Finney, De Shazo Grigsly, Dillman

Two new principals were appointed at the school board meeting Monday night. Helen Grigsby, who was appointed interim principal at Dillman Elementary in March was appointed as principal. Barbara Finney, interim principal at DeShazo Elementary was appointed as principal of DeShazo.

Both Mrs. Grigsby and Mrs. Finney were appointed interim principals in March following the resignation of Dr. Ivy, principal of DeShazo.

Mrs. Grigsby has 13 years teaching experience on the elementary level. All of her years of experience has been in the Muleshoe Independent School District.

Other items of business included a report on a Management Review Project conducted by the Education Service Center--Region 17. Joe Neely,

Executive Director, Ed Flat-house, Associate Executive Director for Planning and Development; David Cobb, Associate Executive Director for Programs; Jerry Adams, Director of Staff Development; and Mike Peebles, Coordinator of Compensatory Programs; conducted an on the site review of the Muleshoe ISD operations during the week of May 6-11.

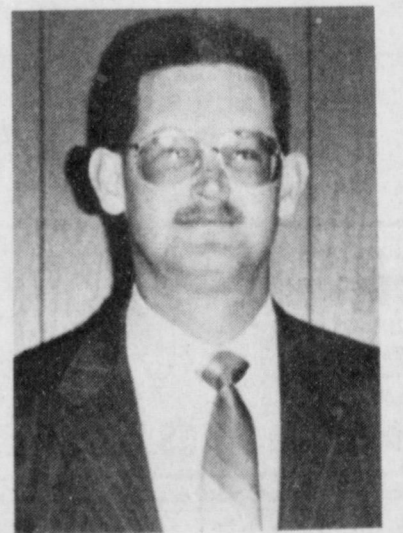

Neely and Peebles met with the school board and gave a report along with suggestions for improvement.

Neely reported that interviews were conducted with numerous staff members, as well as with four members of the Board of Trustees. "The team was very impressed and appreciative of the cooperation given by the Muleshoe staff and Board," Neely said. "It was evident that a strong desire to operate a quality school program was shared by all."

The review team utilized materials and methodology developed by the Texas Education Agency and Delotte Tocha, Inc. (an international consulting and accounting firm). Neely, Flat-house and Adams were involved in the development of the materials while employed at TEA. Although Cobb and Peebles were not involved in the initial development of the program, both have completed training courses at TEA regarding the process.

It was the consensus of the team that overall, in practically all aspects of the district's operations, the general feeling was one of "transition". Staff members appeared both excited and apprehensive about changes which they feel are inevitable. Hopefully, the results of this will assist the staff and board in designing a meaningful, well structured plan for implementation.

Assumes Extension

Agents Duties

Curtis D. Preston has assumed the duties of Bailey County Extension Agent and will be moving to Muleshoe in the near future. He will assume his duties on July 1. Preston comes to Muleshoe from Silverton in Brisco County where he had been county agent three and one half years.

Prior to serving as Briscoe County Agent, Preston was county agent for Castro County for three years.

A native of Wolforth, Preston attended South Plains College and received his Bachelors and Masters degrees in Ag Education from Texas Tech University.

As part of his duties, Preston will be working with the Bailey County 4-H youths.

"I look forward to meeting and working with everyone" said Preston. "I would like to invite everyone to stop by (Court House) and see me."

Preston is replacing Spencer Tanksley who served as Bailey County Extension Agent 19 years, before assuming new duties at Brenham (Washington County) in mid April.

Operation Desert Storm Veteran Gives Rotary Program

Muleshoe's Rotary Club met in its regular session Tuesday, June 11 at the Bailey County Civic Center. About 55 people attended.

Dr. Bruce Purdy chaired the meeting and made several announcements. Muleplex Productions is promoting the candy sale it will have on the 4th of July. Donations are taken from businesses. These items are given away to holders of the winning prize numbers from the candy sales. There is a good community spirit at the candy sale.

"Muleplex Production's goal is to raise enough money to get a play written for the town of Muleshoe," noted Edwin Cox, Rotary member.

"We are still several years away from that goal," said Roger Clarkson, fellow member. The Production Company will be presenting a play on July 2 and July 5 called "Every Family has One." It will be directed by Kerry Moore. Tickets are $4 for adults and $2 for children. Reserved tickets are available at $6. Tickets are available at First Bank and Muleshoe State Bank.

Several visitors were introduced. Among them were Noe Anzaldua and Eloy Valdez, new manager of Anthony's, James and Fern Warren, parents of the speaker, Jim Warren were also present.

