and bringing them into the Western defense alliance.

HAGERTY SAID he did not know whether the Cabinet members would continue in a closed session after the nationally televised meeting.

The meeting will be in the regular Cabinet room at the White House. Hagerty said a limited group of news reporters and photographers will be permitted in the room.

Dulles arranged to report personally to the president in advance of the Cabinet meeting.

Dead Soldier Is Identified, Army Launches Probe

EL PASO — A young soldier found dead in the desert Friday has been identified as Pvt. Moses A. A. Poste, 18, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Poste, who had been in the Army since April 5, and stationed at Fort Bliss since Sept. 20, was identified through checking of fingerprints found on the body and on the soldier's identification card. Identification was made by sheriff's office and military authorities.

His body was found lying in blood-stained sand about a mile out in the desert Friday. A rifle with three fired shells was found near his body.

Military and civilian officers were pressing investigation of the case.

Lt. Col. Charles Brandt, Ft. Bliss public information officer said there was a "very strong possibility" he died accidentally.

Brandt said a 17-year-old soldier arrested in Waco, Texas, and being returned here "was listed absent without leave the same day Poste was listed AWOL. So Military Police are checking all possible angles to determine whether or not this was just a coincidence."

New Fashion Is Making Hat Part Of Milady's Hair

This fall the hat should be part of the hairdo, says Lilly Dache, who first won fame as a milliner and now is taking on a head-to-foot glamor job for American women, because, as she puts it: "A woman can wear a beautiful hat and a stunning gown and still be a mess, if her skin is lifeless, her hair drab, her figure lumpy and her spirit bored."

For this fall, the designer advocates "a drop of a hat"—a mere punctuation mark in satin, velvet, fur or felt, perched on the head, with cutouts through which the hair shows. She matches the hat to the hair color, also, and shows small pripples in blonde tones for blondes, coppery colors for redheads, twany browns for the brown-haired girls and shiny black for brunettes.

In a season for "more hat," as advocated by most other milliners, the Dache "drops" are dramatic and undeniably flattering.

In some cases a hat is designed to cover a chignon in back, leaving most of the rest of the hair showing. In other cases the small cap is worn on the crown of the head, but almost always back of the hairline. A few big hats are shown, but these, too, are made to frame and dramatize the hair as well as the face. Says Lilly: "A woman's hair should be one of her best points—so why not show it?"

Grandma Amate In Attempting Cross-Stitching

Grandma was an amateur, when it came to cross stitching. The hours she put in at painstaking hand work now can be duplicated in jig time, thanks to modern presses. Nowadays even the great-grandma can produce cross-stitched towels and table mats that compare favorably with the products of the good old days.

The secret lies in the fast stitching technique developed by experts at your local sewing centers. Perfect cross-stitching technique can be mastered on any electric sewing machine, with the zigzag attachment, and is especially easy on one of the new automatic, swing-needle machines which need no extra attachment.

You may use either a transfer pattern or sketch your own design on the towels or other linen to select. Or you can buy towels of a design already printed on the ready for embroidery. Then the fabric is stretched tight on an embroidery, put in place on the sewing machine, and you're ready to begin cross-stitching. If you are not yet mastered the machine embroidery technique, you can let it in a few minutes by stopping in at your local sewing center, asking for a demonstration.

The cross-stitch effect is good on guest towels, kitchen towels, mats, napkins or handkerchiefs. If your home has a lot of early American decor, you may even want to try a decorative cross-stitch sampler to hang on a wall.

You can run up all kinds of expensive and charming Christmas gifts or bazaar items decorated with cross-stitch designs—and you can accomplish in an afternoon results that took Grandma weeks of patient stitching.

Bulldogs Join in Big Rest After 51-6 Victory over NMMI Colts

Passing, Charges By Lewis Pave Way for 'Dog Assault

Artesia joins other East Side AA conference teams in the Big Midweek Rest this week, after shattering New Mexico Military Institute Colts 51-6 here Friday night.

It will be a welcome by-week for the Bulldogs, who came out of the NMMI game uninjured and in high spirits, but still nursing injuries from previous encounters with a lot rougher opposition than the Colts could offer.

Friday the Bulldogs played entirely without the services of its split-T master, quarterback Johnny Riddle, who is nursing an ankle injury from the Kermit game of two weeks ago.

