New Contract Approved By Both Parties

Negotiation sessions last night ended a strike threat against Malco Refineries at its Artesia plant.

A joint statement by Joe W. Lackey, Roswell, Malco vice president, and Odus Jenkins, president of Local 876 of the AFL Operating Engineers Union, said:

"All matters have been concluded to the satisfaction of the company and the local union. The contract has been approved by the membership of Local 876 in a special meeting and runs until Nov. 1, 1956, with a wage open on May 1, 1956."

Two - Day Talks

The successful meeting climaxed two days of negotiations with Haskell H. Atkins, federal labor mediator from Albuquerque.

About 100 employees would have been affected in the big Artesia refinery. The present contract expires Nov. 1 and the union had been talking strike since Oct. 10.

Unofficial sources said a wage increase had been included in the contract and that another dispute over holidays had been settled. Details were not immediately available.

The original wage dispute stemmed from a company rejection of a 10-cent-an-hour raise retroactive to March 1. Then the union amended its demand to make it retroactive to June 1 and then further amended it to seek a flat $50 per

Farm and City Week Program To Open Here

The Artesia observance of Farm-City Week will get underway Thursday with the Pecos Valley Home and Ranch Show, it was announced today by John Usher, chairman of the Artesia Kiwanis Committee.

Farm-City Week is a projected nationwide series of events aimed at bringing about better understanding between rural and urban dwellers. The idea of Farm-City Week was crystallized in the President of the United States' 1954 "State of the Union" message when he said: "The well-being of our 100 million people demands a stable and prosperous agriculture. Conversely, every farmer knows that he cannot prosper unless all Americans prosper."

Farm-City Week observances will be local in character, guided by the overall program of the national committee. A joint resolution by the 84th Congress has set the week up as an annual event.

The observance which will be sponsored locally by the Kiwanis Club of Artesia, through the general

Strengthened Ike Talks With Dulles

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower, getting around a bit in a wheelchair now, meets with Secretary of State Dulles today for discussion of what the chief executive has termed "the acid test" of Soviet sincerity.

Dulles flew in from Washington last night for another hospital conference with Eisenhower on United States preparations for the Big Four foreign ministers parley opening in Geneva Oct. 27.

This Is Artesia

Artesia is going to be busier than Albuquerque this weekend what with the KSVP Farm and Ranch Show, the state GPA convention and the Hobbs football game. Gonna have to be triplets to get around to everything.

Maniac Slayer of Boys Object of Greatest Hunt

Work of Madman Or Older Youth Gang, Police Say

CHICAGO (AP)—State, county and city police today pressed their widest investigation of its kind in a quarter century as they sought to solve the ghastly slaying of three young boys whose naked, mutilated bodies were found piled in a forest ditch.

Authorities blamed the crime on either a madman or a gang of older youths.

Strangled, Beaten

The boys—Robert Peterson, 14, John Schuessler, 13, and his brother Anton Jr., 11—were strangled and beaten, apparently Sunday night, a few hours after they set out from their homes for a downtown movie.

Their bodies, with legs intermingled, were discovered yesterday in Robinson Woods, just outside Chicago's northwest limits.

A hundred law officers scoured the woods today for clues.

Other police were tracing movements of the youngsters from the time they left their middle-class neighborhood on the Northwest Side to see the Walt Disney movie "The African Lion" in the Loop Sunday afternoon.

Dead 48 Hours

An autopsy last night indicated the boys had been dead 36 to 40 hours when their bodies were discovered but that they had not been molested sexually as first believed.

However, Dr. Harry R. Hoffman, an associate of the Cook County

Actor John Hodiak Dies Suddenly Of Heart Seizure

TARZANA, Calif. (AP)—Movie actor John Hodiak collapsed at home today shortly after getting up to go to work and died of a heart attack.

The handsome 41-year-old actor was in the midst of making the picture "Threshold of Space." He is divorced from actress Anne Baxter.

Hodiak has starred in such films as "Bell for Adano" and was discovered in the picture "Life Boat" by director Alfred Hitchcock.

One of his most recent films was "The Caine Mutiny." He had just left Holloman Air Force Base at Alamogordo, N. M., 10 days ago where much of "Threshold" was filmed.

Fast-Moving Royal Family Acts Like Meg's Romance Doesn't Exist

LONDON (AP)—Britain's royal family dashed off in all directions today, going about its usual round of official duties just as if the nation wasn't in a furious tizzy over Princess Margaret's romance with Peter Townsend.

