Baby Bond Bonus Passed Over President's Veto

PAYMENT of the veterans' bonus by means of baby bonds payable on demand was enacted into law by congress...

It was a notable fact that all the senators—65 in number, for Huey Long's successor has not yet taken his seat—were present and voting...

The galleries were filled and there was wild cheering when the vote was announced. Republican senators amused themselves and the spectators by twisting the Democrats on their failure to stand by their chief...

Informed of the vote, President Roosevelt at once ordered government departments to prepare for payment of the bonus certificates as quickly as accuracy will permit.

Al Smith's Indictment of the New Deal

"WE CAN either take on the mantle of hypocrisy, or we can take a walk; and we'll probably do the latter."

These words of Al Smith's in his speech at the American Liberty League dinner in Washington were perhaps the most interesting and significant of his utterances...

New Deal Democrats were quite undismayed by the Smith speech, which they declared was weak and ineffective. They announced that Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson of the senate would deliver the official reply in a radio address...

"The cry of socialism has been patented by the powerful interests that desire to put a damper on progressive legislation. Failing to meet arguments fairly and squarely, special interest falls back on the old stock phrase of socialism . . . To refer to the remedies for all these evils as state socialism is not constructive statecraft. It is not leadership; and leadership is what this country is hungry for today."

The Reichberg statement continued: "If Governor Smith was right in 1928, then by that same token and by his own once powerful arguments Alfred E. Smith must be wrong today, when he is giving aid and comfort to the opponents of progressive policies which he formerly espoused."

"Millions and millions of Democrats just like myself, all over the country, still believe that platform," he shouted. "And what we want to know is why it wasn't carried out. And listen. There is only one man in the United States of America that can answer that question."

Stately Funeral of England's Late King

FOR two minutes Tuesday afternoon (London time) there was silence throughout all the vast British empire. In St. George's chapel at Windsor the last rites were being performed over the remains of the dead king, George V, by the archbishop of Canterbury, assisted by the archbishop of York and the bishop of Windsor.

Albert Sarraut Becomes Premier of France

FRANCE'S new government, under Albert Sarraut as premier, it is hoped will stand up until the spring elections. If it does, the results will not be happy for Italy for it will take a much stronger stand in support of the League of Nations than did that of Laval.

Flandin went to London for the funeral of King George, and it is rumored in Paris that he would sound out British bankers on the subject of a loan of three billion francs which the French treasury sorely needs.

Leaders of Jewry Plan Exodus From Germany

IF PLANS announced in St. Louis by leaders of world Jewry are carried out, there is to be another exodus, this time from Germany where the Jews are greatly oppressed by the Hitlerites.

As many refugees as possible will seek haven in Palestine. Others, as immigration laws permit, will be taken to America, Canada, England and European countries free from anti-Semitic restrictions.

Three Convictions in Morro Castle Case

A JURY in the United States District court in New York returned verdicts of guilty against acting Capt. William F. Warmes and three co-defendants in the criminal negligence trial resulting from the disastrous fire that swept the Morro Castle off Asbury Park, September 8, 1934, taking a toll of 134 lives.

Besides Warmes, those convicted were Eben Starr Abbott, chief engineer of the burned ship; Henry E. Caband, executive vice president of the New York & Cuba Mail Steamship company, operators of the Ward Line, and the New York & Cuba company itself.

Charges of negligence and cowardice on the part of officers and crew of the liner were made by survivors testifying at the trial. Abbott was shown to have scrambled into one of the first lifeboats put overboard after ordering an assistant to go below and investigate the progress of the fire.

Six Army Flyers Killed in Plane Collision

DURING night formation flying near Honolulu, two army planes collided above the Hawaii military air base and fell in flames. Six of the flyers were instantly killed; two escaped by bailing out. The dead were:

Lieut. William G. Beard, twenty-eight, San Francisco, pilot of one of the planes; Staff Sgt. Bernard F. Jablonowky, thirty-three; Private John B. Hartman, twenty-seven, Chicago; Private Bruce Taylor, twenty-six, Puyallup, Wash.; Private Truman J. Gardner, twenty-seven, Olney, Ill.; and Private Gordon M. Parkhurst, forty-three, Yorkville, N. Y.

Death of G. W. Wickersham, Eminent Attorney

NOTEWORTHY among recent deaths is that of George W. Wickersham of New York, who was attorney general of the United States in the Taft administration and for many years one of the country's leading corporate lawyers.

Mr. Wickersham was chairman of the famous Hoover commission named to investigate prohibition and other law enforcement in 1929. The commission's report opposed repeal, but the document was accompanied by the members' individual statements in which a majority urged repeal or modification of the eighteenth amendment.

Much good work, overlooked by the public in the controversy over prohibition, nevertheless was done by the commission. Its exhaustive reports, filed early in 1931, covered many phases of the crime problem and were regarded as important contributions in that field.

Surgeon General Cumming Will Retire February 1

DR. HUGH S. CUMMING announced that on February 1 he would retire as surgeon general of the United States public health service, "because of long service and health that isn't too good."

