Heroine Re-enacts Rescue

BIG SPRING, Tex.—Mary Elizabeth Davis, 13-year-old heroine, re-enacts the rescue of her brother, Vyron, which won her the Presidential Medal and the Life Saving Certificate of the American Red Cross. Gas fumes overcame her brother while rabbit hunting and killed his dog. Mary dragged the boy from the gassed area, applied first aid learned from the safety manual of her father's employer, the Continental Oil Company. Publicly commended and honored, Mary here shows photographers of Look Magazine how she did it.

AGGIE BRIEFS

By LOOE MILLER
Secretary Briscoe Co. Committee

The Briscoe County Agricultural Conservation Association Committee wishes to take this means of expressing their appreciation to the range cooperators of Briscoe County for the wonderful way in which they cooperated in entertaining our guests Thursday, March 9.

The Educational Meeting started at 9:30 a. m. The meeting was opened by the County Agent, Mr. Williams, who in turn introduced the visiting speakers, Mr. Vick Cade, State Committeeman for this District; Mr. A. L. Smith, Administrative Assistant in Range Adjustment; Mr. M. R. Bentley, Agricultural Engineer; and Mr. M. Burnam of the State Office.

There were visitors from Floyd, Hale, Swisher and Castro Counties. At 11:30 the Educational Meeting adjourned and all went to Bland Burson's Ranch Headquarters where there was a real barbecue with all the trimmings prepared and waiting. Practically all of the ranchers of the county were present. The weather being ideal for such an occasion, everyone enjoyed the day. We feel that the talk which Mr. Smith made to the ranchers gave them a better understanding of the purpose of the Range Program.

Wheat Yield

We have mailed to each wheat producer in the county a card asking for the 1938 wheat yields to be furnished the office as soon as practicable. This is very important in that the County Committee cannot set your average wheat yield until the 1938 yield is submitted. The State Committee is ready to transmit forms for parity on the 1939 wheat crop as soon as the County Committee has made their 1939 wheat yield adjustment. If you are one of those who has not submitted your 1938 wheat yield, please do so at once.

We noticed in yesterday's paper that in our neighboring county a man was killed because his farm was blowing over his neighbor. We hope this will not happen in this county. We mention this to call to your attention the seriousness of allowing your farm to blow and you should, if at all possible, prevent it. I am sure that your neighbor will feel better toward you if you will make every effort possible to protect your farm from blowing over his. We know there is nothing we can do about the wind blowing, but we are told that there is enough moisture in the soil to stop the land from blowing when it is listed. We all know that the windy season has just begun so let us work together and try and protect our soil and also be a good neighbor.

Checks

All the checks received in the past week have been for the Range cooperators. Practically all the ranchers received their 1938 range checks this week. When the remainder of the checks for Briscoe County will be here, we have no way of knowing. Your guess is as good as ours. However, when checks are received you will be notified by card. If you will bring the card with you when you come, it will help us by saving just a little time.

Insured Wheat

There seems to be some farmers who have their wheat insured who are not taking the proper precaution to protect their wheat. We would like to warn you that when your wheat land starts blowing it is necessary that you make some effort to stop this land from blowing in order to protect the remainder of your wheat. Unless this is done your wheat insurance policy is liable to be cancelled.

Time To Buy '39 License Tags

The color of "something or other" of the new license tags for 1939 is not meeting with too much public favor, according to the Sheriff's office here. Only a few more than sixty car and truck tags have been sold this month.

New license tags must be on all vehicles by April 1st, and may be purchased any time this month. Highway officers have already received their orders to arrest any person after April 1st, who is driving a car or truck without the new tags. As long as the tag must be purchased and installed this month, there is really no reason for waiting until the last day, and those who buy now will be doing the sheriff and his helpers a distinct favor.

SMITH - MARTIN

Mr. Gerald Smith and Miss Anna Mae Martin were united in marriage Saturday afternoon in Amarillo.

Anna Mae is the daughter of Mrs. Lena Martin, she attended school here and is a popular member of the younger set.

Gerald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Smith and a graduate of Silverton High School.

The News extends their congratulations to the happy couple.

MERRILL - WALLACE

Miss Hazel Merrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Merrill of Brice, Texas and Mr. Frank Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Wallace of Silverton were united in marriage by Judge Coffee Saturday afternoon, March 11.

They are well known and are both thought of as a very popular couple.

They will make their home southeast of Silverton.

We wish them success and happiness and a long life together.

THE HOME IS HALF THE FARM

By T. C. Richardson, Secretary Breeder-Feeder Association

"Last call for breakfast in the dining car" sings the porter as he goes the belated passengers into activity. They have only to weave their way to the tables and pay the price, to regale themselves on the fat of the land gathered from far and near and served by others—and what a price! Only farm folk can breakfast, dine and sup on the delicacies of a daily menu without paying the pyramided cost of production, transportation, processing, preparation and service which compel the high prices on hotel and dining car bills of fare.