Margaret flew from London in a pouring rain to present new colors to a regiment at Bulford, in the west of England. The Duke of Edinburgh, the Queen's husband, drove to Barking, outside London, for an industrial inspection trip.

Queen Elizabeth II stayed home at Buckingham Palace, to receive Dr. Albert Schweitzer and confer on the Alsatian medical missionary and Nobel peace prize winner the Order of Merit, one of Britain's highest honors.

Townsend drove away in the rain from the Lowndes Square flat where he is visiting, carrying a suitcase and a pair of spurs.

There was still no indication when— if ever — an official statement would be issued on the romance.

Final GPA Plans Made For State Convention Opener

Last minute planning for the 35th annual Game Protective Association state convention to be held here this weekend was completed last night by board of directors of the host chapter, the North Eddy County GPA.

Highlighted by the first appearance here since his inauguration of Gov. John F. Simms, the three-day gathering begins at 2 p. m. tomorrow with registration of delegates at the Hotel Artesia. The New Mexico chief executive will arrive here Friday morning and is scheduled to address the more than 200 state delegates at 11:15 a. m.

He will be guest of honor at the dutch lunch barbecue slated for noon at City Park.

Mrs. Dick Gill, in charge of registrations, will move the registration booth from the hotel Friday morning to Veterans Memorial Building where the main business of the convention will be conducted.

Jim Allen, Artesia GPA publicity chairman, said that tickets to the dutch lunch on Friday can be purchased at Veterans building or at the park. Charge will be $1 to non-delegates.

Tickets for the annual banquet Friday night at Veterans Building, can be bought at the registration booth up to noon Friday at a cost of $2 for non-delegates. No tickets will be sold after noon and none sold that evening.

In addition to planning the convention, the board of directors also laid plans for the annual GPA barbecue to be held Nov. 3. Each member has been requested to bring a rancher or farmer as guest and to register their guest by Nov. 1.

Educational VD Film OK'd

SANTA FE (AP)—A new type of educational film on venereal disease has been approved for showing in schools by Archbishop Edwin V. Byrne.

The film, called "The Invader," will be shown in all high schools and colleges by the State Health department. Artesia high school was the first school to view the film. It also was shown freshmen at Highlands university, Las Vegas.

Half-time entertainment Friday evening, the Bulldog band will present something entirely new in the way of football show.

Justin D. Bradbury, director, announces that the theme of the show will be based on popular blues themes from the all-time Hit Parade.

The fanfare announcing the show will be a pasage from "Rhapsody in Blue," the entrance will be "Bye, Bye Blues," a novelty stunt will be presented based on "Birth of the Blues," a dance routine accompanied by "Learnin' the Blues," and a cap light routine on "Blue Moon."

"This show has nothing whatsoever to do with our spirits or the spirit of the school as a whole," said Bradbury. "Everyone is very optimistic about the outcome of Friday night's game and our whole school is behind those fighting Bulldogs. We hope that everyone will enjoy this half-time show because, for a change, it is built entirely around a jazz theme."

CAA Believes Plane Disintegrated in Air Before Crashing Into Apartment House Killing Four

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Was millionaire Joel W. Thorne stunting, or was he desperately trying to fly out of trouble just before his plane plunged into an apartment building, costing his own and three other lives? Civil Aeronautics Administration investigators probed deeper today for the answer.

A baby whose family was celebrating her christening, an 18-year-old bride and a Thorne perished in the fiery crash and explosion which devastated with bomblike fury two apartments of a six-unit building Monday night.

The fourth victim, a 6-year-old boy, died of horrible burns in a hospital last night. He was one of the christening party.

Frightened residents reported the single-engine plane buzzed the residential area two or three times at what seemed like rooftop height just before the crash. Some thought the plane was in trouble as it roared back and forth in or just under a 700-foot ceiling.

The CAA investigators, Laurence Lightbody and Bernard T. Naught, took cognizance of these reports but hunted for a more scientific answer in the shattered fragments of Thorne's plane.

"Pieces of the aircraft along the flight path indicate it disintegrated in the air," Naught said.

Disintegration could result from excessive speed or violent handling of the plane, such as stunting or the terrific stress of a sudden pull-up at high speed, he said.

"In my opinion, it would be inconceivable Thorne would be stunting in the prevailing weather, in drizzling, overcast conditions," Naught said.

