Rain And Snow, But No Blizzard, Expected To Spread Into Lower Pecos Valley Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rain and snow, in lighter amounts than during last week's blizzard, moved in on western New Mexico today and was expected to spread to the lower Pecos Valley by nightfall.

The newly arriving stormy weather was expected to be far less severe than the spell which heaped snowdrifts as much as 10 feet deep in New Mexico and halted traffic in many areas.

Typical of reaction among farming specialists to the worst storm in years was that of County Agent Dorman Brooke of Lea County.

He said the storm will prove "very beneficial" to farmers and stockmen in southeast New Mexico. The snow and freezing weather will bring about easier control of insect pests, he said.

Two accidents occurred in the city, one late yesterday and one this morning, both due to ice, police said.

In the 500 block West Washington at 4:15 p.m. yesterday, a car driven by Charles Hogsett of Box 966, Artesia, and one driven by Frances Harrell Denton of 111 Centre collided, doing approximately $50 damage to each vehicle, police said.

Police said that Hogsett was attempting to pass the Denton car, which had just pulled out from the curb, when his vehicle skidded on the ice and the two vehicles ran together.

A car driven by Ruby L. Laudermilk of 912 1/2 W. Washington and one driven by Earl Henry Day of 1208 W. Dallas collided at the intersection of Seventh and Dallas at 7 a.m. today, damaging the right side of the Day vehicle to the extent of about $150 and doing about $50 damage to the Laudermilk car, police reported.

Police said the two drivers probably failed to see each other coming due to ice on the car windows.

NM Police Quiz Nevada Suspect

LOS LUNAS (AP)—New Mexico officers today continued questioning an ex-convict who says he killed three men in an 18-day death spree.

David Cooper Nelson, 35, North Las Vegas, Nev., admitted to various police officers that he shot and killed Kenneth Short of North Hollywood, Calif., John Valente of Pioche, Nev., and Ralph Rainey of Santa Monica, Calif.

Nelson said he killed his friend Valente because Valente caught him searching the house for money which he thought Valente had stashed away.

Sheriff Medardo Sanchez of Los Lunas said last night that Nelson would be questioned further concerning the deaths of each of the men—particularly Valente.

Sanchez would not comment further about the robberies. He did not identify the bank robbery.

Nelson told newsmen he once studied for the ministry. He said he has written "a couple of books," and claimed that "I pray every day."

He told State Policeman Ed Bell, Sanchez and others that he killed Valente in his home at Pioche on Jan. 4.

Earlier in the day, he had signed a statement for Sanchez that he shot and killed Short on Jan. 21, and dumped Short's body about 40 miles west of Amarillo, Tex.

At Vega, Tex., a village midway between Amarillo and the New Mexico border, Deputy Sheriff John Ivry said it probably will be several days before snow conditions will permit a party to search for Short's body.

Bright sunshine and above-freezing temperatures yesterday permitted some thawing of the heavy snow that in dribs was nine feet deep but readings of 13 to 18 degrees early today glazed highways and roads with ice and hampered transportation on the few routes that were open.

Ground traveling in many places continued to be limited to tractors. At Plainview, where 30 inches of snow fell over the weekend, a Hale County spokesman said it might be 10 days before roads to some farms would be open.

Four airplanes Monday worked out of Hale Center, 15 miles southwest of here, dropping food and medicine to isolated farm houses. By radio and television, the snow-bound families were told to stomp out an "X" in the snow if they need fuel, and "F" for food and a "D" if a doctor is needed.

The pilots dropped 112 gallons of milk and a number of cases of bread at Cotton Center in southwest Hale County. The deep snowdrifts broke the fall of the pack.

Tuscaloosa Mob Quiet When Negro Excluded From White University
TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—The angry mobs which exploded yesterday to win exclusion of a Negro student from University of Alabama classes were missing today as the school went quietly about its business.

Many Alabama State Highway patrolmen were about the campus with nothing to do as news spread the university board of trustees had excluded Autherine Lucy, 26-year-old Birmingham secretary, until further notice.

The disturbances culminated in a wild day of shouting, singing, marching mobs yesterday before the board action was announced. Police used tear gas in attempting to break up the massed demonstrators.

Winner Of TV Quiz Fortune Must Decide On Trust Fund

NEW YORK (AP)—As he would on any other school day, 14-year-old George L. Wright III returned to the classroom Monday even though he won $100,000 over the weekend.

