Trivia Contest Postponed

This is such a busy time of year. Each week there is one and sometimes two events. Cross Plains citizens are so good about supporting local organizations, and sometimes it can be overwhelming trying to attend everything. To make it more convenient for participants, the Cross Plains Public Library is postponing the Trivial Trivia Contest that was scheduled for Saturday, November 15. Please keep your teams together so you will be ready when a new date is announced.

There are two ways you can still support the library this fall. The annual BakeSale will start early this year. You can bring baked goods donations to the library starting at noon on Tuesday, November 25 and buy some-thing sweet for your Thanks-giving feast. The Bake Sale will continue on Wednesday, November 26 until everything is sold.

There will also be a Craft Fair Friday, December 5 from noon to 5PM and from 8 until noon on Saturday December 6 at First Methodist Church. You can call the library to rent a booth, or bring a craft donation by for the library's booth, and don't forget to stop by to do a little shopping. Thank you all for all your support. It is tremendously appreciated!

Citizens and property owners of Cross Plains

The City of Cross Plains would like to remind its citizens of the Nuisance & Weed Ordinance. Due to the recent rains that we have received, the weeds have grown tall and over the limit for what the Ordinance calls for.

If you own lots that have not been mowed, please take care of having them mowed to avoid the City having the lots mowed and billing you for the service. If the invoice is not paid within 30 days the city will attach a lien against your property. If you have any questions concerning the Ordinance, please contact City Hall @ 254.725.6114.

Sheriff Terry Joy receives Baird Masonic Lodge Golden Trowel Award

Callahan County Sheriff Terry Joy was presented with the Baird Masonic Lodge #522 Golden Trowel Award during a ceremony held Saturday, November 8th at the Baird Community Center.

Joy, a 43-year member of the Masonic Lodge, was elected Sheriff of Callahan County on January 1, 2013.

The Golden Trowel Award is the highest award a Masonic Lodge can give to a Mason.

Joy, who grew up in the Adminal community in Callahan County, is a 1959 graduate of Baird High School.

His first job was in July 1967 as a Game Warden in Llano. He spent 18 1/2 years as a Game Warden in Llano County before becoming a Supervisor of Game Wardens in San Angelo between 1985 through 1991. Joy became the Supervisor of Game Wardens in Brown County in 1991 and retired in 2002.

Joy's wife, Lenora, attended Eula schools before moving to Baird and graduated from Baird in 1961. The couple have two children, Greg and Mark. They also have four grandchildren, Jeff, Levi, Victoria and Justin, and Joy said he's proud of the fact all of his grandchildren are college graduates.

Joy related his first job assignment in Llano with his two children, they didn't have a house to rent, but he said the people of Llano allowed his to immediately join their "clan" and were able to find him a two bedroom home to rent. He said that home is now a bed-and-breakfast in Llano.

Joy recalled when he first arrived in Llano, going to Lake Buchanan in Llano County and was amazed a small-town kid was walking across the big Lake Buchanan dam. He said the dam is now fenced to prevent people from crossing it.

"It's a great honor, thank you," Joy told in the audience as he accepted his award.

The Golden Trowel Award was presented to Joy by Allen Burnett, 74th District Deputy for the Masonic Lodge.

Burnett said Joy was initiated into the Masonic Lodge in Llano in 1971 and completed all the Masonic Lodge requirements in the minimum number of days. Joy was also a Master Mason for the "Masonic Lodge in 2008-2009.

Burnett said Joy is always helping his community and helping his world.

Burnett said the trowel is used in construction to spread cement to construct a building and in the Masonic Lodge, the trowel is used to spread brotherly love and friendship with all the skill of a Master Craftsman.

Cross Plains' retail sales in 2014 are 4% ahead of 2013

The City of Cross Plains' one percent city sales tax payments in 2014 are just over four percent higher than 2013, according to the Texas State Comptroller's office.

Texas State Comptroller Susan Combs reported the city's sales tax payment on Wednesday, November 5th.

Cross Plains' 2014 sales tax payments for the year totalled $219,219.95, which is 4.23 percent higher than the $210,318.52 in sales tax rebate payments collected in 2013.

The payment to the city for November 2014 was $22,941.37, which is 5.74 percent higher than the $21,695.35 payment made in November 2013.

Texas Comptroller Susan Combs said today, Wednesday, November 5th, that state sales tax revenue in October was $2.41 billion, up 12.9 percent compared to October 2013.

"Strong growth in sales tax receipts was apparent across all major economic sectors," Combs said. "Notable increases from retail trade and the oil and natural gas-related sectors led the growth, indicating increased spending by both consumers and businesses."

