Dulles Predicts Peace Through Red Struggle

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles says a power struggle in Moscow eventually will produce Russian leaders with whom the United States can make "practical agreements" to ease world tensions.

He also says the Formosa crisis will be settled if Red China will renounce the use of force to capture Nationalist-held islands.

Diplomats noted that the secretary's speech last night to the Foreign Policy Assn. in New York was calm and peaceful in tone but against spread of communism in any important new areas in Asia.

Dulles apparently took this tone deliberately in contrast to recent speeches by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi. Molotov denounced the United States. Chou threatened Dulles put it, to use "all the means at his command" to capture Formosa.

He said the United States "has no commitment and no purpose" to defend such islands as Quemoy and the Matsu "as such."

He made clear that it might fight over Quemoy and Matsu by Communist attack on them aimed at the conquest of China. He said the Chinese Communists appealed to the United States Security Council bid to discontinue Formosa cease-fire.

He said it is "hardly to be expected," he said, "that the Chinese Communist will renounce their ambition. However, might they not realize their goals by force?"

In discussing the Russian situation he said a distinction must always be made between the Soviet government and the Communist party. "The time may come—I believe it will come," he said, "when Russia will patriotically defend its national security and the welfare of its people. They will be unwilling to have security and that welfare subjected to the worldwide ambitions of international communism."

At their point of view should be clear, he said, "I believe, however, that the time will come when Russia will patriotically defend its national security and the welfare of its people. They will be unwilling to have security and that welfare subjected to the worldwide ambitions of international communism."

McMillan Deserted as Search Ends, Double Funeral Set

All was quiet at the once-buzzing lakeside camp on McMillan reservoir late yesterday afternoon following discovery of bodies of Tom Harshaw and Ernest Busby, victims of a capsized boat Monday afternoon.

The three-day search came to an abrupt end when the bodies of the men were found within 20 feet of each other 55 minutes apart. The 31 boats which participated in the search and the more than 100 volunteers quickly left the scene yesterday afternoon, leaving the site, which had seen as high as 40 boats and 150 cars, barren and quiet with the exception of rustling paper cups, plates, and flashbulb wrappers.

Harshaw's body was the first one found. E. P. Tatman was manning the boat which found his body. Working with Tatman were Max and Wallace Johnson, all of Artesia. The remaining boats rushed to the spot where Harshaw's body was found and 55 minutes later found the body of Busby.

Ira L. Garner and H. J. Paulin funeral home were immediately called and 10 minutes later sportsmen were loading their equipment; bringing to a close the three-day search for the two men which started Monday night when they failed to return from a boating trip on the lake while their wives were fishing on the shore.

Funeral services for the two men will be held at the Church of Christ tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. with Rev. C. A. Clark officiating for Harshaw's service and Rev. R. E. Griffith officiating at the Busby service.

Carthel "Tom" Owen Harshaw was born in Latona, Ark., Feb. 21, 1914, and Mrs. James H. Harshaw. He married the former Ethel Ann Busby Feb. 9, 1935 at Center Hill, Ark.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Jerrel Dean, 18; brother, Herman Harshaw, Latona; sisters, Mrs. Roy Baker, Searcy, Ark.; Mrs. W. R. Jones, Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. W. E. Davis, Searcy, Ark.; Mrs. C. H. Cole, Mineral Wells, Tex.; and Mrs. Tall Harris, McCrory, Ark.

Mr. Harshaw moved to Eddy county 14 years ago as a gauger for the Texas-New Mexico Pipeline system. He was a member of the Methodist church at Loco Hills and a member of AF&AM at Jal, N. M. Burial will be at Woodbine cemetery with Jal Masons conducting the graveside services.

Ernest Cedell Busby was born in Center Hill, Ark., Oct. 7, 1927, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Busby. His mother is now residing in Beebe, Ark.