The young ukulele player, who won television's biggest quiz prize Saturday night, planned to leave St. Agnes High school a little early, however, for a business conference at the Chase Manhattan Bank.

There he and his lawyer, together with producers of The Big Surprise TV show, will discuss terms of the trust fund to be set up with George's TV winnings.

The government will get the biggest slice of the $100,000. Federal and state income taxes are expected to whittle George's net

A delicious cheese sauce can be made easily, too. By using better-blending evaporated milk you don't have the fuss and bother of making a cream sauce.

Chopped fresh tomatoes and green pepper add new flavor to Macaroni and Cheese casserole and a few slices of tomato and ripe olives put on top before it goes into the oven make it attractive enough for company dinner.

A fruit salad of cinnamon-pears and pineapple spears topped with a whipped fruit dressing, a green vegetable, if you like, and dessert will make this Lenten dinner one your family will enjoy.

The recipe for nutritious and economical Tomato-Cheese-Macaroni Casserole includes directions for Three-Minute Cheese Sauce.

Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 30 to 40 minutes.

French Premier And Vets Talk On Algeria War

ALGIERS (AP)—The local governor banned all public gatherings in Algiers today as Premier Guy Mollet began talks with indignant French colonists opposing concessions to Moslem Nationalists.

Starting his search for peace in France's guerrilla-torn North African territory, Mollet first received representatives of war veteran groups. Their rioting on his arrival yesterday made clear they wanted the bloody 15-month-old rebellion put down sternly and no relaxation of French dominance in the area.

Already the colonists had handed the Socialist premier a stinging defeat. Their violent demonstration forced him within two hours of his arrival to accept the resignation of Gen. Georges Catroux from the special Cabinet post Mollet created a week ago for Algeria. Catroux, due here Friday to take up his post, was the demonstrators' chief target.

At least 30 persons were injured in yesterday's riots. Algiers was quiet today but a demonstration by 5,000 persons was reported at Constantine, about 200 miles to the west.

Artesia Meets Roswell Team In Close Game

The Artesia Bulldogs meet Roswell at the High School Gym here tonight in a game that could easily go either way.

The Bulldogs won over Roswell 48 to 40 early in the season but Coach Verlan Davis says the Roswell squad has been looking better lately.

Coach Davis said he plans to start Jimmy Campanella and Gary Smith in guard positions. Smith is a new boy on the team, a transfer here from Portales. The coach said Smith looks good on the court and should be a valuable addition to the Bulldog squad.

Clyde Chaney will start at Center, with Max Ratliff and Bob Cerny at forward to complete the starting lineup, Coach Davis said. In a preliminary game, the Bulldog B-Squad will meet the Roswell B-Team, in what promises to be a good contest.

SMU To Battle Potent Texas In Night Contest

Southern Methodist, undefeated in Southwest Conference play this season, takes on still-potent Texas at Dallas Tuesday in a basketball game that will match two high scorers.

Texas has the top performer, Ray Downs, with 412 points for the season. Jim Krebs is SMU's top scorer with 316.

It will be one of two contests of the night. Baylor and second-place Arkansas meet in Fayetteville in the other game.

Southern Methodist has 6 conference victories and a season record of 16 wins and 2 losses. Texas is tied with Baylor and Texas Christian for the league cellar with 1 win and 5 losses.

Alabama Defeats Vanderbilt; Kentucky Back In Conference

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
The South hasn't been reconstructed after all. Kentucky is as healthy as ever in the Southeastern Conference basketball race now that Alabama has upset ambitious Vanderbilt.

It looked as if Vandy, No. 3 in this week's Associated Press poll, was set to free the SEC from its bondage under Col. Adolph Rupp's Kentuckians. Rupp himself admitted Kentucky's domination was over after Vanderbilt beat the Wildcats in their own lair and bounced off with a 7-0 league mark. But Bama, another upstart, ended that nonsense last night 88-61. It was only Vandy's second defeat in 17 games. Jerry Harper, Alabama's 6-8 center, canned 23 points and Dennis O'Shea backed him with 21 as the Tide rolled up as much as a 32-point lead.

The triumph pulled the Tide into the SEC lead at 60. Vandy is in a second-place tie at 71 with Kentucky, which rallied to beat Florida 81-70.

The Tide meets Kentucky, No. 7 nationally, Feb. 25 in the fight for the SEC crown and the NCAA berth it commands.

