Baseball Program Explained At Muleshoe Rotary Club Meet

"With a lot of younger players on the team, we're a little green, but we are really trying to get started," said Muleshoe High School baseball coach Paul Davis.

He was guest speaker for the Muleshoe Rotary Club Tuesday, and had with him two of his players, Ricky Flores, who was an All-District baseball player last year, and Rodney Reynolds.

Coach Davis said that last year, Muleshoe was in the playoffs, because only Muleshoe and Canyon were in the district. This year, the addition of a new team, Friona, put Muleshoe and Friona in the same district, which will again put Muleshoe in playoff action.

The MHS baseball team has a season record of 3-7 for the year, and that's after playing such teams as the Plainview varsity team; Lubbock; Brown-

Lazbuddie Students Named To All-Stars

Two Lazbuddie students qualified for the All-Star Cast at the district one-act play competition in Farwell on March 15.

Lori Bradshaw, a freshman at Lazbuddie High School, and Stacey Barber, a junior, both won the All-Star honors for outstanding performances in the school's UIL one-act play, Persephone.

Two other members of the cast were named to the Honorable Mention All-Stars.

They are Holley Morris and Clint Farris, both juniors at Lazbuddie.

Lazbuddie earned third-place honors in the overall competition, as Persephone was named alternate for the regional contest.

Other cast and crew members were: Jarah Redwine, Gina Jarman, Susan Alcala, Jonas Hernandez, Joelle Weaver, Jessica Burch, Mario Zamora, Leland Brockman, Filemon Guzman, Jana Vise, Troy McBroom, Paul Williams, Eric Williams, Raymond Zamora and Elsa Mendoza.

Director was Rebecca Williams.

Persephone was written by Ford Ainsworth and published by I. E. Clark.

The Mules' baseball team has won over Denver City, 7-4; Plainview JV, 16-1 and Tahoka, 12-2.

The baseball coach said he had five returning starters this year, and has five seniors; eight juniors and three freshmen on the team.

"Some of the players haven't played baseball in two or three years," said Coach Davis, "and some haven't played since Little League."

He said both Ricky and Rodney were team leaders for the

FLB Annual Meeting Slated In Muleshoe

James B. Glaze, chairman of the board of the Federal Land Bank Association of Muleshoe, announced today that the Annual Meeting for the Association will be held in Muleshoe, Monday, April 8, at 7 p.m. at the Bailey County Civic Center.

This Association provides long term Land Bank loans for Bailey and Parmer Counties. It is owned by its borrowers and has been providing financing through the Farm Credit Bank of Texas since 1917.

There will be an election of directors with one position to be filled, and an annual report from the Association will be presented. A meal will be served.

Other members of the Board of Directors in addition to James Glaze of Muleshoe are Billy D. Baxter of Friona; Donald Christian of Farwell; Jim Claunch of Bula; Don McDonald of Hub; and Jimmie Pitcock of Muleshoe.

What's a nice dog like you doing in a place like this? On Tuesday morning, Abby, a drug-dog from the Hale County Sheriff's office visited with the Bailey County Commissioners Court.

She was introduced by her handler, Deputy Sheriff Jessie Canales. He told the commissioners of Abby's training, and friendliness with people. She was specially trained in Indiana to be a drug-sniffing dog, and wears a chain with a Hale County Deputy Sheriff's badge prominently displayed at her throat.

She is not an 'attack' dog, and in fact demonstrated her friendliness, by demanding attention and affection as her handler talked with commissioners.

Bailey County Deputy Sheriff Don Carter had asked Deputy Canales to bring Abby to Muleshoe, as the sheriff's office and the Muleshoe Independent School District, and possibly the Three Way School District plan to jointly purchase the dog for use by all three entities.

After the first initial expense, the cost for the dog, which will include feeding, veterinarian and recertification, is only expected to cost around $1,000.

At the present time, MISD budgets $5,000 per year for a drug dog which visits the local schools periodically.

