New North Wing of Junior High School Is Accepted After Inspection By Board

Important developments in Artesia's program for new and enlarged school buildings are coming rapidly this week. The new north wing of the Junior High School—comprising eight classrooms, a library, and study hall—was accepted by the Board of Education yesterday after an inspection tour.

Highway Death Toll Soars to 207 in State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Deaths of a 19-year-old Hobbs girl, a 15-year-old Dora farm boy and a 55-year-old California driver today raised the New Mexico traffic death toll to 207—three more than at this time last year. At the same time, Asst. Dist. Atty. C. Verne Hale of Grants filed negligent homicide charges against an elderly California man whose car struck and killed a highway department flagman at Paraje yesterday. Juanita Irene McDuff, 19, of Hobbs died in a Silver City hospital late yesterday from head and internal injuries received when the car in which she was riding left the road and rolled north of Glenwood on U. S. 260. The accident took place at 2:40 a. m. yesterday. Miss McDuff was alone in the car. Latest to die was Olen Earl Kitchin, 55, Fresno, Calif. State police said Kitchin's car was in the wrong lane 6 1/2 miles east of Lordsburg when it sideswiped and wrecked a car driven by another California couple, Sam, 36, and Louise Clark, 32, of San Francisco. The Clarks received only minor cuts in the accident at 8:40 p. m. last night. Jerry Massey, Dora farm youth, died late yesterday from injuries received when a car smashed into the rear of a tractor he was driving on State Road 18, 25 miles south of Portales. The tractor broke into three parts and both vehicles burst into flames. The car driver, P. L. Moragan, (Continued on Page Four)

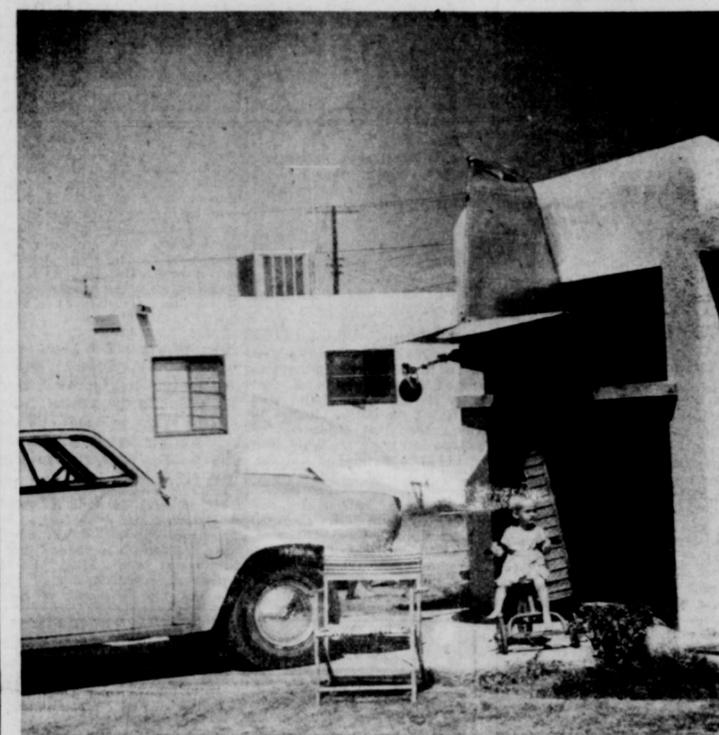

Community Chest Chairmen to Be Named Next Week

Appointment of campaign chairmen for this year's Community Chest drive tentatively scheduled for early October, will be undertaken at a breakfast meeting of the board of the Council of Social Agencies at 8 a. m. next Tuesday at the Hotel Artesia dining room. Preliminary discussion of the drive and possible choices for the chairmanships was held late yesterday at a meeting of the Council's board in the Chamber of Commerce office. M. E. O'Neill, Jr., vice president, was in charge of the meeting and appointed a committee to contact prospective chairmen. The council, composed of representatives of all Artesia clubs and organizations, is in charge of the annual Community Chest drives.

Kennecott Workers Go Back on Job

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Employees of the Kennecott Copper Corp. started back to work today in four states, ending a costly 47-day-old strike. A joint union council last night instructed the men to return after agreement was reached with the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter workers at Ray, Ariz. Kennecott spokesmen said full-scale production would resume as soon as maintenance work neglected during the strike had been polished off. They said all the 11,000 employees in Utah, Nevada, New Mexico and Arizona are expected back by the end of the week. Utah workers agreed on settlement terms, including a 15 1/2 cent-an-hour wage and pension package, last Friday. New Mexico and Nevada workers later accepted the same offer. BICYCLE STOLEN Theft of a bicycle last night from the residence of C. D. Loven, 1110 1/2 W. Grand ave., was reported to the police today.

