This Is Artesia

Thanksgiving Day is but one day removed and already the hash and sandwiches are beginning to appear. The aftermath is the only unhappy part of the bountiful holiday dinner. But, it tastes better than the "crow" being eaten by the predators of an Artesia football win over Las Cruces.

Pool Hall License Up For Council Decision Tonight

Controversy over location of a pool hall at 205 W. Main St. came to a head at the regular session of the City Council Wednesday night in a special meeting of the council called for 7:30 p. m. tonight to express the issue and decide whether or not to grant the license.

The council declined to take immediate action. The council refused to act on grounds the opposition group had requested that if application for the license had not been filed by 3:00 p. m., the hearing be postponed until a later date to give them an opportunity to appear against it. The council had granted the request and promised to postpone hearing under those circumstances.

Dillard opposed postponement on grounds that delay in granting a license would be costly to his clients. An attorney for the opposition had gone on record before the council at its last meeting, opposing a pool hall at the 205 W. Main location, in advance of the actual filing of application for license. The opposing parties had requested at the time that, if applications were filed, they be notified and given opportunity to be heard in the matter.

Policeman's Report Claims City Parking Meters 'Used'

Artesia may have been "taken" if purchased parking meters, according to a report received by the city council meeting in its session Wednesday night. Magdalen, city clerk, credited the city received news when it paid for unused by policeman recently that the meters are reconditioned and not used.

The chief pointed out that the policeman who made the statement to the city clerk was a new man on the force and that he probably misunderstood the factory man. It was brought out by the council members that the present meters have given less trouble than meters previously installed in the city.

Dillard presented a petition on behalf of his clients and signed by representatives of 14 businesses doing business "on either side of" existing pool halls, to the effect that loitering in front of these establishments had not been detrimental to their business. Dillard asserted that the case had been tried in the newspapers and accused the opposition of registering a complaint against something that did not exist, referring to last week's opposition to the pool hall before an application for license had been filed.

Grand Jury Opens Woodward Inquiry

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP)—A Nassau County grand jury today opened an investigation of the slaying of millionaire socialite William Woodward. Opening witnesses were police officers from Oyster Bay Cove who were first on the scene Oct. 30 when blonde Mrs. Ann Woodward shot her husband to death. The 39-year-old Mrs. Woodward is expected before the grand jury later in the day to describe the shooting as a tragic accident, touched off by her abnormal fear of a prowler in the area of the Woodward estate.

First of the socialite witnesses to arrive was tall, red-haired Mrs. David Gimbel, an attractive member of the department store family. With the Woodwards, she had attended a gay party for the Duchess of Windsor in the hours that preceded the Woodward killing. A neighbor of the Woodwards in the Oyster Bay area, Mrs. Gimbel arrived in the grand jury room hatless and wearing a ranch mink coat.

Councilman Clayton Menefee reported unfavorably on proposed health center for Artesia but said that he wanted to give further study to the matter, in another council action. It was reported that the State Highway Department has okayed traffic actuated signal lights for the intersection at First and Centre streets. In other actions, the council agreed to permit a seven-foot curb setback to allow angle parking on Seventh street from Main to the alley north of Main. The council granted Doug Fowler, city supervisor permission to call for bids on a dump bed for a 1949 Ford truck that the city owns. Councilman Menefee reported that he had discussed the proposed Artesia health center with officials in charge of administering the $300,000 fund set aside for establishment of these centers, and that the proposed center looked to him to be impractical for Artesia. Menefee said that under the terms set up for administration of the fund, no other organizations

Eight Killed On State Roads During Bloody Holiday Spree

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. Six families had little to be thankful today as they mourned the eight killed in one of New Mexico's bloodiest holiday death sprees. The grim Thanksgiving Day bloodbath shot the state traffic count to 322—Only seven short of last year's grim total at this time.

Four persons died in a grinding head-on collision near Hobbs. A California man and his wife were killed when they collided with a pickup truck seven miles east of Gallup on U. S. 66. A Central man missed a bridge on U. S. 260 near Silver City early this morning and died when his car plunged into a ravine. And an 18-year-old Hobbs woman died in an intersection collision two blocks from her home.

