Bicyclist Arrive Here In Blinding Rain Storm

While most area residents were nice and dry in their homes enjoying the rain Saturday afternoon, 20 tired, wet and hungry bicyclist from points around the United States rode into Muleshoe. You might ask "What were they doing riding in the rain?" They were riding for PUSH (People Understanding the Severly Handicapped). Cycling over 3,400 miles across the country is simply a mode of transportation for the team as they travel from city to city. The true "mission" of PUSH is to bring campuses, communities and corporations together on behalf of Americans with disabilities. As much as possible, the team members meet with those of whom they're riding. Wheather

County Records First Traffic Fatality Of Year

Bailey County recorded its first traffic fatality of the year Sunday afternoon, four miles east on Highway 70. Longtime area resident Dortha Humiston Smith, 65, was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace Jack Bates at 5:45 p.m.

According to Brad Harmon, Texas Department of Public Safety Trooper who investigated the accident, Ms. Smith was traveling east in a 1979 Chevrolet pick-up when she started to make a left hand turn, just as a truck-trailer-rig was attempting to pass her in the passing lane of the highway, and was struck in the side. The truck was driven by Frank Gonzales of Hale Center, who was not injured. The trailer was loaded with corn and upon impact the truck-trailer-rig drug the pick-up several hundred feet and out into a field before bogging down in a rain soaked field.

Services for Ms. Smith were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday, July 16 in Ellis Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. Jimmy Low, pastor of the New Covenant Church, officiating.

She was born in Wichita Falls and moved from Pampa to Muleshoe in 1929. She married Al Humiston August 2, 1945, in Clovis, N.M. He died in 1959. The couple had farmed. She was a Baptist.

Survivors include a son, Dennis Humiston of San Angelo; two daughters, Jeanette Humiston of Mariott, Florida, Rain, rain and more rain!! When the thunderstorms moved into the area last Thursday afternoon, some area residents were a little skeptical of whether it would rain or not. But, rain it did, eight inches in some locations in this area.

On Friday morning area residents awoke to cloudy skies with light intermediate showers, continuing throughout the day. Saturday morning the skys were still cloudy and some of the showers were heavy. Rain continued until Sunday and various amounts of rain were recorded.

In Muleshoe several streets were blocked off Saturday afternoon due to flooding. The lake at the new City Park filled with water draining from Highway 84 West.

A group of bicyclist rode into Muleshoe from Portales, N.M. and reported that it had rained hard on them all the way. One of the cyclist told the Journal that at some points they could hardly see where they were going. Muleshoe received amounts varying from 4 to 4 1/2 inches for the two days.

In Southern Bailey County, Mrs. J.B. Bayless of Enochs reported that they had 2.2 inches of rain. She stated that it was a very pretty rain, no hail or high wind.

At Lazbuddie, in Parmer County, Shirley Steinbock at Shirley Anderson Elevator, reported that 5 to 7 inches of rain had fallen in that area. It was reported that Wayne Clark had received some hail, but the Journal was unable to contact him.

John McFarland at Shirley

Anderson at Lariat reported that Lariat had 3 1/2 inches of rain while a short distance from the elevator Morris Pool reported four inches of rain.

Mrs. Willis James reported that they had 4 or 5 inches of rain on their farm.

The Journal talked to Curtis Preston, new County Extension Agent Friday afternoon and he stated "It was a good shot in the arm. "It just made every thing. Everything will benefit from the rain, now if it will dry out for a week or two and then come again," he continued.

Cancer Screening Scheduled Here

Next Week

A Breast Cancer Screening has been scheduled for Wednesday, July 24 from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the South Plains Health Care Providers Clinic at 190 East Ave. C. Exams are done by appointment only.

The breast screening program of Don and Sybil Harrington Cancer and High Plains Baptist Hospital of Amarillo continue community outreach clinics for early detection of breast cancer.

Funding is available through the Texas Cancer Council for screening mammography for Texas residents qualifying for financial assistance.

Early detection of breast cancer is the major goal of cancer control for each woman seen in the clinic. The clinic provides low cost screening which includes a breast exam by a Registered Nurse trained in breast cancer detection, teaching of breast self examination and a mammogram.

