Mills Returned Boy Scout Leadership

Paul Supt. Vernon Mills was elected chairman of the Gate-Boy Scout district last night at the district's annual appreciation dinner at the Artesia Country Club.

Doolittle was installed as district commissioner, replacing Bill Bullock. Seven adult scout leaders attended the dinner and were presented appreciation pins for their work with Cub and Boy Scouts.

F. G. Kierekoper of the Presbyterian church was the principal speaker. He described the satisfaction adults get from working with youngsters.

H. L. McAlester of the Methodist church gave the invocation. The principal speaker of the evening was William L. Dwyer, high school principal, who criticized what he called unorthodox and unprofessional methods used by administrators of the school district.

Adelmo Sanchez, former president of the State Board of Education, said he planned to have a hearing on the school district's financial situation but denied he had fired anyone for personal reasons.

Mrs. Orval Kiddy Elected Head Band Parents Club

Aide club, band parents of the Artesia schools, last elected Mrs. Orval Kiddy to lead the group during the school year.

Officers elected to office were Jack Crilly, vice president; Wayne Adkins, secretary; Mrs. S. M. Laughlin, treasurer; going president, Ott Strock. The meeting, which opened with prayer by Orval Kiddy, was held at the home of Mrs. Orval Kiddy.

ALBUQUERQUE — Of every five drops of rain which fall in mountain areas of the United States, only two are put to use by man, scientists from 18 nations were told.

H. Dorroh Jr., with the Albuquerque office of the soil conservation service, was one of eight scientists presenting prepared papers to the International Lands Symposium here.

Hope Lays Water Headache Before 118 Goodwill Guests

Hope may not have many problems, but the ones it has are king-sized. So an Artesia Chamber of Commerce goodwill delegation to the once prosperous farm community 26 miles west of Artesia found out last night.

Most of all, the 118 attending decided, Hope needs water—lots of water. It needs to develop underground water sources and surface water storage.

But a solution to the problem wasn't forthcoming in the meeting. Chamber of Commerce Mgr. Paul Scott, who emceed the discussion following a sumptuous dinner, promised it would be placed on the C of C's program of work.

Ladies of the First Methodist church prepared a magnificent turkey dinner, topped by homemade cherry pie, for Artesia and Hope guests.

Although there has been minor friction between Artesia and Hope in the past, everything was in the spirit of good fellowship last night. Artesia C of C Pres. Paul L. Frost and Hope Mayor Ethel Altman exchanged messages setting a record for brevity and cordiality.

Following the dinner in Hope high school came the discussion held on the "66" method in the auditorium. Groups of six people each spent six minutes discussing their view of Hope's problems, then each presented the top one from their group.

Man for the current Birthday Calendar drive, reported the sale was a big success and that the information would go to the publisher May 1.

She also said a few extra calendars would be ordered. If anyone has failed to obtain one, they can purchase it when they arrive in late June. The calendar will run from July 1 through June 1956.

Band directors Justin Bradbury and Herb Beasley thanked the group for the fine support given during the year and announced important band function dates for the remaining portion of the school year.

And of that meager amount "98 per cent of the water that falls... is either consumed where it falls or is lost in transportation to points of downstream use."

The high, dry air was blamed for much of the loss. Even an estimate of 2 per cent "is probably high."

Retard Dam Again Third Silt-Filled

Hope's retard dam, cleaned of silt only a year ago, now is one third silt-filled again.

Clem Weindorf of Artesia, soil conservation service representative in the Hope district, reported the 22-foot-high Hope retard dam, about 10 miles west of the community, has eight feet of silt in the bottom.

That reduces capacity about one-third, Weindorf said. Normal capacity of the dam, when cleaned out, is 400 acre feet.

Weindorf reported this during an interview following last night's Hope-Artesia goodwill banquet and meeting.

Discussion during the meeting produced tiny Hope's critical water situation as the most pressing problem facing the community.

While the retard dam has its value, Weindorf said, "What we need are millions of little retard dams."

Literature on the subjects will be available along with information on obtaining films for organizational showings.

The committee has been cooperating with the Council of Social Agencies, the Community Chest and the New Mexico Heart Assn. in the educational program.

Ike-Zhukhov Letters Hold Peace Hopes

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower disclosed today he has been in private correspondence with Soviet Defense Minister Zhukov within the past three weeks.

