Annual Fair Date Fast Approaching

The Bailey County-West Plains Fair is less than two weeks away and if you haven't finished that special project or canned that prize winning jar of fruits, jams, jelly or vegetables, time is running out.

Just think what kind of a fair we could have if everyone in this area entered only one item and since you can enter a large number of projects we could have one of the biggest fairs in this area.

The fair is scheduled for September 16-18 at the Bailey County Coliseum.

There will be something for everyone, Agriculture, Home Economics (Youth and Adult Divisions), Commercial Exhibits, Relics and Antiques, Small Pet Show and lots of Entertainment.

The fair is open to any person living in Bailey, Lamb, Cochran, and Parmer counties.

All exhibits will be under the direction and control of the management of the fair. The management will take all precautions to assure the safety of all exhibits and to protect them from damage, but under no circumstances will they or any of the officials of the fair be responsible for any damage or loss.

Divisions will be divided into two age categories, Adult (19 and over) and Youth (18 and younger).

Exhibitors may enter two entries per class. Judges will award ribbons in accordance with the merits of the article exhibited. Awards will be given to worthy exhibits only. The judges decision will be final.

In cases where there is only one exhibitor and no competition the judge or judges will award premiums in accordance with the merits of the exhibit which may be first, second, or third.

All ribbons and banners shall remain in place until the end of the fair on the products winning the ribbons. In case of loss of ribbons, the fair will replace them.

Cash prizes will be awarded again this year in the Adult and Youth Divisions. The judges will select the "Best of Show" in each of the following divisions: Field Crops, Horticulture, Culinary, Canned Fruits and Vegetables, Textiles, Fine Arts, and Hobbies and Crafts. The Cash prizes for the "Best of Show" selected in each division will be $20 for both Adult and Youth. These cash prizes are being donated by the Muleshoe Activities Committee.

All exhibits are to be taken to the coliseum between the hours of 10 a.m. and 8 p.m. Thursday, September 16, and are to remain in place until Saturday, September 18 at 4 p.m.

Fair hours will be 1 to 7 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

A purple rosette will be awarded to the best exhibit in each category for youth and adult divisions if there are three or more entries in each category. Ribbons will be given through three places in all classes.

The Muleshoe Jennyslippers will give $50.00 to some lucky exhibitor.

Another special award will be presented this year. To promote the art of pickling foods and safe home food preservation, Ball and Heinz are offering this special adult award category. Any entry of pickled fruits or vegetables meeting the participation and judging guidelines is eligible.

The best exhibit prepared with Heinz Distilled White, or Heinz Apple Cider Vinegar and canned in Ball jars and sealed with Ball two piece vacuum closures shall be selected as the "Best of Show" and will receive the following: One complete Ball utensil set (jar lifter, canning funnel, lid wand and bubble freer), a copy of Heinz Successful Pickling Guide and five dollars worth of Heinz Vinegar coupons.

To further stimulate the art of home food preservation, Ball Corporation is offering 12 coupons toward the purchase of any Ball Home Canning Jars, Caps or Lids and eight Ball Blue Books.

The best two exhibits canned in Ball Jars and sealed with Ball two-piece vacuum caps shall be selected from each class indicated below to receive the following:

In Fruits, Vegetables, Pickles and Relishes, and Jams and Jellies, the first place winner shall receive two (2) Ball coupons and one (1) Ball Blue Book.

The second place winner in each of the classes shall receive one (1) Ball coupon and one (1) Ball Blue Book.

Ball Corporation is also offering three coupons toward the purchase of any Ball Home Canning Jars, Caps or Lids and three Ball Blue Books, in the junior division.

The best exhibit submitted by a youth canned in Ball Jars and sealed with Ball two piece vacuum caps shall be selected from each class to receive one Ball coupon and one Ball Blue Book.

Curtis Preston, Bailey County Extension agent-Agriculture, will be the show chairman for the Agricultural Department, and the Small Pet Show. Chairman for the Home Economics Department will be Kandy K. McWhorter, Bailey County Extension Agent-Home Economics.

