Dodgers Come Back Into Series With 8 to 3 Third Game Victory

Johnny Podres Goes Distance For Brooklyn

BROOKLYN (AP)—Johnny Podres, celebrating his 23rd birthday, silenced the New York Yankees' big bats today and the Brooklyn Dodgers won the third game of the World Series 8-3. The Yanks still had a 2-1 lead in the series after winning the first two games in their own park.

A capacity Ebbets Field crowd of 34,209 went wild as southpaw Podres held the Yanks to seven hits while Jackie Robinson and Roy Campanella backed him up with splendid hitting and fielding.

Campanella socked a homer to start the scoring and later added a single that drove in another run and a double.

The wildness of Yankee starter Bob Turley contributed to his own downfall in the second inning after a homer by Mickey Mantle, a surprise starter, had paced the Yanks to a two-run, game-tying rally. The Dodgers broke the tie with two gift runs and continued to score against three other Yankee pitchers.

Yankees First Podres pounded off the mound for Cerv's slow bouncer and threw him out. McDougald raised a soft fly to Snider in short center. Fazio charged in to make a nice running catch of Berra's sinking liner.

Employment Hits Highest Point In Artesia, State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The number of people employed in New Mexico continues to increase by leaps and bounds.

The latest report from the Employment Security Commission of New Mexico says the total leaped up 500 from July to 180,900.

This constitutes an increase of 3,500,000 over 1954. Estimated employment in the Artesia Area rose to the highest point this year according to figures released by the Artesia office of the New Mexico State Employment Service. Employment climbed from last month's 6906 to a current high of 9490. Principal cause for the increase can be attributed to seasonal farm hiring which rose from last month's 1056 to approximately 3500. Stimulated by farm work other non-agricultural industries also experienced increases.

Representing approximately 90 per cent of the areas total unemployed the number registered in local office files dropped by 10 to a total of 147.

Worker shortages exist locally for qualified waitresses, sales personnel, and office clerks. Cotton harvest is the main activity with approximately 3500 workers currently employed and is expected to rise to about 400 by October 10 when cotton harvest will be in full swing.

Almost every employing agency hired more than during the previous month. Only the service group—hotels, hairdressers, etc.—showed a decrease. The total in

Seek to Renew County Welfare Agency Fight

SANTA FE (AP)—The special session of the Legislature today abandoned any thought of adjourning tomorrow and at the same time there appeared an anti-administration move which could possibly prolong the session longer than had been expected.

House Majority Floor Leader Mattias Chacon told the House after conferring with Gov. Simms that the plan was to recess late this afternoon for the weekend and return to the capitol Monday.

Start of Revolt At the same time a bloc of nine House Republicans and Democrats headed by Rep. Forrest Atchley, Mount Dora Republican, renewed his previous unsuccessful attempt to sponsor legislation to create county departments of welfare.

This attempt took on the aspects of a rebellion—its extent not apparent—when Rep. John J. Wolf, (D-Socorro, Catron) said the sponsoring group would attempt to overrule the House Rules Committee and Speaker Donald Hallam if this bill received the same treatment as Atchley's first bill.

The first Atchley bill, similar but not identical to this one, was held to be not within the scope of Gov. Simms' call for the special session.

The House met this morning for DENVER (AP)—The direction of government shifted back to Denver today as President Eisenhower continued to improve from his heart attack and his chief deputy here from Washington.

One of his principal physicians said it would be possible for Eisenhower will retire at the end of his present term by saying if were the President he "wouldn't want to run again."

Dr. Paul Dudley White, asked whether it would be possible for President to run again, told television audience: "Many things are possible that are not be advisable. It is up to him to make the decision. He may not have complete recovery."

Mysterious Blast Shakes San Francisco SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A thunderous, earth-shaking blast jarred a 15-square-mile area of San Francisco last night.

Near panic developed in one neighborhood. Jet planes crashing the sound carrier was suggested as a plausible explanation. But the Air Force said there were no jets over the city.