His influence in control and treatment of bubonic plague and yellow fever has been world wide. Many nations have honored him with decorations.

It was believed in Washington that President Roosevelt would appoint as the new surgeon general Dr. Thomas H. Parran, Jr., state health commissioner of New York and assistant surgeon general on leave.

Federal Relief Costs Analyzed by K. K. Hoyt

THE present federal relief program, depending principally on work relief, CCC and public works, is alone costing approximately as much as the fourfold program which went before and which embraced these three items plus direct relief which has now been returned to the states.

For immediate purposes, at least, there is no prospect of much reduction in the rate of federal expenditure, according to Mr. Hoyt. In order to prevent the states from trooping back for more relief funds the government must keep its pledge to employ the arbitrary three and one-half millions of persons which have been carried since last November principally under WPA and CCC.

Premier Nessim Pasha of Egypt Resigns

PREMIER NESSIM PASHA, weary of his job since the anti-British riots started November 13, has handed the resignation of his cabinet to King Fuad I. The resignation was accepted.

Nessim found it exhausting to keep an equilibrium between the conflicting forces of the throne, the British residency, the nationalists and their compatriots. But the final blow, dealt him by the British government at London, was the thinly veiled ultimatum to Egyptian Nationalism, in the form of verbal instructions for negotiations for an Anglo-Egyptian treaty.

Developments in League Adverse to Italy

RECENT League of Nations developments have gone heavily against Italy's aspirations for African conquest. Of four major actions taken by the assembled powers led again by Anthony Eden of Great Britain, two definitely were antagonistic to Italy.

1. The league council decided to move toward an oil embargo against Italy. A committee of experts was appointed to ascertain if oil sanctions could be made effective. 2. Britain announced a military alliance with France, Greece, Turkey and Yugoslavia and these nations pledged aid should Italy attack Britain because of sanctions.

BRISBANE THIS WEEK

The Crown Remains Veterans Reach the Top The Useful Red Cross Oxygen Is Life

Behind the gray walls of Windsor castle, on the hill above the Eton school, where young England learns discipline and cricket, King George's coffin was lowered into the vault to lie beside his father, King Edward VII, and his grandmother, Queen Victoria.

The magnificent crown of England was taken from the coffin before it disappeared and placed before the altar. Kings go; the crown remains.

Arthur Brisbane

The services were broadcast, new feature of a royal funeral. The simple Church of England burial service, read by the Archbishop of Canterbury, was heard far over the earth, wherever Britain's 400,000,000 subjects live.

Veterans having successfully climbed the long, long road, the government began the biggest "pay-off" job in history, the printing of two billion four hundred million dollars' worth of bonds, to be distributed among 3,518,191 World War veterans.

Now government wonders what new taxes can be invented to pay the two and one-half billions.

Interesting news from Ethiopia sent by an American correspondent says the residence of Haile Selassie's son has on the roof a large red cross, although it has nothing to do with the Red Cross. Associated Press sends news of a Swedish "field hospital," captured by Italians in the South, carrying ammunition on five trucks adorned with Red Cross flags and insignia.

"The Blood Is the Life," according to an old Hebrew saying, and oxygen is the life of the blood. No oxygen means death, in three minutes or less; too little oxygen means premature death, inferior health meanwhile.

The Dionne quintuplets are marvelous in their health. The marvelous babies sleep outdoors every morning and afternoon; on one occasion the temperature was 30 degrees below zero.

All five walk, all have gained weight during the past month, and have new teeth. Annette has three new ones, twelve in all. All have beautiful big eyes, high foreheads, pretty faces and look as French as the Marsellaise; get plenty of oxygen, but wrap up well.

Lloyd George says the new king, Edward VIII, has the magnetism of his grandfather, Edward VII; that he comes to the throne with such great troubles ahead as few kings have ever encountered, but "his courage and his sure instinct will not fail him."

O. K. Allen, Huey Long's governor of Louisiana, died of a cerebral hemorrhage. He remained in succession to Senator Long, leader of the Long party, a short time only. Perhaps they are together now, both aware that nothing happening on this little earth is important; Huey Long wondering why he made such a fuss about it.

The unnecessary air disaster in Hawaii, two United States bombing planes destroyed in collision while flying "in formation" and six men killed, causes aviators to say that they object to night formation flying. They may well object; nothing more densely stupid could be imagined than sending up planes to fly at high speed, almost wing to wing, inviting disaster and death. Even in these busy times there ought to be somebody sufficiently intelligent to stop that nonsense, at night and in daytime also.

Mr. John Horan of Milwaukee, called by his fellow workers "Soda Ash Johnny," first used soda ash to clean locomotive boilers, a discovery that should have made him rich, but did not.

"Soda Ash Johnny," a proud man, refused to let his son accept a pension, told the authorities: "I am still able to work, and no boy of mine is going 'on the county.'"

It will surprise you to hear that the son, aged sixty-six, had applied for an old age pension.

The statement that imagination is worse than reality applies to everything—death included, let us hope.

When a colony of nudists move on San Diego, Calif., the strongest protest comes from San Diego's Braille club, an organization of blind people. They could not actually know whether the colonists were dressed or not but they do not like the idea.

