Air Crash Kills 66 as Military Plane Hits Hawaiian Mountain

No Survivors Reported; Wreck Flames

HONOLULU, (AP)—A U. S. Navy transport plane with 66 aboard crashed into a Hawaii mountain early today and the Navy announced there were no survivors.

The huge plane crashed and exploded into flame inside the Laulau naval ammunition depot on the west coast of Oahu 29 miles from Honolulu.

At the time of the crash there was a low overcast and it was raining heavily.

AP Correspondent Roy Essosan said from the Naval depot that the plane crashed about halfway up the side of the mountain.

Essosan said the wreckage still was glowing about three hours after the crash, which came at 2 a. m. (5 a. m. MST).

The plane carried 57 passengers and a crew of 9, the Navy reported.

The big transport took off from Hickam Field here late yesterday and was 4 hours and 26 minutes eastbound when it turned back.

A Police officer five miles away heard the crash and described it as "one big explosion like a thunder-clap." He said "the whole sky was red" for an hour and a half.

The Navy in San Francisco said the plane turned back on a flight to the mainland because of radio trouble.

The transport, a four-engine RD6, was loaded to its full capacity. All aboard were military personnel and dependents except for two civilians.

It was bound for Travis Air Force Base, 50 miles northeast of San Francisco.

William Joest, a resident of the area, said he heard the plane pass over his house "too low for comfort." Then came the crash.

Navy spokesman said the aircraft "is burning and rescue teams are at the scene. We have had no word of survivors. Ambulances are as close to the scene as they can get."

Cmdr. J. Smith of the Hawaiian Sea Frontiers said the plane was an RD6 from the Moffett Naval Air Station near San Jose, Calif.

Smith said the plane hit a ridge line about 2,000 feet southeast of the main gate of the Laulau naval ammunition depot. The depot is about 30 or 40 miles from Honolulu.

Smith said he did not know whether there were any women or children aboard. MATS planes frequently carry dependents of military personnel.

Washington Headquarters of MATS said the plane took off from Hickam Field, Hawaii, bound for Travis Air Force Base, Calif.

The last message from the RD6, Navy equivalent of DC6, said the airplane was at 2,000 feet, 15 miles from Barbers Point. MATS said the plane apparently had developed engine trouble and had turned back for Hickam.

Visibility at the time was 5 miles.

Headquarters said the passengers included 20 Air Force personnel, 16 Navy, 19 Army and 2 dependents of military personnel.

Washington officials said that since January, 1951, the Pacific division of MATS has carried over one million passengers and crossed the Pacific over 40,000 times without a passenger fatality.

Cosmic Rays Not So Dangerous, Scientist Says

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A New Mexico Air Force scientist says there is a "good chance that there will be no need of protecting" would-be spacemen against any more damaging effects of cosmic rays than premature graying of hair.

Maj. David G. Simons of Holloman Air Force Base told reporters that animal experiments being continued to see if cosmic rays really damage DNA.

Public Service Official Sees No Delay for Urban Project

A Southwest Public Service Co. official today predicted no delay in an agreement between the city and SWPS on removal of distribution lines from First street, "will not delay completion of the urban project."

J. D. Smith, SWPS manager here, said he believes some agreement can be reached with the city before engineers complete work on the median strip (divider down the middle).

Work on the $348,938 project started yesterday. Completion is expected in about six months.

The city council is expected to take up the question of SWPS distribution lines tomorrow night. Smith said his company has already made an agreement with Eddy county officials to pay for moving the transmission structure.

SWPS contends that since it pays a franchise tax for use of city's right-of-way, that the city should pay for re-locating the distribution lines. Smith said cost would be "around $12,000."

The city and the state highway department contend the company's payment of 2 per cent of its gross receipts to the city do not count as rental of right-of-way. The state highway department legal department points out the city has no power to grant a franchise superceding the public's right to use a thoroughfare.

"Eventually, the distribution lines will have to be moved to make way for the highway," Smith said. "We could (1) leave them on First street, moving the poles over a few feet to clear the way, or, (2) split the street into two parts."

The latter would involve:

1. Moving the lines in the alley between First and Second streets. Since the alley does not run the length of the urban project, procurement of right-of-way from some individuals would be necessary.
2. Placing lines on the east side of the street on Santa Fe railroad property. The railroad property parallels First street the length of the project. SWPS has approached Santa Fe officials on getting an easement for use of the property but no answer has been received.