Rescue Units Rushing To Grounded Ship

HALIFAX, (AP)— Air, sea and ground rescue units rushed today to the isolated northern tip of Cape Breton Island where a Liberian freighter is aground and believed in danger of breaking up. Heavy seas and a blinding snow hit the area, knocking out communications with the 2,848-ton freighter Kismet II. Her exact condition was unknown but was believed serious. Her last message at 8:50 a. m. EST said: "High winds, high cliffs. Send helicopter."

The steamer Gulfport was nine miles away at the time and rushing to her side. The officer in charge of the Marconi stations at Grindstone, Magdalen Islands, said: "We're too busy handling the distress signals to talk to you."

Mailman's Short Chute Halted

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Postoffice clerk Byron McQuery can't take his shortcut to work anymore — down a mail chute. Superintendent James T. McGinley dropped him this note: "It is reported that you are sliding down the mail chute on your way to work. This is a dangerous practice and must be stopped immediately." The chute runs from a loading dock to the basement where McQuery works. "It saved considerable time," he said. Then he wrote an answer to McGinley. It said: "It occurs to me that if either you or I were so senile, so stupid, or so unalert and so poorly coordinated physically and mentally as to become bruised, battered, or even dusty in sliding down the mail chute, neither of us should be less than a disgrace to either the 'Sons of Erin' or the 'Sons of Adam.'" "Please disregard the first paragraph and accept my apologies for a pleasant shortcut, now discontinued only at your command."

Cold Grips State But Sun En Route

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. Cold gripped New Mexico early today, but the District Weather Bureau said the mercury should move up during the day as clear skies let the sun beat down. Frigid temperatures moved into the state on a so-called weak cold front. Early morning temperatures were down six degrees from yesterday's in some parts of the state, and Grants and Tucuman had lows 10 degrees. The mercury dipped its lowest at Otto, where the low mark was only eight above zero. The warmest overnight low as 36 at Carlsbad. Temperatures today were expected to range from 45 to 55 north to 55 to 65 south.

Companion Escapes Police At Hobbs Early Thursday

An Artesia man—one of three escapees from the Big Spring State Hospital, was captured at Hobbs yesterday but his companion escaped on foot and police in the area were reported combing the countryside for him. Reports said Wayland Patton, 28, of Artesia was captured while his companion-escapee, R. H. Crutcher, 24, committed from Odessa, Tex., eluded officers. The third escapee, James Ward

Criticism Not Slowing State Re-Evaluation

SANTA FE (AP)—The chairman of the State Tax Commission says the equalization program in the state is going forward despite criticism to the contrary. An tax commission has been instrumental in prodding various counties to include more funds for county assessors so the reassessment program could be started, said Clarence Forsling. His comments, in part, were in answer to criticism directed at the tax commission by Bernalillo Deputy Assessor Manuel Armijo said other counties have done much toward equalization. Forsling said the Tax Commission considered one of the main objectives in instituting an equalization program was to get more money for county assessors. Accordingly, the commission discussed the matter with officials of every county at the annual budget hearing, he said. He added that it apparently produced results. Chaves County, for example, budgeted $7,000 for re-evaluation work. Other counties upped the expense allowance of assessors to provide for more travel around the county in connection with re-evaluation. Colfax County, which Forsling said is really pushing reassessment, increased its assessors' expense allowance from $400 to $1,200. Dona Ana upped expenses for assessor from $2,900 to $4,000. San Juan increased its assessors' expense allowance from $2,400 to $4,000.

Shots Are Fired At Three Prowlers

Several shots were reported fired at prowlers on the Jim House farm, southeast of Artesia, about 9:00 p. m. yesterday, Jesse Sosa, deputy sheriff, said here today. Sosa said that when he reached the scene he found no one. Prowlers, believed to be three, were reported about the house of the farm foreman and were chased by braceros working at the farm. During the chase Sosa said, some shots were fired at the prowlers, who apparently escaped uninjured. Manuel Oroscio, 301 Gage, yesterday reported to city police that someone had been prowling about his house every night since last Sunday. Oroscio said that his wife was away working and that his wife was at the house alone. He asked police to "keep a check on his house." Post office officials reported to police that four mailboxes were knocked down and torn up at Thirteenth Street and Hermosa, apparently by a car.

