V. D. Bolton Buys Wholesale Business From Phillips Petroleum Co.

Phillips Petroleum Co., this week announces the sale of the wholesale business in Artesia to V. D. Bolton, Phillips consignee here the last 14 years, who in turn announces an expansion program that is being planned. In a full page advertisement in the News this week Phillips Petroleum Company points out that it has been doing business in Artesia, Hope and Mayhill for the past 17 years, the last 14 of which was with Bolton as consignee. The Phillips Petroleum Company wants to thank the people of Hope, the Penasco valley and of Mayhill for their patronage and loyal support in the years past, and hopes that it will continue the same way under the new management. Mr. Bolton said that a building program is contemplated later for the two service stations in Artesia in order to handle a new, wide line of merchandise which will have an outlet thru Phillips. It is hoped that the new buildings will be completed this year, but it will depend on availability of material and labor. The new company will handle in addition to petroleum products, tires, batteries, electrical goods, etc. The bulk station on N. First St., also is to be rebuilt in the expansion program. Mr. Bolton said that he is waiting for some of the men who formerly worked for him as consignee or for the retail outlets to be released from the service, to return to his organization.

Drunk Driving

As Warren Nunnelee and Kenneth Bates were returning from Artesia Saturday afternoon in an empty truck they failed to make the turn at the City Service Station corner and crashed into John Hardin's car which was parked off the pavement. The Hardin car was damaged considerably. It was towed to Artesia where it was estimated that it will cost from $300 to $350 to repair the car. Sheriff Fred Hill came up Sunday and investigated and cited the two boys in Judge Josey's court at Artesia for Monday morning. They appeared Monday morning at 9:00 o'clock and plead guilty to a drunken driving charge and driving without a driver's license. They paid a fine of $15 and costs amounting to about $20 for each one.

Erven McCabe, who has been in the Philippines and Japan for the past year arrived home Sunday. We are all glad to see him back home once again.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Schneider celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday, Jan. 6, with a big turkey dinner. A silver cake knife that is over 65 years old was used to cut the anniversary cake. Over 25 guests were present and enjoyed the occasion.

Donald Menefee is here from Fort Ord, Cal., on a few days furlough.

Miss Bill Ward and Mr. William Patton of Clovis were united in marriage Tuesday evening, Jan. 22, at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. John Ward. Rev. E. A. Drew officiated. The young couple will make their home in Clovis where Mr. Patton is engaged in farming.

The bride was born and raised in Hope, graduated from the Hope High school and later graduated from the State Teachers College at Portales. The bridegroom attended college at Portales and also the Ag. College at Las Cruces. He served nearly five years in the armed forces of our country. The best wishes of this community go with the young couple on their journey through life.

The first time happened to be the same date on which the Versailles Peace Treaty and League of Nations covenant went into effect 26 years ago.

The United States supposedly fought a second world war to bring freedom to the world. But what has happened at home while men were killed abroad? A worker cannot get a job in a basic industry without first paying labor organizations for the privilege of going to work. And our men and boys went overseas and fought for freedom for foreigners. Upon his return he draws unemployment compensation and is forced to remain idle regardless of his desire to work.

A War Veterans Program for Training and Employment by the Brewing Industry of America has been received at this office. The purpose of the program as set forth by Herbert J. Charles, president, is to see that the rights of those who left their work to serve in the war are fully established. Compliance is a legal obligation. To meet it in a spirit of wholehearted cooperation is a privilege. Our veterans return to us with expectations that whatever risks and sacrifices they were called upon to make entitle them to full realization of the rights assured them. They have felt that in the armed services they were not only protecting their country and their families, but their jobs as well. It is our duty to see that this last objective is fulfilled.

The "Pan American World Airways" has been kind enough to send the News one of their beautiful calendars for 1946. With it goes the announcement that the Pan American World Airways presents this calendar-guidebook which has been dedicated to the proposition that to live in friendship with our neighbors we must KNOW our neighbors. Each monthly page of this calendar contains a colorful montage portrait of a portion of the world's peoples. Here we can see our neighbors at work and at play and something of their culture and heritage. On the back of the calendar itself is an animated map portraying the Progress of Transportation through the ages, culminating in the Air Age now at hand. In conclusion the president of the PAWA says: "If, in this Calendar-Guidebook dedicated to presenting 'A WORLD OF NEIGHBORS,' we have in any measure contributed to that basic international understanding so necessary for the future, a fervent ambition will have been realized."

