Forecasters Predict Shift In Gale's Path

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Diane slowed to a crawl over the Atlantic today and forecasters watched closely to determine whether she would swing to a more northwesterly course.

Her 115-mile winds were poised about 300 miles east-southeast of Charleston, S. C., and an equal distance from Cape Hatteras, N. C. Hurricane warnings flew from Fernandina, Fla., to Wilmington, N. C., and storm warnings on each side of that area from St. Augustine, Fla., to the Virginia capes. "There's an old standing rule among hurricanes," said Walter Davis, storm forecaster in the Weather Bureau's storm warning center here. "That is, when a hurricane slows its forward pace it has a tendency to change directions."

Roadblock Ends

"Diane would have changed to a more northwesterly course earlier but was blocked by a high pressure ridge to the north. This high pressure is beginning to weaken and pull back out over the sea. As this roadblock breaks up, there is reason to expect the delayed change of direction may come about."

Such a change, if it occurred, would be bad news for the North Carolina - Virginia section raked only five days ago by Hurricane Connie with a loss of 42 lives and (Continued on Page Four)

Pickett Defends Charges That Legislators "Sold Out" Public

SANTA FE (AP)—Corporation Commissioner Ingram B. Pickett has defended his charges that some state legislators "sold the people down the river" in approving constitutional amendment No. 6.

Pickett made public yesterday his answer to a letter from State Sen. Morgan of Portales.

Morgan said the "sold-the-people" statement Pickett made was untrue. Morgan also criticized Pickett for campaigning against the amendment at government expense.

The amendment, which will be voted on Sept. 20, provides for a new Corporation Commission of five members instead of the present three. It junks the Public Service Commission and gives the Corporation Commission its jurisdiction. Pickett has argued that the provision for selecting, rather than electing, members might be applied to make the commission appointive instead of elective.

"Can you assure me, Senator Morgan," Pickett wrote, "that the 23rd and 24th session of the Legislature will allow me to continue until 1961 in the office for which the people of the state of New Mexico elected me in 1954? Remember, Senator, the constitutional amendment on which we are voting does not guarantee this..."

End of Drought Seen By Experts

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—The State Drought Committee has announced that if recent rains continue, the organization is apt to go out of business.

Chairman Mark Rickman cautioned, however, that the drought isn't broken yet. In a report yesterday, he said there are still seven counties—including flood-hit Bernalillo—that will need more precipitation if they are to have enough winter feed.

Rickman said that as it stands right now, there appears to be no immediate need in most of the state for another extension of the federal-state feed program.

The counties still in distressed condition, besides Bernalillo, were listed as Santa Fe, Colfax, Union, Harding, Torrance and Socorro.

Kennecott Union Demands Parity Arizona Workers

By The Associated Press Striking New Mexico unions have ratified a Kennecott Copper Co. wage proposal, but have refused to return to work until a similar offer is made at company properties in Arizona.

Workers at Kennecott's Ray, Ariz. mines division last night turned down a company offer under which they would have returned to work under the old contract until a similar offer is made at company properties in Arizona.

Workers at Kennecott's Ray, Ariz. mines division last night turned down a company offer under which they would have returned to work under the old contract until a similar offer is made at company properties in Arizona.

Unions on strike at the Chino mines division of Kennecott in the Silver City area last night accepted the company wage offer, higher than that offered in Arizona, but pledged no work until the Ray employees of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers were offered the same package.

N. M. Highway Toll Stands at 204

GRANTS (AP)—A highway flagman directing traffic around a flood washed section of U. S. 66 was struck and killed early today.

State Police Officer Ed Bell identified the dead man as Nabor Gonzales. His death raised the 1955 traffic toll to 204, one more than on this day a year ago.

The accident took place at about 4:30 a. m. at Paraje, about 55 miles west of Albuquerque. (Continued on Page Four)

Rioting Indian Mobs Storm Portuguese Consul In Goa

BOMBAY, India. (AP)—Inflamed over yesterday's bloodshed in Portuguese India, frenzied mobs of Indians rioted through Bombay today. They hoisted the Indian flag over the Portuguese consulate, forced newspapers, shops and surrounding government buildings.

Demonstrators shouted "Nehru—leave Delhi and lead us to Goa!" as they stoned the consulate and smashed its windows. The consulate personnel had been evacuated earlier.