In other conference action last night, Illinois, No. 6, needed some last-minute heroics from Paul Judson to beat Indiana 92-89 and stay unbeaten atop the Big Ten. St. Louis, No. 11, however, saw its nine-game streak snapped by Oklahoma A&M 65-63. That cut the Billikens' Missouri Valley record to 61 and left them just a game ahead of Houston (52).

Kansas state won for the first time in four years at Nebraska 66-52, to bolster its big Seven lead while Missouri was wilying Kansas' hopes 85-78. Connecticut stayed unbeaten in the Yankee Conference, making Maine its 19th straight league victim 94-68.

George Washington (No. 19) gained a share of the Southern Conference lead with West Virginia by wallopping Furman 126-109. Joe Holup passed the 2,000-point career mark with 40.

West Virginia was beaten in a non-league game 84-69 by Memphis State, which braced its bid for a post-season tournament berth.

Only three other ranked teams were active last night. Once-beaten Temple, No. 9, held St. Green to 19 points and beat NIT-bound Duquesne 63-48 as Guy Rodgers hit 24 points. Oklahoma City, No. 14, defeated Wichita 63-59 with 6-10, Hubert Reed scoring 35. And Iowa, (No. 17), the Big Ten runner-up, outlasted Wisconsin 78-74.

San Francisco Dons Go After 43rd Straight Victory Top Star In Associated Press Poll

The Associated Press
The San Francisco Dons go after their 43rd straight victory tonight with a solid vote of confidence from the Nation's sports writers and broadcasters as the No. 1 college basketball team in the land.

For the ninth straight week, the Dons topped the Associated Press poll and their stranglehold on the No. 1 spot at least until the end of the regular season seems secure. Lightly regarded College of the Pacific hardly figures to extend the defending NCAA champs to night. Victories over two Loyolas, California and Illinois in the past week solidified Dayton's runner-up spot. The Flyers hold a sizable lead over the third-place Vanderbilts.

The only changes in the select 10 saw Kentucky move up a notch from eighth place by virtue of victories over Auburn and Duke; Temple dropped from seventh to ninth after suffering its first defeat of the season, 67-66, at the hands of Muhlenberg; Duke vaulted from 10th to eighth after turning back North Carolina, and Alabama moved 12th to 10th after downing Georgia Tech. North Carolina dropped out of the top 10.

San Francisco amassed 1,066 points, on the basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second, etc. The Dons received 74 votes for first.

The only other undefeated major college team, St. Francis of Brooklyn, got only 18th place in the voting.

The leaders, with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. San Francisco (74) 1,066
2. Dayton (5) 856
3. Vanderbilt (5) 755
4. N. C. State (4) 746
5. Louisville (12) 709
6. Illinois (3) 567
7. Kentucky 370
8. Duke (1) 255
9. Temple 226
10. Alabama (5) 187

The second 10:

11. St. Louis (2) 182
12. North Carolina (4) 156
13. Holy Cross (5) 125
14. Oklahoma City (3) 113
15. Southern Methodist (1) 107

Young Briton Fights Gavilan In London Bout

LONDON (AP)—A 21-year-old Briton who quit his job in an antique dealer's shop to become a fighter steps into the ring tonight against former world welterweight champion Kid Gavilan.

This is the make-or-buy fight in the career of unbeaten welterweight Peter Waterman, who will match his youth and strength against the experience of the crafty Cuban veteran.

Many experts here think Gavilan is not his prime and that Waterman must win if he is to climb up the world ladder.

Although he is no longer even rated among the top 10 in the world welterweight ranks, Gavilan was installed a 3-2 favorite.

"I don't think much of Waterman's chances," shrugged the 30-year-old Gavilan.

Waterman has fought 31 pro bouts. He has 26 knockouts to his credit.

Heavy Hitting Aragon To Fight Tiscarano

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Welterweight Art Aragon, acting as his own manager for the first time, meets younger Ramon Tiscarano in a 10-rounder at Hollywood Legion Stadium tonight.

The heavier hitting Aragon is a 3-1 favorite over his foe who hails from Juarez, Mexico.

It's the finale of the Los Angeles boxer's relationship with Manager Jimmy Roche and Aragon says Roche won't be in his corner although he'll presumably share in the proceeds. The two announced termination of their contract several weeks ago.

9th, 10th Rank Featherweights Battle Tonight

HOUSTON (AP)—Teddy (Red Top) Davis, ninth-ranked featherweight, and Paul Jorgensen, 10th ranked, meet here tonight in a 10-rounder expected to draw 7,000.