Tuesday morning we received a postal card with a picture of an Indian, a trapper on a horse and a wagon train pulled by two oxen. And printed on the card was "Sons of the Pioneers . . . Don't Fence Us In . . . Want HOWELL GAGE for GOVERNOR. Let's nominate one of our own . . . Organize NOW."—Before we commit ourselves on whether we are for Howell Gage for governor or not we have several questions we want to ask Mr. Gage. If we get out and support him during the campaign and go up to the polls and vote for him we would like to know if Mr. Gage is 100 per cent for a highway improvement program from Artesia to the Sacramento mountains. And we don't want it fixed in spots—we want a highway. And then also if Mr. Gage is elected governor is the Penasco Valley News going to get some state printing that is at the present time being hogged by the job printers of the northern part of the state. But above all we want a highway. We are getting tired of these state office seekers coming down here the day before election and buying us a sody pop and expecting our vote. They will have to change their tactics from now on.

What Can You Spare That They Can Wear

The price of a man's life may be hanging in your closet. In a chest in your attic may lie the decision as to whether a child shall live or die. The future of millions of men, women and children are for sale and the price of that future is one you and I can so easily afford to pay. These are the people who with their lives and homes bought us the days and months and years of Time we had to have to win the war. Now we can buy them the days and months and years of Time they have to have to win the Peace. Does it seem fantastic to you that your old clothes, spare clothes, cast-off shoes, blankets, can be a factor in rebuilding this chaotic world? Think it over. Cities can not be rebuilt, factories cannot produce again, civilization cannot be reborn again unless those who must do the work, have the clothing to give them the warmth of courage and hope. The Victory Clothing Collection being conducted on behalf of UNRRA between Jan. 7th and 31st will help to fill this need. Everyone in Hope can give at least one garment, a pair of shoes, a piece of bedding, etc. Leave your contributions at John Teel's or J. C. Buckner's or up at the school house. Artesia is staging an extensive drive for Saturday, Jan. 26, when trucks will call at every home ready to take any package or garment. Hope should do likewise. And at the end of the month the contributions will be taken to Artesia where they will be assorted and made ready for shipment.

Editorial Comment

Presidential inauguration day is still three years away. But even now the present tenants in the White House—and many other Americans—would like to know who will take the oath of office on that day. Will it be Harry Truman? Or will it be some individual now politically unknown? Much will depend, of course, on what happens in the next year or two. If the Nation remains prosperous, Mr. Truman will have a better chance of succeeding himself. If it does not, his political future will be in doubt.

In its first formal session in London the United Nations Assembly is undertaking the task of solving some of the world problems which the old League of Nations failed to cope with adequately—a failure that led to the reintegration of the League and the build up for World War 2. It is an interesting coincidence that the very day that the U.N.O. Assembly met for

New Wage-Price Policy Pattern For Settling Industrial Strife; FBI Warns Of Crime Increase

Released by Western Newspaper Union.
(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Industrial Front—With labor adamant in its demands for appreciable wage increases to assure continued high "take-home" pay, and with management equally determined to resist sizable raises in the face of OPA ceilings, President Truman and his aides sought to stave off an economic deadlock imperiling reconversion by granting companies price relief.

Representing a complete reversal of announced administration policy of granting price increases only after operations had proven that management could not absorb wage boosts given first, Mr. Truman's new approach to the problem was expected to result in a general pattern of settlements embodying pay raises of from 15 to 18 per cent.

The administration's new policy was first applied to the dispute in the steel industry over the CIO-United Steel Workers demands for a $2 a day wage increase and was quickly utilized in efforts to break the deadlock in the packing field over the CIO and AFL bid for a 25 cents an hour pay boost.

As a result of the administration decision to grant price increases to the steel industry, the companies agreed to resume negotiations with the USW, though they were not permitted the full advances asked. Pending industry offers of what the USW called adequate counter-proposals to its wage demands, the union considered holding off its scheduled strike of 700,000 workers, affecting the aluminum and magnesium as well as steel trade.

In holding out offers of price increases to the big packers, the government stated that they could help the companies in figuring out what wage raises they could actually advance following their initial proposals of about 7½ cents per hour. In asking for a 25 cents per hour raise, the CIO and AFL declared they would be willing to accept 17½ cents to start with before the situation clarified itself.

The packing dispute was of particular interest to the nation's farmers since companies' fixed costs would go far to determine bids for live cattle to permit profitable operations against wholesale price ceilings. Of general interest was the whole new administration policy in its possible effect upon efforts to hold down living costs and avert an inflationary spiral which would cheapen wages and income and lead to still further demands for relief.

DEMobilIZATION:

G.I.s Kick

Incensed over war department plans for a slow-down in demobilization, G.I.s the world over raised a storm of protest, with the army quickly reacting to the complaints by ordering the immediate return of surplus overseas troops and announcing a re-examination of policy.

