Bulgarians Are Rebuked by Russia For 'Allowing' Nazi Troops to Enter; Turkey Closes Strategic Dardanelles As Crisis Looms in Mediterranean

ENGLAND: At Crossroads

The sending of Anthony Eden into Turkey was no empty gesture on the part of England, but a vital move in the war as the nation approached what appeared to be its most dangerous parting of the ways.

The Nazi move in the Balkans, plus the infiltration into Italy, plus the move into Spain, plus the appearance of German troops in Africa, plus the removal of French citizens from the invasion coast, all pointed in different directions and tended to place English war directors on the horns of a dilemma.

It appeared that the British must decide (1) whether to extend and continue their successful drive in Africa; (2) whether to concentrate on defense of the channel and fighting the submarine menace; (3) whether to lighten the African force by sending troops to strengthen the defense of Greece and to the aid of Turkey.

Most British leaders did not believe that all of these varied objectives could be accomplished at the same time. They viewed with dread the possibility that one or another of these German spearheads might they disapproved of the Bulgarian action because it "does not lead to consolidation of peace."

Whether this meant Russia would take any action to prevent Nazi troops from penetrating too close to soviet borders was not immediately learned. London at first did not believe that Russia had any action in mind but looked upon the statement merely as "a mere verbal protest." One thing was sure: The signing of the Axis-Bulgarian pact was to have far-reaching effect in the progress of war in the Balkans.

The signing had been prefaced by the infiltration of uncounted thousands of Nazi troops in civilian clothing, and two days before it all happened, Nazi generals, also in plain-clothes, practically took over the leading hotel in Sofia as their headquarters.

The day before the signatures were placed on the historic document Britain issued a warning that she would withdraw her embassy if the treaty were signed.

The next step was the cutting off of all telephonic communication between Bulgaria and the outside world. In all this, the blotting out of another autonomous country was carried out in the true Nazi method, the blueprint being followed in every detail with mathematical precision.

The following day the city of Sofia was in German hands, completely under German control, the British ambassador had asked for and demanded his passports, and Bulgaria's home rule was ended.

MARTIN DIES: Steps Out Again

The Dies committee, quiescent for several weeks, stepped back onto Page One when Representative Dies charged that American Peace Mobilization, Inc., which in Washington is largely made up of government employees active in opposition to the lend-lease bill, receives its chief support from Communist "front" organizations.

Public meetings against the lend-lease bill were being run by the "Keep America Out of War Committee," but the sponsors of the meetings, when asked what other groups were involved, would only answer "and other peace and labor groups."

Mr. Dies said chief among these was the Mobilization body, and he cited that one of its vice presidents is Vito Marcantonio of New York, the only American Labor party member in congress who has been voting against national defense and just be a feinting move with the very purpose of causing the British to put their chief attraction at the wrong spot.

There was little chance that the British would do anything that would jeopardize their defense of the Island Kingdom itself. Robert G. Nixon, returning correspondent, described in detail the defense of the entire English coastal territory, north, south, east and west, giving a picture of a nation rather anxiously hoping for invasion than fearing it.

But Britain's Mediterranean and Middle East situation was causing tremendous concern, with the two vulnerable points at each end of the inland sea, Gibraltar and Suez, and with Greece to be aided, Turkey to be strengthened, and African gains to be held and consolidated.

The crucial move in this whole dilemma was the sending of Eden, the prime "fixer" to Turkey. The conference with Turkish leaders lasted only 2½ hours, and ended in a complete accord, it was reported.

First definite action resulting from Turkey's concern over the situation became known when it was announced that the Dardanelles had been closed. Those strategic straits, which separate the Mediterranean from the Black sea, are of vital concern to the axis powers for they form the outlet of German occupied territory to the Mediterranean.

BALKANS: Lose a Piece

Bulgaria lost its autonomy to all practical purposes when Bogdan Philoff and Von Ribbentrop signed a dramatic treaty through which the Bulgars officially joined the Rome-Berlin Axis "for the duration."

It was widely viewed as an "unpleasant surprise," but a move which could hardly be called a surprise to a reader of a play held for the nation's heart.

Russia, however, felt otherwise. Shortly after the pact was signed and the Nazi troops had entered Bulgaria, that nation was handed a message from the soviet foreign commissariat which in effect expressed displeasure with the Bulgars' attitude. According to the Russians, appropriations measures ever since the congress convened.