Do we need a gong to arouse us to our opportunities of high living at a low cost? Then let's "play like" (as children say) the gong is ringing for the last call—not only for breakfast, but for dinner and supper as well! It's that time of year when the good eats of summer, fall and winter are assured by planning and planting; or else are left to the uncertainties of accident and "cash income" from salable farm commodities. Too often we do without the best things of life on the mistaken theory that "we can buy them cheaper than we can produce" them.

All the elements of a first-class diet are farm-grown, and most of them are ready to use without going to town for processing. Here's what every member of the family need for a year's wholesome and satisfying diet. Multiply these figures by the number in the family and you have the requirements for which planning

Kansas Men Impressed By J.H. Burson Herefords

Hugh E. Hahn and C. C. Whitney, Kansas men who have been visiting in Silverton, were surprised and enthusiastic over the cattle and horses at the J. H. Burson Ranch, which they visited here the first of the week. Hahn, who is a farmer-ranchman living northwest of Dodge City, Kansas, has visited Hereford raises in many parts of Colorado, Kansas, and Nebraska, and he reports that the Burson stock is the best he has ever seen, both for size of herd and quality of the cattle.

Mr. Burson is feeding approximately a thousand head of cattle at his ranch this winter, which of course is a huge job. A truck load of cotton cake and feed is hauled to the ranch practically every day. Weather makes no difference—in spite of dust, cold weather, or snow, the cattle must be fed. And they have been fed well, and cared for well, and when Burson cattle go to market, they bring top prices. Many of the best of the animals are sold to other ranchers all over the country for breeding purposes, and of course, the breeders bring high prices.

Mr. Burson has built this huge cattle business himself—from the ground up and is one of the first of the Panhandle ranchers who found that registered cattle pay big dividends. He has very definite and outspoken ideas on the raising of cattle, and his herd proves, that in most cases, he has been right.

In addition to his Herefords Burson has a big string of Thoroughbred horses headed by a John Wilkes stallion. He has a market all over the United States and one of the best customers is the federal government. All horses are registered Thoroughbreds.

Any lover of horses and cattle can spend some enjoyable time by looking over this ranch, and according to the Kansas men, will receive a fine welcome by the Bursons.

From Neighboring Newspapers

New Management

For the first time in fifteen years, the Tulla Herald is under new management. R. L. Scurlock of Blackwell, Oklahoma last week assumed the active management of the Swisher County paper. Mrs. F. P. Engleman, is now sole owner of the Herald, according to that paper.

Win At State Meet

The Happy Cowgirls, Happy High School basketball team, are contenders for the Texas A. A. U. Girls Basketball championship, according to the Happy Herald. They defeated their first opponent last week in the Greenville tournament. Final results of the tourney were not given.

New Athletic Field

Quitaque is to have a lighted football field, says the Quitaque Post. The school board and the city council met last week and worked out a plan for lighting the field, which is thought will be self financing. Work is to start immediately.

First In Pony Express

Shannon Davidson, Matador's entry in the Pony Express race, was leading the pack last Thursday in the race from Nacona to California. According to the Matador Tribune, Davidson is riding bareback in order to save the strength of his horses. A big celebration awaits young Davidson when he returns to his home town.

MEMPHIS HOST TO 86 HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION

The regular monthly meeting of the Highway 86 Association was held at Memphis Tuesday. The members were entertained by the Rotary Club before the business session.

Judge Coffee reported to the Association on the progress in this county. He said that work on the cap rock is stopped temporarily, waiting for a new project set-up. WPA workers, including 52 men from Hall County began work Wednesday getting the road bed in shape west of the cap rock, preparatory to laying the caliche base. The Austin Construction Company is expected to start work on the four mile strip through Silverton by the first of April.

Further road reports here today, are to the effect that the State Highway Department will soon take over Highway 207 for state upkeep.

The Highway Association will send a delegation to Austin soon with delegations from Clarendon and Pampa, to ask for a survey of the highway from Silverton to Memphis.

HOW TO GUARD AGAINST INFLUENZA

The first week of March showed 1000 cases of influenza in Texas. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued the following statement on the disease.

"In its present form the symptoms may range from a common cold to a high fever, back ache and prostration. However, pneumonia as a complication represents a real hazard and it is well known pneumonia is an exceedingly dangerous disease. The remedy is to go to bed upon the first appearance of the cold and remain there until advised by a physician before one can safely get out of it.

"Everyone should realize that in its lightest form influenza can very easily become a serious matter. Prevention is far better than cure and the careful observance of a few common sense rules will materially strengthen ones resistance to an attack of influenza. Some of these rules are:

- (1) So far as possible avoid contact with members of families with colds or influenza.
- (2) Keep the feet dry.
- (3) Wash the hands before meals.
- (4) Avoid unnecessary fatigue.
- (5) See that your alimentary system is regular in action."

Friday of this week belongs to the F. F. A. boys and they are using the day to stage their annual Livestock Show for you. The boys are busy today (Thursday) cleaning off the lot north of King's Barber Shop and getting it ready to use as their display ground.