Swimming Pool To Be Brought Up to Standard

City Engineer W. D. Fowler announced Tuesday work has started on bringing municipal swimming pool up to standards recommended by state and local health authorities.

The pool is scheduled to open April 18. Fowler expects to have all necessary improvements completed by that date. He said no additional funds would be needed for the project.

Fowler said his crew last week changed the water inlet from a submerged position to an outside position to eliminate the possibility of cross connection between city water lines and the pool.

Recommendations for the change was made in a letter to Fowler by Richard M. Swartz, sanitarian for the Eddy county health department. Swartz based his recommendations on a study he made earlier this month with Fowler and Aubrey L. Willard, associate engineer with the state health department. His recommendations received approval from Dr. O. E. Puckett, district health officer.

Other changes needed to put the pool into order for the 1955 season. (Continued on Page 4.)

Kidnaper of Newborn Baby Cries 'I Don't Remember'

BEAUMONT, (AP)—Mrs. Pauline Marie Schulze says she can't remember stealing a baby girl from its hospital crib 29 minutes after birth Saturday.

"I can't remember, oh, I can't remember," she said in a jail cell interview. "They asked me questions, questions, questions."

The 30-year-old former nurse's aid was asked if she really still believed she gave birth to the child.

"I don't remember," she said. "I just remember having the baby with me, and I remember calling my sister about it."

"I don't remember coming to Beaumont Saturday or any other day, but I must have because they claim I took someone else's baby."

The Schulzes have three sons. Her father said she had wanted a baby girl "worse than anything in the world."

Before talking to Murray, Mrs. Schulze had refused to eat during her long hours of questioning, refused to talk to newsmen and had thrown a shoe at a news photographer.

Yesterday she began to talk, drank a malted milk and ate a hearty meal.

She was still in jail today after waiving an examining trail because she could not immediately post bond set at $15,000 by a justice of the peace.

The Wharton infant was found in Mrs. Schulze's home and rushed back to the hospital before the mother knew it had been taken from its crib.

"It's my own baby," she screamed repeatedly during the time of officers' first questioning her. But footprints of the child established its identity and a doctor examination showed Mrs. Schulze had not borne a child recently. Because of surgery, officers said, Mrs. Schulze cannot bear any more children.

Senate Considers Upper Colorado Under Secrecy

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Senate reclamation subcommittee goes behind closed doors today to begin consideration of the billion-dollar plus proposal for development of the Upper Colorado River.

Even though four of the five members come from states which strongly support the huge project it was not certain that a decision could be reached at one meeting.

Hearings on the bill to authorize the five state undertaking were held two weeks ago. Witnesses were heard from the Reclamation Bureau, the states to be affected, and from conservationist groups which are opposing one feature of the project—Echo Park Dam.

Physicist Believes A-Test Fallout At Danger Point

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP)—A Western Michigan College physicist says radioactive fallout from atomic bomb tests at Nevada have at times increased Kalamazoo's cosmic radiation count from 46 to 800 per minute.

Dr. Hayn Kruglak, associate professor of physics, said the increase represents a reading of 10 times normal radiation in Kalamazoo and "a danger signal to me."

Dr. Kruglak began his investigation of the Kalamazoo air March 7, at the time of the latest atomic tests at Yucca Flat, Nev.

The morning the first device was exploded he got a normal cosmic radiation count of 46 per minute. By 1 p. m. March 9, the average count had reached 67 per minute. And by the morning of March 10, the count had reached 200.

During the last experiment, Dr. Kruglak checked a pan of snow and found that 2 1/2 days after the test the count of the filter down snow reached 800.

Asked if it was dangerous, Dr. Kruglak replied:

"I wouldn't go out and sit in that snowbank and I wouldn't boil it down and drink it. A reading of 10 times normal radiation around 500 in Kalamazoo, is a danger signal to me."

All Navajo Kids To Get Schooling

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—All 23,000 Navajo children of school age will have a chance to attend school by the end of 1955, says Interior Secretary Douglas McKay.

Before 1954, McKay said, 14,000 school age children on the Navajo Reservation never attended school because schools and teachers were lacking.