Anti-Roosevelt Stuff Too Raw

Some So Bad It's Barred From Mails; Hit Tax Dodging of Big Financiers

By EARL GODWIN

WASHINGTON.—A steady stream of defamatory anti-Roosevelt printed matter is now being spread by opponents of the administration, some of it so bad that it has been debarred from the mails because of the existing law prohibiting using the mails to defame anyone's character.

Some of this was miniature stamp cartoons, to be attached to letters in the mail, one of which portrayed the President grinning over a gravestone, with words which attributed to him the deaths of Senator Huey Long and Senator Bronson Cutting.

Some of this was miniature stamp cartoons, to be attached to letters in the mail, one of which portrayed the President grinning over a gravestone, with words which attributed to him the deaths of Senator Huey Long and Senator Bronson Cutting. Some of the opponents of the administration have circulated material in the south intimating that the President and Mrs. Roosevelt frequently have negroes as house guests—in fact there is a tinge of depravity in much of the material now being used to discredit the personality and character of the President of the United States.

The Republican National committee is apparently free from the taint of this type of stuff, but it has departed a long way from the truth in some of its radio sketches, which, by the way, are said to be very poor. In one of these sketches the G. O. P. make it appear that an innocent farmer had been jailed for raising twenty bushels of potatoes. In another they portray a young couple who cannot be married because of the tax burden; and in still another they bring forward a villainous relief administrator who lets all the Republican poor starve to death.

Of course all of this is just plain bunk. The potato control act was passed largely by Republican votes over the protest of the Democratic secretary of agriculture, and in addition, no prosecution of any kind has ever been instituted—and of course no jail sentences. The young married couple had an income too small to be taxed; and the slur on the Relief Administration is a plain falsehood.

As far as taxes go, the real objection that the Republican leadership has to the present income tax, is that it takes a more nearly proper proportion from the incomes beginning with $5,000 and upward, and on inheritances of $10,000,000 and over.

HITS LIBERTY LEAGUE LEADERS

The strongest words I have heard in the senate recently, were those of Senator Schwellenbach of Washington, describing the tax evasion efforts of two of the heaviest supporters of the Liberty League, as equal in criminality to those of "the racketeers in our great cities, who were finally put in the penitentiary because . . . they evaded their income taxes."

So, by a series of transactions which are commonly listed under the head of "rubber checks," they appeared to sell each other their various collections of stocks, but money changed hands, and each man had just about what he had when he had started. In addition, each thought he had a case by which he could flim-flam the government out of several hundred thousand dollars in income taxes, by showing what looked like a loss. But it did not fool the treasury. The income tax collectors immediately called for an explanation, and it should be remembered that both the transaction and the income tax inquiry were in the Hoover administration. The treasury has had no luck in getting a dollar out of either of these men for the taxes in question. And now, after the sixth or seventh attempt, one of these two high financiers calls the latest demand of the treasury an exhibition of tyranny. He apparently wants everyone to think that a wicked Roosevelt has taken it into his head suddenly, to bully a nice little boy from Wall Street.

It so happens that both of these gentlemen were so close to the ammunition business in the World War, that their fingers could have been burned by the powder and other explosives from the Dupont ammunition works. The taxes in 1929 were used largely to pay off the interest and part of the debt on our war expenses, from which the Duponts profited hugely while the American Expeditionary Forces were in the trenches. The Dupont dividends in those war years were $237,000,000.

PRESIDENT STARTS SOMETHING

The other day, when Roosevelt told a group of Works Progress administrators that "if we can boondoggle our way through the depression," that queer term would be accepted as a "grand word" he was starting something. There is a current of ridicule against much of the work now taking the place of the direct cash dole, and it is easily misunderstood unless it is explained. City folks are being made to believe that many of the schools and improvements built by government money in rural areas are unnecessary; that much of the work for the blind and the unfortunate is folly; that the sewing which has been given as work to needy women is waste.

The crazy word "boondoggle" means about what "thingamabob" meant in a previous day. It's just a funny word with a thousand different meanings. Its most destructive use is to undermine confidence in the nation's attempt to give work to the jobless.

Now of course many people have the idea that all relief work should be of the pick and shovel variety, but this depression took opportunities of work away from people who know nothing about the use of a pick and shovel. There are tens of thousands of trained salesmen out of work; and just as many men and women who have earned their living and contributed to the general economy of things, but who always worked with their minds or with their talents. In New York there are many hundreds of people who have earned their living by entertaining others, and if these were to be put to work with picks and shovels the result would be sadly unsuccessful, and the money would really be wasted.

So a rather small proportion of the relief fund has been used for so-called "white collar" projects—otherwise these men and women would not have had any work.

THE FARM PROBLEM

The administration's attitude toward the farm problem is one of extreme patience. The Supreme Court has made it difficult to solve any national social or economic problem, and there is doubt that any substitute for AAA will stand up under the baleful glare from the majority of the court. The crop reduction program, ruled unconstitutional, was, of course a stop gap. As I wrote previously, the goal is a longtime, nation-wide program of restoring to the soil, what has been taken out in the last hundred years.

