COLORADO RIVER BILL GOES TO IKE

Penitentes Prayers Mark Easter Climax

SANTA FE (AP)—Deeply religious Spanish-American men in remote northern New Mexico mountain villages are commemorating the last day of Jesus Christ again this Holy Week.

They are the Penitentes, members of the once fanatical group known as the Brothers of the Blood of Christ.

The climax of their Holy Week observances began Wednesday with recitation of prayers based on Gospel accounts of the arrest of Jesus.

With processions, prayers and hymns, those taking part today—Holy Thursday—recalled the taking of Christ before Pontius Pilate. Tomorrow, Good Friday, the passion and death of Christ upon the cross will be commemorated by praying, singing men making the Via Crucis, the Way of the Cross.

The Penitente rites of today reportedly bear little resemblance to those of years ago, when members lashed their bleeding backs with thorny yucca whips in a belief that blood letting helped them atone for their sins.

It was such excesses which for many years deprived the group of the Catholic Church's recognition. But nine years ago the Penitentes were made an official society of the church. Church blessing was given to all members agreeing to proceed with moderation and under church supervision.

Their leaders say the Penitentes' rites no longer include fanatical procedures or excesses. Holy Mass, they say, can even be celebrated in the Moradas, which are the Penitente chapels.

If there are any exceptions and if any extremely rigorous rites still persist anywhere, all sources agree, they would be in some scattered Moradas which failed to come into the church-approved organization.

When the Penitente order was founded by the Franciscans at Santa Cruz, north of Santa Fe, in 1835, the aim was year-long penance. Some years later the priests were recalled to Mexico. The Penitentes in some localities were credited with being the mainstay of the church during the period of the priest's absence.

But it was in those years, too, that the excesses appeared in the rites.

Even the group's leadership says they have no accurate estimate of the memberships. But there are more than 100 Moradas, most of which are in Rio Arriba, Taos and Mora counties, with lesser numbers in six other northern counties.

Mountaintop Services Set

LEADVILLE, Colo. (AP)—What is believed to be the highest Easter sunrise service in the nation will be held atop 11,750-foot Cooper Hill. Participants will be borne to the top of the hill by a ski tow. Services will start at 9:30 a.m. at the base of the hill and will move to the summit for the blessing and final prayer.

EASTER OMELET
ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP)—If the Easter bunny runs short on eggs this year, he can blame a Texas traffic mishap. When a truck driven by Virgil German, 19, Bryan, Tex., overturned near here last night, an estimated 23,000 of the 70,000 eggs on it were broken.

SEN. ESTES KEFAUVER (D-Tenn.) shown above right recently in Los Angeles, visited Albuquerque and Santa Fe today in a brief stop-over during his Western campaign tour. Fresh from his victory over Adlai Stevenson in the Minnesota primary last week, he flew in from Phoenix, arriving in Albuquerque for lunch. He then flew to Santa Fe in a private plane and toured the city in Gov. Simms' limousine. (International)

House, Senate Quickly Vote Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP)—Only the signature of a sympathetic President stands between the long-fought upper Colorado River project and reality.

The Senate and House late yesterday approved a compromise version of the project bill and sent it to President Eisenhower, who has frequently endorsed the project publicly.

The final action, sending the bill to the White House, came by voice vote and with little debate.

In the Senate, project sponsors from Colorado, Utah, New Mexico and Wyoming congratulated each other on final victory in a years-long battle.

The bill authorizes a 760-million dollar series of dams and irrigation works to utilize Colorado River water apportioned to the upper basin states in an interstate compact in 1922.

The upper basin senators also complimented Sen. Kuchel (R-Calif.) for his struggle to protect the interests of Southern California.

Kuchel congratulated the upper basin representatives and wished them "God speed and success" in developing a project to assist their area without hurting other areas.

The Californian thanked project sponsors for incorporating into the final bill language designed to protect existing power contracts at Hoover Dam against interference from the operation of the upper Colorado Project, and to permit any state to bring suit in the Supreme Court to defend water right claims.

The final bill adhered closely to the version adopted by the House several weeks ago. The Senate, last night, had approved a development estimated to cost 1 1/2 billion dollars.

A significant change from the Senate version was the elimination of Echo Park Dam in northern California. (Continued on Page Four)

Council OKs Witcher Hiring

The City Council last night gave its approval of the City Recreation Committee's decision to hire Leonard Witcher, High School arts and crafts teacher, at $65 a week as coordinator of a summer recreation program for Artesia. Chuck Brown, Recreation Committee member, made a report to the Council on the progress of the Committee in setting up the summer program and presented a tentative schedule of the program. Brown requested approval last night of the Committee's decision to hire Witcher so that the coordinator could help the Committee in outlining the summer program.

The Committee will meet with Witcher next Wednesday night to formulate the program and select a supervisory staff.

In presenting a tentative sketch of the program, Brown said that it will include a teen-age camp which will operate two nights each week; it calls for employment of two supervisors to oversee playground activities two hours each day; employment of two supervisors for arts and crafts work; two supervisors to handle girls' recreation, including soft ball; and one supervisor qualified to instruct and conduct a tennis program and to help in supervision of the swimming pool.

All together, Brown estimated the program will require from six to eight supervisors at an average weekly salary of $45 for part-time work. The supervisory staff will probably be drawn entirely from school personnel, since the teachers are probably the only qualified persons who would be available for the part-time jobs during the summer months. Brown emphasized that they will probably all contribute more work than they are paid to do.

Brown told the Council that in line with this proposed program the Recreation Committee will stay well within its budget of $1,700 through the end of the fiscal year, July 1.

Clowe And Cowan Gets Contract For Sewer Pipe

The City Council at last night's meeting awarded to Clowe and Cowan, Inc., Roswell, a contract for the purchase of 15,800 feet of sewer pipe on a low bid of $12,087. The Roswell firm had originally bid low on the pipe at an earlier date but was relieved of the un-filled portion of the contract when it was discovered they had made an error in bidding.

