State Survey Team Launches Hope School Study

New Association Will Seek Construction Of Artesia High School Football Stadium

Board 'Willing to Be Shown' Stadium Can Be Financed

Members of the Artesia school board last night unofficially discussed the possibility of floating bonds to build a new high school stadium, pointing out that it would be done by the board.

club official, told The Artesia Advocate this morning the club would be willing to help in the initial financing of the stadium, following much the same plan as Hobbs used for its new stadium.

Saueressig explained five-year options could be sold for seating in the stadium, giving the school initial money to start the building. He said the option sale would not tie up athletic funds of the high school, giving it a year's leeway for repayment of the first revenue bonds.

Stroup said revenue bonds would be the only answer for building the new stadium, since school bonds will be tied up for the next 10 to 15 years in additional classrooms and new schools. "So far as we can ascertain," the board president said, "we have the power to issue revenue bonds if the board will approve the debt."

Saueressig explained that plans were underway for building a new stadium before the Korean war. "A steel shortage ended all plans, and since then the movement has been lagging." He said there are still no definite plans for the stadium, "outside of the fact we need one very badly."

Saueressig explained further that a number of suggestions have been given concerning the stadium. "It is the idea of many Artesians," he continued, "to build more of an athletic and school center than an ordinary stadium."

Along that line, the possibility of erecting the stadium north of NuMexer park would give the school the advantage they need for growth, the quarterback said. "We have discussed the eventual possible idea of having a large field house for use in basketball and many other high school activities." The stadium, he said, would also serve as an ideal spot for FFA and 4-H activities.

According to Saueressig, the REA has talked of helping in the center, since the Travelers could also use the field house and possibly the stadium.

Saueressig said the Quarterback club's main objective would be to help in the initial financing of the stadium, giving the school an opportunity to "get on their feet" during the first year of the stadium's existence.

Body of Ninth Valley Flood Victim Found

ROSWELL, (AP)—Body of Tony Tolliver, three-month-old Negro boy drowned in the flood along the Felix river Oct. 6-7, was found at 5 p. m. yesterday.

Discoverer was Lupe Garcia, who was gathering wood. The body was in a silt drift 200 yards from the place the baby was last seen.