But Friday saw the tentative return of reserve guard Bill Mayes to the lineup. His arm was broken in the Clovis game. While still wearing a fracture device, Bill got in Friday night on the numerous kickoffs after Artesia TD's.

After this week's rest, Artesia goes into the heart of its 2AA conference schedule. Nov. 5 Carlsbad is host to the Bulldogs, Nov. 12 Artesia entertains Roswell here, and Nov. 19 Artesia goes against the Hobs Eagles at the Oil City.

THE ONLY SURPRISING thing about Friday's game was the score—that the Bulldogs, using everyone on the bench and without the services of Riddle, still rolled it up.

The passing of Max Ratliff and the long charges of Don Lewis, who gained 126 yards in the first quarter by himself, keyed Artesia's victory Friday night.

With the game a minute old Lewis charged 60 yards off left tackle to score Artesia's first. Ron Nelson kick-converted.

Two minutes later Ratliff uncoiled a pass to Ron Priece that covered 70 yards and set up another TD. The third score in the first period came with 15 seconds left. On the first play after a Colt punt Lewis broke from the Artesia 46 on a 54-yard run to pay dirt.

NMMI scored its lone touchdown 4 1/2 minutes into the second period on a fumble recovery on the Artesia 21. With the driving of Jim Llewellyn, the mainstay, the Colts made it over in seven plays. The pass conversion was no good.

ARTESIA FAILED TO SCORE the rest of the period, setting the halftime score at 19-6.

Then the Bulldogs scored five TD's in the last 14 minutes of the game. With 10 gone in the third period, the Bulldogs scored when Clyde Bratcher intercepted a Colt pass on the NMMI 27. Ron Priece scooped up the sidelines all the way to the 8. Two plays later Freddie Sanders went around left end.

Jerry Carter's recovery of a Colt fumble set up another. Ratliff handed off to Bob Seely, who in turn slipped it to Sanders to take the Bulldogs to the 17. There Ratliff completed another pass, this one to Ron Nelson.

The Bulldogs last three TD's in the fourth quarter came this way: Ratliff passed to Jim Belvin for the 45 for the first. Belvin returned an NMMI punt all the way from the Bulldog 43 to score, and George Priece sliced off tackle to go 90 yards for the third.

East Side Idle, Only Three Games Scheduled in 1AA

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The East Side is idle and only three games are slated for District 1AA teams in the lightest week of the season for New Mexico's Class AA high school football teams.

All five East Side teams take the week off to rest up for the vital windup of their season. The teachers' meeting in Albuquerque—drawing many of the coaches—contributes to the light slate.

Up north, Highland is a slight favorite to knock off Farmington in the top attraction of the week. The Hornets—unbeaten in three league starts—currently are setting the pace in District 1AA. Farmington is resting in third place.

The other two games pit Albuquerque and lowly Las Cruces in a district meeting, while new-comer Valley High will try Class A Alamogordo.

Unlike the smaller conferences—all the Class AA games will be played Friday.

While Highland hasn't been pushed in the district, its game with Farmington may be the biggest test of the season. For example, both teams beat Valley.

Junior Hornets Capture Win Over Lovington

Junior high's undefeated Hornets rolled to another win Saturday with a 27-6 pounding of Lovington.

All the scoring was done in the first half of the game, with Coach Bud Wilborn and Francis Robinson using reserves heavily in the second half.

In the first quarter runs of 45 and 50 yards by James Mitchell through big holes opened by a hard-hitting Hornet line chalked up two Artesia TD's.

In the second Mitchell reeled off a 60-yard run. The fourth TD came on Johnny French's pass to Bill Ratliff.

Lovington scored its lone TD on a ground drive in the second quarter.

The Hornets' next game will be Nov. 6 at Hobbs, their last of the season.

Border to Move In All-Conference Weekend Schedule

PHOENIX, (AP)—Border conference football teams, after six weeks of scouting each other against non-conference opposition, settle down this week to the season's only all-conference schedule.

The top game matches the surprising Hardin-Simmons Cowboys and Arizona State of Tempe at Abilene, Tex. The contest could go either way in the light of the unexpected 13-7 victory the Cowboys took over Oklahoma A&M Saturday.

Texas Western's Miners, also an unexpected addition to the winner's circle after Saturday's 6-0 victory over North Texas State, should be the seventh team to beat New Mexico A&M at Las Cruces in a day game. The Aggies lost 33-7 to the San Diego Marines Saturday.

