Ice Cream with the Methodists

"Ice cream, ice cream, we all scream for ice cream!" And thus, the premise of the annual ice cream crank-off at the Methodist Church. Like many such events that stem from somebody's off-the-cuff comment, this fun fellowship activity was launched three years to coincide with the dedication of the park area adjacent to the church. And then, somebody offered to grill some hot dogs.

As is the pattern for any such event anywhere, anytime, people quickly offered to organize the whole thing and to bring everything needed to make it happen.

Can after can of delicious ice cream concoctions challenged the five person judging team. In addition to the official winner, everybody had one vote to indicate their favorite in the people's choice category. After a bunch of fun awards were presented, the coveted "Ice Cream Champion" crown was plunked on one head. Larry immediately threw down the gauntlet for the next competition. Edna won it last year and now it's waiting for a new head.

On Sunday, July 1, 4:00 p.m., the event will be repeated and everybody is invited. Those wishing to have their ice cream entered in the competition must have their tanks of home-made ice cream in the kitchen of the

Bloodmobile Coming July 3

The Meek Blood Center bloodmobile will be at First Baptist Church in Cross Plains on Tuesday, July 3 from 1:00 p.m. until 6:00 p.m. Donors are needed to make sure an adequate supply of all blood types is available for the 4th July holiday. There is always an increased chance of accidents due to increased travel during holidays.

Meek Blood Center recently revised their guidelines regarding many medications and medical conditions, which will quality more people as blood donors. Those who have been deferred for medications and medical conditions in the past, are asked to call 325-670-2798 to inquire about eligibility.

Blood donors are needed on a daily basis to take care of patients with a variety of medical needs and conditions. The need for blood transfusion is usually immediate, and adequate supply of all blood types that has been processed and tested must be available at all times. There is no artificial substitute for human blood. All blood products used for blood transfusions must come from volunteer donors. Meek Blood center supplies all of the blood used for patient care at seventeen area hospitals covering fourteen counties.

Ruth Dye Fisher's life's work was Volunteerism

RUTH DYE FISHER

Ruth Dye Fisher

Ruth Dye Fisher passed from this life to the next on Saturday, June 23, 2012 at her home in Baird, Texas. She was born in the Indian Territory of Oklahoma on November 23rd, 1911, to John Mac and Mallie Miller Dye. In 1922 the family moved by covered wagon to northwest Texas.

A few short years later she met the love of her life, Marvin Earl Fisher. They married in 1929 in Brownfield, Texas. Marvin entered the Christian ministry in the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church soon after their marriage. Her ministry then became one of supporting her husband in this endeavor.

Along with her commitment to her husband's vocation, Ruth also accomplished her own rewards by obtaining her Registered Nurse's license and serving as a bedside angel for many years. She received her educational training at both Howard County Community College in Big Spring, Texas, and the University of California, Los Angeles.

Ruth's commitment to her husband and son was matched only by her commitment to serving the needs of her community. Wherever the bishop sent the couple, Ruth quickly discovered a need in the community and began work to fulfill that need.

Marvin and Ruth spent 39 years meeting the spiritual and physical needs of parishioners and community members of various towns in northwest Texas. They were privileged to share their 50th wedding anniversary in 1979. Marvin passed to his reward in 1981.

Ruth's service to her community was not complete, however. After selling her home in Lubbock and moving to be near her only son, the Rev. Delton E. Fisher, in Baird, she began a work of service to her new community that has lasted more than 20 years.

The single act of helping a struggling family traveling through Baird by gathering together some food and clothing; began a movement that has blessed the lives of thousands.

In the basement of the local Methodist Church, Ruth began to organize a clothing and food "store", later to be known as the "Baird Mission of Miracles" to help the needy of Callahan County.

Today, the "Baird Mission of Miracles" is housed in the former US Post Office building, on East 2nd Street in downtown Baird.

Ruth purchased this building for the "Mission" by raising $20,000 in just ten days of fundraising.

She has faithfully served her community by overseeing this mission with the assistance of the Ministerial Alliance and a Board of Directors from 1982 until 2010. Ruth was a faithful and active member of the First United Methodist Church of Baird.

She retired from her life of volunteerism, only when her body could no longer sustain her efforts. However, she continued to provide her family and her community with great love and wisdom. She was always ready for a domino game and a chat up until the last few days of her life.

Her dedication to volunteerism and just plain, helping others when there is a need; is the essence of what it means to be an American: helping a neighbor in need and yes, Ruth's life was the epitome of that description.

Ruth is survived by her granddaughters, Eugenia Ruth Gilley of Canyon, Texas, and Janice Rose Fannin and husband Terry of Baird, Texas; her daughter-in-law Rose Fisher Brooker and husband Lee Roy of Baird, Texas; 2 great-granddaughters, Kris Magistro of Clyde, Texas, and Cari Waller and husband Jason of Eustice, Florida; 3 great-grandsons, Jon Gilley of Baird, Texas, Carl Van Hoose of Providence Village, Texas, and Rick Fannin and wife Jennie of Abilene, Texas; 8 great-great-grandchildren; very special friends Theresia Roundtree, Jimmie Campbell, and Lisa McCarty; and her wonderful angels from IntegraCare Hospice of Abilene.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Marvin, and her only son Delton E. Fisher.