There will be a nice exhibit of the animals which the boys have raised themselves. They are competing for prizes and about $75 in cash and merchandise is being offered by local merchants and business men.

These boys have worked hard this year getting their stuff in shape to show and to sell. Most of these Future Farmers can show you a nice profit on their project, and they will be glad to show you all the facts and figures.

The boys can show their row alone—they have shown us that. But how much better for them and ourselves if we turn out in full strength to see and support their work. Let's go see what they have accomplished.

RUIN OF SIN

Watts' picture, "Among the Ruins", suggests a thought that is frequent with us all. Before us is a Greek Temple, once stately and beautiful, now in ruins. One fluted pillar is broken off near the pediment, and the ground is strewn around with fragments of ruin. In the shadow, on a prostrate column, a solitary figure sits; his head bowed upon his hands, he is wrapped in deep thought. No need to ask the subject of his thoughts. He is comparing the present with the past; what he is with what he was. The depression which is bowing down this lonely figure seated on the pillar is the sorrow of misspent years, of ruined hopes, of broken purposes. The picture would be altogether depressing were it not that the ruins of man's work are contrasted with the ever reviving life of God in nature. Around the ruins of man's temple there is bursting the perennial freshness of the spring. All around there are whispers of hope, and the promise of renewed life. And God is whispering to the lonely pilgrim that out of the winter of his despair he can bring a new flowering of love and fruitfulness if only he will submit to His Divine and Blessed Will. Continue this thought with us next Sunday morning in the Presbyterian Church.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT

According to regular petition, the following candidates are nominated for the office of school Trustee of the Silverton Independent School District, subject to the election April 1, 1939:

- A. L. McMURTRY
- TRUE BURSON

WRECKS NEW TRUCK

M. A. Holloman, probably had the hardest luck of anyone this week. He put a brand new Chevrolet truck on the job at the cap rock this week and the very first load, wrecked the truck. The driver, Eddie Morris, evidently got a little too close to the edge of the fill and over went the truck and rolled over to the bottom and was almost a complete wreck. The driver was slightly injured.

SCHOOL CENSUS

All parents having children who will be 6 and under 18 years of age on September 1, 1939 and who are residents of the Silverton Independent School District should see that your children are enumerated. Mr. J. S. Fisher is now canvassing the district for scholastics.

The state pays its per capita upon the basis of scholastics enumerated. Each scholastic is worth approximately $25 to the Silverton Independent District.

Do not fail to see that your children are placed upon the rolls. This should be done before April 1st.

There had been some thunder during the night, and as Breck threw back his tarp at dawn, a storm threatened south over the country into which he was to move...

"Breck," Cook said over the table that night, "you can figure on moving to Rock House day after tomorrow. That's the fourteenth, just one night ahead of the cattle drive..."

It was a lean-bodied man with iron gray hair that rode into headquarters the next morning astride a government mule and leading two packs.

"Hello, Donny!" Cook hailed him, then introduced him to Breck. "This is Donaldson, the man who spots fires for you to fight. You'll cuss him out plenty before the season ends!"

It was deserted; even from where he stopped he could make out the door swinging on a loose hinge...

In the flash of light he looked into all corners, then to the ceiling. Small logs placed across the beams formed a loft that dripped with water from a poor roof...

The horses thumped on again. Presently there sounded the creak of a corral gate being opened and closed. Then both men returned to the cabin.

"Hell of a night," one began. "He ort to be here. Ain't no—" "Shut up your grumbling and rustle some wood!" This was Jud again.

In a moment, when they took off their hats, hanging them to dry on pegs behind the stove, Breck had his first full look at Hep.

Both men stood through a time of silence. Hep spoke first, sullenly. "He ortn't keep us waitin' like this!" Jud said nothing.

He judged two animals. It might be his packs coming toward the meadow. But then above the splash of rain about the cabin, he heard a man's muttering...

He stood tense, watching across the hollow of his saddle. Nothing showed in the pines. Only a far-off roar broke the silence.

He lowered his head and stood motionless as Breck leveled his gun over the saddle and aimed at a rock where he had caught a flash of fire.

Silverton Defeats Quitaque In Boxing

By Jewelle Hodges

Silverton, Tolia and Turkey met at the Silverton High School Gym last Thursday night for a three-way boxing engagement. By winning six out of eight fights, the Owls carried off honors.

A brief summary of the matches in which Silverton boys participated: Raymond Womack, probably the best boxer in this section, slugged Sims of Tolia with rights and lefts to win the 35 lb. class.

Johnnie McClellan won the 112 lb. division with a victory over Richardson, Turkey. The fight was even all the way, but McClellan's short jabs apparently won the decision.

Hank Brown didn't draw a sissy in Gibson of Turkey in the 155 lb. weight. In the Flomot Tournament, Gibson gave L. B. Martin, Floydada's popular Golden Gloves Champion, a bloody exhibition of slugging.

