Council Of Church Women To Observe Community Day

The United Council of Church Women will observe World Community Day Friday with a covered luncheon at 1 o'clock in Fellowship hall of the First Methodist church.

Rev. Fred Klerekeper, pastor of the First Presbyterian church will be the guest speaker.

All women in the city are invited, and are asked to bring clothing to help in the request for five million pounds of garments needed in five world service centers.

The "Parcels for Peace" will be sent to Pakistan, India, Okinawa, and Korea. Especially needed are men's and boys' clothes, yardage of denim and sheeting to make into work clothes and children's clothing.

World Community Day is a nationwide observance to call attention of America to a world where a billion people never have enough to eat and where a child has scarcely a fifty-fifty chance of survival.

"But there is hope if we support the work of our churches and of the United Nations, both are helping build world community," a Council spokesman said.

Jersey Joe In Shape For Movie Role

By BOB MYERS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It was upstairs in the Hollywood YMCA and two old men were sparring in the ring. One of them was Jersey Joe Walcott.

An onlooker called "time." It was obviously the end of a two-minute round.

Jersey Joe, the ageless heavyweight champion of the world, merely smiled pleasantly. He was puffing a little and sweating a lot, trying to knock off 18 or 20 pounds he has picked up since he retired.

Jersey Joe is here to act a part in a movie about boxing, "The Harder They Fall." He plays a trainer but he wants to look in shape for one brief boxing sequence.

It was suggested that perhaps he intended to have a round or two with another actor in the play, the well known sports writer, Humphrey Bogart. It was recalled that Jersey Joe never touches the stuff.

As for the fight game, well, Walcott says he won't even watch a bout any more. They wanted him in the ring at the recent Rocky Marciano-Archie Moore match. Joe stayed at his home in Camden, N. J.

"The way it is," he said, "I'm afraid if I got to watching I'd see something about one of the fighters—some weakness or something—and I might get the idea that I

Sooner Maryland Grid Schedules Are Blasted

Writer Says Schedules Not Worthy Ones

ATLANTA, (AP)—Ed Danforth, editor of the Atlanta Journal-Constitution, today praised Jim Tatum and Bud Wilkinson as fine football coaches but blasted Maryland and Oklahoma for their "soft schedules in his daily column for Wednesday.

Danforth wrote that Maryland and Oklahoma currently lead 1-2 in The Associated Press football ratings. The Sooner and Terp are highly regarded by the eager newsmen.

The AP poll lists Oklahoma and Maryland as tied at this point. Everyone who watched them play has marveled at the power and precision of their operations. Obviously, Bud Wilkinson at Oklahoma and Jim Tatum at Maryland again have done a fine job of coaching.

Just how good Oklahoma and Maryland are is open to challenge. The usually play and are now regarded in soft schedules unworthy of their resources.

The Sooner for years have dominated the Big Six-Seven Conference which is slow company as these football leagues go. In 1954, Coach Wilkinson's teams have won 43 conference games and tied 2. Not a defeat in that stretch.

Coach Wilkinson's teams won 10 of 11 games in that stretch. Coach Wilkinson's ability, but one may wonder, without being rude, how many would get along in, say, the Southwest Conference or the Eastern.

It would say that there are four right now in the Southeast. Any one of which could make through the Sooner's program. Those four would be Ole Miss, Georgia Tech, Auburn and Mississippi State.

It is a shame that such a fine football team as Oklahoma has not played a first rate schedule. It would give them some real opposition. Oklahoma this year looks like Rocky Marciano in a Golden Gloves tournament.

Lobos Certain Not To Lose This Weekend: They Are Idle

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—The University of New Mexico Lobos are positive they won't lose this weekend. They don't play.

Thus far this season the Lobos, weak in the line, weak in the backfield and weak in depth, have lost six games and won only one — against New Mexico A&M.

And their show in losing, with the exception of their battle against San Jose State, isn't a consolation. In the seven games, the Lobos have tallied 34 points. The New Mexico freshmen, in two games, have done better than that.

Idle this weekend, the Lobos meet Wyoming, Arizona and Brigham Young in the final three tilts. Only against Brigham Young do the Lobos stand some sort of a chance. The Wyoming and Arizona games are expected to be routs.

Coach Bob Titchenal blames most of the Lobos' troubles on lack of depth. He claims that where his opponents have been able to field three platoons, he's been forced to stick to his starters almost throughout the game.