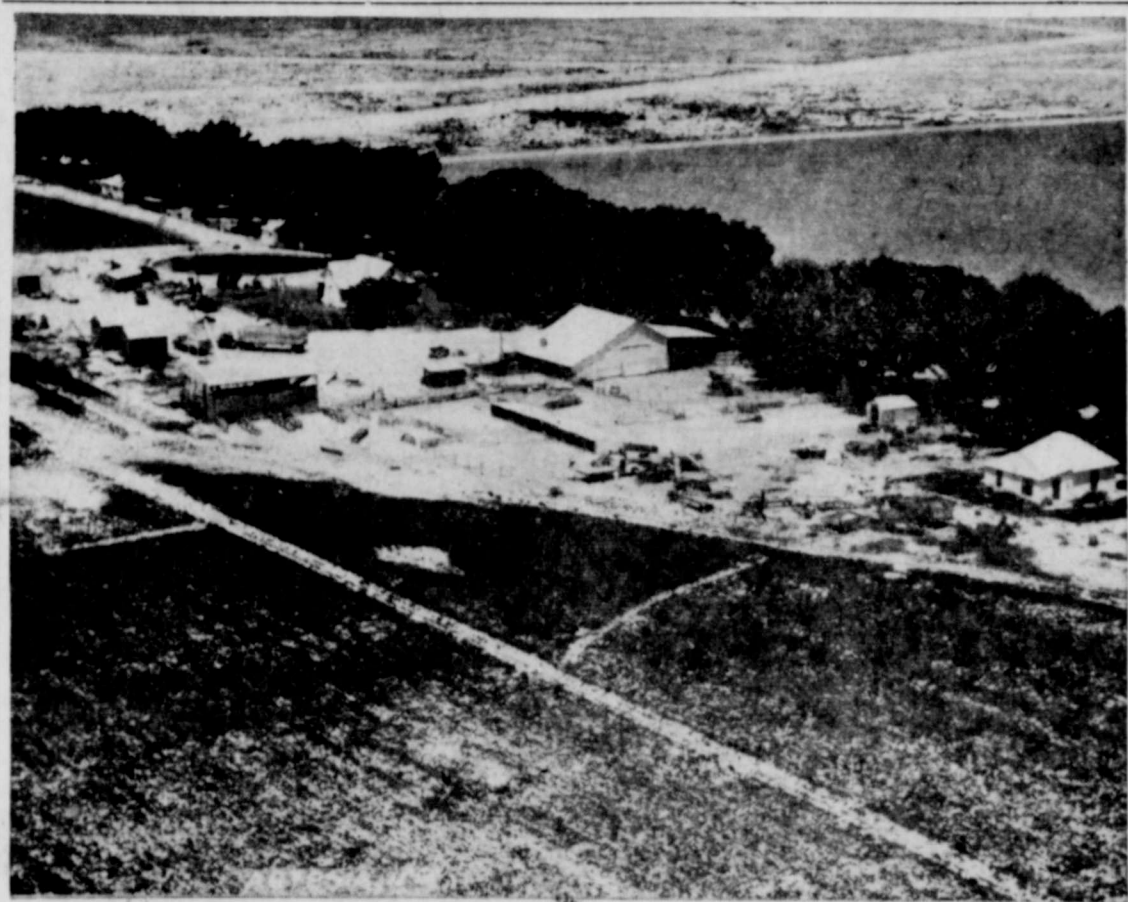

An inquest was held before J. E. Lusk, justice of the peace at Hagerman. Death was ruled due to drowning in the flash flood.

Recovery of the body of the Tolliver infant brings the flood count to nine dead and four missing in this county.

Still unrecovered are the bodies of Helen Juarez, 3, whose mother, Mrs. Minnie Juarez and brother and sister, Tony, 5, and Eva, 11, were among the flood dead; and three Mexican Nationals, Francisco Fernandez Morales, Manuel Valles Rodriguez, and Nicol Costa Ortega.

School Children To Give Blood Samples in Test

SANTA FE — About 500 school children in Albuquerque will give samples of their blood on Nov. 9 in connection with the polio vaccine tests.

MYSTERY FARM of the mammoth spread somewhere in the Artesia area. With so many identifying features it should be an easy one to guess. The first Advocate reader who correctly identifies the farm's identity will be presented a one-year subscription to the newspaper. The farm's owner will be given the original glossy aerial photo.

Indian Summer Hanging on Despite Calendar

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — The calendar says it's winter, but everything else indicates that Indian Summer is still hanging on in New Mexico during the day at least.

Continued fair weather and warmer afternoons are the prospect, the Weather Bureau said, because of a high pressure area holding its own over southwestern states.

The clear skies at night, however, have been sending the temperatures down to sub-freezing marks in most locations. Lowest this morning was a chilly 17 at Gallup, while Albuquerque had a far-from-balmy 38 for the warmest.

Socorro was warmest yesterday with an afternoon high of 64; Las Vegas and Santa Fe were lowest with 55.

Albuquerque Man Fatally Stabbed

ALBUQUERQUE — A 21-year-old Albuquerque man was fatally stabbed last night and city police were questioning an unidentified suspect and seeking two others.

Albert Lopez, the victim, was found by his wife at the entrance of an alley near his home. He died a short time later in an Albuquerque hospital. The ice truck driver had been stabbed twice with a knife—once near his heart and once on his left side.

"According to our information, Lopez and the three men were in a fight outside Red's Bar, which is approximately a half block away from where Lopez' body was found," said Police Lt. Fred Johnson.

Johnson said the suspect being held had skinned knuckles.

Junior Hornets To End Season Against Hobbs

Hunters Asked to Leave Location With Families

State Police have asked all hunters to leave with their families the make of car, year, color, license number, and general area in which they will hunt.

Police explained that many times emergencies arise and the family needs to contact those who have gone hunting. To better enable police to locate the hunters, the above mentioned details should be known.

State Police said they will be glad to trace the hunters down, if they can just have the information listed.

Legion Slates Drive to Cut State's Infant Mortality

ALBUQUERQUE — The American Legion plans to press the next New Mexico legislature for an increased welfare budget in an attempt to reduce the state's infant mortality rate—highest in the nation for the past 20 years.

New Mexico's shocking infant death situation was outlined to the Legion's child welfare conference for 11 western states here yesterday by Seaborn Collins, Las Cruces national Legion commander.

