Muleshoe High School's junior class is asking for donations of any size, shape or type of blue or white candles.

These candles will be used for decorations at the junior-senior banquet. The juniors need the candles by April 30.

You may take your donated candles to MHS or call Linda Tanksley at 272-4174.

The University Interscholastic League "Scholar Award" is presented to students who graduate in the top ten percent of their classes and have also participated in a UIL academic, music or athletic contest.

The awards will be presented to two Three Way graduating seniors during a ceremony to be held at Three Way Independent School District cafeteria on May 23 at 2 p.m.

This year's recipients are Sheila Tucker and Melinda Turney.

Chad Griswold, son of Rev. Dale and Kay Griswold of Winters, formerly of Muleshoe, placed third in the high jump recently in Brownwood at the 2A district track meet.

He also placed fourth in the 110 high hurdles qualifying him for the regional meet in the 300 intermediate hurdles.

This meet will be held in Abilene on April 28.

His sister, Kimberly, will be competing at the district level in oral reading. Kim is in the sixth grade at Winters Elementary and Chad will graduate May 25 from Winters High School.

Sgt. Charlie Simmons of Plainview, from the Lubbock Highway Patrol District, said Bailey County had no fatal accidents, four personal injury accidents in the month of March.

In the Lubbock District, four fatal accidents were recorded in March, killing five people. A total of 96 persons were injured in the 69 personal injury accidents.

Although he says he's not an money is at risk," said Dr. money -- insured money -- and "Failures in the banking world are no different than failures in the business world," he added. "The pressures a bank faces are no different to the pressures and stress you face in your own business."

He illustrated by telling the story of a young man named Alexander, who later became Alexander the Great. Alexander took an army of 10,000 men and marched over the East, all over Palestine, Syria and other countries and never lost a battle, until he came to the end of their map. At that time, he envisioned totally uniting the East and the West.

But, as his army stood on the banks of a river, and they didn't know what lay beyond the river, his army forced him to march back to Asia Minor the way they came. "They had suffered the failure of will," said Dr. Carden, "they had marched off their map.'

He added, "the same thing has happened to the State of Texas. We've marched off our

He talked about the three mainstays of Texas that had kept the economy strong -cattle, cotton and oil -- and the things that had made Texas so great betraying Texas.

In 1985, oil hit a low $5 per barrell, and the cotton and only worryin' ya should have is cattle industries were bottoming out. Shortly, the financial system in Texas collapsed and banks started failing.

In 1970, according to figures by the speaker, the average banks to fail in the U.S. each year was seven. This had risen to 89 per year by the early 1980's. Three banks failed in Texas in 1983. Then in 1984, six banks failed; in 1985, 12; and in 1989, 133 banks in Texas failed.

Dr. Carden predicted that 80-110 banks will fail this year and 40-60 next year, in Texas

"I am very happy to tell you you have no danger in Muleshoe," added Dr. Carden.

He also predicted that of the 200 S&L's left of 288 three years ago, we will have about 60 left when the S&L bail-out is through. He said in order to do Cont. Page 6. Col. 2

From left, Dr. Jerry Gleason, chairman; Kyle Maxwell, Sudan, recipient of the annual Bailey County Aggie scholarship; and Billy Pickard, Aggie Trainer from College Station, who was guest speaker for the evening. In the past, Musters have been held in foxholes on battlegrounds, on ships and in various countries.

A tradition that started in 1883 continues each year, and in Muleshoe is held each year, drawing not only Muleshoe and Bailey County residents, but residents of surrounding areas.

Dr. Jerry Gleason was chairman of the Muster this year, and called on Nick Bamert for the invocation and Dr. Steve Kennedy to lead the pledge to the flag.

Gary Hooten gave the history of the Aggie Muster and Kyle Kimbrough read the list of deceased Aggies. A friend of the Aggie answered 'here' as the deceased Aggie could not do it for himself.

According to Dr. Gleason, he wasn't the winner of a golf tournament played on Saturday afternoon. Nor was Bill Liles, nor was special guest speaker, Billy Pickard. The winner's honor went to Pickard's freshman son, Kevin Pickard.

HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING READY TO BE OPENED COMING MONDAY

The 1950 class of Muleshoe high school will be the first to graduate in the new high school building.

Members of the senior class began congratulating themselves on attaining this distinction when it became known Tuesday that the school board had accepted the new building from the contractor and that school authorities are making plans to be in the new building by the coming Monday.