Police opened fire on the mob, wounding three demonstrators. Several bus and street car conductors were hurt in attacks on their vehicles as the mob enforced a general strike throughout the city.

Beginning at dawn, more than 150,000 Indians marched past the consulate screaming demands for military action against the three small Portuguese territories north and south of Bombay. Guards there yesterday killed an undetermined number of "nonviolent" Indian marchers demanding the cessation of the areas to India.

Airman Prisoner of Chinese To Shed Wife Who Wed Again

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The Korean War B-29 gunner whose wife said she wed another man in the belief he was dead has decided he'll unravel the marital tangle by seeking a divorce.

But Airman Daniel Schmidt, 22, still hasn't made up his mind whether he will seek custody of his 2½-year-old son, whom he saw for the first time after emerging from 32 months imprisonment in Red China.

Schmidt returned last week with 10 other airmen who were with him in the B-29 when it was shot down. His divorce decision was announced yesterday by his attorney.

It followed a face-to-face meeting at which auburn-haired Una Schmidt-Fine, 20, refused to leave Alford Fine, 21, a logger.

"Dan wants whatever is best for the welfare of the boy," his attorney Howard Welch said, "and hasn't decided yet whether that would mean leaving him with the boy's mother or seeking custody."

Welch said Schmidt would probably seek a divorce on grounds—including extreme cruelty.

"Just the fact that she's not living with Schmidt is enough grounds for extreme cruelty," he said.

If Schmidt asks the court for the custody of Danny Jr. and wins, the youngster would live with Schmidt's mother Mrs. Nellie Peters, of Portland, Ore., Welch said.

Una's attorney Harold Berliner, of Nevada City, would not comment on the possibility of a divorce or a child custody fight.

Motorists Escape Injury in Crash

A collision of two cars on Highway 285 about 10 miles north of Artesia last night damaged both autos but no one was injured.

The cars involved were owned and driven by Robert Lee Collins Jr., 24, of 507 S. Seventh st., and Yramio Carrera, 23, Artesia farm hand. Damage estimated at $350 was done to Carrera's car and $100 damage to that of Collins. Riding with Collins was Dorris Weeks, and with Carrera was Aster Carrera. No charges were made in the case, according to Deputy Sheriff Jesse Sosa.

Stine Protests Firing Methods

SANTA FE (AP)—Arthur Stine, former director of the New Mexico Commission on Alcoholism, has complained of the "shabby way" in which his firing was handled.

The commission announced yesterday it had fired Stine who has headed the commission since its inception.

The commissioners announced they had hired George Brook of Silver City as Stine's successor.

Stine said the first time he knew he had been fired was when a reporter asked his reaction.

"I feel pretty badly about the shabby way in which they have handled this," he said. "Instead of being handled as an affair of the public, which it is, they've handled it as though they were a closed corporation."

Britain Clamps Tight Guard on All Armories Amid Fears of Irish Guerrilla War Outbreak

LONDON (AP)—The British War Office clamped a tight guard on its armories today amid fears that fresh activity by Irish terrorists may lead to guerrilla warfare in disputed North Ireland.

After a special Cabinet meeting last night, the War Office announced it was taking "special precautions" against further raids on arms depots.

A truck used by a band of armed men in a raid on Arborfield depot in Berkshire Saturday was found abandoned and empty in London. The raiders, believed to be members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army, seized 68 weapons and some 30,000 rounds of ammunition. A search for the arms was launched in the London area.

Two small groups of Irishmen tried to raid arms depots at Rhyll, Wales, yesterday and at the Harfield headquarters of the Briton garrison Sunday. They fled when sentries alerted other garrison guards.

The avowed aim of the IRA, banned in the Irish Republic, as well as the United Kingdom, is to unite the six Ulster counties of Northern Ireland with the 26 counties of the republic. The six Northern counties are part of the U. K. under the British crown.

$4½ Billion Action Tossed Out By Judge

Artesian insurance man Lester C. Plummer said here today that dismissal of his $4½ billion damage suit in Albuquerque U. S. District court yesterday was "just the beginning of the fight."

Plummer said he declined to appear for hearing on the suit because the action "was illegally shifted to the federal court where everyone are friends or fellow employees" of U. S. tax agent C. Buck Caviness. Plummer remained away from the first docketing of the damage suit on the same basis.