"He was an experienced pilot and flying on instruments," Lightbody pointed out. "It seems unlikely he would be attempting bar-

Hard-Hit Connecticut Still Counting Up Flood Damages

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Connecticut, hardest hit of the six Northeast states in weekend floods, continued today to tally up the damages.

For the second time in two months there were smashed homes, factories piled high with debris and rusted machinery and battered stores and small businesses.

But Connecticut and the rest of the stricken Northeast will be getting help from the federal government.

At Denver yesterday, President Eisenhower assured New England governors that the administration is determined "to assist the states and the people of the Northeast in developing adequate protections against future flood and hurricane losses."

Pennsylvania and Massachusetts areas became qualified by President Eisenhower for federal aid. His action supplemented aid authorized for most states after the August floods.

He also authorized supplemental aid for New York, Connecticut and New Jersey.

The sixth state, Rhode Island, was protected under the August flood aid program.

The toll of dead and missing in the latest floods was 42, with 16 of them in Connecticut. Damage was unestimated.

The Mine-Mill Union restatement came after Brownell accused the union of making "a scurrilous, scandalous and wholly unwarranted attack" on his motives in seeking to require the union to register as a Communist-infiltrated group with the Subversive Activities control board.

When the session ended, he was asked whether he felt that the state's potential bidders were satisfied with the specifications. He replied he felt they were, with the possible exception of certain lot combinations which place such items as surgical and dental equipment together on an "all-or-nothing" bid.

Otherwise, Simms said, "I frankly was surprised at the support the specifications received from the little operators."

Two persons spoke critically of the specifications, but half a dozen expressed approval. A critical telegram from the Goff-Ball Hotel Supply Co., Albuquerque, quoted a letter from architect W. C. Kruger's office telling the company it should bid through general contractors. A Kruger aide subsequently acknowledged he had committed an error when he wrote the letter.

Those who expressed approval of the Kruger-drawn specifications included Jack Brenna, executive

Five Dead in Path Of Big Truck

CUMBERLAND, Md. (AP)—A tractor-trailer truck lost brakes and plummeted out of control down Big Savage Mountain into the west skirts of Cumberland today, killing five persons when it overtook a car and smashed into another truck.

The victims were tentatively identified as two men and two women passengers driving into Cumberland from Frostburg, Md., and a Pennsylvania truck driver.

Dead Listed State Police listed them as: Clifford Fearer, bookkeeper for Cumberland Steel Co.; Miss Thomas, bookkeeper for Lumber Co. of Cumberland; Francis X. Spearman and Evelyn Lloyd, clerical employees of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at Cumberland.

Amel J. Brennenman, the truck driver, from Springs, Pa. Brennenman was westbound out of Cumberland on U. S. 40 with a trailer on his rig when the big truck came roaring down the grade and knocked his truck over the road. Brennenman was not injured.

The driver of the runaway truck, Stewart Myers, 25, of Dover, had only a scratch over one eye.

Burn to Death Fearer and his passengers were killed when the roaring truck overtook their sedan from behind, smashed over it and ripped part of its load of aluminum.

Rhea Ellinger to Compete at ENMU

Twirling for the Eastern New Mexico Twirling Championship, Rhea Ellinger, a very slim margin, Rhea Ellinger, will travel to Portales today to compete in the Homecoming contest at Eastern New Mexico university.

Competing with twirlers from East Side, as well as those from West Texas, Miss Ellinger is being cheered by her older sister, Aliene, years ago.

Three weeks ago Rhea was crowned queen of first place at the Fair Twirling contest by a 2-point. She was placed second in the senior division at the Fair by Judge Norman Cridwell, who himself is the national champion.

Rhea will be accompanied to Portales by her mother, Mrs. Wilbur Ellinger.

State Opens Bids on $1 1/2 Million Equipment for New Prison After Public Protest Meeting

SANTA FE (AP)—The State Penitentiary Board proceeded today to open bids for $1,500,000 worth of equipment for the new prison, after a public meeting at which potential bidders attacked the bid specifications.

The board reserved the right to reject any bids.

Gov. John F. Simms, who presided at the session last night, said at the outset that he had called for a public hearing because a Santa Fe New Mexico article had quoted supply representatives as saying the bidding was "rigged" in favor of a general contractor, as distinguished from small supply dealers.

Simms said he felt that because of "the implication in such terminology" an investigation was called for.