Blames Eddy County Group for Holdup on Federal Aid

Game and Fish Department Director Defends Clayton Dam Project in Point-By-Point Answers to GPA criticisms

SANTA FE, (AP)—The director of Game and Fish Department defended the controversial Clayton Dam project with point-by-point answers to criticism.

Homer C. Pickens said in a statement last night: "The dam would repay its cost in 10 years; its cost has been misrepresented by inaccurate comparisons; The area northeast where it's being built is not adequately served otherwise; Federal aid is not only forthcoming but has arrived in part and would be here in greater part if it had not been for a demand for investigation.

He said non-resident hunters and fishermen spend 10 million dollars a year in New Mexico, not counting license fees. He said a survey has shown that hunting and fishing bring an annual return of 30 million dollars.

"There is little question but that the project would pay for itself on the basis of fishermen days of use in 10 years or less," he said.

He said critics have made erroneous comparisons about the cost. He said the original estimate was $287,424, not $200,000 as reported. He said the present estimate is $395,000 and said this reflects unforeseen difficulties, including four floods coming after the project was started.

Land costs, he said, were also misrepresented. He said the 402 acres for Clayton cost $44,440, compared to $90,000 spent for the 320 acres including a lake already there at Bluewater in 1948 when prices were lower.

Pickens said the federal Fish and Wildlife department, contrary to report, approved the project for federal aid before it began. He said that department has already reimbursed the state $104,000. He said the full $287,424 would have been paid if the South Eddy County GPA had not demanded an investigation in August.

The governor ordered an investigation that showed the complaint to be justified and recommended that the department be reimbursed he said.

Safeway Ordered To Open Records

OKLAHOMA CITY, (AP)—Safeway stores were ordered by Dist. Judge F. B. H. Spellman yesterday to make available to independent competitors its Oklahoma sales volume statistics.

The action is the latest in a long litigation marking a price war between the chain and the Oklahoma Retail Grocers Assn. A hearing on the controversy is set for Oct. 17.

Independents have been seeking to enjoin Safeway from advertising or selling merchandise under the state fair trade law and Safeway in turn, seeks to restrain the independents from offering trade stamps.

TAKE OTERO LAND ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—The federal government will take over 735 acres of land outside Holloman Air Force Base as soon as owners can be compensated, Asst. U.S. Atty. State Is Slowly Improving Record Of Road Deaths By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS New Mexico slowly but steadily appears to be improving her highway safety record compared with a year ago.

The 1955 toll of highway death stood at 251 this morning, which was 16 less than the 267 on this date a year ago.

With one day left in September to be counted, 25 persons had lost their lives this month. This contrasted with 36 deaths in September, 1954.

Britain Condemns Arms-for-Cotton Middle East Swap UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan declared today that "a heavy responsibility will lie on any country which introduces any new and disturbing factor" into the delicate Middle East situation.

This appeared to be a reference to the disclosure that Egypt had reached an agreement with Czechoslovakia to exchange cotton for weapons. It was the first time that the issue had been raised even indirectly before the U. N. General Assembly.

Macmillan told the Assembly in a policy speech that it is clearly the duty of the United Nations to ally and moderate the ill-feelings between Israel and her Arab neighbors.

"In this intractable issue," he said, "the duty of men of good will is to try to develop the necessary confidence on both sides for an ultimate settlement to be reached."

Corruption Reports Grow

Armed Peronistas Back Down Under Threat of Police Tanks

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Well-armed labor supporters of ousted President Juan D. Peron backed down last night in the face of a grim police threat to blast them from their headquarters.

A possibly serious clash was averted at a building housing a city employees' labor organization, one of three raided by soldiers and police in a search for arms.

About 100 armed union members at first defied a surrender ultimatum but gave up five minutes before tanks were to begin shelling the building.

Others Raided Other groups raided last night were the railroad workers and bank employees. Labor organizations, banded together in the big General Confederation of Labor (CGT), provided a major source of power during Peron's regime.

New Floods Threaten Mexico In Wake of Hurricane Janet

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Disastrous new floods roared down on Mexico's Gulf Coast today in the wake of Hurricane Janet as the killer storm beat itself out against the Sierra Madre Mountains.