Playing It Close "There are several methods of continuing this action, which I intend to pursue," Plummer said, "but I'm not tipping my hand as to which way I'll jump."

"I have been keeping them on the defensive and I'm going to keep them there."

Plummer, who had sued for $4½ billion "because those figures seem to be the smallest the government can understand," had claimed Caviness took $83.70 from Plummer's bank account for self-

Rising Rio Wipes Out Truck Bridge

LAREDO, Tex. (AP)—Only tourist and emergency auto traffic moved between Laredo and Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, today, as the rising Rio Grande reached 10 feet, some 8 feet above its normal level.

The approaches to the low-water truck bridge were dynamited yesterday but the higher railroad bridge wasn't threatened by the flood which may crest at 16 feet or higher tonight.

Ike Heads for Trout Fishing Trip Into High Colorado Mountain Area

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower gets down to real vacationing today with a trip high into the Rocky Mountains for several days of trout fishing.

The President arranged to travel by automobile shortly after noon to Fraser, Colo., about 70 miles northwest of Denver on the western slope of the Continental Divide for a stay at the secluded Byer's Peak Ranch of an old friend, Axel Nielsen.

Tomorrow Eisenhower will be joined there by his 7-year-old grandson David, who stands to get some expert advice from the President on how to cast dry and wet flies for trout. The youngster, vacationing now at a boys camp at Estes Park, Colo., never has done any fishing.

In advance of departing for Fraser, the President planned a brief stop at his Lowry Air Force Base office, and then a round of golf at Denver's Cherry Hills Country club. The drive to the fishing camp was scheduled after lunch here at the home of Eisenhower's mother-in-law, Mrs. John S. Doud.

Non-Tourist Car Check to Be Held Here This Month

A 24-hour traffic check in Artesia streets of all incoming non-tourist cars will be conducted later this month in cooperation with the New Mexico Traffic Safety Commission, it was announced today by Paul W. Scott, manager of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce.

The plan is to have the check made by volunteer tabulators from the city's civic and service organizations. The move is in line with the state commission's state-wide survey to form a basis for further efforts to stem the rising tide of traffic fatalities and injuries.

"We plan to call a meeting of organization presidents and try to work out a plan under which volunteers from several groups will carry out the check," Scott said. "It is too much of a task for members of any one group."

U.S., Red Chinese Talk in Recess

GENEVA (AP)—U. S. and Communist Chinese ambassadors met for nearly two and a half hours today and then recessed their talks until Thursday. They gave no indication of any progress toward the release of 41 Americans held by Peiping.

At the end of their session behind closed doors, the negotiators said only that they would again take up the issue of civilians repatriation at their next session.

RED CROSS MEETING

Josey Family Reunion Brings 18 Members of Family to City

Judge J. D. Josey has had a reunion of his children and grandchildren so large that two tents had to be put on the lot in the back yard at 808 Chisum for the past ten days.

They came from as far east as Connecticut. There were 18 visiting at Judge Josey's at one time. Mrs. Arnold Rudahl and her two sons, Kurt and Michael, drove down from Greenwich, Conn. Mrs. Rudahl (Carol) reports that her sons expected to see the wild and woolly west, but didn't find it so wild as they thought. The older son has his eyes on a rocket ship, but the younger one would be content to put his legs around a real live

"hoss."

John D. Josey, Jr., is a consulting engineer in Portales. His wife, Arline Beall, and two children, Helen Katherine and John Clinton (Bo-Bo) do not have to wait for family reunions, but are frequent visitors to the Judge's home on the old Chisum Trail.

Mrs. Calvin Langford (Louise "Teeny") is from Wink, Tex., and helps her husband run a service station in addition to bringing up five children and one grandchild. Dorothy May, the oldest, is a registered nurse in Alpine, Texas, and is married to A. J. Smith, a student at Sul Ross State College in Alpine. They have one child, Carol Ann.

Mrs. N. F. McKee (Virginia), the Judge's oldest daughter, lives in San Angelo, Texas, and joined the reunion last week. She is the mother of five children and grandmother of three.

Judge and Mrs. Josey have one son, Harvey, living at home with them. This is the largest reunion they have had, but 18 is not all of the family. Judge Josey says he hopes that some day the entire gang will get here at one time. It took only one house and two tents this time, but he would be glad to put up another tent if they all came.