At the same time, General MacArthur declared that soldiers would not be punished for orderly demonstrations in the Pacific theater, stating that the unrest was primarily caused by "acute homesickness aggravated by the termination of hostilities."

In ordering the immediate return of surplus overseas personnel, Chief of Staff Eisenhower said that extensive shipping facilities should be used in sending the men home, with troops with the highest point scores and longest record of service given priority.

A re-examination of the whole demobilization program would touch the recent formula for spreading scheduled shipments home for the first three months of 1946 over a half-year because of war department claims of a shortage of replacements. Despite the slowdown, army strength was expected to be pared by 400,000 under previous estimates by July 1, with more than half of the 1,550,000 troops remaining in service in overseas duty.

Having started in the Pacific shortly after announcement of the slow-down program, G.I. demonstrations quickly spread to Europe, where troops protested in support of their buddies in the east. In all cases, the men were orderly and no violence occurred.

Most vociferous of all, the Pacific demonstrators attributed the slow-down to administration efforts to force through a compulsory military bill to secure replacements; "brass-hats" seeking to retain wartime rank by maintenance of a large army, and the state department's "imperialistic" policies in the far east. G.I.s were told to apply pressure to friends back home to petition congress for a revision of demobilization plans.

CRIME WAVE:

Gathers Momentum

Pointed up by the brutal murder of six-year-old Suzanne Degnan in Chicago, Ill., a dangerous postwar crime wave is gathering momentum, FBI officials warn, with lenient treatment of old offenders and a growing irresponsibility of youth among the principal causes.

Horrified and enraged by the fiendish slaying and dissection of the Degnan girl, an aroused Chicago citizenry acted to spur the search for the maniacal killer, with $36,000 in rewards posted for information leading to his arrest. Of this amount, $5,000 was offered by the municipal government upon suggestion of Mayor Edward J. Kelly.

With 11 of our most important cities reporting substantial increases in crime during the first 10 months of 1945, FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover

J. Edgar Hoover

Edgar Hoover rapped the abuses and maladministration of our prison systems, declaring that a large percentage of fugitives being sought throughout the country have enjoyed ill-advised clemency. The manner in which murderers, sex-degenerates, outlaws and bandits are released constitutes a national disgrace, he said.

Added to the loose handling of previous offenders is the mounting waywardness of youth. Hoover said, disclosing that of all crimes reported in 1945, 21 per cent were committed by persons under 21 years of age. Young people in this age group made up 14 per cent of all murderers; 36 per cent of all robbers; 51 per cent of all burglars; 34 per cent of all thieves; 25 per cent of all arsonists; 63 per cent of all auto thieves and 32 per cent of all rapists.

As one remedial measure against the growing wave of youthful lawlessness, Hoover recommended increased church or social activity designed to direct youngsters' energies and imaginations into constructive activities.

UNO:

Underway

Meeting in Central hall in Westminster, against a background of great blue curtains set off by a huge gilded globe surrounded by olive branches, the United Nations organization officially got underway with the election of Foreign Minister Paul Henri Spaak of Belgium as its president.

In greeting UNO, British Prime Minister Attlee expressed general sentiment by declaring that organization represented universal hope for peace and the prevention of a third world war which might well destroy civilization. Unlike the ill-fated league of nations, he said, UNO's effectiveness will be considerably enhanced from the beginning by the participation of both the U. S. and Russia.

Calling for close international collaboration of nations, Attlee declared that the various governments should work through UNO instead of considering it as a detached instrument of foreign policy to be used only as an additional means for obtaining an end.

A champion of a western bloc of European nations for economic and political purposes, Spaak was elected to UNO's presidency by a 28 to 23 vote over the Soviet-sponsored candidate, Foreign Minister Trygve Lie of Norway.

Germans Hope to Rebuild Country Out of Wreckage

Expect Quality of Products to Restore Reputation of Lost Beauty of Cities; Seek Raw Materials for Industry.

NUERNBERG, GERMANY.—One German who otherwise gets along very well with the American occupation officials and is thoroughly in sympathy with what is going on in the Nuernberg court house will nevertheless be one of the happiest men in Germany when the trials are over. He is a little black-haired, bespectacled man named Hans Ziegler, Oberbuergermeister of the city. The best translation for his title is plain "mayor" but because all German cities have at least one deputy mayor, some of the American writers who have seen service in London translate "Oberbuergermeister" as "Lord Mayor."