Titchenal's biggest hope now is that the season be over with and a minimum of damage be done against the Lobos. It has simply boiled down to a question of losing gracefully as far as Arizona and Wyoming are concerned.

The freshman team holds Titchenal's brightest hope. "They're a pretty good group," he said. "You can be sure at least 10 of them will see plenty of action on the varsity next year. In fact, this is the best bunch we've had in years. No doubt of it. I'm well pleased."

The freshmen, who play Ft. Lewis A&M, a junior college, Saturday, have two victories and no losses this season. The victories were 25-13 over Denver frosh and 32-14 over Pueblo Junior College. After Ft. Lewis, the Lobos meet the U. S. Air Force Academy Nov. 19.

Of the freshman team, Titchenal said Gary Rickman of Anthony and Vel Corley of Albuquerque "could start today." Tackles Bill Savage of Alamogordo and Jack Hardin of Hurley could probably take a starting spot today.

In the backfield, Milt Barron, Clovis fullback, Paul Chamberlain of Durango, Colo., and Anthony Gray of Albuquerque, all will see plenty of action next year. John Denham, a spicy quarterback from Las Vegas, Nev., probably will work a lot but will have to compete against Jerry Lott, one of the few members of the varsity showing outstanding talent.

Wayne Gosnell of Carlsbad, another back, also is near the top of Titchenal's list.

Titchenal has only one problem concerning his freshmen. That is grades. Some of them are on the border, he said. And at New Mexico, Skyline rules aren't followed. In the Skyline, a yearly average is counted. At New Mexico, it's the entire aggregate average of all college grades.

Wayne Gosnell of Carlsbad, another back, also is near the top of Titchenal's list.

Winless Team Is Having Top Year, It Has Scored

True, they haven't won a game, but they've scored in each of their five contests, which is a moral victory of sorts for the Rebels.

In fact, they haven't won a regularly scheduled game since they first fielded their high school team four years ago. They got a tie, though.

Friday night the Rebels met Rock Springs in their last chance this season to break the losing streak. The Rebels' season ends then.

The losing streak has almost become a source of pride. Carroll Abbott of the Kerville Times reports that the Rebels are pets of local grid fans. As one local supporter puts it, it would almost be a shame if the boys win Friday.

In their four-year streak, the Rebels understandably have failed to keep meticulous records. It appears, however, that they have lost either 23 or 24 games, tying St. Edwards Academy of Austin 0-0 in 1953. They held a pre-season, informal scrimmage and won 13-0 over the public high school B team one year, but the game was not on the regular schedule.

Schreiner is a private school. The junior college eleven has a much better record. From 1938-1942, it was considered one of the top 10 junior college teams in the nation.

The high school team plays eagerly despite the losses and has run up 45 points in 5 games this year while its opponents have counted 198.

part of the blame for the winless record. "The long string of losses," he says, "might be attributed, in part, to the administration in not being able to schedule a game we can win."

DeMarco, Ryff Meet Tonight

BALTIMORE (AP)—Two lightweights with a reputation for roughness, Paddy De Marco and Frankie Ryff, will cuff each other tonight 10 p. m. (EST) in a scheduled 10-round fight at the Coliseum and on a television network ABC.

The winner undoubtedly will make a pitch for a shot at the 135-pound title held by Wallace (Bud) Smith. De Marco held the title for eight months last year. Ryff's Manager, Charles Black, said he is "ready now" for the championship try.

While Ryff generally is viewed as a fancy boxer, Orlando Zulueta has a different opinion. After Ryff beat him, Zulueta said he was "the roughest and dirtiest fighter I ever met—even worse than Paddy DeMarco."

DeMarco, a howlegged hillygoat with frequent butting, always has been a picture of roughhouse. He delights in getting in close and swinging anywhere and everywhere with everything.

If the bout goes the limit, two judges and the referee will decide the victor on points, 10 for the winner of each round and any lesser number for the other.

TROPHY MADE STEIN MELBOURNE, Australia, (AP)—Norm H. McDonald, owner of Melbourne Cup winner Toparoo, today said he's going to make the trophy "the cup that cheers."

He plans to make the big cup available to customers in his hotel bar in Hawera, New Zealand, and they can have it filled with beer or any other drink they want any time they like.

Jim Swink Takes Over Big College Rushing, Offense Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jim Swink, Texas Christian's successor to Doak Walker in the Southwest Conference, has become the offensive whirlwind in taking over the lead in the major college football total offense and rushing departments.