Currently, the most effective method known to win the battle against breast cancer is early detection. Early detection is best done by following the guidelines recommended by the American Cancer Society for breast cancer screening for women who have no signs or symptoms of breast cancer. The guidelines are:

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT--"Joe and Gary Shipman really expressed theirs' when they took 'Ole Pete' in for a new paint job," said Nancy Kidd, Chamber of Commerce manager. "Everyone talked about how bad Pete looked, but no one volunteered to help the situation." The Shipmans' were asked if they thought they could paint, or do whatever was needed, they said "consider it done," and it was! We didn't realize how many people noticed the Mule Monument until he was gone for several weeks. It was good to know that residents really noticed. "We thank Joe and Gary Shipman for a great job and at no charge." Mrs. Kidd continued. It's our contribution to our community." With attitudes like this, our community can't help but be the best - How about your attitude and contribution toward your community? Mrs. Kidd added. (Journal Photo)

Doctor Ethics

The traditional American theory in the practice of medicine is that doctors police themselves, that elected governments are incapable of properly policing medical practice.

There's much to this argument and in many cities, countries and states, physicians, surgeons and specialists have managed to regulate and police themselves admirably.

However, no self-regulating system is perfect, especially when money is a big part of the equation. And in recent years too many members of the medical profession have apparently placed big bucks ahead of ethical considerations.

At least, that seems to be the case when it comes to referrals, for special testing. Studies have found that doctors who own or partly own testing centers refer far more patients to these centers.

These specialized tests are often highly expensive. Profits are so high, and quick, there are organizations roaming the country seeking doctors to invest in centers they build. The doctors who have invested provide the customers.

Officials of the American Medical Association have spoken out about this obvious conflict of interest. So have many practicing physicians. The patient would be well advised to inquire--when a specialized test is suggested--about the ownership of the testing center.

We are all interested in moratoriums, especially for ourselves. Democrats and Republicans alike appear to be interested in President Hoover's moratorium on war debts, and no doubt members of both parties would also be interested in a moratorium for U.S. citizens as most of "US" citizens need it.

Wouldn't it be nice if we could go to the banker and the grocer we owe, and make arrangements for a little relief spell, with the assurance that we might give them notes and have those little pieces of paper put on ice for a year.

But before this local moratorium took effect there are several subscriptions to the Journal of $1.50 each we would like to collect. We're for the moratorium alright, but we are against it becoming operative before we make a few of our own needed collections. But moratorium or no moratorium, the thing for us all to do is to get down to the job of wooing Miss Prosperity again. If we don't take to giving her more attention, she way elope with the other fellow for good.

How plentiful are sailfish in the Gulf of Mexico off Texas. That question is being pondered by many experts on the coast. Several have reached the conclusion that there are many more of the sporty sailfish than it has been thought. They declare there has not been enough fishing for them to establish Texas' Gulf waters as a sailfish center. Royal Ferris' performance recently renewed talk of sailfish. That sportsman came in with a pair of huge sails recently. One measured seven feet, six inches and the other seven feet.

Exchange Students Seek Texas Homes

Host families are needed for Matthias from Germany and Elena from Spain who are coming to spend the next school year in the state of Texas. The students are enrolled in the Academic Year in America program, a non-profit high school homestay experience sponsored by the AIFS Scholarship Foundation.

The program's local representative, Pamela Williams-Rowe of Muleshoe, is interviewing families in this area who would be interested in hosting Matthias or Elena. Seventeen year old Matthias enjoys basketball, soccer and computers. He comes from a small village outside Hamburg where his dad is a physician. Elena is a 16 year old from Barcelona. She is an excellent student, plays the piano and enjoys cycling and going to movies with friends. Matthias and Elena will attend an area public high school, share everyday life with their host families and participate in sports, school clubs and community activities. Students arrive in mid-August to begin school with their American classmates.

Williams-Rowe has full applications of these two students as well as those of several other boys and girls who would like to live in this part of Texas next year. Students have been carefully screened, speak English, and have their own spending money. All a family needs to provide is a bed, a place to study, two meals a day, and an open heart ready to receive a "son" or "daughter" from another country.

