MHS Recognized Outstanding Effort Performance Gain

Muleshoe High School has been recognized for Outstanding Effort in Performance Gain in the Texas Education Agency's 1991-92 Texas successful Schools Award System. The criteria used for this recognition are taken from the state's Academic Excellence Indicator System which compares MHS to other high schools in the state that are similar size and student body makeup.

Among the indicators used are scores on the TAAS tests, attendance, drop out rate, and graduation rate. In order to have received this level of recognition, Muleshoe High School was in the top 10 percent of its comparison group on overall gain and met 100 percent of the criteria established by the Commissioner of Education and State Board of Education.

"The administration, the staff, and the student body at Muleshoe High School are to be congratulated for this award. They have all contributed to the outstanding effort recognized here by the TEA and State Board of Education. We certainly have room for continued improvement, but this indicates that we are headed in the right direction and gain is being made," said Superintendent Bill Moore.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:
I would sincerely appreciate your including an article about the Nacel Cultural Exchanges homestay program. Nacel is a non-profit organization recognized by the Association of Secondary Principals, a participant in the President's International Youth Exchange Initiative, and one of the cultural exchange programs listed by the Council on Standards for International Educational Travel.

This summer 7,000 French, Spanish, Russian, German and Ivory Coast youth will visit the USA and 2,000 American teenagers will visit Europe through the Nacel Homestay Programs.

Nacel is seeking host families for 210 French and Spanish teenagers, all of whom speak some English and 7 teacher-chaperones who will be in Texas in July and August. By hosting one of these students the SPARTAN Public Transportation held an open house and ribbon cutting ceremonies Monday afternoon, officially opening their newly remodeled Transportation Center, located at 804 W. American Blvd.

Spartan Holds Open House, Ribbon Cutting

Bailey County Judge Marilyn Cox, Mayor Darrell Turner, Jack Wilson, manager of Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, Mike McDearmon, CofC president, and C.E. Grant, Bailey County commissioner were all on hand to assist with the ribbon cutting ceremony.

South Plains Community Action Association, Inc., provides, as one of its services to the community, a public rural transportation program which is called SPARTAN (South Plains Area Rural Transportation Assistance Network). The system was begun in June of 1982, as an expansion of the existing human services transportation activities carried out by the agency at that time.

Spartan has set several goals in order to serve the people of the South Plains area. One of the Spartan goals is to provide the safest means of transportation available. Each vehicle driver has completed courses in Defensive Driving, First Aid and Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation. Each vehicle is also equipped with a first aid kit and fire extinguisher in case of an emergency. Also providing a dedicated, professional, courteous and competent staff that presents a positive image and attitude to the general public. They take pride in their ability to serve the general public on a more personal basis in each community.

Providing vehicles with a distinctive design for SPARTAN transportation. Also providing fixed route service on a daily or weekly

American host family will have the opportunity to learn about another culture without the expense of leaving home. They will be able to bring a little bit of France or Spain into their homes.

Since it is not necessary to speak French or Spanish to host a student, I hope with the help of your publication to reach a broad range of families who would enjoy participating in this program. Enclosed is a press release and an information sheet. I would appreciate your publishing the press release as soon as possible.

Thank you for your assistance. Please feel free to contact me should you have any questions.

Best regards,
Dale Niemeier
State Coordinator

Dear Editor,
I see where Bill Taylor shot a hole in one, and I join in congratulating him. However, I offer the good folks in Muleshoe a word of warning about this seemingly harmless man. Before I came under bases from a customers home to their destination.

Another of SPARTAN'S goals is to provide access for all citizens within the eight-county area served by South Plains Community Action Association to public places where services or goods are provided for the general public. This means that access will be provided by SPARTAN from the passenger's residence to post offices, shopping centers, doctor's offices, job sites, social service offices, and any other location which is considered a public place of which the director of South Plains Community Action has determined to be a public place. For instance, a residence of a person providing baby-sitting or day care for the children of working parents may be, upon request designated as a public place by the director of South Plains Community Action.

Providing transportation for the disadvantaged is also a goal of the program. In this group are handicapped persons, elderly persons unable to drive, persons with a temporary disability which has deprived them from the ability to use their own vehicle, members of a one-vehicle household in which the breadwinner must use the vehicle to earn a living or a family in which the driver has lost the privilege to drive because of legal or financial circumstances.