Combs will send cities, counties, transit systems and special purpose taxing districts their October local sales tax allocations totaling $723.1 million, up 10.5 percent compared to November 2013.

Combs sent Texas cities $473.4 million in November 2014, which is higher by 9.6 percent compared to November 2013 and higher by 6.7 percent year-to-date.

She reported $46.0 million in November 2014 allocations to Texas counties, which is higher by 12.1 percent compared to November 2013 and higher by 5.9 percent year-to-date.

Special Purpose Taxing Districts received $43.1 million in November 2014 allocations, which is 24.2 percent higher than November 2013 and higher by 20.3 percent year-to-date.

Total sales tax allocations were $723.1 million in November 2014, which is 10.5 percent higher than November 2013 and up 7.5 percent year-to-date.

The sales tax figures represent monthly sales reported by monthly tax filers and July, August and September sales reported by quarterly filers.

Merchants collect the state and local sales tax and send it to the Comptroller's office with their tax returns. The state keeps its 6 1/4% share and returns the local one percent sales tax each month to the local governments. Cities and counties may levy a combined tax of up to two percent above the state's sales tax.

Clyde businesses collect 2.00%, including one percent for the City of Clyde, one-half of one percent for the Clyde Economic Development Corporation and one half of one percent to reduce property taxes (Proceeds to benefit the Clyde Volunteer Fire Department).

Cross Plains collects 2.00% in local sales taxes, of which 1.00 percent is allocated to the city and 1.00% is allocated for economic development in the town.

Baird collects 2.00% in local sales tax of which 1.00% is allocated to the city, 0.50% is allocated to the community's economic development corporation and 0.50% of one percent to reduce property taxes.

Putnam collects 1.00% in local sales tax of which all 1.00 percent is allocated to the city.

All local sales taxes must be approved by local voters and may be used for any legal city or county expenses. Most areas put the money in their General Fund and use it for normal operations like fire fighting, maintaining roads and law enforcement, the Comptroller said. Some cities use up to an additional one percent of city sales tax to help fund local economic development and to reduce property taxes.

BBB warns Fraudulent IRS calls still coming

Taxpayers continue to be bombarded by robo calls claiming to be from the IRS. This phone scam targets taxpayers and threatening them with arrest, deportation or license suspension if they do not immediately pay money they supposedly owe to the IRS. Most recently the calls are recordings stating that back taxes and penalties owed immediately and to prevent further action by the IRS you must call a phone number. Payment is demanded through a pre-loaded debit card - green dot card, or wire transfer - Western Union.

Do not become a victim of a fake IRS phone call; the Better Business Bureau has tips to help you avoid getting scammed:

- Do not ever give out your financial information over the phone to anyone. The real IRS will not ask for financial information over the phone. Any contact from the IRS will be through direct mail.

- Hang up the phone. If you are being asked for personal and financial information by someone claiming to be an IRS employee, simply hang up.

- If you receive an email, do not click on anything within it. The emails that scammers send may include computer viruses that could harm your computer or access personal information.

- Report the incident. If you are a victim of this scam, report the incident to the Treasury Inspector General for Tax Administration at 1-800-366-4484. You should also contact the Federal Trade Commission and use their "FTC Complaint Assistant" Make sure to add "IRS Telephone Scam" to your comments.

Queen Butterfly

Most anyone who lives in west Texas is familiar with the heroic journey that the Monarch butterfly makes every year, as well as the beauty that species possesses. Yet there is a smaller, and less colorful, species of butterfly that also occurs here, and although it doesn't make the epic flights like its cousin, it has its own identity.

The butterfly simply known as the Queen (Danaus gilippus) occurs throughout the western half of the United States, but is frequent in the southern areas of this range more consistently, including the west Texas region. From here it inhabits the appropriate habitat through the western half of Mexico as well.

The Queen, while not as colorful or showy as its close relative the Monarch, has its own distinctive beauty. The upper wings are dark orange in coloration and are bordered in black. There are numerous small white spots randomly situated inside of this black border, as well as along the rear edges of the orange-colored wings. Each side of the orange abdomen may or may not be adorned with two black spots on the upper wings. The head and thorax are black and the head is littered with small white spots, while the thorax has a centered thin white line. As this butterfly lands, the wings are clasped together to reveal even more coloration as the orange color is separated by black lines that trace the veins of the wings. This species is not only a duller version of the Monarch, it is also smaller, as adult butterflies reach a maximum wingspan of barely two and one-quarter inches.

This type of butterfly is an almost plant-specific feeder, feeding on the flowers of most milkweed species. It utilizes an appendage known as a proboscis to feed on these items. The proboscis is long and almost threadlike, and in times of non-use is curled up under the head of the butterfly.