Interested families should call Pamela Williams-Rowe at 512-699-9024 or Regional Director Susan Whitaker at the AIFS national office in Connecticut at 1-800-322-4678.

with those for whom they are riding.

The cyclist began their journey across the United States on June 17, at San Francisco "Golden Gate Bridge." Following 59 days on the road, they are expected to arrive in Charleston, South Carolina on Aug. 14.

They rode into Muleshoe around 3:30 p.m. Saturday in a blinding rain storm after riding from Elida, N.M. They left Elida about 8 a.m. that morning.

Riding their bicycle across the United States may not be easy, but earning the opportunity to ride wasn't easy either. Each of the young men had to earn $4,000 and turn it in to the National PUSH Headquarters at Charlotte, North Carolina.

One week prior to leaving San Francisco, they met in San Francisco for a week of training.

Fort Worth received $2.7 million for a total of $23.1 million this year and El Paso received $2.3 million for a 1991 total of almost $18 million.

The El Paso City Transit Department received a monthly payment of $1.1 million and hospital districts in Baylor, Ector and Reeves counties were sent a combined total of $725,267.

Merchants collect the state's 6 1/4 percent state sales tax and any local sales taxes levied in the area and send them to the Comptroller's Office with their tax returns. Businesses file returns monthly, quarterly or annually, depending on the amount of sales tax they collect. The state retains its share and returns to cities, counties and other taxing entities their local portion of the sales tax.

All local sales taxes must be approved by area voters. Most local governments use the money for services such as fire fighting, road maintenance development and property tax reduction.

them. After relaxing a few minutes, they were taken to the school gym for showers and dry clothes.

"This has been by far the worst trip the fraternity has undertaken" said Paul Basile. "We went through hot sun in New Mexico with very cool nights to blinding rain in Texas."

When asked if he would undertake the trip again, Basile replied "I guess you could say I would "This is my third trip."

"I don't know, there is something about these trips, besides seeing the country," Basile said. "This makes you aware of all the people with handicaps. Once you have made one of these trips, it gets into your blood, I don't know it gets into your system and you can't get enough. It gives you a special feeling knowing that just maybe you have helped a little," he continued.

The rewarding part of this is that the kids are just great" David McCabe, another cyclist said. "To me they are God's children. Anyone with disabilities they don't have any grudges or hate anyone."

Paul Basile explained that the purpose of this trip is to create better understanding.

The basic thing is that they don't want sympathy--they want understanding," added McCabe, another bicyclist.

To create understanding for disabled individuals, project members host empathy training sessions and puppet shows on campuses and in communities.

Another group of young men are traveling a northern path across the United States.

When the young men had dried off, Robert Montgomery welcomed the group to Muleshoe. "Each of you are to be commended, I know this (the trip) doesn't come easy. We want you to feel welcome to come back again sometime."

The Rev. Rick Michael, pastor of the church, gave the invocation prior to the Jennyslippers serving the young men a meal.

While the group travels across country most of their nights are spent in churches, auditoriums, etc. Occasionally they spend the night in a motel but Basile stated that they enjoyed this almost as well. It's almost like home."

They spent the night at the church and the Jennyslippers went back Sunday morning and served them breakfast. Their next stop was to be in Lubbock.

More Africanized Honey Bees

Swarms Found

Trappers in pursuit of Africanized honey bees (AHB) have captured 85 swarms in the United States as the bee migrates up the Gulf Coast and the Rio Grande.

Thirteen of the identifications have been hybrid bees, a mix of African and European (domestic) bees. About 20 additional swarm samples deemed "suspicious" are at the U.S. Department of Agriculture-Agriculture Research Service lab in Weslaco pending confirmation.

"We are noticing that the bees are moving faster along the coast than inland," said Elba Quintero, AHB program coordinator for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service.

Quintero said that a lot of swarms have been collected in Starr County from Rio Grande City to the Falcon Reservoir, "but they all have been in the same place."