The University of Arizona, 41-7 conqueror of New Mexico Saturday, is host to West Texas State, dumped 21-7 by Arizona State at Tempe Saturday. Arizona is favored.

Texas Tech's defending champion Red Raiders. They need the rest. The Raiders, heavily favored to retain the title in pre-season reckoning, lost to College of Pacific 20-7 Saturday for their second straight defeat. That left them with three victories, two setbacks and one tie in six games.

Arizona has the best record with four victories, one conference win and one setback. Tempe's Sun Devils match Tech's two conference victories in a 4-2 mark, the Cowboys are 3-3 with one conference victory, Texas Western is 3-3 with two conference setbacks and West Texas has won one and lost four. Two of the defeats were in conference play.

NEW YORK (AP)—If you want baby kissed by a politician this year, you'd better hurry—you've only a week to go.

After election, the winning candidate is too busy figuring how to pay his campaign debts to bother with babies. And it isn't safe to thrust a baby too close to the losing candidate.

Kissing babies long has been one of the occupational hazards of political campaigning, but the tradition has died out rapidly in recent years. Cautious candidates now try to avoid any situation in which they may have to kiss any baby under 18 years of age.

There are several reasons. It's an awkward task. Politicians and babies are naturally allergic to one another. They share a wary, mutual distrust.

Even if the baby submits to the ordeal quietly, it is a clammy, sticky adventure to the politician. But many babies don't like to be nuzzled and pawed by strangers. They react violently to the approach of the politician's sickly smiling muzzle, sensing at once the falseness of his charm and that here is a guy trying to get something from them for nothing.

"You never can be sure what they'll do," said one old-timer. "Some scream and yell. Others kick and struggle, then hold their breath and turn blue."

"And some of them, even though they can't walk or talk, are natural born smart alecks. They just lie

Saxton Is Offered $75,000 Guarantee For LA Title Bout

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Babe McCoy, Olympic Auditorium's matchmaker, said yesterday that he has offered welterweight champion Johnny Saxton a $75,000 guarantee for a Los Angeles title fight.

He said Saxton's manager, Blinky Palermo, is interested. McCoy said he had recommended two possible opponents: Ramon Fuentes, of Los Angeles, or Carmen Basilio, of New York.

Denver Stands Skyline Win Chance in '54

By FRANK PITMAN

DENVER (AP)—With the help of Utah, the rags-to-riches Denver Pioneers stand a chance of taking the Skyline conference football championship. The Pioneers tied for last place in 1953.

The Utes rubbed a bright glow to Denver's prospects by upending Wyoming's Cowboys, 14-7, at Laramie Saturday to ruin homecoming for the Cowpoke supporters.

Since Utah and Wyoming play only six league games, this gives Denver the opportunity to finish in front with a 6-1 record while the best Utah and Wyoming can do is 5-1.

Denver's only loss this season was to Wyoming, 23-21. The Pioneers stopped Utah a week ago, 28-20.

Utah State also is in the running but the Utags' have not shown the power of Denver. The Pioneers have yet to play New Mexico, Brigham Young, Utah State and Colorado A&M. All but Utah State come to Denver.

The Pioneers gave a convincing demonstration of their new-found power by dumping the Wichita Wheat Shockers, 27-14, at the DU stadium Friday night. Rusty Flary, the 150-pound quarterback who delights in doing the unexpected, came through with a typical performance by outwitting Wichita's defenders to register three touchdowns in the third quarter—one his own 62-yard scoring romp.

New Mexico's Lobos, crushed 41-7 by Arizona in a non-conference game at Albuquerque Saturday, travel to Denver Friday night for the Skyline's game-of-the-week. Wyoming has an open date.

Other games Saturday send Brigham Young against Utah State at Logan and Montana against Colorado A&M at Fort Collins. Utah entertains at Salt Lake City for Idaho of the Pacific Coast conference in a homecoming event.

Bratton to Return from Suspension

By JACK HAND

The Associated Press

Johnny Bratton, who has been suspended since he was suspended for a lackadaisical performance against Johnny Saxton at Philadelphia, Feb. 24, gets back to work tonight at New York's St. Nicholas arena against Chicago Varona of Havana.

Bratton blames his Philadelphia suspension on Saxton, whom he describes as "the fightingest fighter I ever encountered," according to Willie Gilzenberg's press release. After watching Saxton win the title from Kid Gavilan last Wednesday, who can say Bratton wrong?

