Pastor Suggests Anti-Gossip Club

Bridling the tongue is an art too difficult for most moderns, says Dr. Roy McClain in the Baptist Hour message scheduled for Sunday morning over station KSPV at 8:30 o'clock.

The need to trace rumor to its source is expressed in his talk on the Commandment: "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor."

The duty of an individual when gossip arises against a neighbor or friend is clearly defined, and the need for more words of praise and fewer words of blame is expressed in this Sunday's Baptist Hour message.

LONDON DEBUT

LONDON (AP)—Ethel Barrymore, soprano daughter of actress Ethel Barrymore, made her London debut as a singer at Wigmore Hall last night. She sang music dating from the 13th century to the present. One critic said she charmed her audience but another suggested she would be wise to confine her singing to a "small circle of very dear friends."

Estimates based on other states' experience show some 10 per cent would drop from old age assistance rolls and about 1 per cent from dependent children rolls.

At 100 per cent of need, with a lien law, $6,020,470 would be needed from the state for old age, dependent children, needy blind, disabled and general assistance.

This is a little less than estimated revenue needed without a lien law but is still over the 5 1/2 million the department expects to get next year.

At 75 per cent of need, again with a lien law, the amount needed slides to $3,930,000.

One point Hintz emphasized is the department's need to get the percentage of federal matching funds as high as possible.

He said there is an ideal point for welfare payments where the federal money percentage is at its highest compared with the state contribution. He said this department is striving to meet this level.

"pretty close" estimate of expected revenues next year—$5 1/2 million. And it does not include administrative or institution costs.

Plan No. 1 is based on keeping the stricter rules on eligibility laid down by the Welfare Board. These include stricter definitions of who is eligible for aid and tighter requirements on property ownership.

If the department, under this plan, paid only 75 per cent of need, then $4,117,170 on state funds would be needed. That is well below expected revenues.

Two other choices both involve passing a lien law.

Although it is difficult, Hintz said, to protect figures of cases which would withdraw from the rolls in event of a lien law, es-

Welfare Director Clears Up Financial Status of Department; Tells Its Needs

SANTA FE (AP)—Welfare Director Murray Hintz has somewhat cleared up the status of the department's financial standing, its needs and future plans, although the figures he quotes are just estimates.

Hintz said department statisticians are getting ready to piece together a full picture of the agency's operations for presentation to Gov. Simms and other state officials.

A special session of the Legislature has been considered a strong possibility since welfare payments were slashed April 1.

From information now on hand, Hintz said, there are several possible alternatives to get payments back to normal.

The department has drawn up two plans which show estimated revenues needed. One is based on adoption of the controversial lien law.

The first plan sets $6,308,450 as the amount of state funds needed to pay 100 per cent of need to the five major categories of assistance next year.

That is nearly a million dollars more than what Hintz calls a Diploma recipients represented twenty-two states and Hawaii, Canada, Arabia, Iran, Japan, Hong Kong, Korea, Samoa, Argentina, and Mexico.

Mrs. Worcester, daughter of Mrs. Nelle Booker of 701 Richardson in Artesia, received the Bachelor of Arts degree in English. She is a graduate of Artesia high school and her husband, Mr. John Worcester, are now making their home in California.

Mrs. Worcester was recently elected to Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary fraternity, in recognition of her outstanding academic record. She has also been active in the student government at Mills college.

Keynoting Mills Degree Day ceremonies was the presentation of an honorary L.L.D. degree to commencement speaker Agnes Ernst Meyer (Mrs. Eugene Meyer) nationally noted author, Washington, D. C. Little Black Dress Giving Away too Brown for Fall

By DOROTHY ROE Associated Press Women's Editor

The little black dress so dear to the hearts of American women is going to give way to the little brown dress this fall.

Brown is the new darling of the fashion designers, it appears from current previews of fall ready-to-wear. Every shade of brown, from blond to black coffee is seen in major collections in New York's crowded garment center, now a milling melee of buyers and fashion reporters.