The worst of three hurricanes that smashed into east Mexico this month, Janet already had killed at least 200 Mexicans plus 200 other persons on Caribbean islands.

In the storm's wake, torrential rains swelled rivers already flooding from the northern Tamaulipas state to Veracruz. The toll of dead and displaced was expected to rise hourly.

The three big trans-Caribbean hurricanes — Gladys, Hilda and Janet — already have caused an estimated 600 deaths in Mexico. Property damage is reckoned at some 200 million dollars, almost half the national government's 1955 budget.

Janet's course was obscured during the storm's late hours by the havoc its 120-mile-an-hour winds wreaked on communications. Naut-

Fifth National Better Breakfast Month Sponsored By Food Leaders

Five years of research has convinced a team of State University of Iowa scientists that breakfast-skippers rob themselves of potential alertness and efficiency during the late morning hours, and that dieters are wrong if they think missing the morning meal is a practical way to lose weight. The scientists report that, for all age groups, the omission of breakfast placed the subjects at a distinct disadvantage in both physical and mental efficiency during the late morning hours.

What is an adequate breakfast? Doctors and dietitians recommend a basic breakfast of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter, which provides one-fourth of the daily nutritional requirements. This type of breakfast is not only economical and easy to prepare, but wide variety is possible by the more than two dozen kinds of hot, ready-to-eat, and pre-sweetened ready-to-eat breakfast cereals available on today's market.

Join the Fifth National Better Breakfast Month Boosters by serving your family an adequate breakfast every day. Here's a basic breakfast your family will enjoy:

Tommy Byrne Is Frustrated Hurler With Ambitions to Be Second Babe

BROOKLYN, (AP)—Tommy Byrne is a frustrated pitcher who wishes he'd been smart like Babe Ruth and changed to an outfielder.

"I've always had ambitions to be a hitter," the wiry North Carolinian said today after pitching and hitting the New York Yankees to a 4-2 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers in the second game of the World Series.

"If I had it all to do over again—but it's too late now—I'd have been an outfielder."

Byrne, uncorking a strikeout—sure slider in the clutch, yesterday became the first left-hander both to go the full distance and beat the right-hand-power Dodgers during the entire year.

Also it was his slashing single over short which scored Elston Howard and Billy Martin with the runs which proved the final margin of victory.

"That was a good wallop," the 35-year-old castoff beamed proudly. "I liked it."

It's hard to try to pull Byrne out of his pitching prowess without being escorted down another lane dealing with bat work.

"I remember I batted .597 my last year at Wake Forest, led the Southern Conference in hitting," he said. "I hit seven home runs at Seattle last year and batted in 49 runs. I think Not bad for a pitcher."

Byrne is a lean, hollow-cheeked college graduate with a gift of gab—and on off the diamond—and a unique approach to his profession.

Shunted down to Charleston, W. Va., in 1953 after being discarded by four American League clubs, he thought his baseball days were ended.

"It was then I took stock of myself," Byrne recalls. "I told myself I was a man who could solve intricate problems in calculus but who hadn't mastered the simple dimensions of home plate."

"I was terribly wild. I was trying to blow the batters down with sheer power. So I got smart. I changed my pitching technique, mixed in sliders, curves and change-up stuff. And I learned I could help myself by using psychology in needling the batters."

The result as Byrne was a winter sensation in the South American winter league in late 1953, winning 13, and a 20-game winner in 1954 with Seattle of the Pacific Coast League.

That's when the Yankees brought him back to the big time—an act for which Manager Casey Stengel will be eternally grateful. Byrne helped propel the Yankees into the World Series with a 16-5 record.

Veteran Denver Line Faces Big Colorado Aggies

By The Associated Press Denver's veteran line, a big factor in its 1954 championship drive, it matched against Colorado A&M's big, hard running backfield in what shapes up as the Skyline Conference's top attraction this weekend.

The Pioneers meet the Aggies at Fort Collins in one of three league games Saturday.