Gayla Toombs will be the chairperson for the 4-H Cultural Exchange Group Activities.

The Muleshoe Activities Committee will be in charge of the Commercial Booths and Exhibits. Food and product booths will be furnished space on a rental basis. The Muleshoe Activities Committee will also be in charge of the entertainment.

Local Man Dies In One Vehicle Roll Over

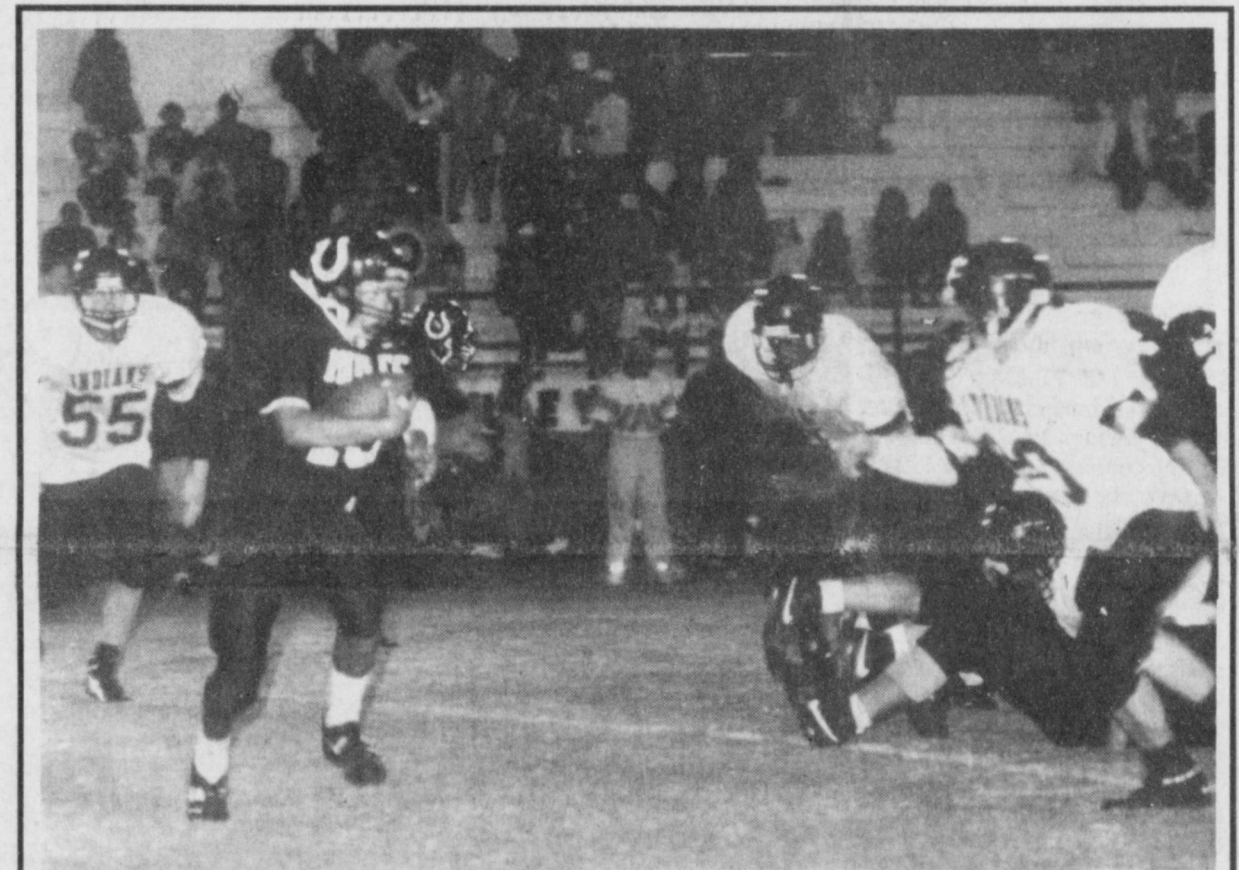

A one vehicle roll over Sunday afternoon southwest of Muleshoe claimed the life of Gilbert Gomez, 34.

