Hope School To Have Lighted Softball Field

Otto Wood, manager of the Central Valley Electric Cooperative, Inc., was in Hope Wednesday morning and had a conference with Supt. John Moore in regard to installing lights on the softball field. This was made possible through the cooperation of Wallace Johnson, director, and B. L. McElroy, Mayor of Hope, giving the right of way to the Co-op., so that the line could be built. When the lights are installed this will be the best lighted field in Eddy county and will provide a source of entertainment and recreation for the young people of Hope and surrounding territory. With a lighted field there are possibilities that Hope might organize a softball team and join the Pecos Valley league, which will have teams located at Artesia, Lake Arthur, Hagerman and Dexter. And it will make it possible for the Hope school children to have games at night. The installing of a lighted ball ground at Hope is a step upward in the progress of the town.

DROUGHT IS BROKEN

The drought that has been holding out in the Penasco Valley for the past four months was broken Sunday night by a one-inch rainfall. And again on Monday afternoon heavy showers fell in the Hope territory. The mountain section also received a heavy downpour. There was so much water on the highway Monday that the mail carrier had a hard time to get through. When the water got too deep he borrowed a horse and brought the mail to Mayhill and he returned the same way. He believes in the slogan, "The Mail Must Go Through."

Livestock Entries Close September 15

Manager Leon H. Harms of the New Mexico State Fair issued a reminder this week to breeders of registered livestock who expect to exhibit at this year's fair that entries in all divisions of the livestock department close finally at 6 p. m., Monday, Sept. 15. The Sept. 15 closing date applies to poultry, Harms said.

"The outlook is for the largest livestock show we have ever had at this fair," Harms said as he pointed to inquiries piled high on his desk asking for premium books and entry blanks. "If half the breeders who have asked for information and entry blanks bring stock here we will be forced to supplement stall room with tents. In addition to more than the usual number of inquiries from New Mexico breeders, we have had inquiries from breeders of beef and dairy cattle, sheep and horses from nine states, the majority of them being from Arizona, Colorado, Oklahoma and Texas. I have just replied to a sheep breeder from Canada who is now touring California fairs with his show flock and who expects to come here." The fair opens Sept. 28.

Free Booths For County Exhibits

A completely remodeled and re-lit county exhibit section is being completed in the Agricultural Hall of the New Mexico State Fair, Manager Leon Harms has announced. The county booths, each 12 feet wide by 9 feet deep and with back wall 6 feet high, are being finished with permanent sloping floors and plate glass fronts. A working aisle at the back will permit easy access for placing and caring for exhibits. The booths are uniform as to size and equipment and are furnished free to counties entering exhibits.

Roosevelt county was the first of the state's 31 counties to enter a county exhibit, followed closely by Valencia and Bernalillo counties. Harms said that a booth is being provided for each county. He added that he hoped every county in the state would enter a county exhibit this year. The county booth entries must be made on or before Sept. 8, Harms said.

SQUARE DANCERS TO MEET SEPTEMBER 1

State Fair Race Meet To Set New High Mark

This year's New Mexico State Fair race meeting is going to set a new high mark in number of horses competing for larger purses and in quality of the horses competing, according to J. E. Knott, secretary of the State Racing Commission. Every available stall and tack room in the racing division of the fair grounds has been reserved, Knott said, adding that he is making every effort to find stable accommodation for several strings of horses that are nationally known. Among these is "Goldstreworth," owned by Lowden & Hyde, two women whose horses are well known on western tracks. "Goldstreworth" is coming here from the Caliente track in Lower California, where he recently won the Independence Day handicap. Mrs. Mary Ellis of Mexico City is bringing her famous racing string here and space has been made available for "Double Call," owned by W. A. Lancaster of Westcliffe, Colo., and now racing at Raton. A request for stable spaces has come from A. L. Petty, famous Ohio racing man, who wishes to bring six horses.

