Pioneers Face Colorado A&M For Loop Title

By FRANK PITMAN Of The Associated Press

Denver's Pioneers met only to conquer Colorado A&M Thanksgiving Day to win the Skyline conference football championship, but if they stumble Wyoming's Cowboys are all set to ascend the league throne.

The Pioneers moved within one game of their first undisputed Skyline title by pounding Utah State, 25-7, at Logan Saturday. Wyoming, the only conqueror, stomped Brigham Young at Provo, 34-13, in the Cowboys' finale.

The victory gave Wyoming a 5-1 record in the league, the same as Denver. The Cowboys have no chance to take the title now unless Denver loses or is tied by the Aggies in the Thanksgiving windup.

Once again the placekick played a decisive role in the Skyline Saturday with New Mexico using it for a 10-7 victory over Colorado A&M, the league's leading exponent of the point-making kick. Ray Guerrette tied one from 42 yards two minutes to play.

The finish was ironic for the Aggies, who had ridden to three victories this season on the place kicking of their stellar quarterback, Gary Glick. He booted a field goal for the winning margin against Montana, 37-34, and, his faultless point after touchdown boots were the difference in 14-13 victories over Utah and Brigham Young.

Utah's Redskins, loser of four-games this season by the margin of point-after-touchdown kicks, went against Colorado of the Big Seven and took a 20-7 beating at Salt Lake City.

The Utes meet Montana at Missoula this Saturday in the conference windup for the Grizzlies. It's the only league game this weekend. Montana edged Montana State college, 25-21, at Missoula Saturday. MSC had won eight straight this season in an undefeated sweep to the Rocky Mountain Conference championship.

The non-conference slate this Saturday sends Wyoming to Tulsa and Brigham Young to Boise for a season-ending game with Idaho, while New Mexico entertains at Albuquerque for New Mexico A&M.

of 26 pass attempts for 155 yards and eight first downs, gave the Bulldogs fits Friday night, the heretofore undefeated Roswell Coyotes were no match for Artesia's speedy, deceptive, and downright shrewd backfield.

Then Riddle pitched out to Freddie Sanders, who handed it back to Riddle for a gain down to the 20. Barker went to the 14, Sanders to the 12, and Lewis to the 6. Sanders found his favorite off-tackle hole to score.

Bill Isler picked up 10 yards to the Artesia 47, and John England cracked to the 43. Garcia passed to slamin' Sherman Pruitt, who lateraled to England to reach the 38. Pruitt slammed to 35, England to the 26. The Bulldogs' Jay Mitchell temporarily stymied the general scheme of things by throwing Pruitt for a 2-yard loss, but Garcia passed to Pruitt to pick up 13 yards.

He sneaked to the 13, lost a yard, then completed to England to score. His Pass conversion attempt was knocked down by Riddle. The score was knotted 6-6 at halftime.

The Bulldogs made it 13-6 4 1/2 minutes into the third period following England's punt to the Artesia 42. Sanders sliced off tackle to Roswell 46, and Lewis shoved to the 44. Sanders sliced to the Roswell 46, and Lewis shoved to the 44. Sanders sliced away on a 33-yard dash to the 11. Riddle slammed through tackle to the 2, went over on the next play. Ron Nelson kick-converted.

Only One College Team Yet Has Bowl Spot Set; Saturday Games to Decide Most Contenders

BY ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press
The list of candidates for the New Year's Day Bowl is today too manageable to list. Only one team with its spot in the bowl set.

took from Georgia Tech reportedly has soured bowl officials. ORANGE BOWL — The host in this one is the Atlantic Coast conference champion, Maryland, last year's national champion, is striving to make a repeat appearance. The Terps lost to Oklahoma last year 7-0 and have finished their conference schedule with a 4-0-1 mark. Duke, currently sporting a 2-0 record, still must play South Carolina and North Carolina. If the Blue Devils win both, they'll show a 4-0 mark and will head for Miami.

The position is bound to be easier than last year. Oklahoma, is ineligible, having played in the perennial Big Seven champion, Nebraska and Kansas State still in contention. Nebraska plays Oklahoma Saturday and State goes against Colorado. Should State win and Nebraska lose, a distinct possibility, the Wildcats would get the bid, although the two teams would show identical 4-2 records — because State beat the Cornhuskers earlier in the year.