Rosary was celebrated at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Ellis Funeral Home Chapel.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church with Father Joseph Augustine officiating.

Burial was in Muleshoe Cemetery under the direction of Ellis Funeral Home.

Born March 24, 1959, in Andrews, Gomez had been a resident of Muleshoe since 1965,

Extension Office Hosts Feeder Cattle Seminar

Parmer County Extension Office hosted a Stocker Cattle Seminar last week at Farwell, with a number of different aspects being discussed. One of the items being brought out was the many reasons for supplementing stocker cattle on a pasture. These include improving average daily gain of the cattle, "stretching" forage supplies in times of limited forage or increasing stocking density when forage is adequate, and providing a more balanced nutrient supply and feed additives such as ionophores and bloat preventive compounds.

"Dry weather and advancement in plant maturity during the later half of the summer contributes to a steady decline from mid-summer to early fall. Boosting cattle gains during this period is a goal of many producers.

"Producer experience, has indicated a fairly simple yet successful supplementation program during the summer months for situations in which forage quantity is not limiting but quality (i.e., protein content) is poor.

"The program in its simplest form, would be to provide approximately one pound/head/day of an all natural 38 percent protein range cube such as soybean meal or cottonseed meal containing 100 mg. (Rumesin) to 200 mg. (Bovatec) of an ionophore. Ionophores are growth promotants that increase efficiency of feed utilization by cattle.

"This program can increase daily gains by as much as six tenths of a pound/head/day and range cubes can be fed directly on the ground. With the addition of an implant, gains can be increased by another 10 to 15 percent.

"Cattlemen sometimes wish to feed more than one pound a day of supplement or may need to feed cattle on forages that are higher in protein than summer native range (eg., fertilized Bermudagrass pastures). Adding about one and a half pounds of wheat middings to a 38 percent protein supplement to form a 25 percent range cube, has been recommended.

"High protein supplements can be modified to meet specific mineral and vitamin requirements of the cattle. For example, a producer may wish to incorporate additional salt, vitamins (A, D, and E), potassium, phosphorous, calcium, magnesium and trace minerals. Trace minerals, especially copper, zinc and selenium, can greatly affect the immune response of cattle.

Mules Take On Wildcats Friday

Coming off a big win 35 to 14 over the Morton Indians Friday night, the Mules will meet the Idalou Wildcats Friday night in Benny Douglas Stadium.

Idalou also had a big win 30 to 0 over Roosevelt in Friday night's football action.

The Mules rushed for 300 yards while holding the Indians to 94 yards rushing. The Mules tough defense, or what one newspaper called stubborn defense, held the Indians to two first downs in the first half to Muleshoe's 10.

In the second half the Mules picked up five more first downs, to six for the Morton Indians.

Ruben Gonzales threw a 55 yard pass to Jesus Flores to put the Mules on the scoreboard in the first quarter.

Gonzales also scored on a six yard run halfway through the second quarter and was injured on the play. Gonzales hit three for three passing for 84 of the Mules 139 aerial yards.

Gonzales' younger brother, Alfredo, came in as quarterback and connected with Daniel Gabarino on a 65 yard pass, scoring early in the third quarter.

The Muleshoe Mules had a total of 16 first downs, and 47 rushing

Cargile Wins Weekly Football Contest

A lot of interest was shown in this week's football contest. If you missed more than two games you were out of luck as far as being a winner went. Five contestants missed two games each so the Journal judges had to go to the tiebreakers.

A faithful contestant, Wade Cargile took first place. He missed two games and was four points off in the tiebreakers. Cargile will receive a check in the amount of $10 and ten points toward the grand prize.