He married the former Madie Richards July 23, 1947 at Opal, Ark. He is survived by his wife, two children, Ernest Rex, 6, and Barbara Sue, 5; one brother, Clyde Busby, Beebe, Ark.; six sisters, Mrs. Lois Taylor, Beebe, Ark.; Mrs. Bessie Mote, Jacksonville, Ark.; Mrs. Beulah Walker, Eunice, N. M.; Mrs. Elsie Wiggs, Sun Valley, Calif.; Mrs. Ethel Harshaw, Loco Hills, N. M. and Mrs. Carlisle Guioit, Cabot, Ark.

Mr. Busby was employed by the Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Co. in Eunice, having moved to Eunice four years ago from Arkansas. His services will be conducted by the Rev. R. E. Griffith from the Eunice Church of Christ. Burial will be at Center Hill cemetery, Busby, Ark.

Keeps Mark-Up Feature of Bill

SANTA FE (AP)—An intended move by grocers to try to remove price markup requirements from controversial HB113 was disclosed today, but the bill's sponsor declared he is standing firm on the bill's present wording.

Ralph Bryan and Arnold Crabb, Carlsbad grocers who said they are members of the New Mexico Retail Grocers Assn., said it is planned to submit an amendment which would, if passed, leave the bill only prohibiting loss leaders.

Rep. Gerald Cornelius (D-Bernalillo), sponsor, said he does not plan to introduce any amendments. "I'm going to stand by my guns," Cornelius said. "Others can do whatever they want to."

Bryan said he was a director in the Grocers Assn. last year but neither he nor Crabb holds any office now. Bryan said he assumes the association supports the plan to try to remove the price-markup features from the bill.

Cornelius, questioned about the proposed amendment in the presence of Bryan and Crabb, said he knew nothing of the plan.

Told it was proposed to leave only the loss leaders prohibition in the bill, the sponsor said it is not permissible to amend a bill so that its original purpose is defeated.

The state Constitution prohibits amendments in a bill which defeat the original intention of the measure.

Cornelius said he could not say ahead of time how he would react on the floor to any amendments.

HB113, the most wrath-producing bill to hit the 1955 Legislature to date, would require minimum percentage markups over cost and would ban loss leaders—items sold below cost to stimulate trade and beat down competition.

Bryan said he thought that the amended bill could pass the House by a four-vote margin.

The bill was scheduled to come out for final House action this afternoon.

State Department Of Justice Bill Gets No Backing

SANTA FE (AP)—A bill to create a department of justice in New Mexico has received an adverse committee report.

The Senate must either approve or reject the report before death is final, however.

The bill was opposed by the legislative committee of the State Bar Assn. The bar association committee contended it would give the attorney general too much power and that this power should be reserved for the governor.

The bill would have placed all lawyers working for the state under the attorney general and taken away specialized lawyers from departments now having them. The department of justice would have handled the cases of all New Mexico departments.

Gov. John F. Simms attended an executive session of the Senate judiciary committee and although for the most part he remained non-committal, he said he would sign a judiciary committee substitute proposed by the attorney general if it passed both houses, two members of the committee said.

Senate Adopts Memorial Against Cloud Seeding

SANTA FE (AP)—The Senate has passed 16-14 a memorial asking congress to ban cloud seeding.

Sen. Johnson Morrow (D-Colfax), sponsor of the measure, said Sen. Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico is now working on such a bill in Congress.

There was little debate on the proposal. Pro and con arguments were heard about one week ago. Proponents claim excessive cloud seeding in the northwest may be the partial cause of drought conditions. Opponents declare a ban on cloud seeding would hold up scientific advancement.

Highway Traffic Toll Up to 38 As Three Die

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—The New Mexico highway death toll soared to 38 this morning when a car bearing six young men from Santa Cruz missed a highway divider on North Second and crashed into a tree, killing three of them and injuring the others, one seriously.

City Police Lt. Louis Montano identified the dead as Emilio Vigil, 17, Manuel R. Vigil, 21, and Robert Quintana, 19. The Vigil brothers were dead on arrival at the Bernalillo County-Indian hospital.

Hospital attendants said Quintana died after efforts to revive him failed.

Still unconscious early today was Reuben Borrego, 16.

Pablo Borrego, 19, no relation to Reuben, and Pablo's brother, Manuel, 20 received lesser injuries. Pablo was held for observation. Manuel was released after treatment for cuts and bruises.