YES, THAT'S AN AIRPLANE tail protruding from the Rodney F. Kirkpatrick garage at his home, 1008 Sears ave. Strangers to the neighborhood rub their eyes and look again. It's a partnership Cessna 1-20 that was wrecked on a landing last spring. The owners, Kirkpatrick and Joe Howell, of the Artesia Plumbing & Heating Co., are repairing the front end at Kirkpatrick's garage and working on the wings out at the airport. Kirkpatrick, who was a navy pilot, said the partners plan to use the plane both for pleasure and business. He is with the Kirk & Lapsley Radio & TV Service. On the tricycle is Kirkpatrick's daughter, Wynona, 2 1-2. (Advocate Photo)

'Shoot To Kill' Orders End Penitentiary Revolt

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—A 12-hour prison rebellion at the Nebraska State Penitentiary collapsed today when armed troopers and National Guardsmen marched into the cell block with orders to shoot to kill if necessary. No shots were fired. Gov. Victor Anderson said about 225 prisoners, who had set fire to six prison shops and spent the night smashing furniture and equipment in their cell block, offered "no difficulty at all" after Warden Joseph Bovey told them at 6 a. m. to be back in their cells within two minutes or the troopers would shoot. When the troopers and guardsmen marched in to the cell block they found all prisoners within their cells. Newsmen waiting outside the walls heard noise that sounded to them like a gun shot. New Rules for Protected Area Studied By Oil, Potash Men

SANTA FE (AP)—Copies of the proposed new rule concerning "protected areas" for potash companies are on the way to both oil and potash men for study today. The Oil Conservation Commission completed work on the modified rule yesterday. State Geologist Bill Macey said its major modifications are these: 1. A new definition of protected areas for potash mining where oil well drilling can be prohibited. The new rule cuts the area down to 177,200 acres in Eddy and Lea Counties, about a 30 per cent reduction. 2. A regulation requiring a prospective well driller to notify the potash company affected when he plans to drill in the area. The company can protest to the OCC if it desires. 3. Potash companies to furnish the OCC with a five-year plan of (Continued on Page Four)

Hitchhikers Get Truck Driver's Coat

A Good Samaritan truck driver is a wiser man today and two erstwhile hitchhikers are beginning 15-day jail sentences in the Carlsbad county jail after a hilarious new addition to the annals of hitchhiking experiences. There was nothing hilarious about the episode from the truck driver's viewpoint. He picked up James F. Alls and Walter I. Gray on the highway north of town to give them a lift. After men said, "Here's where we get off." The truck driver, whose name was not taken by Deputy Sheriff Ike Funk when he was later called in on the matter, stopped his truck. The hitchhikers, remarking that they were sleepy, then lay down in the road, one in front of the truck and the other behind. As fast as the driver could get them up and face for the cab, the men would plop down again. Finally giving up, the driver called the authorities. Judge John Ellicott heard the case and pronounced the jail sentences. The men gave Roswell as their address.

Ex-Land Official Gets Prison Term

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Bascom Giles was sentenced to two to six years in prison yesterday after defense attorneys pleaded for leniency and declared "we have cooperated with the state." The maximum sentence possible for the 54-year-old former Texas land commissioner was 10 years. The defense asked that the sentence be for no more than five years, "as punishment is more severe to a man of his station." The defense also said restitution will be made. Giles, already under 3-year prison sentence on conviction of abetting theft of state funds under the troubled Texas veterans land program, entered a surprise plea of guilty yesterday to two counts of agreeing to accept a $30,000 bribe. But he pleaded innocent to the third count—that he actually accepted the $30,000 bribe from two San Antonio land promoters to help them make a profit off the sale of 663 acres of ranchland as farms for veterans.

Wilmot Quits State Agency

SANTA FE (AP)—Gov. John F. Simms confirmed today that Dan Wilmot Sr. of Roswell has resigned as a member of the New Mexico Commission on Alcoholism. At the same time Simms expressed full support for the new commission, which this week announced the firing of Arthur Stine of Santa Fe as executive director. The Associated Press reported Monday that Wilmot's resignation was supposed to be en route to Simms. Wilmot has been in poor health for some time. He mentioned this factor and his doctor's orders in explaining why he was resigning. "He also felt that he could not expect the commission to go to Roswell every time it met, and he (Continued on Page Four)

Ten Artesians Being Sought By Draft Board

Unless the whereabouts of 10 Artesia area men are reported immediately to the local Selective Service board, names of the delinquent men will be reported to the office of the U. S. attorney general for possible legal action, the board announced today. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of any of the men named is asked to notify the board at once. As released by the local board, the names are: Douglas James Simer, Gene Elvis Morris, Wilmer Raglin, Willie James Henderson, Daniel Hutson, Moreland Louis Hartwell, Charles Stanley Harland, Phelix Blair Thompson, Louis Vargas Medina and Franklin Delano Brown. All were listed as from Artesia except Harland, whose address was given as Loco Hills.