The Council approved Neil Hardin, Junior High School faculty member, to operate the city swimming pool this season, subject to his acceptance of a revised contract. Councilman George Ferriman, chairman of the park committee, asked that the contract be revised to stipulate that an officially qualified life guard be provided at the pool and that the operator care for the new pool clarification unit.

The Council last night voted to call for bids on 50 gallons of paint and accessory materials for the city swimming pool. The bids will be opened at a special meeting April 6, in an effort to get the pool in shape for opening about April 15.

A transfer of funds was made from the city recreation fund to the park fund last night at the request of Councilman Ferriman, chairman of the park committee.

The Council moved to ask for bids on a larger pump, motor, and starting unit for the Eas. Chisum Street well to bring it up to 1,000 gallons per minute capacity, believed necessary to meet demands on the city water supply this summer.

The Council approved, subject to receipt of a final platte, bringing into the city a small area adjoining the Charlann Addition, to be known as the Havens Subdivision. It declined to accept a platte of a narrow strip of ground along Runyan Street on grounds that it did not conform to the overall plan for the area.

The Council granted permission to, Sherman Patterson, on behalf of five Artesia youth groups, to erect a wooden cross at Municipal Park for use in sunrise Easter services there Sunday.

Mexican Ship Burns And Sinks; All Aboard Saved

PROGRESO, Mexico (AP)—Port officials said today all the passengers and crew aboard the Mexican motor vessel Matul had been rescued. The ship burned and sank in the Gulf of Campeche last night.

Joselin Heredia Cobas, a port authority official, said 21 passengers and a crew of 14 were rescued by the Mexican coastguard boat Virgilio Urbibe and an amphibian plane.

They were taken to Campeche on the west coast of the Yucatan Peninsula. Among them was the Matul's captain, Ignacio Ferrarira.

The 300-ton Matul sank late yesterday about 60 miles north-northwest of Campeche following a fire that started with an engine room explosion.

Dogs, Lovington To Clash Tonight

The Artesia High School Bulldogs will meet Lovington at Municipal Park here tonight in a non-conference baseball game. Game time is 7:15 p.m.

The 'Dogs, who have two victories and no defeats in conference play so far this season, will be all-out to beat Lovington tonight, even though it is not a conference game.

Coach Jack Barron, who has been ill all week, will get out of sick-bed to handle his team at tonight's game.

Merchants Plan Questions For Coming Survey

The executive committee of the Retail Merchants of the Chamber of Commerce meeting yesterday made plans to contact Artesia merchants for suggestions for questions to be asked in an upcoming retail trade survey.

The committee plans to have the High School make a personal distributive education class at survey locally, and to make a survey of the rural areas.

Mystery Blast Awakens T O R C

TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES (T O R C)—Residents of Truth or Consequences were awakened this morning by a long, rolling explosion of sound around 5 a.m.

Editor Paul Tooley of the Hot Springs Herald said the blast was thought to be either a jet cracking the sound barrier, an explosion or an earthquake.

Windows were rattled by the blast, but no damage was reported. City police could find no trace of an explosion, Tooley said.

Kirtland Air Force Base and the 34th Air Division in Albuquerque said they had no reports of any jets breaking the sonic barrier in the T or C vicinity.

EDITOR URGES ATOMIC DEVELOPMENT ON TEXANS

MINERAL WELLS, Tex. (AP)—An editor and publisher from New Mexico said today:

"I think it is high time Texas stopped playing second fiddle to the rest of the country in atomic development."

Robert McKinney of the Santa Fe New Mexican told the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention that "Atomic energy now is just aching to be developed by men with big money, big initiative and big ideas."

The former Amarillo man said, "The basic fact about atomic energy today is that it has the capacity to work some fundamental changes in the economy of the world. . . . If there is any such thing as a 'wave of the future' discernible to us today it is atomic energy. . . . Realistically few people fully appreciate the size and the driving power of this wave."

McKinney, an expert on this subject, suggested a Texas committee of leading citizens to build a scientific center for research, development and application of the peaceful uses of atomic energy.

He cited the uses of atomic developments in agriculture and medicine and said, "The Texas petrochemical, oil and gas industries stand to benefit at least as much as does agriculture from . . ."

"What is needed to get the peaceful atomic reaction going faster is a very simple catalyst: Money," he said.

"If you are smart, you will take some of this big money, this big initiative and these big ideas that Texans have, and you will invest them in making Texas a southwestern regional center for research and development in the peaceful uses of atomic energy."

The convention continues through tomorrow with a congressional forum tomorrow morning.

Almost certain to come before the panel is a claim by some West Texas cotton farmers that the Labor Department has set the prevailing wage for cotton pickers too high.

The department, working with Texas authorities, says the prevailing wage last fall was $1.75 a hundred. A group in Dawson County, which made its own survey, says the prevailing wage for both domestic and Mexican pickers was $1.55 a hundred. The Dawson County group will be at the forum.

Farmers who paid less than the stated prevailing wage must make up the difference if their laborers were Mexican nationals. (Continued on Page Four)

Council Praises Record Of Lennon

Ralph Lennon, administrator of the Artesia General Hospital, in a report to the City Council last night, said that the overall picture of the hospital looks better now than at any other time since he has been there.

Lennon said that more rigid collection policies are paying off by diminishing unpaid accounts.

The Council commended Lennon on the job he has done as administrator and voted to send a letter of appreciation to the Hospital Auxiliary for the services it has rendered the hospital. The Council also commended J. L. Briscoe, president of the Hospital Board, as well as hospital personnel, for their services.

Lennon reported that a recent inspection by a representative of the Joint Committee on Accreditation produced many favorable remarks and noted much improvement over the previous year.

Lennon reported hospital income for the past year, up to February, at $175,164 and expenses at $132,664. Accounts receivable stand at $43,000, he said, and $12,448 in past due accounts have been turned over to the credit bureau for collection.

Lennon cited an increase in patients discharged from 2,057 to 2,159 and an increase in patient days of from 7,321 to 9,088.

He listed three new pieces of equipment that have been contributed to the hospital. The Auxiliary contributed a heated and refrigerated food conveyor and an exhaust fan for the kitchen. A new ice-making machine was contributed by hospital employees.