The feature fight of the night was the W. L. Perry-Martin scrap. The two rushed each other at the first bell with rights and left flying in every direction—when the leather slinging ceased, Martin, Turkey, was on the canvas with a K. O. for his dreams.

A SCHOOL LIBRARY

By Freda Wimberly

A good library is essential to a well-developed school. A library need not be large to supply good reading material for the students, but it should be added to yearly.

A school library should be supplied with two or three subscriptions to good magazines and daily papers. The students should learn history as it is in the making.

Mr. Sherman and family spent the week end in Dallas and visited the Fat Stock Show.

Carl Dean Bomar spent the week end in Turkey.

Marinez Cowart spent the past week end with friends and relatives in Amarillo.

The members of the faculty who attended the Teacher's Convention in Canyon last Friday and Saturday were Misses Montgomery, Murphy, Anna Lee Anderson, Foust, Brown, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Wheelock, Mr. Kelsay, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Doherty and Mrs. Walling.

Those attending the Fat Stock Show were Miss Cross and Miss Graham, Guinn Williamson, and Mrs. Bland Burson and Vance.

SPORTS BY SPURTS

By Len Lee

Some of the old timers are winking that grin off their faces since last Thursday night. In the past, when the Owls entered an athletic contest it was just understood that they would be on the receiving end.

W. L. Perry whim-whammed a Turk to the canvas for the count in the first round—and did you know that Perry was only substituting for Carlton Gardner.

Tom Brooks, the Haylake Flash, is proving to be a pleasant surprise in the dashes. R. H. Stodghill has the makings of a "Cunningham" miler.

The familiar tune from J. B. Smith now days is, "Let me at those pitchers."

A livestock farmer, who was exultantly forebearing, suspected a neighbor of foul play. When he could stand it no longer, he sent the following note across the fence.

Despite the bad dust storm, several fans came out to watch the Silverton and Quitaque boxers tangle up.

In the first bout 'Wormy' Womack exchanged punches and clinches with Craig of Quitaque. Apparently Womack's clinches, punches and smile were too much for Craig, because the decision was in Womack's favor.

Johnnie McClellan of Silverton and Rhoderick of Quitaque were the next punch-exchangers. They were in the 115 pound class. Rhoderick proved to be quite a boxer, because Johnnie tossed the towel in the ring in the second round.

Minyard Long and Will Lee were the next boxers to give and take. Long's punches had their effect because he was given the decision.

In the 135 pound class Helms and Gardner gave an exhibition of fast boxing with Gardner the winner.

Conrad Henderson and Tudor Rhoderick had a slugfest that lasted until Henderson threw in the towel in the second round.

BRISCOE COUNTY NEWS

Official City and County News

ROY W. HAHN
Editor and Publisher

James L. Allred Sports Editor

The only part of the hog the packers waste is the squeal, and the consumers furnish that.

I HEREBY RESOLVE—that this shall remain in the Briscoe County News until our city managers start a little constructive work toward surfacing our streets, or at least until the death of Yours Truly. Dated this 9th day of June, 1933. (I've been wanting to show for a long time, how long a Squeaky slug will last.)

WELL, AS YOU know, Mrs. Yours Truly was operated on last Friday at the Lubbock Sanitarium and is doing exceptionally well, or so Dr. Krueger says. She won't be home though, until about a week from next Sunday.

WE TRADE WITH our advertisers. We've been three times to the Plainview Sanitarium and this time to Lubbock. The Plainview Sanitarium runs $2.00 worth of advertising a month and the Lubbock $3.00. Try one of our little ads—maybe we'll drop in and spend four or five hundred dollars.

IT TAKES ALL kinds of people to make up this old world. Mr. Whitney met one of the "other" kind at Lubbock the other day. A fellow came up to him, and had a pamphlet for sale for one cent. When Pop Whitney got out his purse to pay him, the bird saw a Kansas token (Pop is a damyankee you know) and said "Let me see that token"—and reached in the pocketbook and grabbed ALL THE CHANGE . . . and took out on the run. He ran over to the drug store with Pop Whitney hot on his heels. He was sitting at the fountain. Pop told him to shell out the money or he'd call the law. He reached in his pocket and handed back the change, complaining that it wasn't enough to worry about. Then he didn't have enough to pay for the malt he had ordered. I guess the fountain man called a cop, for one drove up and took the old boy in to camp a few minutes later. He was a local dope fiend it turned out, and I guess was a regular customer of the law.

LITTLE ROY HAD a brush with the law, too, while in Lubbock. Got on a one way street, going the wrong way, and met a cop right in the middle of it. He had a wonderful sense of humor however, and the first thing he said was, "Buddy, you must be from Silverton." And the last thing he said was, "Remember, you're not in Silverton now."

SEVERAL NEWCOMERS have been complaining of the dust. It's a sure way to mark yourself as a tenderfoot. The dust doesn't bother a real westerner—it's these bright clear days. Personally, if I can't get about 40 per cent dust saturation in my breathing air—my lungs won't function.