Eisenhower told of the correspondence at a news conference, and said he has a feeling world peace prospects are on the upswing.

As to Red China, the president said the United States is willing to confer alone with the Communists regarding a Formosa area cease-fire but not on matters affecting Nationalist China.

In saying he feels peace prospects are improving, Eisenhower said it is also possible, however, to balance every encouraging development — such as Russia's willingness to agree on an Austrian peace treaty — with an adverse development, such as the Red Chinese air buildup in the vicinity of Formosa.

He said that at this time he sees no reason for a meeting between himself and the British, French and Russian heads of state as a result of the Austrian treaty negotiations. But he said such a meeting is always possible.

Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay are scheduled a meeting May 8 in Paris to discuss a meeting with the Russians.

Eisenhower declined to give details of his correspondence with Zhukov until the Soviet government official gives the word.

Benson Blames Wind Erosion On Government War Policy

Agriculture Secretary Benson, touring a small part of Texas Wednesday, wants to do something about soil erosion because, for one thing, he believes the federal government is to blame.

Told of the huge clouds of soil sucked into the air from farms and ranches of Oklahoma, Colorado, New Mexico, Kansas, and occasionally from a small part of Texas, he came to the dust area to see.

Benson has said the federal government is to blame because during World War II it encouraged plowing up of rangeland for wheat so the Allies could be fed. He believes it is this plowed ground that is losing its topsoil.

His pet project is to turn the plowed land in the high wind area back to pasture, or other cover crops. He doesn't say how it can be done and the economics of the question make it appear impossible.

During his recent tour, farmers and other experts have suggested several plans, including employment of rain makers, denial of federal benefits to those who misuse their land and long term credits to develop irrigation from wells.

Benson is touring the five-state dust bowl area for a first hand look at conditions which have dealt an economic blow to ranches and farmers for almost seven years.

Benson comes to Tucumcari by bus from Amarillo on the last stage of his journey. The Benson party leaves tomorrow.

Dan Kelly, Jr., head of the Quay county agriculture stabilization and conservation office said that farmers and ranchers from sections of eastern New Mexico and West Texas will attend the meeting with Benson.

Gov. Simms' office said the governor will meet with Benson if Simms returns in time from Las Vegas, Nev.

The east side is in a particularly desperate situation agricultural leaders say. As of now, the state is not under the emergency drought feed program. It had been anticipated the drought committee, which met recently in Albuquerque, would put counties asking back into the program. About six counties asked for such action but none has been taken.

Steel Workers Issue Notice of Pay Boost Try

PITTSBURGH — CIO United Steelworkers today notified 96 basic steel producing companies that it intends to seek unspecified pay boosts for 600,000 members employed in the basic steel industry.

David J. McDonald, president of the 1,250,000 member union, said the notices were mailed yesterday. Under the 1954 contract, steel companies are required to begin negotiations within 30 days after the notice is received.

McDonald said companies which received reopening notices from the union comprised the majority of the basic steel industry.

Six Paralytic Polio Cases Bring Probe

School officials in Artesia announced immediately after receiving an Associated Press report that they had called off Salk polio inoculations scheduled for 1 o'clock today.

George White, co-chairman of the program, said they were make-up shots planned for children who were absent last week when vaccine from Cutter Laboratories were administered.

Salk polio vaccine of the type used to inoculate Artesia children last week temporarily has been ordered withdrawn by the U. S. public health service.

Temporary withdrawal of Salk vaccine from Cutter Laboratories because six cases of paralytic polio have occurred among tens of thousands of children vaccinated with it.

The Associated Press said State Health Director Gerald Clark today confirmed that the Salk vaccine used in last week's polio vaccination in New Mexico came from Cutter Laboratories at Berkeley, Calif.

The day the vaccine arrived in New Mexico the health department announced it was coming in by plane from the Cutter Laboratories at Berkeley.

The health director confirmed today that it was Cutter vaccine which was used in New Mexico in last week's historic immunization campaign.

Dr. Clark indicated knowledge of the temporary withdrawal when he told a newsman: "We're already working on it I hope to have a statement for you shortly."

He said the last reported polio case in New Mexico was that of a four-year-old Eddy County girl who came down with paralytic polio. (Continued on page 4.)

Camporee Director Johnny Sparks of Artesia said the Indian dancing would be followed by "stunts, skits, singing and fun-poking by other troops." The public is invited to attend the campfire.