Collins said that of every 1,000 children born in New Mexico, an average of 45 die in infancy. That's twice as high as some neighboring states, Collins said, and the state has maintained the highest infant death rate in the nation for the past 20 years.

Last year in New Mexico, Collins said, 1,134 children under one year died.

"If New Mexico had an infant death rate corresponding to that of Oregon or Utah," Collins said, "543 of those children would still be alive."

AGAINST THE DATA MAYOR

Altman argued "Hope is on the upswing, and we will grow. We believe something can be done before another school year to improve our program. The distances students would have to travel to Artesia offsets the advantages they might get in going to school there."

Accompanying Mrs. Altman to last night's meeting was Mrs. George Young of Hope. Mrs. Altman indicated that in addition to survey team members, other Hope residents who wanted to accompany the survey team today include George Rex Seely and Mrs. Don Merritt.

Earl Cox was named as the Artesia board member to accompany the survey team. Reese and Wiley indicated their work today would include interview with parents of Hope high school students and a study of roads and transportation.

At one point in the informal conversation last night Wiley told Mrs. Altman that the conditions which resulted in the 1952 recommendation Hope high school be closed "still exist."

A SIMILAR STATE-APPOINTED survey team in 1952 recommended that Hope high school students be taken to Artesia for their education, while an elementary school should be maintained at Hope. The recommendation was part of a sweeping Eddy county school reorganization.

Recommendation to be Made To State Board November 29

A four-man state survey team today swung into field work in its study of knotty Hope high school problems after at least one member displayed a "you have got to show me" attitude in a meeting with the Artesia board of education last night.

With State School Supt. Tom Wiley replacing J. E. Owens, who is ill, on the team, the group was to begin its survey at 9:30 at Hope this morning. Its findings and recommendations won't be known until a report is made to the state board of education at its Nov. 29 meeting.

Serving with Wiley are J. T. Reese, state school transportation director; Mrs. Ethel Altman, mayor of Hope and leader of forces opposed to closing Hope high school; and John Bush, Hope, a resident who believes the school should be closed if its education offerings are below standard.

In an Artesia school board meeting last night Reese made it plain in discussion, chiefly with Mrs. Altman, that "we've got to be shown that the high cost of educating students at Hope and the inadequate program is justified."

Data prepared for the survey team's use by Artesia Supt. Vernon Mills indicated cost of educating Hope high students is $753 apiece per year. It compares with $301 per student in Artesia.

The data also showed curriculum for Hope high this year. Wiley said it would not prepare a student for entrance in college or university technical fields, and Reese declared it does not provide "the polish" a senior needs.

Offered at Hope this year are physical education, general mathematics, home economics, typing, bookkeeping, English 1 through 4, and world history. Mills pointed out other courses are offered on alternate years.

On the basis of discussion in an Artesia school board meeting last night, here are key questions in the Hope controversy a state survey team will study:

Can high school students be brought to Artesia without undue physical hardship due to extra travel?

Is the Hope high school curriculum adequate? Does Hope give indications of increasing population? Can other arrangements be made for Chaves county high school students, who pose the key problem when transportation distances are studied? Do parents of students want Hope high continued at Hope, or do many privately feel its program is inadequate?

Artesia, Carlsbad Are Rated Even

In top physical condition, Artesia's Bulldogs tonight will find whether or not they are the state championship team the fans believe they are.

The Bulldogs meet the highly-touted Carlsbad Cavemen at Carlsbad tonight at 7:30. In addition to 471 lucky buyers of reserved seats, a number of fans will make the trip hoping for general admission space. The contest will be broadcast by radio station KSVP.

The game has drawn widespread attention over the state, and betting is reported overall not to favor one team over the other.

Artesia sports observers generally believe that if the Bulldogs tonight get past arch-rival Carlsbad, they will be able to win over Roswell, which comes here next week, and weakened Hobbs.

Both teams have a 5 and 1 records, the losses going to out-of-state teams. While Artesians won over Clovis and Clovis defeated Carlsbad, Cavemen more substantially beat Albuquerque high than Artesia.

At command for Artesia will be ace quarterback Johnny Riddle, master of deception and the split-T formation.

Coach Reese Smith said the Bulldog's regular starting lineup will take the field tonight, the first time in a month the regular eleven has been together, due to injuries.

Meanwhile police issued a word of warning to motorists who will make the trip to and from Carlsbad tonight, that highways will be crowded and speed will make the trip hazardous.