THE FFA BOYS are staging a livestock show Friday. They are deserving of your attention at their annual display of their projects. They are hard working, conscientious boys. They do a lot of things too, that we don't hear about. . . . For instance, last week they set out 374 trees around the football field, and of course will care for them.

I AM THINKING of reducing the size of my paper about two pages—that is if I can get lined up for a reduction check from Uncle Sam. I talked to Mr. Martin about it, and he thought maybe so it could be arranged. He thought that it was very logical, too, that other business should be put on the list. For instance, find out what the five year average for picture show attendance was (preceding 1929) and if it is less now, give Joe a government check. Find out how much dry goods Whiteside sold during those years, and if it's less now, have the government make up the difference. The same thing, Mr. Martin thinks, could be applied to all businesses. Think how it would be to walk into a barber shop and have the barber tell you that he had already cut his quota for the day, and that you would have to wait until tomorrow.

WITHOUT A DOUBT, Briscoe County is going to be compelled to raise valuations, in order to meet the necessary expenses of the general fund. In 1930 the valuation in this county was $4,000,000 and was bringing in $10,000 into the general fund. Now the valuation is only $3,000,000, which brings in a fourth less or $7,500. Current running expenses are more than that, being boosted in the past few years by relief work and other things. The rate is already as high as it can go—so the logical thing to do is to raise the valuation to get money enough to operate on; and lower the tax rate on other county funds. All in all, it will amount to about the same amount—yet we can balance the budget on the general fund.

SILVERTON IS affiliated with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The past year or so Silverton has been pretty tardy about paying dues. This year the organization is working, and with apparent success on equalization of freight rates—a work that if successful will mean money to every farmer who ships, in fact to every one in West Texas. The Chamber of Commerce has no way of financing this fight except through paid memberships. Silverton's quota is $30.00 and only $15 of it has been raised. A dollar or two will get you your membership. You can sign up with W. Coffee.

I'M GOING TO copy 'Old Tack' and make a weather prediction. It will rain at least an inch before next week's paper is off the press. It's going to surprise a lot of folks—but it's coming.

WELL, I WON'T bother you folks any longer—besides I must go out and see that the rain gauge is in working condition.

from Your Mileage Merchant

DOUG NORTHCUTT, WHOLESALE AGENT

Dump Winter-fouled oil. Whatever you do, drain and refill now with something. But drain and refill with Conoco Germ Processed oil and then your engine's OIL-PLATED. Then it's got more than swell fresh oil down in the crankcase—it's got another big plus all the way up... It's got fresh surfacing... OIL-PLATING. That comes from the actual union of this patented oil direct with inner engine surfaces. Conoco Germ Processing gives this oil so much "power of attraction" that it cannot drain down and leave engine parts bare, though your car stands by the hour or speeds by the hour.
Never all Spring and Summer, with Germ Processed oil, can your engine suffer rasping "dry starts"... not with every square inch always oiled in advance by drain-proof OIL-PLATING. Nor will four to five thousand revolutions per minute whirl away this implanted OIL-PLATING. It stays on. It helps the oil-level to stay up. Your OIL-PLATED engine and Germ Processed oil will both be giving you plus mileage. Change today to Your Mileage Merchant. Continental Oil Company

PETER EXHORTS TO CHRISTIAN LIVING

LESSON TEXT--I Peter 3:8-18. GOLDEN TEXT--But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation--I Peter 1:15.

Christians are not only "the called of Jesus Christ," but are also "called saints" (Rom. 1:6, 7). Peter had the same thing in mind when he (in v. 9 of our lesson) says that we "are thereto called." Let us remember that when we are tempted to say that we "do not profess to be saints." "Dr. James Denney once remarked how odd it would look to see in the New Testament the statement, "I don't pretend to be a saint." It would be tantamount to saying, "I do not take the call of God very seriously and I do not profess to live up to it." When God calls, our answer is not a matter of indifference and... not a matter of presumption. It is not a life for which we volunteer, or on which we adventure of our own motion, or which we have to carry through our own resources; it is a life for which we have a divine summons, and that summons is our justification" (Arnold's Commentary). All believers are called to live a consistent, powerful, useful Christian life, and God makes such a life possible.

1. Living for Christ (vv. 8-12). To live for Christ one must be born again into the position of a true believer. Peter was not so foolish as to urge that his readers try to live a Christian life without first being born into the family of God. He therefore lays a foundation for his exhortations by discussing in the early chapters of his epistle the atonement of Christ and the position of the believer. Then he gives specific instructions to certain groups, leading up to the general plea for Christian life and testimony.

1. Among brethren (v. 8). Knowing what Christ has done for us, it might well be assumed that all of us who are His followers would love one another and do nothing but that which would promote Christian fellowship. But human nature prevails even in the Church, and sometimes displays its worst side there. Hence we need to consider this instruction of Peter that we cultivate unity, sympathy, and love among the brethren. Observe that this is not just a pious platitude which we may take or leave. It states our obligation to one another as Christians. Whatever others may do or say, let us be clear that we have obeyed this word of God.