Hurricane Diane Pulls Its Worst Punches

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP)—Hurricane Diane, churning menacingly eight days up from the tropics, hit the North Carolina coast today but did relatively little damage. She pushed into central North Carolina with falling force. The Weather Bureau said she would have 60-mile-an-hour winds by the time she reached the Raleigh-Durham area. Her route, northwestward, would carry her on into Virginia tonight. The office of North Carolina Gov. Luther Hodges said scattered and "very preliminary" reports indicated damage along the beaches was "almost miraculously light." This fourth hurricane of the season made her central landfall at this southeastern North Carolina river port. Her force was blunted as she moved on a northwestward course over land toward northwestern Virginia. Even before Diane came to the mainland her one-time 115-mile-an-hour core winds had fallen to gusts of 100. Maximum winds clocked here were 74 m.p.h. Diane invaded the land only five days after Hurricane Connie had sideswiped northeastern South Carolina, invaded this area and blown out in Pennsylvania. Connie took 43 lives and wrought damage estimated in the millions. Diane's center passed Wilmington at 5:20 a. m. Nearby beaches suffered heavy soakings. Many beach areas of both Carolinas had been evacuated yesterday. The Weather Bureau said the storm would move into northwestern Virginia early tomorrow with winds abated to 20 to 30 miles an hour. At Carolina Beach, N. C., on a peninsula south of Wilmington, waves washed away several feet of the beach and pounded the buildings in the boardwalk area. Water flooded streets and washed across from the ocean to the yacht basin. But observers said the damage there was not as serious as that caused by Connie. Hurricane winds, 75 miles or higher, were recorded along the North Carolina coast with gusts up to 75 miles at Southport, N. C. In a special 7 a. m. bulletin, the Weather Bureau said Diane's center was a short distance north northwest of Wilmington. While the hurricane was losing force, the bureau warned coastal sections they should continue to take all precautions against dangerous winds and high tides until both subside during the day. Central and eastern North Carolina and Virginia should expect strong to gale winds and heavy rains as the hurricane moved north, the Weather Bureau said. Before the storm hit land, hurricane force winds extended far ahead of the storm center and gales ranged up to 250 miles out. Hurricane warnings were to be lowered later in the day as the storm subsided, but no change had been made this morning.

NEW YORK—Things one New Yorker thinks

As an old junkie addict, having traveled from Peru to Port-au-Prince to see a world movie premiere or test a new airplane, I am sorry to have missed a classic one recently. The producers of Partners, the film being made in Brooklyn with Van Heflin and Ed Begley, chartered a two-car subway train—the first chartered subway train in history, I expect—and ferried a covey of columnists into the wilds of . . . Brooklyn, of course. Travel kits were provided, City Council president Abe Stark gave a farewell speech on the steps of City Hall and each junkie was handed a sheet of travel information, warning him to "have caution in dealing with the native shopkeepers" and providing maps of Brooklyn "translated into English for easier reading."

As a man who has not been awakened by hotel phone operators many times when he was supposed to be awakened, I sympathize with Fred Osborne, the Milwaukee businessman who is suing the Waldorf-Astoria for a half-million because he claims not being awakened cost him "considerable profit" on a business deal he missed. I don't know if Mr. Osborne's claim is valid or not—but I do know the sickening feeling of opening my eyes in a hotel room and noting that it's 10 a. m., when the plane left at 9. . . . So a restaurant chain in Massachusetts has gone back to the 5-cent cup of coffee. Manhattan restaurateurs say not to hold your breath until it happens here. For instance, the greatest playwright in history was Shakespeare—but does anyone think a production of Macbeth, even if Jack Barrymore were in it, would last as many years on Broadway as, say, Tobacco Road?

MET A PRETTY GIRL in a strange business today. Her name is Harriet Williams and she's the New York representative of the National Audience board, which has been set up by sociolite Peter Goelt to work with civic groups in helping improve the quality of radio and TV broadcasts. The NAB, for example, is trying to get disc jockeys to sign an agreement not to play double entendre or objectionable records on the air. "Don't get us wrong," the brown-haired Miss Williams said, "we're not trying to be censors. We're just trying to let the TV-radio people know what people like and want." I wish her well, but I'm dubious. People don't always like and want what's good for them. For instance, the greatest playwright in history was Shakespeare—but does anyone think a production of Macbeth, even if Jack Barrymore were in it, would last as many years on Broadway as, say, Tobacco Road?

Search department: Benny Goodman, despairing of the tone of his latest clarinet, is trying to track down and borrow his old one, a 17-key, six-ring Selmer, serial No. L3682. That's the one he used in his great records of One O'Clock Jump, et al. He has no idea who's got it now. And Hume Cronyn and Jessica Tandy are seeking the original bed they used in their stage play, The Fourposter. They want it for the TV version of the drama. More than a hundred persons have written to them about it—and the bed has been reported aboard a yacht in the Pacific, in a hotel in Toronto, in a San Francisco museum and so on.

MAYOR WAGNER claims New York is the fashion center of the world. He may be right, at that. I'd rank California second and Rome third. I suppose you'd have to put Paris at least in the first 10. . . . I am warmed by the word that, for the ninth convention of the Paralyzed Veterans of America, the Hotel New Yorker replaced all delegates' bathroom doors with curtains, set up ramps where needed and made chairs available for showers. . . . If you drop by Ezio Pinza's dressing room backstage at Fanny, you will find prominently displayed the foul ball he caught at Ebbets Field from Jackie Robinson's bat. . . . Recommended reading: Al Morgan's The Great Man, a swift and extremely thinly-disguised novel about a TV personality.