The district court of honor will be held during the camporee with around 50 youngsters scheduled to be promoted.

Competitive events begin Saturday morning. These will include work on camping and the scouting skills, such as building fires, first aid and cooking. The Scouts "will compete against the standard" with John Simons, George Nichols, Wallace Beck, George White, Don Bush, and V. F. Hickman as judges.

Prizes, to include a fishing rod, axe, baseball and hatchet, will come from The Firestone Store, Midwest Auto, Evans Hardware, Brainard Corbin Hardware and Gamble Stores.

The boys will prepare their own food throughout the camporee and will be responsible for putting the camp in good order before pulling out Saturday night.

Sooners Draw Probation for Two Years

By JOE MOOSHL

CHICAGO (AP)—The NCAA cracked down on the Universities of Oklahoma and Cincinnati yesterday with a warning that the two clean up their athletic policies or face possible expulsion.

Oklahoma was placed on two years probation by the policy-making council of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. Cincinnati was given one year probation and was ruled ineligible to participate in NCAA championship events.

No such clause was attached to Oklahoma's penalty, which means Oklahoma, perennial Big Seven football champion and a major grid power nationally, can participate in the Orange Bowl next New Year's Day if the Sooners win the conference title.

The council reprimanded three other schools and terminated the probation periods of two others.

The council reported it was found that Oklahoma staff members offered prospective student-athletes cost-free education beyond the athlete's normal period of eligibility.

The school also was accused of paying medical expenses for immediate families of student athletes, specifically the wives and children of such athletes.

The council said university patrons provided student-athletes "fringe benefits" in the form of clothes, miscellaneous gifts of cash, and other gifts of relative nominal value.

Some members of the Cincinnati football coaching staff were found to have offered athletes aid in excess of that permitted by the university and the NCAA and to have provided transportation for prospective football players to visit the campus during the years 1951 through 1953.

Cincinnati President Raymond Walters blamed former Coach Sid Gillman, now of the Los Angeles Rams, for the practices which brought NCAA censure. He said the practices no longer exist.

Oklahoma President George L. Cross and Football Coach Bud Wilkinson said the NCAA's investigation failed to show "a single case of fraud or dishonesty" and described the probationary action as vindication for the Sooner athletic program.

TOP CONDITIONS FOR FISHING ARE SEEN FOR STATE

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Good to excellent fishing conditions will prevail in the Jemez area when the general fishing season gets under way Sunday morning.

Central New Mexico anglers who flock to the Jemez area on opening day will encounter plenty of trout and good water conditions.

Fishermen are getting an earlier start than usual this year. The state game and fish department moved up the starting date nearly three weeks. All New Mexico streams will open Sunday morning one hour before sunrise.

Normally, only streams south of U. S. 66 are open on May 1 and northern waters have had to wait until late May before opening.

"I'm sure the early start will make a difference because water is running higher than usual in most streams for opening day," Bill Humphries, district Conservation Officer said.

Humphries, who toured the area yesterday, said the three main streams—the Jemez, the Cebolla and the Las Vacas are well stocked and have plenty of water.

EAGLES WIN OVER HOBBS

HOBBS (AP)—For the second time in as many nights the Odessa Eagles found the pitching of the Hobbs Sports to their liking and pounded out a 11-8 victory. Once again the big bats of the Eagles spelled defeat as they gathered three doubles and two round trippers.

Lefty Loyko drove in four runs with two doubles and a homer to be the big gun for Odessa.

The first inning saw the Odessa nine score one run on three straight base hits to take a one run lead.

The Sports were able to put two runs across in their half of the first inning for the only lead they had for the night. Two bases on balls and a triple by Joe Guarino drove across the two tallies.

The big inning for both clubs was the seventh when a total of eight runs crossed the plate.

Odessa was able to score by putting together three runs. The fourth run was scored when an error was committed by the Hobbs shortstop.

The scoring in the seventh ended the run making for the night and gave Odessa a clean sweep of the series played in Hobbs.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP—Grim's Ulcers, Braves Both Show Improvement

By ED WILKS

Charlie Grimm watched the rain bounce off the sidewalks of New York from his hotel room yesterday afternoon and figured both his Milwaukee Braves and his ulcers were in good shape, what with Bobby Thomson hitting and all.