The Rusk, Tex., junior, who ran for 168 yards to pace TCU to a 28-6 victory over Baylor last Saturday, has sped 851 yards from scrimmage in seven games to take a slim lead in the two departments according to figures released today by the NCAA service bureau.

But Swink's lead is certain to be short lived for TCU has an open date while Navy's George Welsh, who picked up 176 yards against Notre Dame last Saturday, and is in second place with a total offense of 810 meets Duke this Saturday.

Art Luppino, last week's leader from Arizona, has a total offense of 772 in fifth place and is second in rushing with 772 will be out to regain the honors against Texas Tech.

Bill Beagle of Dartmouth is the passing leader with 67 completions in 135 attempts for 740 yards and an average of 496. Ken Ford of Hardin-Simmons is in second spot with 65 completed passes for 747 yards and a 546 percentage.

Welsh's 616 completion percentage on 53 hits of 86 efforts is in

We Eventually Learn Truth

IT is true as a nation and as a people we frequently become discouraged and even disgusted firmly convinced that we will put up and take most anything.

Yet the record of our nation shows that sooner or later when we have put up with something that is wrong, corrupt or bad that the "worm turns" and we act to straighten out the situation.

We have had political bosses over the nation who have ruled cities and in some instances states for a period of time. We have wondered why the people did not act to clear up the situation changes back for the best interest of the public.

This same situation is true about conditions or situations based on boasting, bragging or even deliberate misrepresentation.

Those employing these means to promote themselves and their interest seem to go along indefinitely with considerable success. Yet sooner or later the truth out, the true facts are revealed and the picture changes and conditions change.

We have seen this happen in communities, in cities, counties and states.

We have seen those who served a community long and faithful perhaps appear to be losing out despite all of their faithful service and yet the day and time comes when there is a realization on the part of the people of the community they had what they really wanted and they are rather sorry.

But such conditions and situations have a way of righting themselves and of correcting themselves. They have a way of working out although sometimes it is not so easy to be patient and understanding about such matters.

But as a rule the American people do act to correct those things that are wrong when they learn the truth and sooner or later we do learn the truth.

When this occurs then we act to bring about a change that is necessary to correct any injustice we may have permitted to prevail and our appreciation for past service usually prevails.

Guatemala's Course Is 'Up', Not To The Right or Left

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

Castillo, thin, dark, intense, 41, and a former army colonel, led the successful revolt last year against the regime of President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman.

That regime was considered to be under the influence of the Communists. Castillo took office as a rigid anti-Communist. Reports from Guatemala indicate he has crushed them by driving them out of the country or underground.

Castillo is backed by the U. S. government, which invited him for an official visit and a tour of the country. He arrived two days ago and while here is a guest of the government in the White House.

He talked briefly of his government and his ideas as he sat in a Blair House parlor. He spoke English hesitatingly and with an accent.

He was asked: "There have been guesses that your government in the end would wind up on the far right. Is that correct?"

Those guesses are wrong, he said, and continued:

"My government will not go to the left or right but up. That means it will be government of justice, of what is good for my people and the main interests of Guatemala. There can be no turning back."

For example, he said, under the previous administration there has been a land reform program. Distributing land to farmers. That land, Castillo said, was expropriated by the government.

He said his government is not taking land from anyone but is willing to work it by various arrangements, none of which forces anyone to give up land he owns.

He was asked: "Do you think that under your government Guatemala has achieved complete democracy?"

He said he does not think Guatemala has achieved complete democracy in one year, at least not in the sense that the United States is a complete democracy. He explained what he meant:

In the United States a majority of the people are educated and experienced in democratic practices, the economy is on a high level.

"Our government in Guatemala," he said, "is democratic but our population is 3 1/2 million. Only one million of them can read." The population is 60 per cent Indian, and 75 per cent of the people work in agriculture.

He added: "A democratic society is not just a political system. It is made up of other things, which you have here—such as education and good working conditions."

He said his administration is working hard for better education

New Estimate Of Taxes Changes Welfare Outlook

SANTA FE (AP)—A new estimate of taxes coming in this fiscal year has changed the financial picture of the Welfare Department.

Now, the department figures on having a $225,000 surplus instead of a $300,000 deficit as the budget showed when approved by the Welfare Board last week.

State Comptroller D. M. Smith Jr., brought about the change. He pointed out that the department had estimated only $6,042,000 in taxes coming in this fiscal year.

