

Star Wars artists visit REH Museum - Jason Rosenstock (left to right), Alex Freed, Jeffery Visgaitis. Recently three men with a common bond of being involved with the Star Wars industry, visited the local Howard Museum. All were fascinated with the idea that they could actually visit the site where the fantasy genre was so finely tuned. And museum docent, Anne Rone, was equally fascinated with the backgrounds of the visitors. Jason Rosenstock from Austin is the co-founder and Creative Director of White Whale Games, and independent video game studio. Perhaps the most notable of his projects was working on the Star Wars: The Old Republic video game. At the same time, Alex Freed, a Senior Writer and Manager Editor at BioWare, a Canadian video company, was working on the game scripts for the Star Wars game. Freed, from Austin, also writes the dialogue for the comic books dealing with the Star Wars stories. The Star Wars comic book is produced by the Dark Horse Comics; the same company that contracts with Jim and Ruth Keegan to do the 4 panel comic strip about Robert E. Howard. The Keegans are regular attendees at the Howard Days. Joining Rosenstock and Freed was Jeffery Visgaitis from Pennsylvania Freed is an artist/writer with his own publishing company and had worked on the original Star Wars Triology with the other two fellows. Freed has long been interested in the Conan stories written by the local author. He admitted to having seen the Conan the Barbarian movie about as many times as he has watched the Star Wars Triology. Baird will commemorate Bankhead Highway drive with video, dance May 5th

Several communities in Eastland and Callahan County will celebrate the Historic Bankhead Highway, which ran through Baird and Clyde, on Saturday, May 5th.

The event called "Drive the Historic Bankhead Highway" will begin at 8:00 a.m. at the Roaring Ranger Museum with tours of the museum, registration of the event and maps of the Bankhead Highway

The "official" start time of the drive will begin at 9:30 a.m. in Ranger. There will be refreshments at several "stops" along the route, including:

• The Historic "Connellee Hotel" in Eastland.

• The Historic Conrad Hilton Museum in Cisco.

• The Baird T&P Depot Museum in Baird.

The drive will conclude in Baird with presentations starting at 2:00 p.m., including the showing of the video "History in Plain Sight...The Bankhead Highway" and slides by Dan Smith and meeting with Wallace Bennet.

Also on Saturday, May 5th beginning at 5:00 p.m. an "Oldies Dance' will be held in "The Arches in Baird. Barbeque sandwiches, chicken fajitas, chips, drinks and dessert will be available. Tickets for the dance are $2.50 per person.

Event organizers said motorcycles and vintage cars are especially welcome to come to the drive and enjoy the fun.

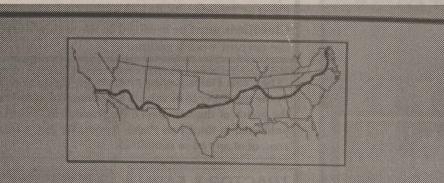

Event organizers also said they hope to make the drive an annual event and extend the drive into Abilene.

In recognition of the Bankhead Highway's route through Clyde, a sign will be erected inside the Clyde City Park recognizing the Bankhead Highway's path through Clyde. The Bankhead Highway became Highway 80 through Callahan County, which eventually turned into Interstate 20.

The sign to be erected in the Clyde City Park says:

TWC offers tips for teens and employers as summer hiring begins

AUSTIN - As summer approaches, the number of teenagers looking for work increases dramatically. According to a 2011 U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) study, the number of 16- to 19-year-olds employed or searching for work last year skyrocketed between April and July, increasing by more than 1.6 million workers to a total of almost 7 million in July.

"The Texas Workforce Commission is committed to helping prepare Texas' future workforce for competition in the global marketplace, and summer jobs are an important part of that equation," said Texas Workforce Commission (TWC) Chairman Tom Pauken. "These jobs can help Texas high school students learn the value of hard work and dependability while earning their own income."

TWC reminds employers, workers and parents to familiarize themselves with state and federal laws, as well as safety regulations that address child labor issues. Any person under the age of 18 is considered a child when employed. Federal and state detrimental health or well-being. Employers also must comply with wage and hour laws and regulations enforced by the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL), available online at www.youthrules.dol.gov.

"Safety should always be the most important factor concerning youths in the workforce, "said TWC Commissioner Representing Labor Ronny Congleton. "Teenagers, parents and employers should educate themselves on the child labor laws designed to protect our children."