The Dies committee, during previous investigations, pronounced to be a Communist front organization the American League for Peace and Democracy. Mr. Dies said that from what he had learned so far, the Mobilization chapter in Washington appeared to be the successor of the League for Peace, which became defunct after getting the Red label from the Dies body.

Executive secretary of the Washington chapter of Mobilization, Inc., was Mrs. Sarah A. Montgomery, wife of the consumers' counsel for the AAA. Dies served a subpoena on Mrs. Montgomery to bring her before the committee.

They were served for several days. The chapter, Dies said, without being named, was to demand them, and to continue to do so, he said.

COTTON: For Shelters

Members of congress from the southern states were jubilant when a New York engineer, E. C. Wallace, declared that cotton was better than reinforced concrete as roofing material for air-raid shelters. Wallace said that a seven-foot thickness of cotton would resist the penetration of a 6,000-pound bomb falling from 30,000 feet. He said the cotton could easily be fireproofed, so that incendiary bombs would have little effect.

England May Get Food Under 'Lend-Lease' Bill

Increasing Shortages Now Appear Likely; Roosevelt Opposed to Censorship Of 'Defense' Information.

By BAUKHAGE
National Farm and Home Hour Commentator.

WNU Service, 1395 National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON.—In the past few weeks the tall figure of a Hoosier farmer has been seen frequently entering and leaving the White House. This was not so strange to us who watch the busy portals because the man was Secretary of Agriculture Wickard. Like other members of the cabinet, he is called in for frequent conferences with the President these days. Cabinet officers and other government officials have been helping the President plan the concrete steps to be taken to aid Britain under the lend-lease bill.

But what a lot of us did not guess was just what Secretary Wickard was up to. The purpose of those visits has not been officially announced, as I write these lines. But it can be safely predicted that he was working out plans with the President to include farm products among the first supplies to be loaned or leased to England.

Secretary Wickard was able to achieve his purpose partly as a result of his own persuasiveness, and partly for other reasons that I will explain later.

Here is the tip-off on the plan the secretary discussed with the President, in Mr. Wickard's own words. It is pretty easily expressed but if you know how, you can read between the lines. This is what Secretary Wickard said in a public speech during the congressional battle on the lend-lease bill:

Overproduction Held Unlikely.

"Frankly speaking, there is little likelihood that we will produce too much meat, butter, cheese, milk and other dairy products in the months to come. I have an idea that all we produce in the South and elsewhere will be needed."

"The reports about the British food situation are not too encouraging. The British have lost their sources of food supply on the continent. They are handicapped still further by their shipping losses. The English want some of our food and want it pretty soon. If they call on us, I think we will answer the call."

Almost all of the products to be sent to Britain under the lend-lease plan will be proteins (meat, milk and milk products and eggs). There will be, however, some cotton, wheat and tobacco, but these commodities will constitute a minor part of the shipments. The practical arguments for sending proteins are obvious:

1. The extra physical demands on fighting men require a greater protein diet.

2. These products up to now have been shipped to England all the way from Australia, New Zealand and the Argentine. Two trips can be made from New York to Britain while one is being made from these distant points.

Unfortunately the protein commodities which are needed by England are not the ones we most want to sell. They do not constitute our great surpluses, disposition of which has caused the biggest headaches in the department of agriculture since the farm problem was tossed in the government's lap.

Surplus Produce Unaffected.

Furthermore, they are the products which, later on, when the defense industries expand, we will need at home because if all our unemployed were working fulltime and eating three meals a day, we would not have enough proteins at the present rate of production to satisfy them. The things we do want to get rid of—the things of which we have enough and to spare—are not as greatly affected by increased employment. Department of agriculture experts here will tell you any day that in prosperous times there is not an important increase in the use of cotton, tobacco and wheat.

But as far as the British go, they have to consider first things first, and they have all the cotton, wheat and tobacco they need, or they can get these products as conveniently from their own dominions as from the United States.

So this new "lend-lease" market won't solve the problem of farm surpluses. Nevertheless, it will absorb some of them, for the government is insisting that along with the proteins, some of the surplus products will be included in the commodities we dispose of under the lend-lease plan.

How long this new market overseas will last no one can say. It is impossible to predict the emergency will last or the fortunes of war will be. But the New Deal plan to build up an increasing demand for the things the war raises. As Secretary Wickard on every occasion when he chances:

"Whether they lose or win in foreign markets, farmers must increase consumption in the market—the domestic market."

President Discusses No Control With Reporters

Imagine the head of a state sitting for half an hour he was questioned by a group of newsmen on any subject including the government's internal transactions!