When the session ended, he was asked whether he felt that the state's potential bidders were satisfied with the specifications. He replied he felt they were, with the possible exception of certain lot combinations which place such items as surgical and dental equipment together on an "all-or-nothing" bid.

Win-Hungry Lobos Primed For Montana

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — Short on experience but long on hopes, the University of New Mexico Lobos this week head for Missoula, Mont. in an effort to win their first Skyline Conference game of the season.

The Lobos, rated almost even against the Montana Grizzlies, also aim to halt an embarrassing situation—in four games, the Lobos have not scored a single point. The only Lobo scores came in their first game against New Mexico A&M, which New Mexico won 14-7.

Lobo Coach Bob Titchenal, whose line is beginning to jell with five games experience behind it, sums up his victory hopes with a terse: "We're hungry!"

Lobo blocking and tackling has picked up although this week Titchenal is concentrating on defense to sharpen up his line—made up entirely of sophomores.

The greatest encouragement for the Lobos came in the last two games. Although losing both—the latest to San Jose State 14-0 the Lobos showed beautiful line strength in holding down the Spartans. Titchenal before the game had visions of a humiliating defeat of something like 54-0.

Montana's only win this year has been against Brigham Young, strong in the conference. Montana also has consistently scored on its opponents and its offense, mainly due to Kampschror's passing. It is considered notches above New Mexico. On the other hand, Montana fell to Utah State 32-6 and was unable to cope at any time with the Utags.

Titchenal still is not satisfied with his passing although Lott is improving steadily. But "we expect it to improve," he said, noting that Lott now is having more time to hurl the pigskin and is getting good protection.

Veteran Home Loan Program Is Expanded

On June 21, 1955, the president approved a law extending the authority of the VA to make direct loans through June 30, 1957. It also broadened the authority of the Veterans Administration to make loans to eligible veterans for four basic purposes: (1) To purchase or construct a dwelling to be owned or occupied by him as his home.

The maximum loan that may be made to any eligible veteran is $10,000. The term "Farm" as defined in the regulations means a parcel of land operated as a single unit, which is used for the production of one or more agricultural commodities and which customarily produces or is capable of producing such commodities for sale and for home use of a gross annual value of not less than the equivalent of a gross annual value of $400 in 1944, as determined by the secretary of agriculture.

It is not necessary that a veteran devote full time to farming operations in order to qualify for a loan for the purchase of a farm or for the purchase or construction of a farm home. Loans for the purchase or construction of farm homes or for the purchase of a farm may be made anywhere in the state of New Mexico, except within the city limits of Albuquerque. Direct loans to purchase or construct a home may be made anywhere in the State of New Mexico, except in Bernalillo County, Santa Fe County, and the cities of Farmington, Las Cruces, Roswell, Carlsbad and Hobbs.

Applications for direct loans may be made by a letter addressed to: K S W S TV CHANNEL 8 WEDNESDAY, OCT. 19 2:00 Test Pattern 2:59 Sign On 3:00 Matinee Time 3:30 Action Theater 4:45 Crusader Rabbit 5:00 Walker on Review 5:30 Daily Newsrel 5:45 Weather Story 6:00 National Guard Wrestling Interviews 6:15 Coke Time 6:30 Files of Jeffrey Jones 7:00 The Falcon 7:30 Arthur Godfrey Show, CBS 8:00 I Am the Law 8:30 You'll Never Get Rich 9:00 Channel Eight News 9:10 Sports Desk 9:20 Moonlight Serenade 9:30 The Playhouse 10:00 The Lineup 10:30 News, Sports, Weather 10:35 Sign Off.

Michigan State's Fullback Gerry Planutis Is Honored

By TED MEIER The Associated Press Fullback Gerry Planutis of Michigan State, who plunged for the winning touchdown against Notre Dame last Saturday, was selected as The Associated Press Back of the Week today by a narrow margin over Navy's George Welsh whose forward passes crushed Penn State.

It was a contest between two lads from the anthracite region of eastern Pennsylvania with Hazleton's Planutis topping Coaldeale's Welsh. A national television audience saw Planutis overpower the Notre Dame line with savage line bucks as the Spartans moved to their winning TD in the third period. It was fitting for him to buck over the vital points because it wiped out the bitter memory of 1954 when he failed to convert twice and the Irish took a 20-19 victory.