Jolly Cholly agreed with pre-season talk that had his guys winning the National league pennant. And he was sure the Johnny Antonelli-for-Thomson deal with the Giants was about to swing in Milwaukee's favor at last. A year ago, of course, Thomson was useless with a broken ankle while Antonelli was the pride of New York's pitching staff as the Giants swept to the world title.

"Thomson already has won two games for us in the field," said Charlie, "and three with his bat." That accounted for five of the seven won by second-place Milwaukee so far.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP—Grim's Ulcers, Braves Both Show Improvement

It might have been six games chalked up for Thomson last night—except for a guy named Antonelli. The young lefty, beaten in his two previous starts, put down the Braves with three hits in a 3-2 New York victory. And he made Thomson, tied for the league lead in runs batted in (17), look like just another batter.

Twice he fanned Thomson, who went hitless in four trips. In the eighth, a rally fizzled as Thomson dribbled the ball in front of the plate for the final out with the tying run on third.

That was the only National league game played, with rain and cold putting the rest on the shelf. But the American got off all four games, topped by Bob Turley's one-hit pitching in a 5-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox that moved the New York Yankees into first place, one game up on the Sox.

Boston had a chance to tie the Yankees, but dropped one to Kansas City 8-7 in 11 innings. That

Another Great Day Awaited

TUESDAY, April 12, was a great day in America—a great day because that was when the announcement was made that the Salk vaccine was shown to be 80 to 90 per cent protective against all three types of polio.

Now, of course, is the wait until sufficient vaccine is available to have all of our children immunized against this disease and we can stop worrying about polio.

That doesn't mean, of course, we won't have polio—we will have. We have vaccines and serums against other diseases but we still have cases of diphtheria, smallpox and other diseases. So we will have polio but not the epidemics we have had in the past.

And so to the scientist and to medical sciences a grateful America says "thank you."

But we are also now waiting for another great day to come along—the day when we find a cure for cancer and a method that will halt this disease from claiming the lives we lose today.

We need a cure for heart ailment and for heart disease but much progress has been made along this line.

We need cure cures for a good many other diseases and we need vaccines perhaps to halt these diseases and perhaps time will bring them to us.

We need something to halt arthritis; we need a cure for asthma; we need a cure for sinus troubles; we need a cure for common colds and for hay fever—but progress has and is being made and sooner or later we will have these cures or perhaps the vaccines that will prevent the human being from suffering from such diseases.

There are always periods of discouragement. That was true concerning polio. It appeared at times we would never find the vaccine that would halt it and yet patience, courage, faith, confidence and continued application has won out.

April 12 was and always will be a great day in American medical history—a great day because on that day results indicated that the polio vaccine will prevent this disease.

And so we will probably be more liberal and more generous with our gifts and our contributions to the other causes in the future because our dollars invested in polio have paid off and paid off well.

Not only does medical science deserve to be commended for its success, but the American people deserve to be commended for providing the funds for the research that brought this success about.

Ike Seeks Attack on Problem Of Low-Income Farmers

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower called today for a "many-sided attack" on the problems of low-income farmers.

"We must open wider the doors of opportunity to our million and a half farm families with extremely low incomes—for their own well-being and for the good of our country and all our people," he said in a special message to Congress.

The message transmitted recommendations by Secretary of Agriculture Benson which the president said had his "general approval." It urged, among other things, 30 million dollars of lending authority and strengthening of off-farm employment opportunities for farmers barely able to make ends meet.

Benson's proposals were based on a study requested by the president more than a year ago. The president also sent Congress a report on this study, saying it emphasizes the long-range nature of the problem and that it would serve to stimulate continuing study and action.

Eisenhower told Congress "an immediate start is extremely important." He said in a nation where per capita income is the highest in the world, more than one fourth of the farm families still have cash incomes of less than $1,000 a year.

Part of the assistance program would require new legislation. The president said requests for this and for necessary appropriations will go to Congress shortly.

Sen. Aiken of Vermont, one of the Republican senators who got a preview of the administration proposals, said yesterday "very little new legislation" would be required to put the program into operation.

In a letter to the president, Benson said parts of the program are now and other parts have been operating, though not fully developed. Benson recommended launching "pilot operations" in not less than 50 of the 1,000 low-income counties during the year starting July 1.