Boxing Mogul Suggests U.S. Control Ring

DETROIT. (AP)—The National Boxing Ass'n's plea for congressional help in cleaning up big-time boxing has drawn the challenge of New York fight promoter Morris to "let the federal government run it." That, the president of the careful International Boxing Board, said yesterday, would be "with him." "If the commissions can't box," he said, "it's important to do the job, but the federal government run it may be the best solution."

The NBA asked for federal intervention as it wound up its annual convention. Sen. Pat McClellan, promised he would recommend a congressional probe.

The plea was sent as George Barton, of Minneapolis, Minn., NBA president, reported an investigation he was making of professional fighting run into a wall when witnesses refuse sign affidavits.

Barton quoted them as saying they didn't want to "get in the off."

The government has an trust suit against Morris' fight promoter, whose twin family interests in control of the Detroit Red hockey team and Detroit's city stadium, said he was "with investigations."

"Let them investigate any they want," he said. "We're nothing to hide."

A Real Pasting

The Red Sox look a real pasting last night, crumpling before the New York Yankees 13-6 as the Bombers won their seventh straight to snatch a 1 1/2-game lead in the mad pennant scramble. The Yanks added a full game to their margin as Detroit knocked off the Cleveland Indians 7-0 behind Billy Hoelt's two-hitter and Chicago replaced the Tribe in second place by finally subduing the Kansas City Athletics 5-4 in 11 innings.

The White Sox, who have played five fewer games than the Yanks but have lost only one less than New York, now have a four-percentage point edge on Cleveland. A seven-run third inning, their most productive frame of the season, got the job done for the Yanks. Mickey Mantle clubbed a two-run homer, his 30th, and winning pitcher Don Larsen walloped a three-run homer as New York scooped at Boston ace Frank Sullivan in the big inning.

Larsen won his fourth since returning from Denver, but wasn't around at the end. Tom Morgan mopped up after Jackie Jensen's 20th home run in the eighth inning belted Larsen from the mound. Earlier, Larsen had given up homers to relief-pitcher Dick Brodowski and Williams.

Bill Skowron, one of the right-handed sluggers. Manager Casey Stengel jammed into the Yank line up to aim at Boston's short left field wall, and Hank Bauer also homered for the leaders.

Cleveland got Bobby Avila's single off Hoelt in the first inning, and one by Larry Doby in the second, then went limp as the left-hander retired 21 men in order before giving up his only walk, to Al Smith with two gone in the ninth.

Two-Man Job
Bill Tuttle and Frank House made Hoelt's 12th triumph a breeze, driving in all of the Tiger runs while routing Early Wynn in a three-run second inning. Tuttle knocked in four runs with a homer, single and bases-loaded walk. House got the rest with a home run and a pair of doubles.

Kansas City scored just one run on a double and three singles to tie Chicago in the eighth, then made it 4-3 on Gus Zernial's pinch single in the 11th. The White Sox came right back against Tom Gorman, Art Ceccarelli and Bill Harrington, loading the bases on two walks and Jim Rivera's bunt. Jim Busby's sacrifice fly tied it and Bob Kennedy's single won it.

Washington Smacked
Baltimore smacked 16 hits, including Cal Abrams' two-run homer, to beat Washington 7-2. In the National, New York beat Brooklyn 5-3, St. Louis edged Milwaukee 3-2, Cincinnati whipped Chicago 11-2 and Philadelphia trounced Pittsburgh 12-3.

Willie Mays got the Giants home safe with his 37th homer, a two-run blow, for a 5-0 lead in the fifth before Roy Campanella finally solved Ruben Gomez for a three run shot, his 26th, in the sixth. Johnny Podres lost it.

The Cardinals dumped the Braves to a one-game edge over third place New York on Bill Sarni's run-scoring triple in the eighth. Stan Musial smacked his 26th homer with one on in the first as Harvey Haddix won his 10th.

Cincinnati lifted fifth place from the Cubs, swinging for 15 hits and rolling up its runs in the first three innings on 11 hits and two errors. Del Ennis drove in five runs, including two doubles, as the Phils belted the Pirates for 15 hits.

40,000 Bluegills Due for Farmers
Another consignment of fingerlings for Artesia area farmers' tanks will arrive at 8 a.m. Friday at Jack's Radiator Shop, 311 S. First St., for distribution. Distributed by the government from federal fish hatcheries, the consignment consists of 40,000 bluegills. It is expected they will be apportioned to farmers anxious to get them within an hour.

Chrisco Fans Side on Nine Pitched Balls

CARLSBAD, (AP)—The Carlsbad Potashers blasted the Artesia NuMexers out of Montgomery Field here Tuesday night with a six-run sixth inning, to take the first of a two-game series 12-6.

Darvin Chrisco, coming on in relief of starter Angel Olivia, picked up the win. He gave up but one hit in five innings of hurling, and walked but two and struck out six.

Harry Young, NuMexer starter, was charged with the loss. Manager Tom Jordan came on in relief in the sixth to hold the Potashers in check. Highlight of the contest was Chrisco's performance in the sixth inning when he struck out the side on nine pitched balls. Jim Bawcom was the first victim and he took a called first strike and then swung at the next two. Eddie Locke followed and went down swinging at three pitches. Danny Howard was next. He swung at the first two and then foul bunted the third. Chrisco got the first man up in the seventh on three pitches to run the mark to four strikeouts on 12 tosses before the string was broken.