Viewing will be held all day Thursday, June 29, 2012 at Parker Funeral Home, and a visitation with morning coffee will be held at the First United Methodist Church of Baird on Friday, June 29, 2012, from 9:00 until 10:30 AM.

Family and friends will depart at 10:30 AM for Elmwood Memorial Park in Abilene, Texas, for Graveside Services with Chaplain Aaron Coleman officiating.

A Celebration of Life Service will be held on Tuesday, July 3, 2012, at 6:00 PM at the First United Methodist Church of Baird with Pastor Robert Stone, Jason Waller, and Carl Van Hoose officiating.

All services are under the direction of Parker Funeral Home of Baird, Texas.

Memorial gifts may be made to the Baird Mission of Miracles; FUMC Baird; Moran Order of the Eastern Star Chapter No. 591; Methodist Children's Home in Waco, Texas; the American Cancer Association, or to the donor's favorite charity. Addresses for the above can be obtained through Parker Funeral Home of Baird, Texas.

Cottonwood News

Beverly Brown

Be sure you are watching out for snakes! One lady killed four copperheads near the creek here in Cottonwood.

Gardens in the community are putting out yellow squash, zucchini, cucumbers and a variety of other vegetables.

Lots of Cottonwood folks came out and enjoyed dinner and seeing the coon dogs last Saturday evening. The Bench Show was well attended. Some of the local kids showed off the coon dogs in the Kids' Bench Show. We'll have photos and winners of the bench show and the until next week. Sid and R.W. did a great job playing at the dinner. Everyone enjoyed the brisket, chicken and ribs—especially the cakes baked by the ladies in the community. Thanks to everyone who helped out cooking, baking or serving at the dinner—and a big "Thank You" to the Cottonwood Baptist Church for the use of their Family Center.

The next Cottonwood Musical is Friday, July 6th. Come out and enjoy the music and the food. The Cottonwood t-shirts will be available in a variety of colors at the musical.

Vacation Bible School is coming up in the middle of July at Cottonwood Baptist Church.

Wanda Hammel of Canyon Lake is here visiting with her sisters and brother, Dena Nickerson, Billie Kelly, Mary Ella Weaver and H.D. Weaver. Shirley Byrd from Keller was visiting over the weekend. Lots of other family members came in for the E.E. Weaver Family Reunion. We'll have a list of the family at the reunion in the column next week.

The Woody Reunion is coming up in a few weeks, July 14th at the Cottonwood Community Center.

Martha and Jerry Crawford of the Lubbock area were here at their place recently.

Many Cottonwood families are represented in the new Cross Plains Remembered Book. This "Volume 2" has photos of the Bennett, Coats, Kelly, Weaver, Wooten, Bowen, Childers, Wilcoxon, Bush, Parrish and several other Cottonwood families. You can find the book at Texas Heritage Bank, the Senior Center and at the Cross Plains Public Library.

Remember the burn ban is off. If you're planning on burning, you need to either notify the Sheriff's department or your local Fire Chief Joe Terstegge. Joe's number is 254-725-7281. They need to know that you are doing a control burn, so they don't dispatch a fire truck out to you when one of your neighbors sees smoke in the sky.

Available NOW

Cross Plains Remembered Volume 2, the second Cross Plains Remembered book is on the stands and available now at Texas Heritage Bank, the Senior Center, Salamander's, Lawrence Farm and Ranch Supply, Cross Plains Review, Cross Plains Library or Connie's Cuts and Curls. The book is $20.

The new book features more photos, other material gathered at the scanning events at the Senior Center this spring. In fact, so much material came in during those scanning events that it wouldn't all fit into Volume 2. Rather than condense the histories and not use some of the photographs, the material has been divided into two books. So a third book, Cross Plains Remembered Volume 3 will be available in late August.

Family histories and photos, school photos, photos of Burkett, Pioneer and surrounding areas, Veterans photos and lots of others are in the Cross Plains Remembered Volume 2.

To order a copy of Cross Plains Remembered Volume 2 or Volume 1, send $20, plus $4.50 shipping to:

Barbarian Festival
P.O. Box 741
Cross Plains, TX 76443.

We will send one out to you. Just specify which book you'd like us to send. If you'd like one of each or two of Volume 1 or 2, send $6 shipping instead of $4.50.

Pioneer Quilting Club by Marqueta Westbrook

Hello to everyone. I hope your summer is going well. Our club met last Tuesday and the members present were Olena Ezzell, Glenda Phillips and Marqueta Westbrook. Olena's daughter, Linda, visited with us.