"We are going to start this year's meeting off with a bang," Knott said. "As now planned we will stage the matched race between Barbara B and Miss Banks on Sunday, Sept. 28, our opening day. Both Roy Gill of Tucson, owner of Barbara B, and Leon Gillespie of El Paso, who owns Miss Banks, have posted their forfeits. The race is for the world championship Quarter Horse plus $5000 each posted by the two owners."

SCHOOL ROOMS ARE BEING PAINTED

J. C. Stegall and Mr. Jones spent Monday in Carlsbad.

EDITORIAL

The editor of The Deming Graphic is hoping that Governor Mabry is going to move to Los Angeles year after next. In order to set the Deming editor right on that question, we predict that Governor Mabry will be elected to a second term and after that the voters may send him to Washington, D. C. And it sure hurts the Deming scribe that State Highway 83 is getting recognized by the State Highway department. According to his idea, all the road money should be spent on Highway 80. In last week's Graphic, he comments as follows: "Incidentally, that 4.4 miles . . . $700,000 . . . worth, is right in the heart of one commissioner's home county. And he is the big user of public roads." End quote. Over near Elk there is another project on Highway 83 that is being pushed as fast as men and machinery can do it. When all these projects are completed and the highway opened over the Sacramento Mountains Highway 83 will be the scenic highway of the state and will carry tourists from the west coast and tourists from the east coast of Texas to enjoy the cool breezes and the tall pines of the Cloudfcroft country.

HISTORY OF PAPER

PANEL 1: HISTORY HAS BEEN MADE BY PAPER BILLY. THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE IS OUR MOST FAMOUS DOCUMENT. GOSH, LOOK AT ALL THOSE GREAT AMERICAN NAMES.

PANEL 2: WRITING PAPER IS A MODERN CONVENIENCE. ACCORDING TO LEGEND, MONARCHS ONCE USED "HUMAN" LETTERS. THE MESSAGE IS COMPLETED, YOUR HIGHNESS. THE SLAVE MUST BE KILLED AFTER THE MESSAGE HAS BEEN DELIVERED.

PANEL 3: ANCIENTS WROTE MESSAGES ON PALM LEAVES, Papyrus, BEESWAX BOARDS, PIECES OF SILK AND SHEETS OF BEATEN BARK. PALM LEAVES ARE PLENTIFUL BUT IT'S SO HARD TO WRITE ON THEM. Papyrus STALKS CAN BE MADE INTO GOOD SHEETS FOR WRITING BUT THEY'RE DIFFICULT TO PREPARE.

PANEL 4: EARLY PAPER MADE FROM BARK, HEMP AND RAGS WAS SCARCE AND EXPENSIVE. NOT TILL THE 19TH CENTURY DID THE FRENCH NATURALIST REAUMUR SUGGEST MAKING PAPER FROM WOOD. THEN THERE WOULD BE LOTS OF PAPER, BECAUSE MAKES THIS PAPER BEST. THERE'S SO MUCH WOOD. NAH SHOULD BE ABLE TO MAKE PAPER FROM WOOD, TOO.

PANEL 5: EVEN DURING THE WAR OF INDEPENDENCE THERE WAS A SCARCITY OF PAPER. GENERAL HE SAYS "EXCUSE THESE SCRAPS OF COMMUNIQUE PAPER; NECESSITY OBLIGES ME TO USE THEM, HAVING NO OTHER FIT TO WRITE UPON."

PANEL 6: A STATIONER IN 1860 WAS THE FIRST TO PUT MATCHED WRITING PAPER AND ENVELOPES IN BOXES. I MUST REMEMBER THE NAME SO I CAN GET THE SAME KIND WHEN I NEED MORE. A LOVELY GIFT FOR YOUR COUSIN'S BIRTHDAY. IT HAS A WELL-KNOWN WATERMARK.