For a short time, Bratton held the National Boxing Assn. version of the welter title. Now that Saxton has taken over, Bratton again has championship ambitions. It has been proved quite convincingly in Chicago last year that he has no chance or fever beating Bratton.

Bratton takes a career record 59-22 into the St. Nick's bout, which is televised by Du Mont in some parts of the country. Varona has 65-16 record.

College Grid Roundup—Despite October Date College Teams Already Are Fighting Rosebowl Battle of January

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press

The annoying smog blown from the air over Los Angeles today and unless the air over the Rio Grande is especially heavy, you could smell the aroma in Columbus, Ohio.

It may be only the last week in the season elsewhere, but in those spots it's Jan. 1, 1955, and the college football season is in full swing. California and Ohio are a pair of upstarts in the West Coast and Big Ten conferences are battling in the Rose Bowl.

The Trojans and the Buckeyes are just big threats this past week to remain unbeaten in league play. And at this stage of the season, that's enough to start winking drum.

Surprising California 29-27 Saturday, Southern Cal now has only a form performance against Oregon State, Stanford and Washington in conference play.

Close Friends Unable to Talk Robinson Out of Fight

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Close friends have been unable thus far to persuade Sugar Ray Robinson to attempt to make a ring comeback after two years on the racing circuit.

The once-great fighter who reigned as middleweight champion in 1952 is in training and says he is serious about winning the 160-pound title.

Anyone who saw Robinson at his stable best back in the middleweight days would not subject them to the same pain that Joe Louis did when he returned a few years ago to the ring. Robinson's former self to be pounded out of the ring by the likes of Ezzard Charles, who wouldn't have lasted five rounds with Louis at his best.

An old story of the prizefighter says that admirers of Jeffries wept when their idol stepped out of retirement and was defeated by Jack Johnson. Jeffries, who had been urged to give it up, and Louis needed money. Robinson has asked Sugar Ray to give him the gloves on again, and he says he is approximately half the loose cannon he was in Harlem.

The suggestion we are about to make is that Robinson get himself a copy of the films of the Johnny Saxton-Kid Gavilan thing in Philadelphia last week and play it a few times after he has finished his training chores. We would suggest that he pay particular attention to the inept performance of Gavilan, who five years ago was good enough to give him, Robinson, a fairly tight tussle for the welterweight crown.

He will see that the Cuban, though only 28 by the record book, is no better than a shadow of the one they used to call the Hawk. He will see that, after six months of doing nothing more strenuous than the rumba, Gavilan was afraid to open up and really fight Saxton until the closing rounds left his legs give out on him. That seems the only possible explanation of his failure to make a more valiant effort to protect his title against the home town decision that he feated.

If Gavilan is that far over the hill at 28, Robinson can well wonder what his chances would be of going 15 grueling rounds with such a relentless puncher as Bobo Olson, who succeeded him as middleweight king. The Sugar Boy says he is 32, the book credits him with 34 years and you probably would be safe in splitting the difference.

Athletics Owners Seek Approval By AL Directors

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The new owners of the Philadelphia Athletics left for Chicago today to seek approval of the four-million-dollar deal which prevented transfer of the A's to Kansas City.

The agreement transferring ownership of the team from the Mack family to an eight-man syndicate was completed early today when Roy Mack signed the legal document. His brother Earle signed it just before him. The brothers also signed for their father Connie Mack.

Atty. Alfred Luongo said he would present the agreement to League President William Harbridge today. It was expected Harbridge would be asked to make a telephone check of the other club owners in the league for their assent.

End Ed Sprinkle of the Chicago Bears has played 11 seasons of pro football.

Flood Control Biggest Project

THE BIGGEST PROJECT facing Artesia and the one to which we need to devote our greatest attention until the objective is accomplished, is preventing another flood from occurring here.

Just what it will take to prevent another flood of any part of our city, the northern part of our county, or even the communities of nearby counties we do not know. We do know, however, that the federal government has and does spend millions of dollars every year in protecting communities against floods.

The fact that our situation only becomes serious when we have an unusual amount of rainfall or only occasionally or every few years does not lessen the need.

The flood condition has prevailed twice during the present year. It can occur again this year or next year or in the years that follow. Certainly there are ways and means to prevent this from happening and although the cost may be high New Mexico is certainly entitled to protection just the same as the states along the Mississippi river or in other sections of our nation.