Wyoming's Cowboys, galloping toward the championship, entertain Utah State, twice beaten in inter-sectional play, at Laramie, and Brigham Young tackles Montana at Missoula.

Denver will be in top physical condition for the key clash that will determine largely whether the Pioneers or the Aggies will be a serious challenger to Wyoming.

The Utah Redskins, who split two games with Pacific Coast Conference clubs, will try their luck against Big Seven opposition with a game Saturday at Columbia against Missouri, beaten by Maryland and Michigan.

New Mexico's Lobos, 25-0 victims of the Colorado Aggies a week ago, entertain at Albuquerque Saturday for Texas Western of El Paso.

BOMBERS WIN TITLE MILWAUKEE, (AP)—The U. S. champion Wichita Bombers needed 11 innings and a three run rally last night to defeat the Hawaii Red Sox, 7-4, to capture first place in the Global world series of semi-pro baseball and claim top prize money of $10,000.

The Big Thirst—III

Pollution of Natural Water Resources By Cities And Industry Fast Depleting Much-Needed Supply

By ROGER D. GREENE WASHINGTON (AP)—Pollution of U. S. rivers, lakes and harbors is spreading an evil and potentially dangerous blight upon the American scene.

Countless cities and towns flush their raw, untreated sewage into once-beautiful streams. Nearly 11,000 industrial plants spew millions of tons of poisonous, corrosive chemicals into the water we drink and brush our teeth with.

Many cities such as Los Angeles, have closed down their bathing beaches at times because of pollution. In some areas pollution-stained waters have brought industrial expansion to a virtual halt.

Here, as seen by a panel of sanitation experts who insisted on anonymity, are the nation's "10 most polluted cities"—that is, metropolitan areas where pollution is a major problem:

- 1—Pittsburgh—Has voted bond issue for treatment works.
- 2—St. Louis—No sewage treatment.
- 3—Miami—Putting in big sewage treatment and ocean outfall plant.
- 4—Kansas City.
- 5—Omaha—Making progress toward cleanup.
- 6—Seattle.
- 7—New York-New Jersey area.
- 8—Washington, D. C.
- 9—Charleston, W. Va. (Kanawha Valley area).
- 10—Youngstown, Ohio, (Mahoning River area).

Scientists say even our "second-hand" water—fouled by sewage and recaptured to be used again—is generally safe to drink after going through modern water purification plants. But 31 million Americans live in cities with no water treatment facilities at all.

In the Ohio River watershed alone, 24 cities have no sewage treatment. And in 32 states, appropriations for water pollution control are less than $50,000 a year.

Federal health authorities today are gravely concerned about long-range effects on human health stemming from the vast influx of noxious industrial wastes into the nation's waterways.

Three Texas Teams Travel Over Weekend

By The Associated Press Texas, home of fabulous football backs, sends three upper-bracket performers into major games this weekend, and if they're as good as their billings say, they are likely to create quite a disturbance in the college rankings.

Tonight Joe Clements, the tall University of Texas sophomore, matches his passes against the running of Southern California's Jon Arnett. Tomorrow it's Baylor and Bobby Jones against top-ranked Maryland in the big one, and Texas Christian's Jim Swink against defending champion Arkansas in a highly important South-west Conference tussle.

Good Passing Arm Although Texas has only split even in two games, Clements' pitching arm has produced 299 yards and four touchdowns and has made him the leading ground-gainer in major college football.

Arnett and his USC mates, who have run up big scores in two games, haven't found a place among the statistical leaders.

Quarterback Jones, key man in Baylor's attack, will be opposed by another fine quarterback in Maryland's Frank Tamburello. The Bears' hopes are pinned mainly on the possibility that Maryland will suffer a let-down after beating UCLA last week and vaulting into the No. 1 spot.

Swink, the nation's No. 1 ball carrier, likely will be hard pressed to hold that ranking when TCU bumps into Arkansas at Fayetteville, Ark.

SMU vs. Georgia Tech These aren't necessarily the biggest games—even involving Texas teams—on an unusually hefty early season slate. For instance, Southern Methodist, still well regarded despite a loss to Notre Dame, bumps into second-ranked Georgia Tech and Rice takes on Louisiana State in inter-sectional games.