Judge Josey and his wife came to the Pecos Valley with four children and their bedding in a 1917 Ford and first lived in Hope. That was in 1918.

He is a retired judge and an active juvenile officer of Artesia.

Summertime can be a bore if you are just at the wrong place with the wrong people. But don't despair. There's always a silver lining. You can ignore them and do some interesting things on your own just to prove you aren't entirely dependent on others for amusement.

WHY NOT READ? . . . The public library in New York says that young moderns are mad for truer than fiction books especially exploration of space, so you can really take a trip via a good book. Science fiction is popular even with girls and William Ley's "Conquest of Space" and "Across the Space Frontier" edited by Cornelius Ryan are top favorites. Travel books get lots of attention, says the library, and books on cars, ballet or the modern dance fascinate young people.

WANNA GAIN WEIGHT? . . . Try a good creamy frosted or milk shake. Combine 1 quart of chocolate milk, 1 pint vanilla ice cream and 1 cup mashed ripe bananas, beat with mixer until frothy for a lovely taste treat. Or combine 1 pint peppermint or chocolate ice cream with 1 quart of chocolate milk, beat until frothy.

TIME ON YOUR HANDS? . . . Shine up your bicycle and take a trip. Take Dad's deep shine auto polish and clean enamel or lacquer as you rub on. Shine as

Yanks Retain First Place in Ding Dong AL Hassle

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

You can't always tell the depth of the well by the length of the pole on the pump.

Which is to say, both Cleveland and New York have won six of the last seven games in the ding-dong American League race, yet the Yankees have pushed the Indians out of first place.

The Yanks, who have played and won one more game than the Tribe, slipped back into the lead by half a game yesterday, walking off with their second doubleheader sweep at Baltimore in two days, 5-4 and 12-6.

Cleveland and third-place Chicago, now 1 1/2 games behind, were idle.

Boston Tries Yanks

In the only other game fourth-place Boston stayed 3 1/2 games back by smacking Washington 8-4 in way of a warmup for yet another crucial series with the Yankees opening tonight in Boston.

Cleveland gets back into action tonight at Detroit and the White Sox play at home against Kansas City.

Home runs powered the Yanks back into the driver's seat, with Hank Bauer's solo shot in the ninth inning, his third in three games, breaking up a 4-4 tie in the opener. In the second game, Mickey Mantle unloaded his 28th with two men on to give the Yanks an 8-0 lead in the fourth, then belted No. 29 to make it 10-2 in the sixth inning.

Rookie Johnny Kucks was the first-game winner, relieving Bob Wiesler after the last-place Orioles got four in the fifth. The Yanks then started Rip Coleman, added to the roster Sunday from Denver, and he got his first major league victory, with the relief help of Bob Grim, back from the disabled list, in the nightcap.

Ted's Grand Slam

At Boston, Ted Williams belted a 6-0 game in the second inning, Washington chased Mel Parnell with four in the third as Roy Sievers homered with two on, but southpaw Leo Kiely shut them off with one hit the rest of the way.

Jim Piersall homered for the Red Sox's other two runs in the seventh.

Williams' homer, his 20th of the year, was a 450-foot wallop off Ted Abernathy. It was his 13th grand slammer, tying him with Ralph Kiner among active players.

In the lone National League game, Milwaukee slammed St. Louis 12-1. Willard Schmidt, who one hit the Braves last week, was the loser, giving way in the fifth as Milwaukee made it 5-0. Eddie Mathews hit his 31st homer with one on in the first for the Braves, who made it a bonafide rout with six runs in the seventh.

Suspend Trainer At LaMesa Park On Dope Charge

RATON, Aug. 13 (AP)—La Mesa Park has cracked down on a second trainer charged with doping a race horse.

Rulings issued by the Board of Stewards late Friday were to:

- 1—Suspend Trainer Jack Patton for the balance of the season;
- 2—Exonerate the owners of Salty Boer in connection with the alleged administration of a stimulating drug to the horse.

The stewards' ruling said urine samples taken after Salty Boer won the second race last Sunday disclosed the presence of the drug.

Stewards acted similarly in the case of trainer Flakey Wilson, charged with doping Marmel, a winner July 10.