The problem is that we will discuss this situation now and it will receive considerable attention. However, we do not secure such projects from the government overnight. It takes considerable time and effort.

Our trouble will be as the days roll by we will be inclined to forget the conditions that prevailed back in October of 1934. We will forget the damage done, the threat that prevailed to us, and the need for protection.

And as time rolls by there will be less and less heard about the need until eventually nothing will be done and in a few years the same thing can and will happen.

Now is the time to start work on this project; now is the time to demand our congressional delegation give the matter the attention it needs; and now is the time for us to receive their assurance they will push this project when the rivers and harbors bill comes up for the new appropriations.

As we have pointed out New Mexico is entitled to help from the federal government in halting floods just the same as any other state in the Union but we will only get that help when we demand it.

Beset By Troubles, Lanza Begins Long Comeback Try

Editor's Note: Mario Lanza's own story—for the first time, the fabulous tenor tells in his own words the whole story about his battles with MGM, his two-year retirement, his fat problem, his tangled finances, his way of living, his plan for the future. The colorful story will be reported in three articles by Bob Thomas.

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Two years ago, Mario Lanza, a Philadelphia boy with a golden voice, was on easy street.

His film "The Great Caruso" was one of the top money makers of all times. He earned $1,100,000 in one year, more than half of it from phonograph records. He was the hottest property in show business.

Today at 33, he is in debt to the United States government and has virtually no savings. He is faced with the job of rebuilding a career that has been at a standstill for 24 months.

What happened? How did he get into such poor shape, both financially and physically?

Before you shed any tears over Lanza's plight, let me add that he is living very well in a huge mansion with his pretty wife Betty, his four children and a crew of servants. He has been eating well too, and that has been one of his troubles.

"LOOK," said Mario, stripping off his dark blue sport shirt. He flexed the muscles in his huge chest.

"Is that fat? No, not on your life. That's muscle. I've always had a 50-inch chest, no matter what kind of shape I was in. It's just this I've got to get rid of—and I'm making rapid progress."

He patted the spare tire around his belly, which is still considerable.

He is touchy about his weight problem, but he denied reports that he was addicted to spaghetti and other Italian dishes. "It is not the pasta that gives me trouble," he said. "I am a great steak man."

Why did he eat himself into such size?

He said it was because of the emotion problems that beset him. One of the major causes was disillusionment over his finances. He claims his money frittered away because of handling by his former manager, Sam Weiler, Weiler denies it. The courts will decide who is right.

LANZA said he was also upset by his troubles with his studio, MGM. These started after "The Great Caruso."

"We had hit a high mark with that picture," he said, "and I wanted to maintain that quality. But when I reported for work, I found out they wanted me to star in an Army picture, 'Because You're Mine.'"

"Who wanted to see an Army picture? They were tired of war. I tried to tell the producer that. But he just said, 'I know show business; you need a change of pace.'"

Lanza did the picture and it was not a success. His relations with MGM worsened. After he failed to report for the start of "Student Prince," the studio slapped a five-million-dollar damage suit on him. The suit was later settled and his voice was used in the film.

"I couldn't work for a year and a quarter," he said. "I even had to give up my radio show for Coca-Cola. They had offered me a fabulous deal to sign up on a long-term contract and be their ambassador throughout the world."

"SURE, I had my troubles. They printed all kinds of lies about me, but I never answered them. I have never believed in washing dirty linen for the public view."

"I got fat. But you'll notice I never paraded myself in public. Show business is a world of illusion, and I never want to destroy that illusion."

That was the reason he gave for not opening up to the fact that old recordings were used for his TV debut on the "Shower of Stars."

He still has no regrets about the incident, declaring he was caught between a doctor who wouldn't let him sing and a network that wanted him to appear.

He'll make his second TV appearance on "Shower of Stars" this Thursday. He'll sing a "Tosca" aria and "Some Day" and you can bet your boots that no recordings will be used.

Tomorrow: How Lanza plans to rebuild his career and his tangled finances.

Farmers Union

Said the Carlsbad Current-Argus of Friday, Oct. 22:
"The National Farmers Union is taking subtle revenge on Carlsbad."

In announcements hitting the press services about plans for a new potash operation in Eddy and Lea counties, the NFU persistently places the location of its leases as 'east of Artesia.' It avoids mention of Carlsbad whenever possible.