Meantime, school officials were casting about for means to make passable some of the streets about the building, which will have to bear much traffic beginning Monday. Recent hard winds have swept loose sand on these streets, leaving many holes that will have to be filled. But, good streets or bad streets the move into the new building will bring joy to the students, the faculty and school officials and to every patron of the Muleshoe School

ONE KILLED IN LAZBUDDIE TORNADO

Davastating tornadoes roamed over a wide area Thursday evening, Thursday night and Friday morning, leaving massive destruction and death behind. In the Muleshoe area, Mrs. Alton Morris of the Lazbuddie community, was killed when a tornado dipped down, uproofing their brick home and demolishing most of the buildings on the property.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris and their daughter, Jeannie, were trapped inside the demolished building. Morris' mother who lived in a small home immediately behind the Alton Morris home, was slightly injured when her home was twisted off the foundation and demolished.

The tornado, which moved from southeast to northwest dipped down at the Morris' farm, twisted trees, barns, trucks, farm equipment, killed livestock and moved one of the homes off the foundation.

After destroying the Morris farm, the tornado moved along to the Wayne Clark home, inflicting damages and slightly injuring members of the Clark family. It hit another house in the community before apparently lifting back into the clouds. First reports of the tornado were received about 10:45 p.m. Thursday night. 10 Years Ago

1980 ROBBERY SUSPECTS STILL JAILED HERE

At presstime, three Lubbock County residents were still incarcerated in the Bailey County Jail.

The trio was charged with robbery by firearm following a daytime robbery last Monday of Lindsey Jewelry.

They were arrested approximately 20 miles south of Muleshoe on State Road 214 by Texas Department of Public Safety Trooper Jim Dulin, following a five minute chase. Some 14 minutes after the robbery was first reported to the dispatcher at the Bailey County Law Inforcement Center, Dulin reported the suspects were "in Custody."

Owner of the jewelry store Vi Lindsey and her two clerks, Ethel Murry and Joann Sikes reported thay were herded at gunpoint into the back room at the store, where they were tied

MISD Provides Comprehevsive Education Service

The Muleshoe Independent School District provides comprehensive education services for handicapped children living in the district, and these services include the Speech and Language Therapy Program. This is provided through the Department of Special Education because it is a special service of the school.

One out of every ten Americans experiences speech and language disorders. These disorders interfere with normal communication and may vary in severity. Students may qualify for theraphy with one or more of the following problems: stuttering, voice disorders, poor speech and language skill, and/or poor articulation.

There may be a problem if a person...is difficult to understand....uses and pronounces works incorrectly (omitting, distorting, or substituting sounds.)

And ... consistently uses wrong grammer. ...can't seem to hear or understand others well enough. ... speaks too loudly all the time. ... begins to develop a hesitating speech pattern. ... doesn't speak. ... is reluctant to talk. or...is too self-conscious when speaking.

Early detection and treatment can help prevent a speech or language disorder from developing into a lifelong handicap. Disorders are not automatically outgrown. The speech-language assessment is available free of charge for all children in the district after referral is completed. The referral may be made by any person or agency having knowledge of the needs of a student. All pre-kindergarten and kindergarten students are automatically screened for speech and language problems upon enrollment during Spring Round-Up.

Speech-language therapy is available free of charge for eligible students on all four campuses by two certified and licensed speech language pathologists. Services may be provided through special classes that allow children to remain in the regular class while seeing a speech-language pathologist several times a week.

For additional information and/or referrals, contact the Special Education office in the Muleshoe High School building, telephone 272-5239, Herb Parks, Director.

Rachelle Rice Placed In Regional Spelling Bee

Rachelle Rice, a Lazbuddie seventh grader, and daughter of Doug and Linda Rice of Lazbuddie, placed sixth in the Amarillo Globe News annual regional spelling bee held on the campus of West Texas State University Saturday, April 7.

She won honors as sixth-place winner from a field of fortyfour county champions from a four state area which included Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Kansas. She had advanced to the regional competition after winning the Parmer County spelling bee in March.

Prior to the regional bee, Rachelle and her mother had joined other county champions and parents at a luncheon held in their honor, where all of the county winners were recognized. As sixth place winner, Rachelle was presented a medal, a dictionary and a thesaurus.

He believes that by 1995 there will not be an S&L industry, that all will be merged with the banking industry.

He talked about de-regulation and how de-regulation has hurt all industry, and cited, "most business failures are failure of management not being capable of competing. The managers don't know how to compete in today's world, he added.

He said the U.S. is operating under a different competetive environment than ever before.

TEC Offering Computer Matchups

The Texas Employment Commission (TEC) in Muleshoe is pleased to announce the recent implementation of a computer job matching system designed to more efficiently meet the needs of employers and job applicants alike, according to Lonnie Merriott, manager.