All Star Gifts

Mayor Bill Yeager will present trophy water to the five NuMexer players who participated in the Longhorn League All Star game at Midland at a special ceremony before the Artesia-Odesa game here Thursday night. President Green of the league will attend the ceremony and watch the game.

RUIDOSO TRAINING STARTS

RUIDOSO (AP)—Coach Cy Leland Jr. will have five starters from last year returning when football practice opens Thursday. They are Nyles Lackey, Bingo Morales, Jim Wilson, Ronnie Chastain and Jovan Donathan.

In its 44-year basketball history, the University of North Carolina has produced only one undefeated team. In 1924 the squad won 23 and lost none.

2 Home Runs By Dobkowski In First Game

BIG SPRING, Aug. 14 (AP)—Artesia scored four unearned runs in the last inning of the second game to win 8-6 over Big Spring and completed the sweep of a doubleheader here tonight.

The NuMexers prevailed in the opener 7-3.

Eddie Locke was the winning pitcher in both games, to run his record for the year to 18-7.

The veteran righthander appeared in relief of Tom Buford in the fifth inning of the first game. In the second, he spelled Bob Honza in the fourth frame.

Paul Dobkowski clubbed two solo homers for Artesia in the opener, his 14th and 15th of the year.

In the second game, Dan Howard drove out his 23rd four-master of the season for the NuMexers with Tom Jordan on base in the first inning.

The NuMexers were down three runs going into the seventh inning but Nick Cappelli threw away what would have been a game-ending ball.

N. M. Will Get 75 Duck-Shooting Days, Bumper Flights Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ten to 15 additional shooting days were added today to duck hunting seasons in three flyways in anticipation of a bumper crop of wild ducks.

"Flights on all flyways are expected to be the best since 1952," the Fish and Wildlife Service said in announcing the new basic migratory waterfowl hunting regulations for 1955-56.

The service said intensive surveys in Canada and the far north indicated "substantial improvements in the reproductive success of waterfowl throughout important parts of their breeding range."

It forecast a considerable increase in the fall flights for the Mississippi and Central flyways, a moderate increase in the Atlantic flyway and a slight increase in the Pacific flyway.

RICHMOND, Va., (AP)—Col. Lester H. Kyle, retired, thinks this city is the Main Richmond on the map, but he knows there also is a Maine Richmond—in fact 17 states have Richmonds. Crop Improvement Handbook Is Now Ready for Mails

The revised edition of the New Mexico Crop Improvement association's certification handbook is off the press and copies will be mailed to current members, county extension agents and local association officials within the next few days. John T. Stovall, administrative officer, announced today.

The revised edition contains several new features, chief among which are the by-laws and constitution of the organization, a recap of the state and federal seed laws and a list of weeds noxious to New Mexico and other states into which our seed normally moves, Stovall said.

The handbook also contains, for the first time, specific rules for Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, peanuts, sudan, and millet which are being grown for seed.

Stovall urged all growers to study the handbook, particularly the sections pertaining to production of crops for certified seed. There are different items to consider for each crop, such as qualification of land, isolation from other varieties, roguing of the fields for inspection, and weeds considered noxious for particular crops.

Other items in the handbook which will be of special interest to producers are final inspection and application dates and penalties for late applications, fees due on certified seed, seed supplies, and samples for germination and purity tests.

Machines Pick Same

For the first time since records began in 1949, the proportion of cotton harvested mechanically did not increase last year. It remained at the 1953 level. About 22 per cent of the cotton crop was harvested by machine in both 1953 and 1954. These figures are from the Agricultural Marketing Service of the USDA.

Pay Checks Keep Farm Bookkeeping Records Straight

Because of the bookkeeping problems involved for Social Security, it will suit some farmers better if they pay their migrant and other day labor by check, says County Extension Agent Richard Marek.

On the check itself, the farmer can show the gross amount earned and subtract 2 per cent for social security taxes. The payee (migrant) should receive the net amount after deducting his share of taxes.

The county agent points out three advantages of using checks:

1. The employee knows exactly how much social security taxes were withheld from his pay.
2. When he endorses the check, he is satisfied that his wages are correct.
3. The cancelled check makes a convenient record for the farmer to use in making his social security and income tax reports.

