Vol. 17, No. 41

Hope, N. M. Friday, Dec. 7, 1945

Hope Will Honor Service Men

The Goat Ropers are sponsoring a big celebration on Saturday, Dec. 8th, in honor of the boys and girls that have been in the service. The festivities will begin in the morning with a barbecue from 11:00 a. m., to 1 p. m., following this will be a roдео, pony racing and calf and goat roping. In the evening there will be an old time dance at the school gym beginning at 7 p. m. Everything is free. Come and celebrate with us.

Shelled Unconscious

WHILE FLYING over Germany, AAF Sergeant Alfred D. Reckley, Pittsburgh, Pa., a radio operator, was knocked unconscious by flack and didn't know what hit him until he awoke back at his air field. Now he is at Halloran General Hospital, Staten Island, N. Y., discovering how Victory Loan dollars he's wounded, and he is doing fine.

Japan has always admired the "marvelous power and efficiency of the American people." Prince Osaka, member of the Japanese Imperial family, told an audience at a dinner of the Japan Society in New York, adding that his country "highly prizes" America's friendship.

A senior Troy, N. Y., college was fined $200 at Winstown, Mass., for bootlegging liquor to students at a college there. He said bootlegging was defraying the cost of his "prohibition era" education.

James J. Walker was elected Mayor of New York, defeating his Republican opponent, Frank D. Waterman, by 400,000 votes.

President Coolidge, in a speech before the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York, at the Waldorf-Astoria, urged America's adherence to the Permanent Court of International Justice.

SCHOOL ITEMS

Dr. Puckett visited school last Tuesday afternoon and attended to a number of pre-school children. A number of children have been absent because of illness.

This Friday Clouderoft comes for first team game and the Artesia second team will play our second team. On Tuesday of next week the Yellowjackets will travel to Roswell to play the Institute Colts at 4:15. The Colts are kicking high as they have defeated both Lake Arthur and Dexter. On Friday, Dec. 14th, Hope will open the season for Artesia at Artesia.

Last Friday night Hope split with Dexter by taking the second team game 23 to 26 and losing the first team game in an overtime 36 to 37. This is the second one point overtime game that Hope has lost this year.

Our basketball games have been well attended this year and the boys are improving from game to game so let's continue to give them our support.

ANNUAL ELECTION MONDAY

The annual meeting of the Hope Water Users Association was held Monday evening at the High School. The following candidates were nominated for the annual election to be held Monday, Dec. 10. Five are to be elected out of the following: Joe Clements, M. D. Brantley, Chas. Cole, Chas. Barley, Sam Hunter, Henry Coffin, Frank Runyan, and Mrs. Billie Ballard.

Editorial Comment

At the close of its first quarter century of existence the American radio industry finds itself enjoying a degree of prestige and prosperity which its pioneers in the crystal set and ear phone days could hardly have imagined. The luxurious broadcasting studios of today are a far cry from the Pittsburg garage or the Chicago shed from which emanated the first broadcasts. The listening audience has increased from a few radio enthusiasts to 100 million or more. Ninety per cent of American homes have radios.

There can be little criticism of the changes made in the Army and Navy high commands, by which General Eisenhower succeeds General Marshall and Admiral Nimitz is successor to Admiral King. It seems quite fitting that these two men — the one who led the western armies in the victorious Battle of Germany and the other who speeded the defeat of Japan — should now be elevated to the highest military posts which the nation can offer. Both are obviously well qualified for their new jobs. Their ability to lead men, their talent for strategy, and their administrative ability all combine to insure their continued success.

The annual sale of Christmas seals now in progress through out the nation affords everyone of us an opportunity to help in the fight against tuberculosis. Ever since 1907 when the Christmas seals were first sold, the money contributed has aided enormously in the humanitarian effort to combat this disease. Thousands of persons, both children and adults, have been helped and restored to normal healthy lives. The underprivileged have been given aid which they would otherwise have been denied because of the expense involved. When you buy Christmas seals you not only contribute to the physical well being of the Nation but you give expression to the good will toward our fellow men and the hope for a better world which are the very essence of the Christmas spirit. Don't fail to buy yours today.

AMERICANA

ALTHOUGH THE PILGRIMS INSTITUTED THE CUSTOM OF THANKSGIVING DAY, IT WAS NOT OBSERVED NATIONALLY UNTIL NOV. 26, 1789. PRESIDENT GEORGE WASHINGTON, BY PROCLAMATION, SET IT ASIDE AS A DAY OF THANKSGIVING FOR RATIFICATION OF THE CONSTITUTION AND VICTORY IN THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR. PRESIDENT LINCOLN, BY PROCLAMATION IN 1863, AND SUCCEEDING PRESIDENTS PERPETUATED THE HOLIDAY.