We are quilting on a beautiful quilt that Linda pieced of the fifty states with the state birds and the state flowers embroidered on each block. After lunch Lou Grider came and were really glad to have her back with us. She has been absent for a while with a broken wrist and we have missed her....so glad she is out and about again.

Don and Wanda Nelson stopped by for a while and then went to lunch with us. We always enjoy their visits. Many thanks to the Flippin family for their generous donation to our building fund. Also the Pioneer Ex-Student Association presented us with two checks for the repair of the club house. We really appreciate their generosity and thoughtfulness.

D.P. and May Jones gave a donation in memory of Chuck Penell, Lou Grider's son. We are very grateful for that. Thanks to all of you for thinking of our club.

Norma Tucker has started piecing our quilt for the annual Rehab auction. She is doing a wonderful job on it. She pieced the striking Kaleidoscope quilt we donated last year and I personally think this one is going to be even prettier. Come by and visit us any Tuesday. You are always welcome. And remember, "when life throws you scraps, make a quilt."

Use Caution During Fourth of July Holiday

College Station, Texas—With Independence Day celebrations drawing near, Texas Forest Service officials are reminding residents to exercise caution outdoors and remember that just one spark can cause a devastating wildfire.

About 90 percent of wildfires in Texas are human-caused, which means they can be prevented. As residents enjoy building a campfire, shooting off celebratory fireworks in approved areas or cooking on the grill, they're asked to take a few safety precautions to ensure their homes and families are protected.

Texas Forest Service Wildland Urban Interface and Prevention Coordinator Justice Jones said that while drought conditions have improved for much of the state, wildfire potential still exists—especially in areas where consecutive days of hot temperatures have dried out the vegetation.

"We don't want to discourage anyone from enjoying the holiday; we just want to remind people that Texas is still prone to wildfire danger," Jones said. "We're still seeing almost daily local activity in some parts of the state."

There are several things you can do to help prevent wildfires:

*Check for and obey burn bans and fireworks restrictions.

*If outdoor burning is allowed, create a firebreak (down to bare dirt) around an outdoor fire before igniting the materials to be burned.

*Keep water nearby just in case a fire starts. It doesn't take much of a spark or burning ember to ignite dry, fine-textured fuels like grass and weeds.

*Read and follow label instructions on how to properly discharge fireworks.

*Only use fireworks with close adult supervision.

*Use fireworks only in areas clear of dead, dry grass and weeds.

*Avoid using fireworks, particularly aerial varieties, around buildings. Winds can carry hot fireworks onto roofs where leaves or other flammable debris may have accumulated.

Burn bans and fireworks restrictions are determined by county government. Texas Forest Service does not take a position on the use of fireworks nor does the agency determine, set or lift any restrictions on fireworks.

Visitors Continue After Howard Days — Dale Young and Graem Shakespeare from Brampton, Ontario, Canada are shown above as they toured the Robert E. Howard Museum just a few days after the annual Howard Days. In spite of having missed the big event, they nonetheless enjoyed their private tour. They readily admitted that visiting Texas has long been their "bucket list" with Cross Plains being at the top of that list. Graem is a student at Sheridan College in Brampton, studying filming in the visual and performing arts department. His long interest in Howard's fantasy stories, as well as the westerns provided his real interest in seeing where all these stories originated. Editor's Note: This will be the final publication of this winning story (through Chapter 2) written by Dania Delgadillo, 11th Grade, due to its extremely lengthy text. Your curiosity will be whetted, and you can read the remainder of the story at the Cross Plains Public Library during their regular hours. Vanda Anderson-Draper

"The Guardians of Nemor"

The day began with sound of people buzzing about town merrily and the laughter of both the young and old, even the sun seemed a little brighter than usual, as I walked through the colorfully decorated town; on this day the royal family was required to mingle with the people to represent how we are a part of the community, not just the rulers of it.

As a small girl with bright red cheeks and dark brown hair handed me a daisy, a young man named Raiden, with hay colored hair and exceptionally light brown, almost honey colored eyes approached me. "Happy birthday princess!" He announce enthusiastically as he handed me a pink rose. "Why thank you kind sir!" I replied while curtsying sarcastically, we both laughed and went off on our own together. "So, anything special for you today princess?" he asked. "No thank you," I said, shaking my head. "Oh, I'm sorry, are you trying to watch your figure?" he asked mockingly and I shook my head as I laughed. Raiden and his family are candy makers, the best for miles around, and every year Raiden would prepare my favorite candies, usually raspberry chocolates, as a birthday present from the candy makers, but this year I didn't want candy, all I wanted this year was to escape this place and cross the Woods to see what was on the other side.

"I want to travel to the other side of Woods," the words just burst through my lips before I even thought of keeping them inside me. "You want to what?" Raiden exclaimed flabbergasted. "I want to see the other side of the Woods," I repeated in a mischievous, secretive tone and I looked into Raiden's eyes with excitement. "Ardenia, you already put yourself in enough trouble by going into the Woods anyway! You know that place has a bad reputation! And you want to go to the other side?" Raiden said, going into a rant. "Yes, I do," I said in a serious voice as I looked straight into his eyes. "Well, all right then, let's go explore the other side of the Woods," Raiden whispered with excitement, and we took off, sprinting full speed towards the Woods.

