Mules, Indians To Clash Friday

FOOTBALL SEASON BEGINS--Coach Ted Johnson and the Muleshoe Mules can be seen each afternoon working out preparing for their upcoming football season. The Mules will take on the Morton Indians Friday night in Benny Douglas Stadium. (Journal Photo)

The Muleshoe Mules hope to turn the tables around this year as they kick off their first game of the season Friday night against the Morton Indians. Game time will be 8 p.m. in Benny Douglas Stadium.

Since the beginning of the 1989 season, the Mules have had a lot of hard luck. Last year the Mules broke a long time losing streak and posted two wins.

Head Coach Randy Adair stated that they are excited about this year and the possibility of being a winner. He also stated that they have made a lot of progress.

"We have some quality skill people back, and we are going to have a much improved offensive line," said Coach Adair. "We will have much more speed on the field defensively."

The Mules build much of their hope this season around quarterback, linebacker Ruben Gonzales, one of five Mules who earned All-District 2-3A recognition last year.

Game time 8 p.m. Friday in Benny Douglas Stadium.

Wear your black and white and Back the Mules.

Although Gonzales played the final five games of last season with a separated shoulder, he was the area's third-leading Class 3A passer, throwing for 1,067 yards and 10 touchdowns. He also rushed for 515 yards and two more scores. The 5-foot-9, 174-pounder was the team's third leading tackler.

The Morton Indians have a lot of young players making up their team, possibly 11 of their 22 starters will be sophomores. According to their head coach Eddie Gill, they are all good athletes.

"I've got a couple of 14 year olds playing for me," said Coach Gill. "Its almost like cheating when they have to go against 18-year olds. That's pretty tough."

Sophomore Kyle Smart will be put to the test this season. He is slated to start at both quarterback and safety.

He will be joined in the backfield by junior Markeis Patton and sophomore Tyrone Harrison, who will man the halfback positions in the Indians' wishbone attack. Junior Albert Alvarado will start at fullback.

Coaches for the Mules include: Coach Randy Adair, Jeff Chaney, Roy Donaldson, Jim Grulkey, Leon Hagerman, Steve Hatfield, Ted Johnson, Ted Leps, Ron Welch and Chad Wood.

Go on out Friday night and back the Mules. Lets show them that we are behind them all the way.

The Lazbuddie Longhorn District 3A Six Man football team is ready to take to the field Friday night, when they will play McClean at McClean.

Brett Thomas, senior first team all starter last year, will be leading the Longhorns again this year. Thomas, who threw for 2,000 yards and 42 touchdowns during regular season play last year, is one of four offensive returnees for the Longhorns.

Thomas will be joined in the back field by junior tailback Jon Colby Miller and senior running back Jonas Hernandez.

Junior center Dee Matrinez, a 6 foot 1, 235 pound center is the Longhorns lone returning starter in the offensive line. Last year Martinez was Thomas' third or fourth option on passing plays, and is expected to receive more opportunities this season.

"The Longhorns lost their top two receivers from last year, Leland Brockman and Matt Cozby, who graduated. Seniors Troy McBroom and Jody Copp will start at wide receiver.

Eagles Play Ropes In Season Opener

The Three Way Eagles have a new head football coach this year, a new coach with a very familiar name, Saul Guillen. According to statistics Three Way enjoyed its most successful football seasons during the years when they had one or more of the Guillen brothers--Oscar, Saul, Mario or Efrin--in its line up.

Guillan is a 1988 graduate of Three Way high School. He stated that coming back to Three Way and coaching six man football has always been a dream. He says that he feels confident because he knows the sport and the kids and other coaches have accepted him.

Quarterback Octavio Perez carried the Eagles offensively last season, but won't have to do the same in 1993. Guillen expects Jesse Gutierrez a 6-foot-4, 275 pounder and junior running back Carlos Pina to carry a larger part of the load, along with receivers Jesus Perez, a freshman and Torrey Roberts, a sophomore.

Junior Monty Turney (6-0, 220) and a sophomore Jose Gutierrez (6-0, 214) probably will split time at center.

The Eagles will open defensively with Octavio Perez and Pina at linebacker. Jesse Gutierrez also will play at linebacker in certain situations.