Lennon informed the Council that the first floor of the hospital will soon have to be redecorated.

Funeral Today For John Simons

Funeral services were to be held today at 3 p.m. at the First Baptist Church for John T. Simons, 59, who died Tuesday night in an Albuquerque hospital. Burial was to be in the Woodbine Cemetery.

Active pallbearers were to be Joe Little, Marshall Morris, Cliff Perkins, T. E. Brown, Jr., J. T. Haile, and T. A. Hart. Veterans rites were to be in charge of graveside rites. Paulin Funeral home was to be in charge of arrangements.

Survivors include his widow, two sons, and four grandchildren.

Simons, the son of a minister, was born in Cross Plains, Tex. He came to Artesia in 1906 with an aunt and uncle. He graduated from Artesia schools in 1916 when R. L. Paris was superintendent.

Simons served almost two years in France during World War I. He spent some time in the grocery business in Portales, where he met his wife, the former Miss Ella Elizabeth Sprague; but he returned to Artesia in 1925 and opened the Simons Food Store.

Simons' three sons served during World War II, and Donald Simons was killed in the Pacific Theater.

Anderson Hits Farm Compromise As 'Horrible'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Anderson (D-NM), former secretary of agriculture, says the compromise being worked out on the farm bill "is horrible and I believe it will be knocked out by the Senate."

Anderson, who resigned from the Senate Agriculture Committee in protest to the approved Senate version of the bill, supported the Eisenhower plan of flexible price supports.

The New Mexico solon said his resignation from the Agriculture Committee doesn't mean he'll stop working for the farmer.

"Farming has been part of my life too long for a mere change in committee assignments to silence me when vital policies are being decided," he said.

Canada Wants Early Talks On Indochina Unity

WASHINGTON (AP)—Canada is seeking to push the Indochina stalemate off dead center far enough to hold talks about unifying elections—if not the elections themselves.

Canada's Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson is understood to be doing most of the pushing. He dined here Wednesday night with Secretary of State Dulles and has arranged to confer in New York Friday with India's V. K. Krishna Menon.

Canada and India are members of the international truce commission in Indochina. Communist Poland is the third member.

As things now stand, the biggest Indochina state of Viet Nam is divided between the Communist's in the North and the west-backed government of Premier Ngo Dinh Diem in the South.

France To Use Older Aircraft Against Rebels

PARIS (AP)—Faced with a shadowy guerrilla foe against whom its jets are of little use, the French air force is mobilizing the slower World War II planes and helicopters to meet the threat of Algeria's rebels.

Air Secretary Henri la Forest said in a report Wednesday that the supersonic jets France has been building for its NATO partners are not suitable for ferreting out the rebel bands who roam Algeria's mountain and desert terrain.

The need for aerial observation was pointed up when a French military convoy was ambushed near Guelma, eastern Algeria. The rebels killed eight men and wounded eight others before the French had a chance to counter-attack.

Planes were called up and the conveyer forces finally killed 17 rebels, bringing the day's total of guerrilla dead to 70.

Manians Hear Library Plans Noon Meeting

C. P. Bunche spoke before Kiwanis Club at noon today outlining the plans and need for building new city library for $125,000 bond issue will be up for vote next Tuesday.

S. P. Yates, chairman of Library Board, said that Dr. Yates' speech today will comprise a round of talks delivered to each of the service clubs in the community explaining the real need for the new library.

The proposed building is calculated to take care of Artesia's anticipated expansion over a 20-year period and is a necessary and important adjunct to the city's curvilinear improvement program.

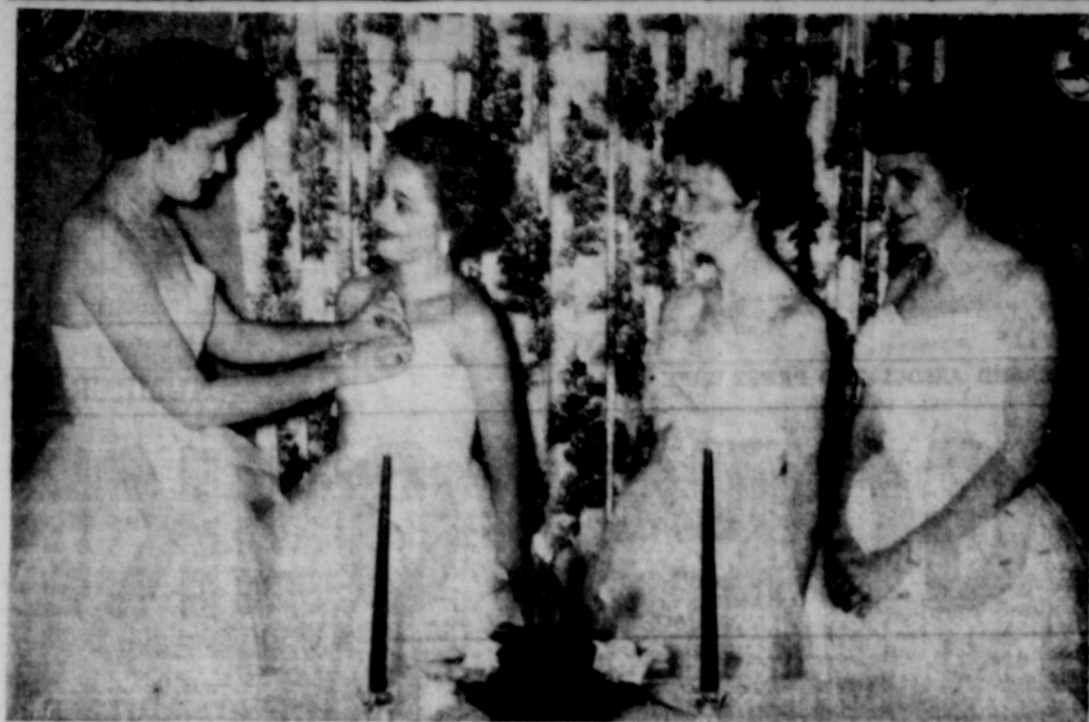

President Accepts Kay's Resignation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has accepted "with personal regret" the resignation of Douglas McKay as secretary of the interior. He wishes McKay well in his campaign for governor.