Jorgensen, of Houston, recently was elevated to the 10th spot in Nat Fleisheher's ratings after he upset former lightweight champion Lauro Salas here.

Davis has had trouble making the contract weight of 128 pounds. He announced he will move into the lightweight bracket after this fight.

Jorgensen will weigh 127.

TORONTO (AP)—Tony Trabert won the latest round in his touring pro tennis bout with Pancho Gonzales, but he's a long way from catching up.

A haylift—similar to flights several years ago to snow bound areas of the Dakotas—was started at the Amarillo Air Force Base yesterday. A C-47 took off with 250 bales of hay and dropped them from a low elevation in the Bushland-Wildorado areas. A C-119 flying boxcar was scheduled to have taken off later with 9,000 pounds of hay for the same general area.

In Amarillo downtown stores opened only for limited business. Most schools remained closed throughout the snow-encased area. More than 500 vehicles were jammed up on U. Game, Fish Commission Sets May 1-Nov. 30 Trout Season

SANTA FE (AP)—The Game and Fish Commission, setting seasons and limits for the 1956-57 fishing year, has abandoned all minimum length limits and set May 1 - Nov. 30 for the general trout season, excepting special waters.

The warm water or spiny rayed fish season will be April 1-March 31, 1957 and the bullhead season, from Aug. 1 to Sept. 15.

These daily bag and possession limits were approved: Trout, 12; black bass, 12; pike (walleye) perch, 12; crappie, 30; white bass, yellow perch, bluegills, bluegills and other sunfishes, no bag or length limits; catfish, all species except bullhead, 12 fish and no minimum length limit. (Former 10-inch minimum length limit and bag limit of 25 pounds, plus one fish).

Night fishing was approved on the Rio Grande and drainage ditches from the Colorado line to the Espanola bridge and in the main Rio Grande from the Espanola bridge to the Texas line. This is an experiment in fish management, aimed at removal of cannibal fish which some fish authorities say bite better at night than in daylight.

A year-long season on raccoon, badger, weasel and all species of foxes was approved, from April 1, 1956, to March 31, 1957. There have been seasons on such animals before, although they were shorter affairs.

The commission emphatically endorsed publication of New Mexico Wildlife, which now has had two issues printed on an experimental basis, and authorized its continuance on the ground the publication has been well received by the public and is providing a greater service to the public. The publication succeeds, the former weekly newsletter.

Chimpanzee Hitchhiker Stops English Driver

ST. MICHAELS, England (AP)—Michael Blackburn stopped his car for a hitchhiker and discovered it was a chimpanzee.

The chimp tried to open the door while Blackburn, not having bargained for quite so hairy a passenger, held it closed.

While they were wrestling with the door, Mrs. Phyllis Carlton ran up and claimed the animal. She said his name was Midge, he had run away from her nearby cottage and he loved to ride in cars.

"Before the chimp would let me drive on, he insisted on kissing me goodbye," Blackburn reported.

Eisenhower Is Rapidly Approaching 'D-Day' Which Will End Nation's Big Guessing Game

Editor's Note — As the day for President Eisenhower's decision on a second term approaches, the nation finds itself in a situation without precedent in the history of the presidency. Here, by a Pulitzer Prize-winning correspondent, is the first of four stories dealing with various aspects of the decision, the factors by which it will be influenced and the effects it will have on the nation.

By REILMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower is rapidly approaching his personal "D-day." And for this political capital, it will end a guessing game of unparalleled magnitude.

Eisenhower's decision on whether he can and will run for a second term presumably awaits only one thing now—the findings in his next physical checkup. For a particular reason, this will be an unusually important examination.

Its purpose is to determine, as accurately as possible, how Eisenhower has stood up under the massive weight of the presidency after a full month at work. Next Thursday marks the end of this month.

The President's personal physician, Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder, told reporters "No man who is just 4½ months past a heart attack is in a position yet to determine his own physical fitness. He should have more time — all the time he needs."

Then the President plans to take a brief rest, probably in a secluded forest lodge near Thomasville, Ga. Eisenhower may work out his decision there — and quickly. "I hope I am not going to dilly dally too long about it," he said.

Some observers in Washington believe he already knows what he is going to do, but others who are close to him are convinced that he has made no decision. The President himself says he has not, and that he will "make the announcement as quickly as a decision is firmly reached in my mind."