Second place was a tie between Jimmie Crawford and Tony Nicolas. They each missed two games and were ten points off in the tiebreakers. The second place prize money, $7.50, and the six points the second place receives will be divided between Crawford and Nicolas.

Third place went to Danny

Michigan Picked Over Notre Dame

The first matchup among teams in last season's Top 10 pits Notre Dame against Michigan in Ann Arbor. The Big Ten champion and the nation's top independent power proved just how closely matched they are when they played to a 17-17 tie last September at South Bend--one of three ties in Michigan's strange season. As further evidence of their parity, the Wolverines were 24-14 winners over the Fighting Irish at home in 1991, and Notre Dame won 28-24 at home in '90. They're still side by side in our mathematical rankings, the only other number we took into account was Michigan's rowdy crowd of 100,000-plus. The Wolverines will win by one.

So, we predict, will the Tennessee Volunteers, who host South-eastern Conference East division rival Georgia. Tennessee has beaten the Bulldogs the last two times they've played, on the road last year, 34-31, and four years ago in Knoxville. In another Top 20 face-off, this one an off-and-on interconference rivalry. Pacific-10 champ Washington should overcome Big Ten runner-up Ohio State's homefield advantage. In Seattle in 1986, the last time they met, the Huskies blew the Buckeyes away 40-7. This time it should be much closer: Washington 28, Ohio State 26.

One of the week's best games will match Penn State against Southern Cal in State College, Pa. Both teams started losing early last year--Penn State was 7-4 and USC finished a disappointing fourth in the Pac-10 at 6-4-1 -- but for our money they were the strongest four-loss teams in recent memory. Both should have remained on the Top 20 list until season's end, and we've always deplored the focus on perfect records that keeps that from happening. The Trojans beat the Nittany Lions in '90 and 21-10 at home in '91, the last time they butted heads, and we think Penn State will return the favor, winning by five points.

SBA Seeks Nominations For "Small Business Of The Year"

The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) has begun the search for the successful small business man or woman who will become America's "Small Business Person of the Year" for 1994. SBA district offices across the country will be accepting nominations for state "Small Business Person of the Year" for 1994 from now until Nov. 5; winners of the state competition compete for the national title.

Each year since 1963, the President has designated a week in May as national Small Business Week in recognition of the small business community's contributions to the American economy. There are currently 21 million small businesses in America and they account for 99% of all businesses, and employ 54% of the private workforce.

Business owners from every state, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and Guam who have been named their state's Small Business Person of the Year travel to Washington for 2-3 days of small business related activities and meetings that typically include high level government officials and the President of the U.S. Bowles pointed out that both President Clinton and Vice President Gore as well as several other Clinton Administration domestic affairs officials met with the 1993 winners. From among these state winners, a national "Small Business of the Year" is named, traditionally during a White House ceremony. In addition to receiving national recognition, the winner often becomes a frequent source for print and broadcast journalists on small business issues.

SBA Administrator Erskine Bowles, who met personally with all of the Small Business Week Winners in Washington last May said: "Small Business Week is a long-standing tradition and the SBA is honored to be the sponsor of this event which honors small businessmen and women who are among the nation's most successful entrepreneurs."

Each state's Small Business Person of the Year must meet criteria which includes staying power, growth in employment, increase in sales/unit volume, innovation, response to adversity, and evidence of contributions to his/her community.

Other categories, Advocate awards, are presented to persons who have used their professional skills or personal talents to further public understanding and awareness of small business. Advocate categories include: Women in Business, Minority, Veteran, Accountant, Financial Services, and Media. Special awards are also presented to the Small Business Exporter, Young Entrepreneur of the Year, and the Federal Government Small Business Prime Contractor and Subcontractor. Candidates must have taken an active role in creating opportunities to promote the interests of small business.

The SBA also has other special awards categories to honor outstanding small business exporters, young entrepreneurs, government prime contractors and subcontractors, and owners of large companies that started as small businesses and became big businesses.