McKay's resignation is effective April 18. He has entered the May Oregon Republican primary in support of the Senate seat now held by Wayne Morse who turned Democrat after election as a Republican.

No matter how cold it may get, never, but never, warm up your tractor, truck, or automobile in a closed garage or shed. The carbon monoxide from the vehicle's exhaust is odorless, colorless, tasteless, and gives no warning, but it is deadly when allowed to concentrate in closed areas. The National Safety Council and the U. S. Department of Agriculture say no amount of temporary warmth is worth a human life.

Suspense And Comedy Dominate Hagerman High Senior Drama

The senior class of the Hagerman High School presented its class play, "The Scarlet Ghost" by Jean Provenza Tuesday at 8 p.m.

The cast—Betty Troublefield, Mary Evans, George Dodson, Milton Brown, Janet Wheeler, Donald Wrinkle, Della Barbosa, Wayne Pilley, Cairene Finch and Milton Creek—was well chosen and each portrayed his character with great ability. George Dodson with his portrayal of a gardener and a self-developed detective was a show-stealer who solved the mystery in a surprise unveiling of the "Scarlet Ghost" as played by Milton Brown, who was only trying to get story material for a book. The mock "murder" of Hetty Norton, portrayed by Betty Troublefield, added to the suspense of the evening; and the cigar-smoking inspector of police, Milton Creek, did some typical high-pressure questioning in his attempt to solve the case. Man-about-town Wayne Pilley and actress Cairene Finch furnished the love interest; and Mary Evans, in her role of newspaper reporter, was instrumental in keeping the wrong person from being victimized. Della Barbosa as the maid with a nose for news and her snooty way of finding out the family secrets furnished comedy and merriment to the occasion. Janet Wheeler as Hetty's secretary, and Donald Wrinkle as the family attorney rounded out the cast of characters.

Parliament has approved the government's 1956 budget totaling $708,333,333. Of this, some 70 per cent—or $528,333,333—was allotted to defense.

A government spokesman said the cut in defense spending was possible because of "lessening of tension in the world and the altered military and political situation of Yugoslavia."

He added that Tito expects to receive U.S. military aid again this year but gave no details.

Mayor Man Is Elected President Closing Cattlemen's Sessions

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—The city of Albuquerque settled dazedly to near-normal as most of the thousand high-heeled delegates to the 42nd annual Cattlemen's convention moved back to their ranches.

One resolution expressed strong opposition to HR 5550, now before Congress, which would make the United States a member of the Organization for Trade Cooperation.

The resolution noted that the organization is dedicated to further reducing tariffs which stockmen said were already too low.

In another resolution, the cattlemen said since this country already has "a surplus of meat animals... we feel that land placed in the soil bank with heavy government subsidy should not be used for production of cattle, thereby increasing our surplus."

Closing day speakers included John C. Vivian, former governor of Colorado, who attacked federal bureaus for "spending like a bunch of proverbial drunkard sailors."

In the morning session the stockmen heard Farrington R. Carpenter of Hayden, Colo., outline methods of improving cattle production.

Other resolutions adopted by the association:

Urged that recommendations of the Forest Service and the State Game Department be recognized in determining whether too much game is feeding on the range so that "adjustments" can be made to fit the game to the available feed.

Endorsed a resolution that Mexico be asked to make land available for military testing areas. The resolution also asked that pending application for more public land for military use be denied and that the government restudy the problem of further land acquisition.

Opposed passage of the National Wilderness Act, which the cattlemen said would withdraw even more land from the public use.

Requested Gov. John F. Simms to be prepared to treat areas infested with grasshoppers this coming year and to obtain aid from the Department of Agriculture to combat the grasshopper infestation.

Asked the Bureau of Land Management to "take specific recognition" of the place of the Madgeena Stock Driveway as set-aside for stock drives only.

Repeated the association's stand against any freight rate increases in intrastate commerce, and endorsed the stand of the State Corporation Commission in opposing both freight rate increases and abandonment of the Southern Pacific Railway line between Roy and French.

Requested the New Mexico Extension Service to set up a small committee of ranchers in each county to prove to stockmen in feeding areas that brucellosis is not prevalent in New Mexico.

Favored establishment of an animal disease laboratory "somewhere in the Western public land states near the center of range livestock production."

Expressed appreciation to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service for its efforts in the control of predatory animals and rodents, and to the State Game and Fish Department for contributing to the program.

Scientist Says Life's Energy Is Electronic

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP)—A Nobel Prize scientist has offered a new hypothesis that life's energy can only be understood in terms of electromagnetism.

He used the term "electronics excitation" and linked it with thyroxine, the human hormone of the thyroid gland.

Dr. Albert Ezent-Georgyi, 1937 winner of the Nobel Prize in physiology and chemistry, said the hypothesis was based on known behavior of electrons. He applied this behavior to explain transmission of energy within animal muscle.

The Hungarian-born scientist, now director of the Institute of Muscle Research at the Woods Hole, Mass., marine biological station, said recent discoveries about molecules had disproved chemical explanations of muscular action.

"It became evident," he said, "that there had to be some mechanism to carry the energy from one part of the molecule to the part that had to contract. I asked myself what form of energy could travel in this way. The only answer was the energy of electronic excitation."

Szent-Georgyi said that he believed the energy stored in a chemical within a muscle was transmitted by this electronic excitation. He explained that an electron was excited into leaving its original energy level by reversing its spin. He said that without the presence of a magnetic field, the electron would return to its level too quickly to do any work.

"Disturbances of the electromagnetic field," he added, "will help to reverse the spin. Such disturbances can be created by the oxygen molecule, or by heavy atoms like those of iodine."

"This is most remarkable because thyroxine, the hormone of the thyroid gland, contains iodine and this hormone dominates and regulates our whole energy household."