Christian Dior likes brown. So do Adele Simpson, Ben Reig, Vera Maxwell, Claire McCardell, Oleg Cassini and other top designers who help decide months in advance what American women are going to wear next season.

The new clothes are going to make a lot of women happy, and even please many husbands, because they are flattering, functional, not drastically different in line from current styles—and they will cost no more than they did last year. In some cases prices are even slightly less.

The costume stands out as the No. 1 favorite for fall. This may be a full-length coat and a matching or coordinated dress, a dress-and-jacket combination or an ensemble consisting of short topper, matching skirt and blouse.

Costumes are highlights of practically every collection, shown in handsome woollens often combined with satin. New looking and highly wearable is the straight, full-length coat with matching skirt and coordinated blouse, being shown in all fabrics, from casual tweed to sleek broadcloth.

Dior, who usually saves his fireworks for his Paris opening, has done an American collection that continues his "A-line" of spring, but calls it "Alpha" instead. This is the narrow-shouldered, low-belted or jacketed outfit with skirt flaring toward the hemline, either pleated or with bell-shaped fullness.

Suit jackets can be any length for fall. Adele Simpson shows five different suit silhouettes: the "little overcoat" suit, with three-quarter length boxy jacket and matching skirt or dress; the tunic suit; the 26-inch fitted jacket; the 26-inch loose jacket which hugs the hips, and the costume with brief curving bolero over a matching dress.

While the slim silhouette dominates the daytime picture, there are notable exceptions, such as Dior's "Alpha" line and Claire McCardell's full-skirted casual dresses.

For after-5 wear, many full-skirted styles are shown, but there are more long evening dresses than formerly, these about evenly divided between slim satin sheaths and the "picture" type of elaborate ball gowns with full skirts and even, in some instances, trains.

The tawny tones of blond satin appear again and again in cocktail and dinner fashions, and the same fabric often accents wool daytime outfits.

Many slim, dark, wool dresses achieve a sort of schoolgirl look by the addition of white satin collars and bow ties—a style that will appeal to the tailored career-girl type.

Skirt lengths are slightly shorter, if anything—but only slightly. And the threat of a flat-chested feminine citizenry seems to be past. Busts are not accented as much as formerly, but in practical

Chemical Report Throws Clues on Grail Mystery

AP Newsfeatures—

COLUMBUS, Ohio—Publication of a 1941 report from a chemist has added one more item in a long dispute about the Holy Grail. The grail is the cup from which Christ drank at the last supper. It has been sought for centuries and was the object of many romantic quests in the Middle Ages.

When the Chalice of Antioch was dug up in southern Turkey in 1910, some people said the battered inner cup of the 7 1/2-inch chalice was the grail. These claims were later rejected by most authorities. The chalice is now on exhibit at the Cloisters in New York City and the museum officials say only that it is considered an early Christian object of the fourth or fifth century.

But in 1941, long before the museum acquired the chalice in 1950, it was taken to Dr. Earle R. Caley now an Ohio State University chemist. His report has now been published for the first time by the Princeton University Press. It is an appendix to a chapter by James J. Rorimer in "Studies in Art and Literature for Belle Da Costa Greene."

Dr. Caley is widely known for his applications of chemistry to the field of archaeology. He does not say that the chalice is the Holy Grail, but he was able to refute the opinion that it is a modern forgery.

He says he could not take samples for analysis, but based his opinion on studies of the condition of its surface and metal. He considered the possibility that the cup might have been fitted together recently from pieces of old metal and said this was "altogether unlikely." The metal would be unworkable because of its condition, he says.

To Open 3-Game Series, Two Here, One at Roswell

ODESSA, Tex. (AP)—The Odessa Eagles broke out of a 6-6 deadlock with five big runs in the eighth inning tonight as they defeated Artesia 11-7 for a clean sweep of the two-game series.

The five-run eighth inning came on five base hits including a two-run homer by Catcher Ed Peacock and was aided by three Artesia errors.

Relief Pitcher Dick Strombach picked up the win. It was his three-run homer in the sixth inning which put Odessa back in the ball game at 6-6.