Meanwhile, the atmosphere in the capital is electric with speculation and debate, gossip, wishful thinking, rumor and undercurrents of anxiety and expectation. It is very much like the feeling in a courtroom when the jury is about to come in with the verdict.

If there is a majority guess, it is that Eisenhower will not run. But the people who feel that way today usually add, "Last week, I thought just the opposite." So do those who now believe he will run.

When you ask what brought the change of mind, people usually answer, "Well, when he said the other day that—"

Eisenhower has discussed the subject in many ways. "I have to guess as to the next five years — My mind is not fixed to such an extent that it can't be changed. Where does the sense of duty point? ... My future life must be regulated."

The remarkable fact is that his political friends and foes both find comfort and reassurance in these remarks.

The Republican interpretation: "In effect, he's saying to the people, 'Here's my condition. Now if you want to vote for me, I'm available.' He's being perfectly honest about the situation."

The Democratic view: "He's made up his mind not to run, and this is paving the way for the announcement."

Never in the history of the presidency has there been a situation quite like this one. It is normal for a president to play cat-and-mouse with his decision. But in this case, the uncertainties that arise from a heart attack have added the X-factor.

From Washington, the hoves and anxieties spread across the whole of America.

There are the Republicans who hope to get the nomination if Eisenhower does not run. There are the 17 GOP senators, the 16 governors, and the 203 Republican congressmen who come up for reelection this year and would hope to benefit from the President's popularity.

All the way to the courthouse level are thousands of office holders, and would-be office holders, whose future may very well hinge on Eisenhower's decision.

The political arena is in not the only affected area. In Wall Street and in business circles generally you hear the same word repeated over and over—"uncertainty." As one analyst puts it: "We've been running this country by cardiograph for the last four months."

The uncertainty will be dispelled after the President's checkup.

Usually, such examinations consist of the cardiograph which charts the heart action electrically, measurements of the pulse, blood pressure, and dimensions of the heart, and an X-ray examination of the heart. This data, along with fluid analyses, is then compared with comparable data from previous examinations.

But a supremely important phase of the check may be the patient himself—what he tells his doctors of his feelings and reactions. Does he tire readily? Does he have any echoes of pain? Does he have feelings of breathlessness?

Eisenhower is 65. If he serves a second term, he would be 70 at the end, the first man in history to reach that age in the presidency. Life insurance company statistics indicate that 47 per cent of the men in his age bracket live 10 years or more after a heart attack.

However, some cardiologists

Mencken Will Be Remembered For Warmth Toward Humanity

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato: "I do not believe in immortality and have no desire for it," once wrote H. L. Mencken, who died last week. "The belief in it issues from the puerile egos of inferior men."

At another time he expressed himself this way: "Life is pleasant and I have enjoyed it, but I have no yearning to clutter up the universe after it is over."

There are many alive today who do not share Mencken's views on immortality, but who are perhaps glad he no longer is here to "Clutter up the universe."

The tendency to write Mencken off as merely a verbal showman began many years before his death. Those who prize orthodoxy always like to low-rate the unorthodox man by calling him a show-off. They do this because they fear him. He disturbs the pattern of their smug world.

The critics of Mencken like to dismiss him as the leader of a short-lived intellectual cult, as if he were no more than a faddist with a gift for words.

Somehow I believe they are quite wrong. I think that if we could return here a century hence we would find that the clarion accents of the sprightly "Baltimore sage" had won a more enduring place in literature than the gibberish of many literary critics today who find life so overpowering and confusing.

Certainly those who would pig-eeholve Mencken as merely a smart alec long-hair idolized temporarily by sophomore college kids have got the wrong man, the wrong container. His name didn't wrap easily into any known package.

As did that 18th Century leetographer, Sam Johnson, Mencken became a top literary spokesman of his time. He helped an entire generation of authors to break away from the syrupy echoes of the past and start writing the vinegary truths of the present.

What other writer of the Century did more to put stamp-of-world acceptability on emerging new language — American language?

Mencken truly belonged in company of "The Great Questers" such as Jonathan Swift, Voltaire, Samuel Butler, Thomas Hardy, Mark Twain and George Bernard Shaw. These are men who looked behind the easy beliefs mankind for the hard answers.

Like Swift and Shaw, Mencken found the comic ridiculous, but found the individual man intensely likeable. Few men in history have left a record of their passage behind them who had a greater zest for life, or joyed it more.

