U. S. Would Speed 'All Out' British Aid With Appropriation of Seven Billions; Landing of British Troops in Greece Adds Confusion to Balkan Situation

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

With the labor situation in the defense industries much in the news these prominent labor leaders called at the White House to discuss with the President the formation of a national mediation board for settling all disputes in defense production. Photo shows: (Left to right) H. C. Bates, president Brickmasons and Plasterers union; O. W. Tracy, assistant secretary of labor; Sidney Hillman, defense commission; Allen S. Haywood, C. I. O. official, and A. Johnson, locomotive engineers official, as the group left the White House.

SPEECHES: Two Leaders

In an address that was carried by radio to all parts of the world, President Roosevelt called for an American "total effort" to provide nations resisting aggression with the war implements they need. Speaking before a gathering of the White House newspaper correspondents, the President declared in effect that the aim of the United States is "total victory" over the dictators. He said that this cannot be achieved without some very definite sacrifices on the part of the American people.

He called for a maximum output of war materials by the United States and stressed the high importance of national unity. He expressed the thought that the British people and their Grecian allies needed ships, planes, food, tanks, guns, ammunition and supplies of all kinds. He followed this with the statement that America would provide them with all these things.

Day later Adolf Hitler spoke to his countrymen and told them that no amount of outside help would permit the British to defeat the Axis powers. He did not refer directly to President Roosevelt's speech.

BRITISH: First Again

The British, who have been trying their utmost to get the jump on their Nazi and Fascist opponents since Germany made hash out of French and British armies on the West Wall, apparently had beaten the Germans to the punch on the northern Greek front.

The story came, not from British sources, but from the Nazi officials in Belgrade, Yugoslavia. The move had two important objects, apparently, one to attempt the hopeless task of keeping Yugoslavia in line as a possible Nazi opponent in a drive on Greece, the other to put troops into position for a swift and powerful defense against a Nazi invasion from Bulgaria.

The story was that 100,000 soldiers, including shiploads of munitions, tanks and other mechanized equipment, sufficient for five full divisions, had been landed and were taking up positions on Greek soil opposite to the estimated 500,000 Nazis in Bulgaria.

The original informant said that official denials could be expected both from the Greeks and the British.

However, entirely unofficially, British authorities told correspondents in London that the reports of the landing of the British forces in Greece "probably were well founded."

Germany immediately denied any knowledge of the movement, and as the Greeks were not letting newspaper men into that territory, but indeed were evacuating everyone in expectation that it would be a battleground, the entire story was impossible of positive confirmation.

The same report said that Germany was wheeling her mechanized forces and her planes into position for immediate attack.

CHINESE: For Britain

One of the most unusual dispatches, never confirmed, but never denied, emanated from Tokyo, and told how the Chinese nationalist government was sending a million Chinese men to Britain's Malay possessions to serve as soldiers.

The men, according to this story, will be armed and outfitted for the Far East defense by American shipments of arms and ammunition.

Washington Digest Protection From Sabotage Described as Inadequate

Civil Service Asks for More Investigators; Defense Heads Act to Avert Shortage of Farm Labor This Summer.

By BAUKHAGE

National Farm and Home Hour Commentator.

WNU Service, 1395 National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON—As the United States, under the lease-lend law, literally becomes the arsenal of democracy, officials lament their lack of facilities for protecting that arsenal from the enemy within our gates.

If you are a first-rate saboteur or enemy agent you have only one chance out of three of being spotted by the Civil Service investigators before you are hired in a government plant or arsenal or navy yard.

That in substance is what Civil Service Commissioner Arthur Flemming told a senate committee the other day when he asked for a supplemental $320,000 appropriation to increase the number of investigators who check the record of applicants for government defense jobs.

Even with the close co-operation of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the army and navy intelligence the records of only one-third of applicants for these jobs can be properly examined, Commissioner Flemming revealed. Efforts are now being made to get congress to increase the funds for carrying on this important work.

There is always a certain routine checking on every worker who applies for a government defense job. The police department records in the applicant's home community are examined; the Federal Bureau of Investigation (the G-men, so-called) checks the fingerprints to see if they are identified with those of an offender. And finally the army and navy intelligence files are available to the Civil Service commission investigators in Washington.

This procedure identifies the enemy agent or criminal or other person with an unsavory record who has already run into trouble and been found out. But the previously unidentified and potential offenders have to be spotted by the understaffed 13 district offices or the headquarters of the Civil Service commission in Washington itself.

Commissioner Flemming told the senators that since starting to recruit civilian defense forces Civil Service investigators had disqualified 16 per cent of the applicants examined "on the ground of disloyalty or weak character."