In Texas, certain child labor laws apply to different age groups and different job types. For example, children aged 11 or older may deliver newspapers to customers on established routes. Children aged 14 or 15 may perform office and clerical work, some kitchen work, cashiering, bagging and carrying out customer orders, among other tasks, as long as it takes place during certain hours. Children aged 16 or 17 can perform work for any number of hours, as long as it is not deemed hazardous by DOL. Visit www.texasworkforce.org/ui/order to separate themselves from other applicants," TWC Commissioner Representing the Public, Andres Alcantar said. "It's never too early for a young person to explore their interests and learn valuable skills they will retain throughout their careers." Teens interested in job-search assistance and career resources should contact their local Workforce Solutions offices by visiting WorkInTexas.com. Older teens also may visit TexasInternship.jobs, the latest enhancement to TWC's arsenal of free online job resources. Judy Keel, actor Howard Keel's widow, spoke in Cross Plains

"Saturday night's fundraiser for the Cross Plains Library featuring former private investigator turned author, Joyce Spizer Foy, didn't turn out as expected. Joyce, having recently gone through a spinal procedure, was having severe back pains and could not attend. However, her close friend, Judy Keel, actor Howard Keel's widow, spoke instead. When library director Linda Burns, who was in Houston at the Texas Library Association (TLA) Conference, was told that Judy Keel was going to speak, TLA officials were so impressed that they announced it at the conference.

As Judy Keel arrived in town, it was obvious that she was down-to-earth and just loved Cross Plains. No, no, she didn't want any fried pickles from Staghorn where she ate lunch until she tasted one. Then she had to make herself stop eating them and took the rest with her. Keel took a tour of the library and was amazed by our building, books and programs. She even stopped buffalo at the school.

Steve Livingston Candidate for Callahan County Sheriff

Hello, Callahan County. My name is Steve Livingston and I would like to take a few moments to ask for your support as I seek to serve you as the Callahan County Sheriff. I believe we need a sheriff who will put Callahan County needs as priority number one. We need a sheriff who is focused on serving without the distractions of outside employment and is dedicated to serving our citizens. I am a career law enforcement officer and I take tremendous pride in knowing that I have spent my career working with the public. I believe this has helped me to forge the leadership qualities that I subscribe to and aspire to incorporate into our sheriff's department.

I believe it is important for all law enforcement personnel, especially those in leadership, to stay connected to the citizens they serve and I believe my record shows that I have done just that. I also believe that the leader of any endeavor is responsible for ensuring that those who serve under his leadership have ample opportunity for professional development and growth in their areas of service. I am committed to leading the most professional sheriffs department in West Texas. I believe positions of leadership in law enforcement demand the highest levels of integrity, work ethic, and commitment, both on the job and off. I have lived in Callahan County for almost twenty-five years and I have served as Mayor, as a City Council member, as a Chamber of Commerce member, and within the Kiwanis where I worked with our youth in the Key Club. I also served as a Callahan County Deputy under Mr. Windham's direction.

I can honestly say that I would not ask to be considered for this position if I believed that the leadership of our Sheriff's Department was meeting the needs of Callahan County. In fact, Mr. Windham would have not only my vote, but also my full support, if I believed that he was putting adequate emphasis on professional leadership, professional integrity and professional service. I expect the best for Callahan County and I do not believe Mr. Windham is the best man for the job. I believe I can serve you in a manner that will make you proud of YOUR Sheriffs Department. Given the chance, I will not only provide direction within the department, I will work with our deputies to serve Callahan County. I will lead a proactive department. We will have a positive presence within our county and will foster a level of professionalism that will support the successful prosecution of crimes committed here. While some would have you see me as merely a traffic cop, I can assure you that my experience is diverse and that my commitment to excellent police work is unwavering. Additionally, my record shows that I have honored the professional commitments that I have made. I am thankful that the Abilene Police Department took a chance on me in 1984. I was honored when they recognized me as "Rookie of the Year" from a very talented cadet class. I responded by serving the citizens of Abilene for almost twenty-five years. I am proud of my service and I understand the importance of consistency and perseverance in an effective law enforcement agency. Now, I want to serve you.

I ask for your trust, your support, and your vote for Callahan County Sheriff. If given the opportunity, I give you my word that I will work to serve you with integrity, dedication, and professionalism. I will be a great steward of the position and will be committed to the highest of standards. I thank you for your consideration and ask only for the opportunity to show what effective leadership can do for our sheriffs