And, yet, that happens a week in Washington at the House press conferences. The President sits at his desk with papers; members of the House staff sitting about him, secret service men standing conspicuously behind him, bow stars and stripes and the presidential flag.

To us in Washington, the House press conference is a sight to behold. It is a good clear picture of the President's life as he goes through the day's work.

Mr. Roosevelt started it in the week which the American ought to think about, as he had to do with the ethical and patriotism of making matters which might be important national defense. First, a member of congress divulged money before a secret commission; second, should a newspaper or a radio station publish such information.

The issue was raised by the publication of testimony given by chief of staff, General Marshall, before an executive session of the military affairs committee in connection with a shipment of bombers to Hawaii.

Censorship Not Desired

The President said he had the desire not to publish the news, but he wished to consider whether it was ethical or patriotic to publish a revelation which the heads of the navy believed should be kept confidential.

The newsmen did not question the advisability of withholding the public important military information, but they showed plainly that they were not in favor of any suggestion that the press be interfered with.

One correspondent said that the chief of staff ought to tell things to congressmen and did not want to get out because information always leaked. President replied, quietly, usually, one did not like to see any information asked for by congress.

Another reporter asked the press was to know what information they had received, and he was withheld, and what was printed. The President said this could be determined by the heads of the army and navy would be injurious to national defense. The President said he had no specific proposal to make. No definite conclusion to the discussion was reached at the time.

The incident had one effect after the meeting, a story is usually excellently informed that the President had planned to place a plan to place information concerning defense what amounted to a veto board. It had been long that such a plan was placed President's desk at the time broke out abroad. The President turned it down then, he said up the second time, he said it down. Later, Lowell Mallory, administrative advisor to the President, said no plan of censorship was being considered.

If war comes, some regulating the publication of information will probably be effected. But until that time the press and radio will have the freedom of speech, the spoken or the written.

BRIEFS . . . by Baukhage

On the same day that President Roosevelt declared that he approved of wire-tapping by department of justice operatives where sabotage was suspected, the guards in the Capitol building were replaced by policemen and no one is now permitted to carry packages of any kind into the building. Even cameras have to be checked at special stands at the entrances.

Lander, mining engineer, is to Barbara Trumbull, but she has fallen in love with Carol Matanuska school teacher. Saryson, one of her pupils, a big girl, is also in love with him.

Carol's father died in Alaska with an unproven claim which Trumbull is contesting. Lander quits his employ, becomes field manager for the Matanuska Valley project. Sock-Eye Schlupp, an old sourdough, calls on Carol to tell her she ought to be in Chikilana to fight for her father's claim. He himself is moving on away from the new Matanuska; it has become too "civilized."

Sub-Stratosphere Training For Army Air Corps Crews

A school for the instruction of air corps officers in the new technique of high-altitude flight, with emphasis on the use of oxygen equipment, has recently been opened at Wright field, Dayton, Ohio. Some of the activities at this school are shown in this series of pictures.

Above: A student learns the "How, Why and When" of breathing through an oxygen mask—one of the first courses given in the Altitude school. New types of masks, oxygen tanks and working principles are explained.

Right: This experimental electrically-heated suit provides warmth without weight, and is worn underneath regular flying clothes or coveralls. Weighing 7 pounds, it keeps a pilot comfortable in temperatures that outside are as low as 60 below. F. These suits are designed primarily for pursuit pilots who fly in the stratosphere.

Inside this pressure chamber, officers "go up" to 18,000 feet without oxygen. Pumps exhaust air in the chamber for accurate simulation of altitude.

Altitude chamber controls. An operator takes officers inside the chamber up to 18,000 feet and back in about half an hour. Without oxygen average men "black out" above 20,000 feet.

Going up... Familiarization with new oxygen and communication equipment is acquired when officers attending the Altitude school board a Flying Fortress for practice at 30,000 feet.

WEALTH IS ONLY SUCH WHEN IT CAN PRODUCE

HENRY FORD is reputed to be worth close to a billion dollars, as expressed in money. That would be more money than there is in all America if it were really money, which it is not.

The wealth of which Mr. Ford is now custodian is represented by land, factory buildings, machines, materials and products. If the attempt were made to divide that wealth, even among only those who directly profit from it—the Ford employees—it would mean one man would get a few feet of land, another some brick, another part of a machine. Such wealth to any one man would be useless. It would not produce. It would not provide a livelihood for him and his family, absolutely not.