"NFU's potash leases, to be worked in a joint venture with Kerr-McGee, are near the Halfway bar in the same general area where Freeport Sulphur holds potash leases. The location is 'east of Artesia' all right; it is also 'east of Carlsbad,' which has always prided itself on being the nation's 'Potash Capital.'"

But when NFU had announced it was going into operation 'east of Carlsbad,' that would have been far clearer in the minds of most readers. Artesia is not as well identified in the public mind, at least for potash, as Carlsbad.

"Carlsbad may as well face it. NFU is going to throw nothing Carlsbad's way. That stems from the day the Carlsbad Chamber of Commerce decided against welcoming an NFU inspecting party, which went instead to Artesia and was given the purple carpet treatment."

Actually, NFU will have officers at the mine site, south of the Carlsbad-Hobbs road. Artesia will be "headquarters," as is Carlsbad the headquarters for operations which have officers at the mine site.

However, nothing has been dumped in Artesia's lap—there's a lot of work to be done.

Charlie Hicks, who did some of the core drilling and arranged leases for NFU, gave us the legal description of the lease locations the other day—they're near Halfway bar. The leases are located in parts of township 20s range 32e, and 21s-31e.

That's not 15 miles southeast of Artesia.

Chamber of Commerce spokesmen are of course optimistic over this development, but agree that Artesia has work to do before it starts pulling in the shekels.

Curry, standing in front of Jones with his arms around him, shot Jones in the back during a scuffle. The bullet penetrated Jones' body and fatally wounded Curry.

New State Tax Rules Announced

SANTA FE — The state income tax director has made effective two new regulations—to produce income figures for persons who work briefly in a year for several companies, and one affecting small stockholders.

Under the regulations, set up in the past week to plug loopholes in state income tax law, all employers must report employees to whom they pay $100 or more during the year, compared with the previous $1,000 figure.

The other rule requires corporations to report any resident of the state to whom they pay dividends or other money amounting to $50 or more. The previous figure was $100.

Arizona Brings In State's First Commercial Well

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Production from Arizona's first successful oil well has been announced by Shell Oil.

The company says its East Boundary Butte No. 2 on the Navajo Reservation is "definitely a commercial producer."

The well is one-half mile south of the Utah line and 16½ miles west of the New Mexico line.

The company said that after completion of exhaustive tests, gas production was 2.2 million cubic feet a day and 15 to 30 barrels of oil daily.

Sea, Shore Doll Rescue Service Is New Industry

CAPE PORPOISE, Maine — A sea and shore rescue service for dolls—is operated by Albania (Dollie) Merrill.

The 56-year-old woman watches for castaway and shipwrecked dolls, restores them, and names them for wrecked vessels. She has found about 200 dolls on tide-water flats, buried in sand or in rubbish heaps. She also has 1,700 other dolls from four continents.

A piece of china found near the remains of the two-master schooner "Ella Clifton" at Kennebunkport provided a clue to one doll. Mrs. Merrill finally unearthed all of the broken doll, which she named Ella Clifton.

Near the rocky surf at Walker's Point, beside their wreck of "The Wandys," she found an old rag doll. She dried, cleaned, restuffed and painted the doll, now named Wandys.

Some months are needed to piece a doll together. Missing parts must be replaced from parts of others. Once she patiently sifted sand to recover 30 scraps of china to restore a doll's head.

Mrs. Merrill has been collecting dolls since her girlhood at South Wellfleet, Cape Cod, Mass. Her oldest doll is a 160-year-old, hand-carved English product.

Mrs. Merrill's father, the late Allyn Merrill, named her Albania after a Cunard liner. He taught marine engineering at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The name Dollie didn't stem from Mrs. Merrill's hobby. It was tagged to her by a sister.

Walker was arrested in a house not far away.

Artificial Insemination Case To Be Studied By Lawyers

CHICAGO, (AP)—The Chicago Bar Assn. has ordered a study of artificial insemination with a view to recommending a law to the 1955 legislature.

Illinois presently has no law covering rights of persons involved in "test tube baby" cases. There are two such cases pending in Superior Court.

Samuel A. Rinella, chairman of the association's matrimonial law committee, yesterday appointed a two-member subcommittee to begin hearings Wednesday.

Rinella said a recent report by a Chicago physician that he performed between 200 and 300 such inseminations indicated an immediate need for such a law.