He said this system compares an applicant's experience, education and training, interests. requirements (i.e., minimum salary), and preferences with current employer job orders listed with TEC. Any job matches that arise are scored and ranked according to the qualifications specified by the employer.

Applicants best meeting these qualifications are contacted by TEC interviewers by telephone or call-in card to insure that only the most qualified applicants are referred. Also, since TEC has some 130 computer-linked offices, the job matching system can expand an applicant's or employer's search virtually anywhere within the state.

In addition to job matching, TEC can provide employers with numerous other valuable services. These include services such as assisting with on-site

Cheryl Chumbley and children of Lubbock were here to visit over the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Phillips. They also visited with her brother, Bobby and her sister and family, Kevin and Deanna, Chris and Casey Humphreys.

Gary Brownd and Sulynn Ariola of Amarillo were here last weekend to visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Brownd.

The Church of Christ hosted the Senior Class of 90 with a hamburger supper. The tables were decorated with red and white checkered table cloths and the centerpieces were daisies in a terra cotta pot. Hamburgers, potato salad, tea and homemake brownies and ice cream were served by Bryan Baker, Suzanne Reid, Nichole Maxfield and Brandy Martin.

For place mats, the women of the church collected photographs of each Senior through the years and they were laminated to make placemats.

Kyle Maxfield gave the invocation and the guest speaker was Craig Hicks of Lubbock. He is the youth minister for the Church of Christ in Sudan and is also the assistant to the director of the AIM program in Lubbock. The program director of this program is Rex Boyles.

Brian May and his daughter, Morgan of San Angelo and Bernadette May of Dallas were here last Saturday to attend the funeral services of their aunt. Hazel May. They visited with their parents, Harold and Doris May and other friends and relatives before returning home.

Wayne and Wanda Swart spent the weekend at Camp Blue Haven near Las Vegas, N.M.

Wanda and Wayne Swart entertained the Ida Rene De-

Cattle Prices Expected To Stay At Top Level

Beef cattle prices to the producer during the next two years are predicted to continue near current levels, the highest in about a decade.

Dr. Ernest E. Davis, economist in livestock marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Servive, said producer prices generally will remain at today's levels, although some seasonal fluctuations will occur.

"We have fewer cattle available this year, and this has tended to keep prices up," Davis said. He expects it to take about two years to build the numbers high enough to send prices back down.

Meanwhile, consumer prices for beef are expected to hold steady through the spring and summer.

Davis said a variety of factors are influencing the price situation, including the drought in Texas and other cattleproducing states, the relatively lower amount of beef held in cold storage in U.S. warehouses and the slaughter schedule of feedlot animals across the country.

Davis said drought in Texas wheat producing areas this season restricted wheat grazing and forced stocker cattle into, feedlots earlier than usual, even earlier than last year.

"As a result, more animals were placed in feedlots for fattening and were slaughtered and placed in the food chain earlier than normal," Davis said. "This has decreased the number of animals available for spring marketings as well as the total number of Texas beef cattle."

Davis said the U.S.Department of Agriculture's Cattle Report shows current 1990 inventory for all cattle in Texas totals 13.4 million head, but about 200,000 less than last year and the year

Current producer prices are about on par with those of 1979. Depending on the auction market location and the class and quality of cattle, producer prices in Texas markets for the past several weeks fall within these ranges:

Lightweight steer calves, 300-400 pounds, 95 cents to $1.10 a pound; lightweight heifer calves, 300-400 pounds, 82-86 cents; yearling steers, 500-600 pounds, 92-96 cents; yearling heifers, 500-600 pounds, 86-92 cents; fed yearlings, 1,000-1,300 pounds, 77-79 cents; good to medium cow-and-calf pairs with calves weighing about 200 pounds, around $800.

Davis said Texas feedlots placed 290,000 cattle and calves on feed during February, 16 percent below placements in February 1989. Marketings of fed cattle from Texas feedlots during February totaled 345,000 head, down 5 percent from a year ago.

"This represents fewer animals going on feed and fewer being slaughtered during that month," Davis said.

He said cattle and calves on feed March 1 in seven major cattle production states--Nebraska, Iowa, California, Colorado, Kansas, Arizona and Texas-totaled 8.32 million head, 5 percent more than in the two previous years and the largest number on feed since 1974.

But cattle feeders, facing large numbers of fed cattle marketings this summer, reduced number of cattle and calves placed on feed from January to February by 26 percent.