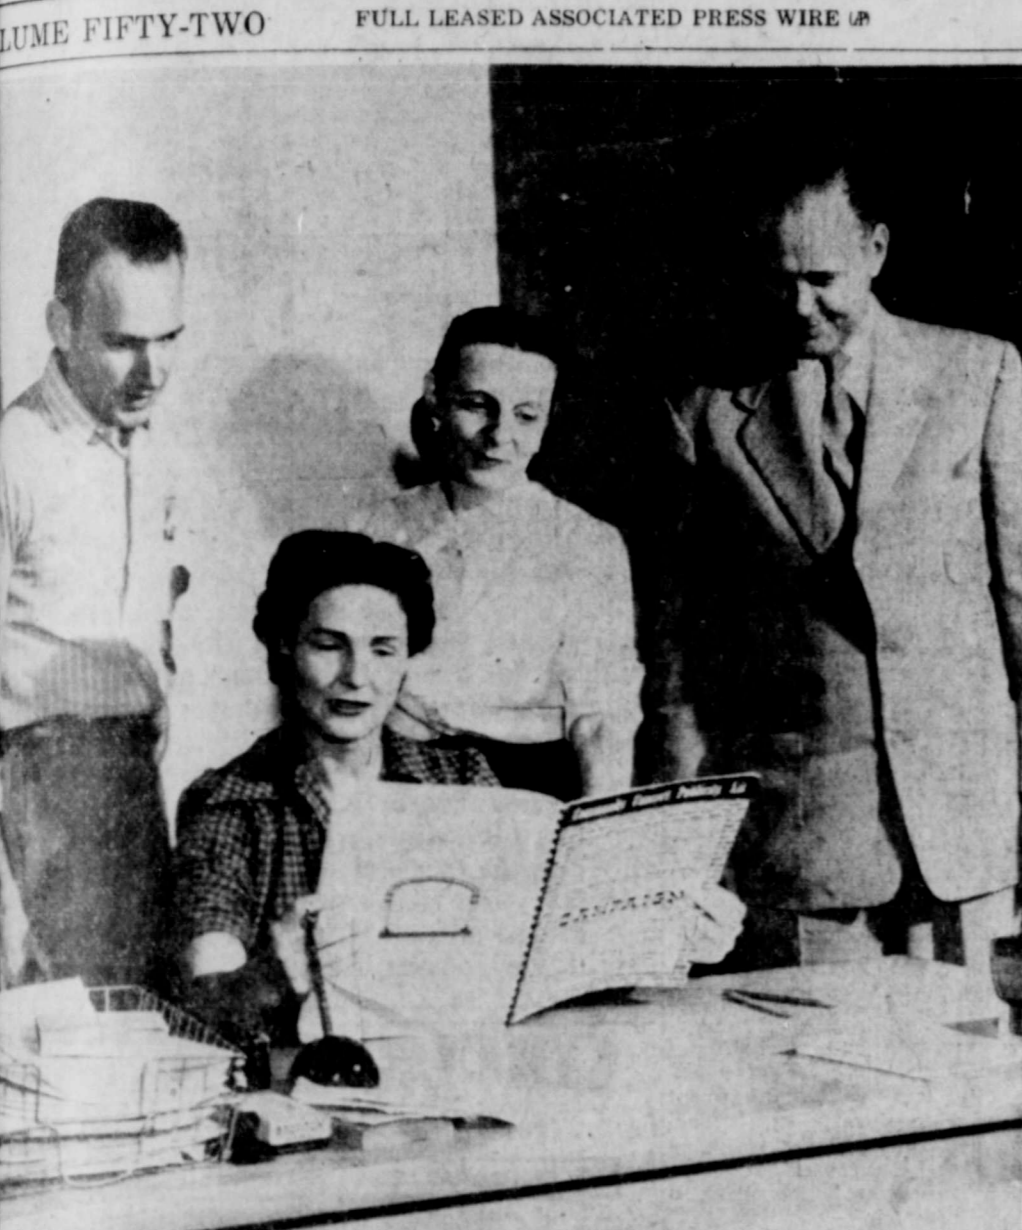

Eight thousand of that number now have been placed in school, McKay told the Western Council Chamber of Commerce last night.

The Navajo Tribal Council he reported, has praised the administration's school program.

McKay said he cited the Navajo school expansion as a project in "genuine conservation of a priceless resource, the human resource."