Michigan, rated second in the AP poll after an impressive opening victory over Missouri, faces sophomore-loaded Michigan State. Notre Dame (No. 4) encounters Indiana.

Oklahoma and Army, fifth and sixth in the poll rankings, take on a pair of the East's toughest teams, Pittsburgh and Penn State. Seventh rated UCLA (first a week ago) meets Washington State.

The television game of the week pits Ohio State and Howard Casaday against Stanford and its passing combination of Jerry Gustafson and John Stewart.

Simons Food Store 507 S. Sixth SH 6-3732 Selling Dependable Foods Since 1925 Your Patronage is Solicited

Says Mark D. Hollis, chief sanitary engineer of the Health, Education and Welfare Department:

"The whole problem in sewage treatment in the past was to break down organic waste. Now in the last 15 years we've got 700,000 new synthetic chemicals—plastics and so on—and they have changed the nature of waste."

"What happens is that you put a lot of these chemicals in streams and they react on one another. The result, in effect, is that our streams have become a giant test tube for what is taking place."

As an example, Hollis said that an influx of two tenths parts per million (PPM) of copper into a stream doesn't affect the fish. Nor does 8 PPM of zinc.

"But if you combine as little as one tenth of that amount of copper and zinc in the stream, you kill all the fish," he said.

Right now a red-hot controversy is brewing over detergents. What is happening to our lakes and streams as a result of waste water steeped with the 2½ billion pounds of household synthetic detergents sold to American housewives annually?

Some health authorities contend that chemicals found in common synthetic household detergents cause frothing and otherwise gum up the works at water treatment and sewage plants, thereby impeding the purification process.

To which the industry replies: "Nonsense!" or, "Prove it."

F. J. Coughlin, manager of Proctor and Gamble Co.'s research services and chairman of the research advisory subcommittee of the Association of American Soap and Glycerine Producers, said in an interview:

"Household synthetic detergents are no more toxic than ordinary soap. Some food manufacturers are actually mixing detergents into feed for chickens, cows, pigs and other livestock, and there is some evidence it speeds their growth. At least, there's no harmful effect."

As for assertions that detergents are clogging up water treatment plants, Coughlin said that in a recent test 2,800 pounds of a top-selling household detergent were dumped into the sewage treatment plant at San Antonio, Tex., without causing any marked degree of foaming.

Nevertheless, there have been frequent though scattered reports of interference with normal treatment processes in which detergents were named as the suspect.

The American Water Works Assn. Journal says a blanket of detergent laden foam 12 to 24 inches thick covered the 700-foot-wide Ohio River from shore to shore at Wheeling, W. Va., in December, 1953 when heavy rains followed a prolonged dry spell. A sample of the foam, submitted to the Pennsylvania Health Department, was found to contain 3,800 parts per million of synthetic detergent.

Series Highlights

BROOKLYN (AP)—Who's the big man on the New York Yankees? Why, Yogi Berra, if you want to accept the opinion of Brooklyn shortstop Pee Wee Reese.

"He's the ball club," Reese said. "He makes it. He's trying to beat you in a million ways and he does it too."

"He even tries to talk you out of the ball game. I told him before yesterday's game: 'Don't open your big mouth to me, you little so-and-so. Just let me alone.'"

"You get up to the plate and Yogi will say: 'Gee, it's kinda hard to see the ball today, ain't it?' He's trying to plant that idea in your head, so maybe you'll really think it's hard to see the ball."

Hank Bauer pulled a thigh muscle in yesterday's 4-2 victory over the Dodgers and had to retire in the third inning. He was a sad ex-Marine indeed.

"It's something like Mickey Mantle's leg injury," he said. "I rested all night and applied ice packs."

Without Bauer in the lineup, the Yanks would be short two thirds of their regular outfield.

Even Irv Noren, the third member of the regulars, has a swollen and painful right knee.