Now, about Raiden, he has been my best friend ever since we were children, my parents and I would go to the can shop to buy sweets every time there was a special occasion to celebrate and one of those days a little boy emerged from behind the counter to give me a special treat. He handed me a piece of freshly made raspberry chocolate; it was very rare at the time because most of the raspberry bushes, among other crops, had been demolished by the warfare and bushes were just recently being replanted. To me this was new, since I had never had a raspberry before in my life. I bit the chocolate and found the taste of it so sweet and rich that I decided to save the piece so I could have small bites of it for days to come. I cherished the chocolate dearly and I considered it such a treasure that I decided to thank the boy that had given it to me, so I returned to the shop with my very favorite stuffed toy knight in my hand and asked for the boy with the raspberry chocolate.

"Why, your highness! There's no need for that!" exclaimed the man behind the counter, but I didn't care what anyone told me, I had to thank the one who had given me such delicacy! As I awaited the return of the man behind the counter, I indulged in the sight and smell of all the candies and I thought how lucky a kid must be to live in a house full of candy, but my daydream was quickly interrupted as I heard the man's voice again, "Come on son, go and say hello to the princess," he said encouragingly. I saw the little boy peek around the small swinging door with squeaky hinges and finally he emerged completely. "Hi," I said shyly. "Thanks for the chocolate," I said as I handed the boy the stuffed toy knight. He reached out slowly and stared at the toy in admiration, as if he'd never seen a toy before and when he had the toy in his arms, he caressed it and said, "Thank you princess." I looked at him and giggled "My name's not princess," I said, "My name is Ardenia! What's yours?" I said expectantly. "My name is Raiden," he replied with a smile on his face. From that day on, Raiden and I became best friends, sharing many days together in tow, but Raiden would never enter the Woods, not unless, I asked him to accompany me into the Woods for my birthday.

We had been wandering in the Woods for a few hours and the sun was receding into the horizon when Raiden decided he'd had enough of the Woods for one day. "Oh, come on Raiden! We're not even into the deep part of the Woods yet!" "Yeah well, there's a party going on tonight, just in case you didn't know and I'd like to get back to it!" Raiden said taking a few steps back towards the kingdom. Well, how about we skip the party," these words made Raiden stand up as straight as a tree around us, "let's skip the party and run to the together end of the Woods together!" "Ardenia, you know we can't," Raiden said in disbelief that I had made such a suggestion. "Who says we can't, huh? The people? My parents? Your parents?" I felt anger rising inside of me, anger towards the fact that I could never do as I pleased, just because of what someone might say. "No, because I don't want to be out here anymore. This place gives me the creeps!" He looked around as if searching for something that might attack him. "Fine then, you go back into town and I'll just keep wandering in the Woods," I said very matter-of-factly. "Look, if I don't think this place is safe for me, what makes you think I consider this place to be safe for you?" "Because I know it better," I said fluttering my eyelashes. Don't make me force you back into town," Raiden replied in an authoritative manner. "And how are you going to do that?" I asked mockingly. "You think I can't?" Raiden said. "Give it your best shot!" soon as the words escaped my mouth Raiden kissed me.

Raiden's kiss was a sweet and warm as the fresh raspberry chocolate he had given me once, but the kiss didn't last as long as the chocolate. As soon as he'd captured my attention, he looked at me, laughed and ran back towards the Kingdom. I stayed in shock for a few minutes giving Raiden a good head start, but once I snapped back into reality I chased at full speed after him, not sure if I wanted to strangle him or kiss him again. I was right on his heels when we entered the kingdom and everyone was almost ready for the festivities and there were big groups gathering in the center of town, ready to start the celebration. Raiden had hidden in between the crowds and as I was about to plunge in to look for him, mother found me. "Ardenia! Darling, we've been looking all over for you! You know how important this day is and you decide to go gallivanting into the wood?" "Sorry mom, I just can't help it!" I said shrugging my shoulders. "Well, never mind that, it's time for the festivities to begin!" She exclaimed with a smile on her face, "Great!" I replied sarcastically.

Throughout the night people brought me gifts, mostly consisting of handcrafted trinkets or freshly made food, the people feasted, sang, danced and laughed all throughout the night until it came time to settle down and rest, then the town was dark, quiet and solemn; it seemed as if the town itself had gone into a deep slumber and was now deserted, awaiting to be awakened once again. It was at this time that I had decided to go exploring once more, hoping to reach the other side of the Woods and it was at this time that Raiden decided to scare me half to death. "Enjoy you party princess?" He whispered as he came up behind me. "As much as I'll ever be able to," I replied in relief to know it was him. "I suppose you're going to an after party now aren't you?" he asked regretting to hear the answer he already knew was coming. "Yes, I am," I replied calmly and coolly, "I thought I might have convince you to not go in there again," he chuckled. "I think it'll take a lot more to convince me to not go into the Woods again," I answered and the rest of the walk into the Woods was silent.