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts questioned the commissioner on the type of person disqualified. Mr. Flemming gave an example: "One applicant for the position of gas welder in one of the navy yards, our investigation developed, was seen at communist meetings, attended a communist school in Wisconsin, was an active worker for the party, passed out communist literature and books."

Others have been found to have had bad records as far back as in the previous war. The Civil Service commission says it needs more money to stop the saboteur before he begins his sabotage.

Prepare to Avert Farm Labor Shortage

How are the farmers going to get those 3,000,000 extra farm hands they need in the summer months to get in the crops?

While the national defense program is snapping up a lot of farmhands and getting them jobs in factories it is also trying to provide a practical method by which the farmer will get what he wants in the way of extra labor when he wants it.

Of course what William Knudsen and Sidney Hillman need right now is men to make the wheels go round that turn out armament. But the defense heads point out that the method they have devised for getting the workers they want will also help the farmer in the long run. That method is registration of all surplus labor with the 1,500 full-time and 3,000 part-time state-operated employment offices.

The managers of these offices want all prospective farm hands to register at these offices, too, and are urging the farmers who are going to need help next summer to patronize these state employment agencies, too.

Defense demands may result in a shortage of farm labor later, but one of the big helps for the farmer will be the employment agency. If you inquire at one agency for a farm hand and that agency hasn't any registered it will consult, for charge, any or all the other agencies.

Spy From Korea 'Advertises' His Work

I have just had lunch with only spy I ever met who advertises his profession.

"It is most dark right under lamp," he said to me as he stood up a sheaf of highly intriguing documents which he had spread on a table before me, slipped them a worn portfolio and whisked the zipper.

We were sitting at a corner in one of Washington's subchop chop suey restaurants.

My spy was one of these plain but he flaunted his plots before quite openly. Some secrets he hidden behind the smiling eyes of Killsoo Kenneth Haan, that is his name, but he has convinced at least one senator that information which he has turned gratis to various secret agencies the government is very welcome.

Hates Japanese

Haan is 41, short, engaging, oriental cherub in glasses, with cast of countenance that would make you think he was a Japanese (which, he says, some Japanese say he is). But his calling card says that he is head of the Sino-Korean League. And Koreans love the Japanese as the Pole loves the Russian.

Briefly Haan's history, as he told it, is this:

He was 10 years old when Japanese took over Korea and first memory of that tragic day is the view he got from his place under a chicken coop as the soldiers marched into his village.

Haan soon left for Hawaii. One day, five years ago, because he had been active among his Korean friends, he was approached by a member of the Japanese consulate in Honolulu who offered him a helping to organize all Oriental a sort of pan-Asiatic movement der the Japanese. The next when a delegation of American gresmen visited the islands study the possibility of Hawaiian statehood, Haan told them all knew in a public hearing.

A part of the documents he showed me was a letter from a senator thanking him for his services that time in exposing the grand Japanese scheme. That was Haan's first advertising of his chosen profession. He was soon to get more. Japanese press attacked him. He was spat upon in the streets. His life was threatened.

Comes to America

The next year he came to America with one chief objective, says, and it was in describing purpose that he quoted the proverb about the lamp.

It is well known that Korea some of whom can pass for Japanese and many of whom live in Japan and in the occupied part of China, maintain a voluntary system and grapevine telegraph. They still hope to win back their independence.

Haan claims that he wants to cure the financial and moral support of the United States government to create a real co-operative Korean spy system against the Japanese.

His method of advertising ability of a Korean to get information from the Japanese is to get himself. He told me of his adventure over the chicken coop and tea: From his Korean friends in Japan Haan said that he learned that two Japanese resisters were on their way to the United States to prepare Japanese in this country for a war. They were bearing a notorious text of propaganda and procedure, translated title of which is "The Power Alliance and Japan-American War."

Haan set out to locate the officers and get the book, first notifying certain authorities in Washington of his intention. The task seemed so possible that one man, who needed a name, bet $25 that the indelible Korean couldn't succeed. The book, according to Haan, now in the hands of the proper authorities here and he has $25 in his pocket. How he got it is another story.

BRIEFS... By Baukhage

For we might as well face the fact that whenever production exceeds national demand the farmer takes 50 cents instead of the dollar he has earned. We have solved production. We must now solve the infinitely more difficult problem of distribution and that can be done only through national legislation.

In the field of industrialized culture too many young children are employed in factory-like repetitive processes for long hours at low wages, under conditions different from those which today usually associate with healthy, happy life of farm boys and girls of their own youth.—Editorial, Chicago Tribune.