Future UNM Dean Fired For Views On Segregation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. A future dean of the University of New Mexico says he has been fired from the University of South Carolina for his views on segregation. But his new boss, President Tom Popejoy, says his views agree with those of UNM officials. Popejoy spoke of Dr. Chester C. Travelstead, dean of the College of Education at the University of South Carolina. Travelstead is to become dean of the College of Education at UNM Feb. 1. Popejoy said Travelstead's stand on segregation was "more of a recommendation than an indictment." The UNM president said the South Carolina professor was highly recommended "by many leading educators and he was unanimous choice of our faculty committee after interviewing four of 50 or 60 originally considered for the post." Travelstead said Wednesday he was dismissed by the trustees of the South Carolina school because of a speech last August in which he called for an end to segregation in public schools. Popejoy said, "We made a thorough investigation of the speech Dr. Travelstead made in reference to segregation, and we found that" (Continued on Page Four)

North County Gins 3,000 Bales Down

Cotton ginning in North Eddy county reached 27,345 bales last week according to a weekly report issued by Richard Marek, county agent. The figure compared with about 35,000 at this time a year ago. The county as a whole has ginned 44,703 bales this year, the county agent added. Ginning 2,731 bales last week the gins reported these totals: Co-op 4463; Valley Co-op 2,569; Paulin Chapel 2,300 p.m. tomorrow. The Rev. H. L. McAlester and the Rev. J. H. McClendon will officiate. Burial will be at Woodbine Cemetery. Gelwick is survived by his widow, Dorothy, and eight children and step-children. The children are: Loren R. Gelwick, Herbert N. Gelwick, Mrs. Joyce E. Diltz, Wanda M. Dawson, and Rachael Mae Bogart, all of Artesia; Joe C. Bogart, and W. O. Bogart, Jr., both of Denmark, Oregon; and Mary E. Frazier, Spokane, Wash.

Youth Rescues Brother, Friend

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Two young boys, bewildered and terrified, were led to safety from a burning house yesterday by a quick-thinking 16-year-old youth. Firemen said Gary Arvidson, awakened by the screams of the boys, smashed a second-story window with his fist, gulped some fresh air and led his younger brother William, 11, to safety. He then turned back and found 12-year-old Kenneth Palmer, an overnight guest, in near collapse from smoke inhalation. Gary pushed Kenneth down a stairway and out of the house.

Deadly Gas Leaks While Burglars Cut Bank Vault

SLIDELL, La. (AP)—Burglars cut into a steel vault in the Slidell bank today with torches while deadly mustard gas slowly leaked through nearby jets. The FBI reported they got away with between $7,000 and $8,000. Agents said the burglars stuffed towels into the sensitive gas jets when the devices, designed to drive off thieves, were set off by heat from torches. The burglars apparently were forced by the poisonous gas to