Joint Show Is Slated By Two Schools' Bands

The Bulldog Band of Artesia high school, 70-strong, will travel today to Carlsbad to boost the team in its campaign to crush Carlsbad.

For the first time, the Bulldog band will join the Carlsbad Caveman band in a combined halftime show. Theme of the show will be patriotic.

The affair will be quite colorful in that Carlsbad's uniforms are white and blue and Artesia's are solid black with orange and white trim.

Featured in the show will be the Artesia twirlers, Rhea Ellinger, Faith Shepard and Carolyn Wilmet.

Artesia cheerleaders will join with the Carlsbad cheerleaders in the halftime sportsmanship ceremony.

Taking part in the ceremony will be Kay Ingram, Annette Connor, Betty Burch, Jeanelle Blackburn and Jean Nickols.

The Artesia band will be under the command of drum major Bud McQuay. It left at 1 today for an early rehearsal with the Caveman band.

City Resembling Porter Convention

Artesia resembled this morning a town holding a porters convention with hunters garbed in red shirts and red hats popping out of every store on Main Street as they made last minute preparations for the big hunt.

As a last reminder, the GPA pointed some 33 signs last night saying "Be sure its game before you shoot." GPA president Earl Boulden said this morning members of the organization will distribute the signs throughout the hunting region west of Artesia.

Game wardens and state police were already headed for their posts early this morning where they will check hunters both coming and going.

70,000 Hunters Take Part in Big Game Season

Upwards of 70,000 hunters are expected to go on the state big game season which opens at sunrise Saturday.

The season runs from Nov. 6 until sunset Nov. 21. Under a change of regulation, the state game commission has set shooting hours daily for sunrise to sunset. Originally the hours had been changed by half an hour, but they have now been set at sunrise-sunset.

The state game department says both deer and turkey are plentiful this year, with deer numbers estimated at 200,000 and Merriam's turkeys at 250,000.

This will be the first time the state has used the "deer of either sex" rule on a large scale. The changed, under which hunters in many areas will be permitted to take either a doe or a buck, is intended to maintain balance in the deer population.

Game officials say there has been more interest expressed from other states—namely Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri—than ever before. They attribute this to hunting and fishing maps distributed for the first time.

Deer which have been killed in special seasons so far have been in excellent condition.

Game officials issued a plea to hunters to use extra caution this year in view of the expected large number of hunters.

Changes in Lineup For University Of Texas Slated

AUSTIN — Two changes in the University of Texas starting lineup were announced yesterday by Coach Ed Price as the Longhorns prepared to meet Baylor tomorrow at Waco.

Price said quarterback Charley Brewer was being replaced by Glen Dyer, who came out of fourth-team obscurity to lead the Longhorns to a 13-13 tie with SMU last week.

Brewer injured his neck Monday. Tackle Herb Gray will move back into the first-string spot from which he was bounced last week replacing Johnny Flinn. Gray, a junior, was one of nine players ordered to move from Hill Hall, the athletic dorm, for training violations.

Price said quarterback Charley Brewer was being replaced by Glen Dyer, who came out of fourth-team obscurity to lead the Longhorns to a 13-13 tie with SMU last week.

Brewer injured his neck Monday. Tackle Herb Gray will move back into the first-string spot from which he was bounced last week replacing Johnny Flinn. Gray, a junior, was one of nine players ordered to move from Hill Hall, the athletic dorm, for training violations.

Larger Stadium for Cave City Could Make Money

By EVAN MAHANEY

IT WOULD PAY CARLSBAD, over a period of years, to build a larger stadium for the express use of Artesia when the Bulldogs and Cavemen clash. Ticket sellers Wednesday night said they could have sold 2,000 tickets with no trouble at all.

Those who stood in line for hours on end and still secured a ticket said it was well worth the stand for an opportunity to see the game and sit down all at the same time. However, looking at the time element, there were some who would have come out standing time ahead if they hadn't purchased their tickets here.

Nevertheless, a high school football game unequalled will be seen Friday night when the Bulldogs and Cavemen tear into play. It seems like every town in the U. S., regardless of size, has one big rival—and when the two teams meet the fur flies—giving rosters for both sides basis for conversation which will last until the next meeting.