WANTED: a bank in Silvertown by harvest time. (signed) —SILVERTOWN COMMUNITY

DOES IT EVER rain on the Plains? Truly, this is the wettest country in the world.—Silvertown Light.

THE COMMENT ABOVE is the first editorial observation ever made in Silvertown. It is the opening of the Silvertown Light, by T. J. Briscoe, editor, in the first issue that ever rolled off the press in Silvertown, October 2, 1891.

AND NOW FIFTY years after, I'm beginning to believe that he may have been right. (This is written Tuesday morning. I hope the dust storm holds off until after press day). Wheat here has the best chance in years—in fact since Potter, Anderson and Stevenson finished digging the canyon.

I WONDER WHAT ever became of that first editor, Mr. Briscoe. He ended up rich no doubt. You have heard the one about the country newspaperman who returned at the age of 50 with $100,000 in the bank, haven't you?

HE WAS ASKED to speak at a community affair given in his honor, and tell just how he did it.

"Well," he said, "I am able to retire with this small fortune, because of three things—diligence is my work, economical living, and the fact that my uncle died and left me $99,600." . . . The only flaw in that guy's talk is "where did he get the $400?" and "why should a rich uncle leave money to my work, economical living."

THE FOLKS OVER Antelope Flat way are trying to get mail service on their route, six days a week. Believe me they have been under difficulties down there for mail since the Silvertown-Clarendon route was discontinued. They get their mail out of Brice every other day. An example of the service they get out of their county seat (that's us) may be shown by the fact that they get their Briscoe County News on Tuesday. It is mailed from Silvertown Friday morning—four days to get mail to subscribers twenty five miles away.

THOSE FOLKS ARE losing interest in Silvertown. Why shouldn't they? You can honestly mail a letter to Chicago and get an answer quicker than you can over there. I lost my Antelope Flat news gatherer because she couldn't in her own words, "catch a hitchhiker often enough to get the news to town."

ALL YOU FOLKS over there will get a paper this week, and a card carrying a special offer to renew or subscribe. If you get the six-day mail that should make your paper a day earlier. Besides, the news in this paper may get old, but it never gets stale. That slight odor is from using a cheap brand of ink . . . although these bunnies at Silvertown think it comes from the editor's desk.

THE ONLY TIME there was ever an odor in here was one time last month when a mouse chose the cash drawer on my desk and made a maternity home of it. She was not the mother type, and kept running around, giving the little ones no care, until they died of malnutrition. Naturally, by the time I had reason to look into the drawer they had expired—just like several of my subscriptions, only in a more noticeable manner.

IF RECENT rainfall increased our crop prospects in the same proportion as it has several vocabularies, then we are due for a really great harvest. There is nothing that will make a fellow appreciate paved roads more than to get his hind wheels to buzzing without budging a thing. Of course, as Whiteside says, that doesn't happen on the town section. No, not much.

SILVERTON IS growing. Our latest citizens moved in the house just four miles south on Highway 207 this week. The Allreds were not able to find an available house in town and the best they could do was the four mile corner. Now all we have to do is to fill in that "street" with 4 miles of business houses and residences. There is no doubt about it. We are on the edge of another one day boom. We had one about 1926 I think.

WHEN PRESIDENT Roosevelt spoke last week on the Lend-Lease Bill, he left no doubt in anyone's mind, as to the position of the United States in the war. We are out to defeat Hitler and his system, which includes positive slavery for all peoples and nations that he overruns. There are still those who say that we have no business dabbling in it at all. They say we have nothing to gain. Perhaps not. As far as that goes, we have never fought a war for gain. In this particular case, however, we have a lot to lose, IF Hitler should win.

THE PASSAGE OF the Lend-Lease Bill is the entry of this country into war on the side of right. Not yet are we in, except as a non-belligerent. However, our present stand cannot help but give hope to millions of people who are now living as virtual prisoners-slaves of the Hitler hordes. A revolt among these conquered people may be a big factor for victory for the democracies.

YES WE ARE in the war. A formal declaration would not help anyone but Hitler, and besides these declarations have been outmoded and are old fashioned. By the time a messenger can carry a country's declaration, a lot can happen now. Be ye not surprised if a meandering German raider should happen accidentally to run into a few U. S. Shells before the end of April.

SOMETHING I CANT understand is why should we be putting up with strikes in vital industries at this time. Uncle Sam takes a boy away from his job and gives him a job at $21 per. A bunch of workers can sit down on their tails and cry for "10c more per hour, and refuse to work until they get it, and the wages they get are more than ever made before in their life. If Uncle Sam can draft a man to fight, why in the heck can't he draft a man to work?