He said action by Congress will be needed to:

- 1—Authorize the farmers home administration to make loans to part-time farmers.
- 2—Concentrate special funds outside the present agricultural extension formula to conduct pilot programs and to extend aid to low-income farmers.
- 3—Appropriate new money outside the regular budget for extension, research, soil conservation, farm loans and related service.
- 4—Authorize 30 million dollars of loans by the farmers home administration. The report itself said these loans should be made available to supplement private and cooperative services.

Susan Hayward Recovers From Sleeping Pills

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Susan Hayward lay in a Hollywood hospital today, recovering from what detectives said was a suicide attempt. Her ex-husband waited for a chance to see her.

Jess Barker flew from New Orleans yesterday after learning that the red-haired star had been rushed to a hospital by detectives who broke down a door and saved her from what was termed an overdose of sleeping medicine.

Her doctor wouldn't let him see her last night. She was described as in "satisfactory" condition, but Barker said her physician said she was "not yet fully recovered."

Miss Hayward, 35, was found unconscious in her Sherman Oaks mansion before dawn yesterday by detectives called by her mother. Two empty sedative bottles were found near the pajama-clad actress.

There were no notes, but friends believed she was despondent over a long dispute with Barker. They were divorced in August in one of Hollywood's bitterest trials in recent years.

But when Barker learned in New Orleans yesterday of his former wife's plight, he said: "Oh, my God! I love her. I love her." Then, said witnesses, he broke down.

Her physician said Miss Hayward should be home in a couple of days.

Striking Workers At Sandia Base Enter Second Day

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Some 2,500 workers at the Sandia Base atomic center today entered the second day of a major strike but base spokesmen declared "essential operations at Sandia laboratory are continuing."

Pickets resumed their march at gates of the sprawling base after being withdrawn for the night. Some 900 workers of 12 American Federation of Labor unions picketed the vital link in the nation's atomic program yesterday.

Federal mediators today held separate meetings with union and company officials. Negotiations have halted completely and union officials appeared especially hesitant to have new negotiations. One official said the company was "one of the hardest" to deal with.

Meanwhile, a strike by security guards was headed off late yesterday when the International Guard Union of America (unaffiliated) and the Sandia Corp. signed a one-week extension effective until May 3.

Sandia Corp., a subsidiary of Western Electric, runs the base under contract with the Atomic Energy Commission. The A.F.L. Metal Trades Council, made up of 11 of the striking unions, has asked to replace Sandia Corp. The 12th striking union is the AFL Office Workers.

State Delegation Returns Sunday

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A delegation of some 400 New Mexicans probably will leave for home Sunday after several more days of sight-seeing in Mexico.

Leaders of the group met with President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines last night at his residence and heard the Mexican leader praise a friendship gesture by the New Mexico legislature.

The legislature passed a resolution declaring Mexican Independence Day, Sept. 16, a fiesta day in New Mexico. Cortines said the gesture will improve relations between Mexico and the United States.

"The significance of this memorial will have great bearings on relations between our countries," Cortines declared. "Our relations are not at their best. This will serve to strengthen them."

Optimists Begin Preparing Park for Babe Ruth Ball

The Optimist club this morning started work on its Babe Ruth League ball park at municipal park.

Club officials said graders were moving dirt and readying the grounds for games which will start after school is out for the summer.

The officials said two sponsors have been signed and that two more are needed. Those already obtained are Carper Drilling and the First National Bank.

At present 128 boys between 13 and 15 have registered to participate in the games. More are expected later.

The club said the league will become affiliated with the National Babe Ruth organization and will participate in district and regional play offs.

It was also announced that Continental Refinery has agreed to build the field's backstop.

BOND ISSUE APPROVED

LAS CRUCES (AP)—A $510,000 school bond issue has won overwhelming approval of Las Cruces School District voters. The vote was 488-34. The money will go for partial construction of a new high school and two elementary schools along with a hoped-for $720,000 in federal aid.

TO BUILD FENCE FIRST

SANTA FE (AP)—The state highway department has put at rest fears of cattlemen along U.S. 85 where a new road is to branch off near Watrous to old Ft. Union. The department says a fence will be built along the route to hold cattle before construction begins. The notice came out after stockmen said they feared their livestock would stray.

DEPARTMENT SEEKS $12,000

SANTA FE (AP)—The state highway department seeks $12,000 from insurers of Skousen-Hise Construction Co., Albuquerque, for material destroyed when the old highway bridge near Laguna burned recently. The bridge burned while it was being torn down. The money is the amount the salvageable material was valued at.