THE FIRST AMERICAN NEWSPAPER TO APPEAR REGULARLY WAS THE "BOSTON NEWS LETTER", FOUNDED IN APRIL, 1704, BY JOHN CAMPBELL, A SCOTSMAN, WHO CAME TO BOSTON IN 1695 AND LATER BECAME POSTMASTER. THE POSTOFFICE SERVED HIM AS A CENTER OF INFORMATION. THE NEWS-PAPER, WITH A CIRCULATION OF 250, APPEARED WEEKLY. DUE TO SLOW COMMUNICATIONS, ITS FOREIGN NEWS WAS OFTEN 15 MONTHS OLD.

THE DAILY RATION ESTABLISHED BY THE CONTINENTAL CONGRESS NOV. 4, 1775, FOR THE AMERICAN SOLDIERS IN THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR, INCLUDED A POUND OF BEEF OR FISH OR 3/4 POUND OF PORK, A POUND OF BREAD, 6.8 OUNCES OF PEAS, 1 OUNCE OF RICE, A PINT OF MILK AND A QUART OF BEER.

The American people are slowly coming to the realization that the opportunity for an era of great prosperity may be slipping from their grasp. V-E Day occurred nearly 7 months ago; V-J Day is almost 4 months past. Yet America is not achieving a smooth economic reconversion. Many of her efforts have been, in fact, at cross purposes. This is reflected in both government and industry. On Capitol Hill members of both parties play politics while the nation awaits legislation. Labor and management debate and delay while the wheels of production move at half speed. Deadlocks and delays can be eliminated only by a determined demand for action by the people themselves. We can be guided and represented by those who hold official positions, but the real power for action is in the voice of the people. Remember, a postcard to your congressman costs only a penny.

Bee Practices Show Efficient Progress

Insemination, Feeding, Management Change

Artificial insemination of bees has become a reality. The bee culture laboratory of the department of agriculture has developed a method by which queens can be fertilized artificially so that the domestic bee breeds of the future can be developed according to value and not to chance.

Some bee raisers believe it is advisable to clip the wings of the queen bee, to prevent any wanderlust habit from developing. When drone bees are spotted it is well to remove them, they are trouble makers. If they are not removed, however, the workers will soon kill them off.

When it is necessary to feed the bees, in winter, or periods of nectar shortage, ordinary sugar syrup is no longer recommended. By adding pollen to the syrup, egg laying starts within 12 hours. There is a wide variation, however, in content of the various nectars. High egg-laying has been found associated with the gathering of nectar from mustards, manzanita and sweet clover.

Not Too Late to Mulch Strawberry Beds Now

Less likelihood of winter injury to plants, prevention of soil erosion by wind and rain, and less danger to heaving caused by rapid freezing and thawing of the soil, results when strawberry beds are properly mulched.

Salt hay is the best material available, although straw or spoiled hay is also acceptable. The best time to apply is when the ground has frozen solid enough for a truck to be driven over it. Apply about two tons per acre to both the rows and the middles. Put on enough so that no plants are visible, but don't overdo it by applying mulch too thickly.

New in Machinery De-Icer

Sectional view of typical de-icer installation.

A stock-tank de-icer, produced by General Electric company, solves one of the most troublesome problems of all farmers located in areas subjected to spells of freezing weather.

No adjustments are required and maintenance is not necessary. All that is necessary is to plug it into the light circuit. It floats on top of the water, thus melting the ice.

DECEITFUL RASCAL

Angelo had been hired to work with a road gang high in the mountains and had been warned about rattlesnakes. He had been told, however, that a rattlesnake would always give a warning before striking.

One day as Angelo sat on a log eating his lunch, he noticed a large rattler a few feet away from him coiled and ready to strike. Depending on the information he had been given, he nonchalantly crossed his legs and waited for the signal. Just as he made this move, the rattler struck, landing on the log just a quarter of an inch away from Angelo's leg. For a second there was nothing but dust, and a few hundred feet away Angelo was heard to say: "Son of a gun, what's a da mat you no ringa, da bell."

Mexico, which was raising silkworms experimentally in the 1870s and 1880s, is now planning on silk-worm raising as a national industry which will employ thousands of rural workers. Cuba and Nicaragua have also been looking into the possibilities of sericulture.

Although silkworms can be raised in some parts of the United States, the silk culture as an industry is not sufficiently profitable to the North American farmer to tempt him to give up his corn and pigs. So this country will have to go on importing silk.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS
By PAUL MALLON

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

CONGRESS ORDERED TO ACT ON LEGISLATION

WASHINGTON. — Senate Floor Leader Barkley came out of the White House and announced the recess for which congress had been panting will be delayed until the very eve of Christmas if necessary to get through the two CIO bills increasing unemployment compensation and the full employment measure pledging the government an eternal but undefined spending policy.