It is only when wealth is congregated that it will produce, that it will provide. Wealth when congregated in the hands of one or a group of men does not belong to them. They are merely custodians. Mr. Ford, like all others, will in time pass away. When he does, he cannot take with him what he today controls. It is a part of our national wealth. From it thousands of people receive a week by week benefit. All Mr. Ford can do is to pass that wealth, of which he is today the custodian, along to others to direct and to make work for the nation.

We cannot enrich ourselves as individuals by a destruction of wealth, and an attempt at an equal distribution between all of us means destruction. We can only profit by leaving its operations in the hands of those who have demonstrated their ability to make it produce. It is from production that we derive our individual benefits, our week by week compensation, our daily bread. And in no other way.

LET NORMAN THOMAS MAKE IT PLAIN

DR. VIRGIL JORDON, president of the national industrial conference board, told members of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce that socialism has come to the United States to stay, and says he believes it will be the Norman Thomas type of socialism. I do not know just what the Norman Thomas type of socialism may be. Do you? Most of us do not.

Is it the type which proposes to divide all the wealth or only certain parts of it?

Is it the type which would have the government operate the business of the nation and if so, would it be all business or only certain lines, or of a certain size?

Is it the type which would give everyone a liberal allowance on which to live whether or not he worked for it, and if so, where are we to get the money?

There are other proposals I have heard made by people who claim to be followers of Norman Thomas socialism.

The fact is, I have read much of what Mr. Thomas has written and spoken, but I have never been just sure of what it all means. Now if we are to have his type of socialism as a steady diet, will he please express it all in primer form so we may understand the new rules.

WHAT CONSTITUTES A COUNTRY COMMUNITY

A COLLEGE GROUP asked if I could describe a country community. My answer was:

"A number of homes, schools, churches and a bank, built around a number of stores and other business places. Take the stores and business places away and the schools, churches, bank and homes will soon disappear."

That is true of your town. It is the stores which make it a market place, and it is as a market place that it survives.

Stores make real estate values possible. The taxes they pay help materially in supporting the schools. The contributions of merchants aid in supporting the churches. They make the maintenance of the bank possible. Directly they make the town a market place. Indirectly they maintain it as a social and cultural center for people of the town and surrounding farms.

Nearness to a market place, to a social and cultural center, aids in making farm values.

Stores and business places make the town possible. From every selfish viewpoint it is desirable to keep them operating and the more there are, the better market place your town will be.

'ONE BIG UNION'

IN RUSSIA, GERMANY, ITALY and all other "ism" countries of Europe and Asia, strikes are prohibited. Men are told what jobs they will have, how long they will work and what they will receive.

Is that what we are coming to in America?

If that is what we get, it will at least have one advantage. It will close the career of the racketeer in the field of labor. The government will be the "one big union" and what it says will be final.

WANTED: a bank in Silverton by harvest time. (signed) if —SILVERTON COMMUNITY

SAY, HAVE YOU heard about Bob Stevenson's prohibition dog? Or maybe it belongs to Hatch. I don't know. Ask them about him.

SAYS MRS. CANNON Ball to her husband: "Aren't you glad we are going to have a little BB?"

AND TALKING ABOUT a little BB, Coach Durham has reason to be proud, but he carries it to extreme. Why he even thinks that kid's face isn't red . . . and what is funny about it is that the baby's face wasn't red when it was born —but when it saw its daddy, it turned red as a beet. What baby wouldn't?

I'VE HAD LINOTYPE trouble today and am in an ill humor. Reminds me of a story that Doc Brown told me . . . There was an old maid (bachelor girl now) going down the street with three children following her. She met a recent acquaintance who asked, "Whose children do you have?" They are mine," she replied. "Why I thought you were an old maid," said her friend. "Well, I guess I am," she answered. "But I try not to be one of those grouchy old maids!"

FRIDAY NIGHT IS the last night to get your entry in to the Palace Theatre on the "Name the Stars" contest. There's an easy ten bucks there for someone!

— working frantically to get that income tax report made out and in by Saturday, March 15th. And you better get it right cause here's the income tax collector—better watch your step, brother! (I hope mine went through, and I reckon it did, I had Gordon Alexander to help with it and he seemed to know his stuff. Caught him adding $500 too much on the report once.

THIS IS YOUR Silverton correspondent, who still thinks that the flag should be flying at the court house, especially on days when the boys are leaving for the army. Our flag is the most beautiful in the world and stands for more than all the rest together—let's fly it over our community center.