Personally, Mencken was one of the kindest of souls. He held a cheerful helping hand to the dreeds of young writers, and did expect or look for gratitude, know this; I was one of them.

But he loved human liberty. He could sympathize with the form of human frailty except in tense and stuffed-shirtism. In death freedom lost one of its most ardent swordsmen and pompous its bitterest foe.

Mencken be forgotten? Though the 25 volumes he wrote should sink into oblivion with ashes, one sentence alone should guarantee him immortality.

As long as men love kindness, understanding and a sense of humor, they cannot forget the man who penned this as his whimsey epitaph:

"If, after I depart this vale, ever remember me and thoughts to please my ghost, give some sinner and wink your eye at some homely girl."

What critic of Mencken has ever written a line that shows so clear a feeling for humanity—not as should be but as it is?

ARTESIA BUSINESS AND INDUSTRIAL REVIEW

General Motors Corp. Reports More Than A Billion Profits

NEW YORK — The bluest of industry's blue chips came up with a batch of jet-propelled 1955 earnings reports last week that left the record profits of earlier years in the model T category.

Topping the star-spangled list of reporting firms was General Motors Corp., the world's biggest automaker. First company in U.S. history to break through the billion-dollar profits barrier, GM last year reported earnings of $1,189,000,000. That's what the company had left after setting aside $1,600,000,000 for federal, state and local taxes.

Also heard from were the world's biggest oil company, the world's biggest steel firm and the world's biggest copper producer.

Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), reporting the "best year in the company's history," estimated its 1955 profits at 717 million dollars, up 23 per cent from the year before.

A 90 per cent hike was announced by United States Steel Corp. with profits at a new peak of $370,197,000. Sales and shipments also set new highs. Kennecott Copper Corp. boosted its net earnings 61 per cent, to a record $125,615,000. Net income of Union Carbide & Carbon Corp. shot to a new high of $140,755,858.

Contributing further to the ebullient tone of business were predictions by industry leaders of more lush profits in 1956. The stock market snapped out of its January doldrums with oil shares leading the advance. Retail trade moved ahead. Steel set production records.

Outstanding soft spot was the auto industry which announced new cutbacks to bring production into line with sagging sales.

Beginning Monday, all Chrysler divisions in Detroit—Chrysler, DeSoto, Dodge and Plymouth—will go on a four-day week. Already shut down for two weeks was the Packard-Clippier division of Studebaker-Packard Corp., with 5,500 idle. For the industry at large, it's estimated that some 33,000 auto workers have been laid off since the start of the year.

January output of cars and trucks was eight per cent under December and down nearly seven per cent from January 1955. Bucking the trend was big General Motors which upped its output by around two per cent. A slight dip in production of GM cars was more than offset by rising truck output.

Outside of Detroit and other auto manufacturing centers, the cutbacks scarcely caused a ripple. The steel industry was swamped with orders from other customers, with capacity operations sighted for months to come. Falling steel sales in Detroit were all but submerged by a slow but consistent rise in retail volume elsewhere.

Department store sales across the nation at latest count were a hefty eight per cent over the like 1955 week, after loafing along at only two or three per cent above a year ago during most of January. Merchants continued to report vigorous consumer response to the usual January-February clearance sales of furniture, bedding and apparel.

There was an apparent change of signals in Washington on the controversial question of government controls on credit.

Farmers were told by the government this week that the downward trend in farm prices was reversed in January. Prices for the 30 days ended Jan. 15 advanced about one per cent. Consumers in the cities paid higher prices for chicken and pork. Prices of coffee and gasoline also moved higher.

Briefly over the business scene: Oil companies handed out wage increases averaging about six per cent to thousands of their workers. A new 450-room hotel will be added to the Hilton chain in Tokyo, Japan. International Business Machines Corp. announced plans for a major expansion program in the three Pacific Coast states. The Chicago Convention Bureau reported that trade shows and conventions brought 1,276,330 visitors to the Windy City last year. They spent $209,688,250.

Douglas Says Reds Influence To Spread

DALLAS (AP) — Communism is likely to spread next to "feudalistic countries" in the Middle East where poverty is great, Supreme Court Justice William Douglas said Monday.

Douglas, speaking to the United Jewish Appeal, said the United States needs Israel in the ideological war against Communism.

Douglas described the Russians as "fine people as individuals" and said he believed Russia is anxious to have peaceful coexistence with the West.