"I still don't see how this place doesn't seem creepy to you!" Raiden said, still weary of the Woods. "Because I'm not a baby, unlike some people," I said mockingly and Raiden laughed.

"At least we're halfway through this dreadful place!" Raiden said loosening up a bit. We kept walking and we kept very little conversation because I was too excited to be an interesting conversational partner, and Raiden was too nervous to even talk, so we just decided to walk in silence until, finally, we reached our destination and conversation sparked, "So, here we are at the other side of the Wood! Now let's go back." I looked at Raiden and said, "The point wasn't to just cross the Woods, the point was to see what's on the other side, silly!" "Well, it's still too dark to see anything and the sun doesn't come up for hours to come!" Raiden whined. "Well, I suppose we'll just have to sit here until the sun does come up!" I said stubbornly and sat down.

We had only been sitting for an hour when I saw strange lights in the distance. Raiden had been sleeping and he hadn't seen them at this time, so I shook him slightly to wake him. "Raiden, wake up! Look at those light! What do you think they are?" Raiden was shaking off his sleepiness as he noticed the light, "I don't know, I've never seen light like those!" The lights seemed to be on the top of sticks but they didn't hang, they swirled, not like a fire but like an orb of light that swirled around the top of the stick. We stared at the lights until they were half the distance away from us that they had been originally. That's when Raiden whispered something that chilled my entire body all the way to the core of my bones, "Lurkers," he whispered. "What?" I asked, my vice cracking. "Those lights, they're Lurkers!" he said in a normal voice. "How do you know?" I replied with fear shaking my voice. "My parents told me about the lights, it's the energy of their leaders, all the leaders have the power of lightning and they can control that energy into orbs for light and heat," he said with secrecy in his voice. "We have to tell everyone," I whispered and as soon as I said this, the Lurkers were so close to us now that we could hear their footsteps. They were running and as soon as their proximity sunk into our mind, Raiden whispered, "Run!"

Raiden and I sprinted though the Woods with the Lurkers nearing us quickly and the kingdom lying at quite a long distance ahead of us. "Raiden, this what I want you to do, you must warn the guards and my father, while I try to take out some of them," I said catching my breath. "I can't let you do that Ardenia!" "Well, you're going to have to!" I said frustrated. "I won't leave you!" he shouted back and I stopped dead in my tracks. "In the name of the king, I order you to warn the guards and leave me, or so help me you will beheld with charges of treason against the king!" I shouted at the top of my lungs and my voice sounded as if it was not my own. It sounded like the voice of someone with authority, like the voice of a ruler should sound. "I'm sorry," I continued. "It's the only way you'll leave me here." Raiden only nodded an continued running towards town; I followed him until I reached the edge of the Woods, there I climbed a tall tree and positioned myself to shoot.

I waited for the Lurkers to come closer and thankfully, the sun had risen enough for me to spot my targets, but not enough for them to discover my hiding spot. As they started to reach the tree line, I began to shoot Lurkers that were closer to the back because if I shot the ones in the front they'd be sure to warn their colleagues; one thing I've made sure to remember about Lurkers is that you either decapitate them or shoot them straight in the heart. Those are the only two methods of killing a Lurker, otherwise they can use their super healing to fix any wound, but it's a tad bit hard to reattach your limbs or fix a gaping wound in your heart.

Once in a while I looked behind me and saw that in the kingdom war had broken out. I could hear the men fighting for their lives and I could hear the blood curdling screams of women and children as they were having horrible things done to them. But I didn't stop my own fight, I continued to keep my aim steady and doing off with as many Lurkers as I could. I was up to at least twenty when it happened, as I readied my arrow to shoot I felt a surge of energy run through my body and then I felt consciousness slipping away from me, up until the point I realized I was falling from the tree, then consciousness slammed straight back into my body.

As I helplessly fell toward the ground, I thought of my family and the pain they would go through and I thought of Raiden and wondered if I had actually liked kissing him or not, after this thought I closed my eyes ready to meet my fate when I saw a ray of lightning coming towards me and finally striking my body filling it with that same energy I'd felt before. The ray pinned me against a tree halfway up the trunk of it, until something disrupted the person who fired the ray and in that moment I was free. I landed on a branch and once I steadied myself climbed down the tree onto safe ground. I ran to the spot where I supposed my attacker had shot, and off in the bushes I saw flickers of lightning and I heard grunting as if two people were wrestling. As I stared at the bush, the Lurker popped out and spotted me, so I drew an arrow and shot him in the hear but not before he had the chance to strike me with the ray of lightning again. I fell to the ground feeling weak then a cloaked figure approached me and scooped me up into their arms. It was man, his grip steady and strong, they carried me all the way to the edge of the kingdom and set me on my feet. He held onto my shoulders and made sure I was strong enough to stand and he gave me comforting smile before he ran back to the Woods.