The accident happened just before dawn today. Montano said the car in which the six youths were riding was apparently going too fast and the driver failed to notice the divided pavement in the 2000 block on North Second.

Urban Entrance 'Funnel' Planned On First Street

Additional right-of-way for a First street transition entrance from two into four lanes has been secured, according to P. E. Conradt, right-of-way agent for the urban project.

Conradt explained this morning that he has been working on securing the right-of-way, about a 650-foot strip south of Hermosa, since last week. He signed the 12th and last sale contract late yesterday evening for the entrance.

Conradt said the state's highway department requested him to get only the entrance right-of-way for the south section of the urban project, as definite plans for entry into Artesia on the north end have not yet been made by the department.

According to the right-of-way agent, the strip will work and look like a funnel, graduating from two lanes into four lanes for the project.

'Subterfuge' Gives Pay Boosts to Eddy Officials

SANTA FE (AP)—The Senate has passed two bills creating class "B" counties and allowing such counties to have advisory boards—a "subterfuge" used to get county officials salary raises.

The only two counties affected would be Eddy and Lea since the bill provides class "B" counties will be those with assessed valuations of more than 75 million dollars and less than 100,000 population.

Sen. T. E. Lusk (D-Eddy), who introduced both bills by request, termed the one setting up advisory boards "a subterfuge" used to raise the salaries of "woefully underpaid" officials.

By constitutional ban, salaries of county officials cannot be raised while the officials are in office. The raises actually would be paid as salaries for serving on the advisory boards until the terms of the officials ran out.

Karr Represents Gateway, Gives Report to Simms

An Artesia Boy Scout was among six other scouts from New Mexico who made a report on Scouting activities in their district to Gov. John Simms.

Wayne Karr, an Explorer Scout from Troop 2, was the spokesman for the Gateway district. A committee in each of the even districts selected an "outstanding young man" to represent them at the governor's council, where the annual report is given on advancement and future plans for Scouting activities.

More Insurance Investment Seen Under New Law

SANTA FE (AP)—Blocked by a governor's veto two years ago, Rep. Donald Hallan (D-Lea) is trying once more to pass a law encouraging greater investment in New Mexico securities by insurance companies. He sees a good chance of success.

A substitute for his original bill (HB107) is on the House calendar for action, having been reported out without recommendation by the corporations and banks committee.

The measure would levy a tax on insurance companies, graduated downward with the percentage of the companies' risk in force invested in New Mexico.

Rep. Findley Morrow (D-Bernalillo), said the bill passed possibly would mean investment of about 15 million dollars more in the state than companies have at present.

Gentleman from Artesia County Fetes Legislature

SANTA FE (AP)—Lawmakers who lost their appetites last night before the inch-thick steaks of "the gentleman from Artesia county" had the ax all ready today for fateful House bill 100 that started it all.

Speaker Don Hallam predicted the bill's death, now that the debt its sponsor owed his colleagues has been paid in full.

Rep. Fred Cole (D-Eddy) entertained the house last night, and the Artesia bank with which he is connected entertained the Senate and many other people.

Cole has played a good game of reluctance ever since he was upholding one of the Legislature's strongest traditions: the man who introduces bill No. 100 gives everybody a party.

During the evening he was praised for what his boss, the president of the bank, called his "forcefulness" in introducing HB100. Both Cole and his bill have spent considerable time "on the speaker's table" ever since the introduction.

Cole claimed at the time his signature was forged to the bill. An impartial committee of three legislators, however, proved he was in error.

Among those on hand for the festivities were the directors of Cole's bank. They were introduced one at a time by the host, with the proud addendum each time—"rancher and farmer."

Sweeping Fire Kills 100 Old Ladies in Japanese Home

YOKOHAMA, Japan. (AP)—About 100 aged women died in flaming agony today when a flash fire roared through a Roman Catholic old ladies' home before dawn.

There were only 46 survivors, police said. Nearly all were burned or injured in jumps from the second floor of their two-story wooden dormitory, declared a fire hazard in 1953. Several were in critical condition.