Freshman Chris Soliz and sophomore Torry Roberts will start at the corners and Jesus Perez or freshman Lupe Landeros are the top prospects at safety.

Jose Gutierrez of Turney will

Are Health Costs Bankrupting Americans?

Americans are declaring bankruptcy at unprecedented rates, and researchers at The University of Texas at Austin and the University of Pennsylvania are trying to find out why.

Health care costs are emerging as a major factor in these personal financial failures, accounting for as many as 20 of every 100 bankruptcies.

However, Teresa A. Sullivan, a UT Austin sociology professor who heads the Consumer Bankruptcy Project, warns that it's too early in the study to have all the answers. Nevertheless, the researchers are turning up some surprising statistics.

Thirty years ago, bankruptcy filing was dominated by young, single, mostly blue-collar laborers with low levels of education. Today debtors filing such petitions average 41.9 years of age, are mostly high school graduates and are twice as likely as the general population to have completed some college. More than half of them were born after 1946.

Jay Lawrence Westbrook, a UT Austin business law professor and one of the researchers in the Consumer Bankruptcy Project, says this finding seems to indicate that it's the "baby boomers" of middle-class America who are rushing to bankruptcy court.

Thus far in their study, the team has sampled more than 40,000 questionnaires filled out by bankruptcy petitioners in the first half of 1991 in 16 districts across the country. An average of 16 percent cite health costs as the reason for their bankruptcy. In one district in Pennsylvania, 23 percent of the debtors blamed medical problems.

Sullivan and Westbrook, along with Elizabeth Warren, a law professor at the University of Pennsylvania, did a much more narrow study of bankruptcies in 1981. The results were detailed in their book, As We Forgive Our Debtors: Bankruptcy and Consumer Debt in America.

In the 1981 study, the researchers took their information from 1550 actual bankruptcy petitions, which do not ask debtors to explain why they found themselves broke. However, the new study used questionnaires in which thousands of debtors were asked to describe why they filed for bankruptcy.

Even in the earlier study, medical bills were the most widespread debt mentioned. More people owed doctors and hospitals than they did credit card companies (possibly because most physicians didn't accept the plastic then). However, only 2 to 3 percent of the filers reported disastrous health care costs.

Medical costs seem to be a greater problem for whites than for blacks or other ethnic groups. In the questionnaires, whites were more likely than the other ethnic groups to list health care costs as the primary reason for their bankruptcy.

For whatever reason, fewer married couples are filing jointly for insolvency now than in 1981, but the number of individual bankruptcies is increasing. One reason may be that more women now are establishing their own credit, and divorce is on the increase. Two-thirds of the women in the study either were divorced or had never married.

The researchers warn that conclusions shouldn't be reached until more of the data are analyzed, but some of the findings aren't likely to change significantly when the study is completed. Today's insolvent debtor is a well-educated Baby Boomer, usually divorced and often a female.

"Bankruptcy is not just something that happens to the other person anymore," Sullivan says. "It may be that in the '80's it became a part of the social safety net for the middle class."

Since debtors probably would not qualify for welfare, bankruptcy does the next best thing for them. By discharging or restructuring existing debt, it allows them to wipe their credit slate clean and provides a new start financially.

It is evident that bankruptcy no longer is regarded as the stigma it once was. Courts are so busy with increase filings that trustees rather than judges handle most of the cases.

"A majority of the debtors are using bankruptcy as a solution to... everyday problems, including illness, marital disruption and economic displacement," the researchers say in an early report.

To the generation of Baby Boomers, at least, bankruptcy is just a new beginning.

National Literacy Day Declared

Wednesday, September 8, 1993, has been proclaimed National Literacy Day. Its purpose is to draw attention to the fact that one-third of American adults are functionally illiterate. According to the Texas Adult Literacy Laubach (TALL), a statewide literacy network of 58 affiliates, illiteracy is the root cause of many of society's problems. Solving the illiteracy problem would lower crime, joblessness, and accidents.

*Only three other states have a higher number of illiterate adults--Texas ranks 47th.

*Over 3.3 million Texas adults are unable to fill out a job application.

*Over 90 percent of all those individuals in Texas prisons are functionally illiterate.