Proponents of the program also hope to contribute to energy conservation by combining passengers into one trip where otherwise each passenger would have to use their autos to make the same trip, such as pooling to work sites pooling to medical clinics, family planning clinics, and pooling students traveling to higher education institutions.

his influence I didn't even know what a Butterfinger Blizzard was, and now I can't think about much else, except maybe chicken fried steak with lots of gravy. Associate with him if you must, but if he starts talking about food, find some excuse to leave-fast!

Yours truly,
Blubber Ben Gramling
TCU Scientists
Studying Roads

Runoff from rooftops, roads and parking lots all play a role in water pollution.

Mapping these impervious surfaces using satellite imagery and determining the effects on urban water quality are the subjects of several first-of-a-kind studies being conducted by a pair of environmental scientists at Texas Christian University.

When their studies are completed Drs. Ken Morgan and Leo Newland believe the findings will offer cities nationwide a simple method to determine the future impact on area water supplies from existing and new development.

While long-term effects of watershed pollution in agricultural environments have been documented, little research has been done on sources of urban water pollution, Newland said.

Urban regions account for less acreage but have the potential to affect a larger number of people, Newland added. Runoff can produce large volumes of water containing petroleum products, fertilizers and other substances potentially harmful to water supplies.

"When you have impervious cover, you decrease the water quality and increase the quantity," explained Morgan, a geologist who heads TCU's Center for Remote Sensing and Energy Research.

The facility is being used to evaluate satellite and aerial photographs to identify the amount of coverage in a given area. Images collected from the aircraft and NASA satellites are scanned into a computer system, which assists the scientists in analyzing the percentage of impervious cover. Site visits have shown the imagery data to be 95 percent accurate, Morgan reported.

The scientists expect to complete the studies within five years. Results could be available sooner if major funding for the research becomes available.

Bring Spain Excitement To Texas

Experience the 500th Anniversary of Columbus' voyage, the World Expo in Seville, and the Olympic Games in Barcelona, all to be celebrated in Spain during 1992, by hosting a Spanish Heritage exchange student during the 1992/93 high school year.

The students, motivated 15-18 year olds anxious to become a part of an American household, are sponsored throughout the not-for-profit Spanish Heritage Program. Each student is fully insured, brings his or her own spending money, expects to help out with household responsibilities and is enthusiastic about sharing the culture and customs of Spain with the Northern Texas Area for the upcoming school year.

Mary-Helen Perez, who is the local Area Representative for Northern Texas, is available to qualify your family and assist you in selecting a student so you can begin corresponding and preparing for your year together.

With all the activity in Spain this year, this is an ideal time to bring a Spanish student into your home for your family to learn more about the Spanish culture, while sharing the American way of life and making a lifelong friend from abroad, you are asked to call Mary-Helen at 806/272-3344 or 1-800-888-9040 toll free.

Farmers of Bailey county are not only furnishing their share of boys for the armed forces and men and women for the war industries, but they are also up to their necks in the food and feed production program asked of them by our president, reports Sam Logan, county extension agent. He states that many jobs have been asked of the farmers since, and even before Pearl Harbor. Some of these jobs were the scrap metal salvage program, farm machinery repair work, bond and stamp sales and now the rubber salvage program, most of which they have accomplished wholeheartedly.

City officials this week directed to provisions of a city ordinance which governs the celebration of the Fourth of July by use of fireworks. The ordinance forbids any company or firm to have fireworks in their stores with intent to sell. And it forbids the "throwing or firing" of fireworks by anyone within the city limits, and provides for a fine of not more than $100 for violation of the ordinance.

You don't have to walk around to the back of the new post office here--in the dark, too--to post your letters at night. A brand new letter slot section has been added to the mail box section of the new post office here. Postmaster Spencer Beavers said Wednesday. When the new office was built, only outside boxes were provided for night use, but customers here voiced objections. As a result, permission was granted for the department here to add the new slots to the box rental area. Thus customers can post their letters and mail pick up their boxed mail all inside the lobby.

Muleshoe is planning the biggest and best July 4 celebration to be held in these parts in many years this year. To publicize this big event to the neighboring towns and

Birthday Dinner Honors Pat King

Friends of Pat King recently honored her on the occasion of her half century birthday with dinner at the Cattle Baron Restaurant in Portales, N.M.

Pat looked youthful in her new floral one-of-a-kind outfit with matching earrings and rediscovered shoes.

Table centerpiece was an elaborate money balloon bouquet. After a trip to the salad bar, entrees of prime rib, Oscar fillet and shrimp scampi were served.