This is merely the latest development in Mr. Truman's battle with congress and an expression of his uncharacteristic firmness and insistence in a rather Roosevelt style upon the top two points of his program which are so unpopular in congress that they have been allowed to lie dormant without arousing a public clamor.

At the same time Mr. Barkley announced the President would allow the youth draft act, officially known as "compulsory military training," and the army-navy unification bill to modernize the armed services into one force, to be permitted to go over until after the Christmas holidays.

The youth draft plan of the war department is observedly unpopular — by observedly I mean a considerable genuine public sentiment has been expressed against it in letters to congressmen from unorganized individuals in their home districts as well as the most formidable array of organized groups yet presented this session against a measure—educational, religious and even labor, including CIO.

The army-navy unification bill does not seem to be either popular or unpopular as far as I have been able to penetrate the normal sources of public opinion. My guess is the people do not understand it as it involves largely technical training problems, although most of the young people in both services with whom I have come in contact seem to be militantly in favor of it.

FIGHT ON ARMY-NAVY UNIFICATION

Strange things began to happen to this proposed modernization program several weeks ago. You may recall when the George (lieutenant general, head of air transport command) report first appeared in this spot setting forth the modernization program which had been bottled by the shiniest and biggest brass hats of the combined chiefs of staff of both services, I reported that Admirals Halsey and Nimitz, the fighting admirals, were in favor of it.

Since then both have indicated their intention to leave the navy and likewise have made known their opposition. You might guess offhand that I made a mistake. I did not.

Both Nimitz and Halsey were for the measure, and so informed the George committee when it was traveling around the world accumulating evidence from the fighting men in the field. What happened to change their minds I do not know.

Equally and similarly strange has been the lack of developments in investigating the responsibility for Pearl Harbor. The committee of inquiry planned at first to take a jaunt by air out to see Pearl Harbor, although a half hour's trip to the navy department would have permitted them to inspect bas-relief as well as topographical surveys of the whole islands. What they could find otherwise at Pearl Harbor now that the sunken ships have been raised, I cannot learn.

The committee investigation itself got involved in what reporters call a political fight with the Democrats obviously trying to hold back matters in one way or another, then loosening up a little here and there, and the Republicans outraged but confused and unable to penetrate the administration tactics successfully. The sum total of it has been nothing—an absolute nothing.

This vacuumized condition can be rather plainly seen but my authoritative informants hereabouts have wondered if there were any connection between these events.

U. S. Has 101,000 Model Railroads in Operation

The 1,000 American men who own a model or miniature railroad with a steam locomotive consider themselves in a different class from the 100,000 who own an electric model, says Collier's. As such steam locomotives and their rolling stock cannot be bought, they are made by their owners on scales ranging from 1/4 inch to one inch to the foot.

Therefore, owing to their size and power, steam systems, unlike electric models, are installed outdoors. For instance, a typical one-inch-to-the-foot locomotive weighs 300 pounds, requires a 4 1/2 inch track and is capable of pulling a one-ton load.

Really Comfortable Rail Trips Coming Soon

By AL JEDLICKA

PRESSED by competition from the airplane and bus industries, railroads are striving to maintain a high level of passenger traffic with commodious new equipment developed by the Pullman Standard Car Manufacturing Co. of Chicago, and the Edward G. Budd

Manufacturing Co. of Philadelphia.

Though the railroads continue to dominate freight transportation, passenger traffic is another story, with the airlines showing annual increases and the bus companies enjoying high volume. With plane charges now almost down to the level of first-class railroad travel, the airlines are expected to make an even greater bid for such trade, while modernized bus service can be looked to press for the less expensive business.

With the railroads caught between two fires, both Pullman and Budd have drawn up elaborate designs for coach, sleeper and recreation facilities to permit the carriers to meet the postwar competitive threat. Not only are the new cars especially built to provide extra comfort but many also furnish the possibility for cheaper travel because of increased capacity.

Capable of seating 48 passengers, a new Pullman long-distance coach attracted considerable attention at the company's recent exhibit in the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry. Assuring continuous ease, the car has adjustable chaise longue seats fitted to body form with provision for lowering the back and sliding out a foot-rest at night for comfortable sleep. In addition, curtains can be swung out to separate each row of seats, and a light adjusted especially for reading.

For private overnight travel, Pullman has designed the roomette, duplex roomette, drawing room, bedroom and three-tier sleeper.

'Duplex' Accommodates 24.
Equipped with private washing facilities and a 6-foot, 5-inch bed, each of the roomettes accommodates one person. The duplex model, however, can carry 24 passengers instead of only 18 because every alternate compartment is raised above the floor level, and beds slide from under them to save folding space.

Large enough to hold five persons by day, the drawing rooms can accommodate three persons at night, with two beds folding from one wall and a third from another. Each compartment has its own lavatory. In the bedrooms, four sleepers unfold from walls and seats, with sufficient space for comfort for six persons by day.