Library's Summer Reading Program Well Attended

The Cross Plains Public Library's Summer Reading program is going strong with guest speakers and fun stories and crafts! Miss Sue's Little Investigators enjoyed a mystery story and a short film while learning about mystery hounds and cat burglars. The kids made a take-home Detective Basil puppet, the character from Basil of Baker Street books and The Great Mouse Detective movies.

Author and motivational speaker, Nancy Robinson

Masters, talked to the kids about the importance of reading and writing while sharing ideas from her many published books. She reminded them that they have the "Freedom to Read 'em" based on the philosophy. "If you can read and write, you have power!" Masters related reading to flying an airplane and all the students had a great time learning to fly!

A grant from the Brown Foundation, Inc. has made it possible to have wonderful guest speakers and special activities for the children in our community.

The library will be closed next Wednesday to observe Independence Day. The next scheduled program will be Wednesday, July 11th. We will take a field trip to Pat Gordzelik's rocketry exhibit. Children MUST have a signed parental permission to be able to ride the bus to the location south of town. Register soon, since tis is a very popular program and the seating on the bus will fill up fast!

Howard Days 2012 Draws Favorable Comments

Thanks to the immediacy of the internet, Project Pride, members were receiving comments and reactions to the recent Robert E. Howard Days almost before the Museum and Pavilion had been cleaned. Approximately 135 people had traveled to Cross Plains from a close as Gatesville and Austin to as far away as Florida, California, Washington, D.C. and Washington state to join about 45 local folks in sharing in the full range of activities spread over the two day on June 8-9.

Even the delightful foursome from Scotland returned for the third year.

From Jeff in FL came, "another Howard Days has come and gone, and with it the euphoric high that can only come with 72 plus hours of full immersion in something you have a true passion, alongside dozens of others who share your compassion."

Paul, our favorite guy from Hollywood, kept making trips to the ATM, "Cross Plains and all it entails is my favorite charity!"

Also from CA, Barbara posted that, "when I see the welcome sign at the edge of Cross Plains, I breathe a sigh of pure joy—it just feels like I'm coming home." Then she makes a bee-line to the DQ for a chocolate dipped cone!!!!

Al in Arkansas wrote, "Amy and I have started checking out the off season in Cross Plains, just to see some of the wonderful sights we can never squeeze into our Howard Days trips."

Joe, who is almost a neighbor in Gatesville, "This indeed was one of the best ever Howard Day." From CA, came a comment from Jay and Nickos, "Had a great time with everybody."

Scott from NC, "thanks for all you hard work and hospitality. You make it all a really memorable experience for us all." This was right before he returned to his cardiologist duties at a huge hospital.

And Dierk from Japan e-mailed, "hopefully this year's Howard Days turned out to be the success everybody was working so hard for. Planning to be there next year." Charles from Cross Plains has also asked about the date for the 2013 Howard Days, as a friend from MN wants to get it on his calendar.

Jeff also noted that this was "my favorite Howard Days; more relaxed with many gracious and welcoming folks in Cross Plains."

With the flood of similar comments, is it any wonder that the Project Pride members look forward to this event every year also? Arlene, as President of Project Pride, adds a comment to those from afar, "our core group of organizers really outdid themselves this year. A truly amazing group, they just all stepped forward in their special areas and recruited the other necessary volunteers to make it all happen."

Baird Cemetery Association News By Tom Ivey

Our mowing crew dispatched the Blue Bonnet stalks just before Mother's Day in order to have the grounds neatly trimmed for that very important day. The crew is mowing this week in, preparation for the July 4th Holiday.

We sincerely hope that this mow will bring a good rain to our area. It would be wonderful to get back to the pattern of prior years when a good rain followed each mowing.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The City of Cross Plains is would like to remind its citizens of the Nuisance & Weed Ordinance. Due to the large amount of rain that we have received this Spring, the weeds have grown extremely tall and over the limit for what the Ordinance calls for. If you own lots that have not been mowed, you must take care of having them
 mowed to avoid the City mowing the lots sending you a bill or attaching a lien against your property. If you have any questions concerning the Ordinance, please contact City
 Hall at 254-725-6114.

Festival by the Lake is this Friday and Saturday

The annual Festival by the Lake at Clyde Lake, sponsored by the Clyde Festivities Committee, is scheduled for Friday and Saturday, June 29th and June 30th, and according to the festival coordinator, festival plans are coming together quickly for another large Independence Day celebration.

According to the City of Clyde Festival Project Coordinator, Terry Davis, there are some 12-15 vendors scheduled to sell wares at this year's festival, along with some five or six food booths. He said some of the food items available Friday and Saturday include bar-be-cue sandwiches, hamburgers, corn dogs, chicken on a stick, hot dogs, curly fries, funnel cakes, cotton candy, snow cones, ice cream, soft drinks and water. Davis said one vendor is planning to offer all types of fried desserts.