Mrs. Durward Brown and Betty visited Mrs. A. L. McMurtry at the Ranch, Monday.

WE ARE YOUR Neighbors

We are the Texas petroleum industry. There are nearly 225,000 of us, living in every section of the State.

With our families, we make up one million Texans, nearly one-sixth of the State's population.

Each of us has his job. Together we represent almost every type of worker.

Some of us live and work in your community. Our children go to school with your children. We trade in your stores, attend your church, pay taxes and vote—as you do—for the betterment of our community and State. We operate an industry which pays 75 million dollars a year in taxes to our State and local governments and our schools.

We are your neighbors.

When you think of the Texas petroleum industry, remember it is made up of people like you and me.

A few weeds grow in every garden

Among the thousands of decent law-abiding beer retail establishments in America there may be a few disreputable "joints."

While it is the brewers' responsibility to brew good beer and the retailers' responsibility to sell beer under wholesome conditions, nevertheless the brewing industry is concerned about these undesirable places and wants them cleaned up.

We want them cleaned up because they endanger your right to enjoy good beer . . . and our right to make it.

We want them cleaned up because they endanger the 31,165 jobs and $22,076,182 payroll created by beer in Texas since re-legalization. Beer contributed $2,273,968.64 last year in taxes in this state.

These benefits are worth preserving. You can help us, if you will, by (1) patronizing only the reputable, legal places that sell beer and by (2) reporting any law violations to the duly constituted law enforcement authorities.

THE LORD'S SUPPER

LESSON TEXT—Luke 22:14-30.
GOLDEN TEXT—As often as ye eat this bread and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come.— 1 Corinthians 11:26.

Old things pass away, and new things take their place—such seems to be the law of life. That which is useful and greatly desired fulfills its time of service and is set aside for that which takes its place. The change which occurred in our lesson shared this aspect, but was in reality so vital and fundamental that it merits our closest attention.

The Passover feast had (since that great and awful night of Israel's redemption out of Egypt's bondage) pointed forward to the Christ and His cross as the fulfillment of the type of redemption by the shedding of blood. But now the hour had come for Him to give Himself in death, and He set aside the Passover (because it had been fulfilled) to establish the great Christian feast of remembrance—the Lord's table, showing forth His death till He come.

I. The Last Passover (vv. 14-18).
Our Lord looked forward with intense desire to the Passover which He now observed with His disciples, for it was the last feast of that kind recognized by God. All that it had foreshadowed of deliverance and hope was fulfilled in Him who now sat at the head of the table. He had moved forward with resolute purpose and desire to the day when His mission on earth was to be accomplished, and He was to become our Passover (1 Cor. 5:7).

The fact that He looked forward to it with desire does not in any sense minimize the deep darkness of either Gethsemane or Calvary. Remember that, when in the garden he faced that hour and thought of the possibility of the cup being taken from Him, He said to the Father, "Not what I will, but what thou wilt." Praying concerning the same matter (in John 12: 27), He said, "Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour: but for this cause came I unto this hour."

II. The First Communion (vv. 19, 20).
Taking the unleavened bread and the unfermented wine of the Passover, which had just been observed by Him for the last time, Jesus established a new feast, the Christian feast of remembrance, which we call communion or the Lord's table.

As we have already suggested, it is a feast of remembrance. "For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup ye do show the Lord's death till he come" (1 Cor. 11:26).
At the Lord's table His followers find spiritual strength in remembering His death for them, and they also find joy as they remember that He is to come again. In doing so they testify to the world that they believe in and cherish these truths.

This feast is also rightly called "communion," for down through the ages and until He does come the saints of God have at His table sweet communion, first of all with Him, and then with one another.

We also note that our Lord spoke of the cup as "my blood of the new testament." The word "testament" means "covenant." The Lord's table therefore speaks of our allegiance to Him, of our loyalty to our Lord, and our devotion to His service. The Christian Church therefore speaks of the communion service as a sacrament, a word taken from the Latin "sacramentum," meaning oath, and essentially an oath of allegiance.

III. Betrayal and Strife (vv. 21-30).

Someone will say, "That point does not belong with the other two.
Both the feast of the Passover and the Lord's Supper are for the joyful remembrance of deliverance and redemption." The objection is well taken except for one thing—we are dealing with human beings as they are, not as they should be and could be by the grace of God.

Here in the inner circle of the twelve there was one traitor. It seems impossible, but apparently Judas had maintained such outward conduct as to turn no suspicion in his direction, even though all along he had in his heart the blackest of treachery against his Lord. It is a sad and soul-searching fact which is here revealed, that it is possible for one to make a high profession of faith in Christ and even so to live as to give no cause for criticism, and yet to be unregenerate and in fact the enemy of Christ.