Not only did Planutis go over for the winning touchdown, but he set the stage for MSU's final TD in the Spartan's 21-7 triumph recovering an Irish fumble on the Notre Dame 16 in the last quarter. He converted all three points. After the game he was awarded the ball by his teammates for his tremendous work.

Where Planutis stayed on the ground, Welsh took to the air as he sparked Navy to a 34-14 triumph over Penn State. The 22-year-old Midshipman set the Nittany Lions crazy with his flips. Altogether he completed 15 of 20 passes for 285 yards, a Naval Academy record.

Coach Rip Engle of Penn State termed Welsh the most accomplished passer in college football today. Planutis and Welsh were not the only backs to be nominated by sportswriters and broadcasters in the AP poll.

Fullback Joe Childress of Auburn was praised for his work in Auburn's 14-12 upset of Georgia Tech. Quarterback Sonny Jurgensen of Duke, who tallied the winning TD against Ohio State, was praised, too, as was Don Watson, who scored twice in Texas A&M's 19-16 upset over Texas Christian.

Others nominated included Tommy McDonald of Oklahoma; John Roach of SMU; Frank Sarno of Washington State; John Drums Majors of Tennessee and Jon Arnett of USC.

Texas Aggies Are Point Favorites Over Baylor Bears

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. Texas A&M will be in a strange Saturday-favored to win a Southwest Conference football game for the first time in two years.

The bubbling Aggies, hot on the heels of a championship that has eluded them for 15 years, meet their daring Bears at College Station in the feature game of the conference for the week.

This one might well decide the fate of the young Aggies find themselves 3-point favorites to gain a highly favored position.

A crowd of 40,000 is due as the Aggies thrills to the drive back of a team that has been down many seasons.

Texas and Texas clash at Austin in another conference game and one is rated even although Texas has won only one game this year and Rice has lost only one.

Owls' somewhat dismal show against Southern Methodist this week is the reason for their rating against Texas.

While the two conference games are being played, the three other conference members will be engaged in intersectional warfare. Southern Methodist finds itself a point underdog to Mississippi at Ford.

The weekend starts off with Texas Christian battling Miami at Miami. The Horned Frogs, who won their first game of the season, Texas A&M last week, are favored by a touchdown over the semi Hurricane.

Speedboat Repairs Made at Air Base

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The Bluebird II, the sleek, jet hydroplane which sank last Sunday after an ill-fated speed attempt by England's Don Campbell, today was moved to Nellis Air Force Base.

Campbell promptly accepted an offer by Brig. Gen. James G. Roberts, base commander, to use repair facilities at the nearby air base. The 34-year-old Britisher said he expects the Bluebird II to be ready for another try on his own water record of 202.34 miles an hour within two weeks.

"It's most amazing, there is hardly any water damage to the engine or electrical system," Campbell said. Campbell blamed choppy water for his average of 155 miles an hour over 7-mile Lake Mead course. He said while the boat is being repaired he will survey the lake for a better course.

Ryder Cup team Capt. Chick Harbert fired a 35-35 for a two-under-par 70 over the lush 7,035-yard country club course yesterday.

An 18-hole exhibition round and clinic with the Challenge golfers and Ben Hogan, honorary challenge team captain, will be held tomorrow.

Collins Does Good Job

SEABORN COLLINS, National commander of the American Legion for the past year, has completed his service in this capacity to his own post as well as to the national organization.

Former Commander Collins was elected a little over a year ago and served for almost 13 months as the chief of the Legion organization. He was the first New Mexican to ever be so honored and the first from the southwest to be given this high honor.

Legionnaires of New Mexico, the southwest and the nation have been proud of the job he did for his organization and for the Legion. They have been proud of the stands he has taken and the fact that he has spoken on every occasion to promote what he has felt to be good and to condemn that which he felt was not good.

For years the Legion has advocated Universal Military training and he has had his say on this subject. Indications point to the fact that sooner or later we will have to adopt such a program in order to provide the trained men we need. We practically have such a program today even though it has failed to fulfill our needs.

Former Commander Collins has spoken out against the subservient activities and the enemies of the nation. He has been criticized at times for his bold stands and yet admired and respected by those who are willing to fight for our land, our country and our flag.

Commander Collins had been active in the state department of New Mexico and in National legion affairs for some years before he was chosen as the National Commander. He is bound to continue to be active in the affairs of our state and our nation through the weeks, the months and the years ahead.

Without a doubt he is anxious to return to his business, to his office, to his desk and to his friends in Las Cruces. He has seen little of these in the last two years.