Even though four of the five members come from states which strongly support the huge project it was not certain that a decision could be reached at one meeting.

Family Incomes Reported Moving Upward Swiftly

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Some 41 per cent of the nation's families have incomes of $5,000 a year or more, and 55 per cent get $4,000 or more yearly, the commerce department said today.

A big upward switch in family income since the war was reported in a new study of family finances.

It said that since 1947 the number of families living on less than $4,000 a year has shrunk by 20 per cent, while the number of families with more than $4,000 has increased 70 per cent.

Families with $10,000 or more increased by 100 per cent, and their total income before taxes has grown from 36 billion dollars a year to 70 billions.

The number of families with incomes between $10,000 and $15,000 was greater 2,300,000 than the number in either the $3,000-$9,000 (2,000,000) or the $9,000-$10,000 (1,300,000) brackets.

The study was based on income tax reports for 1953. But the commerce department said there had been little change since then in family income patterns.

The report said the average non-farm family had an income of $6,390, compared with $3,460 for the farm family.

More Effective Sheep Tick Dust Put on Market

This spring, New Mexico wool-growers can buy new, safe, more effective dust for control of sheep ticks.

The dust—one and one-half per cent dieldrin—gives complete control after one thorough treatment according to County Agent Richard Marek. Tests at the Wyoming agricultural experiment station proved this dust better than all other dusts tried.

Marek says its "complete effectiveness" is due to two reasons: (1) It acts as a tailor-made poison for sheep ticks, and (2) it stays in the wool long enough to kill the young ticks as they hatch.

Dusts used previously usually wear out too soon to kill hatching ticks and often leave some older ones alive to raise some more pests, the county agent explains.

Dusting all sheep with the new dust just once after shearing will rid a flock of all ticks. The new dust will cost 75 cents to a dollar more for a 50-pound sack, but its better control means lower costs in the long run, Marek points out.

In dusting, take the usual precaution. Run sheep with the wind and keep out of the dust as much as possible.

The dust does not make the meat unsafe to eat, or the sheep hazardous to shear the next year. Tests by the station have gained federal food and drugs administration approval.

Darling Shades Phillips 66er As Most Valuable Player

DENVER. (Special)—Players in the National Industrial Basketball League have joined their coaches in acclaiming Chuck Darling, six-foot, eight-inch center for the Bartlesville (Okla.) Phillips 66ers, as the league's most valuable player.

Last year, NIBL coaches overwhelmingly voted Darling MVP honors. This year, the league turned the balloting over to the players. After a winter of trying to stop Darling's pin-point hooks and cope with his rebounding, opposition players agreed with the coaches — Darling is the NIBL's best.

Yet, the decision was made with mixed feelings, for those who do the playing in the rugged amateur league, like Bartlesville's Arnold Short, too.

In completing the NIBL's all-star first team, players chose Don Heathington (6-5, Baylor), five-year star of the Artesia (N.M.) CVE Travelers, to team with Short at forward, and Frankie Kuzara (5-9, San Francisco U.) of the Denver Central Bankers, another seasoned campaigner, to team with fastest rookie Nick Revon (5-10, Mississippi Southern) of the Houston (Texas) Ada Oilers, at guard.

Although the rangy Artesia CVE Travelers, tallest team in the National Industrial Basketball League had lots of height to use in coping with the 6-3 Arnold Short, they found the rookie forward for the Bartlesville Phillips 66ers hard to stop.

Nor did the Artesians forget it when they selected their all-opponent team. The former Oklahoma City university all-American with the unique fadeaway jump shot received 57 of a possible 60 first place points in being voted the most outstanding player faced by the Travelers during the NIBL season.

Teammate Chuck Darling got 55 points as the top center, and Frankie Kuzara of the Denver Central Bankers, 46 points as the finest guard the 15-man Artesia squad faced all winter.

Forwards: Short; Dick Retherford, Peoria; Dick Eicher, Denver, and Kirby Minter, Peoria. Centers: Darling and Grant Wittberger, Milwaukee. Guards: Kuzara; Eddie Soolmon, Peoria; Nick Revon, Houston, and Jim Kennedy, Akron.