Szent-Georgyi spoke at an international symposium on marine biology sponsored by the U.S. Office of Naval Research and the University of California's Scripps Institution of Oceanography.

Report Says Snakes Meow

LONDON (AP)—Ever hear a snake "meow"?

A British newsman reports that he has, in Rhodesia, and this has made Tracy Philipps the happiest man in London. After 23 years, vindication is his.

After all, if one snake can meow, then there's no reason why another can't go "hoo!"

The London Times correspondent in Rhodesia wrote a piece recently telling how he saw at close quarters a clutch of young cobras which mewled like kittens.

Philipps, who had been quietly fuming for upwards of two decades, sprang to his writing desk and dashed off a letter which appeared in the Times recently.

"In your issue of Sept. 7, 1932," he wrote, "I ventured to record an observation of mine that certain African snakes, in addition to their hiss of fear or anger, are capable of producing a prolonged and repeated high-pitched liquid note, a subdued but very clear bell-like 'hoo.'"

"The director of the East African Agricultural Research Station, Mr. Leechman, replied to you on Sept. 12, 1932, that my statement was 'A direct challenge because all snakes known to science are unable to make any other sound than hissing or rattling. He was therefore rather unkind about it.'"

The unkindness of Mr. Leechman, Philipps indicated, was such that it had silenced the Londoner ever since. However, he did not fail to sour issue of Sept. 27, 1932, Mr. David Freeman, after 23 years in Malaya, described as the cry of a cobra, 'a very faint and exceedingly shrill note, so high pitched as to be barely audible by human ears.'"

"In March, 1933, in the periodical, 'East Africa,' a Northern Rhodesian reported killing in his orange-packing house two snakes whose sounds he described as a 'hoo.' He adds that local Africans state that these snakes can 'craw.'"

"Subsequently, Dr. J. O. Shircore, after 30 years in Nyasaland, described in 'African Affairs' (page 163) another snake 'hooded and not a cobra.' He adds that 'the male crows like a cock. Both (male and female) have a warning note — chu, chu, chu, chu — which is repeated in quick succession.'"

NM Senators Split On Two, Agree On Two

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sens. Anderson and Chavez (D-NM) split their votes on two measures up before the Senate Tuesday and voted together on two others.

Anderson and Chavez voted with the majority on the roll call vote by which the Senate substituted the Daniel-Mundt proposal for a bill to revise the system of electing presidents and vice presidents.

They also voted together with the majority by which the Senate rejected an amendment to reduce each state's electoral vote for president and vice president to proportion to the number of its citizens of voting age who failed to vote on election day.

They split their vote on the 69-13 vote by which the Senate rejected a constitutional amendment providing for the nomination of presidential and vice presidential candidates and their election by direct popular vote. Chavez voted for it and Anderson against.

They also split on the 66-17 vote by which the Senate defeated a proposed constitutional amendment to provide for direct popular election of presidents and vice-presidents. Chavez voted for and Anderson against.

Chile To Get Better Price For Copper

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—General satisfaction prevails here following the victory of the Chilean government in its campaign for better prices for copper produced in Chile by American companies—subsidiaries of Anaconda Co. and Kennecott Copper Corp.
Rejoicing followed agreement between the government and Kennecott's subsidiary, Barden Copper Co., whereby Braden fell in line with somewhat similar action adopted two weeks ago by Anaconda's Chilean subsidiaries. Anaconda had agreed to sell at higher London market prices rather than on the basis of the New York market—a difference amounting to about six or seven cents a pound.

The agreement with Kennecott was announced by Osvaldo Sainte Marie, minister of mines, who made it with Carl Lenz, president of Kennecott Sales Corp. who came from New York. Following the announcement Lenz gave a party at which the agreement was toasted.
Under the new policy, which is immediately effective, Kennecott bases its price of copper sold in the United States on the average weekly price on the London metals market. This means it will fluctuate between 49 and 54 cents a pound according to demand. Recently, Kennecott Copper has been priced at about 46 cents in the United States.

Candidate's Campaign Train Appears Losing To TV, Radio

By RELMAN MORIN
NEW YORK (AP)—I'm beginning to fear for one of the fine old fixtures of the American political scene, the candidate's campaign train.

Like the brass band and the light parade, it may be on its way out.

The airplane and television have muscled into the picture on a larger scale every presidential year. You can reach a lot of voters in a very little time with them.

They are slick and modern. But for the reporter, covering a presidential campaign, the train has special advantages.

It gets you to the whistle-stops and the earnest little towns, lets you listen to people talking, and gives you the "feel" of the debate, as nothing else can do.

You practically live in the "work car" on the train.

This is a news room on wheels. The seats have been taken out, and long shelves for typewriters line both sides of the car. A public address system connects with the rear-car platform where the candidate does the talking.

The train may stop 8 or 10 times a day. In 1952, both Gen. Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson were indefatigable campaigners who made a lot of stops, and then did a major speech at night.

HEARING APRIL 19
SANTA FE (AP)—A preliminary hearing for a 19-year-old airman has been scheduled for April 19 in Espanola in connection with the fatal shooting of Felix Esquivel, 55, a Tierra Amarilla bar owner, last May. The airman is Richard L. Burns, stationed at the El Vado radar station near Tierra Amarilla.

TO PAY $79,120
ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—The Bernalillo County manager has announced that the county will pay Wylie Brothers $79,120.59 in an out-of-court settlement of the Wylie claim for $88,900.26 for paving some county roads, providing the state comptroller approves the settlement.

between the Anaconda and the Kennecott agreement with the Chilean government. Anaconda is now selling its Chilean production at the highest price quoted when its copper—refined in the United States—is actually delivered. This takes place about two months after the ores are shipped from Chilean ports.

The agreement was Kennecott, however, provides that the price for its Chilean copper will be the highest average price in the week when its copper is shipped from the Chilean port of San Antonio, which is the outlet for Braden Copper Co.

DOMAIN SET ASIDE
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interior Department has announced that 121,859 acres of public domain in New Mexico have been set aside for possible use as part of the proposed Navajo Reservoir. Notices of the withdrawal were to be published. Any objections should be filed in writing within 30 days with the secretary of the interior.