"I could do nothing," a survivor cried. "I can hear their screams. 'Hot! Hot! Hot! Help! Help! Help!'"

The inmates were mainly pitiful old Japanese women without families. Their ages ranged from 60 to 96.

It was Japan's worst building fire since the Pacific war air raids. Sister Umeko Sugiyama, 42, a nun, died when she dashed back into the burning building to carry out another of her charges.

The home, a converted Japanese army barracks, was part of the convent of the Garden of Our Lady belonging to the Franciscan Missionaries of Mary, an international Catholic order.

Yokohama police said the blaze apparently started with defective wiring at 4:30 a. m. Heat and sparks ignited a two-story chapel and two other buildings. They too burned to the ground.

The main convent housing 101 nuns and novices, mainly Japanese, was spared.

In the Yokohama National Hospital, the suffering survivors mingled Christian "Our Lady" and "Amen" with chants of "Namu amida butsu"—the Buddhist prayer of mercy for the dying.

Chiho Hamada, 86, told how the oldest resident, 96-year-old Mrs. Machi Okuni, died.

"We were awakened—only to see flames and smoke all around. 'Okuni-san looked about her and said, 'I am old enough to die.' 'Then she held up her bed quilt to keep the flames back and let the others escape.'"

Firemen spread mattresses and implored the old women to jump. Some did. Others were too feeble. Many were hard of hearing and woke only when flames approached them.

Included in reports will be one on the last Community Chest campaign, held last fall.

Diamond Earrings Billfold Stolen From Haldemans

Theft of a billfold and diamond earring from the W. T. Haldeman farm east of Artesia has been reported to city police.

Deputy sheriff Ike Funk and Jesse Sosa are investigating the theft. According to Haldeman, he and his wife went into town yesterday, leaving the house unlocked. When they returned they found the billfold and earrings missing.

He said some valuable papers and $30 was in the wallet. Value of the earrings was not set.

Anti-Communist Mania Battle for Lives

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A Superior Court jury has found Daniel J. Marsin, 41-year-old welder, innocent of kidnaping Mrs. Evelyn Anne Smith and holding her in the Superstition Mountains for $75,000 ransom.

The defendant, who walked from the courtroom with his unconscious wife in his arms after the verdict was returned yesterday, said he expected to be acquitted. He acknowledged, however, that he "was worried."

Marsin was accused of abducting the 24-year-old Mrs. Smith from a Phoenix beauty salon last June 9 and of taking her to the Superstition Mountains, 50 miles east of here.

NEW YORK—It was just a few days ago, according to the public prints, that Miss Sonja Henie, who skates, took over Ciro's in Hollywood for a costume party that took a $15,000 bite out of her bankroll.

NOBODY HAS TO ASK Harlemites twice to dress up. For a big part of my adult life I've been drifting through 125th street at intervals and eyeing, enviously, the clothes. Brooks Brothers clothes might keep the downtown man happy, but uptown a citizen will look at him, rub his eyes in dismay at the dark brown or gray, and then silently, pityingly, outline a big square with his fingertips.

I DON'T THINK I've ever seen so many dress costails flying in all directions—and it's been a long, long time since I've seen a girl in a Dior-type dress, satin and slinky décolletage, swing around a dance floor in one of those magnificent exaggerations of the Lindy Hop that only Harlem can do correctly.

warming up slowly. Frequent blowing of fuses or tripping of circuit breakers are signs worth observing.

One way to get a general idea of the wiring capacity of your house is to look at wires leading from the pole in the street to the side of your house. Two wires indicate a 115 volt power supply generally run through 30 ampere fuses or circuit breakers with a total capacity of 3,450 watts, according to wiring experts.

Three wires running into the house mean that a 230 volt power supply is available. If these are provided with 60 ampere fuses or circuit breakers, the electrical capacity is 13,800 watts.