BUT A WORD OF CAUTION to those planning to drive down Friday night. It's only 35 miles to Carlsbad, and a few minutes longer won't be remembered next year, so please take it easy driving, as we hope we see you replaying that game over Monday morning's coffee—not heralding Artesia's efforts in some other far-removed locale.

Can remember the heartbreak of one youth in this state who arrived home on the bus the next day, only to learn his father had been killed in an auto accident while driving home from his son's victorious game. It's not pleasant to think about—but it can and invariably does happen, so let's keep Artesia's record clean and everyone drive safely.

DON GOLDEN, ANOTHER EX-Bulldog now playing for the Hardin-Simmons freshman squad, gets the nod for starting center when the Bulldogs take on Fort Hood's Tankers Saturday afternoon at Fort Hood. As we have previously stated, Artesia's old Bulldogs are making an even bigger name for themselves in the world of college ball.

A look at the hunting seasons shows geese, ducks, and coots fast approaching the open season, and a pretty long one too. Season lasts from Nov. 12 to Jan. 10 in all sections of the state. Bag limit on geese will be three per day. Ducks will be five per day and coots 10 per day.

More hunters than ever before are anticipated this year by the New Mexico Game Dept., and for that reason State Police, GPA officials and game wardens in this area have issued some last minute instructions.

Big point this year will be safety. According to all officials, not enough can be said to emphasize the point of safety. Using Colorado as an example, game officials have issued a plea to all hunters throughout New Mexico to be especially careful.

North Eddy county GPA president Earl Boulden said if all hunters will follow the great rule of the game department, there will be no casualties this year. "That rule," Boulden said, "is 'be sure its legal before you shoot'."

The big game season—deer, bear (without dogs) and turkey—gets off to its 1954 start at sunup Saturday, slated to close at sundown each day until Nov. 13 when the season ends for good. Even though there will be more hunters in the field this year, game statistics show there will also be more game. Latest population estimates say over 200,000 deer are available, 3,000 bears and 25,000 Merriam's turkey.

Boulden said there have been some questions on the boundaries of the Panama allotment in the Guadalupe this year. He said all boundary limits will be clearly marked with 8 by 10 foot white signs with red letters, also giving the name of ranch.

Antlerless deer only, Boulden cautioned, are to be taken from the allotment. Boulden said when a doe is killed it should be immediately tagged, explaining that a doe tag will be given at the checking station.

Boulden said there will be five checking stations throughout the allotment, where the deer will be tagged and inspected by members of the game department's biology force for permanent information on the allotment.

State Police issued a warning to hunters concerning licensing. Patrolman Don Bonine said State Police will be at all checking stations in this part of the country, and will check all hunting and motor licenses.

Bonine said, "If a man comes through with a resident license for hunting, but has Texas plates on his car—he'll either have to buy New Mexico plates or an out-of-state hunting license." Bonine said hunters will be checked by State Police both "going in and coming out" for corresponding licenses.

Another warning issued by the game department was to respect all boundaries. The department asks all hunters to seek permission from land owners before hunting on their land. They especially cautioned hunters to stay out of game refuges—or suffer consequences in court.

"But the big rule to remember," they said, "is to be sure you shoot legal game, and not another hunter. Use extreme caution with every shot."

Eleven in Family Of 13 Admitted To TB Hospital

SANATORIUM, Tex. (AP)—Eleven members of a 13-person west Texas family have been hospitalized this week for treatment of tuberculosis.

Nine members of the Plainview family entered McKnight State Sanatorium, comprising one of the largest groups ever admitted here. Two others were sent to an Amarillo hospital.

Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP

The Greatest Gasoline Development in 31 Years

Here are the facts proved by millions:

- 1. TCP boosts your car's power as much as 15% (because it neutralizes power-robbing lead deposits).
- 2. TCP gives you extra gas mileage (motorists report up to 3 miles more per gallon).
- 3. TCP is just like an engine tune-up (because it lets you enjoy your car's built-in power).
- 4. TCP increases spark-plug life up to 150% (because it actually fireproofs your spark plugs).
- 5. TCP makes it possible for you to enjoy all the extra performance of Conoco Super's higher-octane rating.

But don't take our word for it! Read what motorists, themselves, say about Conoco Super with TCP.