The initial expense for a narcotics dog only, including the dog, training and equipment would be $6,698. If the extended patrol-narcotics approach is used, the total cost for the first year would be $10,493.

It was explained that there would be no increase in liability insurance, as the dog would be covered through the policies already in place for the schools and the sheriff's office.

MISD Superintendent Bill Moore, who also attended the meeting, said the MISD Board of Trustees had indicated interest in the joint operation, and regardless whether or not the idea is adopted by commissioners, will be continuing the drug dog program.

"We could save the taxpayers a lot of money," explained Deputy Carter. "The dog would help the county and schools in several aspects. If we can get drugs off the streets, that would be that much less in drugs going to the schools."

The deputy also explained that through "Search and Seizure" procedures, the dog can provide probable cause for the officers to search a vehicle.

Superintendent Moore said, "the schools appreciate the drug dog. We know it won't solve the drug problem, but it will help keep a cleaner campus. We could help eliminate drugs and firearms, from coming on school property."

"Dogs do not search people, they search cars and lockers. The MISD board is encouraged by the possibility of joint participation. It would be cheaper for the schools, as well as for the county. And, the high visibility of the dog being stationed right in the county would be a deterrent."

Deputy Canales had hidden various drugs in the hallway, and Secretary Donna Kirk's office before the dog entered the building. They then demonstrated how quickly Abby could find the drugs--all of them.

No final decision was made, but the commissioners did express interest in the joint proposition.

Deputy Carter also visited with commissioners about obtaining insurance for radios in the sheriff's office vehicles.

Letter To The Editor

March 31, 1991

Dear Editor,

I would like to use your public medium to express thanks and appreciation to a variety of persons in the Muleshoe community.

During Holy Week (March 24-31), the Ministerial Alliance hosted Holy Week Services at the First United Methodist Church and Easter Sunrise Service in the City Park. I personally express my thanks to everyone who made these services such a great success. The speakers, David McIntyre, New Vision Nazarene Church; Mike Doyle, Spanish Assembly of God Church; Gerald Gladden, Richland Hills Baptist Church and Dean Reid, First Assembly of God Church brought inspirational messages.

The special music by J. B. Douglas, First Baptist Church; Chris Eubank, Trinity Baptist Church; and Joan Lewis, First United Methodist Church was exceptional. The foods prepared by 16th and D Church of Christ; First United Methodist Church and New Covenant Church was superb. And finally, the participation of the community was excellent.

Thanks to everyone who was involved.

Also, during the week, the United Methodist Church had two funeral dinners which, without the help of sister churches who offered or opened up their facilities for the family meals, would have been extremely difficult with the Holy Week Services scheduled in our facilities. We publicly express thanks to American Boulevard Church of Christ and First Assembly of God for the use of their facilities and to 16th and D Church of Christ and Trinity Baptist for offering their facilities.

What a good feeling to know that we, brothers and sisters in Christ, can join together in worship and support of one another to minister to the community of Muleshoe.

Again, thanks to everyone who made Holy Week a meaningful time.