The evening was concluded with a rousing rendition of Happy Birthday sung by waitresses as they served Pat fried ice cream topped with strawberries and one candle.

The new grandmother to be is the wife of Max King, owner of King Grain Company, member of Rotary International, MISD school board and well known master of ceremonies. She is the mother of Angie, a MHS senior, also Brett, Lance, Kevin and Cyndi of Lubbock.

Sudan Girls Compete

Recently a group of 5th grade girls from Sudan competed in the Regional Little Dribblers tournament in Seminole. They competed against 2 teams from Seminole, 1 team from Kermit and 1 team from Denver City. This group of 12 and under girls won third place. Denver City eventually won the tournament and won the right to advance to the National Tournament in June.

The Sudan team played the Seminole #1 team and lost 19-23. They fell behind by 10 points early in the last quarter. However, they put on a strong press that narrowed the margin to 2 points with a few seconds to go. Sudan could not score and had to foul to get the ball. The young lady from Seminole made her free throws to make the final score. Leading scorers for Sudan were Courtney Legg with 10 points, and she was followed by Caci Schovajsa, Tanji Moore, Veronica Mota and Tamara Surret with 2 each. Meghan Surret added 1 free throw.

The second game was won by the Sudan girls. They were able to defeat the Seminole #2 team 23-22. They were behind at half time, but took charge of the game during the third quarter by holding the Seminole Lady Indians to only 1 point. Due to an excessive amount of fouls, Sudan had several players foul out during the last quarter. However, they were able to hang on to the victory. Leading scorers for this game were Courtney Legg with 7, Tamara Moore with 6, Monica Castillo and Caci Schovajsa adding 3 each. Kristy Synatschk and Tanji Moore both scored 2 points.

The Sudan Stars then advanced to the third game which was against a team from Kermit. Sudan took a commanding lead early and was able to win 21-20. Once again, fouls hampered the Sudan team. In this game, 30 fouls were called against the aggressive Sudan team with Kermit only receiving 13. Leading scorers were Tanji Moore with 8, Schovajsa with 7, and Tamara Moore, Legg and Surret with 2 each.

With the last victory, the Sudan girls were able to advance to the Semi-Final game against Seminole #1 again. Sudan fell behind early by 14 points, but they kept working. Eventually they were able to overcome shooting and fouling problems and were able to storm back within 6 point. Due to the fouls being called against Sudan, the Seminole #1 team were able to score 8 free throws that helped seal their victory. The Sudan team lost 21-36. Leading the way for Sudan was Tanji Moore with 8, Schovajsa and Legg with 5 each, and Tamara Moore with 3.

This team did very well at this tournament. All the opposing coaches complemented the team. Other members of the team not previously mentioned are Eric Wallace, Crystal Lively, Bonnie Hall and Amanda Weaver. They are coached by Suzanne Reid, Tanya Fisher and Mike Fisher.

Cassidy Cleavinger To Sing At "Fourth on Broadway"

Cassidy Cleavinger has been selected to sing at the annual "Fourth on Broadway" celebration in Lubbock. Cassidy auditioned for a part in the Fourth of July celebration by sending an audio tape to the "Fourth on Broadway" selection committee.

Musicians from across the West Texas area auditioned and the screening committee selected those which they felt best represented a cross-section of the area's musical talent. Cassidy will be performing on the Country stage located at Broadway and Avenue R. from 3:30 to 4 p.m. on July Fourth.

Cassidy will enter the seventh grade this fall at Watson Junior High in Muleshoe. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Cleavinger and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Dent of Muleshoe and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Cleavinger of Springlake

LaDelta Vernon Retires

During the Awards Assembly the last week of school, LaDelta Vernon was recognized as having taught in the Sudan School system for 31 years and is now retiring. Sudan Elementary principal Bo Lance had this to say about Mrs. Vernon: "There are many types of personalities that make up a school faculty and today we would like to honor one of these multi-talented personalities that has walked these halls for 31 years as a teacher, plus 12 years that she was a student."

"This lady is versatile. She will dress up and teach school for eight hours, adding to her history lesson from personal experiences, and go home and throw on her "manual labor" clothing of jeans and tennis shoes. From there she will climb on a tractor to plow cotton, spray weeds, run a module maker, or whatever it takes to help her husband operate the family farm.