Tanker Temporarily Blocks Bay Shipping

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — The 600-foot tanker Eastern Sun grounded in Corpus Christi Bay Sunday and temporarily blocked shipping. Three tugs moved the tanker and it continued its voyage.

Doggone Good

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Florida looks for a record winter season if the season's first pari mutual wagering is any criterion.

The first night of greyhound racing attracted 12,180 patrons who wagered $309,064 on the program, a new state record for one night of betting on the dogs.

The admission price was hiked from 25 to 50 cents for this season.

Double Trouble

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo. (AP) — Everett (Skeeter) Diehl, 14, suffered both bullet and buckshot wounds in the leg when accidentally struck by a 30-30 rifle bullet.

Diehl, who was mistaken for a deer by a member of his hunting party, the high powered rifle bullet struck a 410 shotgun shell in the youth's pocket and exploded it.

Swing To Pro's

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — College football is on the brink of losing considerable popularity to the professional variety of the sport, says Frank Leahy, former Notre Dame coach.

Leahy says the quality and attractiveness of college football is deteriorating because it is the trend of college presidents to cut down training time. He said the professional game is improving tremendously. And he said tickets for college games are priced higher.

Britain, France, U. S. To Confer On Middle East

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, Britain and France will open conferences on the Middle East crisis here tomorrow in an effort to find ways of preventing a new Israeli-Arab war.

State Department officials said today that plans for the conference had just been completed. The first session will be held tomorrow under the chairmanship of Deputy Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy.

President Eisenhower and Britain's Prime Minister Eden decided last week the West must take urgent steps to forestall a new war outbreak in the Middle East if possible, or suppress it, if necessary.

France was invited to attend talks on the problem, since the three Western Powers have acted jointly several years under a 1950 declaration of intention to preserve peace in the Middle East by actions in or outside the U. N.

Britain's chief representative in the talks will be Ambassador Sir Roger Makins. The French ambassador, Maurice Couve de Murville, have been designated to represent his country. Dulles will outline the American stand on the issues before the conference with a statement that this country's policy "embraces the preservation of the State of Israel" and maintenance of "our friendship with Israel and the Arab States."

9 Persons Hurt When Bus Skids And Hits Tree

HUNTINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Nine persons were hurt in a Greyhound bus that skidded down an icy hill and hit a tree south of Huntington Monday morning.

Most seriously injured were the driver, Glen C. Lannom, 41, Indianapolis, and Mrs. Ruth E. Spriggs, 46, Detroit. Both were reported in fair condition in Huntington County Hospital. The others were treated and released. Their names were not listed.

Police said 42 stitches were taken to close a cut in Mrs. Spriggs' left leg, which may also have been fractured. The driver suffered cuts and bruises and a possible hip fracture.

Two Lawyers Make Annoyance Into Profitable Business

NEW YORK (AP) — Opportunity isn't scarce — but the ability to recognize it is.

When a million-dollar idea pops up, few men have the art to see its true value—and put it to work.

This story of two Milwaukee lawyers who did. They turned a personal annoyance into a multi-million-dollar business.

In 1948 Elmer Winter and his partner, Aaron Scheinfeld, found themselves badly in need of an extra typist to prepare papers in a pressing court case. They needed her quickly.

"At first we tried calling the old girls who had worked for us before," recalled Elmer, "but they were all busy having babies. We were in a real jam. It took a lot of scurrying about until at the last moment we finally found a girl who could do the job for us."

"Afterward, my partner and I got to talking about how there must be many business firms which ran into emergencies when they temporarily needed extra trained help and couldn't find it. Yet, there must be many people who wanted temporary work of this sort. Why couldn't there be an organization to solve the situation?"

The two lawyers, after a preliminary investigation disclosed the market was even greater than they visualized, created Manpower, Inc.

The firm, which now has 71 offices here and in five foreign countries, has built up a labor pool of scores of thousands of skilled and unskilled workers. On short notice it assembles and provides for other companies trained staffs to do practically any specialized task in the industrial world except construction work.

"We aren't an employment agency," explained Winter. "We rent help. Our people work for us, and are paid by us."

The clients of Manpower, Inc., including 79 of the nation's 100 largest corporations, range from huge insurance firms, department stores, and Wall Street banks down to a small manufacturer who merely wants a few freight cars unloaded.

"We also have furnished disaster crews to help out in hurricane and flood relief work," said Winter.