Well, it seems that the Supreme court makes it necessary to step ahead immediately into that long range plan. There may be weeks of debate over the bills to effect this program, and the legislation may be changed so that its parents (Senator Bankhead of Alabama and Representative Marvin Jones of Texas) would not recognize it; but the bills as agreed upon prescribe a soil conservation program, the government to pay for land taken out of cultivation and production. While this is a part of the long time program, the present tendency is to limit the immediate contracts to a term ending December 31, 1937.

PROCESSING TAXES

Following the knock-out to AAA, certain large millers appealed to have restored to them, the processing taxes collected under the law. The government relied upon former opinions of the Supreme court, but the court reversed itself completely and ordered these processing taxes repaid. The money will go, not to the general public which eventually pays all taxes, but to the manufacturers.

This is chaos to the constitutional lawyers in congress. This same Supreme court ruled exactly the opposite in another case several years ago. John F. George, a North Carolina cotton mill man, obtained an injunction against the collection of the federal tax levied in connection with the federal attempt to regulate child labor. Josiah Bailey, now Senator from North Carolina, was then an internal revenue collector, and he appealed that the tax should be paid, and the Supreme court upheld his appeal.

It was Chief Justice William Howard Taft himself who read the court's opinion, which the government here has always relied upon in cases of this kind. It makes it difficult to stand by the Supreme court without suffering from dizziness, and apparently is one more case where the judges make the law.

PAYING THE BONUS

The full effect of the bonus veto has not yet developed, but the enormous amount of work necessary to print and handle the soldiers' claims and the baby bonds claims has been described in congress. There will be applications from 3,518,191 ex-soldiers, which means added clerical work at Washington. The average amount due each soldier is $650 or 13 $50 bonds. Multiply the number of soldiers by 13, and we have approximately 45,000,000 bonds—not $45,000,000—but that many pieces of paper worth $50 each. That means enormous work at the printing presses, and in addition to all this there must also be engraved and printed, whatever bonds are necessary to raise the money to pay out on the original 45,000,000 baby bonds.

Blanks must go to each soldier, to be filled out and returned to Washington, which means the printing of at least 3,518,191 forms. Unless the soldiers are permitted free postage there will be a sudden demand for three cent stamps. It means more than 7,000,000 envelopes.

Senator Thomas of Oklahoma figures that the baby-bond bonus payment will require the printing of 100,000,000 pieces of paper from first to last. The paper stock upon which this load of forms and bonds is to be printed represents added workmen in the forest; where paper pulp is obtained; added truck drivers; added railway transportation, and great activity in the government printing office and in the bureau of engraving and printing—all to distribute an average of $650 to each ex-soldier.

He came down into the Valley, into view of Will Ferrin's farm. The stand of buildings showed no change...

Saladine turned into the farmyard, and stopped the car, and a man at work with an ax in the shed ceased his labors and came to the door...

"I thought she got too much satisfaction out of her row with him ever to make it up," Saladine suggested, amused.

It was Jenny who explained, her eyes gentle. "She just did it so's I could marry Will and not have to worry about her," she confessed.

"I heard he's quit drinking," Saladine suggested. Will guffawed; and Jenny nodded, laughing softly too.

"She put something into his rum," she said. "It made him terrible sick, and he let on that she'd killed him, and she said she'd kill or cure!"

FORD MOTOR CO. TO PUBLISH FARM ALMANAC FOR 1936

Publication of a "Farm Almanac and Facts Book" which will be distributed to the rural population in all parts of the country was announced today by the Ford Motor Company.

The book is of a convenient pocket size, containing 48 pages. It is unusual in makeup and content, presenting an extensive array of handy tables, statistics and charts for the assistance of the farmer and business man.

This first Ford Almanac is published for 1936 and is now being distributed. It carries a readily available calendar on the back cover and contains tables showing the time of rise and set of sun and moon in all parts of the country every day of the year.

Among the other prominent sections of the book are: A list of memorable historic events for each day of the year, facts about the universe, explanations of physical phenomena, a list of important festivals and anniversaries for the year, rules for forecasting weather conditions, population statistics, facts and records on farming as an industry, discussion of the farm of the future, information on citizenship and naturalization, a brief review of the history and development of the United States, "do's and don'ts" for use in emergencies, poisons and their antidotes, instructions for flower and vegetable gardening, crop seed sowing instructions, a list of places to interest the tourist, parcel post rules and regulations, temperature and rain fall chart, dates of killing frosts in all parts of the country, and a table of distances between the principal cities of the country.

Stories on the founding and development of the Ford Motor Company and about the Ford Rouge Plant, word pictures of famous Edison Institute Museum and quaint Greenfield Village, established within a few miles of the Rouge Plant, are other features of the Ford Farm Almanac.

NATIONWIDE CONOCO AD PROGRAM BOOSTS TEXAS CENTENNIAL

"Attend the Texas Centennial Exposition! Visit Texas scenic and historical shrines during 1936!"

Continental Oil Company, through its February newspaper advertisements, is inviting more than 25 million people living in 36 states and the District of Columbia to spend their vacations in the Lone Star state this year.