2. With unbelievers (vv. 9-11). God has called us to live peacefully with all men. We will not cure evil by returning for it more evil. If our ungodly neighbors or fellow workers mistreat us by word or deed, we are not to retaliate in kind. We are to control our tongues--how much we need to learn that lesson. We are not to be tricky and deceitful, not to look for a fight, but to seek peace.

3. For our own good (v. 12). What blessed assurance we find here for the believer. The eyes of the Lord are upon both the good and the evil in the world. He knows. Consider also the promise of "blessing" in verse 9, of seeing "good days" in verse 10, the assurance of peace in verse 11. It is not only honoring to God, but good for us to live as Christians.

II. Suffering for Christ (vv. 13-18). Peter was writing to those who were bearing bitter persecution because they followed Christ. Perhaps some were tempted to say then as they do now, "If there really is a God, if Christianity amounts to anything at all, certainly believers would not be permitted to suffer at the hands of enemies of Christ." Let us be clear that being a Christian in no way exempts us from the common experiences of humanity, nor does it assure us that we will not have to bear persecution and suffering. But (and here is a point of greatest importance), we are able to meet such difficulties in the name of Christ without fear or discouragement, for God is with us.

1. Not afraid (vv. 13, 14). The martyr spirit has not died out in the earth, and there are those in our day who stand unafraid before dictators and rulers who would destroy them because of their loyalty to Christ. "Be not afraid."

2. Not discouraged (vv. 15-17). The one who knows God's Word (and every Christian ought to know it) can give answer (v. 15) concerning his faith. Note that if we are punished for our own wrongdoing we may well be depressed, but if we meet persecution with a clear conscience (v. 16) we need feel no discouragement.

3. Not alone (v. 18). The path may be dark and difficult, but one thing we know, our Leader, Christ, walked an even darker and more desolate road. He is who is now with us, yes, in us. Remember that "Christ also hath once suffered" (v. 18) and go on your way in victory.

Floyd Gibbons' ADVENTURERS' CLUB

HEADLINES FROM THE LIVES OF PEOPLE LIKE YOURSELF!

"Fanged Death"

HELLO, EVERYBODY: Distinguished Adventurer Graham Babcock of Paterson, N. J., takes the Adventurers' club rostrum today, and Graham wins ten bucks because he wouldn't take another fellow's advice. If he'd done what that fellow told him to he'd have had no story to tell us today. But Graham paid no attention to that fellow, and the result is one of the most thrilling, blood-curdling adventure yarns I've seen in a coon's age.

It was in August, 1913. Graham was just seventeen years old, lived in Suffern, N. Y., and spent his spare time hunting in the Ramapo mountains, in season and out. At the time, hunting was out of season, so Graham carried his rifle in a gun case and took along a fishing basket, just in case he happened to meet up with a game warden. Game wardens can put you in the jug for hunting in August, but there's no law against fishing for minnies at that time of year.

Graham started out up the tracks of the Erie railroad and walked as far as the Ramapo crossing. From there he planned to cut into the mountains, but the crossing tender, an old friend of his and an old-timer in that section tried to dissuade him. "There's a rattlesnake den just up the side of that gully," he said, "and rattlers are mean at this time of year. Better go in up the track a ways."

Graham Unknowingly Walks Into Nest of Snakes.

But Graham had seen rattlers before and he wasn't afraid of them. Whenever he'd come on them they had always wriggled out of sight as fast as they could. He forgot, though, that a nest of rattlers in the late summer season might actually be LOOKING for trouble.

Graham climbed up the side of the hill and walked along a ridge until he came to a place where a big boulder jutted out over the edge of a small cliff. There wasn't a rattler in sight, and he began to think he must have passed the nest the crossing tender had spoken of. He saw some berry bushes a few yards away and set his gun and fishing basket down on the boulder while he climbed up to pick a few berries. But Graham never picked so much as a single berry. The minute he reached for them, things began to happen.

As he stooped down to part the leaves of the first bush, a rattler shot out from beneath it and landed almost at his feet. Graham leaped back. As he did, the skirring ruffle of another rattler sounded from a niche in the rock just over his head. Then, all at once, that sound was repeated from a dozen directions. From the right. From the left. From behind him! The sound swelled into a low, ominous hum.

Graham realized, then, that he was right in the middle of that nest of vipers. He took a quick step forward—and stopped dead in his tracks. "A big one lay right in my path," he says, "coiled and ready to strike, its whole body swelling and deflating with anger, as if it were being blown up by a bellows. Its tail sounded its threatening war-note and its head was flattened and drawn back for the kill. I tried to back up, and right behind me near a rotted tree trunk another one reared its head and rattled and hissed.