After Dr. Purdy discussed proceeds from the recent golf tournament and plans for the 4th of July hamburger fry and baseball throw, he gave the floor to George Nieman, program chairman, who introduced Jim Warren, of Lubbock. Warren is a veteran of Operation Desert Storm as a member of the Marine Reserves. At the time he was called he was employed by the Department of Public Safety and had been working there for 16 years.

"We found out after we got back that the American public knew much more about the war than we had been allowed to find out," Warren noted.

"First," Warren said, "I want to emphasize that it's worth it to keep the country free, no matter the cost. We don't know how good we have it. We are a selfish nation, we don't know until it's taken from us, all that we really have."

"We can't stand a war in the territory of the continental U.S.," Warren stated. "Then the pay back day comes and you have to go to way." He was sent first to Camp Pendleton, California, then on to Saudi Arabia.

"We were given nerve agent medicine to bolster our immunities against the chemical agents that would be used against us," he said. "It was terribly hot in the daytime and freezing at night," Warren continued. "The territory is entirely hostile. Sandstorms

June Sales Tax Rebate Reflects Slight Change

"The Texas economy is no longer stalled, but has shifted into drive," Comptroller John Sharp said today as he sent city and county governments more than $240.8 million in local sales tax rebates--or almost 13 percent more than last June. In the first six months of 1991, the state has rebated a total of $981.7 million to city and county governments, an 11-percent increase over the first half of last year.

"Not only are local sales tax rebates up--but there's a sizable increase in the number of Texas business locations collecting the tax," Sharp said.

The Comptroller's Office has identified a net gain of 17,120 new business locations in Texas between May 1990 and April 1991, with the majority of the sales tax applications filed during the first months of 1991. These figures are derived by comparing applications for sales tax permits with out-of-business notices sent to the Comptroller.

By comparison, during those same months of 1989-90, the net rise in businesses collecting the sales tax was 13,213, and in 1988-89, the net gain was 4,014.

"We're not quite sure why this concentrated surge in new applications occurred it very well may very well be primarily due to the renewed vitality in the state economy. But whatever caused the increase, those new businesses reflect increased economic activity in Texas," Sharp said.

Sharp issued local sales tax rebates for June totaling $88.6 million to 908 Texas towns and

Food Tips For A Healthy Heart

The foods you eat and how you prepare them can affect your risk for heart disease, according to a nutritionist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

During May, which is National High Blood Pressure Education Month, Dr. Mary Kinney Bielamowicz recommends that Texans start buying and preparing heart-healthy foods.

"Choose foods lower in saturated fatty acids, total fat, cholesterol and sodium," she said. Following these tips will help to lower your blood cholesterol level and help control high blood pressure:

- Choose fish, poultry, and lean cuts of meat; eat moderate portions (about 6 oz. a day or less). Choose fish and skinless poultry more often. They are generally lower in saturated fatty acids than meat. Lean cuts of meat include beef-round, sirloin, chuck and loin; veal--all trimmed cuts; pork-tenderloin, leg (fresh) and shoulder (arm or picnic); and lamb--leg, arm and loin.

- Buy lower-fat grades of meat. "Choice" grades are lower in fat than "prime" grades. "Select" grades of meat are lower in fat than choice.

- Choose foods containing less sodium. Most frozen dinners and combination dishes, packaged mixes, canned soups and salad dressings contain considerable levels of sodium. So do condiments such as soy and other sauces, pickles, olives, catsup and mustard.

- Trim fat from meats and remove skin from poultry before cooking and eating.

- Bake, broil, roast, poach or braise instead of frying to reduce the fat.

- Use salt sparingly in cooking and at the table.

- Drink skim and 1 percent milk rather than 2 percent and whole milk.

- Instead of hard cheeses, choose low-fat cottage cheese, farmer cheese, or pot cheese which are lower in saturated fatty acids. Choose low-fat cheeses that have between 2 and 6 grams of fat per ounce.

- Egg whites contain no cholesterol; substitute two whites for each whole egg in recipes.

- Use liquid vegetable oils that are highest in unsaturated fatty acids such as canola, safflower, sunflower, corn, olive, sesame and soybean oils in cooking and in salad dressings.

- Read labels of commercially prepared foods to find out what type of fat or how much saturated fat they contain.

- Substitute low-fat or nonfat yogurt for sour cream in recipes or as toppings.

- Fruits and vegetables--fresh, frozen or canned--contain no cholesterol and are almost always very low in saturated fatty acids.

- Breads and most rolls are low in saturated fatty acids; however, many other types of commercially baked goods are made with lots of fat, especially saturated fatty acids. Croissants, doughnuts, muffins, biscuits and butter rolls are examples.