"I really belong in the hospital," said Irv, "but I'm not going to think of it until after the series and the sooner it ends the happier I'm going to be."

Before he was forced to retire, Bauer amused himself kidding Dodger right fielder Carl Furillo, who has been complaining about a cold.

"Please stay out of right field," Tests have shown that as little as 13 PPM of detergents in a stream killed fish. And rats given an 8 per cent mixture of detergents in their diet all died in a week.

Slowly awakening to the menace of foul water, more than 32 states have now enacted anti-pollution legislation, and many towns and industries have been ordered to clean up. They are beginning to realize that pollution deprives them of badly needed water in recurring times of drought.

cracked Bauer. "You've got place full of germs."

The Brooks' veteran pitcher, Dixie Howell had an explanation for the Brooks' miserable start. "We caught them hot," he said, "just when they were playing during the season. But our ended and so will theirs."

Carl Erskine, who set a record by striking out 14 in one game in the '53 series, been ailing, which explains, he didn't get the No. 3 assignment.

"Carl is not yet 100 per cent explained Alston. 'So I can get only one game out of 1 can use others in the early and have them come back.'"

Erskine has more stuff than member of the pitching staff.

Battle Of The Bulldogs Tonight As Artesia Meets Albuquerque

Belvin Is Out For Season as Class AA Opens

It's the battle of the Bulldogs here tonight as the untested Belvin combination from Albuquerque High School bares its fangs at Reese Smith's growling Artesians.

Somewhat hamstrung by the permanent loss of scabback Jim Belvin, out of football for the rest of the season on doctor's orders, the Artesia Bulldogs still are odds-on favorites to win the first of their Class AA conference games.

Artesia has a two-win, one-loss record, all in non-conference games. The Bulldogs walked over Lovington 63-18 in the season opener then dropped a surprise upset to Alamogordo. Last week, Artesia rambled up and down the gridiron against Portales, winning 20-6 but without any decisive meaning to the ill-officiated game.

Doug Ford Raps Ryder Cup Team For Absences

HUNTINGTON, N. Y. (AP)—Doug Ford, National PGA titleholder who held the lead with a 68 at the start of the second round of the $15,000 Long Island Open Golf championship, today criticized fellow members of the Ryder Cup team for passing up the event.

"We have only three Ryder Cup nominees in this event," said Ford, winner of the All-American at Tam-O-Shanter and the $43,000 sponsors event in addition to the PGA.

In addition to Ford, the Ryder Cup nominees engaged in the tourney are Marty Furgol, who carded 70, and Tommy Bolt, whose card showed 72, thanks to a 2-under-32 on the back nine.

As the golfers went into the second round of the 72-hole play over the par 70, 6,550-yard Huntington Crescent Club Course, Ford was a stroke in front of Al Brosch, veteran from the Cherry Valley club of Garden City, N. Y., and Billy Maxwell, former National Amateur titleholder from Odessa, Tex.

Ronnie Morrison who tips the scales at 200 pounds. Balancing the other side of the line will be 187-pound tackle Bill Strunk and left end Walter Ebia at 180. But the rest of the starting lineup will average below 160.

Smith will start Don Long in Belvin's vacated spot at left half. Long, who virtually fell over his own feet during the Alamogordo game, shone like the first star of evening last week against Portales and observers felt that perhaps the Alamogordo game was a case of stage fright for the promoted second-string back.

Weight-wise, the Albuquerqueans will start three huskies against Artesia tonight. Biggest man on the squad will be right tackle

New Mexicans Have Good Rodeo Night

ALBUQUERQUE — New Mexico performers came through with one of their better evenings last night in the State Fair Rodeo.

Only one New Mexico entrant, Elliot Calhoun of Las Cruces, topped a first, but three others broke into the money.

Calhoun took first in bareback riding, while Olin Young and Jim Apodaca of Lovington and Clyde May of Deming picked up seconds and thirds.

Van Ivey of El Paso tied his calf in 18.4 to take first in calf roping.

Hobbs Horse Sets New Track Record

ALBUQUERQUE — A Hobbs horse shaved another tenth of a second off the track record for the fifth race at State Fair Park here yesterday.