WE STILL HAVE Madame Queen Perkins as our Secretary of Labor. She still insists that workers have the right to strike for higher wages even in vital defense industries. If F. D. R. would just toss her out of his cabinet, and put in an American instead of a Communist, it would be the first step toward putting Labor in the traces.

I JUST FOUND the Aggie Briefs on my typewriter and it reminds me of something I was figuring on last week with Lem Weaver. We took papers for two months and counted the stories and promotion which carried for the farm program, FSA, FFA, and such. Could all lines be put end to end, in a year, we print over 19½ MILES of type for the boys—and that is a conservative estimate. And the funny part about it is most of the stuff is important, and not bad reading. I do miss Finley's White's smoke house stories that he used to use in the Aggie Briefs though.

IF YOUR NEWS fails to appear in this issue, or if you find several mistakes please forgive me. The linotype company has a machine man here to overhaul my linotype. This is Wednesday night and he is going to tear into it the first thing in the morning. After he starts there will be no more type set for this week. You might even find a blank column or two but it can't be helped this time. It won't happen again I hope. That bird draws $2.50 an hour straight time, so I've got to let him get to work.

EVERY SCHOOL AND EVERY BUSINESS HAS ONE OR TWO

In a school full of bright, self-respecting students, there are very likely to be one or two completely lacking in good common sense. And that goes for business, too . . . particularly the beer retailing business.

Out of thousands of beer retailers who conduct respectable, law-abiding businesses, there may be a few "dunce" retailers who disobey the law or permit anti-social conditions.

These few unwanted retailers are a menace to the future of the beer industry . . . and also of the benefits beer has made possible. Right here in Texas, beer provides employment for 31,165 persons, supports an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and contributed $2,273,968.64 last year in state taxes.

It is the brewers' responsibility to make good beer—the retailers' responsibility to sell beer in wholesome surroundings—and the legally constituted authorities' responsibility to enforce the laws. All of these, working together with the public, are needed to protect the future of beer.

You, too, can help the cause of moderation by (1) patronizing only reputable places where beer is sold; (2) and reporting any violation you may observe to the duly constituted authorities.

Silverton's Hollywood

by WALTER (welcome) SMOCK

At long last "the rains came". Nothing means quite so much to West Texas and the Panhandle as moisture...Life in a large city could not be paralyzed more than any rural section without sufficient moisture to make good crops...It is to be hoped that all sections will be blessed with ample moisture this year.

Last week Odell told you in this column that I was deeply engaged in the problem of getting pictures for the month of April...That job is finished and when the new calendars are out I hope you are as pleased with what we have coming as Odell and I are...I tried very hard to get only pictures which I thought would please you. No theatre in the country will show any better you can rest assured.

Once again I want to thank you each and everyone for the wonderful way in which you have been attending the Palace...Each ticket sold has an individual meaning to us...Fre Pass Mrs. Herman Ely... Motion pictures are by far the best and cheapest entertainment—at the prices we ask at the Palace you can enjoy them often.

As this is being written Free Pass to Clay Fowler it seems as if people will be unable to get into town for the week-end...However, it is possible that the weather will clear and the roads become good enough for comfortable travel...Should this be the case for those living in the country and for the information of the folks here in town we want to tell you about the really good shows set for the week-end.

The Friday and Saturday is without question one of the best we have shown at the Palace... Both Free Pass to Maurice Foust of the pictures are exceptionally good... "Girl from God's Country" and "Dark Command" are both good pictures... "Dark Command" is a story based on the early days in the Kansas Territory while "Girl From God's Country" is a thrilling story based on the lives and loves of a doctor and his nurse in the Artic wastelands...If you possibly can arrive do not miss this outstanding program.

At the Freevue, Sunday and Monday we are showing a picture which is just a little hard for me to tell you about since it is classed Free Pass to Mrs. J. W. Lyon as a "surprise" picture... "Escape To Glory" is by no means a "sissy" picture...It proved to be quite a surprise to me when I first saw it. Facing death on a torpedoed ship ten people—the passengers—strip themselves of all social veneer and show what they are made of—all ten are representative of various walks of life from fugitive killer (who actually steals the picture in the last lap) to college professor and his wife... Free pass to Mrs. W. W. Douglas... The picture is well cast with Pat O'Brien in the lead and perfectly directed... "Escape To Glory" is a grand picture and one which will please you... In fact we are sure enough of this that we are making it a GUARANTEED PICTURE... In other words after you have seen "Escape To Glory" if you do not feel you are satisfied with it, we will give you a pass to see any single feature program at the Palace within the next month... Now that is just about as fair as I know how to be... Don't miss "Escape To Glory"...