- Pasta, rice and dry peas and beans can make good main dishes, casseroles or soups low in fat.

- Try angel food cake, fig bars and ginger snaps as substitutes for commercial baked goods high in saturated fatty acids. Ice milk, low-fat frozen yogurt, sorbets and popsicles are good substitutes for ice cream.

- Limit salted snacks, such as chips, crackers, pretzels and nuts.

The evangelistic meetings being held at the Baptist Church are attracting large crowds and producing unusual interest. Three conversions have already been reported and many more are expressing serious interest in their future moral relationship.

Rev. Charles Griffiths, of Abernathy, is the preacher and doing a good job of it, his sermons being noted for their fluent eloquence, direct from the shoulder hitting at sin and the sincere passionate pleas for more holier living. A feature of the meeting is the music under direction of Prof. and Mrs. C.O. Huber, of Fort Worth, who have organized a good choir and are also rendering some excellent sacred solos.

50 Years Ago 1941

A recent letter from Paul Hornbeck, who was with The Journal for a time during the Spring, states that he has made a deal for the Luling Signal, one of the oldest weekly newspapers in Texas. Many Muleshoe people will be glad to hear that Paul is in the newspaper business for himself again, and wish him the best of good luck.

Two "bowl" champions are on the ten-game schedule Texas Tech's Red Raiders face this fall. Texas A&M, winner of the Presidential Cup game, and West Texas State, Sun Bowl titlist, head the card.

Leave it to Richard Widmark to find a foolproof way to keep his actors blissfully content during location filming in Austria of "The Secret Ways," his Heath Production for Universal release opening Sunday at the Moeller Theater.

The producer-star, who tops the cast with Sonja Ziemann, his Berlin Film Festival discovery as his leading lady engaged a Viennese claquer--used by concert artists--to be on hand behind the cameras.

When someone in the troupe--even a bit player, these turned in a well-shaped performance the claquer received Widmark's signal, at scene's end, to sound off with an ear-splitting foris--each outburst a masterpiece of the claquer's art. Music sublime for any actor's ears.

Johnson and Nix has recently sold their International Harvester franchise to Bill Wooley and Andy Hurst of Friona. The company will now be named Wooley and Hurst. Bill Wooley will be the local manager and will be moving to Muleshoe as soon as the home he is building in Muleshoe is completed. He has lived in Friona since 1956 where he was engaged in the fertilizer business before selling it to Monsanto. Then he was the local manager for Monsanto for two years before being associated with the Parmer Co. Implement Co. with Andy Hurst for the last two years.

WOTS (Women of Talk Station) met at Tri County Community Room Thursday, June 4 for their weekly covered dish luncheon and social hour. Special guests were Bob and Maxine Donaldson, Gil Lamb, Dell Hardy, and Bernice Bynum. They presented Lois Martinec with a bouquet of flowers and 1000 Circle Blue Stamps for being chosen Sweet-heart for the week.

CHANTEL ROBISON

Shower Honors Chantel Robison

A bridal shower for Chantel Robison was held on June 9 between 2:00 and 3:00 at the First Baptist Church parlor. Guests at the shower were greeted by the honoree and her mother, Brenda Robison.

Becky Conklin registered guests. Servers for the occasion were Connie James and Beth Webb.

A white tablecloth with Baton-bourgh runners graced the serving table. Appointments were a crystal punch bowl with matching cups.

An arrangement of crystal candlesticks placed on a hunter green framed mirror surrounded by dusty rose magnolias and grapevine leaves with emerald grapes was accented with rose candles that were lit.

Pineapple sherbet punch with floral cookies with icing centers of forest green and dusty rose were served.

The honoree's corsage was of silk flowers of dusty rose, floresent ribbon and leaves and pearl beads.

Hostess gift was a Regina housekeeper-vacuum cleaner.

Special guests for the shower were grandmothers of the bride, Mrs. Dortha Mason of Clovis, New Mexico and Mrs. Opal Robison of Muleshoe. Also attending as special guests were Mrs. Jan Noffske, of Clovis, New Mexico and Mrs. Peggy McGee of Muleshoe, aunts of the bride.

Hostesses for the occasion were Glenna Yell, Ann Johnson, Frankie Lunsford, Connie James, Betty Jo Davis, Beth Webb, Becky Conklin, Della Pucket, Dianne Brown, Jaton Black, Donna Nickels and Sue Holt.

Chantel Robison is the bride-elect of Dion White of Plainview.

Texas 4-H Awarded Grant

Texas 4-H has received a $45,000 grant for a U.S.-Mexico student exchange with the Autonomous University of Coahuila in Saltillo, Mexico.