"The special session guaranteed them $6,600,000 anyway," Smith said. "There was no reason to have a deficit budget because, of necessity, the department has a $500,000 fund it can dip into if revenues fall below $550,000 a month or $6,600,000 a year."

The department stuck with its $6,042,000 estimate in spite of the fact that the Legislature told it that was too conservative of a figure. Legislators in general figured the department will receive $6,600,000 in taxes this fiscal year.

He told his story to Jim Matlack, co-publisher of the Longmont Times-Call and one of the first outsiders to reach the scene.

"There was nothing we could do but cover up the bodies," Matlack said. "There wasn't a sign of life."

He and Heil reported that as far as they could determine, no bodies were burned.

A 12-year-old farm boy, Charles Dalpra, was at his home some five miles away and suddenly saw a "red flame" in the sky. He told a reporter "it kept getting bigger" when he heard a noise. He told his father, Gilbert Dalpra, who added a first thought the youngster "was imagining things."

Coroner H. Ross Adamson of Greeley was an early arrival but declined to hazard an immediate opinion of the wreck's cause.

Jack Meyer, head of rescue operations for the airline, said the bodies were being kept at the crash scene until arrival of Dr. George Kiadra, UAL medical director, from Chicago. After that arrangements called for transfer of the bodies to mortuaries at Greeley, Colo., 17 miles northeast.

Initial efforts to determine the cause of the wreck were launched under lights of portable electric plants as tumbleweeds blew across the scene.

Among the victims were two executives of the Oldsmobile Division of General Motors, James Straud, 51, of Lansing, Mich., general sales manager in the Western United States, and Carl F. Deist, 53, of San Francisco, regional manager of the Pacific Division.

Also aboard were Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Lipkko of Pittsburgh. Lipkko, 38, was sales manager of the Hag-an Corp., a chemical combustion engineering firm.

Wilbur Peeble Would Have Just Carried The Gal Away

By HAL BOYLE
HOMETOWN, U.S.A. (AP)—Wilbur Peeble, America's most average husband, came home, sat down on the sofa, and pulled off his shoes.

He wiggled his stockings, groaned cavernously as he stared at them with the intent look men give their feet when they hurt.

"Boy, am I glad this day is over," he said loudly.

His wife, Trellis Mae, looked up from the desk where she had been scribbling busily.

"Oh, you startled me," she said. "Are you home?"

"I don't know whether this is home," replied her husband with heavy irony. "But it's where I hang up my pants at night."

Trellis Mae let the remark pass, and Wilbur wondered vaguely if she were ill.

"Wilbur, I'm writing a petition, and I need your help."

"Now what's the PTA done wrong?" he asked.

"This isn't about school. It's about Meg and Peter."

"You mean those new neighbors that moved in upstairs? Are they making noise already?"

"No, stupid, I mean Princess Margaret Rose and Capt. Peter Townsend. He wants to marry her but she has to put duty ahead of love on account of his divorced and she is a member of royalty and she can't marry him because his first wife is still alive."

"So what?" yawned Wilbur.

"So it sounds pretty flimsy to me. She keeps him dangling for two years, then they enjoy 18 days together and then she tells him it's no go. Mighty fishy. Old King Henry VIII, when he wanted to marry a new wife, didn't worry about divorce. He just lopped off the head of his old wife."

"Not a bad idea," murmured Wilbur.

"What did you say?"

"I said—what a batty idea," backtracked Wilbur quickly. "But what is all this about a petition?"

"Well, the ladies of our club met this afternoon and voted unanimously to inform the British ambassador that we thought Margaret Rose's attitude was strictly un-American. I'm supposed to draw up the petition."

"You mean that the British government not only has to deal with the Mau Maus but also faces the problem of handling the Minerva Literary and Gin Rummy Society?" said Wilbur. "I'll have nothing to do with the petition. Britain has enough woes."

"But poor, poor Capt. Peter Townsend—my heart bleeds for him," cried Trellis Mae.

"Mine doesn't," said Wilbur. "In a way he's better off. If she'd said yes, there'd always be gossip that he was merely a poor fly boy who stole the key to a woman's favor and fortune."

"Now he's free to make a million dollars on his own. He could get at least a half-million writing his memoirs, '18 Days in the Wrong Castles,' a quarter million strolling in a Hollywood movie of his life, and another quarter million lecturing to women's clubs or turning out magazine articles."