Howard and Dobkowski homered for Artesia, the only run-trippers of the night.

Archie Moore Boasts That Rocky Marciano Practically a Midget

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK, (AP)—At the rate he is talking with more than a month still to go, Archie Moore appears to be in grave danger of leaving his fight in training camp.

Here's the latest attributed to the challenger, who earlier explained in detail how he expects to finish off Rocky Marciano once he scores a knockdown. "Compared to some of the guys I fought, Marciano is practically a midget. I have an inch and a half on him in height and a reach advantage of at least 10 inches. I'm not worrying about Marciano taking me out in one punch. He's just a little guy, like me."

This is progress? On Aug. 16 a year ago the Baltimore Orioles, then managed by golf-playing Jimmie Dykes, had just dropped into eighth place and boasted a record of 39 victories and 77 losses. On the same date 12 months later, now directed by double manager Paul Richards, the same Orioles were in eighth place and their record stood at 37-77.

If there ever was a chance of holding an open tennis championship, which is doubtful, Jack Kramer tore it with his recent magazine blast at the amateurs for slipping money under the table to their leading stars and gate attractions.

It was Kramer's dig at his one-time benefactors which caused Col. Jim Bishop, president of the amateur association, to haul off Monday and tell the professionals, in effect, that they might as well quit dreaming. He was very blunt about it.

Dodgers Will Play 7 Home Games in Jersey Next Year

By JOE REICHLER

BROOKLYN (AP)—The National League-leading Brooklyn Dodgers, growing restless in light of sagging attendance and ready to junk Ebbets Field, will try Roosevelt Stadium in Jersey City, N. J., for size next season, playing seven of their regularly scheduled games there.

In action unprecedented in modern baseball, Club President Walter O'Malley announced the plan yesterday. He said the Dodgers also would play an exhibition game there against an American League club.

Yanks Regain Lead Through Old Formula

BOSTON, (AP)—The New York Yankees hold a 1 1/2 game lead in the American League today on their rediscovered "power plus pitching" formula which has produced seven straight wins. They shelled fourth-place Boston 13-6 last night in the first of a three-game series with four home runs and 14 other assorted hits.

"Our hittin' sure has picked up," said Yankee Manager Casey Stengel afterwards. "The boys started to find the range in the Red Sox game in New York. The pitchin' has been much better too."

A statistician tossed in the remark that in the 17 games of the last home stand, New York scored 44 runs. Then, over the weekend, the team scored 44 in four games at Baltimore.

Ol' Case nodded but his face clouded when he was asked if a Yankee sweep of the current series would mean that Boston was out of the pennant race. The Red Sox now are 4 1/2 games behind.

"This is just another series between the ball clubs," said Stengel. "The Red Sox have ability and they are playing good ball. I expect them to win a lot of games from the other first-division clubs. They're not out of it by any means."

SCHOOL DROPS SPORTS

ALBUQUERQUE, (AP)—The prep athletic program of Regina Coeli, a parochial school here, has been cancelled by the school's action in dropping the final three grades of high school due to what officials called a change in administration. Teams had participated for two years in basketball and baseball and had planned to engage in football this fall.

clubs have consented to the arrangement he said. The Jersey City ball park was the site of International League baseball games until five years ago. Since then it has been used for stock car racing and boxing bouts.

Psychology
The move was interpreted today by baseball people as a psychological stroke to stir up Flatbush fandom as well as the city fathers. It is no secret that O'Malley is keenly disappointed over:

1—The comparatively poor attendance figures at Ebbets Field this season, 2—The inadequate seating capacity of this outmoded park, 3—His inability to find a suitable site for a new park and 4—the refusal of Brooklyn's city fathers to propose a resolution for municipally supported stadium.

O'Malley's drastic action may cause some concern among Brooklyn officials. The next move might be moving all games away from Brooklyn.

A Dodger spokesman, who asked to remain unidentified, said he would not be surprised if O'Malley sought permission from Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick to switch Brooklyn's home games in the World Series this fall to Yankee Stadium, with twice the seating capacity. That is, assuming the Dodgers win the pennant, as appears almost certain.

30,000 Seats
The attendance phase, actually doesn't figure much in the switch of the seven 1956 games to Jersey City since Roosevelt Stadium seats only 30,000, some 3,500 less than Ebbets Field. But on opening day in 1946, when Jackie Robinson started with Montreal against Jersey City, some 55,000 tickets were sold for the game.

"We plan to play almost all of our home games at Ebbets Field in 1956 and 1957," O'Malley said, "but we will have to have a new stadium shortly thereafter."

In the last two years, the Brooks' home attendance has fallen 230,000. That is in sharp contrast to their ability to draw on the road, where they've already attracted well over a million this year.

O'Malley blamed "completely inadequate" parking facilities together with discomfort inside the park as reasons why the Dodger fan stays home.

It Should Be Harder

It is an easy matter in this nation of ours to enter into marriage and seemingly just as easy to dissolve that marriage. We have often thought we have made it too easy to get married and certainly we have made it too easy to break up a marriage.