SMU Can't Even Afford Tie In Baylor Game Saturday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor
The Southwest conference football race, as full of upsets as any of the hectic past, pushes down the final two weeks with the biggest battles yet to come.

able to topple Baylor and seven since they beat arch foe Texas Christian.

The first is at Dallas Saturday when Southern Methodist tries to protect its lead against the rush of Baylor's hard-finishing Golden Bears. SMU didn't make as many mistakes as Arkansas last week so the latter finally lost a game. By so doing Arkansas may have thrown away the championship it could have won had it been its brilliant self in the last big effort.

LEADING THE LEAGUE BY A half-game, SMU can't even afford a tie in its remaining contests. That would wind the Methodists up in a tie with Arkansas for the championship. Baylor, which hasn't won a title since 1924 is particularly anxious to get a championship tie, something the Bears could do by whipping SMU and Rice. Baylor can't possibly win an outright tie.

Travelers Working Out Near Daily for Season Opener

Artesia's CVE Travelers are working out four nights a week now at Junior high school gym in preparation for their home and league opener Nov. 29 against the Ada Oilers of Houston.

Six rookies and as many veterans from the 1953-54 squad are being coached by C. G. "Red" Goodwin for the current season's heavy schedule.

Already an improvement over last year's squad is seen by Goodwin, who points out the Travelers now have the height they so obviously lacked last year.

MEANWHILE, season ticket sales are continuing at the CVE office, Second and Quay, where less than 100 reserved seats are available for the 1954-55 season, which includes 18 home games.

The veterans include Don Heathington, 6 feet 5, Baylor; Bill Lea, 6 feet 5, Southwest Missouri State; Dwayne Stewart, 6 feet 4, West Texas State; Dee Nutt, 6 feet 3, Abilene Christian college; Don Haskins, 6 feet 2, Oklahoma A&M; Jack Hess, 6 feet 1, Arkansas.

Rookies are Gary Shivers, 6 feet 10, Houston university; Elmer Beard, 6 feet 8, North Texas State; Guy Lovett, 6 feet 7, Franklin-Marshall; Elton Tuttle, 6 feet 6, Creighton; Mac Williams, 6 feet 3, Tampa; and Bill Sharp, 6 feet, Wyoming.

AROUND THE COUNTRY, the Southwest conference champion Arkansas is in front 4-1 record and the chances Rebels will go on and take the upset. They have to beat Mississippi State two weeks.

THE SOUTHWESTERN CONFERENCE, the trip to New Orleans, 41 record and the chances Rebels will go on and take the upset. They have to beat Mississippi State two weeks.

Highlands-Albuquerque High Game to Pick Artesia Rival

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
New Mexico's big high schools close out their regular season play this week-end with a jammed-up intra-city match in Albuquerque.

St. Mary's of Albuquerque, currently tied with Albuquerque for second place in district 1AA, closes out one of its best seasons in recent history against crosstown Valley High of Albuquerque.

In that one, Highland takes on Albuquerque High in a battle to see who will face the District 2AA champion Artesia Bulldogs in the state title game.

Valley High of Albuquerque, currently tied with Albuquerque for second place in district 1AA, closes out one of its best seasons in recent history against crosstown Valley High of Albuquerque.

Highland is leading the 1AA district with a spotless record in five league contests. Add to that the desire to gain revenge for last year's controversial penetrations ruling that gave Albuquerque High the right to play in the title game, and the Hornets draw a solid favorite's spot in their vital game.

Artesia, assured of participation in the title game, closes out its season against Hobbs this week. Artesia gained its right to the title game with a 19-14 victory over previously unbeaten and defending champion Roswell last week.

SPORTS ROUNDUP—Guglielmi Can't Compare With Dawson for Passing

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP) — The Ohio State Buckeyes, undefeated and dropped the ball entirely too often against SMU.

have their eyes filled with flying footballs when they tie into the Purdue Boiler-makers in one of tomorrow's outstanding attractions on the national front.