- 1. "I remember when tetraethyl lead was first put into gasoline 31 years ago. Now comes Conoco Super with TCP! It's lived up to my '51 Mercury—and now I get 3 more miles to the gallon."
- 2. "Conoco Super with TCP is doing everything it's promised in giving our '53 Cadillac extra mileage, power, and performance. We won't take any other gasoline, because TCP has no substitute."
- 3. "I maintain four cars and three trucks. In all of them, it's Conoco Super with TCP. I'm getting new-car performance! Starting on cold mornings is 50% better. I'm sold on Conoco Super!"
- 4. "Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP does the job as no other gasoline has done before. My 1950 Chevrolet runs quietly, doesn't make knocking noises, starts right up and goes farther to the gallon."
- 5. "Conoco Super with TCP is a vitamin tonic for my '48 DeSoto. The engine starts promptly. And the mileage savings are like getting up to a gallon and a half of free gas to every tankful."

After one full year, there's still no substitute for Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP

Trichologist Will Demonstrate How to Grow Thicker Hair

Guarantees It! DEMONSTRATION TO BE HELD HERE

Trichologist makes no charges for this examination and no appointment is necessary. After the examination the person is told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost.

After starting treatment the person makes regular reports to the Keele firm in Oklahoma City, to check the progress of the home treatment.

To spread the opportunity of normal healthy hair to the thousands who are desperately looking for help, independent trichologists are visiting various cities throughout the United States to conduct examinations and start home treatment.

NO CURE-ALL "We have no cure-all for slick, shiny baldness," Keele emphasizes, "If there is fuzz, the root is still capable of creating hair and we can perform what seems to be a miracle."

There is one thing Keele wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temples or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head there is something wrong and it should be given immediate attention.

HAIR FOR LIFETIME "If clients follow our direction, during treatment, and after they finish the course, there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives," Keele said. "Our firm is definitely behind this treatment, it all depends on the individual client's faithful observation of a few simple rules."

HOW'S YOUR HAIR? If it worries you, call Trichologist H. Lockwood Hendrickson at the Artesia Hotel in Artesia, N. M., on Tuesday ONLY, Nov. 9, 12 noon to 9 p. m. The public is invited. You do not need an appointment. The examinations are private and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.

HOPELESS CASES The Trichologist is quick to help cases that they are helped. But the "hopeless" cases are few. Only if a completely, shiny bald is in the lost category.

There is no matter how long, or colorless, the Keele firm can perform wonders. Complete, private examinations by a Trichologist to determine the condition of his hair and cause for his hair loss.

FREE EXAMINATION Examination is very thorough, highly technical and requires 20 to 30 minutes. The

Crackdown on Motor Scooters

THE DECISION by the Eddy County Safety Council to seek a crackdown on operation of motor scooters by youngsters under 16 has come as a distinct shock to many youngsters and their parents.

In view of police leniency in allowing youngsters under 16 to operate motor scooters in Artesia in the past, a large number of youngsters have purchased motor scooters at considerable cost. Now the youngsters must either put them up in storage or sell them for what they can get—and within the next 10 days.

The state law expressly forbids people under 16 to operate a motor vehicle, and a motor scooter is classed as a motor vehicle.

Not wise in the ways of adults, it of course comes as a shock to youngsters that adults (in the person of the police department) may go along for years and let under 16 drivers operate motor scoots, then overnight, after everything has been smoothly going along, change their minds and tell the kids to get rid of the thing in two weeks.

Adoption of a resolution by the safety council Monday night asking police to enforce the law comes as a hard way for youngsters to learn that even if adults pat you on the head and say "we're not going to enforce that law," you better obey it anyway because the law is, after all, the law and the grace of unenforcement could be changed at any time to a stringent enforcement.

Operation of motor scooters has been a great boon for youngsters, especially with stiffening of state driver laws which now require a motor vehicle operator to be 16, rather than 14, as in the past.

The matter of motor scooter operation should be carefully examined in the light of actual experience of youngsters operating the scooters.

Coffee Talk

Motor Scooters

We have in hand this contribution from a youngster who drives a motor scooter:

"Could someone be looking in the wrong direction for the cause of so many accidents?"

"Whoever saw two scooters run together?"

"Take all the people over 16 years of age and put them on scooters. The little guy seems to be able to handle the scooter. The older may do better driving a scooter than they have been doing driving a car."

The writer of that piece noted with particular bitterness as he handed it to us that next to the story of the Eddy County Safety Council resolution against youngsters under 16 running motor scooters was one about six cars—driven by operators over 16—involved in three wrecks.