Grace and peace,

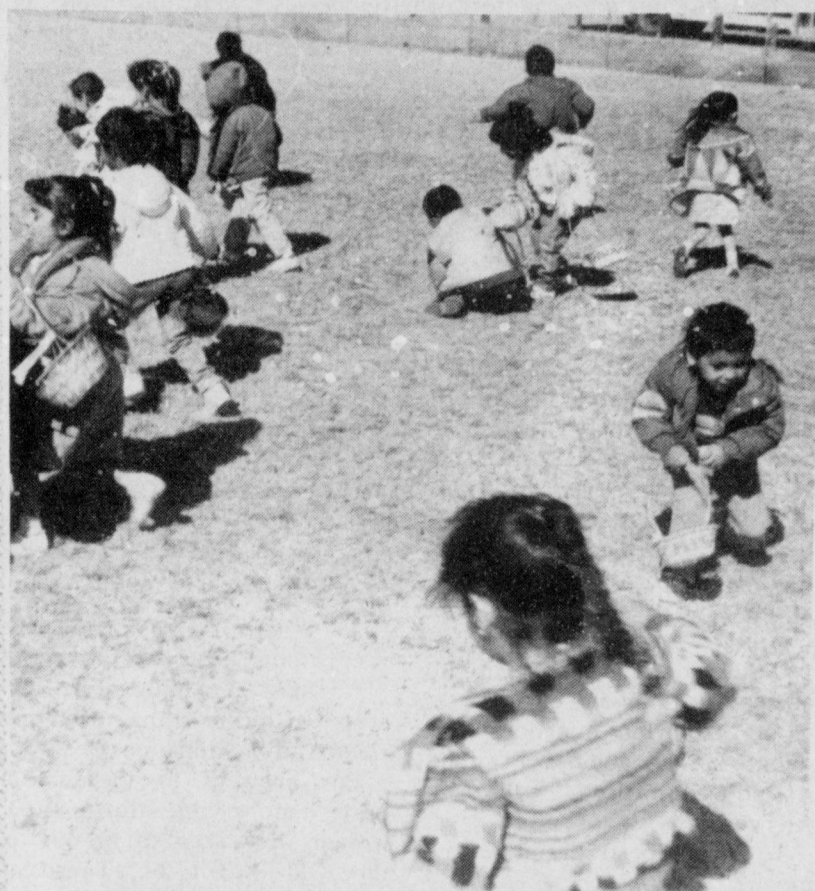

Richard Edwards, Pastor
First United Methodist Church

A GOOD CITIZEN'S BUSINESS

It used to be said in smaller towns that it is the business of a good citizen to mind his own business, keep out of debt and avoid breaking laws. It was commonly thought if he did that, it was about all that could be expected of him, and he was conforming to the ideas of good citizenship.

But a community's development cannot be promoted in these times on any such limited basis. The fact that so many small town people still have this spirit and expect to get along without doing anything particular to boost community movements, is one of the principal reasons why some towns do not get ahead faster.

Some one must take hold and carry on the work of churches and fraternal societies. Some of the men with a special head for business need to work in some organization for the commercial and other needed development of the community. Some need to work in clubs for educational purposes and for more interesting social activities. There is something for each one to do and we must all take hold to do something in the public lines, if we expect that a town is going to keep up with the game.

Creative Living

by: Sheryl Borden

Information on shopping for the symbol of the '90s and an easy way to refinish furniture will be the featured topics on "Creative Living" on Tuesday, April 9 at 12 noon and Saturday, April 13 at 2 p.m. (All times are Mountain.) "Creative Living" airs on public broadcasting station, KENW-TV, from Eastern New Mexico University.

Helen Hatton, representative of the Paper Bag Division of the American Paper Institute, will explain the meaning of the three revolving arrows on the paper recycling symbol. She'll also explain why it's important to shop for products packaged in recycled paperboard and will tell how consumers feel about the program. Ms. Hatton lives in Toronto, Canada.

Lynn Hack-Gerhart, representative of QRB Industries, will show how an absolutely horrible looking table is transformed into a beautiful piece of furniture--using QRB--a product created by Lynn's father, Ron Hack. Ms. Hack-Gerhart is from Niles, MI.

On Tuesday, April 9 at 9:30 p.m. and on Thursday, April 11 at 12 noon, "Creative Living" will present information on achieving the perfect fit when sewing, "yo yo eating," and cooking Jamaican recipes.

Virginia Nastiuk, owner of Personal Patterns in Bothell, WA, designs patterns and works with hundreds of home sewers yearly to help them achieve better fitting garments. She will give tips on how to achieve the perfect fit when sewing.

Marilyn Wilkinson, with the United Dairy Industry in Rosemont, IL, has information pertaining to "yo yo eating". As the name suggests, "yo yo eating" occurs when a person diets one week and indulges the next week. Ms. Wilkinson has the perfect solution for those times when you do choose to indulge.