A development of the war resulting from Pullman's experience in production for the army, the three-tier sleeper, capable of carrying 42 persons, promises cheap and commodious overnight service. With each compartment seating six by day, curtains can be drawn at night for privacy and two beds unfolded, with another stationary upper berth available. Because of air conditioning, agreeable temperatures are assured.

Dining in Comfort.

As a result of a newly designed dining car, travelers can expect quick service and convenient accommodation. By being seated at opposite angles along the sides, with a V-shaped table to fit in, a person will be able to leave his place without bumping others around, and waiters also will have sufficient aisle space to move about easily.

Long trips will be made less burdensome in Pullman's new recreation car, with one end convertible from an observation lounge into a movie compartment, with upholstered chairs and divans for 28 persons swinging in to face the screen. In the bar lounge on the other end of the car, seats fold against the wall, clearing floor space for dancing.

In addition to maximum comforts assured by new innovations and universal air conditioning and indirect lighting, recent mechanical developments promise easier and safer riding in the future. Pullman wheel trucks are designed to control car sway at high speeds, overcome sharp leaning on curves, reduce bounce on roadbeds and eliminate noise and vibration through the use of cushioning materials. New tight-lock couplers will remove all of the old starting and stopping jolting. Automatically operated electrical braking will assure smooth and even deceleration throughout the entire train. Alarm boxes in each car will warn trainmen of overheated axle bearings and head off danger.

In designing its railroad car of tomorrow, Budd's has striven to promote cheaper travel by providing even more capacity per car than Pullman. In addition, sleeper types are arranged in such fashion that removal of partitions creates double rooms.

Like Pullman, Budd has designed a deluxe coach, with center support for seats assuring a lot of leg room, and lowered backs and upraised foot rests providing comfortable sleeping accommodations. A hidden radio installed in the chair back at ear height, with modulated control for soft transmission, will furnish welcome entertainment.

Seats in the commodious "Day-Nite" coach are designed to conform to the body's contours. A button releases a leg rest from the seat ahead providing full length sleeping comfort like a chaise longue chair. Below is shown the new dining car. Triangular tables give more aisle space for waiters, and more convenience to diners. Recesses between tables enable passersby to step aside for traffic. Water bottles, creamers and sugar bowls are kept out of the way on wall shelves.

"GAY GADGETS"

Associated Newspapers—WNU Features.

By NANCY PEPPER
GIDDY GADGETS

We don't see so much gadget jewelry now that you're up to your elbows in sterling silver bangles and bracelets, but, after a little special sleuthing, we're able to give with the goo on a few new gems for gadgeteers.

Pit Hits—The latest necklaces and bracelets are made of prune pits, painted in colors to go with your outfits. First wash and dry the pits, then bore holes in them, paint them and string them. Didn't mother always tell you that prunes would make you beautiful?

Good Luck—And you'll need it if you're taking exams. That's why you're wearing all kinds of good luck charms on ribbon necklaces.

Rabbits' feet and elephants are said to be the most reliable. Ever try studying? That's good for your marks too.

Come Seven—One girl started a new earring fad in a Brooklyn high school by gluing a pair of dice to earring screws. Good conversation pieces.

Two Dolls—Wear a tiny doll on your sweater. See that her hair matches yours.

Hunting License—These Wolf License pins are the big fad now all around the country. They have different styles for Wolves and Wolfesses (female of the species). Of course, you need more than a license for good hunting. The right bait and good aim help a lot.

You Wuv a Wabbit—And his name is "Harvey" from the play of the same name. You're buying Harvey pins at your favorite gadgeteria or you're making little rabbit pins out of yarn with pipe cleaners looped on either side of the head to represent ears. We saw one of these homemade jobs with a tiny, lace skirt. Very funny on a bunny.

HEAVEN SCENT
How can any boy keep his head when you smell so sweet? Of course, cleanliness is next to godliness—and that means that you must make with the soap and water before you think about the perfume—but here's how you take it from there.

Hair Care—Pour a little of your favorite perfume in the last shampoo rinsing. Especially fatal when you dance with boys who are taller than you, or moisten the ends of your hair with a little perfume before you roll it up in curlers at night.

Sweater Sweaters—A few drops of your favorite perfume in your last sweater rinsing will keep you flower fresh. Or, wash your sweaters in a bubble bath.

Secret Scents—From our most Able Grables we hear you'll hit your target for tonight if you use your scents subtly. Try dabbing a little perfume on your eye brows, on your lips, on your finger tips and in back of your ears. They never learned those tricks from any high school textbook!

Perfumed Posies—Wearing flowers in your hair tonight? Be sure to drop some perfume on them just before you go out. It's Love in Bloom!

Soap Sachel—A cake of scented soap in every bureau drawer makes your clothes smell like lavender and old lace.

Giggle Gags.