Defense off Matsu, Quemoy Big Question to U. S.—Red People

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American people and the Red Chinese have one thing in common: Both are left guessing whether the Eisenhower administration intends to defend the Matsu and Quemoy Islands, close to the Red China coast.

The administration itself is guessing, so far as is publicly known. All it has said is vague. Meanwhile, the American public get repeated jolts from developing events, as if bumping into a short-circuit.

There have been several jolts in recent weeks. They were startling when they happened. The net effect was confusion.

Chiang Kai-shek, the American ally, claims Matsu and Quemoy and has troops on them. His main forces are on Formosa. The United States, by treaty with Chiang, is pledged to defend Formosa but not Matsu and Quemoy.

In a special message to Congress Jan. 24 President Eisenhower asked Congress for specific authority to defend Formosa and "closely related localities." Those localities could mean Matsu and Quemoy. But Eisenhower didn't say so.

He said such authority from Congress—which Congress have him quickly—would reduce the possibility that the Red Chinese might misjudge the U. S. "purpose" and "precipitate a major crisis."

What he intended to do about Quemoy and Matsu, being vague in the message, could only leave the Chinese guessing. The president still hasn't said anything definite about the islands.

If all that the administration has said about them could be boiled down it would be this: The President will decide on fighting for Quemoy and Matsu if the Reds attack them and he thinks them Formosa is endangered.

A few weeks ago Adm. Robert B. Carney was quoted by some newsmen, after an off-the-record dinner with him, as expecting an attack on Quemoy and Matsu by the President said he had no such information.

To add to the confusion, Carney said he hadn't been quoted correctly. And newsmen who had been at the dinner didn't agree on just what he said.

Last Sunday, after a visit with

Six Paralytic—

Feb. 6
Dr. Malcolm H. Merrill, director of the California department of public health, said the department already "has telephoned or telegraphed local health officers, who were doing injections today, to stop them."

Dr. Merrill said, "six cases of polio, five of which are in California, were reported yesterday among the many thousands of children who received the Cutter vaccine."

"It is not known at this point whether these cases are related to injection of the vaccine or are naturally occurring infections. However, in order to fully study the situation the stop order has been given."

"If there is any difficulty with the vaccine it may be limited to a few production lots. However, further investigation will be necessary to completely identify such lots."

"Parents whose children received vaccine are advised to observe their children and to immediately call their physician concerning any evidence of illness."

The New Mexico public health department said no cases of paralytic polio had been reported in this state as a result of the vaccinations.

It said they also competed generally throughout the nation for routine hotel business and for national and regional conventions.

The Justice Department contended that the merger eliminated Hilton-Statler competition, particularly with regard to servicing large conventions.

The department suggested that in addition to the four cities named specifically for proposed divestiture action, the court determine what other properties might have to be disposed of "to dissipate" the alleged anti-trust violations.

Supreme Court Justices Hatch U.S. Revolution

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—Other revolutions may have been hatched in cellars but one of the biggest in American history—a social revolution—is being worked out in the Supreme Court.

There was nothing clandestine about this one: The nine justices made their decision—that racial segregation in public schools must end—in full view and in accord with the Constitution.

Cartoons picture revolutionaries with long hair, unshaven faces, fanatical eyes. The nine dignified justices are the exact opposite. Neatly groomed and relaxed in their long black gowns. But they are not detached behind their bench.

So far their decision is merely that. Now they must decide how and when their ruling is to be put into effect in every state which has had some form of segregation between white and Negro schools.

There can be no doubt of the revolutionary effect of school integration on relations between the races in the South.

White and Negro children, growing up in the same classrooms, are bound to have different attitudes from their ancestors.

There is no indication when the court will lay down the ground rules for ending two school systems. It has a triple problem as all it can hope for is that its answers are wise:

- 1—To find a way which will compel the states to end segregation.
- 2—To do it in a way which while integration is being carried out, will keep conflicts between the races to a minimum.
- 3—To do it in a way which will preserve, for the benefit of the country, respect for the court and its authority through compliance

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK By R. J. SCOTT

by the states.

The justices are between two intense fires: The insistence of Negroes that segregation must be ended by no later than September 1956 and the plea of the states, which suggest no time limit at all, to take it easy.

The justices themselves know they are under the microscope of the nation. They may take a longer view than the Negroes' lawyers who want a single school system no later than the fall of 1956.