COLISEUM BIDS EYED
ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—The State Fair Board met to consider, among other matters, bids for completion of the fair coliseum. The apparent low bid was by O. G. Bradbury. It was $522,838, about $122,000 more than the architect's estimate. The firm estimated completion on Dec. 31. The fair starts Sept. 29.

When a recipe calls for "a pinch" or "a few grains" of a seasoning, it's best to add less than one-eighth teaspoon.

You don't have much time, only a few minutes at each stop. Sometimes you know what the candidate is going to say. Sometimes, he catches you flat-footed.

One dark night in 1952, somewhere north of Seattle, Eisenhower unexpectedly broke out a brand new line of attack. It came toward the end of a back-platform train. Typewriters began to smoke in the press car. The train started to move. We ripped the copy from the machines yelled "Western Union,"—and to our horror, say the agent roll all the stories into a single ball of paper, and hurl them out into darkness.

"Don't worry," he said, soothingly. "My agent will find that copy, and your offices will get it." And by golly, they did.

It wasn't always like that, the heat wasn't always on.

Frequently, there was time to mingle with the crowd packed around the rear car. Then you got a voters' eye view of the candidate. You could sense his strong and weak points, and how the people were reacting, and what they said and what attracted them.

For instance, it was worth a lot of votes to Eisenhower four years ago, when, at the end of a talk, he would say, "and now, I would like to introduce my Mamie..."

There were the times, too, when he would mosey into the press car and sit around, just talking. He was friendly and natural—and a good story would usually come out of these talks.

Well, many scenes stand out. Adlai Stevenson's tact and graceful behavior in a fearful storm in Springfield, Mass. ... The 90-mile-an-hour automobile ride down the Jersey Turnpike ... Going into the airports in the Far West where a four-engine plane had never gone before ... The dawn departures and the "laundry stops" where they lost your laundry. The photographers' compartment on the train, labeled the "Rehoboth Club." (Read it backwards.)

And of course, Jackson, Mich. A small boy crowding close around the press section, tapped me on the shoulder as I typed. "Are you Relman Morin," he asked.

I preened and puffed. Recognition, at last. "Why, yes," I said, modestly. "How did you know?"

"I can read," he said scornfully—pointing to my name on the typewriter cover.

HEARING SCHEDULED

Veterans' Information

Veterans Administration has answered questions asked by large number of World War II veterans about the forthcoming July 25 termination of the World War II GI Bill training program.

Under present law, the 12-year old training program draws to a close on that date for all but a small handful of World War II veterans.

The question asked most frequently is: "If I have unused GI training entitlement, can I use it after July 25?"

VA's answer is "no." Under the law, no GI training may be provided July 25, even though a veteran might have remaining entitlement.

Another question is: "If a veteran is in the middle of a summer term at school, can he complete it even though it would carry him past July 25?"

Here again, VA's answer is "no." for the law cuts off the program definitely on July 25, and does not make provisions for veterans who may be in mid-course.

Veterans taking GI correspondence courses have asked VA: "Must I mail my final lesson to the correspondence school before July 25, or must the school send me back my corrected lesson before that date?"

VA's answer is that the veteran must mail his final lesson to the school before midnight, July 25. The school, however, may service the lesson and return it to the veteran afterward.

Still another question is: "If a veteran's GI entitlement expires after he has reached the mid-point of a term or semester he normally is allowed to continue to the end of the term or semester at Government expense. Will this rule still apply, in light of the July 25 termination date?"

VA's answer—"It will not." Instead, the veteran will be permitted to continue his training to July 25—but not beyond.

Finally, veterans have been asking whether the July 25 date applies to all World War II veterans.

VA's reply is that there are a few exceptions.

Veterans who enlisted between October 6, 1945, and October 5, 1946, under the Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment Act, have nine years from the end of their enlistment period to wind up their training.

All other World War II veterans are subject to the July 25 wind-up of the GI Program.

Communist Property Seizure Most Drastic Step Yet Taken

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

At least they give that appearance.

This was a more sudden and drastic step than any undertaken by the Truman administration or by anyone in the Eisenhower administration up to this time. Both had worked steadily to put a halter on the Communists through long court action.

Moyses was quoted by the revenue service's main office here as saying he had thought up the idea himself. For years he had worked as an auditor in the main office.

On Feb. 7 he was made director for the Lower Manhattan District in New York. There Tuesday he seized—for back taxes—the Communist party headquarters, its assets and records, and its newspaper, the Daily Worker.

Simultaneously across the country other directors did the same thing to Communist party offices in Philadelphia, Chicago, San Francisco and Los Angeles. The taxes were said to be $389,000 for the party, $46,000 for the paper. The Daily Worker says it operates at a loss.

Moyses's boss Russell C. Harrington, commissioner of internal revenue, was asked for an explanation. He told me he could give none until he had learned the details. This was hours after the raids.

Could the raids have been made without his permission? He said: "I guess I have to take responsibility for them." Could they have been so well planned and coordinated without orders from him? He said he had to wait for details.

Shortly after this he talked with Moyses by phone. Then one of his assistants phoned Moyses, in the presence of newsmen, and said Moyses told him he did the raiding on his own, this was a tax case in his area, and he had notified other regional directors to make similar raids.

But it is not yet clear what Moyses's raid will give the new ammunition to fight the pending in court. If it was result of Moyses's raids, the years of work will go out the door.

Did Moyses have authority to get other directors in on the raid and could he do this without notifying Harrington? The commissioner's assistant said yes.

He quoted Moyses as saying revenue agents had asked Communist party's attorneys to see its books and records. They were told there were no records and that the party was bankrupt. Forms were sent to the party to fill out, proving its exemption from the income tax.

They were ignored, the revenue man said, so the party was ordered. Now, with the party taken by the government, the taxes Moyses says it owes fight the seizure in the courts.

The Democratic and Republican national committees, five times a year, file with the House of Representatives reports on their income and expenses. They pay no income tax because their income is from gifts.