PANEL 7: AS MORE PEOPLE ASKED FOR THEIR FAVORITE STATIONERY, MORE PAPER MILLS STARTED AND MORE MEN WERE EMPLOYED. THERE SEEMS NO END TO THE WONDERS AND STYLES OF WRITING PAPER WE CAN MAKE ON THIS MACHINE. OUR BRAND IS POPULAR BECAUSE WE KEEP IMPROVING IT TO SATISFY THE TASTES AND NEEDS OF DIFFERENT PEOPLE.

PANEL 8: AS STATIONERY MANUFACTURERS MADE MORE PAPER TO PLEASE EVERYONE, THEY MADE IT AT A LOWER COST. TODAY, THE "LUXURY" NAMES IN WRITING PAPER CAN BE HAD BY ALL. GOSH, DAD I HOPE EVERYBODY LIKES I GET A LETTER WHEN TO GET LETTERS WRITTEN ON NICE STATIONERY.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Seek Conspiracy in High Prices; U.N. Warned on Greek Situation; Tax-Exempt Co-ops Are Studied

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Plane builder Howard Hughes sat aloof and alone amid a forest of chairs in a senate caucus room after the investigation of his aviation contracts had been abruptly and mysteriously called off. Hearings were scheduled to resume November 17.

CONSPIRACY: Probe Prices

Many Americans who have had to empty their pocketbooks to fill their larders probably have entertained, from time to time, the theory that current astronomical costs of living were a conspiracy of some sort.

Now Attorney General Tom Clark has been struck with the same idea, and he is dead serious about it—threatening jail sentences for anyone who can be proved to have conspired to keep prices of food, clothing and shelter in the stratosphere.

Assuming a "get tough" attitude, the justice department ordered a full scale investigation to determine whether there is any subterfuge behind high prices in the nation, as industry spokesmen hurried to point out that their records were unblemished and that they would welcome the uprooting of any existing evils.

In the meantime, the CIO full employment commission urged that congress be summoned into special session to restore price controls and roll back prices to where they were when OPA expired. Congressional committees were already looking into price increases in the East and Midwest.

The justice department's anxiety and its proposed drive to combat monopolists was one of the strongest indications yet that the government is gravely concerned with the possibilities of uncontrollable inflation in the nation.

MORE TROUBLE: UN Warned

The United States has put one more iron in the international fire as a result of the red-hot Balkan situation.

In a bluntly worded ultimatum, the U. S. told the United Nations security council that it would take

MAY SEND TROOPS

U. S. state and war departments have been reviewing the possibility that American troops ultimately may have to be sent to Greece, although officials do not believe such a move is necessary at the present.

direct action to defend Greece from Communist domination if the council and general assembly are unable to do the job.

That development followed a deadlock brought about two weeks previously when Russia vetoed an American plan to have a U. N. commission keep order along the northern frontier of Greece.

And it came on the heels of a report that a seven-nation subcommittee had been unsuccessful in finding a way to resolve the stalemate Russian and U. S. stands.

Delivered to the security council by Herschel V. Johnson, deputy U. S. delegate, the warning said:

"The continued failure of the security council to take effective action in this case because of the Soviet veto cannot, in the opinion of the U. S. government, preclude individual or collective action by states willing to act, so long as they act in accordance with the general purposes and principles of the United Nations."

What other nations might be willing to join the United States in "collective action" against Communist inroads in Greece was not immediately evident, however.

RED SAUCERS: Soviets Curious

Those flying disks were fun while they lasted, but by this time everybody has practically forgotten them.

Well, almost everybody. Latest report having to do with the aerial chinaware is that Soviet agents in the United States have been ordered to solve the mystery of the disks. Presupposing the report to be true, it means, at least, that the saucers were not of Russian origin as many at first believed.

Soviet espionage agents here are said to have been advised that the Kremlin believes the flying saucers might have some connection with army experiments on methods of knocking out enemy radar during bombing raids.

CO-OP INQUIRY: Two Questions

Although the public is not too well informed about it, one of the most important and fiercely waged domestic post war battles is that being fought between private business and cooperative enterprises.