The court may give the South more time than that. But it cannot offer a solution which drags out segregation too long without leaving itself open to severe criticism outside the South.

But this is not a one-way street. The Southern states themselves, knowing there is a limit to how much they can defy the court and constitutional processes without endangering the country, are under national observation, too.

The story of integration may be so far from being over that it is only really beginning. The reaction and compliance of the Southern states, and the people in them, still have to be revealed as integration is put in motion.

which gives the Communists a veto.

"I would not want those men to draw up a $5 sales contract for me," one officer told me.

"All the Poles and Czechs had to do to stop inspections in North Korea," said a Swiss officer, "was to vote against such an inspection as 'not necessary.'"

"That is what the Czechs and Poles did throughout the first 8 to 12 months after the armistice, when the Communists were completing their military buildup in North Korea."

The officers, who cannot be identified, said they had decided to tell what happened "because the world should know:

- "1—How masterful the Communists are at deceit and obstruction.
- "2—How adept the Communists are at manipulating events and reports to produce a record which, on its face, contrives to make them look honest and which fools some nations into believing they can deal with the Communists.

Swiss, Swedish Charge Neutral Panel 'Fare'

By FORREST EDWARDS
TOKYO (AP)—Swiss and Swedish officers say the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission is "a complete failure and a farce in Korea."

They accuse Communist Polish and Czech members of the four-nation body of blocking inspections that would have revealed a Red military buildup in North Korea in violation of the armistice.

They also were critical of Allied negotiations who accepted the Armistice clause which set up the rice police. The commission has to operate by a majority rule.

Desegregation Mishandled By Papers, Former Editor Says

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP)—A former editor said today that newspapers should give more attention to the "quiet, constructive and un spectacular" progress of racial integration in the schools.

The subject has received "minimum coverage," and stories on it too often have been "unbalanced and frequently distorted," Charles A. McKnight said in an address prepared for the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors ASNE.

McKnight, former editor of the Charlotte, N. C. News, now is director of the Southern Education Reporting Service at Nashville, Tenn.

The service was created by a group of Southern editors, headed by Virginius Dabney of the Richmond Times-Dispatch, to report events in Southern states growing out of the Supreme Court Decision outlawing segregation. It is supported by Ford Foundation funds.

"Desegregation more often than not has been accomplished in the past year quietly and without incident, and more often than not Southern political leaders have not accurately reflected the views of many responsible Southerners," McKnight said.

U. S. Changes Role, Gives Reds Propaganda Treatment

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States got in on an act where it wasn't supposed to be playing. It used propaganda on Red China when the Red Chinese were supposed to be making some of their best propaganda.

Secretary of State Dulles suddenly warned about a Chinese air power buildup opposite Formosa just as the Chinese were anxious to appear as peace-lovers to the 28 other Asian-African nations meeting with them at Bandung, Indonesia.

And President Eisenhower asked congress for $3,530,000,000 in foreign aid, most of it for Asia, just when the Red Chinese were most eager to win over to their side the other Afro-Asians, or as many as they could influence.

The United States, the Europeans, and Russia were not invited to Bandung. The great mass of people represented there are colored and impoverished. All have reason to be concerned about the outbreak of war over Formosa.

And, because of their poverty and their desire to get on their economic feet, the help they had received, or hoped to get, from the United States would be a factor in keeping them from too close alliance with Red China.

On Sunday, just before the Bandung meeting opened, Dulles reported the Red Chinese had greatly intensified their airpower opposite Formosa. Eisenhower followed this quickly with a statement aimed at Bandung.

He said "peace was in grave jeopardy," and that the leaders at Bandung had an "opportunity, at a critical hour, to voice the peaceful aspirations of the peoples of the world and exert a practical influence for peace."

Later in the week Dulles minimized a bit the danger of war over Formosa now. But the statements by him and Eisenhower didn't make it easier for the Chinese at Bandung to look too passively peaceful.

And at Bandung two American friends, Iraq and the Philippines, hit Red China with a one-two punch. It seems reasonable to think they discussed with the United States, before they went to Bandung, the role they would play there.

Army Rescinds Order, Takes Troops Off KP

TOKYO (AP)—The U. S. 9th Corps has rescinded a recent order which would have put troops back on kitchen police duties.

The change would have cost 225 Japanese their culinary and dish washing jobs.