"They are moving farther north along the coast," she said. "It probably has to do with food availability."

The northernmost Coastal AHB collection thus far was in Port Mansfield, some 40 miles north of Mexico.

The spring 1991 swarming season may have peaked in May. Forty-three percent of the swarms were collected in May. April's collections accounted for 31 percent, and reported swarms through the third week of June totaled 26 percent of the year's finds. The June total could be much larger, however, if all 20 of the suspicious samples are confirmed as AHB.

School Children To Learn

More About Solid Waste Issues

Garbage pizza--the idea may not do much for grown-ups, but kids love it. Some teachers already are using garbage pizza to teach children about the amount of solid waste we generate, and why the way we manage that waste is of concern to them. And more will be using it soon, thanks to the Texas Department of Health (TDH).

Through its Bureau of Solid Waste Management, TDH awarded a contract to Keep Texas Beautiful, Inc., to develop a statewide educational program on solid waste issues. Keep Texas Beautiful will notify its affiliated Texas cities of the honor at its statewide convention in Plano on June 25-28. "The bureau is excited about working with Keep Texas Beautiful, which has a large component of grassroots volunteers across the state," said T.A. Outlaw, Jr., Chief of the TDH Bureau of Solid Waste Management. "This cooperation with an existing network will allow the State of Texas to save an

Due to earlier bad weather and having to replant, cotton is about 2 weeks behind but it is looking good," Preston continued.

"I have heard rain reports ranging from 8 inches to 4-6 inches in the Southwest. The latest rainfall report I heard was 3 inches," Preston continued.

Several planned outdoor activities scheduled for Saturday had to be called off due to the rain. The Little League Base Ball teams were to have received their trophies, but it was raining, they have been rescheduled for after the baseball field dries out. Sunday afternoon it was all underwater.

immense amount of time and money in dissemination of the material and training teachers to use it."

Garbage pizza is just one of the creative lessons to be used in the educational program. It's a facsimile of pizza cut in wedges to show the types of trash that are disposed in landfills. Toppings are bits of plastic, yard waste, metal, glass, food and debris that could be reduced or recycled. It's among the educational materials in the national Keep America Beautiful package. Other materials include "Waste in Place" for the elementary level and "Waste: A Hidden Resource" for secondary school students. Under its contract with TDH, Keep Texas Beautiful will supplement the national program with materials specifically for Texas.

Some Texas schools are already using the national education program. Others will be added over the next three years as the program expands across the state. For the 1989-1990 school year, the most recent year for which figures are available, more than 564 schools were teaching "Waste in Place" to 311,061 students. "This was a 55 percent increase over the previous year," said SueAnn Wade-Crouse, president of Keep Texas Beautiful. Teachers devoted 98,931 hours to teaching the elementary program. In the same communities, "Waste: A Hidden Resource" was used by 48 percent of the secondary schools, reaching nearly 250,000 students.

The Keep Texas Beautiful organization has a 20-year history of providing leadership and education in litter reduction, recycling and other solid waste issues. The organization's $348,948 contract with TDH will include developing and disseminating lesson plans to Texas public and private schools, training teachers to use them, and evaluating the program after the first year.

Educators from the Science Academy of Austin, located at the Lyndon B. Johnson High school, will work with the contractor to develop the Texas-specific material. The Science Academy is a "magnet school" for advanced students at the high school level.

The supplemental issues will be identified by Bureau of Solid Waste Management staff and provided to the contractors. Materials will be developed during the summer and fall of 1991. Teacher training, dissemination of the materials, and implementation of the program in schools are set for spring of 1992.

Materials will be correlated with the Texas Education Agency's (TEA) "essential elements" for school curricula and will be submitted to TEA for review prior to dissemination. Teacher training sessions on the material will be designed so that teachers receive Advanced Academic Training credit for their participation. This is a form of continuing education credit required to maintain teacher certification.

Funding for the contract comes from solid waste disposal fees collected by the Bureau of Solid Waste Management under the Solid Waste Disposal Act. "The program is just one step the bureau is taking to fulfill a legislative mandate to provide public awareness and education on solid waste issues," Outlaw said. "Through awareness of waste problems and alternative disposal habits, Texas children can help reduce the state's dependence on landfills," he added.