In the top half of that inning, Dan Howard had walloped a tremendous 400-foot homer with one on to give Artesia a short-lived 6-3 lead.

Bob Herron, a transplanted outfielder, was charged with the pitching loss. He was relieved by Manager Tom Jordan following Peacock's homer in the eighth.

Manager Keeps Busy Trying to Keep Within Range of Yankees

By The Associated Press
Manager Marty Marion's busier than a one-legged man in a sack race these days what with keeping his Chicago White Sox within range of the New York Yankees and holding off the Cleveland Indians.

He had a workout last night, juggling players and shuffling pitchers while splitting a two-night with Baltimore. The Sox lost 6-5 and won 2-0. That put them two games behind the American League-leading Yanks, who lost to Detroit 8-6, and a length ahead of the Indians, who lost at Washington 3-0.

Trailing 5-4 in the first game Marion pulled center fielder Mimi Mino to play third and moved third baseman George Kell to first in place of young Ron Jackson so he could keep pinch hitter Bob Neiman in the game. Neiman, a long-ball threat, played left field.

Neiman wound up hitless, but Nellie Fox tied it at 5-5 with a homer. And when reliever Millard Howell went 3-0 against Harry Dorish in the seventh, Marion brought on Sandy Consuegra to pitch. Sandy got out of the frame, but was tagged for a run-scoring single by Bobby Young in the eighth that broke a four-game Chicago winning string.

In the nightcap, Mike Fornielle breezed along for six innings on a 1-0 lead after Fox had swatted his second homer of the night. But when Fornielle issued his first walk to open the seventh, Marion called in Billy Pierce. And when Pierce faltered with a 2-0 lead in the eighth, Consuegra showed up again to pack it away.

Boston made it seven out of eight in the other AL game, beating Kansas City 9-6.

In the National, Brooklyn lost to Cincinnati 5-2, but stayed 11 1/2 games to the good as second-place Chicago lost to New York's Giants 7-2.

St. Louis belted three home runs to beat Pittsburgh 7-3 and Philadelphia blanked the Milwaukee Braves 4-0.

Billy Hoefl won his sixth while beating the Yankees, although needing relief help from Babe Birrer. The Tigers wrapped up their scoring with Jim Delsing and Frank House hitting back-to-back homers in a four-run fourth. Eddie Robinson homered twice for the Yanks.

Washington ended a seven-game losing streak as young Dean Stone held the tribe to three hits. Johnny Groth and Roy Sievers homered for the Nats, who scored six runs in the fourth to beat Bobby Feller.

Rookie Rudy Minarcin gave the Braves four hits and had them shut out on two safeties until the ninth, when Junior Gilliam homered after a walk. Carl Erskine was the loser. Gene Conley was replaced after he issued a walk with the bases loaded in a two-run fifth.

Al Schoendienst and Solly Hemus homered to get the Cards rolling, but Bill Virdon's two-run clout put it away in the seventh. Paul LaPalme saved Luis Arroyo's seventh victory by cutting off the Pirates a run short at 5-4 in the top of the seventh.

Mel Parnell won his first of the season for the Red Sox, with help from Tom Hurd in a four-run Kansas City ninth. Jackie Hensien hit a two-run homer in the 11-hit Boston attack as winless Ray Herbert lost his sixth.

Moore Attributes Success to Use Of Relaxation

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Archie Moore, the old medicine man, looked relaxed as a sunning cat as he lay back on his spine before going in to sign the official papers for his 175-pound title fight with Bobo Olson here a week from tonight. He stroked his black goatee and said he was relaxed too.

"Relaxism, that's what I practice, relaxism," he said. "That's how I been able to make weight the way I do. Nobody ever saw me when I wasn't relaxed, not even when I was in a fight. I never felt tense during a fight in my life."

"You mean to say," he was asked, "that you were relaxed when Harold Johnson knocked you down in your other title fight here?"

"Never felt more relaxed in my life," he said. "You saw what I did to Harold after that happened."