Crux of the feud is the fact that cooperatives are tax-exempt, while private business is not. From this evolve two basic questions:

1. What effect does tax-exemption have upon growth of the cooperatives?
2. Is tax-exemption a factor of discrimination against private business?

A house small business subcommittee has begun an attempt to find the answers with an investigation of the cooperative community enterprise at Greenbelt, Md. In the Greenbelt case, business groups have charged that the government has aided the cooperative in keeping private business out of the development area.

This hearing, as well as others on the west coast, is being conducted by Rep. B. Walter Riehlman (Rep., N. Y.) as acting chairman of the subcommittee.

In view of the theory that taxes will remain high, compared with the past, for at least 50 years, according to economists, the tax-exemption feature of co-ops' existence will grow increasingly important.

DOUBLE TALK: Inter-American

Indications at the outset were that the 21-nation inter-American conference at Rio de Janeiro, officially called for the purpose of working out a permanent mutual defense treaty among American republics, might find itself more concerned with economic aid discussions.

U. S. policy, as guided by Secretary of State Marshall, will attempt to hold down to a minimum any Latin American hopes for United States loans. The North American delegation was expected, instead, to stress the fact that U. S. capital investments in South America are more available and healthier than outright loans.

Although some South American governments are slowly trending toward that same idea, public opinion is lagging, particularly because of Communist and nationalist-inspired anti-U. S. propaganda.

In the meantime, other of the republics were thinking in terms of a "little Marshall plan" for American aid to Latin America.

All in all, it looked like another exciting diplomatic period.

Changing WORLD

DOG JUMPS STAND ROCK . . . In the early 1880s, Henry H. Bennett, pioneer photographer, made first action shot of his son leaping across the gap between mainland cliff and towering Stand Rock landmark at Wisconsin Dells, Wis. An accident to a guide in the 90s caused the owners of the scenic property to prohibit further jumping. Recently, however, Bennett's grandchildren trained a large dog to make the leap (see inset) for benefit of amateur photographers.

S. marine corps band, here arrayed on the steps of the Capitol building in Washington, will play 62 engagements during its annual concert tour scheduled for towns and cities in the Midwest and Pacific Northwest. Under the direction of Maj. William E. Santelmann, the band each year attempts to cover a different section of the country on its concert tour.

Alaskan Indians Honored Lincoln on Totem Pole

Probably the only white man to have his figure carved on a totem pole was Abraham Lincoln, says Collier's. In 1867, the Tlingit Indians of Alaska learned that the United States, to which their country had just been sold, had abolished slavery and, therefore, it was illegal among them. To honor the man responsible for their freedom, the ex-slaves and their descendants for more than 50 years placed a huge carved statue of Lincoln atop their totem poles. Of the many made, only three have been preserved, one each in Juneau and Saxman, Alaska, and one in the Illinois State museum in Springfield.

Work Is Good

LESSON TEXT FOR AUGUST 31—Proverbs 6:6-11; 18:9; 24:30-32; Ecclesiastes 5:12.

MEMORY SELECTION—Whoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might.—Ecclesiastes 9:10.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

By WILLIAM CULBERTSON, D. D., Of The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

WISE indeed is that legislator who understands that there are two extremes to be avoided in dealing with the problems of the working man. The one extreme is that heartless, cruel exploitation of labor which grinds men to powder, which deals with individuals as chattel. The other extreme is to provide such an amount of free time for the individual that both his personal life and economic prosperity are in danger.

Work is good. It is well to keep in mind that before the fall man was commanded to tend the garden.

Life without purpose, life without activity for good, would be vain and actually intolerable.

I. An Illustration of Prudence and a Warning Against Indolence (Prov. 6:6-11; 18:9).

THE illustration from the creature world is apt. Ants, as this scripture states, have no overseer, and yet they are diligent in providing for the time of need.

It would seem as though they are constantly active in caring for present and future needs. In Palestine, where they may be active throughout the year, there is still the need of stored provisions for the rainy season, and so it is true that the ant gathers food in the harvest for future need.