Cattlemen Will Talk Special Legislation

Legislation pending action of Congress which would effect the land and livestock industry will get a thorough airing at the third quarterly meeting of the New Mexico Cattle Growers' association in Raton, Sept. 8 and 9, according to Sherwood Culberson, Lordsburg president. "We expect between five and six hundred of the associations' six thousand members to attend this important business meeting and we hope to work out a sound national legislative program after a full discussion of bills which will be considered by the next Congress," Culberson said.

According to Culberson, proposals which have already been introduced provide for disposal of 600,000 acres of Bankhead-Jones Act L. U. Lands in New Mexico; methods of disposing of some 27,000 acres surrounding Fort Stanton in Lincoln county; establishment of multiple use advisory boards on national forests; sale of isolated forest land tracts; research to improve soil and moisture conditions on public lands; construction of an international boundary fence; laws to prevent stripping and destruction of surface areas on public lands by miners and prospectors; and a dozen other proposals.

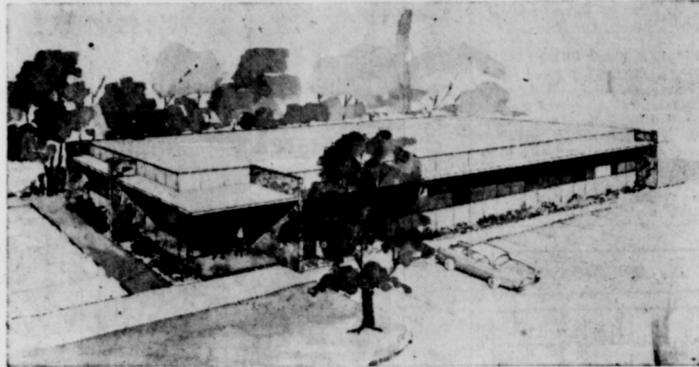

Wesley Izzard, editor and publisher of the Amarillo Daily News will appear as one of the principal speakers during the convention. Others invited to take part in the program include: Leon Harms, manager, New Mexico State Fair, Albuquerque; Willard Simms, director, National Western Stock show, Denver; Robert Burkhardt, president, Colorado Cattlemen's association, Colorado Springs; Leslie Davis, Cimarron, president of the Northern New Mexico Cattleman's association and Jack Hunning, Los Lunas rancher.

Carl Johnson, Jr., Lea county rancher of Lovington will serve as chairman of the 100-man general resolutions committee which will recommend policy to convention sessions.

Entertainment will include a social hour, barbeque banquet and dance the evening of Sept. 8.

State Farm and Livestock Bureau Offices Will Go Into New $100,000 Building at Las Cruces

State offices of the New Mexico Farm and Livestock Bureau will be housed in a new $100,000 building in Las Cruces, Delmar Roberts the organization's president and executive secretary John L. Augustine, Jr., recently announced.

The building—plans for which were drawn by Daxis & Foster of El Paso and Truman Matthews of Santa Fe—is to be of cinder block construction with rock front, one story high with full basement. Both main offices and basement will have 6,000 square feet of floor space.

Low bidder was the Denton and Griggs Co. of Clovis.

Work is to start immediately and be finished by Nov. 30. Besides housing the state offices of the Farm Bureau the building will offer accommodations for the Western Farm Bureau Mutual Insurance Co., and its services, a Farm Bureau service organization and the New Mexico Farm and Ranch, the organization's official monthly magazine.

U. S. Army Policy Humanized To Ease Friction in Europe

GIESEEN, Germany—A middle-aged German couple was strolling through a park when an American GI accosted the woman. The husband was severely beaten trying to defend his wife.

A German mayor was invited to an open house at a U. S. Army post. He couldn't speak English, and no one met him at the gate. The guard chased him away at gunpoint.

The first incident was individual waywardness, the second was Army bungling.

The civil affairs office of the local U. S. Army detachment took over.

There are many such offices in the American Zone. Giessen's is among the best.

Maj. Isaac Pickhardt, civil affairs officer, finds that violent misbehavior is increasingly rare. Goodwill and friendship are now spreading.

A German-American advisory council of German officials and U. S. troop commanders deals with complaints such as these:

From the Germans: "The soldiers are wrecking the furniture in the railroad station waiting room. What can you do about it?"

From the Army: "A wartime bomb was found in a housing development. The German police warned all the German families, but said nothing to the American families. Why?"