Racial Segregation Ordered to End On Passenger Lines

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today ordered an end to racial segregation on interstate trains and passenger buses. It ruled that that segregation of interstate travelers in waiting rooms is unlawful. The commission, in years past, has gone along with the theory that separate accommodations for races met the requirements of the Interstate Commerce Act, so long as they are equal. It said in today's rulings: "The disadvantage to a traveler in assigned accommodations or in a designated car to imply inherent inferiority solely because of his race must be regarded as present conditions as unlawful. Also, he is entitled to be free of any petty and some racial, which almost inevitably accompany segregation even on the rail carriers, as most of the defendants have done here, sincerely try to provide both races with equally convenient and comfortable cars and waiting rooms." The ICC returned its findings in two separate cases. One was initiated by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People against 13 railroads, operating principally in the South. The other case was brought before the commission by Sarah Keys, New York City beautician. She charged that while serving as a WAC in 1952, she was refused further transportation by the Carolina Coach Co. of Raleigh, N. C., when she refused a driver's demand that she move to the back of the bus at Roanoke Rapids, N.C. The orders in these cases outlawing segregation drew one dissent. Commissioner J. Monroe Johnson of South Carolina, one of the 11 members, asserted: "It is my opinion that the commission should not undertake to anticipate the Supreme Court and itself become a pioneer in the sociological field." Commissioner Everett Hutchinson of Texas was announced as "necessarily absent" and not participating. Commissioner Richard F. Mitchell of Iowa did not take part in the bus proceedings. The ICC took note that the Supreme Court asserted in its historic public school ruling of May 1954 that "the policy of separating the races is usually interpreted as not recognizing the inferiority of the Negro group." The commission recalled that race discrimination complaints have been coming before it since two months after its organization in 1887. In that year, the ICC ruled that solutions "should aim at a result most likely to conduce (sic) to peace and order, and to preserve (Continued on Page Four) leave the bank building on Slidell's main street before emptying the vault, which contained "considerably" more money than was stolen, agents said. The FBI said there was a possibility the men have been affected by the gas and were in immediate need of medical attention. The gas, similar to the mustard gas used in World War I, was described as one of the most deadly gas manufactured by makers of burglary-proof bank systems. The thieves knocked a hole in the brick wall of the two-story building, then carried in torches, hammers, chisels, saws and other tools, the FBI reported. They left the tools behind. Bank President T. J. Eddins discovered the robbery when he arrived for work. The building was filled with gas, officers said, and no one could enter for hours. Slidell is about 30 miles north-east of New Orleans.

Savings Bond Sales Increase

Purchases of U. S. Savings Bonds by New Mexicans during October exceeded those in October, 1954, by 32.6 per cent. G. T. Smothers, state chairman, has announced. A total of $1,143,922.19 was invested in Series E and H last month showing an increase of $281,443.24 over that in October of last year.

During the first ten months of this year, a total of $12,394,175.75 was invested in these Bonds in the State, Smothers pointed out. This shows an increase of 20.5 per cent over the $10,285,443.94 in the same period of 1954, and 34.8 per cent of the $9,181,984.68 in the first ten months of 1953.

All officers were re-elected. Those being the following: President Mrs. Richard Lang; Vice President, Mrs. Roy Chout; secretary, Mrs. Max Wiggins; treasurer, Mrs. Jack Langenegger; program leader, Mrs. Jack Nail.

Plans for the turkey dinner and church bazaar were discussed. It will be held in the Legion Hall. Bazaar begins at 2:00 p. m. and dinner begins at 5:00 p. m. Everyone is invited.

The hostess served coffee and cake to Mrs. W. J. Graham, Mrs. Max Wiggins, Mrs. Bob Utterback, Mrs. John Rhodes, Jack Nail, Roy Chout, Richard Lang, Bob Templeton, Jack Langenegger and several children.

Chaves County, W. C. Taylor, County Chairman, joined Sierra and San Juan Counties as "over-quota." Sales of $810,461.50 in ten months exceeded the County's quota of $782,000 by 3.6 per cent.

Eddy county residents invested $58,175.00 in U. S. Savings Bonds last month, Mr. L. B. Feather, North Eddy county chairman, has been informed by the Treasury Department. The county total for the year is $698,173.00 or 77.4 per cent of its quota of $902,000.

Nationally, 40 million Americans now own forty billion dollars worth of E and H Bonds, including 69.8 per cent of the $19,909 million of E bonds which have matured. National wide sales are remaining around 12 per cent ahead of last year's.

Bread Iron Corrects Deficiencies

Bread's enrichment with iron contributes materially to the needs of those with iron deficiencies, according to Dr. Thelma Porter, Chairman of the Committee on Home Economics and Professor of Food Research at the University of Chicago.

The enrichment of white bread began in 1941 upon request of health authorities. It contains essential B vitamins — niacin, thiamin, and riboflavin — and white bread.

Dr. Porter emphasizes the findings of a report made by Washington University, St. Louis, that the absorption of iron from bread baked with flour which had been enriched with radioactive iron. She pointed out that for thousands of individuals with anemia the absorption has been as high as 60 per cent, while in the case of those with suboptimal iron stores, the rate is from 26 to 38 per cent.