Teacher—I'd like to be frank this morning.

Voice From the Rear of the Classroom—With the money he makes, who wouldn't?

TRIXIE TEEN SAYS—

*So you've been playing one boy against the other! When you date Bob you tell how Bill is rushing you. When Bill calls, you chatter about the flowers and candy Bob sent you. Honestly, you never Rave but you Bore. Both boys are pretty well fed up on that diet of applesauce and baloney. ## Claims Total $1,869,114 As Result of Arms Blast

WASHINGTON.—Damage claims totaling $1,869,114.83 have been paid or recommended for payment by the navy as a result of the Port Chicago (Calif.) explosions of July 17, 1944.

Secretary Forrestal said 9,668 claims were filed with the navy. A total of 2,545 property damage claims and 46 personal injury claims aggregating $463,510.25 have been paid by a special board of investigation.

In addition, the navy has recommended to congress $68,224.28 for personal injury and $1,337,380.30 for property damage as just claims requiring congressional approval.

The explosion occurred when two ships loaded with ammunition blew up at a pier. Property damage extended over a 25 to 40-mile radius, affecting nine California counties.

Panama Canal Toll Is Avoided by British Ships

LONDON.—The ministry of war announced that ships from New Zealand and Australia had been re-routed to avoid the Panama canal where tolls must be paid in dollars.

The ministry said ships from New Zealand would be sent generally around Cape Horn. Australian ships will be sent around the Cape of Good Hope and through the Suez canal.

CONSTANCE COLLIER helped Paulette Goddard deceive Charlie Chaplin when Paulette was Mrs. C., and doesn't mind telling about it. "Mr. Chaplin preferred that his wife should be the lady of his house and should give up any thought of an acting career," says she. But Paulette was ambitious. So Miss Collier, whose name has long been famous in the theater, coached her at every opportunity. "And we just didn't tell Charles anything about it," she adds. She's seen in "Kitty," in which Paulette stars. Miss Collier has helped many another actress; the list includes Mary Pickford, Norma Shearer, Claudette Colbert. But husbands didn't have to be deceived in their cases.

With rain sweeping over Hollywood, and attacks of flu claiming one actor after another, Producer Joe Kaufman was lucky. Kane Richmond, Barbara Reed and Rebel Randall, leads in "The Shadow," which Kaufman is directing, were all bowled over and had to stay home. But Kaufman evidently had a rabbit's foot in his pocket; they didn't take to their beds till the day after the picture was finished.

Bonita Granville's certainly growing up; she shoots her first man in Monogram's "Glamour Girl." It stars Belita, the ice skating ballerina, but this isn't one of the standard plots that ice skaters usually draw—"Glamour Girl" is an emotional story which ends in violent death. "Dillinger" is one of Monogram's pet pictures; somebody called "Glamour Girl," "Dillinger on Ice."

Bill Gargan returned to Republic's studio for the first time since 1935 when he checked in for his role in "Murder in the Music Hall," starring Vera Hruha Ralston. "Last time I was here there was one projection room and one sound stage," he remarked as he looked around. Republic has 16 stages now.

Movie Producer Sam Goldwyn, Hollywood's Mr. Malaprop, was discussing the plans for a forthcoming picture with his advisers. At one point, carried away by enthusiasm, Mr. Goldwyn suggested a daring plan. Immediately one of his colleagues protested.

"You can't do that, Mr. Goldwyn," he pleaded.

"Why not?" demanded the producer. "It should work."

"You're wrong," insisted the other. "It can't possibly work."

RUBBER

Special sponge rubber tablecloths, developed by B. F. Goodrich, attached to tables in factory assembly lines enable assemblers to pick up small metal parts without fumbling.

Officials predict that tire production may jump to nearly 4,000,000 passenger car tires a month during the last quarter of 1945.

Spare tires should never remain idle until other tires are worn out. Rubber needs to be "exercised" to keep it in best condition.

The new B. F. Goodrich all-synthetic Silvertown passenger car tire actually outwears prewar natural rubber tires.

THIRD SMITH BRIDE GETS GOOD ADVICE

HAMILTON, KANSAS. — Mrs. W. H. Smith wrote a most interesting letter to Faultless Starch about the way the Smith family has used that starch. Here is her letter:

"Forty-seven years ago, Mrs. W. O. Smith, as a young bride, started using Faultless Starch in her home.

"Twenty-five years ago Mrs. O. T. Smith, as the very young bride of Mrs. W. O. Smith's son, started using Faultless Starch in her home. She tried many other starches, but always went back to Faultless Starch.

"Ten months ago I started using Faultless Starch as the bride of Mrs. O. T. Smith's son. I started using it at Mrs. Smith's request, and now I am a stiff backer of Faultless Starch.

"As 'three generations of brides,' we say, 'three cheers for Faultless Starch.'