Down Nebraska Club By 67-59 In Opener

DENVER. (AP)—The Akron, Ohio, Goodyear Wingfoots and CVE Travelers of Artesia, N. M., scored victories last night in the opening round of the 48th annual National Amateur Athletic Union basketball tournament.

While seeded teams do not bow in until tomorrow, the six games scheduled today promise to offer more excitement than the two in-surgals.

The Travelers took an early lead and built it into an 18-point margin before the Meadow Gold team of Lincoln, Neb., rallied strongly to close the gap to one point, 60-59 with two minutes to play. Gary Renzelman, star this season for the University of Nebraska, touched off the scoring surge that pulled the Nebraskans back into contention. However, Don Heathington put the Travelers out of reach with four straight free throws and they won 67-59.

The Wingfoots had competition for less than a half from the Camp Chafee, Ark., five and rolled to a 97-61 victory as four of the Ohioans scored in double figures. Bernie Janicki stuffed in 26 points to top the scoring. S. L. Shofner hit 19.

The Cleveland Indians beat the New York Giants 3-2. Al Rosen's two-run single in the ninth broke up a 1-1 tie.

Ted Kluszewski hit a home run to put Cincinnati back into the ball game at 3-3 in the eighth, and Johnny Temple singled home the winning run with two out in the ninth as Pittsburgh lost 4-3.

St. Louis not only lost to Philadelphia 3-2, but rookie first baseman Joe Cunningham was benched to disclose a fracture, but Cunningham will be lost for two or three days.

The New York Yankees, finally warming up at the plate, clubbed the Brooklyn Dodgers 19-8 with Bill Skowron and Bob Cerv each getting four hits.

Yesterday, however, he popped back to blank Baltimore through five innings. Two other rookies, Paul Foytack and Babe Birrer, continued the whitewash and Detroit won 4-0.

It was the Tigers' fifth victory in 12 spring decisions and first shutout.

The Milwaukee Braves defeated the Chicago White Sox 5-2 yesterday.

More Taxes Don't Solve It

WE HAVE DEVELOPED the habit in this nation of ours of always trying to solve our financial problems regardless of the cause, by putting on a new tax.

That usually isn't the solution. The individual has a good many financial problems and he just can't levy a tax to bring in more money to solve his or her problems. He may try to increase his income and earnings, but he can't assess more taxes.

It is also true we are not going to cure all our lack of funds for various institutions, movements, programs, projects; or undertakings by tacking on another levy of some kind or other.

The fact is the nation has reached the point of where more taxes are going to be rather difficult to vote and the American people are going to find them even harder to pay. There has been a movement underway to propose a special tax levy to help finance our hospitals in the state. Most of us know and realize that the present cost for patients in hospitals is too high.

But insofar as that is concerned the cost of trying to stay well or to get well when we are ill is too high, too. Hospitals only represent part of that cost. There are some other costs.

But the figures recently announced in the legislative session indicated that hospital costs over the state range from $17 per day to some $27 per day. That is a difference of $10 per day. It seems to us we should do a little figuring to try and determine why the great difference in the per day cost before we start seeking ways to provide the money regardless of the cost.

Chances are these costs could be reduced or they could be more or less equal. That $10 per day is too great a difference.

The providing of a special levy to take care of these costs doesn't help encourage the most economical and efficient operation. More funds mean more expenditures.

It is also true that many cities and counties today are helping to provide funds for the operation of hospitals. It is also true that we need to devote a little more time and attention to paying and to collecting our hospital bills.

We can't see where putting more taxes on to provide more funds is going to aid and help us much in the operation of our hospitals.

Publisher Gives Regrets in Feud

SANTA FE—A Grants publisher has expressed regret for "the inaccuracy" of a complaint he made to the attorney general's office regarding the operation of the Albuquerque district attorney's office.

Sherman Ford charged the Albuquerque office with lack of diligence on a complaint by Ford. He said at that time little attention was given an assault complaint he filed March 8 against a Grants man he accused of beating him.

In his latest telegram to the attorney general's office, Ford said: "I regret the inaccuracy of my previous wire in respect to the district attorney's office's handling of the assault case. I am completely satisfied that the matter was handled in a routine manner. Your immediate attention to the other matters discussed has been appreciated."

Santa Fe Mason Elected to Head State's Lodge

ALBUQUERQUE—F. Wayne Laws of Santa Fe has been elected grand master of the Grand Lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons of New Mexico.