Even in the case of healthy young men and women, Dr. Porter concluded, the rate in some instances is as high as 12 per cent, which is a normal absorption rate of iron food.

Today, twenty-seven states have enrichment laws making compulsory for bakers to enrich white bread with iron and the three B vitamins while twenty-one states are voluntarily complying with federal standards. Estimates by the American Bakers Association indicates that about 90 per cent of all white bread consumed in the United States is enriched from natural food sources of

Dr. Thelma Porter

In an address on "Recent Nutritional Research" given before the recent state meeting of the Florida Dietetic Association at Miami Beach, Dr. Porter said that the iron from enriched bread is utilized to the same extent as iron from natural food sources of this element, such as liver. The enrichment of white bread began in 1941 upon request of health authorities. It contains essential B vitamins — niacin, thiamin, and riboflavin — and white bread.

Dr. Porter emphasizes the findings of a report made by Washington University, St. Louis, that the absorption of iron from bread baked with flour which had been enriched with radioactive iron. She pointed out that for thousands of individuals with anemia the absorption has been as high as 60 per cent, while in the case of those with suboptimal iron stores, the rate is from 26 to 38 per cent.

Even in the case of healthy young men and women, Dr. Porter concluded, the rate in some instances is as high as 12 per cent, which is a normal absorption rate of iron food.

Today, twenty-seven states have enrichment laws making compulsory for bakers to enrich white bread with iron and the three B vitamins while twenty-one states are voluntarily complying with federal standards. Estimates by the American Bakers Association indicates that about 90 per cent of all white bread consumed in the United States is enriched from natural food sources of

We Can Help Credit

THERE are those individuals who do not care or want to discuss credit or obligations. In most instances it is because they owe some bills they have made no effort to pay.

Most of us, of course, do pay our obligations and our bills and we are concerned about our credit rating. However, in every community there are those who do not have good credit ratings; who seemingly are not interested in paying their honest debts; and who never take care of their accounts.

In many communities the various firms, concerns and professional people granting or extending credit have the same individuals or even firms on their books.

Despite the efforts of credit bureaus and others endeavoring to advise on credit ratings these people still seem to be able to go out and buy on the promise they will pay.

The fact that business and professional people permit them to ride along and we refuse to take steps and actions to collect bills permits them to continue to secure more credit from others.

The chances are if most of us would take definite steps to require those who have secured credit to pay their obligations we could halt them from getting further in debt and getting in debt to others.

But we neglect, delay or refuse to do this. We lose what they owe us and let them go along and get in debt to others.

Good credit is one of the finest things in the world. Those who have good credit realize and appreciate this fact. It is also true they take the necessary steps to keep their credit good by paying their bills on time or making arrangements to meet their obligations.

Credit is only good as long as we do not abuse it. Those who have abused credit through the years have forced many firms to discontinue credit.

But all of us could do considerable not only to keep our own credit good but to require others to keep their credit good if we would insist they pay us or take the ways and means open to us to see they do pay their honest debts.

You can keep your own credit good by paying your obligations and if the other fellow owes you and fails or refuse to pay you can help him keep his credit good by insisting he pay you.

Palestine's Tangled Story Could Ignite Entire World

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—Palestine's tangled story involves not only the Jews and Arabs but the United States and Russia. It may, if war breaks out, set off the spark that ignites the world. This is the background.

Palestine, about New Jersey's size, has 1,600,000 people, half of whom entered there in the past 10 years. Of the total, 1 1/2 million are Jews, 70 per cent of the rest are Moslems.

From the time the Romans crushed them in 70 A. D. the Jews, until recently, did not have a majority in Palestine. Nevertheless through the centuries they looked upon it as their homeland.

The Turks, when they jumped into World War I on Germany's side, held not only Palestine but the surrounding Arab areas. To win the Arabs from the Turks, the French and British promised them that if the Allies won they would break up the Turkish Empire into Arab states.

Britain also in the Balfour Declaration of 1917 said it would look with favor on the creation of a home for Jews in Palestine. The Jews at that time were only one tenth of the population in Palestine.

The allies won and began setting up the Arab states, under French and British controls. The League of Nations also gave Britain a mandate — which meant control but not ownership — of Palestine.