What about the strife regarding position? Shame on us, for it still goes on in the church. Not even the remembrance of our Lord's death and the reminder that He is coming again is enough to keep men from wanting to be greatest.

May the spirit of Christ get hold of some self-seeking Christian as he today sees Christ as the One whose body was broken and whose blood was shed for him.

ADVENTURES IN COOKING

"I get just as much 'lift' out of a new recipe as I do out of buying a new hat"—so stated a homemaker recently and her statement set me thinking. After all, why shouldn't we women enjoy a new recipe?

Given a brand new, unusual and different recipe to prepare the making up of that recipe becomes a challenge, almost a game. Can we make it up correctly? Does the recipe suggest a new cookery process, one which perhaps we have never tried before?
How is the new dish going to taste?
Are we going to be really proud of it when we take it to the table? Is the family going to like it? Adventure in cooking—that's just what it is,
and that's why I like new recipes; that's why I like to suggest new recipes to you.

Today's assortment (given below) is centered around a number of new ways to prepare various kinds of sausage. Far too often, I fear, we think of sausage as something to serve for breakfasts or light suppers; we fry it, serve it and that's the beginning and the end of all the thinking we do about it.

So let's be venturesome and try these recipes. The list contains a number of my personal favorites. I am sure both you and the family will enjoy them.

Sausage Stuffed Cinnamon Apples.
(Serves 6)
2 cups sugar
1 cup water
1/4 cup red cinnamon candy
6 apples
18 small link sausages

Cook sugar and water and cinnamon candy to a thick syrupy consistency (238 degrees). Core apples and remove peeling from top half of each apple. Place peeled side in hot syrup and cook for 5 minutes.
Remove from syrup and place three uncooked link sausages in center of each apple. Then place apples, peeled side up, in baking pan. Pour remaining syrup over them and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) approximately 40 minutes.

Thuringer Sausage With
Apple Rings.
(Makes 4 servings)
8 Thuringer sausages.
1 No. 2 can whole kernel corn
(2 1/2 cups)
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 teaspoon salt
Few grains pepper
1 tablespoon pimiento (finely cut)
2 tart cooking apples
3 tablespoons butter

Place Thuringer sausages in skillet with sufficient water to cover bottom of pan.
Cook for about 20 minutes, turning occasionally, until water has evaporated and sausages are tender and brown.
Drain corn and place liquor in saucepan. Heat until it has evaporated to about one-half.
Add corn and heat, then mix lightly with butter, salt, pepper and pimi-ento. Meanwhile, wash apples and cut into 1/4-inch slices. Pan-fry in butter over medium heat. Turn when brown on one side and brown on the other. To arrange plates, place two sausages, two apple slices and a serving of corn on each plate.

Sausage Waffles.
2 cups pastry flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
1 1/4 cups milk
1/2 cup melted butter
3/4 cup bulk pork sausage

Mix and sift all dry ingredients.
Beat egg yolks thoroughly and add milk to them. Stir milk mixture into the dry ingredients. Add melted butter and sausage and fold in the well beaten egg whites. Bake as waffles in a hot waffle iron until crisp and brown. Serve with maple syrup.

Sweet Potato and Puritan Sausage
Cakes.
Parboil 5 sweet potatoes. Peel and cut in half lengthwise. Place 1/2 of the slices in a buttered baking pan.

Adventures in Cooking.

Everyone likes to adventure in cooking and that's just the opportunity that comes to each homemaker when she tries out a new recipe. The best part of the adventure, however, comes about when the recipe makes the man of the family look up and with both pride and appreciation in his voice pronounces the whole meal a tremendous success.

The 10¢ recipe book, "Feeding Father" contains a large number of brand new recipes, each so different that making them up is an adventure—so good that eating them, entirely merits and begets the gratification of the man of the family. Send today—this offer may be eliminated at any time. To get your copy, send 10 cents in coin to Eleanor Howe, 919 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Ask for the cook book, "Feeding Father."

Make 1/2 pound of pork sausage up into flat sausage cakes. Place one sausage cake on each sweet potato slice and top with a second sweet potato slice. Fasten with a tooth-pick. Brush with melted butter and salt lightly. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for approximately 1 1/2 hour.