THE DEFEAT OF ARKANSAS threw the Cotton Bowl situation into a huge jumble. Had the Razorbacks tied or won they would have been in the Cotton Bowl as champions of the conference. Then Cotton Bowl officials could have started searching for an opponent, although admittedly that's quite a task, too. So confused is the situation as regards a visiting team that the Cotton Bowl isn't even polling Arkansas and SMU on what teams they would be willing to play if they are hosts in the Jan. 1 game.

This is what Ed "Moose" Krause director of athletics at Notre Dame has to say about Lennie Dawson, the 18-year-old Purdue sophomore who will demand the answer as to whether the Buckeyes have a big league defense against passes to go along with their other undoubted attributes.

Howard Grubbs, executive secretary of the Cotton Bowl, said Auburn, Georgia Tech, Mississippi, West Virginia and Virginia Tech appeared the top contenders for the spot at this time. Auburn sprang forward in beating Georgia 35-0 last week. Georgia Tech has a 6-3 record with only Georgia left to play. Mississippi has 8-1 with Mississippi State left. West Virginia has 6-1 and plays North Carolina State. Virginia Tech is undefeated but has one tie and winds up the season against Virginia Military next week.

IN SEVEN GAMES up to this point, Dawson has tossed 14 touchdown passes. This is Purdue's annual homecoming game, an occasion when the sap bubbles over. Purdue relishes its reputation as a spoiler of winning streaks. But if you still feel like backing the Buckeyes in the office pool, don't let any of this stop you.

THERE ARE TOO MANY IMPORTANT games left for us to single out anybody right now," observed Grubbs. While SMU was trouncing Arkansas, two other conference games were being played, neither, however, having any bearing on the championship race. Texas outscored Texas Christian 35-34 and Rice trimmed Texas A&M 29-19.

Saturday Rice and Texas Christian clash at Houston. Arkansas plays an intersectional game with Louisiana State at Shreveport. Texas and Texas A&M have finished the season except for their Thanksgiving Day clash at Austin.

FOUR MINUTES later Artesia scored its last TD, set up when Jay Mitchell threw Pruitt and England for losses on two line attempts and Sanders knocked down a fourth-down Garcia pass attempt. On the first play after the Bulldogs took possession, Sanders unreeled off tackle and sprinted 76 yards to score.

The Coyotes scored their face-saving final TD in the fourth, too late with too little. Roswell took over on the Artesia 20 after a Bulldog punt was blocked. Pruitt smashed to the 15 in two plays, then Garcia completed to Pruitt down to the 1. The great little passer went over himself on the next play.

Garcia attempted to mount another pass offense when the Coyotes took over with 2:45 on the clock, but he completed only one—that good for 12 yards—before he began showing his obvious exhaustion by slipping, slowing up, and throwing wild, after having borne the brunt of the Roswell offensive.

Inexperienced Hunters Cause Waste

SPORTSMEN THROUGHOUT New Mexico have been shocked with reports of finding whole deer carcasses abandoned in city dumps at Artesia and Hobbs, and along roadsides. These incidents have been seriously and properly denounced as wasteful and unsportsmanlike. But Game Protective Assn. officials and state game department officers quickly follow with the theory that the waste is certainly caused by ignorance, rather than willful practice. Of the thousands of deer killed and successfully converted to meat on the table, there have been only between five and 10 deer carcasses actually found in situations which may be described as wanton waste. Thus the public should not err in thinking for a moment that most hunters are wasteful, for the cases of waste are actually one in 1,000. Nevertheless, the conduct of a few may lower the reputation of all hunters. It is at those few the game protective groups across New Mexico intend to aim an educational program on what to do with a deer now that you've killed the critter.

You can imagine the consternation of an enthusiastic first-ot nirod, keyed up for weeks about hunting, when he does get his deer. He doesn't know what to do with it, and if he is not in a party of experienced hunters who can assist him, the deer spoils and is thrown out. The GPA's program of educating hunters will be well-received, not only in its instructional phases of what to do with game after it is killed, but in the moral responsibility of the hunter to shoot with a purpose. Roger Neill, GPA executive secretary, points out that "To kill game and then discard it is a deliberate waste of good wildlife and certainly not the act of a real sportsman. It is the job of the GPA to educate the uninformed, the indifferent, and careless individual in the fundamental principles of conservation of our wildlife resources and true sportsmanship." Neill urges the GPA to point out in its program before the next hunting season the methods for taking care of deer to prevent spoilage, the fact deer tied on a car hood may spoil from the heat, and that if the hunter does not want the meat he should give it to an institution which can use it.