But Las Cruces will be glad to have him back home and is proud of the record he has made for himself and for the service he has rendered his home community, the state and the nation.

Congratulations Commander Collins on an outstanding job well done and our sincere appreciation for the personal sacrifice you made in order to serve the Legion and your country.

For almost five miles it rocked on down the steep grades into the west outskirts of Cumberland. At Allegany Grove, as it entered the Cumberland suburb of Lavalie, a tire blew out and it lurched into one front yard and on through to the yard of John D. Kasekamp.

At the edge of the Kasekamp yard it overtook the Fearer sedan. Fearer apparently had pulled to the side of the road and had almost stopped in an effort to get out of the truck's way.

After crunching the car aside, the truck piled another 100 feet down the highway and smashed into Brenneman's rig.

of the Robert E. McKee general contracting firm, which is building the 7 1/2 million dollar prison.

Brennand confirmed that McKee will bid on today's "Phase 4", which includes construction and an estimated $200,000 worth of equipment. He challenged as "misconceptions" some of the things that had been said about profits. "We spend a lot of money preparing for these lettings and we are trying to save the state money, as we always do in such cases—and we don't get any 15 per cent, either," Brennand declared.

Gist of the criticisms made to the New Mexican by supplier representatives whose names the paper did not publish was this: Several said the specifications were such that they could not bid, they were drawn so as to favor a general contractor; purchase of the huge order through a general contractor "middle man" would lose the state big discounts and mean extra profit for the contractor as well as the Kruger firm; and because of "installation" requirements a bidder would have to have a contractor's license.

Behavior Clinic, said: "The person who could commit such an act as this one is one to whom the act itself is a gratification of the sex urge."

Coroner Walter E. McCarron called it "the work of a madman" or a gang of older boys. He theorized from marks and dirt on the bodies that the boys were held captive in "some filthy place" bound and gagged with strips of adhesive tape and then dumped in the forest preserve.

Found in Forest

Victor Livingston, a liquor salesman, saw the bodies when he parked his car in the forest preserve to eat his lunch.

The oldest boy, Robert Peterson, had been slashed across the head 14 times, probably with an ax or a hunting knife, police said.

The coroner's office said the Schuessler boy had been hit on their faces with what appeared to be the flat side of a knife. But Dr. Jerry Kearns, coroner's pathologist, who examined the bodies, said strangulation caused the death of all three.

The brutal murder brought heartbreak into the homes of Anton Schuessler, 41, a tailor, and Malcolm Peterson, 40, a carpenter.

Only Children

Anton and John were the Schuessler's only children. Robert was one of four children. All three were clean-cut youngsters with close-cropped hair, who were dressed neatly in jeans and jackets with emblems proclaiming that they were fans of the Chicago White Sox and the Chicago Cubs.

Board members, Kruger and others, including some of the supply people who defended the specifications.

Robert's mother Dorothy, 37, collapsed and was put under a physician's care. Seven blocks away the other mother, Eleanor Schuessler, also 37, sobbed uncontrollably.

"My life... my arms... my legs... now gone," she cried. Once she started to rise from the couch as neighbors and a priest attempted to comfort her, screaming:

"... I want my boys! I want my boys!"

Bitter Father

Schuessler, who lived in Germany during his childhood, although he was born in this country, said:

"When you get to the point that children can't go to the movies in the afternoon and get home safely, something is wrong with the country."

Schuessler and Peterson went to the morgue to identify their sons. Schuessler cried out when he saw the body of John, and collapsed across the top of Anton's body. Two friends half carried him to the main floor of the morgue and then carried him to their car when his legs folded under him.

Peterson sobbed quietly after seeing Robert's body.

Tracing the boys' movements, police found that they had gone to two bowling alleys Sunday night, apparently after attending the movie in the Loop.

The ditch where the bodies were found is about 10 miles northwest of the Loop.

The following named defendants by name, if living, if deceased, their unknown heirs: James S. Venable, William Crandall, Margaret Crandall and W. B. Standifer; all unknown claimants of interest in the premises adverse to the plaintiffs.