"While world attention has focused recently on our relations with Mexico because of trade talks, this two-way exchange of the most promising young people from each country may very well identify our future trade negotiators, scientists and business leaders," said Dr. Zerle Carpenter, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "We want to offer them a new awareness of the global community and the career opportunities there."

Remigio Vales Gamez, rector (president) of the partner university in Saltillo led a delegation to Texas A and M recently to review plans for the three-year exchange program. The U.S.-Mexico Linkages Project is funded by the W.K. Kellogg Foundation through the National 4-H Council.

Parent Skills A Necessity

If your child could talk to you as an adult would, here are some of the things he would say to you: Don't nag. If you do, I shall protect myself by appearing deaf.

Don't make rash promises or threats. I expect them to be kept.

Don't tax my honesty too much. I am sometimes frightened into telling lies.

Don't be inconsistent. That confuses me and makes me lose faith in you.

Don't put me off when I ask questions. If you do, I will stop asking and seek my information elsewhere.

Don't tell me my fears are silly. They are terribly real to me, and you will reassure me if you try to understand.

Don't ever suggest that you are perfect or infallible. It gives me too great a shock when I discover that you are neither.

Don't ever think that it is beneath your dignity to apologize to me. An honest apology makes me feel surprisingly warm toward you.

Don't forget how quickly I am growing up.

Summer Safety Tips

The weather is warming up and people are beginning to get out and enjoy their favorite outdoor activities. It is important, however, to understand that exertion in high temperature weather can lead to heat exhaustion.

Heat exhaustion results when the body fails to lose heat through radiation, convection or conduction. Factors such as drugs or high humidity can affect the body's ability to control heat.

The staff of the Centre for Cardiac Rehabilitation and Fitness at Methodist Hospital encourages people to be aware of the following warning signals:

- * Elevation of body temperature
- * Headache
- * Chills
- * Nausea and/or vomiting
- * Unsteadiness
- * Pale skin color
- * Fatigue
- * Hair erection on upper arms and chest

Because heat exhaustion often results in death, people should seek medical attention immediately if any of these symptoms appear.

The best medicine for heat exhaustion is prevention. The following tips should be kept in mind while enjoying the outdoors:

The best medicine for heat exhaustion is prevention. The following tips should be kept in mind while enjoying the outdoors:

- * Wear loose-fitting, lightweight, light-colored clothes and a hat
- * Drink more water than it takes to satisfy thirst
- * Reduce alcohol consumption, which dehydrates the body
- * Take cool baths and showers because cool water removes body heat faster than cool air.

Students are shouting, teachers are celebrating, mothers are pulling their hair. School's out. This is a happy time for most. The Texas Department of Public Safety wants to remind you to be watchful for children playing in or around the public streets and highways.

Major V.J. Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, Region V, stated: "We want to remind all motorists that since school is out children will be playing, walking, and running everywhere. We, as motorists, need to be especially watchful for our younger people, because in the act of playing, they have a tendency to become excited and forget the rules of safety."

Major Cawthon reminded us that since motorists are older and more mature than children that we need to accept the responsibility of an adult and help lookout for our younger generation. He stated that we need to be especially mindful of the places that children are most likely to be playing; residential areas, playgrounds, school yards, and such, and to drive cautiously around these areas.

Major Cawthon cautioned, "Motorists should be on the lookout for the kids on bicycles and be prepared to give the bicyclist the right of way to save a life."

Bicyclists need to be aware of laws regulating their using the public streets or highways. Bicyclists are required to obey all the laws that drivers of cars have to obey. They must stop for stop signs and red lights, yield at yield signs, make legal turns, and ride in the same direction as vehicular traffic.

Now that school is out, let's all work together to help our children have a safe and happy summer vacation.

cities, a hike of 18.2 percent over last June's payments. This brings the 1991 city government rebate total to $617.2 million, 1.7 percent more than last year's total payments at this time. City sales tax rates range from 1-2 percent.

In Bailey County, Muleshoe showed a 3.14 percent decrease for this period as compared to this same period last year. In the month of June, Bailey County received a total of $15,350.62 as compared to $15,848.04 for this same period last year. Although June's total was down, tax rebates to date in 1991 are $109,522.62 as compared to $105,191.30 to this date in 1990 reflecting an increase of 4.12 percent for the first half of the year.

In Cochran County, Morton's check was down 6.93 percent from this same period last year. Their June 1991 check was for the amount of $4,059.83 as compared to $4,361.94 in this same period last year. For the year to date they also show a decrease of 0.30 percent. At this same time last year their rebates totaled $27,987.78 as compared to $27,904.95 to date in 1991.