"I might add that I am very fussy about my husband's shirts. And also that Mrs. W. O. Smith has never used any other starch for over half a century."

What an interesting story! Certainly here is positive proof that Faultless Starch makes wonderful friends that stay for a life-time.

A Bell for Adano

By John Hersey

THE STORY THUS FAR: The American troops arrived in Adano, with Major Joppolo, the Amgot officer in charge. Sergeant Borth was in charge of security. The Major was determined to hold the confidence of the people and to replace their bell stolen by the Nazis. Despite orders issued by General Marvin, barring carts from the city, Joppolo recalled the orders, to permit food and water to enter the city. The Major placed a ceiling on all prices to stop a black market caused by the generosity of the Americans. Mayor Nasta, who had been placed in the prisoner of war cage, escaped, but was soon retaken. German prisoners, who believed him still a prisoner, had aided his escape.

CHAPTER XIX

On the evening of their third day, some of them went to Tomasino, and Agnello said: "Tomasino, don't you think you ought to go to the Mister Major and thank him for making it possible for us to go fishing?"

Tomasino was as happy as he could ever be, but that did not mean that he smiled, or that he would answer happily. "I have been to the Palazzo once to see him, because my wife Rosa forced me to. Never again. I hate that place."

The young man named Sconzo said: "Then don't you think we should send Agnello? We think that we owe our thanks to the Mister Major. We were talking about it while we were out today."

Tomasino was not pleased with the suggestion that Agnello should go in his place. "Is Agnello the head of the fishermen?" he said.

"No," Sconzo said, "but if you do not wish to go . . ."

"The best fishing boat in this harbor is named Tina," Tomasino said, and though he spoke gloomily, there was a kind of gaiety in his idea. "Therefore the one for whom that boat is named ought to be the one to go and thank the Mister Major."

The other fishermen thought that that was a fine idea, but Agnello said: "We would all like to be present when you give instructions to your daughter as to what she is to say to the Mister Major." He was afraid that grim old Tomasino would tell her to say something begrudging.

So all the fishermen went up to Tomasino's house and found Tina, and Tomasino said: "Tina, we have an errand for you. The fishermen of Adano want you to go to see the Mister Major for them. . . ."

Tina surprised everyone by blushing and refusing to go.

"But why not?" Agnello asked. "We thought it would be nice if a beautiful girl took our message to the Mister Major instead of a man who stinks of fish."

Tomasino did not like that remark and he said angrily: "Tomasino does not stink of fish any worse than certain other fishermen he knows."

Agnello said: "I did not have any particular fisherman in mind. Do not forget that it was suggested that I should go. I stink too."

"That is true," Tomasino said with a puckered face.

Tina said: "I just do not wish to go."

Tomasino turned on her: "Girl, by the same reasoning which made your mother force me to go to the Mister Major against my will, I now order you to go to him also."

Tina lowered her head and said: "Well, if you order me . . ." Agnello said afterwards that he thought by the way she said this, she really wanted to go all along.

Tomasino said: "I want you to tell him that we are glad to be able to go fishing . . ."

"And that we are thankful to him for making it possible," Agnello said.

"And that we are very grateful for the new rigging," Merendino said.

"Also if he has had anything to do with sending so many fish into our nets, we thank him," Sconzo said.

Tomasino said: "Tell him those things but don't make a fool of yourself, daughter."

She said with more vehemence than was necessary: "Don't worry, I won't."

Tina went to see the Mister Major at eight o'clock the next morning. When Zito led her to Major Joppolo's desk, she said defiantly: "You said that if I had business with you, I should come to your office. I have come."

Major Joppolo had the discretion to wave Zito out of the room before he said: "I am sorry I said that. I have been miserable about it ever since."

Tina said: "Have you?" That much she said softly, then she added harshly: "You ought to have been. You were very rude."

The Major said: "I know I was. I'm really very sorry. I have been trying to find out the thing you wanted to know."

Tina was all softness now: "Do you mean about my Giorgio? Have you found out? Is he a prisoner?"

"I don't know yet. But I may have some word for you on all the prisoners in a few days."

"You may? Good word, Mister Major?"

"Good word, Tina."

"Oh, Mister Major, I thank you, I thank you and I kiss your hand," Major Joppolo hardly had time to think vaguely that he wouldn't mind kissing Tina's hand before she had run out.

She ran all the way home and when Tomasino asked her if she had said what the fishermen had told her, she said that she had, oh yes, she had, and she threw her arms around her father's neck and kissed him on both cheeks, and he put his arms around her and pressed her a little and said glumly: "My little Tina, I think you are crazy."

The trouble with Errante Gaetano was that he couldn't keep his mind on anything. Or to put it the other way around: whatever had his mind at the moment seized it so wholly that he couldn't think about anything else. This did no difference what his mind ought to be on; whatever it was on, it was really on.