Porcupine Sausage Balls.
2 tablespoons butter
1 small onion, chopped
1 green pepper, chopped
2 1/2 cups canned tomatoes
1 tablespoon sugar
1 pound bulk pork sausage
1/4 cup uncooked rice

Melt butter in frying pan and brown onion in it. Add chopped green pepper, tomatoes, sugar,
and salt. Cook until green pepper is tender. Make the sausage into small balls and roll in the uncooked rice. Place in greased baking casserole and pour the tomato mixture over the sausage balls.
Cover baking dish and bake 1 1/2 hours in a moderate oven (350 degrees).

Sausages in Pastry Blankets.
(8 sausage rolls)
1 1/2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 cup shortening
3 tablespoons cold water (approximately)
8 pork link sausages

Sift together the flour, salt, and baking powder. Blend in the shortening. Then add just enough water to form a dough, mixing lightly. Roll out and cut into 8 oblong pieces, each sufficiently large to wrap around one link sausage. Place individual sausages (well pricked) on individual pieces of pastry; fold ends over and roll up. Place, folded side down, on a baking sheet. Prick crust with a fork. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) for about 30 minutes.
Serve very hot.

Sausage Stuffed Tomatoes.
(Serves 8)
8 large firm tomatoes (uncooked)
1 pound country style pork sausage 1/2 cup soft bread crumbs (buttered) Remove stem end of tomatoes.
Scoop out the center and sprinkle lightly with salt. Form sausage into eight balls and place one ball in each tomato. Top with buttered bread crumbs. Place tomatoes in a shallow baking pan, bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 45 minutes (approximately).

Ham Stuffed Baked Apples.
(Serves 6)
6 large tart apples
1 1/2 cups baked ham (cut in small pieces)
1 teaspoon whole cloves
2 tablespoons butter

Cut a 1/4 inch slice from stem end of each apple and remove core carefully. Scoop out, reserve apple pulp, and leave apple shell about 1/4 inch thick. Combine ham and apple pulp (cut fine) and fill the apple shells.
Top each shell with a clove and dot with butter. Place in a baking pan, add 1/4 inch water and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for about one hour.

Star Dust

STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

"TOBACCO ROAD," that painfully realistic drama of life among the poor whites that has been running for years and years on Broadway, has reached the screen at last. There's been considerable speculation about what would be left of it when it became a picture, since practically all of it was highly censorable.
Well, just about nothing got by.
Most of the sizzling dialogue of the original version was omitted, of course. The characters have been changed. The result is a rather innocuous movie with a few beautiful camera shots.

Dennis Morgan says that the only time he was ever broke, hungry and desperate was the day he became a full-fledged movie star. Morgan, who is co-starring with Merle Oberon in Warner Bros.' "Affectionately Yours," was discovered by Mary Garden when he sang "Don Juan"
to her "Carmen."
She called the attention of movie scouts to the handsome and popular young singer.

"I signed at a good salary and thought I was sitting on top of the world," he said. "Instead, I found myself, broke and hungry, sitting out in the desert in a broken-down Jaloppy." He didn't understand that a yearly movie contract provides for a 12-week layoff without pay. He bought an ancient auto and headed West. But his layoff period came first.

The days of the glorified bathtub are back. In "Ziegfeld Girl" Lana Turner, as one of the glorified showgirls, steps into a marble tub wearing
her jewelry, including earrings and a tiara, and apparently nothing else.

Though the much-publicized episode
of the Anna Held milk bath will not be used, the scene
with Lana is based on an actual occurrence, when a slightly tipsy Follies Girl stepped out of her bathtub and into the tub wearing her hat and jewels. But when Miss Turner slips out of the bathtub there's a flesh colored bathing suit on her, as well as the jewels.

What kind of noise does a planet make when it explodes? That's what a group of serious-minded men in Miami, Fla., want to know.
They're bringing "Superman" to the screen at the Fleischer Studios, and in one of the opening scenes a planet explodes—only "Superman" in a rocket ship, escapes. Max Fleischer thinks it ought to be very, very loud; Dave Fleischer thinks it ought to be a combination of heavy gunfire, earthquake—and an apple breaking in two, much multiplied.
Unless somebody thinks up something more satisfactory, the apple wins.

Lurene Tuttle has played, to date, 2,000 different radio roles; she's so much in demand that she dashes from one rehearsal directly to another. Here's her formula for success—Master your own art; keep your mind open to suggestions—never think you're too good to learn from others. That may be responsible for the fact that she's gone on and on, when so many radio stars rise to the top quickly, and then sink out of sight even faster than they rose. Lurene puts over a role with her voice alone; doesn't rely on gestures, make-up or costumes.