The 38-year-old veteran of a million fights, more or less, looks as though he might already have shed about 20 pounds of the 200 he was packing when he began training for Olson. That would leave him five more pounds to pare off before the weigh-in at noon next Wednesday. Archie said not to worry about him making it.

"I won't be as strong as I was when I weighed 196 1/2 for Nino Valdes on May 2," he conceded. "I was carrying some extra fat for that one and just felt comfortable. But I won't be fighting as big a man this time and I won't need to be so strong."

"Some days when I'm taking it off fast this way I feel a little weak. But then I take it easier for a day until my strength returns. Nobody knows me as well as I know myself, and nobody else can relax the way I do. Olson couldn't relax during a fight because his style wouldn't let him."

Lanning Says Attendance at Games Is Still Under Par

Steve Lanning, president of the Artesia baseball club, said today that attendance is still under par for the NuMexers' home games, and that fans will have to show more interest if the club is to continue operations.

"Attendance is showing a slight increase," Lanning said, "but it isn't enough. More people should be attending the home games."

Lanning, in a statement last week, said this month would determine the future of the Artesia club. The slight increase has been recorded since his statement.

Lanning said the first 25 games played here this year showed an attendance decrease of 55 per cent off last year's after the same number of home games.

"We've got to pick up some more," Lanning said. "As anyone can see, we are far below this time last year."

The tetam plays Roswell here tonight, goes to Roswell tomorrow night, and comes back here against the Rockets Saturday night. The Friday game was originally slated for play here, but an agreement was reached on the change in schedule because of the crowding of the Cotton Queen at Roswell Friday evening.

The Rockets will come to Artesia June 21 in return for Friday's game.

Sarazen Offers New Name for National Open

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The 55th National Open golf championship beginning today, says Gene Sarazen, should be called the "fire engine open."

"You're going to have to have hook-and-ladders parked at strategic spots around the course," the Germantown, N. Y., squire added. "That's to get the balls out of the cypress trees."

"The cypress trees are so close and so thick in foliage it's impossible to hit a ball through them. The ball gets stuck. So what are you going to do? Bring out the ladders."

Further commenting on the Olympic Club lakeside course, scene of the tournament, Gene said:

"And that rough I never saw such thick juicy grass in my life. I want to find out what kind of fertilizer they use. I want to grow the stuff for silage back on my cattle farm."

Clem Hands 7-0 Defeat to Russell

Clem slapped a 7-2 defeat onto Russell here yesterday. Guttering won the game while Foster took credit for the loss.

Clem scored two runs in the first and second innings, one in the third, and two in the fourth to lead 7-0.

Russell scored its two runs in the bottom of the fifth.

Due Process of Law

A GOOD many people are imposed upon by other people, denied their rights and privileges and frequently say nothing or do nothing about it.

In other cases people are imposed upon and denied their rights by those charged with the responsibility of protecting their rights.

There is, of course, always a recourse and a higher authority and we should exercise that right to use that higher authority more often than we do today.

We have argued many times that when we neglect, fail or refuse to use and exercise our rights we lose them. That is true regarding the rights guaranteed us under the U.S. constitution, the bill of rights, federal, state, county and city statute.

Recently in our own state we had a splendid example of where a 15-year-old girl was denied some of her American rights. The fact was she was placed in the state hospital at Las Vegas supposedly for some tests and examination although no doctor had recommended this and there apparently was no reason for it to be done.

But there she was being held without due process of law. She had not been given a hearing as guaranteed under the law. Her rights had not been granted to her.

The State Supreme court not only ordered her released but they branded the court order under which she was sent to the institution as illegal and void.

In this particular instance the girl's father was able to employ legal counsel to protect her and to secure for her the rights to which she is entitled. He had to go to a higher authority—the state supreme court—but they acted quickly.

We sometimes wonder if this child was sent to this state institution illegally how many others may at the same place sent on an illegal court order. We wonder how many people, who have been denied their rights do not have the legal fees to employ counsel to enjoy these rights when it becomes necessary to go to court to enjoy them.