"Oh, Peter Townsend would never stoop to such things," objected Trellis Mae. "After all, he's

Diplomats Say Romania Being Exploited By Russ

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP)—Veteran Western diplomats here say Russia treats Romania "like a colony, to be exploited."

But things in Bucharest, though poor by Western standards, look better than the same things in Moscow.

That doesn't mean Romanians are prosperous or glowing with happiness, nor that the people dare to talk to Western visitors. This is one of the most difficult countries in which to make contact with the people. Some Westerners think the Romanians are afraid to complain about conditions in their country, but other experienced observers figure the easy-going Romanians are too smart to complain about something they can't do anything about.

Western diplomats say things have improved here recently, even though the Romanian economy is controlled and exploited by the Russians.

Some Romanians can beat the high prices on food by getting one meal a day at low fixed prices in factory canteens. But when they go out to shop for other necessities, it's difficult to see how they can beat the fantastic prices.

Romania now is producing more of its own consumer goods, but one still may have to wait a month or so for a new model radio or stove if it can be afforded. Most clothing produced here is still poor as well as expensive.

About 25 per cent of the country's arable land is socialized in collective farms, state farms and peasant cooperatives.

NAGOYA, Japan (AP)—The New York Yankees trimmed Japan's Chunichi Dragons 7-0 today behind the three-hit pitching of righthander Johnny Kucks and Tom Sturdivant. It was the Yanks seventh win without a loss in a tour of Japan.

No Salk Vaccine Conclusions Yet

SANTA FE (AP)—State Health Director Stanley Leland says no conclusions can be drawn as to effectiveness of Salk polio vaccine in New Mexico, but preliminary reports are "very promising."

Leland, discussing the polio situation, said first reports are being compiled nationally and results are very promising. New Mexico seems to be following that trend, he said.

The New Mexico Pharmaceutical Assn. distributed the first shipment of polio vaccine for general use last week. Private physicians and county health departments are now vaccinating children 1-10 years old and pregnant women. This was the group given first priority.

WOMAN ACQUITTED

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—A jury of 10 men and two women deliberated only a half hour before acquitting Mrs. Grace Pulliam in the death of her husband Sept. 2. Mrs. Pulliam was charged with killing her husband, Joseph, with a screw driver after he advanced on her at the height of a family argument.

ROBINSON TO SPEAK

BELEN, (AP)—Atty. Gen. Richard Robinson will be guest speaker at the second annual Veterans Day assembly at Belen High School Nov. 11. The assembly was initiated by the government club of the school last year.

ARTESIA BUSINESS AND INDUSTRIAL REVIEW

Government's Policy Of Ever Tighter Restraints On Credit Is Being Dropped

By FRANK O'BRIEN
 WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is quietly dropping the policy of ever tighter credit restraints it has enforced most of this year.

Instead, it has adopted an attitude of neutral, watchful waiting in the belief the dangers of inflation which brought on the tough policy may have been mastered. If this assessment is correct, and if another inflationary blister does not appear in coming months, the possibility of a tax cut next year becomes a strong probability.

The new attitude has become evident through several changes in government actions—chiefly in Federal Reserve Board policy—and in public and private statements of government money managers.

A top government policy maker said privately today he thinks the government's efforts in recent months to head off what it considered excessive credit expansion in the stock market, home building, and other fields had "taken a lot of steam" out of the incipient inflationary pressures of last summer.

He would not talk about the future course of policy, but he agreed with a description of the government position at present as "a withdrawal to neutrality."

This does not mean necessarily that restrictions already in force will be abandoned or even significantly relaxed in the near future. It merely means that new restrictions are unlikely, and that there will be a continued effort to keep the restrictions now in force from creating any credit drought.

With inflationary pressures off, and revenues from high level business activity large enough to insure a balanced budget by next June 30, the administration would have little reason, if any, to buck the election year tax cut fever bound to be strong in Congress early next year.

The administration has made the fight against further depreciation of the dollar through inflation the backbone of its economic policy. A tax cut while inflationary pressures were building up would tend to increase inflation by raising purchasing power.

A very high administration official said in a recent private talk that in his opinion President Eisenhower would "have the political courage" to veto any tax cut bill that coincided with a wave of inflation.