NEW IDEAS for Home-makers By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

HOUSES of glass are realities today and, if you want to give any house a modern air, try to make the windows seem important. One way is to frame them in a group by covering the wall and leaving the glass exposed. A comparison of these two sketches shows that this may be done even though the windows are unevenly spaced. The cream colored walls, glass curtains and window shades are the same in both and the same two-toned green rug and the same lamp and pictures are used. The couch and cushions are also the same but the covers are new.

An inexpensive chintz with gray-green ground and a flower pattern is used for draperies and to trim the couch cover of heavier gray-green cotton material which is also used for the cushions. The glass curtains are hung on rods suspended from the picture moulding with picture wire and hooks. The side drapes are unlined but the valance is made over buckram. Both are tacked to pine strips and are hung with picture hooks. One end of the book shelves is closed in to make a head for the couch. The outside is painted gray-green and the inside dark green. The parchment lamp shade has green bindings.

NOTE: All types of curtains and draperies are clearly explained with cutting and making directions in Mrs. Spears' SEWING Book 1—draw curtains, lined draperies, pinch pleated curtains, cornice boards, valance boards, as well as standard and period type curtains. Directions for modernizing a couch, various types of chairs, and a fascinating assortment of other useful homemaking projects are contained in Book 5. Copies are 10 cents each. Send order to:

Household News by Eleanor Howe

DOES LENT CHALLENGE YOUR COOKING ABILITY? (See Recipes Below)

SPEAKING OF LENTEN VEGETABLES

Yes, speaking of Lenten vegetables reminds us that the Lenten season has again returned—that season when Lent challenges us as good cooks to produce something new and different—something which will entice the appetite of the family—something that will perchance become so great a family favorite that it will remain a "must" on our recipe list all through the year.

Want to Learn Some New Household Tricks?

Of course you do—and it's the simple easy way of doing things—as ferreted out by millions of homemakers that have been compiled in this book, "Household Hints"—a book that literally every homemaker should own.

TIPS to Gardeners

CHOOSE BEANS WISELY

THE gardener should be well acquainted with the many available varieties of stringless beans, if he is to get the most from his bean crop.

If earliness is the principal interest, the gardener should select either Bountiful (green-podded) or Golden Wax (yellow). Bountiful is excellent for use when small, in shoe-string size. It is also a good choice for home canning, for it produces abundantly.

The gardener interested in yield over a long season should select both a bush bean, and a pole bean. The pole beans begin producing when the yield from the bush beans tapers off.

Kentucky Wonder is one of the best all-purpose pole beans. It provides good quality snap beans. When past the snap stage, the pods may be cut up, and cooked southern style. Later, this bean may be used in the green shell stage. In the more mature stage the beans may be used in baking or in soup.

ASK ME ANOTHER? A Quiz With Answers Offering Information on Various Subjects

- 1. Who has charge of the Great Seal of the United States? 2. How does the size of an electron compare with that of an orange? 3. Tweedle-dum and Tweedle-dee are characters in what story? 4. Who was the first king of the house of Windsor? 5. Can eclipses of the sun occur in any month of the year?

The Answers

- 1. The secretary of state has charge of the Great Seal. 2. If an electron and an orange could be magnified equally until the orange was as large as the earth, the electron would still be too small to be visible to the unaided eye. 3. "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland." 4. George V. The name of the British royal family was changed to Windsor in 1917. 5. Eclipses of the sun, visible at some parts of the earth's surfaces, have been recorded in every month of the year.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Meat should not be seasoned until it is partially cooked.

Put your white wash on the sunny side of the line and keep the colored clothing in the shade.

Put small cooked hamburger cakes between two hot biscuit halves and top them with a brown savory gravy or well seasoned white sauce. You'll like these.

Wire and iron bed-springs that become rusty should be given a coat of paint.

Mirrors should never be hung where the sun shines directly on them for any length of time.

Pillow slips iron easier lengthwise.

To glaze doughnuts while they are still warm dip in bowl in which 3 tablespoons butter have been mixed with 4 tablespoons boiling water and 1 cup sifted confectioner's sugar. Let doughnuts "dry" on waxed paper.

A strong railing to prevent falls and plenty of headroom are two important necessities for any safe cellar steps. When the steps are in a dark place, several coats of white paint applied to the steps will make for greater safety.

Delicious for healthy appetites—energy for workers... saves time and trouble for cooks—economical. Order, today, from your grocer.