After all it is as much the duty and obligation of law enforcement officers and district attorneys to protect the rights and privileges of citizens and to see they are not imposed upon and denied these rights as it is their duty to prosecute those charged with crimes.

We have gotten too busy enforcing laws, arresting those charged with crimes and prosecuting them to pay any attention to those being denied rights guaranteed to them as American citizens.

viet Union proposed a new plan providing for a control organ with some inspection rights. Western reaction was that this proposal represented a concession by Russia but that is still left much area for disagreement.

Looking forward to the Big Four meeting generally, Adenauer said, "I believe that the conferences just ahead are finding a more favorable climate" than existed a year ago.

Adenauer said this is so because the West has grown stronger with organization of the Western European Union and the entry of West Germany into NATO and also because "it has become quite clear that the Soviet Union, in any case, is in need of a lengthy pause for relaxation in order to meet the demands which are posed by her internal economic tasks."

Finally, Adenauer said, the very fruitfulness of the atomic and

Revisions Of SS Program Given Go-Ahead Today

By William F. Arbogast

WASHINGTON (AP)—Broad and costly revisions of the social security program were given a legislative go-round today by Democratic House leaders.

Plans agreed on at a meeting attended by Speaker Rayburn of Texas, Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts and Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee call for action at this session on a bill to benefit principally women and all disabled employees.

The Ways and Means Committee, which like the House is under Democratic control, may start consideration of the proposals next week.

Changes backed by the Democrats, and likely to have substantial Republican support, would:

1. Lower the pension eligibility age for women from 65 to 62 years, affecting immediately a million women and costing an estimated 350 to 400 million dollars a year.
2. Provide for immediate benefit payments to insured workers permanently and totally disabled, regardless of age. This would cost up to $1,400,000,000 a year and affect from 1,200,000 to 1,700,000 persons. At present such workers don't get benefit payments until they reach 65.
3. Continue benefit payments for children past the age of 18 who are physically or mentally incapacitated. The cost of this would be relatively small, sponsors said.

Although no agreement was reached, the legislation also may extend coverage, on a voluntary basis, to some professional and self-employed groups not now covered.

The proposed changes would require eventual adjustment of the present schedule of payments into the social security fund by employees and employers. Each now pays 2 per cent on the first $4,200 of the worker's yearly earnings. Republican committee members complained that they were not consulted over the Democrats' plans, but there were no threats of united opposition to the changes.

hydrogen bombs has improved prospects of agreement. Adenauer came to Harvard to receive an honorary degree. "As a small token of gratitude" he offered Harvard two scholarships for a year's study by American students in Germany.

Operation Alert Continues; Ike Holds Meeting

By STERLING F. GREEN

EMERGENCY PRESS HEADQUARTERS, Operation Alert—President Eisenhower sped from his hideaway White House today to the emergency headquarters of the Defense Department for a meeting with the National Security Council in the wake of yesterday's missile—but imaginary—atomic attack.

On tap for the practice session was an up-to-the-hour briefing on the mock devastation in 61 major population and industrial centers.

Presumably the problem was to weigh the theoretical devastation and loss of life as a guide to the action the President would order if the vast disaster exercise were a reality.

Ahead of the meeting Eisenhower announced one such action. He issued a mock declaration of martial law to mobilize "the authority and resources of the federal government" to help get a badly disjointed nation back in top fighting gear.

A spokesman said it was Eisenhower's view that martial law declaration was necessary to the national interest until Congress—supposedly, but not actually, scattered—could reconvene and normal channels of government be re-established.

The Security Council, headed by the President, is the top administrative policy agency in matters related to the nation's safety and defense. Its members include the vice president, the secretary of defense and the secretary of the treasury among others. Additional officials sit in on its meetings as their tasks are affected.

Ready for that group were reports showing that the "attack" heralded by yesterday's screaming sirens, left—on paper—7,636,000 dead and 5,902,000 injured. These figures were incomplete with a number of cities not yet in with their estimates.

Advance warning before the sirens sounded about noon yesterday. Defense officials estimated that a real attack with no warning under yesterday's conditions would have killed or wounded 37 1/2 per cent of the 34 million.