There is an International Men's Club and a German-American Ladies Club.

The good neighbor policy has also taken a practical turn. Army bulldozers frequently fill bomb craters, level athletic fields, dig excavations for churches, community halls and refugee housing. A bombed-out building was razed by an Army dynamiter.

A village ran out of water. Army tank trucks brought relief. The event was heralded by the town crier.

Soldiers in the area voluntarily donated about $100 a month to help buy clothes and toys for the orphans.

The Army supplied tents to make a farmer's convention possible.

"None of those things made us any enemies," says Pickhardt.

The biggest sore point in German-American relations is the thousands of houses still requisitioned by the Army. New housing is being built for Army personnel but it will be months before there's real relief.

There is another problem that stumps Pickhardt:

"I would guess that half of the illegitimate children in this area are fathered by Americans," he says.

Another problem he can't do much about, is the chlorine which U. S. occupation officials insist must be used in every municipal water system.

Horse racing produced an all-time high of $13,171,843 in state revenue for Florida during the 1954-55 winter racing season. The largest share was from Hialeah with $6,038,761.

Dairy Cow Needs Comfort to Be Top Producer

The dairy cow, the hardest working animal on the farm, is also the most comfort craving, and no animal is more deserving of a comfortable environment, says County Extension Agent Richard Marek.

Twenty-four hours each day, seven days each week, the cow is at work converting roughages and concentrates into nature's most nearly perfect food—milk.

Unfortunately, this service is often performed under conditions which are far from comfortable.

It has been estimated through research that 10 tons of blood must flow through the udder of a cow in order for her to produce 50 pounds of milk each day. Since this is not an uncommon level of producing on many dairy farms, the heart of such a cow is subjected to heavy strain.

Large amounts of feed are required to meet the needs for these high-producing cows. In the mastication and digestion of feed, heat is generated. When temperatures are low heat is utilized to maintain body temperatures but in the summer when atmospheric temperatures approach 90 degrees, the cow must dispose of the surplus or she is uncomfortable.

Marek suggests the following points in order to keep cows comfortable and avoid the summer production slump:

Provide plenty of feed, a cow may consume up to 150 pounds of grass daily if it is available.

Fields used for daytime grazing should be provided with shade, either natural or portable.

Provide plenty of fresh cool water which is easily accessible, especially during the day.

Use Farm Machine To Best Advantage

Farmers buy machinery — or anyway start to make plans for it — when the cost of hand labor is high or certain jobs must be done on time.

High investments in machinery are worthwhile only when the equipment can be used to do work more cheaply than by other methods. Field choppers, balers, combines and cotton pickers save both time and work, but they have to be used a lot to bring the annual cost down.

Putting such machines to work over a larger acreage is one way to cut their cost, says County Extension Agent Richard Marek. Sometimes cooperative ownership is the answer by an individual who will use the equipment to do jobs on a custom basis.

Show Proper Respect and Play Safe When Using Electrical Farm Gadgets

Farm families continue to step up the use of electricity, sometimes without making sure that the wiring will take the loads. If you have any doubt about the adequacy of your wiring, check with your wiring inspector. A larger wire or additional circuits may be needed to avoid the hazard of overheating. Overheating can, of course, cause fires. Faulty or overloaded wiring is one of the major causes of fires on explosions on farms and in homes. Burnalson contributed to the death of 1000 farm residents in the U.S. in 1953. In homes in New Mexico, the toll was 28 deaths due to fire during 1954.

The use of too many appliances on a single circuit is an example of overloading. For instance, in the kitchen there may be a refrigerator, washing machine, ironer, dish washer, garbage disposer, coffee maker, and toaster—all on one circuit. Each of these appliances use relatively large quantities of current. Never operate more equipment than will use more than 1750 watts on one 20 ampere No. 12 wire branch circuit. Such appliances as an automatic washer, clothes drier, dish washer, and garbage disposer are to be on individual equipment circuits. Do not overload your electric circuits—no matter where they are.

Proper construction of an electric fence is very important. Therefore, do not build a home made electric fence; do not use a home made electric fence. Electric current—even very low voltage—can cause injuries to livestock and persons if improperly used. The controller that keeps maximum current output within safe limits is a delicate mechanism. Making a controller for a farm fence calls for thorough understanding of the construction principles involved as well as the right equipment to do the job. Use only those models of fence controllers which have been approved by the Underwriter's Laboratories.