Littlefield, in Lamb County reflects a decrease in rebate check for this same period. In 1990 Littlefield received $19,284.38 as compared to $15,410.68 for this same period in 1991. However, in 1991 they reflected 3.45 increase over last year's rebates at this same time. To this date last year they had received a total of $112,218.61 as compared to $116,089.15 to this date in 1991.

Friona, in Parmer County had an increase in sales tax rebate for this period. This year's check was $7,521.07 as compared to $6,649.92 for this same period last year, reflecting a 13.10 increase. For 1991 they have received rebate checks of $56,156.41 to this date as compared to $56,878.63 to date in 1991 reflecting an increase of 1.29 percent.

The city of Houston received almost $15 million, the largest payment in the state, to bring that city's 1991 total to $102.9 million. Dallas received the second largest payment, $9.4 million, for a 1991 total of $62.1 million. San Antonio's check for $5.1 million was the third largest in the state, for a much worse than any you would ever experience in Muleshoe were those we weathered," he noted.

The 41 year old military man described the day that the air war was kicked off. "It woke everybody up and let us know how mortal we are. Reality set in and you're to afraid to forget it," Warren said.

"The enemy (like in all wars) tried to disarm the public, to get the public where it can't fight back. That is what Hitler did," Warren noted.

Warren said he didn't know why Saddam Hussein didn't take Saudi Arabia when he took Kuwait. "We were a force to be reckoned with. We would not be pushed around. We should be proud of the accomplishments in Desert Storm," said Warren.

"We need to put a concerted effort into being proud of what we have in this country. Ours is the best society in existence. It's great to be back in this country and back in Muleshoe," he said. Warren is stationed now in Lubbock and again employed by the Department of Public Safety.

Warren said he was scared but proud to serve. "The pride I feel was taught me by teachers and parents. It's frightening to realize how many children in this country don't know the pledge of allegiance," he said.

"We felt the bombs shaking for 40 days," Warren said. "Then the ground offensive started. We went through the mine fields. We had a sand storm that uncovered the mine fields. Then, the next day, it blew again, and covered them back up again."

"It was clear," he said, "that year-to-date sum of $35.2 million, and Austin followed with $3.8 million, adding up to $26.9 million for the year.

Quarterly payments to six metropolitan transit authorities and a monthly payment to the El Paso City Transit Department totaled $141.7 million--an 8.8 percent increase over last June's payments.

Desert Storm

Iraq devastated Kuwait." Warren wanted to make clear that he was giving his views in this talk, not those of the Marine corps.

"First, I couldn't wait to get away from Muleshoe, now I realize it's one of the greatest places in the world," Warren said he wished we could have taken care of the entire situation over there, but said that they were stopped. "Our job was to free Kuwait," he noted. "We were told that over 100,000 of Saddam Hussein's personnel were killed."

Warren has ultimate praise for the people in the sky. "The people who fly won this war for us," he said. "Our leaders defend us while we complain about paying too much income tax."

Warren said he appreciated the cards and letters he received while he was away at war. "We are still getting mail from January. We're not the heroes. The real heroes are the wives, parents, sons and daughters who stayed in this country. Our hope was always to get back to this country."

Warren realized that like many of his friends in the military, he could have come back to a job transfer. Many of the military who served in desert storm were moved to other cities that their companies serve. Fortunately for Warren, the director of the Department of Public Safety took it upon himself to freeze the 15 job vacancies affected.

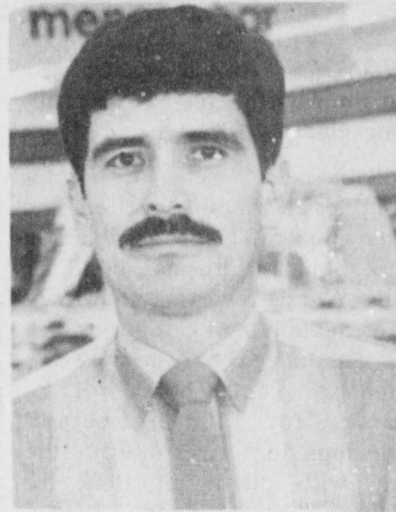

Many of the things that are considered crises here in this country now seem quite trivial after returning from the war like Desert Storm," Warren said.

Checks to 105 county governments totaled $9.8 million, up 16.2 percent from last June's payments. This month's checks to counties bring their 1991 total to $67.6 million, or 20.5 percent higher than last year at this time.