Among America's top small business owners who have received the national distinction in recent years are: a Wisconsin bird food manufacturer with $70 million in annual sales; an Oklahoma grandmother who started making hairbows for her granddaughters as a hobby and turned it into a multimillion dollar a year business; and the head of a company that helps

Texas Department Of Health Announcement

Abe's Mythology

Over 130 years after he launched a military offensive against the South, glorified myth surrounding Abe Lincoln is still sacrosanct.

All terrible wars--and the one Lincoln launched cost the U.S. more death than World War II--and many other terrible effects--must be justified, by winners. All that death, slaughter and killing must be rationalized as necessary, and the best course.

The publisher William Morrow had planned to publish a book based on the impressions of a black servant who worked for the Lincolns in the 1850's. She told how the Lincolns fought, succumbed to hysteria, jealousy, etc.

After paying a tidy sum for rights to the manuscript, pressure from Lincoln scholars (many of whom have made a living glorifying Old Abe) forced the company to cancel the book.

Lennie Rountree Services Held

Services for Lennie Rountree, 87, of Morton were held Tuesday, Sept. 7, 1993 at First Missionary Baptist Church with Rev. Gordon Renshaw officiating.

Burial was in Resthaven Memorial Gardens, Lubbock, under the direction of Ellis Funeral Home, Morton.

Mrs. Rountree died September 3, 1993 at Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, following a lengthy illness.

She was born August 13, 1906 in Alabama.

She married Lyle L. Rountree on August 3, 1924 in Lubbock, TX. he died in 1980.

Mrs. Rountree had been a resident of Morton, TX since 1942, moving there from Sundown, TX. She had previously lived at Lubbock, TX. She was a home maker and a member of First Missionary Baptist Church.

She was preceded in death by three brothers, Mack Sealy, Buck Sealy and Homer Sealy. Also, her sister, Pearly Bearden; a step brother, Oscar Raper and a step sister, Patsy Raper.

Survivors include one son, Curtis Sealy of Morton, TX; three daughters, Edith Linder of Morton, TX, Joyce Wickson of Seminole, TX, Nelda Lynch of Morton, TX; two brothers, Pete Sealy of Lubbock and George Sealy of New Home, TX; two sisters, Mardie Simpson of Lubbock and Annie Mae Hamilton of Lubbock, TX; two step sisters, Beulah Speers of Idalou and Ida Mae Reagan; fourteen grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

The family suggests memorials to First Missionary Baptist Church.

John Glenn, senator (D-Ohio): "Americans should not put up with an IRS that makes demands on them which it can't meet itself," speaking of sloppy IRS accounting.

Better Business Bureau Report

Historians tell us that we are entering the third decade of the "energy crisis", but the only reminder most of us will need are our July utility bills. With utility bills certain to keep on rising, there are a number of things consumers can do to conserve energy and their personal finances. Many things can be done in your own home to save energy. Proper insulation is very important to conserve heating and cooling. Make sure your "R" value is high as this is the resistance. Also, insulate with weather stripping around doors and windows as well as keeping your fireplace damper closed when not in use. Set your water heater at 140 degrees and insulate the tank and pipes. Lighting is a big user of energy; especially high-wattage outdoor lights. So, turn off lights when they are not needed. When purchasing appliances, look for energy-efficient ones. Call 763-0459 for a free pamphlet on "TIPS ON SAVING ENERGY".

Your Better Business Bureau alerted local medical facilities and those that offer medical services of a recent scam perpetrated in northern Colorado concerning unauthorized overseas calls in some hospitals that resulted in over $6,000 bills. We thought that this could happen to ANY type business. It seems that someone would call the hospital and ask for a particular department. On reaching that department, he would say, "I'm sorry, but I have the wrong department, can you switch me back to the operator?" On reaching the operator, he would identify himself as a doctor and ask for an outside line to make a long distance call. The operator, thinking that the call was originating from within, would connect the call with the outside line. This could happen to you. Make sure you identify anyone asking for an outside line and close all possible points of unauthorized entry.