Gannadora, owned by Leon Hoyl, ran the 50-yard event in 18.1 seconds to break a record set the day before. Gypso, owned by Paxson and Kaufman of Nampa, Idaho, ran the same race in 18.2 to better the old track record of 18.44 by two tenths.

In setting the new mark, Gannadora paid win bettors $6.80, $3.80 and $3.10. Wall Street ran second and Vinegar Bend third.

About 6,500 attended and bet $250,246.

Byron Nelson, one of the favorites to win the tournament, encountered trouble after the turn on the 6,300-yard course and checked into the clubhouse with a 73 total.

Chuck Klein of San Antonio had a 68 for third place while three golfers were tied at 69. They were Jack Harden of El Paso, the defending champion; Elroy Marti of Houston and Bob Moncrief, Houston amateur stationed at Fort Bliss here.

Bullpups Rack Third Win of Year at Roswell

ROSWELL — The hapless Roswell Coyote B team suffered its third defeat of the season last night as Artesia rolled over it 35-7.

Neither team scored in the first quarter but Artesia added up three touchdowns and as many extra points to lead 21-0 at halftime.

The visitors added another touchdown as well as many extra points to lead 21-0 at halftime.

The visitors added another touchdown and extra point in both the third and fourth quarters.

The lone Roswell score came in the final period when George Glass shook loose and galloped 63 yards to paydirt. The conversion was kicked by Reggie Hughes.

Mitchell scored three of the Artesia touchdowns, Russell Clack one and Jim Lee another. Mitchell ran off two extra points, Lee one and Jim Moutray booted two.

Roswell 7; Artesia 35.

Touchdowns: Artesia — Mitchell 3, Clack, Lee; Roswell — Glass.

Conversions: Artesia — Moutray 2, Mitchell 2; Lee; Roswell — Hughes.

Eleven Stay in Second Day of Texas PGA Play

EL PASO — Eleven golfers enter the second day of play here in the Texas PGA Tournament with first round under-par totals.

Leading a field of 70 professionals and amateurs are two Houstonians who posted first-day 6-under-par tallies of 66. They were Frank Wharton, Houston University student, and Jackson Bradley, Houston River Oaks Club player.

Byron Nelson, one of the favorites to win the tournament, encountered trouble after the turn on the 6,300-yard course and checked into the clubhouse with a 73 total.

Chuck Klein of San Antonio had a 68 for third place while three golfers were tied at 69. They were Jack Harden of El Paso, the defending champion; Elroy Marti of Houston and Bob Moncrief, Houston amateur stationed at Fort Bliss here.

Misrepresentation Loses

THE public has always been easy to fool. If that were not true we would not have elected to public office some of the officials we have in our own state and over the nation.

And good politicians learned a long time ago that they could get by without always telling the truth about situations and conditions.

Most of us learned a long time ago that a platform is something on which candidates from both political parties run and not something to be remembered after the election is held.

But in the campaigning on proposed constitutional amendment 6, which lost in the election on September 20, there seemingly was an effort made to convince the public this amendment was needed in order to provide adequate and proper authority for the regulating of the prices of products of public utilities.

The implication was made that the prices are not controlled today because the State Corporation commission or Public Service commission does not have the authority.

The fact of the matter is that the proposed amendment provided for a five-member State Corporation commission and done away with the present three-member elected commission and the three-member appointed Public Service commission.

It provided authority to regulate and control public utilities but that authority prevails today. The State Corporation commission has the authority to handle those matters delegated to this commission and the Public Service commission has full authority to regulate those matters designated by law to come before it and under regulatory powers.

If the rates or prices are not fair and just and regulated now, it is not because there is a lack of authority. The state governing bodies have this authority.

We feel the Public Service commission has done an outstanding job not only with qualified members but with a qualified staff. The State Corporation commission has done a fair job with some exceptions.

But both commissions have full authority to do the job assigned to them under the law; they have all the power they need and if the job is not being done, the passage of proposed constitutional amendment No. 6 would not have got it done.