*Of all chronically unemployed adults, 75 percent have difficulty reading and writing.

*Sixty-seven percent of Texas employers report difficulty locating candidates for technical and skilled positions.

Every Texan who can read and write could be a volunteer tutor to help someone who wants to learn. Contact your local Literacy Council or contact TALL by writing to P.O. Box 2152, Austin, Texas 78768-2152.

Radon is a colorless, odorless, tasteless radioactive gas that comes from the natural breakdown of uranium. Radon can be found in most rocks and soils especially those containing uranium, granite, shale, and phosphate. Outdoors, radon mixes with air and is found in low concentrations that do not harm people. However, indoors, radon can accumulate in your home, and build up to levels that are dangerous. High radon levels can increase your risk of developing lung cancer. Radon levels can be tested in your home by getting a detector kit available in many local stores. Make sure the one you get has been tested for accuracy by the EPA. It takes time to check for radon levels, so if anyone comes to your door and offers to check for you with immediate results, be wary, there's probably something wrong. Give our office a call and request a free pamphlet "TIPS ON RADON TESTING."

The U.S. Office of Consumer Affairs has updated its popular recall brochure called "STAYING HEALTHY AND WHOLE: A CONSUMER GUIDE TO PRODUCT SAFETY RECALLS". The brochure explains which federal agencies issue consumer product safety warnings and recalls, the kinds of products each of them covers, and how to let them know about product safety problems or find out about warnings or recalls they have announced. The pamphlet also explains the consumer role in product safety, calling on consumers to identify and respond to product safety problems. The names and addresses and phone numbers of the federal agencies issuing recalls are listed. This updated brochure includes new federal government actions, including the registration of child safety seats and the Food & Drug Administration's new seafood hotline. Mental Retarding Gene Isolated By Scientists

The gene that causes a severe brain malformation and a form of mental retardation has been isolated by scientists at Baylor College of Medicine and Howard Hughes Medical Institute at Houston.

The discovery will allow researchers to study brain development processes connected with this form of retardation and other brain disorders as well as to understand the normal process of brain development.

Miller-Dieker lissencephaly is a brain malformation resulting from abnormal migration of neurons in the brain. It leads to severe mental retardation as well as to seizures and other neurological disorders.

The brains of Miller-Dieker lissencephaly patients are smooth, without the surface convolutions of healthy brains. Patients typically die before reaching adulthood.

"This gene plays an important role in brain development," said Dr. Orly Reiner. "It is a breakthrough in understanding and diagnosis for lissencephaly patients."

The discovery of the Miller-Dieker lissencephaly gene was made by a Baylor team that included Reiner and others in the laboratory of Dr. C. Thomas Caskey, a Howard Hughes Medical Institute investigator, and Dr. Romeo Carozzo in Dr. David H. Ledbetter's laboratory.

It is the culmination of a 10 year search initiated in Ledbetter's lab in collaboration with Dr. William Dobyns of the University of Minnesota Medical School.

The finding is being published in the August 19 edition of the journal Nature.

Alabama Picked Over Tulane

The opening weekends of the college football season are known for wider point spreads than usual, with many of the major-college powers scheduling what might best be described as warmup games. One matchup that falls under that heading is between last year's consensus national champion, Sugar Bowl winner Alabama, and Tulane in Birmingham. The Green Wave may regret adding the Crimson Tide to its schedule the past two seasons, because in the two games they've played, Alabama has scored 99 points (62 in 1991 and 37 last year) and Tulane hasn't scored one. We're confident, however, that Tulane will score its first touchdown against Alabama--which will score six.

Other not-so-tough tasks face Florida State and Notre Dame. The Seminole, who worked out their preseason jitters and kinks last weekend against Kansas, meet the Duke Blue Devils, whom they trounced 48-21 last year. And Notre Dame won't have much trouble with Northwestern; in '92 the Irish pounded the Wildcats 42-7.

There are better games this weekend. Miami, which lost to Alabama in that surprising 1993 Sugar Bowl, may have its hands full against Boston College. We're picking Miami by 16, but the margin will depend on whether the B.C. Eagles play the way they did early in '92 (three shutouts in their first four winning games) or later in the season (three losses in their last four games). It could be close.