Herr Ziegler says frankly that his work will be easier when the huge organization required to support the international military tribunal has folded its tents and departed. When he told me this I was rather surprised since at first blush it might seem that the city would benefit from all this American activity. However, when one considers that what the Americans here buy with the Germans own money (we print it and they have to redeem it) the profits can hardly seem desirable. The central German government, when there is one, will eventually redeem the paper marks but all Germans will have to contribute in the form of taxes. In Nuernberg although as I said, the city budget had been cut 50 per cent, the taxes have already been increased 33½ per cent.

Military Tribunal Imposes Burden

The chief burden which the military tribunal imposes on the town and the one which presses down hard on the mayor, derives from the fact that it takes a lot of tons, volts and manpower to keep the wheels of justice moving.

Coal is Nuernberg's (as it is Germany's) chief problem. What the Russians didn't get out in their zone, the chief coal areas in Germany, the French have taken in theirs. Transportation has broken down. Without fuel to heat their homes or to cook with, Nuernbergers have bought up every sort of electrical heater and cooker and this plus the large amount of power used by the Americans has put a terrific drain not only on the power plants but the cables. It takes coal to make electricity here where there are no tumbling cataracts. As I write the snow is falling in great Christmas card flakes and even the ruined houses are assuming a touch of beauty. But that beauty is of little comfort to people living in cellars or rooms without roofs.

Half of Nuernberg's houses were destroyed, the mayor told me, a third partly demolished. The rest can be made livable. But alas, the military tribunal took over one-third of the labor available for building and repair and a large stock of materials.

A two hour walk through the city revealed no shops open except a few food and meat stores. In spite of this almost total eclipse of visible industrial existence I was surprised that the mayor placed first on his list of objectives, a restoration of Nuernberg's long established reputation for expert craftsmanship—for goods of high quality, Toys, of course, but also precision instruments, light machinery and pottery.

"We cannot restore Nuernberg's beauty, its historical buildings which brought so many tourists here," said Mayor Ziegler, "but we can win back our reputation as hard workers and fine workers. The city has a long established record for industriousness and expert handicraft as producers of high quality goods. That reputation goes back to the middle ages. Of course we will have to be very patient. We must first rehabilitate our city, then we must wait for good raw materials which we must have to produce high quality products. And of course all this must wait until Germany is once more permitted to trade in world markets."

But, I interjected at this point, what about the food situation? That wasn't in the mayor's province. He took the view which later proved sound enough, that America would not let the Germans starve. If that was our intention, after all, it solved all problems and there was no need to discuss the other questions.

The mayor by no means took for granted that America was an endless source of supplies, that we would forever provide the food which Germany herself never had and never could produce. All he expected was to be tided over until Germany could pay her own way and buy the food for her people and feed for her cattle. That brought this keen-eyed little man right back to his original theme.

"Our small industries must get back on their feet so that we can sell our goods in the world market and obtain exchange for food imports. Remember," he said, "the Russians have taken over Germany's bread basket. A great segment of the country has been cut away. And a million and a quarter German food producers, who are also food-consumers, have moved back within the non-food producing area of Germany. The Ruhr and Saar areas never could possibly feed themselves. Now more people are crowded into them, as well as into this area where most of the land is already under cultivation.

"These newcomers cannot raise food but they can work in our factories and produce products who can buy the food from the rest of the world. To do that we must be allowed to get the raw materials and be permitted to trade in the world markets. Otherwise, there will be starvation, riots and chaos which will spread all over Europe."

European Economy Out of Kilter

Later on I learned more about that "spreading." In Berlin I sat in the office of American food and agriculture administration. Through that office that morning had passed a Czech, a Belgian and a Hollander. The Czech came in to beg permits to bring sugar into Germany which has none. The Czechs' best beet fields have not been destroyed. They can't ship the best sugar abroad but they could easily push it across the Czech-German border where the Germans are starving for it. And the Germans have great piles of unused salt.

The Hollander said: "The Germans love my fish. They are starving. You are importing food for them. My fish is rotting and there are still enough parts for agricultural machinery in Germany and plenty can be turned out in small factories which we must have if we are to continue our farming."

The Belgian had the same story. From time immemorial Belgian cheap beef has gone to Luebeck and other west German cities to go into German sausage. The Belgians have plenty of scrawny cattle which concocted into German sausage would be received only too gladly by the Germans.

"What shall I do with this cattle? They are no good for anything else. And we could get plenty of manufactured products in Germany to pay for them if you would let only a few shops start manufacturing the things we need."

In the Russian zone a number of factories are working, supplying the Russians of course, but likewise yielding return enough to keep the Germans alive to make more things the Russians need.