That claim was deliberate misrepresentation to try and win votes.

The answers to everyday insurance problems*
By Don Jensen

QUESTION: Can you tell me what a Floater insurance policy is? I hear the term used by insurance men but it has never been explained to me.

ANSWER: A Floater policy covers all risks except those which are specifically excluded by the policy. This is a different form from the type of policy which covers only those risks specifically mentioned in the policy.

*If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office, we will try to give you the correct answers and there will be no charge or obligation of any kind.

Police aid they were questioning a 16-year-old girl — described as a "close friend" of Peron — about details of the former dictator's private life.

Officers said Miss Rivas had given them leads on others of Peron's "many" girl friends. They said the girl told them she occasionally spent the night at the presidential residence where Peron introduced her as his "niece."

day. Previously they have termed his nights "comfortable" or "very comfortable."

For the first time also, the medical men said the President spent the night outside an oxygen tent, sleeping "almost continuously from 9 p.m. to 6:30 a.m." Heretofore he has been spending most of the day outside the oxygen tent returning to it for assurance of nightly rest.

"His progress continues to be satisfactory without complication," the medical bulletin added.

"It remains to be seen how active he can be in the future."

However, he said all signs were "very encouraging" and that the President's morale was good.

"I talked at some length with the President last Monday," Dr. White said, "to tell him just what the situation is as we see it medically."

"He took all this in and I'm sure he'll be an excellent patient."

The internationally famous physician expressed the view that it will be a good thing to permit Eisenhower to initial a couple of documents as is planned tonight.

"It seemed wise to allow him to do it," said Dr. White. "It is good for his morale, it involves no extra work and no worry. The extra job will do no harm. I'm sure."

Asked if the crisis in such cases usually is reached within two weeks, the doctor said the most difficulty is encountered during the first few days and "the danger isn't completely over for about two weeks."

He continued: "Very few complications occur after the second week."

la, a port of 1,500 persons about 75 miles north of Veracruz, was the only populated place in the path. It had just reported a growing gale and high water when connections were abruptly cut.

Veracruz, important port of 120,000, had braced itself for the full force of the hurricane. Janet capriciously sidestepped the city, but accompanying rains and excessively high tides inundated the port, only four feet above sea level. Main streets were under several feet of water.

Tampico, already under water from the two previous hurricanes and the flooding Panuco River, reported a new rise in waters. Exhausted from their three-week battle against winds, floods and disease, thousands abandoned the city in a mass exodus.

Tampico's food supply was dropping daily, medical supplies were low, and both typhoid and dysentery had broken out. More than 36,000 refugees from among the city's normal population of 110,000 were still being cared for in concentration centers.

It was believed most of the country's estimated total of 200 deaths from Janet occurred on the Yucatan Peninsula. The towns of Chetumal, Xcalak and Bacalar were virtually wiped off the map when 125-mile winds leveled their wooden buildings.

Reports from Merida, Yucatan, said 125 bodies were buried in a common grave at Chetumal yesterday and that more were being found in the debris. Filers estimated the total dead at Chetumal alone at 170.

Legislative leaders, meanwhile, were reported to be reaching an area of agreement on a relatively painless method of giving the Public Welfare Department the money it wants without raising taxes.

The House leadership announced the special session would take a weekend recess and return here Monday, thus dispelling a widespread sentiment that it might prove possible to clean up the session in one week.

This was how the no-tax plan shaped up: 1. A million dollar appropriation for welfare from general fund reserves; 2—Another $500,000 from reserves, surrounded by safeguards and for use only on State Finance Board authorization if revenues fall short of the expected; and 3—Take care of welfare's asserted need for a 1 1/4 million operating

Going to church is always a step in the "right direction." The Church points to God, prayer, truth, goodness. Few church-going boys and girls ever have to go to court. There are 18 million unchurched boys and girls under thirteen years of age in U.S.A. This means 18 million children are going in the wrong direction. The Bible and police records deny children will naturally grow to be desirable characters. Parents, take them to church that they may bear and learn to fear the Lord.