"We're going to be full up on booth spaces," Davis said early this week. He said that only 4 or 5 booth spots are still available, however he said they could always add more if needed.

Officials for the Fourth of July Festival at Clyde Lake reported there will again be two fireworks displays at dark on both Friday and Saturday night. "At this point, the fireworks displays are definitely a go," Davis said.

Davis said Jason Gray and Hughie Gray with Gray Electric will provide funding for a fireworks display on Friday night, June 29th.

Davis said this year's fireworks displays will take place at dark on Friday, June 29th and Saturday, June 30th, on the south end of Clyde Lake. The City of Clyde will not be purchasing commercial grade fireworks again this year, but will instead purchase personal grade fireworks. He said Jason, and his father, Hughie, will ignite both fireworks displays at Clyde Lake. Davis said both Jason and Hughie are very experienced in igniting fireworks, having set off fireworks at Lake Brownwood and Putnam's community displays for a number of years.

The festival coordinator said a number of area businesses will again purchase fireworks for a second showing on Saturday, June 30th at dark at Clyde Lake. Those assisting with the second fireworks show include: City of Clyde, ACI Enterprises, Blake Fulenwider Dodge/Chrysler/Jeep, First National Bank of Baird/Clyde, Thrifty's Food Mart, Gray Electric, Hanner Chevrolet, Metal Mart, Tytan Heating & Cooling, Bailey-Howard Funeral Home, Bulldog Steel, Callahan County Veterinary Clinic, First Financial Bank-Clyde, Lawrence Brothers IGA, Clyde Insurance Agency, White's Drilling, Hawk Portable Buildings, Shady Oaks Country Club, Key City Septic & Plumbing, Clyde Volunteer Fire Department, Citizens EMS, Clyde Journal, Clyde Chamber of Commerce, Happy Trails Rustic Western Furniture, Smith & Son Equipment, State Farm, Anita Food Mart, Clyde Farm & Ranch, and Big Country Trophies.

This year's festival is free to the public, however Davis said the Men of Clyde organization will be standing at the lake gate entrance taking donations for the festival on Friday and Saturday. Davis commended the Men of Clyde for stepping up this year to provide much needed manpower for this year's festival.

Davis said there are currently 26 cook-off teams registered with the City of Clyde. He said they expect this year's cook-off teams could reach 30 by the start of the festival on Friday. He said last year had a record number of cook-off teams at 29. The deadline to enter the cook-off is 5:00 p.m. on Friday, June 29th, Davis said.

There are three bands scheduled to perform on Friday, June 29th and another five bands scheduled to perform on Saturday, June 30th.

The band lineup for Friday, June 29th includes: "Ranch Hand" from 5:00 p.m. until 7:00 p.m., "7 Stories" from 7:00 p.m. until 9:00 p.m. and "Jaron Bell" from 9:00 p.m. until 11:00 p.m.

The band lineups for Saturday, June 30th will begin at 12:00 noon with the "Dean Brothers Band" until 2:00 p.m. "Tanner Strickland" will perform Saturday from 2:00 p.m. until 4:00 p.m., "Buck Nelson" will perform from 5:00 p.m. until 7:00 p.m., and the "Dave Hobbs Band" will perform from 7:00 p.m. until 9:00 p.m. The "Bo McDowell Band" will again conclude the festival band lineup on Saturday from 9:00 p.m. until 11:00 p.m.

Davis said this year's children carnival will again be put on by Lonestar Amusements Carnival. The festival coordinator also reported the carnival will have two adult rides for the adults and teenage crowd. He said those adult rides include the "Mind Winder" and "Bucking Bull." Davis also said there will be a bungee type area using a trampoline, in which the participant is tied to bungee cords and can do flips and other jumps. He also said there will be an obstacle course operated by the carnival company.

Adult tournament games planned this year include a horse-shoe pitching tournament. He said volleyball will also be available for play.

The festival coordinator said because of the lake's low water level, there will not be a fishing tournament this year. Davis said the lake is currently 24 feet below the spillway and the City of Clyde is no longer obtaining water from the lake source. Instead, Clyde is purchasing all its water needs from the City of Abilene.

Davis said KBCY 99.7 is planning a live remote from Clyde Lake on Saturday, June 30th from 10:00 a.m. until 12:00 noon. Anyone wishing to obtain information about the food or merchandise vendor booths should contact Terry Davis at 893-3712. No camp sites are left, according to Davis, but for additional camping information at Clyde Lake, contact David at 893-5339.

Organic Gardening Program Presented by Rolan Jones Provided Valuable Information

I've known Rolan Jones all my life, but I never knew that the man's brain was so full of valuable information! People were frantically taking notes and asking questions all during the presentation.

After I got home, I got e-mails stating what an informative and interesting presentation we had just had. It's for sure that we will be asking Rolan to come back in the near future. Watch your newspapers for other Cottonwood Community Get Togethers.