Flagging Ceremony At Heritage Complex

The Board of Directors wish to thank the veterans of all foreign wars, Mrs. Jean Allison and her SCAC Students, special guests, and the former board members of the Muleshoe Heritage Foundation. The Board would like to express appreciation to the interested people who come and stood in the hot sun to see vintage flags raised on the buildings that have been placed on the Heritage Complex.

The welcome was given by Cara Juan Schuster with individual SCAC members giving the history of each flag and inserting the vintage Flag in a bracket placed on each building.

The thirty eight star Flag was placed on the John Freed Log Cabin which was built in 1890. Colorado represented the 38th star on the Flag. It was added on July 4, 1877, which was the centennial year of the United States Flag.

The 38 star Flag presided over westward expansion, rapid railway construction and an Interestingly, there was a Flag dispute in 1887, concerning the Civil War, to the South. President Cleveland approved the return of the Flags, touching off heated protests. President Theodore Roosevelt returned to Flags later with out any public out cry.

In addition to Colorado, the remaining stars on the 38th star Flag are the following states: Alabama, Arkansas, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky,

ATPE Provides Listing Service

With the current school finance dilemma, funding for Texas public education is up in the air. While Senate Bill 351--the school funding law--is deliberated in court, school districts do not know how much money they will have in the fall, and many public school employees are uncertain as to the security of their jobs in their respective districts.

For four years, the Association of Texas Professional Educators (ATPE) has provided a job listing service to the educators of Texas. The job listing, featuring positions available throughout the state for the 1991-92 school year, most recently was published in a special eight-page section of the May/June issue of ATPE News, the official magazine of ATPR. Also included in the magazine was a cover article on the influence of television on children, a wrap-up of laws passed by the 72nd Legislature, and a discussion of the legal hurdles facing Senate Bill 351. (ATPE News is published five times a year by ATPE. Subscriptions are $10 per year and are available by writing to the Editor, ATPE News, 505 E. Huntland Drive, Suite 250, Austin, Tex. 78752-3792.)

The atpe job listing service is published twice a year in the May/June and November/December issues of ATPE News. It

Five presidents of the United States served under the 38 star Flag--Rutherford B. Hayes, James Garfield (who was assassinated in 1881), Chester A. Arthur, Grover Cleveland, and Benjamin Harrison.

In January 1896, Utah became the newest state in the Union and to commemorate this event, the 45th star was added to the U.S. Flag on July 4, 1896. Seven states had been added to the United States before Utah, those being Idaho, Maryland, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Washington, and Wyoming.

also is updated on a monthly basis and is available free of charge to ATPE members, as well as non-members. Copies of the job listing can be obtained from the ATPE state office by calling 1-800-777-ATPE.

ATPE, the largest independent, nonunion educators' association in the state and nation, has a statewide membership of 52,800, which consists mostly of classroom teachers but also includes administrators, paraprofessionals, retired educators, education students and public members.

BIBLE VERSE

Except a man be born water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.

1. Who made the above statement?
2. To whom was it made?
3. What was this man's standing in the community?
4. Where may this statement be found?

- Answers:
1. Jesus, as recorded by John.
 2. Nicodemus.
 3. A ruler of the Jews.
 4. John 3:5.

Concern over the growing unrest in Cuba welcomed the new 45 star Flag. The climax came in February 1898, when the U.S. battleship Main was blown up in Havana, Cuba, where it had been dispatched to lend support during the Cuban revolt against Spanish rule.

With shouts of "Remember the Maine", the United States declared war against Spain on April 21, 1898. The Spanish-American War ended 114 days later, resulting in the freedom of Cuba from Spanish dominance and the U.S. acquisition of Puerto Rico, the Philippines and Guam.

Three Presidents of the United States served under the 45 star Flag--Grover Cleveland during his second term, William McKinley (who was assassinated in 1900) and Theodore Roosevelt. The SCAC students raised the Flags on the Janes Ranch House and the Muleshoe Ranch Cookhouse.