Hospital districts in Baylor, Ector and Reeves counties were sent a combined total of $696,783.

Merchants collected the state's 6.25 percent state sales tax and all local sales taxes and send them to the Comptroller's Office with their tax returns. Businesses file returns monthly, quarterly or annually, depending on the amount of sales tax they collect. The state then retains its share and returns to cities, counties and other taxing entities their local portion of the sales tax.

All local sales taxes must be approved by area voters. Most local governments deposit the money in their General Fund to pay for services such as fire fighting, road maintenance and law enforcement.

ANTHONY'S MANAGER--Eloy H. Valdez is the new manager for Anthony's Department Store. Valdez comes to Muleshoe from Albuquerque, N.M. where he was manager of an Anthony's Store there. He has been employed by Anthony's for 12 years.

An Alternative Education Program was also discussed with no action being taken at this meeting.

Mrs. Marilyn Miller, chemistry teacher at Muleshoe High School, gave a report on a recent workshop she had conducted here in Muleshoe. The workshop was focused on safety in the Biology Laboratory, Classification of Hazardous Chemicals (Labels), Chemical Storage and Waste Disposal. Mrs. Miller stated that a Bill passed in 1985, made it mandatory that these workshops be held to inform employees how to interpret labels and how to comply with the law.

The workshop is funded by the Texas Education Agency. Area schools represented included: Farwell, Anton, Lazbuddie, Hart and Muleshoe.

Mrs. Miller stated that she felt the workshop was well received by all those who attended.

Another item on the agenda was a discussion on the contract with Medicaid Claims Solutions of Texas and taking appropriate

A report was also given on the construction/renovation project at Watson Jr. High. It was reported that the gym had been painted and was looking good. All members of the board were encouraged to go by and take a look if they had not done so already.

Superintendent Bill Moore reported on the T.B. testing done recently in the schools. He stated that the staff and nurses had worked very well together. He also reported that the Texas Department of Health's dentist who does sealing work on the students, is going very well. He reported that they are seeing fewer cavities. The dentist goes to the campus. He also reported that the local dentists are working with them.

Mrs. Elizabeth Watson reported on Summer School. "I am pleased with the summer school," Mrs. Watson stated. "I have had the opportunity to visit in almost all of the rooms." She also stated that she felt the summer school program was well planned and well organized.

With no other business, the meeting was adjourned.

Africanized Honey Bee Plan Approved

Eight new apiary inspectors and four trucks will hit the road soon in pursuit of the Africanized honey bee (AHB) in Texas.

The Texas Legislature has approved $197,000 in emergency funds to carry the state's AHB regulatory plan through August. Annual funding will be required in September to continue the program.

Since the first AHB swarm migrated from Mexico to the United States in October 1990, 25 swarms have been detached and destroyed in Texas, mostly along the Rio Grande border.

The Texas Apiary Inspection Service, an agency of Texas A&M University, will use the additional staff to monitor a trap line (currently located between Laredo and Corpus Christi) and to assist in the AHB Identification Lab, which opened in March at Texas A&M.

"We will sue the additional help to more effectively do the quarantine on the counties and to cooperate with the U.S. Department of Agriculture in establishing a northern trap line 100 miles north of the existing one," said Dr. Fowden Maxwell, head of Texas A&M's entomology department. "This will allow us to begin to move toward implementation of the Texas plan."

Under the plan, two tiers of quarantines are suggested when Africanized bees are positively identified.

First, the plan states, a quarantine is imposed around a 2-mile radius of the find and a survey for additional AHBs is conducted.

Second, a 100-mile quarantine is placed around the find, allowing commercial beekeepers to move within but not out of the area. This quarantine now includes 12 counties from Maverick and Zavala south along the Rio Grande to the Gulf of Mexico.

The first level of quarantines, the 2-mile areas, were conducted on only the first six U.S. swarms. The USDA-Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) handled the first five then quit, saying its budget did not allow for more. Texas A&M officials handled the sixth confirmed swarm, but said ability to place 2-mile quarantines around AHB finds beyond that was not possible without the state emergency funds.

That means some 19 locations have not been scanned for additional AHBs under the 2-mile quarantine rule. Maxwell said even with the emergency money at this point, those sites probably will not be surveyed.

"We have gotten so many now that it is economically unfeasible to do even with the additional help," Maxwell said. "To try and do the delimiting around those sites would be impossible."

Maxwell said his agency's inspectors probably will attempt to impose 2-mile quarantines as the bee reaches further north in the state.