(Consumer Confidence Report)

Callahan County Water Supply Corporation
(325) 893-3841

PWS ID Number: TX0300015
PWS Name: Callahan County WSC

This report is intended to provide you with important information about your drinking water and the efforts made by the water system to provide safe drinking water.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the EPA's Safe Drinking Water Hotline at (800) 426-4791.

Este informe contiene información muy importante sobre el agua que usted bebe. Tradúzcalo o hable con alguien que lo entienda bien.

Special Notice for the Elderly, Infants, Cancer Patients, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune problems:

Some people may be more vulnerable to chemical contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. Additional guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the EPA's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791)

OUR DRINKING WATER MEETS OR EXCEEDS ALL FEDERAL (EPA) DRINKING WATER REQUIREMENTS

This report is a summary of the quality of the water we provide our customers. The analysis was made by using the data from the most recent U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) required tests and is presented in the attached pages. We hope this information helps you become more knowledgeable about what's in your drinking water.

SOURCE OF DRINKING WATER

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves, naturally-occurring minerals, and in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity. Contaminants that may be present in source water include:

-Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations, and wildlife.

-Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban storm water runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming.

-Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban storm water runoff, and residential uses.

-Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban storm water runoff, and septic systems.

-Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally-occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.

Este informe incluye información importante sobre el agua potable. Si tiene preguntas o comentarios sobre este informe en español, favor de llamar al tel. (325) 893-3841 par hablar con una persona bilingue en español.

Where do we get our drinking water?

The source of drinking water used by CALLAHAN COUNTY WSC is Purchased Surface Water.

A Source Water Susceptibility Assessment for your drinking water source(s) is currently being updated by the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality. This information describes the susceptibility and types of contaminants that may come into contact with the drinking water source based on human activities and natural conditions. The information contained in the assessment allows us to focus our source water protection strategies. Some of this source water assessment information will be available later this year on Texas Drinking Water Watch at <http://www.tceq.state.tx.us/DWW/>. For more information on source water assessments and protection efforts at our system, please contact us.

All drinking water may contain contaminants

When drinking water meets federal standards there may not be any health based benefits to purchasing bottled water or point of use devices.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (1-800-426-4791).

Secondary Constituents

Many constituents (such as calcium, sodium, or iron) which are often found in drinking water, can cause taste, color, and odor problems. The taste and odor constituents are called secondary constituents and are regulated by the State of Texas, not the EPA. These constituents are not causes for health concern. Therefore, secondaries are not required to be reported in this document but they may greatly affect the appearance and taste of your water.

Required Additional Health Information for Lead

If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. This water supply is responsible for providing high quality drinking water but cannot control the variety of materials, used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>.

church. Tanks should be well packed in ice as it will take close to an hour to have it all officially judged and ready to be sampled and judged by others. Around 5:00, the hot dogs will be grilled to perfection and ready to eat in the fellowship hall.

Whether you like hot dogs first and then ice cream or just the opposite, you can do it your way.

Either way, the Methodists invite everybody to join the fun and fellowship of this annual event—a great way to beat the heat.

“Meet the Author” to Feature Bill Neal Tuesday, July 17th

Mark your calendars for 7 p.m. Tuesday, July 17 when Bill Neal will again be our “Meet The Author” at the Cross Plains Public Library. Since his appearance in 2007 Bill has written several more award-winning books to tell us about. Shortly before his retirement from active law practice, Neal conceived the idea of resurrecting old tales of frontier justice—and injustice—by researching them in the basements of courthouses, back shops of country weeklies, family histories, and interviews with old timers.

The result was a sizeable collection of riveting stories, most of them about violent killings and murder trials. However, instead of simply collecting and writing individual stories, Neal conceived the idea of stringing those tales together chronologically and by theme in order to tell the larger story of how justice on the frontier progressed from Judge Winchester to Judge Lynch and then finally to Judge Blackstone including many misfires along the way as the nascent criminal justice system of courtroom justice under the written laws of the state struggled to supplant the unwritten laws of the Old South and the western frontier.

The end result of this project was a trilogy of books published by Texas Tech University Press including Getting Away With Murder on the Texas Frontier; Notorious Killings and Celebrated Trails (2006); From Guns to Gavels: How Justice Grew Up in the Outlaw West (2007); and Sex, Murder & the Unwritten Law: Courting Judicial Mayhem, Texas Style (2009). All books have a preface written by Gordon Morris Bakken, professor of history at California State University at Fullerton, and are used in his classes on the development of justice on the western frontier. The last book has been designated by Texas Tech University Press as the first column in a new series it will publish entitled American Liberty & Justice.

In 2011, the University of North Texas Press published Neal's latest book, Vengeance Is Mine: The Scandalous Love Triangle That Triggered the Boyce-Sneed Feud. It is Number 11 in the A.C. Greene Series.

Be sure and come July 17 to the library conference room at 7 p.m. Neal will have books for sale and be available for questions and autographs.