The first of this series of advertisements appears in today's News. It will also be reproduced in nearly 1,200 other newspapers, according to Wesley I. Nunn, Conoco advertising manager.

Today's advertisement includes an invitation to enjoy the Centennial, while the second of the series, due to appear during the week of February 7, calls attention to "famed San Jacinto" and the Centennial. The third and final advertisement of the Texas series, scheduled for the week of February 23, refers to "The Alamo—Texas Centennial highspot."

Readers are asked to make their jaunt to Texas even more pleasurable by taking advantage of the free trip planning service of the Conoco Travel Bureau, Denver, Colo., largest organization of its type in America.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for February 9 JESUS INSISTS ON RIGHTEOUSNESS

LESSON TEXT—Luke 6:39-49. GOLDEN TEXT—Why call ye me, Lord, and do not the things which I say?—Luke 6:46.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Tells Us What to Do. JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus' Code for Helpers. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Overcoming Our Faults. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Test of Our Religion.

In verses 20-26 Jesus sets forth the inner spiritual condition of those who are members of his kingdom. In the lesson text for today he sets forth the principles governing the life of his followers.

I. Love Your Enemies (v. 29). Love here is not mere natural affection. Love is not sentiment but is the sincere desire for the welfare of another, and the willingness to do all in one's power to accomplish that which is good for the individual. To love friends is easy, but to love enemies is only possible to those who have been born again.

II. Do Good to Them Which Hate You (v. 27). Love is positive in its nature. The disciple of Christ will not merely refrain from doing injury to one who hates him, but will be concerned with and engaged in doing good to him.

III. Bless Them That Curse You (v. 28). To bless means to speak well of, to invoke a blessing upon.

IV. Pray for Them Which Despitefully Use You (v. 28).

It is obligatory upon the Christian to pray for those who heap abuses upon him. The best commentary on this is Christ's own example. "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do" (Luke 23:34). When Christ was reviled he reviled not again; "When he suffered, he threatened not; but committed himself to him that judgeth righteously" (1 Pet. 2:23).

V. Patiently Endure Wrong and Injury (v. 29). The Christian is not to bristle in defense of his rights, but rather to suffer insult, injury, and even loss. This expresses the law which governs the individual's action and should not be pressed so far that evildoers go unchecked. Rightly constituted government has been ordained of God for the protection of the innocent and punishment of evildoers (Rom. 13:1-5).

VI. Give to Every Man That Asketh of Thee (v. 30).

This text does not authorize promiscuous giving, neither does it mean that any request made by the idle, greedy, and selfish should be granted. There is a giving which injures the one to whom the gift is made. It would not be proper to give a man money to buy whisky. The principle enjoined is to give the thing needed to the one asking. The supreme need of every able-bodied person is to be given a way to earn his living.

VII. Do to Others as You Wish Others to Do to You (v. 31-35).

This is called the Golden Rule. It is the sum total of Christian duty as it pertains to human inter-relationships. If this rule were lived up to, the problem of capital and labor would be solved, war would cease, international relations would be peaceably adjusted, and all profiteering in business would end.

VIII. Be Merciful (v. 36).

This means to be filled with pity and compassion; to enter into sympathy with every need of others. Our supreme example is the Heavenly Father.

IX. Censorious Judgments Condemned (v. 37).

This means that the evil or false in others should not be sought out. We should not sit in critical judgment upon the action of others. This does not, however, prohibit the estimation of others by their deeds.

X. Compensations of Right Living (v. 38).

The believer who gives freely of money, loves sincerely, makes the Golden Rule the standard of his life, shows mercy and kindness to others, and refrains from impugning the motives of others, will be fully rewarded.

XI. Danger of Following False Teachers (v. 39).

The teacher who does not know God and the way to heaven will lead others into ruin. Only such as know God should be followed.

XII. Those Who Reprove Others Should Live Blameless Lives (v. 41, 42).

Evil living should be removed from our lives before bringing others to account.

XIII. The Sin of Profession Without Fruitbearing (v. 43, 46).

The one who is in fellowship with God will practice the principles which reveal God's nature.

Cactus in Ethiopia Came From Somewhere in America

American barbed wire manufacturers are said to be refusing orders from the belligerent powers in Africa. But something from America, almost as wicked, was at the front long before Romans and Ethiopians began taking pot-shots and spear-jabs at each other. Cactus is figuring in news pictures from the Ethiopian war zone. Machine-gun nests are shown flanked or half-camouflaged by huge plants of flat-jointed prickly pear bristling with spines—menacing alike to Italian uniforms and Ethiopian chammars, not to mention the legs and arms beneath them.

All true species of cactus are of American origin. The prickly plants were unknown in the Old world before the voyages of Columbus. But once cacti were introduced from Mexico and South America they became established all around the Mediterranean shores in amazingly quick time, and from there they spread throughout the dry lowlands of northeast Africa and southern Asia, until now they seem normal, native parts of the landscape.

THE DOCTORS ARE RIGHT

Womer should take only liquid laxatives

Many believe any laxative they might take only makes constipation worse. And that isn't true. Do what doctors do to relieve this condition. Doctors use liquid laxatives.