All Different

PLYMOUTHs for 1955, to be unveiled November 17, are completely different from current models, according to Thad Cox.

Cox and F. C. Hart recently saw the new cars in a showing to dealers only at Denver.

Spies say Ford also will make a full model change in its 1955 car.

Costs Money

Portales put a story on the wire yesterday to the effect that suspension of the Clovis high school team costs Portales just about $1,000.

The Clovis-Portales game is just about the biggest event in that

Two Touchdowns

Certainly Prof. John D. Alexander, the Current-Argus sports staff, has gone too far out on a limb in putting Carlsbad two TDs over Artesia in guessing on the outcome of tonight's game.

We cannot understand this, since Prof. Alexander has seen the Artesia Bulldogs in action and should know better.

Our crystal ball says its the bulldogs by two TDs at least—and if it weren't homecoming it'd probably be more. Carlsbad doesn't have it this year.

Neither do Roswell or Hobbs.

Deer Holiday

The Advocate office will be open sure enough tomorrow, but that's about all.

When deer season opens it's so quiet you could hear a Linotype mat fall on a feather bed in the backshop here.

Out of around 20 employees there won't be more than five show tomorrow.

Game Tickets

There was no error the other day in reporting Carlsbad had sent up 471 tickets for tonight's football game, but only 451 for sale.

The clue: Of the 471, there were 20 complimentary copies for school officials, etc.

duced supply of oxygen at a mile high altitude may have a direct bearing on the infant mortality rate in New Mexico."

The study into altitude effects will be made at Leadville, Colo., which is 10,000 feet high, by Dr. John A. Lichty of the Colorado medical school.

"Dr. Lichty has already found more than 30 per cent of babies born in high country are light in weight, averaging three-quarters of a pound less than those born at lower altitudes," Ehinger said.

"The results of this study may contribute to the fight against high mortality rates among babies in all the mountain states."

ganization which replaced seven county school districts with three. The Hope consolidation was effective with the 1953-54 school year, although education of high school students at Artesia was not to start until the current school year.

This summer, however, a Hope delegation headed by Mrs. Altman won from the state board of education permission to continue the high school at Hope another year, with a survey of the situation to be made in the meantime.

At one point in the meeting when Reese asked how Hope people were divided on the subject, Mrs. Altman said "I thought until very recently the majority wanted to keep the high school out there."

George O. Teel of Hope, Artesia board member, said "There are several who are very dissatisfied with the high school set-up out there now."

BUSH TOLD THE GROUP, "the lack of opportunity and the lack of selection under the Hope high school system is objectionable. It would be all right if there were enough teachers and courses so students could prepare for college. Now they don't offer algebra or science. I have supported the school as long as children could get what they needed, a variety of courses."

Reese pinpointed opposition against bringing high school students into Artesia as coming from parents of Chaves county children. "They feel they'd be on the buses too long, is that right," Reese said.

Teel at that one point said "Moving the high school is not the problem. The kind of education we offer out there is."

Mills told the group, "It is hard to get teachers for the setup at Hope. Few teachers are well-qualified to teach well more than two fields."

Reese commented that, "It's true that if a child has to travel too far it is not good for him. We are concerned in this with the welfare of the child."

Stroup replied "We intend to follow your recommendation."

Mrs. Altman insisted throughout the meeting "Hope is growing. Why, we never had a water system out there until this year. People will move in, people with families."

WILEY SAID IT would be agreed that if the survey team should make a recommendation to close the high school it would not take effect until the 1955-56 school year.

In his statement Wiley intimated that possibly a compromise may be worked out to solve the situation.

More than 40,000 American men under 65 are killed in accidents each year.

Mrs. Paul Scott's Father Dies

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Scott left Artesia this morning for Plainview, Texas, following the death of Mrs. Scott's father last night. He was R. A. Richey of Plainview. Funeral services are reported pending.

The Chamber of Commerce office, of which Scott is manager, will be closed tomorrow due to the death.

Swords must give way to ploughshares, and Spears must be refashioned into Pruning-hooks. Hatchets must be buried, and rifles converted into crosses. We must oppose, with all our might, the antagonisms that are growing between peoples of the earth. International conflict must be solved; world peace must come. May we have an Armistice of long duration.