Paul Schubert is naval expert for the Mutual chain because he plays the accordion. Mrs. Schubert has a nice voice, and when she auditioned for the chain some time ago he went along and played the accordion for her as an accompaniment. That interested him in radio. A couple of months later he phoned the man who'd handled the audition.
"Do you remember me—the man who played the accordion?" he asked, and made an appointment for an interview. The appointment revealed his extensive study and writing experience in connection with naval affairs—and presto! he was signed up immediately.

ODDS AND ENDS—Richard Arlen and Roger Pryor live their own plans the other day for Paramount's "Power Dive"; Arlen operates his own 14-plane flying school, and Pryor recently became a commercial rating. . . . Marie Blake, Jeanette MacDonald's sister, has a supporting role in "Caught in the Draft," which stars Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour. . . . Jean Gabin, the famous French screen star, has signed a contract with 20th Century-Fox. . . .
"Ready for Romance" is being speeded up so that it will be completed before the star, Deanna Durbin, marries Vaughn Paul in June.

It is often said that "the third time charms" — for good or for bad — so it is with a deep feeling of gratitude that we come to you Free pass to Hudie McClendon this week for the third time — Since the beginning of this column we have had the pleasure of meeting many of those who attend the Palace, besides many others who do not — We say without reservation that we are genuinely proud that we have had the opportunity of becoming a part of this community — It is our hope that we may continue to warrant your friendship and support to the end that we may make that part permanent.

Free pass to Doug Northcutt Well, "Gone With the Wind" is gone with the wind — In its presentation was found another example of the finer qualities of motion pictures — As one sat and enjoyed this great story it was hard to believe the camera was not on the scene of action many years ago — And so it with most modern pictures — We are privileged to live lives far removed from the hum-drum of everyday worries and cares — We are able to visit the lands far beyond the horizon — We see and understand the lives of our fellow man in all lands — It is an unquestionable fact that motion pictures are by far the best, cleanest entertainment — See a good show often and you will be surprised at how it lightens the problems of life.

Now for some notes about the programs we have for you at the Palace over the week end — For Friday and Saturday there will be those stars of the air lanes, Lum and Abner in "Dreaming out Loud" — Feature Number Two will be "When the Dalton's Rode" — Randolph Scott and Kay Francis co-star in this great story of the boldest bandits of a lawless era —

Saturday afternoon at the Bargain Matinee (5 cents for children and 10 cents for adults) there will be a corking good western starring Free pass to Judd Donnell Ring Charles Starrett and the Sons of the Pioneers — Don't miss this grand western show.

At the Saturday night free-view and Sunday and Monday you will see Gary Cooper in one of his greatest action pictures "The Real Glory" — Here truly is a picture you cannot afford to miss!

Next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday those Weavers will be back in their newest picture "Arkansas Judge" — For good comedy this picture just can't be beaten — and here is something for you to remember — the admission price for those three nights will be TEN CENTS for all.

By next week we will be able to give you a complete line-up of the great pictures we have in Free pass to Mrs. Nig Reed store for you during the weeks to come — About all that we can say here is that we have the best pictures bought from all the companies and will bring them to you just as fast as we can get the dates on them — Always remember that a picture is worth seeing in any theatre we will have it at the Palace — There is no need to drive a long way to see a particular picture — because it will soon be at the Palace.

Bee seen' you at the Palace!

(2) Store at least 300 quarts of canned or frozen foodstuffs, or the equivalent thereof.

Q. Will the $3 payment be divided among tenants and landlords?

A. No. Each producer who carries out a food production and storage practice will receive the entire payment of $3.

Q. Must the food referred to in this practice be grown on the farm?

A. Yes. The food which qualified the producer for the $3 payment must be grown on the farm for consumption by the producer and his family.

Q. May a producer receive credit for more than one such practice during 1941?

A. No. Q. Must food requirements under this practice be in addition to the practices customarily carried out by the farm family?

A. Yes. No payment will be made unless performance under this practice is in addition to the producer's usual production of food crops, as indicated by his certificate on the application for payment.

Q. Will the $3 special payment be included in the farm's regular soil-building allowance?

A. No. The $3 payment is an added payment for a special practice, and will not be included in the soil-building allowance.

Mr. J. W. Kendricks was in Lubbock Wednesday for a medical re-check.

Mrs. Emma Jackson is here visiting her daughter Mrs. Joe Ed Burleson.