A cleansing dose today; a smaller quantity tomorrow; less each time, until bowels need no help at all.

Reduced dosage is the secret of aiding Nature in restoring regularity. You must use a little less laxative each time, and that's why your laxative should be in liquid form. A liquid dose can be regulated to the drop. The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara—both natural laxatives that form no habit even with children. Syrup Pepsin is the nicest tasting, nicest acting laxative you ever tried.

Nor Even One No household is big enough for two selfish people.

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with anything less than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble to aid nature to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

Some Club Luncheon Ideas for the Puzzled Hostess

It is a Sensible Custom to Serve at Regular Meal Hour.

Herewith is given a menu for a very simple club luncheon, to be served before the afternoon bridge. It is such a sensible custom to serve a luncheon at a regular meal hour instead of refreshments at an hour which will be so near dinner time that appetite is lost.

Another good reason for serving beforehand is that most women feel it necessary to get home before the children's supper hour, and when there is a distance to be traveled, they are anxious to leave as soon as the game is over.

As far as the hostess herself is concerned, it is usually easier for her to serve before bridge than after. She can then play her hand without worry as to whether the coffee is boiling over or the sandwiches drying out.

For a club that is original in its idea of what may be served at luncheon, the hostess of the day invited the eight members to a breakfast party served at ten o'clock. She provided melon as a fruit course and then served coffee, small baked sausages, creamed potatoes and waffles. There were plenty of waffles and they made the dessert as well when the sirup was passed.

Another woman, who had been sent a Virginia ham from her southern home, gave her guests ham and eggs and hot waffles with grapefruit as a starter.

The clever hostess does not feel that she must follow accepted formulas for refreshments for her parties, and her guests always agree with her.

- 1/4 cup cold water
- 1/2 pound shrimps
- 12 stuffed olives

Heat the soup with the boiling water. Soften the gelatin in the cold water, add the soup, stir until dissolved. Arrange several shrimps to use alternately in a mold and add carefully a little of the gelatin mix-

Find 800-Year-Old "Bowl" Where Games Were Played

Discovery of a large oval "bowl" where prehistoric America's exciting games were played 800 years ago is announced at Flagstaff, Ariz., by Dr. Harold S. Colton of the Museum of Northern Arizona.

The discovery, pronounced amazing, was made in northern Arizona near Flagstaff, by a joint expedition of the Museum and Arizona State Teachers College of Flagstaff, led by J. C. McGregor.

The find surprises archeologists, because never before has it been realized that ball games—national sport of Mayas, Aztecs, and other Indians of Mexico—were popular over so wide an area of ancient America.

The game court now excavated is an oval bowl about 100 feet long and 45 feet wide, with slightly pointed ends. The sloping sides, Doctor Colton said, must have been seven or eight feet high, and the floor was level. A goal was made of four rocks in the floor.—Science Service.

ture. Place on ice to harden, and repeat. A ring mold is attractive when it is turned out—and then the center can be filled with sliced cucumber mixed with whipped sour cream seasoned with onion and tarragon vinegar. When the mold is set, turn out on a platter and garnish with lettuce or romaine. Pass the sour cream dressing or mayonnaise.

Chicken Turnover.
Cut pastry into long rounds and spread with a filling made of minced cooked chicken seasoned with onion juice, salt, pepper and moistened with cream. Fold the pastry over, press edges together, brush with milk and bake about ten minutes until brown in a hot oven (450 degrees Fahrenheit).

Slenderizing Surplice Topsy an At-Home Frock

PATTERN 9609

What if you do wear a forty-six? No need to sacrifice femininity on that account, for a frock with gracious, slimming lines can make you look as young as you feel. Why not choose an easy pattern with surplice bodice for your next "at home" style—like the one sketched today? Simplicity is the keynote of those sweeping lines that outline the collarless, surplice yoke. The slenderizing effect carries right on down into the skirt—a clever piece of designing, we'd say!

Pattern 9609 may be ordered only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires 3 3/4 yards 36 inch fabric. Complete, diagrammed sew chart included.

SEND FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., 232 W. Eighteenth St., New York, N. Y.

Floyd Gibbons ADVENTURERS' CLUB

Hello, Everybody!

"Brakeman's Jump for Life"

By FLOYD GIBBONS
Famous Headline Hunter.

GATHER around, fellow adventurers, and meet the new member of the club. He is Norman E. Spencer, and don't bother wheeling out that big, comfortable easy chair for Norman, because he isn't used to that sort of thing. If you want to make him feel right at home, just let him hang by his knees from the chandelier. For Norman is a railroad brakeman and, from the looks of his story, railroad brakemen must spend most of their time dangling by one hand or one leg, or one eyelash, over several assorted kinds of certain death.

Anyway, it is that sort of experience Norman is going to tell us about today, and I would advise you all to take a good, deep breath before he starts, because you're going to be holding it a long time before he is finished.