The bombers in the air over the United States were not all imaginary. The Strategic Air Command disclosed that Stratofort B47s and B36 Superfortresses successfully "radar bombed" Wichita, Kan.; Birmingham, Ala., and Memphis, Tenn.

Damage Light In Fire Here

Damage to the starter and wiring of an automobile owned by Sidney Towse, Roswell, was the result of a fire here at 12:45 p.m. today, Artesia firemen reported. Firemen said the automobile was at the A&D Grocery when a short in the starting mechanism started the fire.

Revolt Against Peron Shakes Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—A revolt broke out today, with two bombings by plane on the Government House in downtown Buenos Aires. The revolt came a few hours after the Vatican excommunicated President Juan D. Peron for actions against the Roman Catholic Church.

The government attributed the revolt of naval aviation forces, and said the army and regular air force were loyal.

The first bombing took place shortly before noon Argentine time. Four to six fighter planes passed low over Government House the Casa Rosada and dropped three bombs, two of which hit the target. There was hand to hand fighting outside the building, and it appeared that Peron forces were succeeding in putting down the revolt.

Then shortly after 3 p.m. new waves of bombers dropped high explosives in the area of the Government House, on Buenos Aires famous Plaza de Mayo near the National Cathedral. At least a dozen bombs fell within eight minutes.

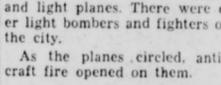

A great plume of black smoke rose from the Plaza district. It seemed likely that there were a number of deaths.

There was an one wave of three bombers in the afternoon incident. Another wave had two bombers and light planes. There were other light bombers and fighters over the city.

As the planes circled, anti-aircraft fire opened on them.

Summerfield Out To Lick Postal Pay Problems

By BEM PRICE

WASHINGTON (AP)—With a stamp of approval from Congress, Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield is out to lick an old pay problem.

A new bill signed into law by President Eisenhower provides for annual pay increases ranging from $160 to $4,400 and for a new system of classifying postal workers.

Ever since he took over as postmaster general in 1953, Summerfield has been trying to do something about the Post Office Department's pay system. Employees were paid by title instead of by job and there was no incentive pay.

In fact, across-the-board salary increases granted by Congress from time to time so narrowed pay gaps between jobs that in some instances a postmaster made only five times as much as the janitor in the same post office. He would normally be expected to make 8 to 10 times as much.

A research firm hired by Summerfield early in 1954 studied 29 post offices, scattered from New York to Kansas, and discovered they included 92 different pay ranges and rates.

Under the new law pay ranges are reduced to 20 in the entire postal service and 49 job classifications fall within those ranges.

Under the old plan the title "clerk" could cover a multitude of jobs—everything from a file clerk to a skilled distributor of mail, a job which requires a phenomenal memory.

In setting up the 48 classifications in the postal field service, the department specifies basic function, duties and responsibilities. The post office has never before had such an exhaustive system of classifying work by job description.

Further, the new law provides for automatic steps in salary over a seven-year period provided an employ has performed 52 weeks of satisfactory service.

The salary scale under the new plan ranges from $2,870 and moves upward over seven years at a rate of $100 a year. The top salary grade 20 is $14,800 and provides for no annual increases.

Congress estimates that the new pay scales will cost an additional 164 million dollars annually.

ROAD TO OBLIVION

DETROIT (AP)—A driveway that vanished after she backed her car over it gave Mrs. Jesse J. Brewer of suburban St. Clair Shores the surprise of her life.

"It sank slowly," she said, "and didn't stop until a section 20 feet long 10 feet wide had dropped about six feet."

The driveway is over the city's main sewer interceptor. It was a cave-in.

Training for Custodians Is Better Than in Years Past

Silver City, N. M. School Administrators over the country are becoming more concerned with the training of their building custodians in how to maintain the high priced buildings by better cleaning methods, more efficient ways of doing the job and a cheaper way to have all this done than ever before.