The Army explained, "we would rather have them (the soldiers) out training than dish washing."

Inside WASHINGTON MARCH OF EVENTS

Conflict 'Over Formosa Could Be Oddest War' | Long Range Missiles Seen as Lone Weapons

WASHINGTON—There is a possibility that if war breaks out over Formosa, it may be one of the strangest conflicts ever fought.

Some United States intelligence experts anticipate that the contest would be waged almost exclusively with long range guided missiles.

The Soviets reportedly have equipped Red China with atomic weapons believed to be imitations of American long range atomic weapons.

Both Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Vice President Richard M. Nixon have made it clear that the United States has huge atomic stockpiles in the Pacific which of course would be available for the defense of Formosa.

The Chinese Communists lack shipping to support a mass invasion of Formosa and intelligence officials believe they might attempt to beat the Nationalists into submission by long range missile bombardment.

CIVIL DEFENSE—Despite the surveys being launched by the Civil Defense administration, it's going to be a year or two before a workable plan for protecting United States populations from hydrogen attack is developed.

Pushed into action by the recent disclosure of the widespread danger from radioactive fallout from the H-bomb, Civilian Defense officials have speeded up their operations sharply.

However, the problem is so immense, and requires such lengthy study, that there is little hope of laying down concrete evacuation plans for United States cities for at least another year or two.

The $12 million requested by President Eisenhower will give a good start toward developing a program, but state and city governments also must be shoved into action.

SECURITY VS. LOYALTY—The President's security program is almost certain to be heading for changes. Both Republicans and Democrats have expressed the belief that an overall study should be made and it has been proposed that an independent commission be set up to make recommendations.

The general feeling is that the question of security—it used to be merely loyalty—has grown so rapidly over the past 15 years that the government's methods of handling it is grossly inadequate.

Senator John Stennis (D, Mississippi), summed up much Capital Hill thinking by saying: "I don't think there is a great deal that has (in the Eisenhower administration's security program), but I think people do not understand the system, the members of Congress do not fully understand how it works because it has many ramifications."

It's been built one piece on top of another without much basic planning. It gets into presidential and congressional campaigns.

1956 BATTLEGROUND—Ohio and New York shape up today as two of the hottest senatorial battlegrounds for 1956.

The vote will prove decisive on whether the Democrats or Republicans control the Senate no matter what the outcome of the presidential race.

In Ohio, Senator George Bender must seek election for a full six-year term on the GOP ticket but there is a strong possibility that Democratic Gov. Frank Lausche may be in the battle against him. Lausche is a popular vote getter through out Ohio and would stand a strong chance of becoming the first elected Democratic senator from the Buckeye State since the early 1930s.

In New York, the question centers around Senator Herbert Lehman (D), who conceivably might retire, creating a wide-open race for both Republicans and Democrats.

Should the veteran New Yorker decide to step aside, New York City Mayor Robert Wagner looks like the best bet to seek the Senate seat once held by his father while New York Attorney General James J. Javits, fresh from his resounding victory over former Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., might well enter the race for the Republicans, creating a nip-and-tuck situation.

German Troops To Enter Paris

PARIS (AP)—The last time German soldiers entered Paris they goosestepped in legions behind Hitler's swastikas. Next time, they will move slowly, singly and almost humbly.

They came as conquerors in 1940 to begin four long years of Nazi occupation following the collapse of French defenses. Now they will be fellow members of a defense system designed to protect the Western world.

For a long time there won't be many German soldiers in the French capital. They will scarcely be noticed outside military and political circles. But their presence will be the first impact on the Paris scene of West German rearmament—an issue which has aroused and divided this nation more than two years.

Present plans call for the Bonn government to be admitted into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as its 15th member by May 12 at the latest. The foreign min-

"I like my water heater because it's ELECTRIC. And since it's ELECTRIC it's completely SAFE!" ...says Mrs. R. L. Crider of East Grand Plains, New Mexico

"Even with two electric water heaters in our home, we never worry about the children playing around them. We have even considered building a linen closet over our table top model. To me, the table tops are the best to have because they are so easy to place. Electric water heaters are so quiet, and they have never given us a bit of trouble."

"Of course, we have an electric dishwasher, and we always have instant hot water. With our two electric water heaters, I think we are really a true electric family."

Yes, and a true modern family, for in water heaters, as well as all appliances, if it's modern, it's electric.