Rinella said physicians and lawyers will be called before the committee for recommendations and discussion of these questions to be covered by the proposed law:

1. Defining the rights and liabilities of the doctor performing the insemination.

2. Defining whether the donor is the child's legal father or whether the mother becomes the sole natural parent.

3. Determining whether the practice of artificial insemination is adulterous.

4. Is prior consent of the husband legally necessary and is such consent a bonding contract?

5. Is the husband, with or without prior consent, legally bound to support the "test tube baby" in the absence of formal adoption?

6. Establishing inheritance rights of a baby born of artificial insemination.

Judge Gibson E. Gorman has been asked to rule Nov. 15 in one case involving a 5-year-old boy. The 36-year-old mother, who is suing her 48-year-old machanic husband for divorce, contends the boy was born of artificial insemination and that her husband is not the father.

The mother asks the court to rule artificial insemination is not contrary to public policy, does not constitute adultery, that the child is legitimate, and that the husband

Thirteen Sisters At Last Have Brother in Family

Leslie Benjamin Brooks, 6 pounds, 8 ounces, crossed up some of the plans when he was born to has no right or interest in the child. Whether the child was born of artificial insemination is the issue in a second case. The husband, 32, petitioned for custody of a 3-year-old boy and an injunction restraining the 30-year-old mother from calling the boy a "test tube baby."

Results of blood tests are to be made known in court Nov. 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brooks at their Snake Root Rd. farmhouse. But he got a warm welcome none-the-less from the 30-year-old couple and the 13 Brooks daughters, aged 1 1/2 to 16.

"Now that I have a boy I hope it will be the end," said Brooks, a $50-a-week truck driver.

"We'll love him just as much as the girls," his wife declared. A blue blanket was found in which to swath the newcomer but, as his surprised sister Eunice, 16, pointed out, "Oh, dear! All his clothes will be pink."

The Brooks family had mustered a layette in pink for the expected arrival of girl No. 14.

Special Asphalt Siding Nails Are Now Available

CHICAGO — The application of asphalt insulating siding requires the right nail in the right place.

There are electro-plated copper twist, black painted galvanized and aluminum nails. There are colored nails to match any color insulating siding available.

A good job depends on their proper use. The 2 1/4-inch 11 1/2-gauge black or colored nail is used at studs only. Black painted galvanized or electro-plated copper twist nails secure points between studs.

The twist nail, designed for new construction, must be clinched like a pig's tail on the back side of fiber board or gypsum board sheathing.

Doing the job properly requires a special twist, or clinching tool that doubles the nail in a loop on the inside. It is made from 3/8-inch diameter, cold rolled steel rod, slotted at one end and inserted in a wood handle.

Nails used to secure insulating board to wood sheathing should be hot dipped galvanized, minimum size 1 1/4 inches and 13 gauge, 1/4-inch head.

When 5-16-inch plywood is used for sheathing, nail should be the barbed type. When putting on corner pieces use 2-inch nails.

The minimum construction requirements by FHA for sheathing paper and vapor barrier materials inside the wall when using insulating siding are available in Materials Bulletin 12 from the U. S. Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

SOLID HISTORY

OMAHA — Remember the old popcorn wagon. One still is operating here after 54 years. The wagon first saw service in 1900, has had three owners, and now is operated by William Bly, 74, who has owned it since 1940 when he retired as a truck driver.

Some of the grandchildren of patrons who bought popcorn in the early part of the century now patronize the wagon. Only change is replacement of the gasoline-operated popper with an electric one. A city fire law required it.

The 10 Commandments of Safety

- 1 Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the first rule of gun safety.
- 2 Guns carried into camp or home, or when otherwise not in use, must always be unloaded, and taken down or have actions open; guns always should be carried in cases to the shooting area.
- 3 Always be sure barrel and action are clear of obstructions, and that you have only ammunition of the proper size for the gun you are carrying. Remove oil and grease from chamber before firing.
- 4 Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble; keep the safety on until you are ready to shoot.
- 5 Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger; know the identifying features of the game you intend to hunt.
- 6 Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot; avoid all horseplay while handling a gun.
- 7 Unattended guns should be unloaded; guns and ammunition should be stored separately beyond reach of children and careless adults.
- 8 Never climb a tree or fence or jump a ditch with a loaded gun; never pull a gun toward you by the muzzle.
- 9 Never shoot a bullet at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water; when at target practice, be sure your backstop is adequate.
- 10 Avoid alcoholic drinks before or during shooting.