The sluggard is described as one asleep, as one who is never satisfied, but constantly wants more slumber. Such folding of the hands, such indolence, brings poverty.

The man who fails to work is not guilty of omitting to do what he should do, but he is actually a robber of society. There is an active element involved in indolence; not only has the man failed to contribute, but, in addition, the good that he might have done has remained undone. The sluggard is therefore a brother to the destroyer (Prov. 18:9).

II. An Illustration of Indolence and a Lesson in Prudence (Prov. 24:30-32).

IT IS striking that the Word of God presents the ant as the illustration of prudence, but when it comes to an illustration of indolence it directs our attention to man.

The illustration is that of the man who is lazy, who is void of understanding. The Preacher visits him. Going to his field and vineyard, he finds it grown over with thorns, covered with vetches, and the stone wall broken down.

Instead of citing the particular lessons learned, the Preacher simply observes that he looked on, thought deeply, and received instruction. Perhaps the best antidote to laziness is to see it in its inaction. The squalid conditions, the inability to cope with emergencies that we normally see in the life of the man who wants only ease are sufficient to warn most of us against it.

Entirely apart from the dignity of labor, the homely recompense of being able to meet our own needs is the compensation of self-respect that initiative and resourcefulness bring. May we have a higher goal as we labor than merely providing for our own needs, though this is certainly important. Beyond it, of course, is the ability to help others also (cf. Eph. 4:28).

III. A God-Given Reward for Labor (Eccles. 5:12).

ONE of the great compensations of faithful labor is sleep. This passage speaks of the sleep of the laboring man as sweet. When as Christians we have fulfilled our duty, when we have given an honest day's work, the recompense of the Lord is surcease from labor.

The great stress of the Word of God is similarly on the man in authority doing that which is right for those who labor under him, and on the laborer, to be worthy of his hire. Thus does the Bible guarantee a cordial and happy relationship between employer and employee. When either party departs from biblical standards, chaos results.

Fifty boys from the orphanage next door were allowed to enter the grounds of the old Banning estate in Wilmington, Calif., each day while fifty Screen Actors Guild actors, aged five to eight, worked with Evelyn Keyes and Glenn Ford in Columbia's "The Mating of Millie." They were pretty critical—the young actors were playing orphans.

An original rhapsody by Oscar Levant has been included in the score of Warner Bros. "Romance in High C." Levant, who has a featured comedy role in the Technicolor musical, will play it in a night club sequence.

Fitting out Broderick Crawford for a policeman's uniform for "The Time of Your Life" was quite an affair. Going into the role in the William Cagney production on short notice, he borrowed Nat Pendleton's coat, Dick Foran's trousers and Ward Bond's shoes. Broderick says Pendleton is holding out for screen credit on the coat!

Many years ago one Sumner Getchell had a principal role in which Clark Gable, Charles Farrell, Janet Gaynor, Gilbert Roland and George Lewis were bit and extra players. When the picture was done he quit; said there was no future in that business. Recently he returned, for a character part in "Ever the Beginning." "I think maybe I was mistaken," said he.

Tony Martin's really going to work this fall. He'll continue his CBS Sunday night show, and star in "Casbah," a musical version of "Pepe Le Moko" at Universal-International. He'll also do a night club stint.

It's radio news that NBC has let down the bar on transcriptions. All these years Ralph Edwards has been putting on two complete "Truth or Consequences" shows each week, one for the east coast, a second one later for the west. The first four programs of the fall season will follow that procedure, but beginning October 4 the first show will be transcribed and broadcast later for the west coast.

Jackson Caused Treasury Building to Jut Into Street

The Treasury building in Washington, D. C., juts out into the street in the way of everybody because in the 1800s, during a discussion about the new location, President Andrew Jackson strode forth, stuck his cane in the ground and said: "The building shall be here."

And so today the Treasury building stands where it completely shuts off the view of the White House from the Capitol.