Thiele, Santa Fe, senior grand warden; Russell G. Bird, Roswell, junior grand warden; Lynn B. Mitchell, Albuquerque, treasurer; Chandler C. Thomas, Albuquerque, secretary.

Past grand masters Eric S. Kinstel of Raton and Thomas J. Hall of Roswell were reelected to the lodge's board of directors.

Three Coloradans Admit Kidnaping

PHOENIX—Three Coloradans—securely chained together—have entered federal prison after pleading guilty to kidnaping a Farmington, N. M., auto salesman and transporting him across a state line.

The Coloradans eluded pursuers across three states after escaping from a Delta, Colo. jail. They were arrested in Tempe Jan. 31 after driving a stolen car from Farmington to the Arizona city.

Fowler noted that the city pays the regular industrial rate for water used in the pool. This rate is $5 for the first 10,000 gallons used and 10 cents for each 1,000 gallons used thereafter.

Loans Approved For REA Co-op At Portales

The New Mexico extension service, reporting the loans, said one of $382,000 will be used to finance construction of 74 miles of distribution line. The line is expected to serve 177 new rural consumers.

A smaller loan of $50,000 will aid finance members' installation of electrical equipment and irrigation facilities.

Las Vegas police identified him as Benjamin Gallegos, 28. He has been missing since 6 p.m. Saturday.

Cumberland Flood Fills TVA Dams

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—The flooding Cumberland River, swollen with the area's heaviest rain fall in 30 years, was expected to crest today at 47 feet, seven feet above flood level.

National Guard, Red Cross, and civil defense personnel assisted hundreds to evacuate homes.

Creeks and rivers went on a rampage yesterday after a down-pour that totaled up to 7 1/2 inches in 24 hours. More rain was forecast today, but in comparatively harmless amounts.

One flood victim was reported here. Ten-year-old Sandra Jane Burch was swept to her death while playing in a swift-running drainage ditch.

Winds and thunderstorms struck several areas. A spokesman for the Tennessee Valley Authority said most dams in the system have a full power pool for the first time in two years.

A message from Fred and Jim, 'Your Pharmacists'

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO you spent 18.3 cents of your medical care dollar for medicines. Today, despite the fact that some of the newer drugs seem expensive, you are spending only 14.5 cents of your medical care dollar for medicines.

THE REASON OF COURSE IS that your prescriptions are now so much more effective, that you get well much quicker, and they help prevent more serious sickness, and often an operation.

THE COST OF LIVING has advanced considerably for almost everything you buy. But according to government statistics, you are now actually spending less for medicines, for each dollar of your medical care, than you did 15 years ago.

AS YOUR PHARMACIST we will always do our utmost to keep your cost of medicines as low as good pharmaceutical practice will permit.

Clovis Again Ranked Among Top U.S. Stock Markets

Clovis continues to maintain its ranking of one of the most important livestock marketing centers in the country, according to a report released recently by the livestock of USDA's agricultural marketing service.

Reports from 63 public markets in 1954 show that the Clovis market rated 19th in the nation in salable receipts of calves with 68,640 head; 25th in salable receipts of cattle, handling 194,946; and 31st in salable receipts of sheep and lambs with 36,985.

St. Paul was first in the nation in salable receipts of calves with 502,894. Occupying the No. 1 spot in salable receipts of cattle was Chicago with 2,246,200. Denver topped other markets in salable receipts of sheep and lambs with 933,290, and St. Paul was first in salable receipts of hogs with 2,399,727.

Clovis ranked 27th in the nation in total receipts of calves in 1954 with 68,640, according to the reports; 32nd in total receipts of cattle with 191,910; 37th in total receipts of sheep and lambs with 31,422; and 3rd in total receipts of hogs and mules with 7,889. Milwaukee topped other markets in the United States in total receipts of calves, handling 541,957 last year. Chicago was first on cattle with 2,271,247, and first on hogs with 2,976,817; Denver topped other markets on sheep and lambs with 1,366,564; and North Salt Lake Market was No. 1 on horse and mules with 8,485.

Total receipts of cattle at 6 public markets in 1954 were 2,194,907; calves at 63 public markets, 5,837,202; hogs at 62 public markets at 125 million dollars, one per cent below the 126 million dollars received for the 1953 clip.