Came World War II and the massacre of Jews in Germany. It stung the world's conscience — the Western world's, that is, the Jews, worldwide, meanwhile, had been pushing for a nation of their own in Palestine. They could always point to that British Balfour Declaration of 1917. The British had never made good.

At war's end the British said they would quit Palestine. Jews poured in. Arabs feared Jewish immigration would swamp them. Besides, they objected to creation of a new Jewish state. But in 1947 the United Nations approved this idea: partition Palestine, letting part of it be a Jewish state, part

German Army To Have 1,300

BONN, Germany, (AP)—The German army will have more than 1,300 tanks, the Defense Ministry announced today. A spokesman said most of them would be the American M47 Patton heavy tank.

German army planners also are hoping to get some M48 Patton tanks, the latest type now in service with the U. S. Army. The M48 mounts a 90mm gun, weighs 97,000 pounds and costs almost $110,000.

The United States has agreed to deliver a "considerable quantity" of arms to the new West German army.

The spokesman said the army would have a total strength of 370,000 men.

The coastal navy and tactical air force would make up the remainder of West Germany's 500,000 man contribution to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

However, the commission said that present circumstances are different from those of 1887, adding:

"It is hardly open to question that much progress in improving race relations has been made since then and that more can be expected."

Through the years, the ICC sanctioned "the separate-but-equal" accommodations in the transportation field.

About 10 years ago, it gave approval to an arrangement worked out by the Southern Railway for serving Negro travelers in its dining cars behind a curtain. The Supreme Court in 1950 condemned this, striking down segregation in railroad dining cars.

Under orders from the court, the ICC issued the appropriate order relating to diners.

In the NAACP complaints des' with today, the association also sought action against separate lunchroom facilities for white and colored travelers in the Broad Street station at Richmond, Va.

However, the ICC said this lunchroom was operated under lease by the Union News Co., not engaged in transportation, and that it had no jurisdiction.

The commission also dismissed a NAACP complaint against the Texas and Pacific Railway because it said the evidence presented in relation to that company failed to show how it handled interstate travelers.

Desegregation orders were entered against a group of other railroads and the Carolina Coach Co. They require compliance on or before Jan. 10, 1956. The orders were entered against these railroads:

The Frisco, L&N, Atlantic Coast Line, Seaboard, Southern, Illinois Central, Gulf, Mobile & Ohio, Kansas City Southern, Missouri Pacific, Santa Fe, Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe, Panhandle & Santa Fe, and the Richmond Terminal Railway.

Patton Tanks Chamber Director

Paul Scott, Chamber of Commerce manager, today reminded that ballots for the election of new board members are due in by noon tomorrow. He said that two-thirds of the ballots have been returned already.

Scott announced that orders have been received from merchants for 65,000 tickets for the Christmas treasure hunt. It had been estimated that 50,000 tickets would be needed. Another 25,000 tickets have been ordered printed, he said.

Scott said that the Chamber is planning next year to put up 4-inch pipe along the curbsides business district for stringing wires for Christmas decorations.

Lions Program To Get Boost

The Artesia Lions club's Sight Conservation project will receive a unexpected boost tomorrow.

G. W. Bolton, of the Bolton Oil Co., of Artesia, announced today that five cents of the cost of every gallon of gasoline sold at the Westerner, a new service station opening Saturday, will be contributed to the Lions program.

The station is at 1401 West Main street and will be operated by Grover Webb.

British Gather Russ 'Outfall'

LONDON, (AP)—The News Chronicle said today that British jets flew to 50,000 feet and gathered samples of the radioactive fallout from Russia's recent nuclear weapons test.

Official sources declined to discuss the report.

The newspaper said the Russian test was so powerful that Soviet authorities must have cleared an area in their Siberian testing grounds twice the size of England and Wales to conduct it.

The News Chronicle said the samples were collected yesterday and added:

"From first tests... atomic scientists at Harwell and Aldermaston believe that the explosion was no ordinary H-bomb, but the far more devastating hydrogen-uranium bomb."

According to the story the United States fired a similar bomb at Bikini in March 1954.