"As it penetrates the 100-mile quarantine, we might do that but I don't know with the numbers we are getting now," Maxwell said. "The original scheme was to eliminate the first find with the hopes of slowing the progression. Because of the pullout of APHIS and the delay of getting funding from the state, we have been overwhelmed."

"Our best hope now for the Rio Grande Valley is to go into intense management with the commercial beekeepers," Maxwell said.

Once the AHB has been declared established in the 100-mile quarantine, the state's AHB management plan requires beekeepers to put new, marked queens in each colony annually to ensure that an AHB queen has not invaded the hive.

"We will gear up to move toward the intensive management of the commercial hives in the Rio Grande Valley," Maxwell said.

Texas Farm Bureau Report

Some 400 high school juniors and seniors will participate in the 29th annual Texas Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar on the campus of Angelo State University here June 10-14.

The youngsters are being sponsored by 162 county Farm Bureaus.

Purpose of the seminar is to provide the students with a better understanding of their American heritage and the capitalistic free enterprise system, according to James Gipe of Waco, the seminar coordinator.

More than 11,000 high school students have attended the seminar since it began in 1963. Citizenship Seminar graduates include a presidential advisor, a U.S. Congressman, a state Senator and many others now in leadership positions in government, education and business, Gipe said.

Major speakers and their topics are as follows: Michael Broome of Charlotte, N.C., a motivational speaker, "You and America--Two Great Champions."

Robert H. Rowland, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, "Free Enterprise."

Basilio Bachor of Corpus Christi, a Polish immigrant, "Living the American Dream."

Ambassador Sam Zakhem, Littlewood, Colorado, recent assignment in Bahrain, "The Middle East."

S.M. True, President of Texas Farm Bureau, "Farm Bureau, Your Host."

Bees Meet Bubbly Death

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has the dirt on soap and water. Suds are OK for bringing bees to a bubbly death, EPA says.

The same soap and water that scrubs dinner plates and launders cloths will clean out a bee swarm, research shows. Ordinarily, anything that kills an insect is an insecticide, by EPA thinking, thus subject to the same regulations as chemical pesticides.

But the federal agency let this one soak in: soap and water may be the safest, most effective means to kill bees.

That's good news for government officials who are trapping and destroying Africanized honey bees (AHB) migrating into the United States from Mexico.

"There are regulations in effect that say you have to follow the label directions for use of a product," said Scott Wood of the U.S. Department of Agriculture-Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, the agency that asked EPA's opinion on the matter. "Dish washing detergent obviously isn't labelled for use on the Africanized honey bee."

So EPA spit and polished the rules a bit. Using a mixture of dish washing detergent and water, they decided, won't require a Section 18 exemption, a provision often employed to allow use of restricted chemicals in an emergency situation.

Some rules apply, however. The agency won't allow the soap and water to be sold as a pesticide nor can it be used on edible food and feed commodities, says EPA spokesman Al Heier.

"The enormous advantage of this (soap and water) being an effective control is that it is exceedingly safe," said Dr. John Thomas, Texas Agricultural Extension Service entomologist. "It's a common household product."

Dish soap does to a bee's body much what it does to grease on a frying pan; it cuts through the waxy outer layer that protects the insect's innards.

"When it breaks through the waxy layer, the liquid fills the trachea and the bee drowns," Thomas explained.

Thomas cautioned that soap and water works best when bees are clustered in an exposed swarm, which is a large number of bees that have left a hive to start a new colony elsewhere. The soap and water method is not suggested for trying to kill established colonies where bees are on the comb.

Powdered and liquid dish and laundry detergents all kill bees effectively, Thomas said. Bees sprayed with soap and water normally don't flare defensively as when chemical insecticides are used, he added. When working around bees, however, it is best to wear protective clothing.

The entomologist recommended using from three-fourths to one cup of either liquid or powdered detergent per one gallon of water. Warm water helps powdered detergents dissolve.

One gallon of the mixture would be enough for one swarm, he said. Thomas suggested placing a plastic container under the swarm before spraying so that the liquid and the dying bees will fall into the container. That will ensure kill and make cleanup easier.

Shower the swarm with the soapy water, preferably through a hand-held garden sprayer with a long nozzle, Thomas said. As wetted bees drop, continue spraying the dry bees in the center of the swarm.

Honey bees tend to swarm in the spring and fall each year. In addition to the usual domestic honey bees activity, 25 swarms of Africanized honey bees have been found this spring migrating into the United States via Mexico.