The number of sheep and lambs shorn in '54 totaled 27.4 million head, 339,000 head less than were shorn in 1953. The average weight per fleece was 8.48 pounds, the highest of record.

Pulled wool production in the United States in 1954 is estimated at 43 million pounds, an increase of three per cent over 1953. Commercial slaughter of sheep and lambs during '54 was only slightly below 1953. However, the indicated number of skins pulled was somewhat larger than in '53. The average weight of wool pulled per skin was 3.48 compared with 3.47 pounds in '53.

Poultry Diseases Costly to U.S.

Poultry diseases cost American poultrymen about 300 million dollars a year, says H. L. Mathews, extension poultry specialist at New Mexico A&M college. This figure includes the cost of preventing and fighting the diseases, as well as the mortality losses to them.

Five diseases are responsible for almost half of these staggering losses, the poultrymen states. Leukosis heads the list with a yearly cost of about 65 million dollars.

In second place is coccidiosis with more than 38 1/2 millions in losses, followed by Newcastle disease at nearly 25 million. Then comes infectious bronchitis with an annual loss of about 7 million dollars, and pox, which subtracts 1 1/2 million dollars from poultry profits each year. Other diseases and infections account for losses totaling more than 158 million dollars each year.

Colorado Plans Continuation Of Quarantine

Colorado will continue its interstate Khapra beetle quarantine as a supplementary precaution against the spread of the beetle into its boundaries, according to word received by R. C. Dobson, state entomologist at New Mexico A&M college.

Officials there feel that the federal quarantine will not adequately protect their feed and seed industry and are taking this step to make certain that no Khapra beetles are shipped into the state, Dobson said.

Hand Picking Cost For Cotton Shows Decline Under '53

The average United States cost of hand picking cotton declined in 1954 from 1.3 cents per pound in 1953 to 1.1 cents per pound in 1954. The decline was due to a number of factors, including a decrease in the number of acres picked by hand and an increase in the use of mechanical picking methods. The average cost of hand picking cotton in 1954 was 1.1 cents per pound, compared with 1.3 cents per pound in 1953.

Wool Income, Production Down in State

Wool production and income in New Mexico in 1954 took a slight downward trend according to preliminary figures released today by USDA's agricultural marketing service. Shorn wool production totaled 10,607,000 pounds last year compared with 11,349,000 pounds in 1953. Cash receipts amounted to $5,515,000 in '54; $5,901,000 in 1953.

The 1954 production of shorn wool in other western states was as follows: Montana, 14,798,000; Idaho, 10,135,000; Wyoming, 21,175,000; Colorado, 11,296,000; Utah, 12,480,000; California, 16,251,000; and Texas, 44,220,000.

Western states showing the biggest gains in shorn wool production were Texas, which registered an increase of 1,700,000 pounds, and Wyoming, which had a gain of one million pounds.

Wool production, shorn and pulled in the United States in 1954, totaled 276 million pounds, or 1 per cent above the 1953 production and the largest total wool production since 1948. Production of shorn wool was 233 million pounds, pulled wool, 43 million pounds.

The annual average price per pound received by growers for 1954 shorn wool was 53.9 cents per pound. The average price in '53 was 54.9 cents per pound. Cash receipts to growers for shorn wool produced in '54 were estimated at $14,700,000.

Worms in Swine Better Checked By Sanitation

Sanitation is better than treatment when it comes to control of roundworms in swine, advises County Agent Richard Marek. Most of the damage caused by these intestinal worms can be prevented by a strict system of sanitation, he points out. The kidney worm and other parasites can also be kept to a minimum by good sanitation, and if there is an open pasture where sunlight can get to all areas the hogs can reach.

Treatment to remove roundworms, although it does not prevent much of the damage, is recommended where there are heavy infestations in young pigs, the county agent's office said today. Treatment may prevent digestive troubles, increase use of feed, and cut down on the spread of worm eggs.

Heavily-infested pigs under 100 pounds in weight may gain better after treatment. Treat as soon as it is apparent that infestation is heavy. Larger pigs or breeding stock may be treated in order to help keep pastures free of worm eggs, but it is doubtful that such animals will improve in their use of good rations.

Sodium fluoride is a cheap and effective drug to use for roundworms. It is easily administered to pigs by mixing it with their feed.