She is an outgoing and friendly person and can force a conversation out of a weathered fence post. Whether the talk is politics, farming, sports, or who has the smartest grandchildren, this woman can carry on her part of the conversation and usually finds a missing link on some family tree in the process."

"Just mentioning the word "sports" makes this tomboyish athlete scurry to her box of sports equipment and gather up what is necessary to be a pitcher for the softball team, a basketball for a rough game in the gym, a volleyball to play at church activities, a football or soccer ball to kick on the playground to a waiting group of future hopefuls. This person was always the first one chosen on a team because she would try to kill you, know matter how good of a friend you were, if she was on the opposite team due to her competitiveness. She is an avid supporter of all sports when she is not allowed to be an active participant and is a heck of a motorcyclist."

"This teacher is dedicated to her profession of teaching, as she has rarely missed a day since she started in 1961. She has touched many lives in her years in the third grade and has compiled a storehouse of memories. Many of her students were touched with the help of her wooden aid "Lightning." She is also dedicated to her church. She is an active member of the First Baptist Church where she teaches Sunday school, sings in the choir, and serves in many other capacities.

Mrs. Vernon will be missed next year when school starts but the teacher's lounge will stay cleaner. There have been more Diet Cokes blown up and spilled on the floor and microwave lunches on the wall when she was in this vicinity."

"LaDelta Vernon-you have helped change many a piece of caliche into a polished diamond."

"Thank you for your years of service to the Sudan Public Schools and good luck in all of your future endeavors."

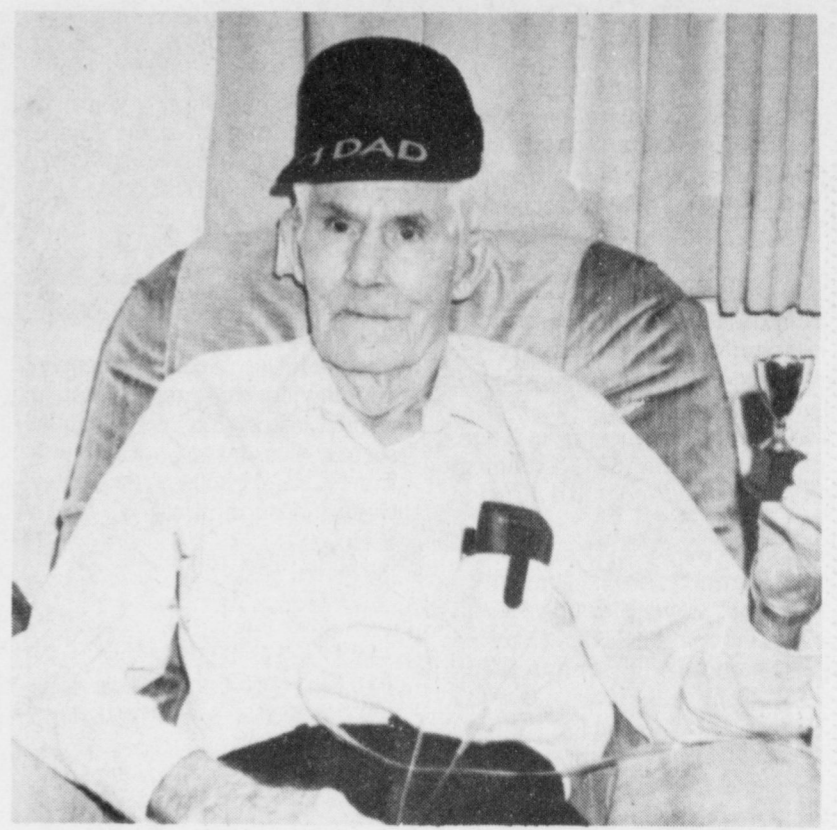

Mrs. Vernon was presented with a gold and diamond pendant, a paddle signed by the faculty and a T-shirt given to her by the Senior Class. Numerous other gifts were also given to this remarkable lady upon her retirement.

The American Angus Association, with over 24,000 active adult and junior members is the largest beef cattle registry association in the world. Its computerized records include detailed information on nearly 11 million registered Angus.

Most of the registered Angus are used by the U.S. farmers and ranchers who raise high quality beef for U.S. consumption.

FmHA Loan Program Targets Disadvantaged

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) has activated a loan program designed to help members of socially disadvantaged groups acquire land for farming.