Miller said whipping by Kerrigan given to a boy needed no medical care but was "whipped a little worse than he should have been." "When I heard of it," Miller said, "I jerked the guard in and told him I didn't want him to have anything to do with punishing any boy again." But Miller said the didn't fire Kerrigan outright because "I don't have that authority—which I should have."

(Continued from Page 1.) School System has existed for more than 80 years on a segregated basis as "a reasonable exercise of the state's police power" to preserve the public peace, harmony and general welfare. "THERE IS NO discrimination on the part of the State of Texas in administering its public school system, only separation of the races," he said. "It is the belief of the people of this state that discrimination against the individual can best be eliminated by segregation of the races in the educational system. It is the evil of discrimination and not segregation per se that is condemned by the U. S. constitution."

Complete Tijuana Detective Force Put Under Arrest

TIJUANA, Mexico — The entire Tijuana detective force, 27 men, was arrested last night on orders of Army Capt. Salvador Reueltas Olvera. Police said the arrests followed a statement by Raul Casares that Tijuana detectives had taken from him $9,000 of the $10,000 loot from a Los Angeles robbery. Dist. Atty. Leonida Miranda Bello said Casares admitted he and two accomplices took the $10,000 in a robbery in Los Angeles and deposited the money in a Tijuana bank. When the men returned to get the money, Miranda Bello said he was told, three Tijuana detectives took $9,000 of the loot and told Casares and his accomplices to get out of town. Tech Favored To Dominate Border Loop

By EDDIE LEE
 PHOENIX. (AP)—The old order is changing in the Border conference as far as the University of Arizona is concerned and the variation is not exactly to the Wildcat liking.

Texas Western has won only seven of 24 games with the crew from Tucson. But when the Wildcats are knocked over by the Wildcats 41-21 Saturday, it was their third straight triumph over UA.

This week, the Wildcats have a date with another conference opponent that used to provide a comfortable doormat: Arizona State of Tempe. The Sun Devils have won only six of 27 games but the half-dozen victories include four of the last five. The Wildcats won last year.

Saturday's defeat ended any hope the Wildcats have of any share of the conference title, but the Sun Devils will be trying to gain at least a tie.

Texas Tech, the defending champion matches the 3-0 Sun Devil won-lost record in the league and will be favored to complete the Tempe crew 20-13 Saturday.

North Texas State downed the season unbeaten against Hardin-Simmons Nov. 27.

Hardin-Simmons had trouble with stubborn West Texas State before winning 33-27 in the other conference game while in non-league contests, Tech beat Tulsa 55-13 and New Mexico A&M lost 20-14 to Southwestern Oklahoma State—the eighth straight setback for the Aggies.

Only two other conference teams are in action this week. Tech entertains Houston at Lubbock, and the Aggies travel to Albuquerque to meet the University of New Mexico in day games.

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP)—Arnold Johnson, the man who bought the Philadelphia Athletics and is moving the franchise to Kansas City, says he'll name his field manager and general manager next week.

Johnson made the statement last night at Pittsburgh in an airport interview. He mentioned no names.

However, in Chicago, Lou Boudreau, former manager of the Boston Red Sox, said he had been in touch with Johnson.

"But nothing is definite yet," Boudreau declared.

The Chicago Tribune said Johnson announced recently he planned to partner with Joe Cronin, general manager of the Red Sox. The Tribune said:

"Boudreau's contract with Boston, calling for an estimated $40,000 to $45,000, had another year to run. Johnson would want to know if the Red Sox will have to assume the entire obligation, or only the financial difference if Boudreau lands another job in 1955. Boudreau admitted he didn't know of such a twist in his contract."

Johnson said he has had many applications for the field job.

De-Scented Five-Month-Old Skunk Makes Fine Pet for Artesia Youth, But Hard on Egg Budget

Everyone has heard of Stinky the Skunk one of Walt Disney's friendly little animals seen in the movies each Saturday, but did you know an Artesia youth has his own little pet skunk—also called Stinky?

Just for your information, Stinky's master is Jimmy Bishop, both residing at 1301 W. Chisum, with one minor difference—Jimmy sleeps inside the house—and his fine streaked friend sleeps outside.