COLORFUL FIESTA GARB . . . Descendants of Spanish Conquistadores and Pueblo Indians will stage a re-enactment of their final peace treaty as a highlight of the Santa Fe Fiesta. Colorful costumes, like those worn by the Pueblo Indians (above), will add a reminder of the past to fiesta time.

IN THESE UNITED STATES

Historic Fiesta Commemorates Reconquest of Old Santa Fe

WNU Features.

SANTA FE, N. M. — "Hasta la Fiesta!" That old Spanish greeting resounds through the streets of Old Santa Fe as preparations near completion for the 235th annual edition of the historic Santa Fe Fiesta. Descendants of Spanish Conquistadores and Pueblo Indians once again will join together at the four-day Labor Day fiesta, opening August 29 and continuing through September 1, by staging a reenactment of their final peace treaty drawn up in 1692.

America's oldest community festival, the Santa Fe Fiesta, commemorates the reconquest of the southwest territory and especially of Santa Fe, the former Spanish capital, by Gen. Don Diego de Vargas in the year 1692. The reconquest came 12 years after the Indian uprising in which all Spanish persons north of the border fled back into Mexico or were killed.

Twenty years later, in 1712, Marquis de la Penuela, governor and captain general of the New Mexico territory, decreed that a fiesta should be held annually "for all time to come" in honor of the retaking of the City of Santa Fe. This was in keeping with a vow, made prior to the reconquest by General De Vargas, to hold a fiesta in honor of the Virgin of Guadalupe.

This annual celebration, prior to World War II, was one of the outstanding festivals in the country, with thousands of tourists coming to join with local Spanish-Americans, Mexicans, Indians and Anglos (Caucasians who have settled here from other states).

The colorful pageantry of the reconquest of the city, the covered wagon days parades, Indian markets and dances, native musicians with their folk music and dancing, often including, as it will this year, the importation of a Mariachi band or orchestra from Old Mexico, Conquistadores Baile or Ball, always have intrigued fiesta visitors.

This year for the first time since 1941, all major features have been included in the program and from the burning of Zozobra (a giant 100-foot figure of the god of gloom) on Friday evening, until the last musical concert on Monday evening, hilarity and the spirit of fiesta will reign supreme.

Sunday is given over largely to appropriate religious activities. Highlights include a procession to the church of high Catholic dignitaries, a high pontifical mass and an evening candlelight procession in which thousands of pilgrims bearing lighted candles wend their way through the streets, with luminarios and pinon fires helping to light their way.

Santa Fe, oldest capital city in the nation, will be decked out in gala holiday attire for fiesta time. Gay bunting and colorful banners will adorn city streets, and many residents will be decked in colorful old costumes reminiscent of early Spanish and Indian days.

Perched in mountainous country at an elevation of 7,000 feet, Santa Fe holds forth its cool, invigorating climate as an added lure for fiesta visitors. The city and the nearby area are replete with authentic historic sights which beckon to many tourists who, like the freighters of old, make their last stop at the terminus of the Santa Fe Trail.

Shure and Begorrah—She's Welcome to It

SPOKANE, WASH. — For 50 year an 82-year-old Englishwoman resentfully carried the Irish name of O'Connor.

She resented the name so much in fact, she told Judge Carl Quackenbush, that she delayed marrying her late husband for two years because she did not like the name. Moreover, she testified, ever since her marriage she has bewailed the fact that she was mistaken for an Irishwoman.

The court did not hesitate giving her back her maiden name of Elizabeth Jane Cook. The decision may have been prompted by the fact that she already had it engraved on her tombstone.

Minister Renounces Salary To Take Job As Railroad Laborer

LANARK, ILL.—Renouncing his church salary because of a "steady decline in revenue," the Rev. Harmon H. Bro, 27, pastor of the Christian church, has taken a job as a railroad section hand to support his family.

The minister, a Harvard graduate and son of a college president, told his congregation he will continue to serve the church without salary, which was $200 a month, including parsonage rent. He is married and the father of a baby daughter.