Such filing is required under the Corrupt Practices Act if a political committee has income more than one state. House plays said they cannot make such reports from the Communist party.

The Truman and Eisenhower administrations, acting under the 1950 Internal Security Act, have been trying to force the Communist party to register and disclose the sources of its income and membership. That case is pending in the Supreme Court.

If the records seized by Moyses reveal the sources of its income, then he has achieved one raid which the government has been trying to do for years.

The Truman and Eisenhower administrations, acting under the 1950 Internal Security Act, have been trying to force the Communist party to register and disclose the sources of its income and membership. That case is pending in the Supreme Court.

If the records seized by Moyses reveal the sources of its income, then he has achieved one raid which the government has been trying to do for years.

But it is not yet clear what Moyses's raid will give the new ammunition to fight the pending in court. If it was result of Moyses's raids, the years of work will go out the door.

Moyses's boss Russell C. Harrington, commissioner of internal revenue, was asked for an explanation. He told me he could give none until he had learned the details. This was hours after the raids.

Could the raids have been made without his permission? He said: "I guess I have to take responsibility for them." Could they have been so well planned and coordinated without orders from him? He said he had to wait for details.

Shortly after this he talked with Moyses by phone. Then one of his assistants phoned Moyses, in the presence of newsmen, and said Moyses told him he did the raiding on his own, this was a tax case in his area, and he had notified other regional directors to make similar raids.

But it is not yet clear what Moyses's raid will give the new ammunition to fight the pending in court. If it was result of Moyses's raids, the years of work will go out the door.

Did Moyses have authority to get other directors in on the raid and could he do this without notifying Harrington? The commissioner's assistant said yes.

He quoted Moyses as saying revenue agents had asked Communist party's attorneys to see its books and records. They were told there were no records and that the party was bankrupt. Forms were sent to the party to fill out, proving its exemption from the income tax.

Cleveland Indians Won't Concede League Flag To New York Yankees

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Al Lopez, manager of the Cleveland Indians, is not conceding the American League pennant to the Yankees or anyone else.

He just happens to believe that the Cleveland baseball club is an improved one over the 1955 team that finished only three games behind New York.

Lopez was emphatic as he reviewed reports that almost everyone has already surrendered to the Yankees.

"I don't feel that way at all," he exclaimed. "I doubt whether Marty Marion or Higgins feel that way either."

He referred, of course, to the White Sox pilot and Pinky Higgins of the Boston Red Sox, who finished third and fourth behind him last year.

"And maybe the Yankees aren't so sure," he volunteered. "I read in the papers they are looking for a right-hand pitcher."

Lopez, it might be noted here, isn't just about to part with any of his right-handers, of which he happens to have three, if not five, of the best in the business.

They would be Bob Lemon, Mike Garcia and Early Wynn, plus a fellow named Bob Feller, who should not be counted out, and still another, Sal (The Barber)

TCU Frogs Come Through In Play With Outsiders

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three Southwest Conference teams took on outside baseball foes Wednesday but only the Texas Christian Horned Frogs came through.

The other two—Rice and Texas—might as well have stayed in bed.

The Rice Owls went down in defeat at Houston before Nebraska who scored eight unearned runs on seven Owl errors in winning 8-5. Six of the Rice errors were made infielders.

In a loosely played game at Austin, the Brooke Army Medical Center Comets nosed the Texas Longhorns, 9-8. Both squads batted out 12 hits, but only three of the Longhorns were for extra bases

Magie, one of the craftiest, smartest in the game. To these, naturally, add lefty Herb Score.

Switching from the pitching prospects, Lopez said: "Look at it this way. Bob Avila isn't going to drop 70 points in his batting average. Al Rosen isn't going to drop 60—"

Lopez referred to the disappointing 272 Avila batted last year in comparison to the 341 of 1954, and Rosen's 244 as against 300 the year before.

Most experts with the club agree the deals with the Chicago White Sox, which brought Cleveland outfielder Jim Busby and shortstop Chico Carrasquel, will be of benefit, despite the loss in the negotiations of their best long ball hitter, Larry Doby.

This remains to be proved.

Retired Hogan Accepts Bid To British Match

NEW YORK (AP)—Ben Hogan's retirement seems to have been short-lived.

The four-time National Open champion from Fort Worth, Tex., who announced after his defeat in the 1955 Open that he was through with serious competitive golf, accepted an invitation to represent the United States in the International matches at Surrey, England, June 24-26.

John Jay Hopkins, head of the International Golf Assn., made the announcement. He said Hogan was unable to commit himself on the British Open at Liverpool July 2-6.

Reports out of Florida are that Hogan has whipped his game into top shape with intensive practice and will be ready to shoot for the "big ones" again this year.

This will be Hogan's first visit to the British Isles since he won the British Open at Carnoustie in 1953.

One other U. S. player will be chosen to team with Hogan in the competition, to which 23 nations have been invited.

Ring Ratings Lack Carl Morgan's Name

CLEVELAND (AP)—The new ring ratings are just out, but a name is missing among the light-weight contenders to be reckoned with: Langston Carl Morgan Jr., of Youngstown, Ohio, belongs among them now.

A 5-2 underdog in the betting, Morgan scored a unanimous decision in a slam-bang 10-rounder last night against Ludwig Lightburn, classy British Honduras boxer who ranks fourth among the lightweight hopefuls.

NM High School Basketball Tourney Gross Decreases To Low $8,093.22

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—The 1956 state high school basketball tournament grossed $8,093.22, a decrease of $2,116.03 from the $10,999.25 gate a year ago.

U. G. Montgomery, executive secretary of the New Mexico High School Activities Assn., said Wednesday that the association still made money in its post-season tournaments—despite the loss in the state tourney.

Tournaments sponsored by the NMHSAA grossed $42,109.82 in 1956 compared with $39,773.61 in 1955.

The Class A and Class B high school cage meets were held simultaneously in Albuquerque in 1955 and 1956.

Montgomery said a big portion of the "loss" in the '56 tourney was due to the poor crowds which attended the first-day basketball sessions at Carlisle gym. "They were off more than $900 from last year," Montgomery said.