After General Marvin ordered his good mule shot, Errante got another. This one was not as amiable as the first, and was more stubborn in its mind. But it was a mule, and it gave Errante both pleasure and work.

One afternoon Errante was driving this new mule through the town. It was late in the afternoon, the hour when most of the children of the town got out on the Via Umberto the First and shouted for caramels. The American military traffic seemed to be particularly heavy at that hour each evening.

As he thought back on it later (and he had plenty of time to think it over in jail), it seemed to Errante that a great number of things happened very quickly. Actually it was just that quite a few things flashed across his mind in fairly rapid succession, giving him an illusion of great activity.

First he looked ahead down the Via Umberto the First and he saw the bridge over the Rosso River, and he shied, like a sensitive horse seeing a place where it has hurt itself once before. Errante shuddered every time he saw that bridge, because it made him think of the rude awakening he had had there and of the shooting of his mule.

Next he saw a row of amphibious trucks come toward him across the bridge. These amphibious trucks fascinated Errante. He had recently spent one entire day sitting on a knoll near the beach about five miles west of Adano watching these fat creatures waddle out across the sand, let themselves gingerly down into the water and then churn off to the cargo ships lying offshore; and then churn back again, and climb up out of the sea, like any amphibious animal looking heavier and clumsier on land than in the water. Errante loved them and called them Swimming War. "Here comes Swimming War," he thought to himself when he saw the amphibious trucks crossing the bridge.

After the trucks, his mind figured for a few moments on the figure of Gargano, Chief of the Carabinieri, who was directing traffic about half way down the Via Umberto the First. Errante said to himself: "Even if Gargano can talk three times as fast as anyone else—once with his mouth, once with his left hand, and once with his right—I do not like him."

Errante's mind did not dwell on the distasteful subject of Gargano for long, because Errante's ear transmitted to Errante the sound of many children shouting: "Caramelle! Caramelle!" Errante liked children even more than he liked Swimming War.

Errante's slow mind swung his eyes around to the direction of the sound. He saw the children on the sidewalk, and his mind concentrated on the pleasing sight.

What the mind of Errante did not note was that his new mule, either following an accidental whim or fascinated, like its master, by the children, had turned at right angles to the street and had stopped walking.

The Swimming War was coming up the street. Gargano the Two-Hands had a vigilant eye out for traffic on the street. The new mule of Errante stood stock-still right across the road. And Errante stared at the children, thinking only of them and not noticing that anything was wrong.

"How nice it would be to be a child!" Errante's one-track mind thought. "Look at the fat little son of the fat Craxi! Look at the thin son of stupid Erba! See how Erba's ragged child holds the hand of the rich little sulphur boy in blue! Noisy old Afronti was shouting to me the other day about democracy. He said my mind was slow. He said I would never understand. I wish he were here now. Here are the true democrats of the world. Childhood is the real democracy!"

All of a sudden a terrible confusion burst in on his thoughts.

Errante's slow eyes saw only a flash of uniform. The uniform hurled itself at the head of his mule, wrenching the head to one side. The mule reared and screamed.

That scream did something to Errante's mind. He saw a vision of his other, beloved mule dead beside the road. That awful thing would not happen again while Errante survived to prevent it.

He leaped from his cart. He saw the blur of a uniform running at his mule's head again. He charged at the uniform. Where a head should be at the top of the blur he struck with the heel of his angry roar.

The roar, he realized in a few moments, came from Gargano the Two-Hands. It said: "Imbecile! Get out of the road, can't you see the trucks coming? Don't you know that blocking traffic is sabotage? Don't you know that you can be shot for blocking traffic?"

Errante's one-track mind played him a funny trick now. It stopped in the middle of its fury to think: "Look at Two-Hands! Trying to talk and catch my mule at the same time. He has to use his hands to catch my mule, and he has to use his hands to talk. He cannot do either."

But when Gargano gave off trying to talk and concentrated on the mule, Errante's mind went back to its business. He threw himself at Gargano again. He struck another blow with the heel of his hand that was to decorate Two-Hands with a purple spot under the left eye for several days.

Two-Hands roared again with pain and anger. But he did not try to argue now. He grabbed the mule's reins near the bit and tried to pull him to one side. The mule, however, had decided not to move until this hullabaloo was over. Two-Hands could not budge it, so he kicked the flank of the mule.

Errante decided to retaliate in kind. He kicked the flank of Two-Hands.

Gargano roared again, and beat the mule in the head.

Errante beat Gargano the Two-Hands in the head.

Errante grabbed Two-Hands by the ears, even though Two-Hands' ears were not as handy to grab as the mule's, and he pulled.

Gargano the Two-Hands would have lost this battle, for he was fighting against two beasts, but at this moment some American soldiers from the amphibious trucks came running up.