SCOGGINS TAKES OVER

SANTA FE (AP)—State Police Capt. R. L. Scoggins has been transferred from Gallup to head the Albuquerque district office.

Chief Joe Roach called the assignment routine and said it was for an indefinite period. Scoggins, replaced in Gallup by Sgt. Jerry Brunk, takes over from Senior Patrolman C. S. McCasland.

That acids in even the fairest skin are harmful to a pearl necklace. It should be sent to a jeweler once a year to be cleaned.

That during some fall and winter months as many as 15 million Americans may catch a cold in a single day.

That Metropolitan Opera tenor Kurt Baum, an amateur heavy-weight boxer during his days as a medical student in Prague, suffered a broken nose in a practice bout with Max Schmeling. Kurt claims that the removal of a nasal bone as the result of the injury made his high notes more resonant.

That some 30 herbs are used in making a top-grade vermouth, including the flowers of "wormwood," and such other fancy.

Since 1950, more than 650,000 men and women in 14 countries on three continents have received Red Cross home nursing training, under a program launched by the League of Red Cross Societies.

named plants as sweet marjoram, angelica and blessed thistle.

That while women still buy 30 to 60 per cent of all men's wear, the percentage is dropping steadily.

When Last Of Turkey Is Gone Good Buys In Other Meats Found

By The Associated Press
When the last piece of your Thanksgiving turkey is gone, you'll find a good range of attractive buys in other meats in your local food store this coming weekend. That turkey may cost you four cents a pound more than the bird you bought a year earlier, but most other meats are cheaper now than then. As the meat packers have been telling you, pork is a fine buy, and beef has come down a bit, too.

"The best buy is loin of pork," a meat retailer said. "We'll have loins on sale next week at six to eight cents a pound below prices of a year ago. Smoked hams are now selling at eight cents a pound cheaper than in November, 1954."

The American Meat Institute took a survey in the Chicago area last week and reported that the verge of all meat prices in retail stores was down 12 per cent from a year earlier. Beef items were down seven to 15 per cent, smoked picnic 15 per cent, other pork items 14 to 25 per cent and legs of lamb three per cent.

Aside from pork, weekend shoppers will find good buys in steaks, prime ribs, chuck roast and legs of lamb. Some stores are knocking four cents a pound off the price of fryers.

Egg prices will be two to four cents a dozen higher than a week ago in many areas. There's been a big demand for eggs. However, production is rising, so prices may come down some.

The price of many vegetables moved higher at the wholesale level this week but there is still a good variety available at reasonable prices.

Produce men favor potatoes, onions, turnips and greens such as kale, collard and turnip greens. Also recommended: Cabbage Beans, beans, escarole, endive, iceberg lettuce, artichokes, cucumbers, peppers, pascal celery and eggplant. The produce specialists note that there is a wide range in price and quality in iceberg lettuce and that smaller size peppers are more reasonable than the larger ones.

"Moderately priced" vegetables include carrots, broccoli, corn, peas, tomatoes, squash, cauliflower, spinach and yams. Dry type sweet potatoes are cheaper than the yams.

Varied Ballots Set For Lea Vote

HOBBS (AP)—In the Dec. 13 special election on continued legal liquor control in Lea County, Hobbs voters will use printed ballots. In all the rest of the county, voting machines will be employed.

The county commission ordered the use of printed ballots because if Lea County votes overall to end legal control, Hobbs voters would continue to use printed ballots. Through the use of printed ballots, election officials will be able to separate the vote cast by persons living inside the city limits and those living outside.

*When I Survey
The Wondrous Cross*

When I survey the wondrous cross
On which the Prince of glory died,
My richest gain I count but loss,
And pour contempt on all my pride.

Forbid it Lord, that I should boast
Save in the death of Christ, my Lord;
All the vain things that charm me most,
I sacrifice them to His blood.

See, from His head, His hands, His feet,
Sorrow and love flow mingled down;
Did e'er such love and sorrow meet,
Or thorns compose so rich a crown?

Were the whole realm of nature mine,
That were a present far too small:
Love so amazing, so divine,
Demands my soul, my life, my all.