At a meeting in Artesia Junior high school Feb. 9, the Pecos Valley Junior High Baseball conference was organized consisting of the following schools: Artesia Junior high, Loving Junior high, Eisenhower Junior high of Carlsbad, Alta Vista Junior high of Roswell, and South Junior high of Roswell. A schedule of games was adopted with each team playing all other teams two games on a home-and-home arrangement. A champion will be decided at the close of the season's percentage and a trophy will be awarded to the championship school.

Heathington's 157 foul conversions the same year stands as another all-time high. The veteran Traveler seems destined to crack that mark this winter. In 17 games to date, he has successfully converted 147 free throws.

Come to Sunny Artesia

A SURVEY by Southern Union Gas Co. discloses that over the past 47 years Artesia has had an average of only 54 rainy days a year. Those 54 rainy days have dumped an average of 13.11 inches of rain per year on the area.

This compares to darker reaches of New Mexico very favorably, and to veritable deluge centers in supposedly sunny Texas.

Albuquerque has had an average of 61 rainy days a year over a 21-year period since its climate has been measured and studied. Santa Fe has a like record.

Galveston, Tex., has had an average of 99 rainy days and 45.79 inches per year over an 81-year period, Fort Arthur and Port Neches an average of 109 rainy days and 53.22 inches each over a 53-year period.

In Arizona, two towns, Holbrook and Winslow, have had only two fewer days of sunshine each than has Artesia, but have had almost six inches less rain. El Paso has only 40 days of rain per year on a 73-year average, but gets a mere 8.76 inches of rain annually.

Thus it is to be noted that in the few instances where other cities do have more sunshine days than Artesia, — only four or five less — there is considerably less rain.

Artesia there fore can offer a climate as sunny as any — well, almost — and at the same time prove a desert oasis compared to other cities in the area.

This thorough search proves Artesia can claim, with the proof of 47 years behind it, that it is in a healthful, invigorating, ideal sunshine belt in which the sun shines 85 per cent plus days of the year.

Hospital Insurance Needed Today

Along with cost of everything else, the price of being hospitalized has climbed to a point where paying for it is a challenge to most Artesia families.

The chances are that one person in eight will be hospitalized this year. A family simply cannot figure the odds are against anyone in it being hospitalized this year — the statistics prove otherwise.

To be prepared for hospital bills today requires, for most people, adequate preparation. The best answer is that available today is hospitalization insurance. It is good not only for the patient and his family, but also for the hospitals.

Staggering hospital bills can upset a family economically for months, sometimes for years. Likewise, a community may find that if many citizens can't pay their hospital bill, through insurance or other means, its hospital is put in dire financial straits.

There are many good hospitalization insurance policies available today. Discussion with physicians and hospital authorities, as well as friends, can disclose the best one for the individual.