Joan Goulbourne, representing Winston's Jamaican Restaurant in New York, will explain what allspice is and will demonstrate how to use it in a popular Jamaican recipe called "Jerk Pork."

"Creative Living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show is carried on more than 100 PBS stations in the United States, Canada, Guam and Puerto Rico and is distributed by Pacific Mountain Network, Denver, CO. ## RV Park

It was noted that the three SO patrol cars have more than $14,000 in radio equipment. Approval was given by commissioners to obtain the insurance.

Starting out the meeting with commissioners Tuesday morning were three MAC (Muleshoe Activities Committee) members, Harvey Bass, chairman; Ron Montgomery and Leon Logsdon.

They asked to lease the land between the back of the Ben Franklin Store and Mule-Putt Miniature Golf Course.

Nearly three years ago, the land was sub-leased to the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture for an RV Park, which never materialized.

Montgomery and the Bailey County Judge, Marilyn Cox, said the CofC wanted to be out of the lease, and asked they be released.

Ron Montgomery, acting as spokesman for MAC, said Mac wishes to put in a free RV parking lot, which will have hook-ups for eight RV vehicles.

He said people could stay a maximum of three days, unless they were in Muleshoe with family members in a hospital, and while here, would probably look around in Muleshoe, and possibly leave money with various Muleshoe merchants.

Montgomery also said MAC would like to use the land during the Bailey County West Plains Fair to set up rides for kids, followed by the RV Park. "People are parked on the civic center parking lot nearly every night during the summer. We would hope that travelers would stop and look around in Muleshoe, and maybe spend some money while here."

Bass added, "Littlefield and other towns have free campgrounds. And, he also said local RV home owners could use the location as a 'dump' station after returning from trips.

"We could keep it clean, and it would help the town look better," added Bass.

"You never know when some CEO will be traveling through Muleshoe, and decide to stop overnight. They would look around, and maybe say this looks like a good place to put a new business."

After being questioned by Commissioner C. E. Grant about liability, Montgomery said "that's to be worked out. We suggest that the county carry the liability under the county insurance 'blanket.'"

After discussion, it was determined that since the Youth Activities Committee has a 99 year lease on the property, they will have to release the CofC lease, and grant a sub-lease to MAC. It was also stipulated in county minutes that commissioners favor granting MAC two years to construct the RV Park and constantly maintain the location.

Also visiting with commissioners Tuesday morning was Spencer Tanksley, to discuss his move to Brenham in Washington County.

He said "This is not an item I wanted to come to do. I am moving my position to another county, and want to thank the commissioners court for their support and items furnished to help me do my work. You have a wonderful facility in the civic center for people to use. "There is no way I can thank the commissioners court for everything you have done for me, and for my family, to make us welcome in Muleshoe."

He told commissioners of the process that will be used to get a new county agent for Bailey County. He also said Kandy McWhorter, County Agent for Home Economics, will be in charge of the local office until a new agent is found. He also said the secretary in the office will contact specialists at A&M when necessary until a new agent comes in.

Tanksley also discussed with commissioners the possibility of using herbicides for road right-of-way weed control. He said there's a lot of interest across the state about the use of herbicides for keeping bar ditches clean, and some counties have already adopted this method. He did remind that the persons handling the herbicides must be trained and licensed, although he did agree that if the commissioners obtain supervisory licenses, they would qualify for use of the herbicides.

Several items remained on the commissioners agenda for the afternoon session.

younger players, and said they have proven to be a big help in teaching the younger players.

"We encourage our kids to participate in as much as they can, and some of our players are in track right now. This makes it a little hard for them to concentrate on baseball, but they are always out there working and trying," he added.

Muleshoe High School did not have a baseball program until three years ago, and at that time, in order to play their scheduled games, a lot of larger schools had to be involved.