The farther along we go the easier it seemingly becomes for marriages to be broken up by individuals, who seemingly entered their marriage too lightly.

All of us are grateful and thankful, of course, we have scores and scores of people who consider marriage something sacred and holy and they keep the vows they took. Too many others think marriage is something to be tried and if it doesn't work — then they just go to court and get a divorce.

Marriage counselors have been preaching the fact for many years that weddings are entered into too lightly and it is too easy to obtain divorces.

We, of course, as a people should tighten the laws on both marriages and divorces.

We feel sure there are times and occasions perhaps when divorce is the only answer or solution to a marriage. However, we do feel that when individuals enter into holy wedlock; establish a home; and have children, they have passed the point of dissolving that marriage.

We believe those who have one, two or three children should be made to think of these children; of their future and that the fathers and mothers should be required to forget themselves especially in those cases and instances when there is more stubbornness and bull-headedness involved in the separation and divorces than there is good cause or reason.

All couples have their differences, of course. They have problems on which they do not agree; they have financial worries and worries that result from illness, business failures or what appears like hard luck. But those honest and sincere, we believe, as of sound mind and a fair mind can definitely solve their problems and they can work out a stronger, a sounder and a happier marriage.

We do not know how great a percentage of divorces could be avoided if the parties involved were willing to do this, but we do know if more thought was given to their responsibilities there would be less divorce.

criminal transgressors of those who... aspire to grab power to serve their own designs for subjugation and reaction. Evidently no. And for this we will resume and renew the brilliant political role of 1946 when Peron became president.

Peron last November brought a church-state dispute into the open with a charge that some church leaders were working to undermine his regime. The church denied the accusation.

Since the June 16 revolt the government has soft-pedaled criticism of the church and sponsored a move in Congress to postpone for six months the constitutional convention authorized to remove Catholicism's favored status as the state church.

Public demonstrations and disturbances which began Monday continued yesterday. Police fired tear gas to break up a crowd of 500 students shouting insults at the government in the city of Eva Peron, 40 miles south of Buenos Aires. They arrested 41 demonstrators.

Dist Atty. Hale said he had released Lloyd C. Robinson, 72, of Bellflower, Calif., on his own recognizance until he could post $3,444 bond on negligent homicide charges in the death of highway flagman Nabor Gonzales, 55, of Cubero.

Gonzales was struck and killed as he attempted to flag down Robinson's car at a washout at U. S. 66 near Paraje. Robinson testified at an inquest yesterday that he saw neither warning signs, flares nor Gonzales until it was too late. Hale said Robinson would be arraigned before the October term of court.

A grim twist of fate in Gonzales' death was the fact that he was on guard at another, similar highway barricade nearly exactly one year ago, on July 25, 1954, when a truck crashed through the road block at the same spot and injured Gonzales.

State Guardsmen Head for Desert Firing Program

EL PASO, Texas (AP)—Three thousand New Mexico national guardsmen move out onto the desert training area at Orogrande late today for a three-day encampment. They will test their heavy 90 and 40 mm. guns, along with small arms groups and automatic weapons.

The 111th Brigade is made up of the 200th and 515th groups, the famed units which fought on Bataan at the start of World War II. The guardsmen will bivouac in the Orogrande area for three days, then return for the weekend to El Paso. Monday they will go back to the field for another three days of maneuvers and firing. The summer training period ends Aug. 28.

Shoot—

but Gov. Anderson told them that was the automatic cell doors being shut.

Three convicts were injured during the rebellion which started just after supper last night. Two were slugged over the head last night by other inmates, and when officers entered the cell block this morning they found a third convict, his face and shirt covered with blood, curled up in the back of a cell.

No guards were injured. The governor attributed this to Warden Bovey's move in withdrawing the unarmed guards from the prison yards yesterday when he got the tip-off to the impending outbreak—demands from a group of convicts that two men who had been placed in segregation yesterday be released.

This was Nebraska's second prison rebellion this year. Last March eight prisoners seized two guards and holed up in the security building for 3½ days before they were starved out.

Wilmot—

is too ill to travel," the governor said.

As to the Stine firing, Simms said: "I certainly back every board of mine on hirings and firings, and take no part in such actions myself. The statute says that the governor appoints the board and the board hires and fires all its agents and employees."

Simms was asked about time's statement that he twice had sought appointments with the governor to discuss his status, but had not been given one.

"We've talked with Stine on several occasions, but not in the last three or four weeks," Simms said. "If he wants to come in and visit my office is always open."

New Rules—

mining operations. Macey said oil and potash people will have about 30 days to look over the proposed new rule. Adoption is expected at the September OCC meeting, he said.

Necessity for a rule designating a protected area is because of the nature of potash mining. Oil wells drilling within a potash area may cause seepage and spoil the potash. Or the slight shifting of the earth caused by potash mining may snap the core of the well.

Five applications for extension of areas by potash companies were scheduled to be heard at today's OCC meeting. Macey said in view of the new ruling the cases will probably be postponed.

E. A. MONTGOMERY DIES

CLOVIS (AP)—The funeral for E. A. (Bob) Montgomery, 92, was held here today, with burial at Melrose. Montgomery, who died Monday, was for many years one of the most colorful mining figures in the West. At one time he held his interest in the Montgomery Shoshone property in Nevada to Charles M. Schwab for 2½ million dollars.