"Talk about things flashing through your mind! In a split second I remembered everything I had ever heard about rattlers. I remembered my grandfather telling that this was the worst time of year to be bitten, for in late August when the rattler is about to seek his winter quarters his venom is twice as poisonous as it is at other times. And I remembered hearing that the speed with which the venom takes effect depends on where you are bitten. My uncle once told me of a woman bitten in the breast who lived just 17 minutes."

Those thoughts went through Graham's mind in just the smallest fraction of a second, and they stirred him into action. Over his head was a tree limb. He leaped for it, caught it, and swung out from between the snakes that had him cornered. He landed in an open space, grabbed up a stick and began flailing the bushes to right and left. "I made for the boulder where I had left my gun and fishing basket," he says, "still beating frantically with my stick. Another snake struck at the stick, and I threw it away as hard as I could and tore through the bushes like a madman."

Suddenly He Heard Another Low-Pitched, Ominous Hum. Graham reached the boulder where he had left his gun, out of breath and shaking like a leaf. He had hurt his knee in his mad scramble through the brush and now, believing himself out of danger he sat down to look it over. And then, suddenly, he heard another low-pitched, ominous buzz.

Says he: "I looked back over my shoulder just in time to see another big rattler leap at me. How I ever did it I'll never know, but from a sitting position, without getting to my feet, I actually jumped three feet to one side, and the snake missed me by a foot. It knocked over the basket and landed coiled right on my gun case. I ran to the left edge of the boulder and broke a limb from a green sapling as if it were a pipe-stem. I saw the infuriated snake make ready for another strike and I knew it wouldn't miss this time.

"Behind me was the cliff. In front of me was the snake, and I couldn't get off the boulder without getting in range of its strike. Then I saw two other rattlers edging up to join in the attack, and although it was a terrible jump I preferred the cliff to death by snake-bite. I hesitated only an instant, hoped for the best, and leaped into space."

The top of a cedar tree broke Graham's fall. He landed in a bed of pine needles below it and he says he fairly bounced as he landed. "Luck was with me," he says, "and the only injuries I suffered were the terrible scratches on my body, arms and face. I went home leaving my gun and basket right where they were, and I didn't go back for them until after cold weather set in and the snakes were all holed up in their winter quarters."

Origin of Morgan Horse Was Traced to Other Breeds

The founder of the house of Morgan in the horse world was a horse born about 1789—the property of Justin Morgan, who kept a tavern in Springfield, Mass., until he moved to Randolph, Vt., in the same year that was foaled the colt which was to perpetuate its owner's name. No one seems to have any knowledge of the blood strains of this famous sire, writes Capt. Maxwell M. Corpening in the Chicago Tribune. Some historians of Morgan horses say he was originating from a thoroughbred to a Canadian pony. Others claim many infusions of Arab, Barb, and Turkish blood. Be that as it may, a good horse was produced. This founder of the clan was named Figure at birth, but renamed

WHAT to EAT and WHY

C. Houston Goudiss Reveals Several Reasons Why Food Sometimes Disagrees; Warns Against Eating When Tired or Worried

By C. HOUSTON GOUDISS

A GREAT many people have the unfortunate habit of warning friends and acquaintances against this or that food, on the ground that it is "difficult to digest," or "is almost sure to cause digestive distress, especially if eaten at the wrong time of day or in combination with the wrong foods." Indeed, to hear some various dishes that are best left alone, is to wonder how they manage to find anything to eat at all, in view of the many good foods they consider taboo!

Certainly there is no objection to food as the topic of conversation. It is so basic to good health that it should be uppermost in the mind of every individual who desires to promote physical and mental efficiency. And it is also natural for a person to be guided by past experience in determining what he should eat, and what it may be advisable for him to avoid.

But it is a grave mistake for one person to warn another against any food or combination of foods on the ground that it will cause digestive distress. For the truth of the matter is that under proper conditions, a normal, healthy person should have no difficulty in digesting almost any food that has a place in the well-balanced diet.

Food Dislikes Often Unfounded

I once met a woman who told me that her contented-looking husband could, and did, eat most everything "cept hothouses. Menu planning was simple for her! And how different from the problems of the home-maker who must try to reconcile her menus, both with the food dislikes of various members of the family, and with the foods that they declare they can't eat, for fear of digestive distress.

It is true, of course, that individuals differ greatly, and occasionally a food that can and should be eaten regularly by most people, will cause distress in an individual case. But that is no indication that the food will have the same effect on another person, and it is misleading either to proffer or accept advice of this nature from friends.

It may be that the victim has an allergy to the food in question—that he reacts to it differently than the majority of people. But there is also the possibility that the prejudice exists because of some previous distress, caused, not by the food itself, but by the circumstances under which it was eaten.

Perhaps a clearer understanding of some of the mental and physiological factors influencing digestion would dispel many of the bugaboos that cause people to avoid various, wholesome foods food is flavorful and well cooked, the chances are that it will be digested satisfactorily by all normal individuals.