Call the BBB 24 hours, 7 days a week at (806) 763-0459.

Panhandle South Plains Fair Line-Up Of Free Shows

A line-up of free Fair Park Coliseum shows, sponsored by K-LLL, K-JAK FM, Miller Lite/K-ONE and Telemundo 46, has been announced for the upcoming Panhandle-South Plains Fair, reports Steve L. Lewis, fair manager. The 76th annual event is scheduled for Sept. 25-Oct. 2.

Monday, Sept. 27, K-LLL will present country artists Clay Walker and Boy Howdy, making joint appearances, on the coliseum stage at 7 and 9 p.m. Ticket give-away locations will be announced by K-LLL during regular programming and are required for show admission.

Clay Walker, a Beaumont native, has been perfecting his craft for more than three years by singing in clubs all over the Southwest and in Canada. He currently is breaking into the country radio scene with his single, "What's It To You".

Boy Howdy is composed of four seasoned musicians from the tough L.A. club scene. Their musical craft is showcased in their debut album, "Welcome To Howdywood", which also includes their first hit single, "Our Love Was Meant To Be" and "A Cowboy's Born With A Broken Heart", currently a Top Twenty selection in country music.

K-JAK FM will sponsor shows Tuesday, Sept. 28, by two of gospel's leading groups, the Fox Brothers and Wendy Bagwell and the Sunliters. Tickets to performances at 6 and 8 p.m. are available from the radio station and Christian bookstores throughout the city.

The Fox Brothers have received literally hundreds of gospel awards and made many television guest appearances, including frequent spots on "Nashville Now".

Wendy Bagwell and the Sunliters' style and brand of music and humor have won them world-wide acclaim and awards for their blend of gospel music and "home-spun" yarns.

Miller Lite/K-ONE are sponsoring an Alan Jackson look-alike contest on Thursday, Sept. 30, at 8 p.m. in the coliseum. Winner of the contest will receive $100 in prize money, an Alan Jackson jacket, CD's and free tickets to the Friday night Jackson performance.

Phoenix, a local group featuring Jerry Brownlow, will provide added entertainment. Tickets will be available the week before the show at the Miller Lite/Alan Jackson traveling unit and during regular programming on K-ONE.

Entries for the look-a-like contest are being taken by Miller Lite and K-One.

Rounding our sponsored coliseum shows will be Oscar G y Grupo Sol, presented by Telemundo 46. Slated for closing Saturday night, Oct. 2, this hot Tejano band from San Antonio has set many a toe to tapping with its strong Latino beat.

Performances by Oscar G y Grupo Sol are scheduled from 7 and 9 p.m. and tickets will be distributed by Telemundo 46.

Tickets for Fair Park Coliseum shows by Tanya Tucker, Ricky Van Shelton, Michael English, 4 Him and Alan Jackson are now on sale at the fair office and the following locations: Luskey's, 2431 34th St.; Ralph's Records, 909 University and 2233 82nd St.; and Tejas Western Outlet, 5715 19th St.

For additional ticket information, call Fair Park Coliseum ticket office (744-9557).

News vs. Muck

In some U.S. communities local newspapers are turning to emphasis on local crime, domestic problems and scandal to distinguish its coverage from television.

Because newspapers face ever-increasing competition from the tube, which breaks major news stories first, some facing declining revenues, seek preeminence in an area where national (and perhaps local) television can't best them.

The result is a step backward for journalism. Many local papers are thus emulating grocery tabloid sensationalism.

This is the pattern of newspaper journalism in London, a pattern which most newspapers in the U.S. have avoided up to now.

Lazbuddie Elementary Students Of The Month

Students of the month of September have been selected at Lazbuddie Elementary School. These students have exhibited outstanding qualities of character, leadership and citizenship. It is with great pride that we announce these students of the month.