Thompson from Dedona Beach, Calif. has been recognized as an outstanding authority in custodial work for a great number of years. He himself says he has spent the past 39 years preaching that the job of keeping buildings clean and safe for children is of great importance and that the custodian is a very important member of any school staff.

The first school of its kind to be held at New Mexico Western was labeled a success by the custodians present and they are looking forward to more schooling in their field.

Layton Hunter, Supt. of Buildings and Grounds at NMWC said that he hoped the next school held would be attended by school administrators and teachers as well as custodians.

Writer of Song On Little Annie Sought By 'Girl'

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. - The original Little Annie Rooney, who inspired the famous song, is seeking news of its composer, Michael Nolan, a relative who wrote the London music hall ditty in her honor when she was a baby.

Mrs. Eric M. Erickson, whose name was Annie Rooney before she was married, says she remembers her father, William Rooney, bouncing her on his knee while he sang: "She's my sweetheart, I'm her beau."

"Annie never forget that's your song," her father would say. And her Uncle John Nolan would add:

"Mike composed that song just for you, little Annie Rooney."

That was some 85 years ago, shortly after the Rooneys, with little Annie, came to the United States from England, and settled first in Providence. Annie was only 14 months old then, and the family lost touch with their relatives in England. But the song lived on.

Today Mrs. Erickson lives in nearby Fairhaven, and recently has become interested in finding out what happened to her mother's cousin Michael, who made her name so famous. She says:

"If he's living he's probably in his 90s, but he might still be living. Members of my mother's family lived to a great old age. All I know of are gone now but I think perhaps someone in England might have known the composer Michael Nolan, and I might get in touch with some of two family again."

The frail, white-haired Mrs. Erickson has composed some songs herself, and still likes to play the piano. But she remembers how the name Annie Rooney used to embarrass her when she was a child.

"I still remember my first day at school," she says. "I wouldn't tell the teacher my name, and when I burst into tears when the little boy behind me said, 'Her name is Annie Rooney.'"

DEAD MAN FINED LITTLE ROCK, Ark. - A dead man was fined $51 and given a one-day suspended sentence in Little Rock Traffic Court on a charge of drunken driving.

Court officials said later they didn't know that Doyle E. Gullick was killed Saturday in a car-train crash.

A professional bondsman who acted for Gullick said his case was called originally May 23, he was found guilty and allowed to go free with a certain amount of time to pay his fine.

The $51 to pay the fine was turned over to the court yesterday, three days after Gullick died.

Texas Pitcher Set Aside By Individualism

AP Newsfeatures

ABILENE, Texas - Andres Alonso is an efficient, smooth-working pitcher for this city's entry in the Class B West Texas-New Mexico League. But he has certain individual characteristics that set him aside.

Andy, as he is called by his teammates, has been around baseball a long time. He got his start several years ago (no one knows exactly how many) in his native Panama and other Central and South American countries.

When he isn't thinking about it, Andy will admit that he played from 12 to 15 years in the tropics before coming to Roswell of the Class C Longhorn League. In off moments he will say he's 33.

"It's not too important," he'll tell you in his heavy accent. "Just so you will wear."

And Alonso, a tireless performer, gets his share of "weens." Last year he won 22 and lost 16 for a fifth place club. He pitched in 58 games, 27 of them complete.

That was the best year he had in his three years in this country. His first season up north he suffered a bad ankle injury in spring training and ended up with a 17-17 mark with a second division team at Roswell. The next year was about the same when he kicked around the Longhorn League with Roswell, Artesia and Big Spring.

Alonso uses an easy, fluid motion on the mound. But he'll tell you he had to learn "how to peech all over" when he came to the United States.

But Andy has caught on to U. S. style pitching. How will he fare this year on the mound?

"Oh, I'll ween some," he says modestly. "Old Andy's gonna be all right."

NO CONSENT SLIP SOMERVILLE, N. J. - Eight-year-old Rose Simon wasn't keen on receiving her Salk polio vaccine inoculation yesterday.

She began whimpering, and just as a health officer was about to give her the shot she shouted: "I personally didn't sign a consent slip."

Rose got the inoculation anyway, plus a lollipop for consolation.