Coach Davis said that during the three years, Muleshoe has played Canyon each year, and will continue to schedule them each year to play. After playing Friona for four times this year, they will be facing a team from the northern region in the bi-district playoffs.

Both Dimmitt and Littlefield are looking toward beginning a baseball program, added the coach, who said it would make it a lot easier if some other and closer teams adopt the program.

"We drive a lot," he said, "in order to have enough teams to fill our schedule."

The Mules play 19 games and participate in two tournaments.

Texas Crime Figures Decrease For 1990

The overall major index crime volume in Texas for 1990 dropped 1.3 percent. However, five of the seven crime categories showed increases compared to 1989.

"The index crime total for 1990 in our state was 1,329,339 compared to 1,346,846 for the previous year," said DPS Director Colonel Joe Milner. "Because of a decrease in some property crime, the crime rate declined to 7,825.9 per 100,000 population from 7,926.8 in 1989."

Milner said all of the violent crime statistics went up in 1990. "Unfortunately, the increases in these four categories amounted to 17.7 percent for murders, 10 percent for rapes, 16.9 percent in the numbers of robberies, and 15.5 percent for aggravated assaults."

The DPS director said two of the three property crime statistics showed decreases.

"The number of burglaries dropped by 8.1 percent, and thefts had a slight decline of 1.4 percent," Milner observed. "However, motor vehicle thefts continued to climb with a 2.3 percent increase."

Twenty percent of the major crimes investigated by Texas peace officers were cleared last year, the same figure reported for 1989.

The number of arrests in Texas were up by 10.5 percent, totaling 999,940 compared to 905,166 for the previous year. Persons taken into custody for drug-related offenses fell by 13.1 percent, with 62,384 reported last year and 71,800 brought in during 1989.

"DWI arrests increased by 9.5 percent, reaching 112,802 last year compared with 103,008 the year before," Milner pointed out. "We appreciate the many efforts of Texas law enforcement agencies and citizen organizations to address this serious problem. However, it remains the number one factor behind traffic fatalities in this state."

Milner also noted that the number of law enforcement officers who died in the line of duty in 1990 came close to the extremely high number in 1989. "Sixteen officers died during enforcement duties last year, and 17 lost their lives in 1989," Milner said. "We had hoped the 1990 number would be much lower."

A ten percent increase was noted in the number of assaults on Texas peace officers in 1990. "That number totaled 5,059 last year and 4,580 in the year before, Milner said.

From The Senate

By: Teel Bivins

During this session, it seems there is very little time that goes unscheduled. While it used to be common to conduct business over a meal, it now seems there are more legislative breakfasts, luncheons and dinner meetings than ever before.

During one recent lunch meeting, Comptroller John Sharp and I discussed a program that would automate the state's food stamp program. This system, known as electronic benefits transfer, or EBT, would not only provide savings to the state in postage and the many handling costs involved in getting benefits to the clients with the current system, it would also mean that more benefit dollars could go to the intended recipients, instead of bureaucrats.

The concept takes advantage of current credit card and telephone technology to speed up the benefits payments while at the same time reducing opportunities for fraud in food stamps. After preliminary conversations with some people at the Department of Human Services, who advised me that they were indeed considering such a program, I introduced Senate Resolution 230. This Resolution, urging the Department of Human Services to set up a pilot project using this technology, represents the Legislature's support for such a program.

The system would allow individuals participating in the food stamp program to fully automate their benefits, so that there would be no need for actual physical food stamps. Just like a credit card, each client's individual food stamp account information would be accessible at stores using a card reading terminal and an ordinary telephone line. When a food stamp recipient wishes to use his or her food stamps, they simply hand the card to the check-out clerk, who "reads" the card with the machine. The customer then types in his or her unique identification number, and the system automatically deducts the cost of his or her purchase from the account.