His job as a railroad section hand pays 85 cents an hour for a 48-hour week, a total of $177.66 a month.

In announcing his decision to take the job, Mr. Bro told his congregation:

"There are too many people in modern churches who think that the kingdom of God is just something you hire a preacher to worry about so the congregation can relax."

He explained that "only about 30" of the church's 100 members attend services regularly. Church income, he added, has been dropping regularly.

Fire Lookouts Watch For Careless Airmen

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.—Airplane pilots are supplanting careless motorists as the bane of U. S. forest service fire-fighters, according to Supervisor F. C. Koziol of Wasatch National forest.

It used to be that motorists carelessly flipping cigarettes from their car windows or knocking out pipe ashes were blamed for the majority of man-set forest fires. Now, Koziol says, fire lookouts have been warned to keep their binoculars trained on pilots of aircraft.

"It has been established in many instances that aircraft have flown over areas immediately before fire has broken out," he reports. "With no other causes discovered, there's a distinct possibility that burning material tossed from the planes caused the fires."

Dairy Barn Constructed At State Fair Grounds

Livestock show buildings at the New Mexico State Fair plant are being rounded out with construction of a dairy building, now under construction and which will be completed in time for use at this year's fair opening, Sept. 28. The new building is 307 feet long by 112 feet wide, will have a capacity for 150 dairy animals and will include a completely equipped dairy parlor in which the most modern equipment for handling and processing milk will be shown; also a dairy bar in which other dairy products will be sold during the annual fair.

Completion of its dairy show barn gives the New Mexico fair one of the most complete equipments in the west for livestock show purposes. The group include three large beef cattle barns, a sheep building, swine building, three large horse barns, exclusive of the 450-capacity racing barn equipment, and a poultry building.

Pickles, Relishes, Jams Satisfy Taste Needs During Meals

Late-in-season grapes are ideal for use as preserves, a jam-like product which gives a true lift to fall and winter menus. A true conserve contains raisins or nuts, or both, but they may be omitted.

Even though most of us like simple meals, well cooked and attractively served, there's an almost universal hunger for something tart or a bit of a sweet that we look for in addition to the basic foods.

This may take the form of a colorful tomato relish, a crisp green pickle, or a thick sweet jam or conserve. These accompaniments are often the finishing, "polished" touches to a meal that make the difference between a success or a failure in the food line.

Now that sugar is plentiful, we can indulge ourselves a bit in the way of sweet fruit mixtures. Pickles and other relishes don't require much sweetening, and there's enough in the gardens and on the markets to make our shelves both bulge and sparkle with other goodies.

Think of sandwiches and you immediately remember how good pickles are with them. Then, too, you can use them with meats, in dressings and sauces.

Bread and Butter Chips.
3 quarts sliced cucumbers
3 onions, sliced
5 1/2 cups cider vinegar
3 cups brown sugar
1 pod hot red pepper
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ginger
2 tablespoons mustard seed
1 teaspoon turmeric
1/2 tablespoon celery seed
1 piece horseradish

Soak the cucumbers and onions (separately) for 5 to 10 hours in brine, made by dissolving 1/2 cup salt in 1/2 gallon of cool water. Drain well. Add onions, 2 1/2 cups vinegar and 2 1/2 cups of water to the cucumbers. Simmer about 15 minutes. Do not cook until soft. Drain; discard liquid in which scalded. Make syrup by boiling the sugar and spices with 3 cups of vinegar and 1 cup water for 5 minutes. Pack well drained cucumbers and onions in hot jars. Cover with boiling syrup and seal at once.

This next is a variation of chili sauce that has seasonings you'll like. It has the same thickness as chili sauce when you have finished cooking it.

6 cups sugar
1 cup nut meats

Cook pulps down in their own juice until soft. Rub through colander to remove seeds. Combine skins and pulps with sugar and boil rapidly until thick. Add nuts and salt. Pour, boiling hot, into sterile jars and seal at once.

Plum Conserve.