I witnessed striking evidence of this will-to-survive on the part of Nuernberg business men. For the most part it represented the retailer but it is typical of the town. I walked through the nightmare of the Altstadt (the old town) which is within the ancient city wall and was the famous sight-seeing center as well as the location of the main police station and city hall where the SS troops held out to the last man. The destruction is too horrible to dwell upon. It is an exaggerated Coventry. But all along the main streets, now cleared of rubble, were brand new, well painted signs bearing the name of the shop owners who had once done business there with visitors from all the world, and plain to see was the notice of a new address. It gave one a strange feeling to see bright bits of neat board stuck in a dump heap—a neat dump heap. It made you think of the restless hand in the old tale, projecting from the grave.

for wartime, but now he's the big five-and-five man, with contestants answering five questions for their first prize and one question with five parts for the second half.

It's being told around that little Margaret O'Brien is getting awfully tired of plaintive little girls she has to play—especially since Jimmy Durante taught her to sing "I Want to Be Happy" in his own special style. But the poor child's typed-at her age!

Louis Hayward's postwar screen career leaped forward when he was signed for one of the top roles opposite Hedy Lamarr in "The Strange Woman"; that came as a result of the sneak preview of Hunt Stromberg's "Young Widow," in which he's co-starred with Jane Russell. He put in three years with the marine corps; as captain of a photographic unit, he filmed the battle of Tarawa.

That MBS science series, "Exploring the Unknown," is receiving new honors. Selected by the armed service forces as one of the most popular transcription programs for G.I.s overseas, the Sunday series is being distributed by the New York university film library to schools throughout the country, and the American Cancer society is using one of the broadcasts in its educational work.

One hundred thousand people have persuaded Kate Smith to broadcast before a studio audience again; they all asked for tickets. So she's now doing her Friday night "Kate Smith Sings" program from CBS's Playhouse 4, it's largest, seating 1,100. The repeat broadcast for the West coast will take care of another 1,100, so in about 45 weeks Kate will have caught up with the accumulated requests.

On his "Dave Elman's Radio Auction," Wednesday nights on Mutual, Elman has auctioned everything from Hitler's personal dice to Marie Antoinette's pillow slips—with proof before they were sold that the articles were authentic. Bing Crosby (first last year) was second, followed by Spencer Tracy, Gary Cooper and Roy Rogers. The actresses ran Judy Garland, Betty Grable (who led the list the last three years) Betty Hutton and Margaret O'Brien. And the picture that topped all the others was "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo," with "National Velvet" in second place.

It's being told around that little Margaret O'Brien is getting awfully tired of plaintive little girls she has to play—especially since Jimmy Durante taught her to sing "I Want to Be Happy" in his own special style. But the poor child's typed—at her age!

Louis Hayward's postwar screen career leaped forward when he was signed for one of the top roles opposite Hedy Lamarr in "The Strange Woman"; that came as a result of the sneak preview of Hunt Stromberg's "Young Widow," in which he's co-starred with Jane Russell. He put in three years with the marine corps; as captain of a photographic unit, he filmed the battle of Tarawa.

Sheik, the Palomino Ray Milland rides in "California," had to have two stand-ins—one for rearing, one for falling. It's a technicolor picture so they had to be dyed to match Sheik. But as they were both dark horses, they had to be bleached first!

That MBS science series, "Exploring the Unknown," is receiving new honors. Selected by the armed service forces as one of the most popular transcription programs for G.I.s overseas, the Sunday series is being distributed by the New York university film library to schools throughout the country, and the American Cancer society is using one of the broadcasts in its educational work.

One hundred thousand people have persuaded Kate Smith to broadcast before a studio audience again; they all asked for tickets. So she's now doing her Friday night "Kate Smith Sings" program from CBS's Playhouse 4, it's largest, seating 1,100. The repeat broadcast for the West coast will take care of another 1,100, so in about 45 weeks Kate will have caught up with the accumulated requests.

On his "Dave Elman's Radio Auction," Wednesday nights on Mutual, Elman has auctioned everything from Hitler's personal dice to Marie Antoinette's pillow slips—with proof before they were sold that the articles were authentic. The Radio Writers association voted it the most novel show on the air. He's just sent eight people off to scour the world for a year for historical curios to be auctioned later.

Farm Productivity Must Be Increased

Soil Treatment Need Be Given Consideration

Warning that farmers are "selling their soil fertility capital and calling it a profit," Dr. George N. Hoffer, agronomist of LaFayette, Ind., urged greater application of scientific knowledge and research as a means of maintaining farm productivity.