EBT would enable the recipient to make only one contact with the Department of Human Services when signing up for benefits. Instead of waiting to receive food stamps in the mail each month, having to keep track of loose stamps and worrying about those stamps that could be stolen or lost, the client would simply carry his or her card, which could not be accessed without the personal identification number. The system would remove many intermediaries from the benefit delivery system, reducing cost and fraud.

The card readers would be purchased by the stores which would reap the benefit of reduced time-around time for the food stamps to be processed. Stores and banks would receive "real time" payment from the food stamps as soon as a transaction took place, eliminating the current several days delay.

An additional benefit from such a system would be tighter controls of the food stamp dollars from the time that they leave the Department to the time they are spent in a grocery store. Since all transfers of money into recipients' accounts would be electronic, there would be no physical stamps that could be stolen in transit, or from the food stamp user. Only the card could be stolen, but it would be useless without the personal identification number. Another benefit of the card would be that only the intended recipient of the food stamp dollars would be able to use them. I understand that one of the ways that fraud takes place in the food stamp program is that food stamps are traded for cash or bartered for merchandise, including drugs. If this program can accrue substantial savings to the state, and at the same time impact the illegal drug trade, then I will gladly welcome it.

The Department is now preparing to present a proposal for the pilot program to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, which administers the food stamp program. If that request is granted, and the pilot project proves workable, the Comptroller estimates that such a program when implemented state-wide, could save the state $30 million dollars each year in postal, handling, and fraud costs. Given the current fiscal condition of the state, I believe it is imperative we explore all creative ways to improve government efficiency.

Other states have shown that pilot programs for EBT can work. In the future, many other programs could be added to the program, increasing the savings to the State. Texas is often quoted as being at or near the bottom in social services provided. I am enthusiastic about this chance to bring Texas human services delivery into the 1990s, increasing the benefits to clients while at the same time utilizing an innovative new technology to save the state taxpayers' money.

Texas Senate Week In Review

After spending four special sessions in 1990 and working the first half of the legislative session this year, the public school finance reform attempt has apparently failed. Last week, the conference committee on the public school finance reform legislation reported the legislation back to both houses of the legislature.

On Monday, March 25, the conference committee report was signed and received by the Senate at 5 p.m. After finishing regular business on Tuesday, the Senate recessed until 5 p.m., 24 hours after the conference committee report was received, to vote on the package.

After two hours of debate, the Senate voted to accept the final form of the legislation with a 21-10 vote, enough to put legislation into immediate effect. Two-thirds of the membership must approve legislation for immediate effect. This was necessary to meet the court's April 1 deadline.

It was then left to the Texas House of Representatives to approve the final bill.

On Wednesday, March 27, the Texas House convened at 9 a.m. to take the vote. The Senate convened at 9 a.m., and after finishing regular business, recessed until 1:30 p.m. to await the outcome of the House vote.

At 1:30, the Senate then stood recessed until 3 p.m., and at 3, it stood recessed until 5 p.m.

Meanwhile, in the House Chamber, there were several hours of debate, after which the House finally voted. The vote to adopt the conference committee report failed with 63 'ayes' to 87 'nays.' The Senate waited through the afternoon, hoping the House would reconsider the vote, but the House recessed until Tuesday at 11 a.m. rather than adjourning, in hopes of reconsidering the vote. But the Texas Supreme Court's April 1 deadline is on Monday, and the case comes before District Judge Scott McGown at 9 a.m. on Monday, April 1.

Attorney General Dan Morales is expected to ask for an extension. Either way, the legislation will not be in place by the high court's deadline, and this could result in numerous scenarios depending on next week's activities.

Governor Ann Richards signed into effect Friday Senate Bill 14, legislation that creates an organized state response to the clean-up of oil and chemical spills. Sponsor of the legislation was Senator Carl Parker of Port Arthur. The legislation was signed into law two years after the Exxon Valdez disaster in Alaska, with the hopes of preventing a similar situation in Texas.

The Senate then adjourned until 11 a.m., Tuesday, April 2.