Our pick for the game of the week is Mississippi's visit to Auburn on Thursday night. Last season the Rebels spanked the Tigers 45-21, and Mississippi finished well ahead of Auburn in the Southeastern Conference's West Division, but to us the teams look much more evenly matched. In an upset, we're going with Auburn, in a game that has all the makings of a late-in-the-season, blood-and-guts battle.

THE HARMON FORECAST Thurs., Sept. 2 - Major Colleges - Div. 1-A. Auburn 23, Mississippi 22, Central Michigan 27, Akron 20, Iowa State 33, Northern Illinois 14, Western Michigan 26, Youngstown 24.

In an effort to conserve natural resources, Susan L.T. Brown, an artist from Tucson, Ariz., will show some clever ways to recycle all those plastic items around the house.

Labor Day

By Secretary of Labor Robert B. Reich

As we Celebrate Labor Day and contemplate the challenge of a new century less than decade away, it is clear that quality is the key to a strong, secure, prosperous future for America and the working men and women who built our nation and remain its most important resource.

America must have a quality workforce. Quality workers, in turn, have every right to expect--indeed, demand--quality workplaces. And we must produce quality products. Quality workers, quality workplaces, quality products--all three are essential to economic success in an increasingly competitive global economy. Not only are all three essential, they are so closely related we are unlikely to maintain one without the others.

Quality workplaces are committed to safety. They emphasize training. They welcome the ideas of workers and respect their rights. The American labor movement has led the fight for these and other elements of a quality work environment, just as it played a major role in the Administration's successful effort earlier this year to protect the jobs of workers who need to take time off for family or medical reasons.

The foundation for workforce and workplace quality is laid in our nation's schools. That is why we have launched an innovative initiative to help schools better prepare students for the world of work. The success of this school-to-work transition program requires cooperation at the local level among educators, employers and workers. Unions and union members have an important contribution to make, because they know what it takes to succeed on the job and in the marketplace.

I look forward to working closely with the labor movement in this and all our endeavors to assure that American workers can contribute to the benefit fully from an expanding economy.

Lazbuddie Longhorns

Lazbuddie returns four defensive starters: Hernandez and Miller at linebacker, Martinez at end and Chris Cozby at cornerback. Senior Shannon Bomer and sophomore Cody Clark are the top candidates at the other end. Clark also has a chance to earn some playing time at cornerback and McBroom is expected to start at safety.

Defeating Fort Hancock is just about the only thing the Longhorns have not done in the past few seasons. For four years in a row Fort Hancock has knocked the Longhorns out of the playoffs, but the Longhorns plan to change that this year.

Interest Rate Falls Again On FLBA Loans

Federal Land Bank Associations (FLBAs) in Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas announced their sixth interest rate reduction on variable rate loans in 18 months, this one bringing the rate to 7.50 percent.

FLBAs' variable rate has fallen nearly 1.5 percent since February 1992, and is the lowest rate in nearly 15 years, according to Farm Credit Bank of Texas Chief Executive Officer Arnold R. Henson.

FLBAs are agricultural lending cooperatives, owned by their member-borrowers, which provide long-term financing for rural land, homes and improvements. Of the 42,000 members who do business with the 48 FLBAs in the four states, approximately 30,000 currently have variable rate loans and will benefit from this latest rate reduction. The new rate also applies to new loans.

"The rate reduction is possible because of further reduction in the bank's cost of funds and the ongoing commitment of local FLBAs to use their collective financial resources for the benefit of stockholders," said Henson. "Our goal is to continue to adjust this rate in accordance with changes in the financial market and current cost of funds."

The new rate became effective September 1.

Oklahoma Cowboy Travels Through Area

Turning the clock back to yesteryear, Clayton Hutson, an Oklahoma cowboy and his dog named "Cowboy" traveled through the area recently in a covered wagon, he has called home for the past three years.

Having traveled through Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, and all through the rockies, his favorite part of the country, Hutson planned to travel from Muleshoe to Morton, Seminole and on down south to meet friends traveling on horseback. And possibly see the Big Bend.

Traveling with four mules, a team of three pulls the wagon and one spare mule. He travels 30 to 40 miles each day.