On July 4, 1912, two new stars were added to the U.S. Flag to commemorate the addition of two new states to the union--New Mexico on January 6, 1912 and Arizona on February 14, 1912. The states that were added before New Mexico and Arizona, were Nevada, Oklahoma and Utah. The new 48 star Flag would fly over the country longer than any other flag in U.S. history--47 years.

The 48 star Flag has an impressive history, during nearly half century of immense change. It was the Flag that reigned over the prosperity and wealth of the Roaring Twenties and the depression of the 1930's. The Flag that rallied troops in World War I, World War II, and the Korean conflict. ...that saw the immense destruction of the atomic bomb and the first tentative steps toward space exploration.

During the 48 star Flag's tenure, the dimensions of the U.S. Flag were standardized for the first time, under President Taft. The exact shades of red, white and blue were specified in 1934 and Congress passed a joint resolution in 1942 giving official rules for Flag display and use. Also, Flag Day--June 14--was as originally proclaimed by Woodrow Wilson in 1916 to commemorate the Flag Resolution of 1777 and made official by an act of Congress in 1949.

More Presidents of the United States served under the 48 star Flag than any other U.S. Flag: William Howard Taft, Woodrow Wilson, Warren G. Harding, Calvin Coolidge, Herbert Hoover, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman, and Dwight D. Eisenhower. This Flag was flown proudly on the Depot.

Last, the 50 star Flag flown over the nations capitol, was given by former SCAC Students, was raised along with a Texas Flag on a flag poll of which the pipe had been given by Irrigation Power and Pipe Inc. Jack Hicks and R.A. Bradley made the poll and Bailey County Electric Cooperative placed the poll in the ground.

The two stars of the 50 star Flag represented Hawaii and Alaska, the final states to have stars added to the Flag. This Flag serves all veterans that have been in all wars waged since the Korean conflict. This Flag will serve future generations of people who love our country. This Flag has served to represent all persons who have come to this country for love of freedom. This Flag will prevail and give rest to those who want to enter the United States of America. The Heritage Foundation proudly lifted the Flag, which was flown over the Nations Capitol, in honor of all the Wars that have been fought in the Independence of the United States of America.

After the Flagging of the buildings the National Anthem was played and sung by the people attending the ceremony.

Roland McCormick gave the benediction and every one was free to admire each Flag. The Flags will be placed on the buildings for special occasions. The Board would like for this to be a special event each July fourth. Next year we will have Flags to place on other buildings as research is completed. Thank you again for your attendance and for the help that you have given to the Muleshoe Heritage Foundation in the past and will give in the future.

NOTES, COMMENT

Flattery often conceals jealousy.

Silence is an underplayed virtue.

An orator isn't always a thinker.

Most people are a little smarter than they seem.

Good grammar, as we get it, is understandable
language.

Dollars and sense laid the foundation for fortunes.

Think this through:
It's too hot to go to church.

We suspect taxes will be high for some years
to come.

People get old; life is continually new and full of change.

Everyone who dies
leaves everything.

Most people believe what they want to believe.

We are in favor of a vacation each season of the year.

IN FASHION

More and more busy
women are taking advantage of catalog shopping. Some designers offer "designer" collections by mail-order catalogs. There are large collections to choose including everything from classic coats and dresses
to earrings.

Women have more time to select a new wardrobe or select individual articles and accessories to up-date last years clothes. Take one basic skirt in quality fabric and create several outfits with well-chosen
pieces such as sweaters, blouses, scarfs and
blazers for fall's cool nights.

Melons Make Perfect Shower Food

(AUSTIN)--Melons are the perfect food for bridal showers. Fresh, light and colorful, they're versatile too, great for punches, salads and desserts. Texas harvests three kinds--cantaloupes, honeydews and watermelons. Excellent crops of each are expected this spring,
just in time for showers honoring summer brides-to-be.

"Melons fit right into a spring shower theme," said Texas Department of Agriculture home economist Carol Guthrie. "They're sweet and pretty, and you always serve pretty food at showers. The menu should be light.
Finger sandwiches, fruit salads, sweets, punch, coffee, nuts and mints are typical. You can also serve a light lunch.
Chicken salad mixed with cantaloupe
or served in a melon half makes a nice entrée that's not too filling."