One of the soldiers pulled Gargano the Two-Hands aside. Three of the soldiers went to work on the mule, and succeeded in making it get off to one side of the street. It took four soldiers to put Errante off the street.

When these things were accomplished, the American soldiers went back to their amphibious trucks. All they wanted was to pass.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Most woolen garments that become stained may be cleaned safely with soap and water.

Use gummed labels to show both titles of a phonograph record on each side.

Salt may pit your cast aluminum ware. Never store salty foods in aluminum, and to prevent salt used in cooking from settling in the bottom of the utensil to do its harm, add salt only when the water boils or food has already been added.

Soaking clothes overnight is not desirable, as the long soaking has a tendency to let the dirt freed from clothes settle back into the fabric.

Sprinkling sawdust from the woodyard over icy paths around the home prevents one from slipping and is better than sand for this purpose because it doesn't stick to shoes and track into the house as badly as sand. Scraping sawdust on the place where one is standing to saw wood keeps the feet warm.

Try ALL-BRAN Apple Spice Muffins! (No sugar, no shortening, but lots of praise!)

It's hard to believe such shortening-less muffins are sugarless and luscious—but they are! They owe their wonderful flavor to a combination of ginger, cinnamon, molasses and the tasty, nut-sweet goodness of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. And they owe their tender texture to the fact that ALL-BRAN is milled extra-fine for golden softness.

2 cups Kellogg's ALL-BRAN 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
1/2 cup molasses 1/2 teaspoon ginger
1 1/2 cups milk 15 slices raw apple
1 egg, beaten or other fruit
1 cup sifted flour cinnamon-and-sugar mixture
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt

Add ALL-BRAN to molasses and milk and allow to soak for 15 minutes. Add egg. Sift flour, soda, salt and spices together and combine with ALL-BRAN mixture. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Dip apple slices in cinnamon-sugar mixture and place on top. Bake in moderately hot oven (400°F.) about 20 minutes. Makes 15 muffins.

Good Nutrition, too!

ALL-BRAN is made from the VITAL OUTER LAYERS of finest wheat—contains a concentration of the protective food elements found in the whole grain. One-half cup provides over 1/2 your daily minimum need for iron. Serve Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily!

CHANGING WORLD

Undeclared Civil War of China Area

Shantung province seaport of Tsingtao took a place in the forefront of undeclared civil war in China when Chiang's troops were landed from American transports. Occupied since October 11 by U. S. marines, the possibility of involvement in clashes has been heightened by fact that Chinese Communist forces ring the port by land.

New Chief of Staff

General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, while attending the American Legion convention in Chicago, was nominated by President Truman to succeed General Marshall as chief of staff of the army. He started on his duties immediately.

Stassen Returns to Civilian Life

Capt. Harold Stassen, USNR, receives his final pay from the navy and becomes a civilian. Paymaster is Lt. Com. F. C. Mathis, New Brighton, Pa. (right). Former Governor Stassen stated that he would become active in the 1946 congressional campaign and in a plan to liberalize the Republican party. He refuses to discuss the 1948 presidential campaign, although he is considered a candidate.

America's Oldest Style of Football

Soccer was the first kind of football played in the United States. It is the only game of football played in most of the world. The greatest single soccer organization in the world is the Lighthouse Boys' club in Philadelphia, consisting of some 500 players. Photograph shows how the club is developing new champions from among the youngsters.

Nobel Prize Winner

Gabriela Mistral, the well-known Chilean poetess, was named as the winner of the 1945 Nobel prize for literature. The famous poetess lives in Rio de Janeiro. The Nobel prize for peace was recently awarded to former Secretary of State Hull.

Stork Landing Place

Ex-paratrooper Stuart Kappel parades the streets of Hollywood in an attempt to secure a home for his 20-year-old wife, Betty, who is expecting arrival of stork shortly. He selected the busy corner of Hollywood and Vine in the film city.

Lamps to Make as Christmas Gifts

use and how to assemble them. The lamp at the left has a base about ten inches high made of five blocks put together with four slightly smaller thin blocks stained a darker tone. Very smart and worthy of any living room or study. The gay lamp of toy blocks is just the thing for the children's room.

NOTE—These lamp bases and shades are made with Pattern 287. Painting Pattern 288, used for decorating the child's shade, may also be used for furniture or walls. Patterns are 15c each postpaid. Send order to:

IF YOU want to make a really impressive gift, a lamp all fitted with shade is sure to be appreciated. You can make it with the aid of a pattern that shows you exactly what materials to

Word 'Gas' Individual; Most Countries Use It

The word "gas," in its true sense, is virtually in a class by itself because it was not derived from any other word, being the outright invention of Jan van Helmont, the Dutch chemist, who coined it about 1625.

As the languages of the world then contained no word of similar meaning, the majority of them have since adopted "gas" as their term for the gaseous form of matter.