The Queen, like other butterfly species, undergoes a four-stage life cycle that can be described as nothing short of miraculous. In the beginning stage, their life begins as an egg, which hatches after a few short days into the next stage. Upon hatching, the larvae are known as caterpillars, and at this stage, the growth rate is highly accelerated. Caterpillars can eat twice their body weight in a single day, and as such, grow quickly. As they grow, they literally grow out of their skins, and they shed their outer layer of skin up to five times (known as molting) before they enter the next stage of their life cycle. After the caterpillar finds a spot in which it feels is secure, it will pupate as it forms a protective shell about it known as a chrysalis. The chrysalis version of the Queen is pale green with large golden spots and is impressively beautiful. Inside of this shell, the larvae changes into the butterfly that it will soon become. After about a week, the adult will emerge from this shell with its wings intact, although they are crumpled into small balls on the sides of the body. The butterfly will then pump a clear fluid into the veins of their wings, causing them to expand much the same way a stick can reinforce a kite.

Queen Butterfly

Upon reaching maturity, the Queen will immediately begin searching for food, water and a mate. After mating, the males will continue their search for other receptive females, while the females will begin to look for a site suitable to lay eggs so a brand new life cycle can begin.

Like its close relative the Monarch, the Queen is a poisonous species of butterfly, said to be quite bitter and distasteful. As such, the Viceroy, another species of butterfly, has adapted to look like, or mimic, the Queen.

Cowboy Heritage Church names Dr. Dan Murray as their permanent Pastor

The Cowboy Heritage Church of Clyde has named Dr. Dan Murray as their pastor.

Dr. Murray had served as interim Pastor for the last several months and on October 5, 2014, he was made permanent pastor.

"Dr. Dan" grew up in the Houston area and is a graduate of Houston Baptist University and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, Texas.

He has pastored several churches in Texas, and most recently was pastor of the First Baptist Church of Stephenville.

Dr. Dan and his wife, Arlene, have raised and shown Quarter Horses for over 25 years. They have shown halter and reining horses and presently have team roping horses.

On being named pastor, Dr. Murray said "it is an honor to pastor Cowboy Heritage. This is the most loving church family I have ever served. God has already blessed this church with growth, but the best days are ahead. With the current building being filled every Sunday, construction of a new building is a priority."

Cowboy Heritage would like to invite the community to visit and experience a cowboy church that embraces both the western lifestyle and the Biblical truth of Jesus Christ.

Stitched with Love

It takes a village..no matter what your political preferences are, we can agree, that it takes a lot of people working together to achieve goals.

Michelle Kaiser donated a quilt top with a white background and appliqued flowers and vines in bright blues and greens that was sewn by her mother at the age of 91 years. The batting and backing for the quilt was donated by Wilma Lawrence and Jean Alexander and then hours and hours was spent quilting by many women of the community. Donna Wagner and Wilma Lawrence sat pushing needle and thread through for hours at a time. The final touch was trim and hemming of the scalloped edge of the quilt by Wilma Lawrence and Michelle Kaiser.

The Cross Plains Senior Center is giving you the chance to take this beautiful quilt to your house for only $1.00 or 6 chances for $5.00. Tickets are available at the Senior Center 108 N Main.

AUSTIN - Texas Department of Public Safety Director Steven McCraw today issued the following statement regarding Veterans Day: "Throughout American history, millions have answered the call of duty to serve in the United States military and committed their lives to protecting this great country against all threats. Each and every U.S. citizen owes their freedom and safety to these courageous heroes."

"On Veterans Day, we set aside the day to honor all the military members who have served and to show our thanks for the countless sacrifices they've endured along the way. Their contributions and dedication help make this great nation what it is today, and they will always be remembered."

"At the Department of Public Safety, we are especially thankful for the military veterans who have chosen to join this agency, continuing to serve and protect the state of Texas."

"Today we also show our gratitude to military families, who graciously brave the unique hardships that come with military life and provide unwavering support to our U.S. service members. Because of your commitment, the world is a safer place - and for that we are infinitely grateful."

Cottonwood News

By Beverly Brown

It feels a lot like winter with the nippy cold wind outside and temperatures dipping down below freezing. Everyone has been "winterizing" and getting ready for the cold weather. We saw Carl and April building a well house. It's time to put on a pot a chili and watch the outdoors from inside.