Schools shared in $5,131.30 this spring compared with $6,736.62. The association's 25 per cent share of net receipts in the state meet dropped from $2,245.54 in 1955 to $1,710.44.

Hobbs and Eunice got the biggest share of the gate. Schools shared equally on 85 per cent of the $5,131.30. The remaining 15 per cent was distributed on a mileage basis.

Class A schools competing in the tourney got: Hobbs $365.52; Carlisle $353.36; Clayton $325.67; Deming $339.76; Alamogordo $321.34; Farmington $321.75; Los Alamos $289.78; and Highland $256.50.

Class B schools competing in the tourney got: Eunice $370.39; Dexter $334.26; Wagon Mound $315.49; Fort Sumner $312.32; Cathedral of Gallup $303.32; El Rito and Santa Rosa $297.44; Corona $292.90.

Expenses for the 1956 tourney were $2,041.48, more than half of

Porterfield Must Steer Clear Of Injuries, But Looks Good

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unless he's hit by a line drive, a thrown ball or a slumping earned run average, Bob Porterfield looks ready to come up with a whole of a year and put the Boston Red Sox in the thick of the American League pennant race.

Porterfield, obtained from Washington last November, has looked great in the Sox exhibition games. He's won three lost one and put together an awesome 1.50 ERA, giving up only two walks and three earned runs in 18 innings. With guys like Ted Williams, Jackie Jensen and Sammy White on his side, there's little reason to doubt that Bob will improve on his 10.17 pitching record of last season.

The rub, however, is that he will have to steer clear of injuries. For if anyone can qualify for the title of the "unluckiest player in the majors" it's the same Mr. Porterfield.

"But there was always something wrong," complained Casey. "Sore arms, sore legs, sore head, always something sore."

Porterfield gave up only three

Likely Winners Plentiful For Azalea Open

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP)—Likely winners were as plentiful as Easter eggs as the four-day $12,500 Azalea Open Golf Tournament began on the sandy stretches of the par 72 Cape Fear Country Club course.

To date the PGA has conducted 12 tournaments on its winter tour and 11 men have shared the victories. Only Ted Kroll managed to win twice—and he is not here.

Winners of seven of the remaining events are in the field of 160. The last three tournaments have seen an outside corner charging up to win his first major test on the circuit.

Last Sunday Gardner Dickson Jr., of Panama City, Fla., won top money at Miami Beach Fla. The week before it was Mike Fetcheck of Mahopac, N. Y., winning at St. Petersburg, and before that it was Don Fairfield of Casey, Ill., who grabbed the Pensacola Open.

All are competing here in a tournament that has seen a pro notch his first big one twice in the last four years.

An interesting sidelight finds Lionel Herbert of Erie, Pa., Don Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, and Fetcheck involved in a battle for two places still open in the Masters Tournament beginning next Thursday at Augusta, Ga. The best winter tour scoring average will decide the positions. Herbert and Finsterwald lead at present.

Britisher Says Power Account Field Of Golf

NEW YORK (AP)—Great Britain's Henry Cotton, returning America for the first time in eight years to play in the PGA Tour, says his power account is a game for the ball hitter, the artist of the tee.

"The accent is entirely on the British Open champion in a power account," Cotton said.

"The modern courses built for it, the equipment encourages it, and the best players today are slingers."

"The little man, fellows like Paul Runyan and Chick Evans, the old days, haven't a chance. They might as well pack up their bags and try something else."

Cotton, a man of slight build himself and one of the cleverest shotsmiths, said he was passing of an era, but he would accept a streamlined club and central heating.

Sensational McCoy Testimony Set In Probe

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The California boxing probe, which already has produced a fair amount of sensation, was due for further eruptions today with the scheduled appearance of Matchmaker Babe McCoy before Gov. Goodwin Knight's special investigating committee.

McCoy, reputed boss man of the game in this section, with connections all over the nation, has been confined to his apartment by illness since he appeared in a stormy session last week.

Chief Investigator James J. Cox has centered his probe on McCoy, seeking to prove him the silent manager of a host of fighters along with his matchmaking duties at the Olympic Auditorium.

He has been accused of arranging fixed fights and associating with known hoodlums.

Greco-Roman Wrestling Takes Over AAU Arena

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Greco-Roman wrestling, a sport little known in this country, took over the mats where seven National AAU Tournament freestyle championships were won Wednesday night.

The University of Toledo's Joe Scalzo, who will coach this year the first U. S. team in the Olympic Games' Greco-Roman style, hoped the competition would draw the most skilled of the freestylers.

In Greco-Roman, a wrestler is not permitted to use his legs for holds of tripping and may grasp any opponent's body only above the waist.

BRYAN, Tex. (AP)—Allen Military Academy has named Roy Die basketball coach succeeding Leslie Robinson who resigned to accept a similar post at Trinity University. Die had been assistant coach at Allen for eight years.

Beaned Jones Charges Don Newcomb Deliberately Threw Ball To Strike

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—The 1956 season's first full-scale feud is in the making with a possible climax promised for the April 17 National League opener between the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Philadelphia Phillies.

Phillies third baseman Willie Jones, conked on the head by one of Brooklyn pitcher Don Newcomb's fast balls, said the Dodger ace "deliberately threw at me."

Newcomb, known at times to have trouble controlling his temper, calmly denied throwing a deliberate bean ball in an exhibition between the two teams here Tuesday.

"I'm very sorry he thinks that," the big right-hander said. "I tried to pitch inside and the ball got away from me. I didn't try to hit him. I don't pitch at anybody. I'm very sorry he feels that way."

Jones, out of bed but still held in the hospital said, "That guy deliberately threw at me. He did it my first time up." Jones got a walk in previous appearance against Newcomb.

Jones said that Newcomb throws "close enough to make me move out. He does it all during the regular season."

Dr. Raymond Lockwood, the Phillies club physician, said X-rays showed no fracture but that he wasn't ruling this out yet. He said Jones had suffered a perforated eardrum but the bleeding from the ear has stopped.