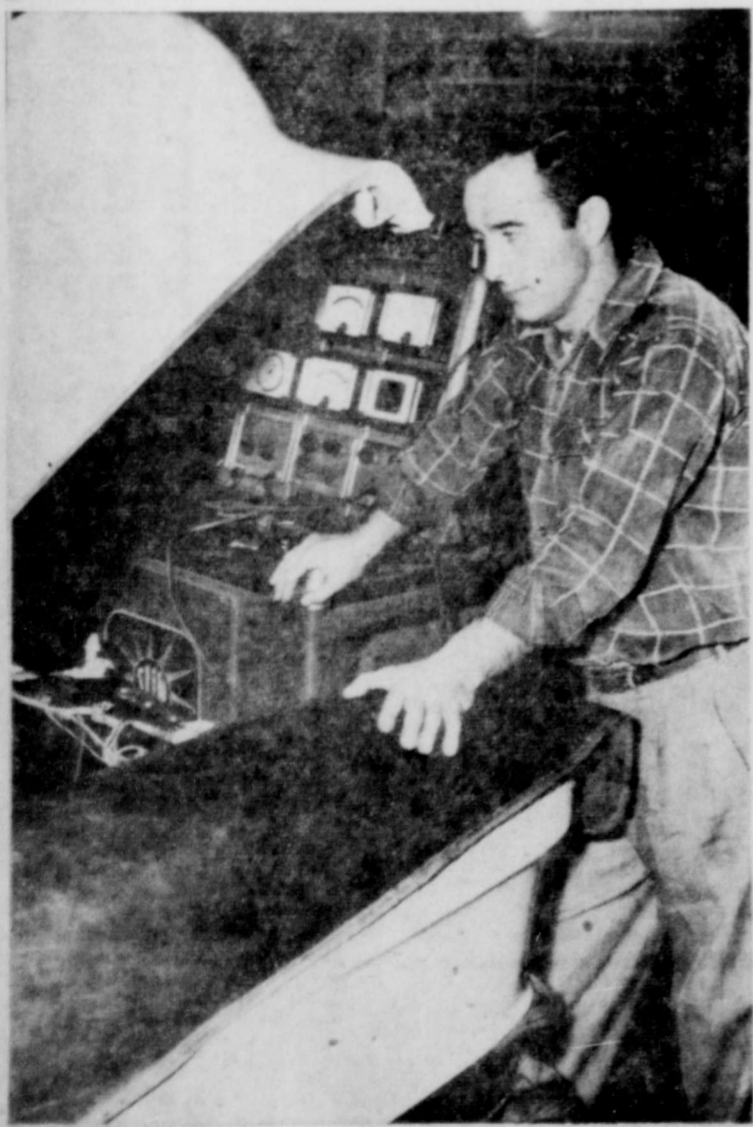

Today a family is shortsighted if it does not hold such a policy.

Local Veterinarians Made Part of Brucellosis Drive

Ever since brucellosis eradication began, the privately practicing veterinarian has cooperated in the program.

He has done a large part of the testing, vaccinating, and marking of animals in this program. Previously, local veterinarians were required to work on a full-day basis when working on the brucellosis program.

Under a new system, veterinary fees are on a per-herd and per-head basis, which will permit them to carry the testing program right along with their local practice.

Federal funds will be used in part to restore maximum indemnities of $25 for grade animals and $50 for purebreds paid to owners of animals that are slaughtered as part of the eradication program. Federal indemnities are limited to no more than one-third of the difference between the animals' market or appraised value and the salvage price received.

States with cooperative agreement are no longer required to match federal indemnity to the owner. In addition to the federal indemnity, New Mexico dairymen are also entitled to a like amount from the state dairy fund. For several years, dairy cattle which have been assessed on the tax roll as such, have been taxed for the purpose of building up an indemnity fund.

There are two principal methods used in the battle against brucellosis. One is to wipe it out through slaughter of infected animals. The other is to increase the resistance of animals to infection by vaccination. Both methods are being used and are combined in four eradication plans—A, B, C, and D. To collect indemnity, a dairyman must have his herd enrolled in one of the plans.

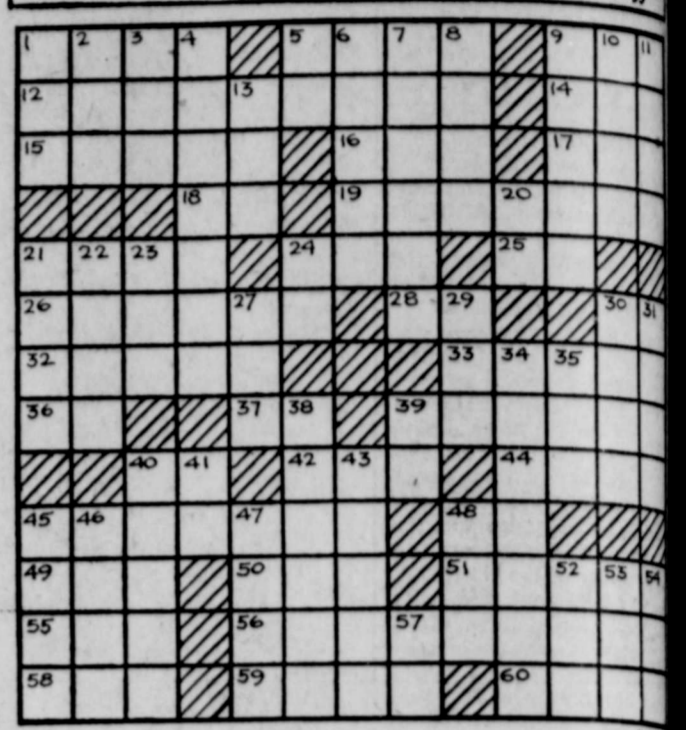

Plan A calls for testing the herd, marking reactors, slaughtering reactors immediately, thorough cleaning and disinfection of premises, followed by retesting at 30-day intervals. Vaccination of calves at the age of about 6 to 8 months is optional.