EXPERT TO APPEAR

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—New Mexico Law, official peace officers' magazine, says Octavio Vargas, Juarez, Mexico, detective chief, will demonstrate his skill with a pistol at the New Mexico Sheriffs and Police Assn. convention in Farmington Sept. 11-13. The former El Paso shoe salesman is rated an international expert marksman, the magazine said.

Distance, Shelter and Decontamination Are Major Protections Against H-Bomb Radiation Fallout

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
NEW YORK (AP)—Your main defenses against H-bomb radioactive fall-out are DSD—distance, shelter and decontamination.

With one or all, you can do much to protect yourself.

Fall-out is radioactive atoms from the bomb itself and atoms of dirt and rubble sucked into the air and made radioactive. These atoms float off, falling to earth downward from a blast.

Life Varies
Some fall-out atoms "die" very soon, others last for a longer time, some for years. The amount of radioactivity declines rapidly. With a few hours, the total radioactivity is only a small fraction of the amount at the time the fall-out was created. But dangerous amounts can be distributed over a very large area by a truly big bomb.

Some fall-out atoms emit X-rays, others give off electrons or beta rays traveling only a short distance, but capable of causing burns, particularly if the atoms stick to the skin.

Efficient civil defense systems would predict where fall-out would go, tell how "hot" it is, advise people how long to stay in shelters or whether it might be necessary to evacuate certain areas.

Fall-out on your roof can send X-rays down through the house.

Less Lower
But the radiation on the first floor would be about half that on the rooftop. The radiation reaching the basement would be one-tenth that on the roof, or outdoors.

In an old-fashioned cyclone cellar with three feet of dirt atop it, your would get only one-fifth of the radiation you'd get outdoors with no shelter.

Marshall Islanders were sprayed by fall-out from a Pacific H-bomb last year. A number suffered skin burns, which cleared up within six months, medical teams report. Had they been wearing clothing, they might have avoided the skin burns entirely. Had they bathed decontaminated to wash off the fall-out, they might have avoided burns entirely or to a great degree.

Some natives received a fairly high dose about 175 Roentgens of X-ray exposure, and had some symptoms of radiation sickness. Shelters or evacuation distance would have reduced or even eliminated that hazard.

Cover Up

If you're caught in the open, put something, like a coat, over your head while you seek shelter, advises one atomic expert. Most fall-out atoms can be shaken out of clothing. Hair is harder to clean. If you have oil or grease on your hair, you might have to cut the hair off if it became contaminated.

Several steps for decontamination have been suggested. Rain, or water from a hose, can wash much of the fall-out from your roof. Drains where the water collected would have to be avoided.

Buildovers could clear safe passages in cities, covering fall-out with uncontaminated earth, or creating dikes between which people could walk safely. The earthen dikes would absorb the radiation. If drinking water is contaminated, one emergency measure for a few days would be to add a bit of clay to a bucket of water. The clay would precipitate most of the fall-out atoms, which are usually insoluble, to the bottom. Then the water could be boiled to kill germs.

Covered Food
Foods covered with wrapping would be safe to eat, if the wrapping were carefully removed. Leafy vegetables would have to be washed carefully, with perhaps some other leaves discarded. Most drugs and foods would be safe to use, once decontaminated. If they had been exposed to the instantaneous X-rays from being near a burst, most foods still would be all right to eat, most drugs still potent. These X-rays, unlike fall-out, don't make anything radioactive.

No one argues that all-out atomic war would not be catastrophic, not only in immediate casualties but in long-term genetic effects from tremendous amounts of fall-out spreading wide and persisting for years.

Everyone hopes atomic war will never come. But if it should, knowledge of what to do—rather than ostrich-like complacency—could save a huge percentage of lives—maybe yours.

U. S. HELPS BUY FEED
ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service has announced that the federal government has contributed $1,735,445 to New Mexico to buy feed grain since July, 1954.

Credit Too Easy For Public Says Economy Experts

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—You walk the street and see a sign of good used car: "Only $5 down. You look at a new house and builder tells you: 'If you're a man, $200 down is all you need. Until recently you didn't even that.'"

Your radio blares: "Install window cooler now, payments start next April."

An ad in the paper says: "Start-up wall carpeting for the house at $4 a week."

Easy Living
Next to striking oil, it's the easiest way man ever has devised for raising his standard of living and fast.

It's also one of the easiest of getting beyond your debt. You don't watch your step.

The vast majority of Americans are meeting their weekly monthly payments. Finance companies say the record of installment payments on cars is now best in history. In June, when record $1,786,000,000 of credit extended to new car buyers, 90 percent were paying $1,190,000,000 on various loans.

The percentage of delinquency and repossessions remains at a remarkably low level—and over the years. But as the amount of consumer debt rises, the amount of delinquencies tends to rise also, even if at the same percentage.

Many Behind
The American Collectors' Club says that six million Americans are delinquent on payments for one or more of their purchases.

An agency that specializes in helping families after they get a financial mess estimates that million families are pinched by the debts they've piled up overenthusiasm.