"Successful farming requires the closest understanding and co-operation with nature," he pointed out. "Agricultural research is directed constantly toward learning more and more of the unchanging biological principles governing production of crops as well as animals.

"Better crops and animals are produced by applying those principles and helping the unaided handiwork of nature.

"Soil tests indicate the available nutrients already in the soil. They point to the need of supplementary applications of fertilizers for maximum yields of nutritious crops.

"Growers are also becoming acquainted with the symptoms of plant-nutrient deficiencies, not only of potash, but of nitrogen, phosphorus, boron and other nutrients which are appearing in many crops in various soils.

"A deficiency of any one of these nutrients may limit profits and lead toward bankruptcy unless remedial measures are applied.

"Due to the constant losses of soil fertility caused by erosion, crop removals, leaching, loss of organic matter, and the failure of some growers to fertilize their crops adequately, practically all crops respond to soil treatment."

Rabbit Is Not Only Tularemia Carrier

While it is true that nearly 90 per cent of human infections with tularemia result from contact with rabbits, birds, rodents and even such animals as dogs, cats, coyotes, foxes, hogs and sheep have been reported as carriers by the American Medical Association.

No specific treatment has been found. Even the wonder drug, penicillin, appears to be of little value. Few, if any, cases have been traced to domestic rabbits. The microbe is carried by bloodsucking insects, such as lice, ticks and probably fleas. Care in handling carriers, including the wearing of rubber gloves when dressing rabbits and other animals of this type is recommended.

Knapsack Feed Box

This type of knapsack feeder is not only easy to construct, but can also be used for hand seeding.

This box is convenient for carrying feed where a cart is not practical. Should be made as light as possible; 1/4 inch plywood is most desirable. A satisfactory size would be a bottom measurement of 18 inches by 12 inches with a height of 12 inches.

With Its War Problems Licked, 4-H Turns To New Program for a Better America

By W. J. DRYDEN
WNU Farm Editor.

THE development of 4-H clubs in America to a membership of 1,700,000 boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 21 cannot be credited to the achievements of any one individual or institution. It represents the accumulated experiences of a number of rural communities spread over America that followed a succession of pioneer leaders.

From a membership of 125,000 in 1914, it has grown into one of the largest and most effective educational groups in the world.

Four-H club members work on such varied activities as owning and managing farm animals according to the latest scientific method, planning for efficient use of rural electric facilities, mapping their own and their neighbors' farms as to soil types and soil erosion, planning and preparing nutritious meals, cultivating a garden to supply those meals and surplus vegetables for the market, introducing new seed varieties, landscaping the family home or the schoolhouse or church, developing parks, baseball diamonds, or organizing recreational activities for the community, organizing discussion groups on the problems of international peace or current economic problems. In fact, they can be found working on almost any activity important to the home or the community.

Contests of All Sorts.

Many civic and commercial organizations sponsor contests and enterprises such as a part of every 4-H club congress. Shown on this page are some of these enterprise winners at the recent congress held in Chicago.

For the past four years, 4-H clubs have concentrated most of their energies on growing "food to feed a

Future program of the organization will emphasize the developing of talents for greater usefulness; joining with friends for work, fun and fellowship; learning to live in territories of Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Alaska. Some 20 foreign countries have adopted its principles. Approximately one million dollars in prize money is provided annually by private citizens and corporations to encourage the movement.

The clubs are a part of the national system of extension work in agriculture and home economics conducted by the department of agriculture, the state colleges of agriculture, and the counties co-operating. Four-H club work is a specialized educational enterprise for rural young people, who may become members of organized clubs under the supervision of county extension agents and local volunteer leaders.

The big event of the year for the members is the annual 4-H club congress. In Chicago last December these American farm youths won the hearts of thousands who saw their accomplishments and learned to know the fine-type girls and boys who carry on 4-H club work.

These alert young people were sectional 4-H winners in the farm safety contest. Of these 16 sectional winners, 12 were picked as national winners and were awarded $200 college scholarships provided by General Motors corporation.

It Seems Einstein's Theory May Become Too Simple!

Albert Einstein was to lecture in a small town. The place buzzed excitedly in anticipation, but few knew why he was important.

"Why he's the guy who invented relativity," explained one.

"Relativity?" asked another. "What's that?"

"Well, I'll explain," said the expert: "If you sit down on a hot stove for a minute it seems like an hour—but if a beautiful blonde is sitting on your lap for an hour it seems like only a minute. That's relativity."

"My goodness!" said the small voice, "he makes a living from such nonsense?"

Try Making Cough Syrup at Home. Quick Relief

Saves Big Dollars. No Cooking.