Plan B calls for testing of the herd, marking reactors, vaccinating calves and retaining reactors under quarantine for a reasonably short time until they can be sold for slaughter without a heavy loss to the owner.

In plan C, calves are vaccinated, but the herd is not tested. And plan D, provides for the vaccination of nonreacting adult cattle. It is to be used only as an emergency measure with approval in writing by state and federal officials.

Brilliant New Chicago Sheriff Once Was Sociology Prof

By RUSSELL LANE

CHICAGO — Joseph D. Lohman, 45, Chicago's new sheriff, was once a professor of sociology. But there's nothing academic about the impact of his first two months as chief law enforcement officer of Cook county, the 964-square-mile territory which includes Chicago and claims more than 4 1/2 million residents.

Lohman's revamped county police force has been hitting hard at gambling in the sprawling urban incorporated areas which are his domain. They have impounded some 100 slot machines and much other gaming equipment.

He has fired from the big county jail several guards no says were uncooperative or unsuited. He has a new jail rehabilitation program in the making. He persuaded the county commissioners to hire a criminologist and sociologists, and he has three specialists working on plans to deal with juvenile delinquency, narcotics traffic and other evils.

LOHMAN, a Democrat, holds the office long conceded the county's richest political plum. He controls jobs to be dispensed through the patronage system, he says. But, he says, his political jobholders will not play politics on the job.

If there is anything incongruous about the articulate, soft-spoken Lohman running the sheriff's office, it is not his appearance. He is medium heavy-set, with smooth, dark features including a thick growth of neatly combed jet black hair. His glances through heavy-rimmed spectacles is direct and alert. He wears double-breasted blue-gray suits meticulously. In short, he looks like any successful lawyer one might see in the county building.

Lohman, who has made an outstanding reputation as a consultant in education, sociology, criminology and labor relations, was elected Nov. 2 on a primary plank that he would "clean up the county." He says, "We can get the law on gambling and clamp it there."

FEW PEOPLE who know Lohman doubt his high integrity and determination to make a record for honest, enlightened administration. He says his aim is "to set a record of good public service which will be bound to influence the conduct of my successor."

Some aspects of Lohman's policy could pose problems in achievement in him aim. One is his frankly expressed intention to be a loyal Democratic organization man. "I've accepted the patronage system of filling jobs," he said. "But it's on the strict understanding that candidates must be screened by their sponsors, and that I will rescind them, super vise them, and, if they fail in their duty, out they go."

"Patronage is a reality. It implies responsibility of the man who runs an office."

Lohman's practical education in criminology began in 1931 while he was preparing his master's dissertations on 100 life-terminers in the Wisconsin State Penitentiary at Waupun.

HE RECEIVED his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Denver in 1930, a master's at the University of Wisconsin, and studied at the University of Chicago as a graduate fellow.

While a research criminologist in 1932 and 1933, Lohman lived with his wife Fern in a near North Side Chicago slum where they mingled freely with underworld habitués.

He served as a research sociologist with the state of Illinois from 1934 to 1939, directing one of the early juvenile delinquency treatment and prevention programs in Chicago.

He was instructor and associate professor of sociology at the University of Chicago, and has been a member of the University of Chicago and University of Wisconsin faculties since 1947. He has also served as a visiting professor at Washington University, the University of Michigan, the University of Denver, and American University, Washington D. C.

He has served as adviser on police problems to Chicago, Denver, Louisville, St. Paul, Washington, D. C., Cary, Pittsburgh and New Orleans. He is the author of widely used textbooks on police work.

Lohman and his wife live with their daughter Barbara Susan, 17, in a house in the South Side Wood lawn section.