The quality of some installment loans in recent months was Administration officials. It has been getting easier—payments lower, maturity extended.

Leone Studio's Portraiture Praised for Natural Poses

Natural pose is the secret of portrait photography. Lighting, technique, quality of material and skill of development and printing are important too, of course, but unless the pose is unstrained, no portrait photograph is outstanding.

An ability to obtain just such poses in her clients is an attribute of Mrs. Lavene Smith, who with her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Thompson, owns the Leone Studio at 415 W. Main st. That is why her portraits have won acclaim from pleased customers and why the studio can rightfully claim portrait photography as one of its specialties.

Mrs. Smith has been part owner of the studio here for 14 years and prior to that time was proprietor of a photographic studio at Las Vegas, N. M. All that time she has been perfecting her aptitude for portraiture. The number of Artesia families who cherish portraits she has made is proof of her success.

In addition to excellent portrait photography, the Leone Studio does all types of general family photography, commercial work and copying. Assisting the coproprietors are Mr. Thompson and Mrs. Mildred Carroll.

The Leone Studio boasts the only 24-hour service for roll-film development and printing in Artesia. The shop also is enabled to handle color processing of still and movie film through special laboratories in the Southwest with which it has connections.

Also the Leone Studio does cut film development and makes contact or jumbo size prints by machine and enlargements up to 18 by 24 inches.

Shaffer Shop Equipped for Finer Repairs

Efficiently established in its new location on the Hope Highway, opposite the Hitchin' Post, Shaffer's Garage is busy turning out the superior kind of repair work of all kinds for which the proprietor,

Field Leveling for Irrigation Efficiency Done By C. H. Berry

Level fields are essential for the most productive irrigation of the type carried out in the Pecos Valley. Water spreads evenly, insuring an equal supply for all plants in the field and guarding against drowning out in low spots.

Field leveling is one of the main phases of the work done by C. H. (Claude) Berry, whose land leveling equipment has done work up and down the valley and as far distant as the Hondo Valley and the Lovington area.

At present some of the Berry equipment is being used on the company's contract for the first moving at the new government army fuel depot near Carlsbad.

Allen Shaffer is noted.

The garage is equipped, both as to machinery and tools and mechanical skill, to do motor tune-ups, valve grinding and brake service on cars. An outstanding advantage of going to Shaffer's is that the trouble is spotted quickly and accurately and a ready estimate is given as to what is needed in the way of parts and repair work.

Recommendation by satisfied motorists who have had work done at Shaffer's is the firm's best advertisement, is the belief of Allen Shaffer.

In addition to the specialties mentioned, Shaffer's Garage also does all types of shop and oilfield welding. The welding equipment is efficient and the shop stands behind the work it does.

Payne Packing's Expansion In Step With Area Growth

One of the largest privately-owned industries in Artesia, the Payne Packing Co., has grown and expanded in pace with the growth of the city and its trade territory.

Although opened only five years ago, statistics from the local-firm's records make impressive reading. Some examples that speak well, not only for the success of the packing company, but for the progress of that whole region, follow:

More than 7,000 animals were processed by the plant in a 12-month period.

In terms of money spent, nearly one million dollars was spent in a year for cattle and hogs in the Pecos Valley.

Sales of 2½ million pounds of beef, pork and by-products were made in one year in Eddy, Lea,

Chaves and Otero counties. Making these sales were four full-time meat salesmen, calling on customers throughout the four-county area. Deliveries required full utilization of three large tractor-trailer rigs.

The Payne Packing Co., owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Payne, employs 15 full-time employees, and additional workers in rush periods. The Paynes opened their meat packing business here in 1950. For the 28 preceding years, Payne had been a rancher in the Pecos Valley.

Latest sanitary meat packing procedures are followed at the large plant on Richey ave. Future expansions, for which tentative plans have been considered, depend only on continued growth of the trade territory's demand.

Metal Awnings Add Value And Comfort to Property

It is not too late in the season to install metal window awnings for better protection from the sun and added appearance of home or business building.

Leigh metal awnings — of steel with a baked enamel finish — are a principal line of the A-1 Metal Products, 1115 S. First St. The firm sells and installs the awnings, in practically any width desired since they come in units five inches wide. Many Leigh awnings have been placed on Artesia homes and buildings, with universal satisfaction with them reported.

Besides dealing in metal awnings, the A-1 firm is north Eddy county distributor for the famous Lennox line of heating and cooling equipment, with units of all sizes and prices to meet almost any budget. There are models adapted to the use of natural gas, liquid gas or oil. Cooling units are of both evaporative and refrigerated types.

In addition to the Lennox line, the firm handles other lines of heating and air conditioning equipment and provides skilled service and repair of all makes and types. Terms are liberal. A-1 Metal Products is approved for FHA and Allied Building Credit contracts.

Besides its dealerships and service-repair departments, A-1 Metal Products is in the business of manufacturing to order kitchen sinks, counters and other metal equipment for homes and business establishments. Items made vary from small installations for the housewife to large ones for restaurants.

The craftsmanship is that of Maurice Phillips, the proprietor, as well as his expert mechanic, Rip Van Winkle.