"Across the seven states, even with feeder cattle supplies down for the eighth consecutive year because of the downslope of the cattle cycle, it looks like we may still feed more cattle than a year ago," Davis said.

totaled 265.2 million pounds, down 16 percent from a year ago and 16 percent less that in 1988. A Texas livestock marketing industry leader and board chairman of Port City Stockyards at Brenham and Sealy, James D. Sartwelle, expects producer cattle prices to continue near today's level for about two years.

"Unless the basic economy crumbles, the low-calf producer should get prices comparable to today's levels," he said.

Davis said cold storage beef supplies in U.S. warehouses at the beginning of February

Many ranchers in drought counties, Sartwelle said, have had some rain which boosted grass growth and improved ranges.

'Quite a few of these producers now want to purchase cattle and restock their ranges." Sartwelle said. "The demand for good young cow-calf pairs is brisk and quite competitive."

What do these producer prices mean to the consumer?

Dr. Dick Edwards, Extension Service food marketing specialist, said the upbeat cattle market is not yet raising prices at the supermarket.

"For the consumer, beef prices have been steady, and they are not expected to change in the near future," he said.

He said demand for beef traditionally increases in the spring and summer, which should reduce any extra supplies from increased beef marketings and keep prices at about the

Deer Hunters Look At Changes In Rules

The Texas Parks and Wildlife. Department's Wildlife Divisiion has proposed several changes in white-tailed deer hunting regulations for 1990-91, including reductions in bag limits in several counties and prohibition of hunting deer with dogs.

The proposed changes will be aired in public hearings across the state during April, and the Parks and Wildlife Commission will consider them for adoption on May 24. Changes adopted at that time will go into effect Sept.

The proposed white-tailed deer season for most of the state is Nov. 3, 1990, through Jan. 6, 1991. The South Texas season is proposed for Nov. 10, 1990, through Jan. 13, 1991. The proposed mule deer season for the Panhandle is Nov. 17-Dec. 2, and in the Trans-Pecos it would be Nov. 24 - Dec. 9.

Bobby Alexander, acting director of the Wildlife Division, told the commission the staff recommended that the use of dogs to hunt deer be prohibited statewide. The practice was allowed in 10 East Texas counties during the last half of the 1989-90 deer hunting season. Alexander said a department study showed that deer densities are lower in areas where dog hunting is allowed, and higher in similar habitat where the practice is prohibited.

Another change proposed was established of "doe days," or days within the hunting season designated for the taking of antlerless deer, in certain

In Gonzales, DeWitt, Wilson, Karnes and portions of Guadalupe, Lavaca and Colorado Counties antlerless deer could be taken only during the first nine days and the final nine days of the regular season. Also proposed was a reduction in the buck bag limit from two per season to one in Gonzales, DeWitt, Wilson, Karnes and Guadalupe Counties.

In Caldwell, Bastrop, Lee, Fayette, Washington, Waller, Austin and portions of Guadalupe, Lavaca and Colorado Counties, antlerless deer could be taken only during the first two days and the final two days of regular season. No antlerless deer hunting permits would be required in any of the counties offering "doe days."

A regular season for white-tailed deer was proposed for Hunt County, which had an archery-only season last year. Also proposed was a reduction in the buck bag limit from two to one in Taylor and Comanche Counties.

In Limestone, Freestone, Anderson, Robertson, Leon, Brazos, Madison, Grimes and Houston County (west of State Highway 19), landowner-issued antlerless deer hunting permits would be required to harvest antlerless deer. Last season these counties were under the either sex system of bag limits. No change in bag limits was proposed for these counties.

In Houston County east of State Highway 19, the proposed bag limit is four deer, no more than two bucks. The county had a limit of three deer, not more than one buck last season.

Texas A&M sociologist: women's lower salaries threaten male employees

COLLEGE STATION - Climbing the career ladder may remain treacherous for females whose male employees fear a woman willing to work for less could threaten their own salary structure or their jobs, says a sociologist.

Dr. Samuel Cohn of Texas A&M University offers a theory in sharp contrast to traditional thinking on occupation sex-typing and supports his claim with an award-winning book.

The book, "The Process of Occupational Sex-Typing," focuses on two main schools of thought. One theorizes that women are victims of their own socialization, conditioned to place family first and employment second. Other traditionalists charge employers with outright sexism. But Cohn contends that neither socialization or sexism explains the primary cause of occupational sex-typing as it exists today. He insists employers' patriarchal employment practices are guided by self-interest. "Discrimination may not be cost-efficient," Cohn says, "but by sex-typing certain positions, male employers buf-

"It's a matter of how much sexism a business can afford; and the higher up the corporate ladder, the more it can