Not because she "stinks," but because Stinky has grown considerably since Jimmy first took the small ball of black and white fur into the Bishop family. According to the youthful skunk owner Stinky underwent "major surgery" just before it became necessary, and thus Jim cannot claim any buried clothes or lysol soaps.

And just what is this five-month-old animal's favorite meal? Simply scrambled eggs for breakfast—scrambled eggs for lunch—and scrambled eggs for dinner. Unfortunately the Bishops have no pet laying hens, although they do have two squirrels which Jimmy found six years ago. He raised them with a baby nipple and hot milk.

The squirrels, like the skunk, first enjoyed the comforts of the Bishop home. But the squirrels suddenly learned to climb—and the skunk learned to "play."

"Playing" with Stinky can be cutingly dangerous, although Jimmy assures everyone there is no malice in Stinky's ability to scratch and bite. Jimmy explained that Stinky is much like a household cat in that he will swat a piece of string, follow a ball and occasionally nip at an ankle. Favorite fun for Stinky is running full blast at her master, who has, on occasion found himself sprawled ungraciously on the floor.

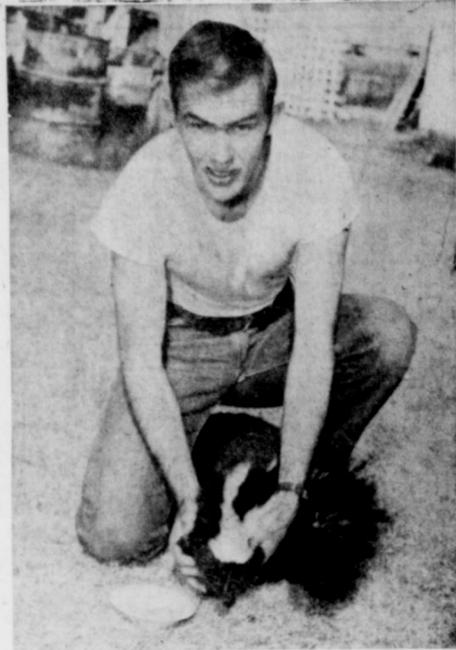

Bishop received Stinky from a friend in Dublin, Texas. Apparently the friend ran across a whole litter of tiny skunks, among them Stinky. Dr. D. T. Gabbard performed the operation which makes this skunk's name misleading.

However, for some strange reason, Jim said, the neighborhood dogs are a bit dubious about approaching the little gal. Cats, Jim explained further, "don't stand a chance. They don't even come around when Stinky is in her pen and can't get out." Even stranger than dogs and cats shying away from Stinky, Bishop remarked, is the fact that people don't get too near his pet either.

At the present, Jim is scouting for another skunk—a male if you please. "There's a good possibility of a business in this," he commented, "since many people will pay $35 each for skunks."

Jimmy, a natural animal lover, is also in the market for parakeets. He feels their life is interesting and thinks he could do pretty well at raising the gaily colored and cheerful singing birds. "Might even attempt training them," he said.

But in the meantime, he will always be Stinky's skunk, and when others "trapse" off to the movies for a view of the black and white critter, Jimmy Bishop needs only to step out the back door to view Stinky in real life.

STINKY the skunk gets his morning meal of scrambled eggs from Jimmy Bishop, owner and master of the now-odorless skunk which he raised. (Advocate Photo)

UNCOUNTED SERMONS

WEST DES MOINES, Iowa — The ceiling in the new West Des Moines Methodist church is made of acoustical board with the holes scattered at random, instead of set in straight lines.

The Rev. J. Henry Teele explained: "The committee chose the kind with the holes scattered across it. Now nobody who happens to glance up when he's in church will begin to count the lines of perforations and forget to listen to my sermon."

LAW WITHOUT CHIVALRY

PHILADELPHIA — The Pennsylvania Superior court has ruled that a policeman can't do his job well if he spends too much time minding his manners.

A court decision said that "police officers cannot apprehend the enemies of society while carrying 'The Age of Chivalry' in one hand and Emily Post's latest edition in the other."

The ruling was made in upholding the conviction of a man who claimed most of the evidence against him was obtained through wire-taps.