Norman became a railroad brakeman just about the time the United States entered the World War. Those were the days when all the able-bodied men were running for the recruiting stations, and sixteen-year-old kids, like Norman was then, were being dragged out of high school to fill their jobs. He worked two or three years on that brakeman job and did it darned well. But it wasn't until February, 1918, that he ran into the adventure on which he is now going to give us the lowdown.

It was late at night and the train Norman was braking had just started down a nine-mile hill at Harper's Ferry, W. Va. Norman had just gone back over the top of the train to set up air retainers on the 10 cars nearest the engine and he was on his way back when his lantern went out, leaving him to travel the tops of the cars in darkness.

One Little Slip Might Cost Legs or Life.

Picking his way back carefully over the swaying car tops he managed to get to the first car. But when he came to jump from the front car to the engine tender he hesitated. The gap was wider there than it was between the cars and the unsteady light that came from the firebox of the engine cast moving shadows that made it hard to judge the distance.

Norman took his time about gauging that last jump, but luck that night was running against him. For, at the same instant that his feet left the end of the car, the engineer opened the throttle wide. The train leaped forward, ruining Norman's carefully timed leap, and down he went between the engine and the car, headed for certain death beneath the wheels.

He fell feet first. "Like a drowning man," he says, "I was grabbing at anything I could get hold of. I guess it wasn't my time yet, for somehow I managed to get one hand on a small chain that runs down the back of the tank to the coupler. And there I hung, with my feet and legs dragging on the ties, my body sort of stretched out by the speed of the train and the pull of the ties as my legs rubbed against them.

Norman Struggles Inches From Doom.

"My feet were only inches away from the wheels of the front car and I knew that any sudden lurch of the train would throw my feet right under them. I tried to pull myself up on the chain, but every time I gained a few inches away from the wheels of the front car the friction of the ties would pull me right back again."

It could have been only a few seconds that Norman was struggling with that chain, but it seemed like hours to him before it was over. Time and again he would pull himself up almost to the point where he could get hold of something more solid and rigid than that chain only to become exhausted and fall back again. Finally he got hold of an iron bar that crossed the back of the engine tender, but still his troubles weren't over. He had literally to chin himself on this bar and at the same time edge himself over to the right in order to get to a ladder that ran down the back of the tender.

It was a feat that called for the trained muscles of an acrobat, but Norman had to do it—or die. And, to make matters worse, the train at that point roared into the tunnel just east of Harper's Ferry and he was all but stifled with the smoke and heat and steam that poured back on him from the engine. He had to hang on in that difficult position until, at last, the train shot out of the tunnel before he dared try to edge his way any farther along the bar.

Norman Climbs His Tallest Ladder—for Life.

Once the train was out in the open again he started his slow, difficult journey. Inch by inch he worked his way across the bar, while his muscles ached and threatened to give out on him. At length, though, he made it—got to the ladder on the side of the tender and began to climb up. Never before, and never since, has that ladder seemed so long as it did to Norman's tired and aching muscles that night. When, finally, he got to the top of the tender he lay down flat on his back.

"I just lay there," he says, "and looked at the stars. And I know they were never more lovely. When I got back into the cab the engineer remarked that it had taken me a long time, and I didn't say a word. It wasn't until we had got to the yards and the rest of the crew and I cleaned up and were about to have something to eat that the reaction set in. I trembled so then that the other fellows thought I had a chill and gave me a big hooker of whisky. 'Just for safety's sake,' they said. But I thought to myself that I should have had that hooker an hour ago, the other side of Harper's Ferry."

Lonely People of World Found on Small Islands

The loneliest Britons are to be found among the smaller islands of the Hebrides, observes a writer in Pearson's London Weekly. Many of them believe in fairies and in ghosts; the ghosts are always green. Several of the islands have less than a dozen inhabitants, some less than half a dozen. No roads, no motor cars, no cinemas, no dances, no hospitals.

The world's loneliest petrol pump is Biddon Cinq, in the middle of the Sahara desert, in Algerian territory. One Arab looks after it, selling water besides petrol. The first Arab put in charge went out of his mind.

Sailors say the loneliest lighthouse is out in the Red sea, off Suakin. It is known as the Widow's Tears, because it was built by the generosity of a British captain whose ship was wrecked on the Djebel Ter rock. For a long time no keeper would agree to dwell there, and its tending was entrusted to convicts, who were let off part of their sentence as a reward.

Britain's loneliest band is that of the bagpipe players of the isle of Arranmore, off Donegal.

Night watchmen are the loneliest workers in cities. Month after month, and year after year, they go their solitary rounds through stores and warehouses, until the pale light of dawn calls them home, to bed.

The Scotch-Irish

Scotch-Irish are chiefly of Scotch descent, though they came to this country from Ireland. In 1611 King James I began colonizing Ulster, a barren and neglected part of Ireland, with people from Scotland and the northern part of England. They began migrating to America about the year 1730, and at the outbreak of the Revolutionary war about one-sixth of the population of the colonies was Scotch-Irish.

AAA BENEFITS
By EDWARD A. O'NEAL
Head of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

THE program launched by organized agriculture must go forward. The American farmer will continue to fight for economic parity. Under the operations of the Agricultural Adjustment act the agricultural march toward parity, by giving farmers a purchasing power, has stimulated business revival throughout the country.