"I guess you could say I dropped out of the fast lane and I don't ever plan to go back," Hutson said.

Hutson was raised at Park Saddle and Woodard, Oklahoma. Before beginning his travels, Hutson was a Farrier (horseshoer), trained mules and horses and has worked on ranches.

He lists Lavern, Oklahoma as his permanent address.

Texans Have Worked For Clean Air!

by Kirk P. Watson, Chairman

On September 1, the Texas Air Control Board (TACB) and the Texas Water Commission will merge to become the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission (TNRCC). For the past two years I've had the privilege of serving as chairman of the TACB. With the support of eight fellow board members and a dedicated staff, I believe we've made tremendous progress in improving the air quality of the state of Texas.

When I accepted the chairman position at the request of Governor Ann Richards, I realized the TACB, in a very short period, was going to have to juggle three balls. Besides serving as the air quality agency for the state, we addressed the demanding and numerous responsibilities created by the 1990 Federal Clean Air Act (FCAA) Amendments, and we worked on providing for a smooth transition to the TNRCC. We managed to successfully keep all three balls going, and I am very proud of that fact.

But I am most proud of the strides we've made in making the TACB accessible to the public. Our goal has been to clean the air by facilitating compliance with good practices and by building coalitions and partnerships that traditionally haven't existed.

In less than two years I asked more than one hundred men and women from all across the state to join me and the TACB at the "Table" to work on solutions to our air quality problems. In each instance, my goal was to ask the citizens and experts for the best way of implementing programs and policies that give us clean skies while maintaining economic growth for the state. These people volunteered to support these joint efforts, and the efforts have paid off for Texas. Through more than a dozen different task forces, specially assigned committees, and countless workshops in cities and towns across the state, we've managed to address issues through innovation and consensus building.

Participation in these efforts came from many different publics including business, industry, environmental groups, local governments and concerned citizens. We didn't just address the air problems in the big cities, but we tackled those issues that affected citizens in some of our smallest communities.

In some cases, we were the first state and agency to address an issue of public concern. For example, we've approached the complex issues of environmental equity, hazardous waste burning in cement kilns, odor nuisance, agricultural related problems, border problems and others. In FCAA implementation, we have unanimous support across all lines for the Texas approach to the very complicated Title V operating permits program. We've implemented required programs dealing with pollution from automobiles and trucks with the support and cooperation of those affected by the programs.

Our work in the area of small business is another example of our positive approach. Instead of simply evaluating the conduct of a small business and identifying Patricia "Tissie" Grippando Services Scheduled Services for Patricia "Tissie" Grippando, 50, of Mulshoe are scheduled for 2:00 p.m. Thursday, September 2, 1993 at the Mulshoe Church of Christ, with Gary Montgomery officiating.

Burial was in Mulshoe Memorial Park Cemetery, under the direction of Ellis Funeral Home, Mulshoe.

Mrs. Grippando died August 30, 1993 at 5:55 p.m. at Mulshoe Area Medical Center.

She was born September 22, 1942 in Chillicothe, TX. She married John D. Grippando October 24, 1971 in Sherman, TX.

Mrs. Grippando had been a resident of Mulshoe for 22 years moving here from McAlester, OK. She was a member of the First Christian Church. She was an L.V.N. and a homemaker. She was preceded in death by 2 brothers L.M. Bell and Howard Bell. A sister also preceded her in death, Ona Bell.

Survivors include her husband, John D. Grippando of Mulshoe; two sons, Nicky Miller of Denver City, TX and Kenneth Miller of Stephenville, TX; one daughter, Debbie Hartline of Floydada, TX; two brothers, Hugh Bell of Gruver, TX and Billy Bell of Weatherford, TX; two sisters, Martha Jo Myers of Farwell, TX and Judy Lott of Scipio, OK; and six grandchildren.

going. We are doing this through the creative penalty approaches, creating and maintaining an independent small business advocate's office and setting up small business advisory committees in our major cities.

As the state regulatory agency, we could have put on our regulator hat and said, "This is the rule, you have to follow it. Just do it." Instead, we have focused on the goals of air quality rules and, as problems solvers, worked with all parties to achieve a sensible mechanism for achieving the goals. The volunteers, the TACB staff and the members of the board have worked hard and deserve gratitude.