No matter what you usually use for coughs due to colds, you'll be more than surprised when you make up this simple home mixture and give it a trial. You'll wonder why you never used it before. It certainly does the work in a hurry.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking is needed—it's no trouble at all. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, if desired.

Get from your druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill up with your syrup. This makes a full pint—a family supply—and gives you about four times as much for your money. It tastes fine, and never spoils. Children love it.

And for quick action, you've never seen its superior. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, eases the soreness, makes breathing easier, and lets you sleep.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a famous reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.—Adv.

Seasoning Saves This Shrimp Dish
(See Recipes Below)

Meals With Zest

Families, long accustomed to the rigors of wartime cooking, now want something different since rationing has ended. This does not necessarily mean more meat, but it does mean that you cooks will have to wise up to the new ways of seasoning and make things taste extra special.

If you and your family are taste-conscious—and who isn't these days—then handle each food as though it were a priceless possession and try to make the most of it. In vegetables this means cooking them until they are tender, but still crisp and crunchy. In meats, it means bringing out the best in those hearty flavors; and in salad dressings, it means a careful blend of seasonings that will accent the best in fruit and vegetable flavors.

*Pork Chops on Sage Dressing.

- (Serves 4)
 4 pork chops, floured
 2 tablespoons sliced onion
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 1/2 teaspoon sage
 1 1/2 cups diced bread
 1 tablespoon butter or substitute
 1 teaspoon minced celery
 1 tablespoon minced parsley
 4 tablespoons milk
 2 tablespoons broth

Blend all ingredients except pork chops and place in a shallow dish. Top with pork chops, cover and bake 45 minutes in a moderate (350-degree) oven. Remove the cover and bake 30 minutes longer at 375 degrees.

String beans, one of our more common vegetables, take on added appeal when they are prepared with a sauce that accents their delicate flavor. Here's how it's done:

String Beans.

- (Serves 6 to 8)
 2 pounds string beans
 Salt and pepper
 Cook slowly in a covered pan with a small amount of water. Dust with salt and pepper.

For Sauce:

- 3 tablespoons oil
 1 tablespoon butter
 1 medium-sized onion
 1 clove of garlic
 2 tomatoes, fresh or canned
 1 tablespoon minced celery
 1 tablespoon minced parsley

Lynn Says:

Save fuel by using your range properly: Keep a pilot burner clean.

Turn the gas or electricity off before instead of after removing the utensil from the range.

For top-of-the-stove cooking, use a pan with straight sides as it heats more efficiently.

Cook several foods at the same time when using the oven. A casserole, vegetable and pudding may all be baked at one time.

Duplicate or triplicate pans, made to fit together over one burner, are excellent to use for cooking and saving fuel.

To prevent failures while baking, and also to save fuel, use the oven regulator and refrain from peering into the oven.

Lynn Chambers' Menu Ideas

- *Pork Chops on Sage Dressing
- *String Beans with Sauce
- *Candied Sweet Potatoes
- *Carrot-Lemon Salad Biscuits
- Sponge Cake with Apricot Sauce Beverage
- *Recipe given.

- 1 teaspoon mixed herb vinegar
- 1/4 teaspoon rosemary
- 1/4 teaspoon sugar
- Salt and pepper to taste

Heat oil and butter, simmer the minced garlic, onion, celery for 5 minutes. Add cut up, peeled tomato, rosemary, seasonings and vinegar. Simmer 10 minutes. Pour over beans and serve.

Shrimp and rice were made famous by a song, but they are popular by their own right—flavor. To bring out the flavor in shrimp and make it a real taste thrill, bacon or ham is often added to it, as in the following recipe:

Shrimp Creole.

- (Serves 6)
 3 strips bacon
 2 medium-sized onions, sliced
 1 green pepper, cut in rings
 1/2 cup diced celery
 3 cups canned tomatoes
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 cup cooked green peas
 2 small cans shrimp
 1 teaspoon chili powder
 3 cups hot boiled rice

Cut bacon in 1/4 inch pieces. Put in a frying pan with sliced onions and cook until bacon is crisp and the onion is slightly yellow. Add pepper rings, diced celery, tomatoes and salt. Cook until celery and pepper are tender and sauce is thickened. Add peas, shrimp and chili powder and cook 5 minutes more. Mold rice in ring and surround with sauce.

Salads are popular during the cool weather because they satisfy our need for "green things." Make them colorful and well seasoned and the family will reward you by asking for big helpings of vitamins.

Beet and Lettuce Salad.