We hope all the area veterans had a happy "Veteran's Day" on Tuesday. There are many in our community that have served our country during Korea, Vietnam, Iraq, Afghanistan and other wars. We appreciate your service. Bruce Williams was laid to rest here at the Cottonwood Cemetery with graveside services on Sunday. Our prayers are with his parents, Dr. J. O. and Laura Williams, to his siblings, Yvonne, Priscilla and Paul and to the rest of the family.

Cottonwood Fire Chief Adrian Allen, Roger Hinkle and Joe Terstegge attended the Callahan County Fire Fighters Association meeting in Cross Plains on Saturday morning. The meeting was held at the new firehouse which is under construction. Beverly Brown and Joe Terstegge served a full breakfast of biscuits, gravy, sausage, eggs, hash browns and ham. Thanks to Lowe's Market for helping us with the breakfast and to Deana Terstegge and Linda Reed for helping serve.

There was a good crowd at the Lord's Acre at the First United Methodist Church in Cross Plains on Saturday night. We saw Theresa Morgan and Candy Tate in the serving line and many other Cottonwood folks at the event - Herman and Naomi Weaver, Bob and Lavonne Childress, Terry Tate, Adrian and Sheila Allen - to name a few. The dinner was great and the ladies that made the turkey and dressing did an outstanding job.

Thanksgiving is just about two weeks away. Time to start planning dinner and thinking about the holidays! Soon, Christmas music will be everywhere!

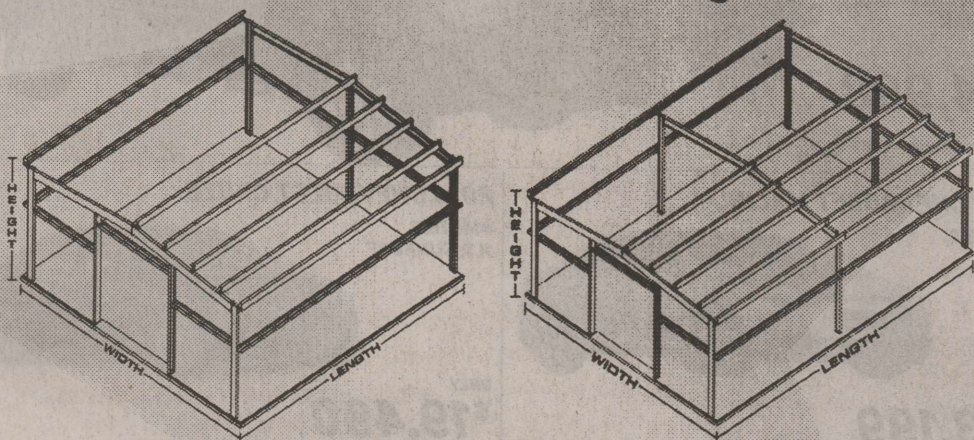

Friday, December 5th is the Kiwanis Stew Supper at the Cross Plains Senior Center. That's the night of the Christmas Parade and when Santa Claus Comes to Town. Mark your calendar now.

Recently, on October 26, we lost a great friend of ours, Jose Ibarra of Houston, better known here and in Cross Plains as "Gilbert's Dad". Joe was 88 and in good health. He enjoyed drinking coffee with his buddies every morning at McDonald's and going to the gym. Joe served in the occupation forces in Germany after World War II and the Korean War. Along with Gilbert, Joe is survived by another son, Joe Ibarra, two daughters, Linda Trapp and Lisa Morales, three granddaughters and three great-grandsons, a brother Lalo Ibarra of Waelder and sister Eleanor Espanza of Moulton. His only grandson, Jojo Ibarra (Gilbert's nephew), passed away a few days earlier on October 22. Prayers go out to Gilbert and his family during this difficult time.

The Burn Ban is off. Remember to exercise extreme caution if you do decide to burn - and call the Sheriff's office to let them know you will be burning before you light the match. Their number: 325-854-1444.

Cross Plains Fire Station $30,000 Needed to Complete

Work continues on Cross Plains Volunteer Fire Department's New Firehouse. The walls are ready for paint and the electrical fixtures, the bathrooms and kitchen are waiting for the plumbing fixtures and the cabinets, the building needs gas and heat, among the many things left to do to complete the building.

"We're about $30,000 away from completing the $240,000 building," fire chief Rickey Carouth stated at a meeting on Monday night, "and right now we have about $3,000," he continued. The goal was to be in the new fire station before winter, so that all trucks could be kept warm during the winter and keep their pumps and the water in their tanks from freezing. The trucks need to be ready to roll when there is a fire. Your donations and support have helped us get this far. If you would like to help with the completion of the firehouse, you can send a donation to Cross Plains VFD, P.O. Box 339 Cross Plains, Texas 76443. Again, thank you for your support.