The public might not see immediate results to this approach to environmental regulation, but in years to come there will be noticeable air quality benefits.

The motto of the TACB has been "Texans Working for Clean Air." I hope during my tenure that I have helped make the motto a reality. The air belongs to all of us and the work of keeping it clean must continue--for our health and our livelihood. However, there is still a great deal of work to be done. I hope Texans everywhere will support the dedicated efforts of the men and women of the TNRCC as this new agency faces the challenges of leading us into the next century.

when it is our of compliance and penalizing it, which might put some small businesses out of business, we have recognized that the goal of clean air can be achieved by facilitating compliance with the rules and keep the small business

1993 Property Tax Rates in Lazbuddie ISD

This notice concerns 1993 property tax rates for Lazbuddie ISD. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the school district used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the school district can set before it must hold a rollback election. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes and state funds by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:

Last year's operating taxes	$ 105,832.99
Last year's debt taxes	$ 52,479.33
Last year's total taxes	$ 158,312.32
Last year's tax base	$ 46,082,612
Last year's total tax rate	$.3620 $/100

This year's effective tax rate:

Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 166,819.05
This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting value of new property)	$ 44,576,063
This year's effective tax rate	$.3742 $/100

x 1.03 = maximum rate unless the school district publishes notices and holds hearing

	$.3854 $/100
--	-----------------

This year's rollback tax rate:

School maintenance and operations component	$ 524,738
This year's tax base	$ 44,576,063
This year's local maintenance and operating rate	$ 1.1771 $/100
5.06 = this year's maximum operating rate	$ 1.2371 $/100
This year's debt rate	$.1162 $/100
This year's rollback rate	$ 1.3533 $/100

Good Morning Miss Toliver

Kay Toliver has been teaching for 26 years. In 1992, she was named the Disney Outstanding Teacher of the Year in mathematics and a Presidential Awardee for Excellence in Science and Mathematics Teaching.

Operating out of East Harlem Tech, middle school math teacher Toliver demonstrates that one inspirational teacher can help students reach their full potential. Good Morning Miss Toliver, a half-hour special, is an antidote for an overdose of bad news about American education.

Recipes For The Last BBQ Of Summer

(NAPS)—While the old barbecue standbys—hamburgers and hotdogs—are always popular, why not try something a little different for your Labor Day grilling. The makers of Kamora® Imported Coffee Liqueur offer recipes that will make this barbecue menu memorable. Kamora's spicy flavors blend well into almost any type of recipe, especially barbecue recipes.

Kamora owes its great taste to its heritage—liqueurs were produced by the Maya centuries ago. And, the word barbecue comes from the Mayan word "babacoa," when the ancient Maya cooked over a lattice of thin green sticks stretched over an open fire. Kamora and barbecue, then, are a natural fit.

Kamora® Spicy Southern Kebabs (makes 32 appetizers)

Kamora Marinade and Sauce:

- 1/2 cup KAMORA COFFEE LIQUEUR
- 1 6-ounce can tomato paste
- 1/4 cup Chinese rice wine vinegar
- 1/4 cup peanut oil
- 1/4 cup hoisin sauce
- 2 tablespoons fresh ginger root, minced
- 2 tablespoons Tamari (wheat free soy sauce) or soy sauce
- 3 cloves garlic, minced
- 2 whole scallions, sliced
- 2 1/2 to 3 teaspoons hot chile oil

- Mix marinade/sauce ingredients.
- Kebabs:
- 1 1/4 pounds pork tenderloin cut into 64 3/4-inch cubes
- 2 mangoes, cut into 32 3/4-inch cubes

Pour 1 cup marinade/sauce into plastic bag. Add pork cubes. Seal and refrigerate overnight. Refrigerate remaining sauce separately. Skewer a pork cube, then a mango cube, then a pork cube on each of 32 skewers. Broil 2 inches from heat source for 8 minutes, turning midway through cooking. Heat remaining sauce. Serve with skewers.

TIPS:
•Blend drink ingredients with 2 ice cubes for a slush-style drink.