From spring through fall of this year the Federal Reserve system turned the credit screw down tighter and tighter with successive hikes in the discount rate—the interest rate at which it lends to member banks to help them lend to their customers. But in recent weeks it has shifted to a more open handed policy, by supplying funds to commercial banks through purchases in the open market of government securities. This has tended in part to nullify the rate boosts by creating new bank reserves.

This new supply of funds coincided with the yearly October peak of business borrowing. The board thus acted to keep its otherwise restrictive policies from drying up credit supplies at the time of greatest demand.

At least partly as a result, the interest rate on 91-day Treasury bonds dropped yesterday for the second successive week. The rate on these bills sets the pattern for all interest rates. It had hit a 28-month high Oct. 18.

There are reports and rumors in Washington—neither denied nor affirmed by top policy makers—that there soon may be some easing of the restraints on housing credit which in recent months have brought cries of alarm from both home builders and lenders.

These reports were somewhat strengthened yesterday when the Home Loan Bank Board—central bank for the nation's savings and loan associations—announced it would lead to the savings and loan associations to help them meet their previously made commitments for mortgage loans.

Chairman W. W. McAllister of the bank board declared that recent heavy restrictions on its loans had never been meant to shut off entirely credit for new mortgage loans.

Housing Commissioner Norman Mason suggested in a recent statement he would favor a return to government insurance of longer term, lower down payment loans if the housing market should weaken.

And, over the weekend, presidential economic adviser Gabriel Hauge said on a TV show that he is "not personally worried" about the ability of the economy to carry the current load of debt.

Santa Fe Loadings At 28,248 For Week

Santa Fe carloadings for week ending October 29 were 28,248 compared with 27,361 for the same week in 1954.

Cars received from connections totaled 13,656 compared with 12,508 for same week in 1954.

Total cars moved were 41,904 compared with 39,869 for same week in 1954.

Santa Fe handled a total of 41,321 cars in preceding week of this year.

Safeway Again Charged Under Anti-Trust Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department yesterday reinstated its antitrust charges against Safeway Stores, Inc. It claims the stores have attempted to monopolize the retail grocery business in various Texas and New Mexico cities.

An antitrust indictment was returned against Safeway at Fort Worth in early July but was dismissed with the consent of the government. Atty. Gen. Brownell said yesterday that this was done to avoid the delay and expenses of testing certain legal questions raised by Safeway in attacking the validity of the grand jury.

The new actions consist of a criminal information alleging violations of the Sherman and Robinson-Patman Antimonopoly acts. It has a companion civil suit asking that the chain be enjoined from alleged "predatory business behavior."

LUNDAHL TAKES TITLE
 PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Pasadena professional Dick Lundahl of the Annandale Country Club is the new Southern California open champion. He shot a 36-hole round of 72-69 yesterday over the Tamarisk Country Club course, wound up the 72-hole championship with a 284 and collected $600 in prize money.

Summer Tan earned $151,096 when the colt won the 1954 Garden State Stakes, but his dam, a mare named Miss Zibby, was sold for $400 because nobody thought her worthwhile for breeding purposes.

Manufacturers Threatened By Rise In Metal Prices

NEW YORK (AP)—Another rise in metal prices is threatening today to plague the manufacturers of many of the good you want to buy.

Copper prices have jumped in London again, and users here are wondering what's in store. Nickel prices have risen in Canada. Platinum has gone up $6 an ounce. A maker of magnesium forms has hiked prices, 5 per cent, and a few special steel products have risen.

Prosperity is labeled the cause of much of the inflation in metals. General prosperity around the world has swelled the demand for cars, refrigerators, TV sets and other things of metal that men want. Prosperity has encouraged labor to ask higher wages. With demand for metals rising and the costs of producing them also rising, the two forces have united to boost prices.

The latest ferment in the copper market started in Chile where the miners went on a 24-hour strike against the American-owned mines. So tight is the world copper supply that the loss of even one day's production is felt and the uncertainty over the length of the strike and the ultimate terms of settlement upset the market.

Many products that once used copper extensively are now being made of aluminum. This has spurred producers of aluminum to plan another round of expansion to be in position to go after still more of the market. Aluminum, too, has risen in price since the war, but much more modestly and now sells at 24.40 cents a pound.

SPEED RECORD SOUGHT
 PICTON, Ont. (AP)—Bill Baden of Hamilton hoped to break the world mark of 178.6 miles an hour for motor-driven speedboats today and perhaps crash on past the 202.32 record set by Donald Campbell's turbo-jet, Bluebird last July.