You are hereby notified that a suit has been filed against you and each of you by Jose Moncada and Juanita Valdez Moncada, his wife, formerly known as Juanita Valdez, as plaintiffs, in the District Court of the Fifth Judicial District of the State of New Mexico, within and for the County of Eddy, that being the Court in which said cause is pending and being Cause No. 15409, the general object of said suit being to quiet and set at rest the plaintiffs' title, in fee simple, in and to the following described lands, situated in Eddy County, State of New Mexico, to-wit:

Lot 4, Block 17, Artesia Heights Addition to the City of Artesia, New Mexico, as the same appears on the official plat thereof, on file in the office of the County Clerk, subject only to the encumbrance and easement mentioned in said complaint.

DONALD S. BUSH, whose address is 216 Booker Building, Artesia, New Mexico, is the attorney for the plaintiffs.

You and each of you are hereby further notified that unless you enter your appearance in said cause on or before the 12th day of November, 1953, judgment will be entered against you in said cause by default.

WITNESS MY HAND and the seal of said Court this 28th day of September, 1953.

(SEAL) — Marguerite E. Waller, Clerk of the District Court. 9/24/10/5-12-19

Anderson Accepting Applications For Admission to U.S. Academies

WASHINGTON—Sen. Clinton P. Anderson announced today that he is accepting applications from interested New Mexico young men to fill vacancies at the three armed services academies for 1956.

He said that he will be able to appoint two students to the Naval Academy at Annapolis and one to the Military Academy at West Point. The senator also will be permitted to nominate 10 students for the Air Force Academy at Denver who will compete with other congressional nominees. Only single men between 17 and 22 are eligible for appointment to the academies, he said.

The possibility exists that Sen. Anderson will be able to appoint a second man to West Point. A determination on this vacancy will be made at a later date, he said.

New Mexico may have 16 congressional appointees at West Point at any given time. Men are appointed to fill the quota as vacancies occur, either through graduation or for other reasons. Twenty New Mexico men named by the congressional delegation may attend Annapolis at any one time and appointments are made as vacancies occur. Other men from New Mexico may be enrolled at the schools in addition to the congressional appointees but they are chosen by

ARTESIA BUSINESS AND INDUSTRIAL REVIEW

Milk Is 40 Cents a Quart

Think the Cost of Living High? Read This and Be Real Grateful

CHURCHILL, Man. (AP)—Take a look at life in this town on Hudson Bay, an outpost of the Canadian frontier.

Milk is 40 cents a quart, gasoline 54 1/2 cents for an imperial gallon. Plumbing is mostly outdoors. Summer brings black flies and mosquitoes. Winter brings numbing cold.

And when you die they have to dig your grave with dynamite. Yet some 850 persons call this town home.

Ocean shipping-freighters from England—carry out wheat in summer and make jobs. Construction of radar defense lines farther north has turned the town into a bustling operations headquarters. There's even some whaling.

Building sites would make a city contractor shudder. They are strewn with huge rocks—some as big as a small house—beneath the tundra.

Only two or three feet below the surface the ground is frozen solid the year round. Excavation is impossible; buildings rest on a gravel pad hauled in by truck. Lots are selling for $80 to $130.

Because of the cost, permafrost pipelines run along the surface. When cold weather sets in, the house supply is cut off and house-holders must haul their own water or pay 75 cents for a barrel delivered.

Fuel oil sells for $14.30 for a 35-gallon drum and coal at $24 a ton. Electricity is 12 cents a kilowatt hour.

Infrequent garbage collections are made during the summer but none in winter. Vegetation is lacking. Hudson Square, a huge rectangle in the middle of town, is a barren expanse of boulders and gravel. There are no lawns or gardens.

VA Contact Man To Explain Policy

A law recently passed by Congress grants reinstatement of insurance to certain veterans where their 5-year level term insurance expired during the 120 day period following discharge. The deadline date for reinstating such insurance is Nov. 26, 1955. This extension was made possible by PL 194 of the 84th Congress, which also set the deadline date.

Information concerning these and other benefits may be obtained from William E. Hall, Veterans Administration Contact Representative from Carlsbad, who will visit Artesia, at the United Veterans Club on Oct. 25, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Sammie J. Craft Takes Part in Hawaiian Tests

25TH DIV., HAWAII—Pvt. Sammie J. Craft, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Craft, 112 W. Grand, Artesia, recently took part in battalion training tests held by the 25th Infantry Division on the Island of Hawaii.

The two-day test was divided into three phases—defense, night withdrawal and attack. The island is about 200 miles from the unit's home station at Schofield Barracks on Oahu.

Private Craft, a machine gunner with Company F of the division's 14th Regiment, entered the Army in January, 1955.