Be Tranquil at Mealtimes
In view of the fact that tranquility of mind is essential to the proper utilization of food, homemakers should remember never to discuss unpleasant subjects at meal times. Don't nag the children about eating, or choose that time to discuss their lapses from discipline. Don't talk about finances or take up real or fancied grievances with your husband. Let such matters wait until the meal has been digested.

If these suggestions were more generally followed, it is almost certain that we would hear much less conversation about foods that cause distress, much more wholesome talk about the pleasures of the table.

TIPS to Gardeners

TRANSPLANTING is an important activity in almost every garden, but a gardener will save time and possible disappointment if he knows what should and what should not be transplanted.

The following should not be moved: Celosia, didiscus (blue lace flower), four o'clock, hunnemannia, and perennial sweet pea. Because of their peculiar root growth, these flowers are damaged, sometimes even killed, when transplanted.

Flowers which may be transplanted with little fear of damage, as long as the moving is done properly, include ageratum, alyssum, snapdragon, aster, calendula, marigold, pansy, petunia, pinks, salvia, scabiosa, verbenas, Canterbury bells, columbine, hollyhock, pyrethrum and viola.

There is a third division of flowers, according to Harry A. Joy, flower expert, whose lives will not be endangered by transplanting, but whose growth will be stunted. Both plant and blossoms will be smaller but earlier. Larkspur, zinnia, phlox, nasturtium and bachelor button are in this group.

and planting must be done early in the year.

Milk, 91 gallons; eggs, 30 dozen; meat, 175 pounds (including fat for cooking); potatoes, 200 pounds; green and yellow vegetables, 200 pounds; other vegetables, 200 pounds; citrus or tomatoes, 100 pounds; other fruits, 200 pounds; grain products (flour, meal, cereals) 170 pounds; butter, 20 pounds; sweets (sugar, syrup, preserves, etc.), 70 pounds; dried peas and beans, 15 pounds.

There is not a farm in the Southwest which cannot produce every item in this list except the sugar and grain products. Fresh meat (chicken, turkey, beef, veal, lamb or mutton, fresh pork) should be served at least once a day for a wholesome, healthful and strength-giving diet, and dry beans or peas three times a week. They grow on the farm and go to the table without paying tribute to handlers and processors.

The United States as a whole eats nearly 70 pounds of beef, veal, lamb and mutton per capita, per year. Ironically enough the people who have to buy it eat more than those who grow it. Texas is a producer of great surpluses of all these fresh meats, yet her people consume only 15.5 pounds per capita or less than one-fifth the average for the whole United States. Arkansas farm people consume only about 8 pounds of beef per capita, though every pound of beef must grow on some farm or ranch, and there is enough waste on the average farm to produce all the meat the family can eat. It is no longer necessary to eat fresh meat only at killing time, for either canning or freezing (or both) is within the reach of every family, making possible the daily meat service throughout the year.

There is no reason why we should buy navy beans from Michigan, limas and black-eyed peas from California, pinto beans from Colorado, when a few rows of each will provide a variety of these nourishing foods. The recommended menu calls for them three times a week, but a little forethought in planting will prevent the necessity of eating the same kind all the time.

To say nothing of the fact that garden vegetables are best when they go direct from garden to table, the money saved by producing and preserving the home supply of foods will buy something else which can't be raised on the farm—say a refrigerator, a washing machine, a radio, and a thousand other manufactures.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS
 By Julian Capers, Jr.

With antisales tax leaders claiming 56 House votes against that form of levy, following a caucus last week end, the Texas legislature prepared to plunge this week into what promises to be a memorable floor battle over what form of taxes, if any, will be submitted to the people this fall or late summer, to raise $40,000,000 of a new social security revenue.

Debate on the proposed constitutional amendment, approved by the House committees on taxation and revenue and on constitutional amendments, was scheduled to begin on the floor Tuesday. The amendment, an omnibus measure, would raise an estimated $33,000,000 of new revenue by imposing a 2 1/2 percent sales tax on retail purchases and public utility bills, to be paid by the purchaser and collected by the seller; plus a 25 percent increase in present levies on oil, gas and sulphur; plus a tax on amusement admissions of 50 cents and over.

Push Income Tax

Those opposing the sales tax feature will seek, by floor amendments, to substitute a net income tax, with the same exemptions provided by the Federal income tax law, and a graduated income taxation schedule ranging from one to three percent for individuals, and a flat 3 percent for corporations. It is estimated this tax would raise about $20,000,000—the same sum estimated as the yield from the proposed sales tax for which it would be substituted, leaving a balance of $13,000,000 to come from the increased natural resource levies and amusements impost.

The anti-sales tax group named a committee including G. C. Morris, of Greenville; Alfred Darden, of Marlin; Bryn Bradbury of Abilene, DeWitt Hale of Farmersville, John Kerr, Jr., of LaGrange; and John M. Mohrman of Waco, to draft several amendments which will be offered in the effort to kill the sales tax feature of the omnibus amendment.

Meanwhile, with the session half gone, the Senate is sitting quietly on the sidelines, insofar as taxation is concerned, awaiting House