Farm people and animals run the risk of shock from electric equipment used with water or in damp places, unless it is properly grounded. When you ground an electric pump, ground the electric switch box, ground the frame of the pump motor, and ground any other conducting material, such as a steel water tank.

Electric washing machines are an example of household equipment that should be grounded. Some washers come equipped with a 3-wire cord with a 3-prong plug, that grounds the machine whenever it is plugged into a special type of outlet that takes 3 prongs. A machine with only a 2-wire cord is not grounded, but it can and should be.

The following procedure is recommended in grounding a washer, ironer, home freezer, or other appliance used in a damp place. Attach one end of a separate length of insulated wire to the frame of the electric motor and the other end to a water pipe, which will carry the current to ground. Use a clamp fitting to keep each end of the wire firmly attached. The wire should be bare only where it attaches to the clamps. Electricity is your friend, but a friend to be treated with respect like any good friend. If you respect it and handle it right, electricity will be the best farm hand you can find. Be on good terms with your electric power, but don't get intimate.

Mow in Straight Line When Using Electric Mower

For best results with an electric mower, mow back and forth in straight lines across your lawn.

Always work away from the electrical outlet so the power cord lies on the cut-over area, advises County Extension Agent Richard Marek.

That way, you won't be in danger of cutting the cord, losing power, or getting an electric shock from the frayed wires.

Ho help keep the cord from kinking and tangling, coil it loosely in a bucket or basket. This makes a handy storage space, and the cord will come out easily for use when you mow.

For safety's sake, mow with an electric mower only when the grass is dry. Moisture of any kind is a good conductor of electricity. Water on the grass may short out the mower and damage the motor or give you a shock.

Use only heavy duty rubber covered cord with a No 16 conductor wire or heavier, for 100 feet of cord on a 1/4 horsepower motor. Check the cord often to see that there are no breaks in the insulation.

Put Yourself in a Tractor's Place

How far do you think you could run with an air-tight mask on your nose and mouth? You wouldn't go as far as your tractor would if you ran it with a dirty air cleaner and a dirty radiator, but eventually the tractor would probably do the same thing you would do: chug to a stop. When radiator fins fill up with chaff, bugs or dust, the effect is the same as closing.

A message from Fred and Jim, 'Your Pharmacists'

THE PRACTICE OF PHARMACY is daily becoming so complex, that the Colleges of Pharmacy have just decided that in the future, a Pharmacist will have to study for five years instead of the usual four.

ANY MEDICINE, whether it be a prescription, or one of the so called "Patent Medicines" can be potentially harmful if not properly taken.

ONLY A PHYSICIAN is learned enough to properly advise you what medicine to take.

ONLY A PHARMACIST is taught the complete knowledge necessary to compound medicines, and how to best preserve and protect medicines so that they are potent when you get them.

ACCORDING TO A MOST PROPER LAW it is not only a moral, but the required legal duty of every Pharmacist to make certain that any medicine you get from him is a safe medicine to take.

THAT IS WHY we must have a license to practice Pharmacy, and thoughtful people are always careful to get any medicine from a Pharmacist.

Many Things Cause Butterfat Content To Vary in Cows

Butterfat content of milk from the same cow often varies, and for several reasons. For instance, milk produced the first few days after a cow freshens usually tests fairly high, according to County Extension Agent Richard Marek. After the first week or 10 days, the test on freshened cows usually will decline slightly. From then on it generally will go up until the end of the lactation.

The average test may be low if the milking herd includes a large number of cows that have been fresh only a month or so, the county agent says. Then the test will go up as the cows get further along in their milk period.

"Butterfat tests also are generally lowest during the hot summer months and highest in the winter," Marek points out. "In addition to this seasonal variation, weather changes can make the test different from day to day. Test may be lower on hot, humid days, higher on cool days."

"Changes in feed may effect fat percentage temporarily. Putting cows out to pasture usually lowers the fat test but increases milk flow. For that reason, the total amount of butterfat produced likely will stay up or increase."

Incomplete milking may also lower your butterfat tests. The strippings are much higher in fat than the rest of the milk, the county agent says. Leaving this high-fat milk might also increase the test of the following milking.