A watermelon boat, scooped,
carved and refilled with melon balls,
can serve double duty at a shower as salad and centerpiece, eliminating the cost of centerpiece flowers. Cantaloupes and honeydews can also be carved to hold individual servings of turkey, chicken, tuna or fruit salad.

Carving a melon takes a sharp knife and a steady hand. To make a watermelon boat, first cut a slice from the melon's underside. This will prevent the melon from rocking when set on the table. Next, tie a string lengthwise around the melon just below the area to be carved. Make sure the string is even all around. Using a quarter as a guide, trace scallops in pencil, indenting slightly into the rind. The quarter should rest right above the string. If desired, leave a two-inch space on opposite sides of the melon for a handle. Draw the handle across the top of the melon.

Insert the knife, carefully following the pattern. Cuts should be deep enough to permit removing the top of the melon with ease. With a melon ball scooper, remove the meat. Pour out excess juice and refill the boat with a combination of cantaloupe, honeydew
and watermelon balls.

Artistic designers may wish to draw shapes on the melon rind before carving
it. Hearts and flowers are appropriate for bridal showers, but stars and geometrics are attractive too. To carve designs, cut through the outer green just far enough to reveal the pale green underneath.

Their smaller size makes cantaloupes and honeydews easier to carve. Simply gauge the melon's middle by eye or mark it with string. Trace nickel- or quarter-size scallops around the circumference. Cut and scoop out seeds and fill with the salad of your choice.

About 15,000 acres of cantaloupes
and honeydews will be harvested from May through June in the Rio Grande Valley, the state's biggest producer of these crops. That's a drop of between 4,000 and 5,000 acres since last year, but not to worry. "There'll be lots of melons," said Paula Fouchek,
executive director of the Texas Fresh Promotional Board in Harlingen.

Last year Texas melons, delayed by bad weather, came off the vine at the same time as California's, flooding the market. The Texas season, Fouchek said, turned out to be "a disaster" for growers, who cautiously planted fewer acres for 1990. Good moisture and weather during this growing season, however, have raised expectations for plentiful yields, high-quality harvests of cantaloupes and honeydews. A quality crop of watermelons is anticipated too.

To select a good cantaloupe, look for thick netting that is coarse and corky. The stem end should be smooth and indented. Any sign of the stem indicates a melon picked before its time.
Ripe cantaloupes will have pleasant aroma and a yellowish cast to their rind.
Look for a slight spring to the blossom
end when pressed.

Ripe honeydews will have a creamy white rind. Their blossom end will spring back with moderate pressure.
When choosing watermelons, avoid those with a shiny rind. A dull, velvety finish is a better indicator of ripeness.
Ripe watermelons will have a beige or yellowish underside. Thumping to determine ripeness is unreliable.

Summer Food Safety Tips

Cookouts, picnics, and afternoons
by the pool are just a few of summer's pleasures.

Keep hot foods above 140 degrees and cold foods below 45 degrees.

The United Food and Commercial Workers Union (UFCW)— whose 1.3 million members process, package, and sell much of the nation's food—reminds outdoor chefs to play it safe when fixing and storing food.

• Pack cold food in an insulated cooler with ample ice or cold-pack inserts.

• Cook meat and poultry thoroughly and keep cold.

• Bacteria's danger zone is between 45° and 140°F. Because toxins that can cause food poisoning are produced in this temperature range, be safe and keep hot foods above 140° and cold foods below 45°.

• Contrary to what many people think, mayonnaise isn't what spoils salads and sandwich spreads; the culprit is the protein it's mixed with.
Follow the same guidelines for preparing foods containing mayonnaise
as for other perishables.

• Use an electric starter or cylinder to mound charcoal in the grill instead of using starter fluid. Liquid starters contain chemicals that can leave an unpleasant taste on food.

• Trim the fat before slapping that steak on the grill. Even if you don't eat the fat, some of it gets absorbed during cooking.