The British call railroad tracks metals, a freight car a goods wagon, an auto hood a bonnet, a muffler a silencer, a batter an accumulator, a pancake turner an egg-scoop, a can opener a tin-opener, an egg beater an egg-whisk and a trillion a billion.

Accidental electric shock causes about 1,000 American deaths a year.

RUSSIAN-ARAB 'UNDERSTANDING' SEEN IN UN

THE HAMMER AND SICKLE, many diplomats believe, is reaching into the Arab states, as indicated by apparently co-operative voting in the UN by the Russian and Arab blocs. Basis for "work together" action was formed when Russia agreed to sell arms to Egypt. Further indications of "understanding" came when the Arab states supported Russia's announcement she would insist on early political committee discussion of the disarmament question, which western powers feel should be left till after the Big Four foreign ministers meeting in Geneva the last week of October. At root of all this is Russia's desire for a foothold in the Middle East, and Arab leaning to "neutrality."

Storm-Proof Homes Boom On East Coast

NEW YORK (AP)—Storms that have lambasted large sections of the nation with marked fury this year are making home owners, industrial management and the building industry increasingly hurricane and flood conscious.

Hurricane-resistant windows, leakproof walls, wind and water defiant foundations, bridges and highways are prime topics today in architectural and construction circles. New paints and other surface coatings, as well as new construction materials and methods are being tested in laboratories.

In addition to spectacular damage and destruction of many buildings and bridges, heavy rains and floods have ruined countless driveways, cellar walls and floors and house roofs this year. So many a home owner is more storm-conscious than ever.

Sturdy house building is very much more in the minds of would-be home owners now. Contractors say that one housing development lost roofs in wholesale quantities in one of the big blows because builders had skimmed on roof nails. A lot of ideas on making big buildings hurricane resistant are being pushed.

A New York skyscraper, the Socony Mobil Building, a 45-story stainless steel clad office structure, will boast 3,200 "hurricane resistant" windows. One of the secrets is a double gasket seal of polyvinyl chloride.

The Truscon Steel division of the Republic Steel Corp. which designed and made them says it had them tested by the University of Miami. Wind and water were hurled against sample windows at velocities equal to a 145-mile-an-hour storm. Air pressure against the quarter-inch plate glass was around two thirds of a ton.

The steel industry is touting the use of more steel reinforcement in concrete in highways, driveways and foundations. This summer's storms left miles of roadbeds piles of rubble. Undermining by floods is another problem, but the steelmen say many road surfaces could have been saved with greater use of welded wire fabric in the cement.

Neopotism Found Widespread Throughout American Industry

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK, (AP)—Many a businessman has looked forward to the day when he could add "& son" to the firm's name. And many a corporation executive has looked around in his organization for the job with sufficient prestige for his son-in-law.

Is that as good for the business as it is for the relative?

This very human practice of placing relatives in responsible jobs with first regard for their kinship rather than for their merit or qualification goes by the name of nepotism. It's been around a long time, in politics and business, and the name originated in church practices of an earlier day.

In a family-owned business it's the family's own affair how nepotism works out. The "& son" can be a family indulgence. Quite often the son does a good job, sometimes better than Dad did. In a publicly owned corporation, nepotism is the concern of the many stockholders as well as others in the management.

Curious as to how much nepotism there is in business in this country, the American Institute of Management, a nonprofit foundation, studied the directorates and executive rosters of 23,000 companies. It found nepotism in about 12,000.

Poles Not Apart

BENIGN is the word for appearance of Vasily Kuznetsov, Soviet first deputy foreign minister, as he is seen here at a press conference in New York. He was trying to drum up support for Poland against the Philippines in contest for the two-year UN Security Council post. (International)

Stressing that many such corporations are excellently managed, the institute nevertheless points out that "chronic nepotism has caused the failure of many enterprises and companies, stunted the growth of many others, delayed and hampered still others."

Trouble can arise within the corporation, the institute holds, because the choice of relatives for top positions more or less defeats any program of executive development. Also it breeds jealousy. Other executives see little chance for advancement. Sometimes it leads to struggles for control.

There is the steep federal and state inheritance tax. This often keeps the chief owner of a large company from passing control to his children, or leaving them as much of an estate in other forms as he would like.

So he tries to see that they inherit top positions, even if the tax collector gets most of the proceeds of the stock holdings.

Mexico's population is increasing at a rate of about three per cent a year.