- (Serves 6)
 4 green onions, sliced fine
 2 cups cooked beets, chopped
 6 tablespoons salad oil
 1 head lettuce
 4 tablespoons vinegar
 1 uncooked egg yolk
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
 1/4 teaspoon sugar

Beat egg yolk with a fork, add onions, salt, mustard and oil. Just before serving add vinegar. Chop lettuce to medium sized chunks and place in a large bowl. Add chopped beets. Pour dressing over this.

*Carrot-Lemon Salad.

- (Serves 5)
 3 large carrots, grated
 1 lemon, ground with skin
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 2 teaspoons sugar
 1 tablespoon salad oil

Blend all ingredients together with a fork. Serve on crisp lettuce leaf.

A PEOPLE AT WORSHIP

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 28:1; 35:4-9, 20-29.
 GOLDEN TEXT—Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve.—Matthew 4:10.

A nation which knows God must have a place and a plan for worshipping Him. The history of Israel has moved forward in the account in Exodus where the people delivered from bondage are established as a theocratic nation; that is, one governed by God.

The covenant at Sinai (ch. 19) was followed by the giving of the law (chs. 20-23), and then in chapters 24-40 we find the worship of God established. Two elements are necessary—a way in which God may be approached and a place to meet Him. The former is provided in the ordaining of the Aaronic priesthood, and the latter by the building of the Tabernacle.

I. God Provides a Way to Worship (28:1).

The appointment of Aaron as high priest, and his sons to serve with him, provided for the proper conduct of the worship of God which was to take place in the Tabernacle.

The sinner coming into the presence of God must approach by way of the brazen altar where sacrifice could be made for sin. This called for a priest set apart for this holy duty, which would open the way for the repentant one to enter into the Holy place, and ultimately to know that his sin was covered in the Holy of Holies.

Consider the grace of God in thus providing for the deep spiritual need of His people. All of this pointed forward to the day when Christ the true High Priest was to make the perfect and final atonement for sin by the sacrifice of Himself on Calvary's tree.

The symbolic dress of the priest and his consecration for his duties are all very instructive, but we do not have space to comment at length. Suffice it to say that the one who is to serve in the conduct of the worship of God is to be a called, cleansed and consecrated man, set apart for a holy calling and eager to be used of God to lead men into fellowship with Him.

II. God Provides a Place of Worship (35:4-9, 20-29).

The plan for the Tabernacle was given by God to Moses in much detail. A close study of it will bring rich reward.

Although the plans were made by God (Exod. 25-27), note that He gave to the people the privilege of providing the materials. They recognized it as a high privilege and not a burden, and they came enthusiastically with their gifts.

That thought bears application to the believer, for we know that God still loves a cheerful giver (II Cor. 9:7). Those who groan and grumble about the money and material needed for the worship of God have not caught the real spirit of Christian giving.

The children of Israel brought more than enough of their most treasured possessions and of the labor of their hands; in fact, they had to be told to stop (Exod. 36:1-7). Imagine having to tell people to stop giving! That would be a novelty! The Tabernacle was duly built, and thus there was provided for Israel a place of meeting (Tabernacle literally means "tent of meeting"), beautiful and appropriate for their days of sojourning in the wilderness.

The significance of the Tabernacle is both interesting and important.

(1) It is a symbol of God's presence with His people. All who were defiled were excluded because God was there.

(2) It is a type of God's method of bringing sinners to Himself. There must be a sacrifice for sin before communion can be established.

The furniture of the Tabernacle is therefore significant.

Christ is the Bread of life, the Light of the world, our High Priest and interceding Advocate.

Within the Holy of Holies the mercy seat typifies the covering of a believer's sins by the blood of Christ.

(3) It is a symbol of the incarnation of Christ of whom it is said that He "tabernacled" with men.

(4) It is a symbol of heavenly things. Christ now appears in heaven for us as our minister and high priest (Heb. 8:1-5).

(5) It is a symbol of God's dwelling with men in the ages of eternity (Rev. 21).

AROUND THE HOUSE

Popcorn balls made on sucker sticks are a nice treat for the children when simple refreshments are in order.

If you lose a garter button from one of your hose supporters, put a regular small-sized button underneath the top of your hose, hold it in place, and slip the garter loop over it. It'll hold!

Yellowed piano keys can be cleaned with a cloth dipped in cologne water. Be careful not to touch the black keys.

A small new paint brush is handy to have for cleaning the crumbs out of your toaster.

Never press a wool garment completely dry. Place it on a hanger after pressing and pat seams out with the hands. Allow to finish drying on the hanger.

A tiny hole drilled in the pipe just above the cylinder lets the water drip out after one is through pumping so there is no need to thaw out the pump in freezing weather.