We are going to look to congress to take specific steps which will provide by legislation the mechanism by which agricultural parity is to be continued.

It is up to congress to provide that legislation within the provisions of the Constitution.

THE PARALLEL

By PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

SO METIMES at the close of a day I say to myself that the last national election must have been held a dozen years ago—so much water has run under the bridge, so many great events in our history have occurred since then. And yet 34 months—less than three years—have gone by since March, 1933.

History repeats in these crowded months, as in the days of Jackson—two great achievements stand forth—the rebirth of the interest and understanding of a great citizenry in the problems of the nation and an established government which by positive action has proved its devotion to the recovery and well-being of that citizenry.

A DEFENSE OF CAPITALISM

By JOHN S. THOMAS
President of Clarkson College.

WE LISTEN with rapt attention while our intelligentsia tell us that the chief interest of business men is to bring on periodic collapse; that our farmers are failures; that we who work are oppressed; that we who do not are pauperized; that our statesmen are stupid, venal and hired; that criminals rule our cities; that we owe ourselves so much money we are bankrupt, and that what we do not owe ourselves, we have lent to Europe.

And poor old capitalism! Capitalism has not a leg to stand on. Being tried for life, she seems not to have a friend left in court.

And all of this, mind you, in spite of the fact that capitalism and the principle of competition in business working together in this country since 1790 have given us the most marvelous 140 years ever enjoyed by any people, anywhere, at any time.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

By MR. ROOVER

THE most ominous note of all was the President's warning that the power he has assumed would be dangerous in other hands. "In thirty-four months," he says, "we have built up new instruments of public power. In the hands of the people's government, this power is wholesome and proper."

It just happens that the ideal upon which our government was founded and hitherto conducted is that it is dangerous to the people to have any man possess such powers, or to allow any man to thus aspire to personal government instead of a government of laws.

The question is, not that these powers, having been created and now in the hands of the good, might be transferred to the hands of the wicked, if the New Deal is not continued. It is that they never should be possessed by anybody in these United States.

Piece of True Cross Stolen

Priceless religious relics valued at more than $700,000 have been stolen from Pamplona cathedral, Spain. It is believed the thieves escaped over the frontier. A portion of the True Cross is among the loot. The culprits succeeded by making themselves familiar with the cathedral routine and obtaining keys to open the treasure chests. Chalices, crosses and gems were taken by the thieves.

Going Out of Ourselves to Refresh Our Thoughts

Doctor Richardson tells us there is nothing so wholesome for an active mind as to secure rest by variety of work. A man can do five or six times more than he expects if he varies his work. I have found that to be so in my own life. By varying his work a man obtains fresh spirits, and renewed powers for the duties of daily life.

There is so much that is discouraging and depressing in the world, that we must sometimes go forth, as it were, out of ourselves for fresh thoughts and fresh air. The greatest workers, when they go out for a holiday, are not idle; they find rest by change of occupation. Life is too short to admit of idleness in anybody.—Ersikine Clarke.

IS A MERRY OLD SOUL NOW THAT HE EATS ROAST BEEF... HE HAS HIS TUMS IF HEARTBURN COMES... THEY GIVE HIM QUICK RELIEF!

LEARN HOW TO EAT FAVORITE FOODS

Without Heartburn... Gas... Sour Stomach
MAKE the test that has switched millions to Tums. Munch 3 or 4 of them after eating a meal of your favorite foods or when too much smoking, hasty eating, last night's party or some other cause has brought on acid indigestion, sour stomach, gas, belching or heartburn. See how food "takes" vanish. You are not taking any harsh alkalies which physicians say may increase the tendency toward acid indigestion. Instead a wonderful antacid that works in an unusual way, by dissolving only enough to correct stomach acid... just like candy. Only 10c a roll. At all drug stores.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Be Sure They Properly Cleanse the Blood

YOUR kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as nature intended—fail to remove impurities that poison the system when retained.

Then you may suffer nagging backache, dizziness, scanty or too frequent urination, getting up at night, puffiness under the eyes, feel nervous, miserable—all upset.

Don't delay? Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are especially for poorly functioning kidneys. They are recommended by grateful users the country over. Get them from any drugist.

Here's Very Fast Way to "Alkalize" Acid-Indigestion Away

Amazingly Fast Relief Now from "Acid Indigestion" Over-Indulgence, Nausea, and Upsets

IF you want really quick relief from an upset or painful stomach condition—arising from acidity following over-eating, smoking, mixtures of foods or stimulants—just try this:

Take—2 teaspoonfuls of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in a full glass of water. OR—2 Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets, the exact equivalent of the liquid form.

This acts almost immediately to alkalize the excess acid in the stomach. Neutralizes the acids that cause headaches, nausea, and indigestion pains. You feel results at once.

Try it AND—if you are a frequent sufferer from "acid stomach," use Phillips' Milk of Magnesia 30 minutes after meals. You'll forget you have a stomach!

When you buy, see that any box or bottle you accept is clearly marked "Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia."