Take Food Safety To The Grill

If you're planning a cookout, it's better to be food safe than sorry, says a nutritionist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Dr. Peggy Van Laan advises cooks "TO TAKE FOOD SAFETY FROM THE KITCHEN TO THE GRILL." She suggests following these tips to help prevent food-borne illness:

If meat or seafood is frozen, allow plenty of time for thawing in the refrigerator at 40 degrees or below. Never thaw meat on the kitchen counter at room temperature. Outer layers of the meat may reach a temperature that promotes bacteria growth before the inner layers are thawed.

If you marinate the food, do it in the refrigerator. Do not use leftover marinade as sauce on the cooked meat. Marinade may have picked up bacteria from the raw meat that could contaminate the cooked meat.

Be sure to wash with hot soapy water and sanitize cutting boards used with raw meat. Use different cutting boards for meats than for raw fruits or vegetables.

Once the meat has been placed on the grill, wash dirty dishes or utensils before using them again. Bacteria on dirty utensils can contaminate cooked meat. Cooking kills bacteria, but foods can be recontaminated.

Always wash your hands after working with raw meat or poultry. Handle raw foods and cooked foods separately.

The amendment would also authorize the legislature to provide for the investment of bond proceeds and to establish an interest and sinking fund to pay the bonds and provide for the investment of such fund. Bonds authorized under this amendment would be paid from the first money coming into the treasury in each fiscal year that is not otherwise appropriated by the constitution, less any amount in an interest and sinking fund established at the end of the preceding year that is pledged to the payment of the bonds or interest.

Money Talk
By Charles B. Carlson

For investors who focus on dividend income,

HAROLD L. ALLISON

the last year or so hasn't been a pleasant time. The first quarter saw the fewest dividend increases since 1971.

Even worse, some 70 firms cut the dividend. The biggest payout cutters were banks and auto firms; further dividend cuts in the former group are expected.

Utilities, a favorite investment area for income investors, did a good job in maintaining dividends.

An improved economic environment would do wonders in boosting dividend increases.

To avoid issues where dividend cuts or omissions are likely, investors might avoid buying most stocks with extremely high yields—anything over 10%. Such high yields can mean something is wrong.

Conditions Ideal For Large Mosquito Populations

Heavy spring rains along the upper Texas Gulf Coast in April spawned the area's worst swarms of mosquitos in more than 20 years. Populations have declined in May, but continued cycles of rainy weather could bring hordes of the insects back.

Conditions are ideal within the Houston-Beaumont region for a heavy build-up of mosquitos through the fall, said Dr. Phillip Hamman of College Station, urban entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

tion Service.

"The problem comes from mosquito species that lay their tiny time bombs in fields or brushy areas, where eggs can hatch in as little as 5 or 10 minutes after flood waters cover them," he said.

The numbers of these floodwater mosquitos fluctuate with the weather, said Bob Barnett, director of the Harris County Mosquito Control District.

"They're pretty much gone now, but if we have successive periods of dry times and then flooding, we could have enormous numbers built up by fall," he said.

Mosquito traps in the Houston area during two weeks mid April captured six times the normal number of insects--the highest concentrations found since the late 1960s, Barnett said.

District workers usually catch about 100 mosquitos a night in individual lighted traps, he explained, but April flooding sent averages soaring to 600 per trap; one night the average per trap hit 1,200 mosquitos.

The floodwater mosquitos include among their breeding sites fields, roadside ditches or home lawns, anywhere a depression holds water for any length of time.

"These are prolific species that may cause as many as 500,000 to 1 million eggs to hatch in an acre," Hamman said.

Adult mosquitoes from these eggs can fly 20 miles or more from their breeding sites in search of blood meals, he said.

The floodwater mosquito problem is quite different from those mosquito species that breed in water standing in old tires, buckets, plugged rain gutters and other containers.

Conventional approaches to control really do not work for floodwater mosquitos because large areas often are involved Hamman said. Chemical treatments on mosquito larvae are too costly; adult mosquito control will only provide limited, temporary relief from biting.

Recommended preventative practices for both types of mosquitoes include making sure window and door screens are intact, staying inside as much as possible during the evening hours, and wearing repellent and protective clothing outdoors.

Yellow lighting, including vapor lights, tends to be less attractive to mosquitoes, Hamman said. Bug zappers should be hung away from areas to be protected, using the light to attract mosquitoes away from sensitive areas.

"Emptying water from containers such as saucers under potted plants will reduce mosquitoes that breed in that environment," he said. Additionally, birdbaths should be changed at least every five days.

Barnett noted that even with the enormous numbers of mosquitoes this spring, the Gulf Coast is long way from repeating a situation that occurred in the 1960s, when mosquitoes killed cattle by clogging their nostrils. Mosquito numbers generally have declined because urban development has improved water drainage and reduced the number of rice fields, he said.