The Socially disadvantaged Outreach is mandated by the Agriculture Act of 1987 and defines a Socially Disadvantaged Applicant (SDA) as "an applicant who has been subjected to racial or ethnic prejudice or cultural bias because of their identity as a member of a group without regard to their individual qualities."

Applicants must be a member of the following race/ethnic origin groups: 1. black (Not of Hispanic origin), 2. Hispanic, 3. American Indian or Alaskan Native, 4. Asian or Pacific Islander.

UNDER THE NEW program FmHA will try to find persons in those categories who are interested in farming and can also be prepared to sell or lease to them a farm held in its inventory if any are available in that county. FmHA can also provide other loan and technical assistance, if needed, to help the borrower get started.

For additional information, interested persons should contact their local FmHA county supervisor. The FmHA is a rural credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The Muleshoe County FmHA office is located at 111 E. Ave D., Box 1007, Muleshoe.

Scale Insects Attacking Area

Live Oak Trees

A small insect, Lecanium scales, can pose a big threat to live oaks and other area trees, but timely inspection and pesticide application can help protect valuable trees, says County Extension Agent Curtis Preston.

These scales are hemispherical in shape and dark brown. They are about one-eighth-to one-fourth-inch in diameter.

Lecanium scales damage trees by reducing vitality and causing dieback of infested branches. While they are most damaging to live oaks, they also occur on red oaks, maples, honey locust and crab apples, the county agent said.

Eggs are produced underneath the female in late spring. Hatching takes place in May on the South Plains. The immature insects feed on the undersides of leaves during the summer. They migrate to twigs in the fall and overwinter there. There is only one generation a year.

Scale insects are most susceptible to control soon after hatching, Preston said. Therefore, insecticide treatments to control Lecanium scales will be most effective if applied now. Heavily infested trees will require two applications two weeks apart.

Insecticides recommended for control include orthene, dursban, sevin, malathion and diazinon. Through coverage will improve the effectiveness of sprays. Always read and follow insecticide label instructions carefully, the county agent cautioned.

Muleshoe Students Participate In

Electric Workshop

Two students from Muleshoe High School were among 77 Future Farmers of America members who participated in the recent, 30th annual FFA Electric Workshop, sponsored by Southwestern Public Service Company in Amarillo.

The students were Jose Mendoza and Brian Wilhite.

The three-day workshop, held June 8-10, featured demonstrations, videos and lectures, in part, on wiring farm buildings, assembly of electric controls and electric safety.

"These are skills that these young people can use everyday on the farm," said Dave Krupnick, SPS manager of agricultural and wholesale marketing. "And the students who come here are really eager to learn."

Among the FFA advisers and agricultural-science instructors helping conduct the workshop was Carl Wheeler of Muleshoe High School.

Southwestern Public Service Company is a regional electric utility that primarily provides electric service to a population of about one million people in a 52,000-square-mile area comprising eastern and southeastern New Mexico, the South Plains and Panhandle of Texas, the Oklahoma Panhandle and southwestern Kansas. Cooperate headquarters in Amarillo, Texas.

State Parks Rank High In Survey

State parks scattered across Texas have been chosen by Texas Highways magazine readers as some of the best places to visit and camp, according to a survey included in the magazine.

Last July, the magazine asked readers to select their "bests" in several categories. More than 2,000 readers responded and the results will be published in the July 1992 issue. All of the questions on the survey were opened.

Right!

The chief trouble with this country is too darned many legal ways to steal.
-Constitution, Atlanta.

Good Reason

Every man needs a wife--because so many things go wrong that you can't blame on the government.
-Sun, Adak, Alaska.

The best accommodations in Texas are not some fancy hotel in one of the state's major cities, according to those responding to the survey. The number one choice is Indian Lodge at Davis Mountains State Park in West Texas.

Two state parks were listed as the favorite "offbeat sight or site." Enchanted Rock State Natural Area, a huge granite mountain between Fredericksburg and Llano, was chosen number one. Number three was the unusual spire and pinnacle formations at Palo Duro Canyon State Park near Amarillo.

State parks accounted for 19 of 22 of the choice camping areas in the survey. Big Bend National Park was first, followed in the top five by Garner State Park near Concan, Inks Lake State Park near Burnet, Davis Mountains State Park near Fort Davis and Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Rounding out the top 10 were Bastrop State Park near Bastrop, Lost Maples State Natural Area near Vanderpool, Tyler State Park near Tyler, Enchanted Rock State Natural Area and Pedernales Falls State Park near Johnson City.