Kindergarten: Kirby Kimbrough, son of Kyle and Kim Kimbrough.

First Grade: Tanner Gartin, son of Steve and Tonya Gartin.

Second Grade: Cobey Branscum, son of Scott and Kim Branscum.

Third Grade: Lucas DeLeon, son of Tommy and Elva DeLeon.

Fourth Grade: Kayla Kimbrough, daughter of Kyle and Kim Kimbrough.

Fifth Grade: Jerry Cooper, son of Patricia Pierce, grandson of Abe and Corrine Mallouf.

Each student was presented with a ribbon and congratulated on their efforts.

Ten Free Trees To Be Given

Ten free trees will be given to each person who joins the National Arbor Day Foundation during September 1993.

The free trees are part of the nonprofit Foundation's Trees for America campaign.

The ten trees are the Sugar Maple, White Flowering Dogwood, Pin Oak, White Pine, Red Maple, Birch, American Redbud, Silver Maple, Red Oak, and Colorado Blue Spruce.

"These trees were selected to provide benefits every season of the year: lovely spring flowers, cool summer shade, spectacular autumn colors, and winter berries and nesting sites for songbirds," John Rosenow, the Foundation's executive director, said.

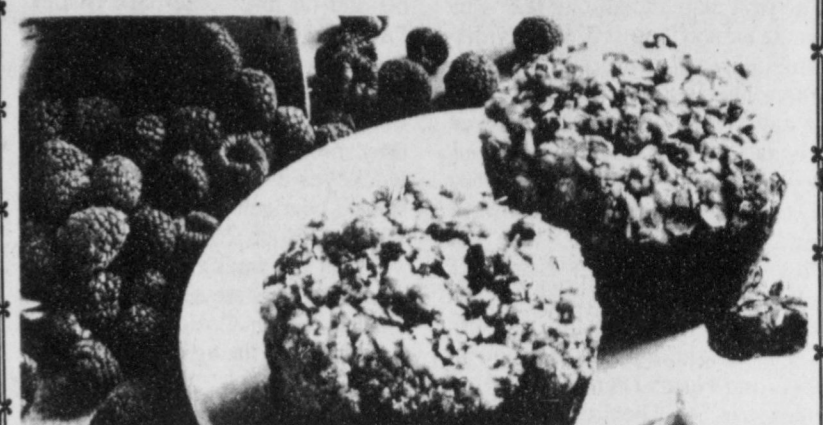

The trees will be shipped postpaid at the right time for planting between October 15 and December 10 with enclosed planting instructions. The six to twelve inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge.

Members also receive a subscription to the Foundation's news magazine, Arbor Day, which includes regular features about tree planting and care.

OAT-RAGEOUSLY GOOD TEXAS-SIZE MUFFINS

If you're looking for a healthy and quick way to start your day, bake these extra-large muffins. Eat them on-the-run or enjoy leisurely with a tall glass of juice or cup of coffee. "We've taken the 'work' out of baking in this recipe," says Nina Swan-Kohler, home economist for 3 Minute Brand Oats. The main ingredients are buttermilk baking mix, oats, yogurt and fruit. "This recipe is so easy, yet I get rave reviews every time I serve them. In fact, everyone wants a copy of the recipe," she says. Even beginning cooks can bake these muffins with success.

TEXAS-SIZE BERRY OATMEAL MUFFINS WITH STREUSEL TOPPING

Make every day a special occasion by serving these quick and easy muffins.

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1 cup 3 Minute Brand® Quick Oats Plus Oat Bran | Streusel Topping |
| 1 1/2 cups buttermilk baking mix (use regular or reduced-fat Bisquick®) | 1/3 cup flour |
| 3/4 cup granulated sugar | 1/4 cup light brown sugar |
| 3/4 cup chopped pecans | 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted |
| 1 teaspoon vanilla extract | 1/4 cup chopped pecans |
| 2 tablespoons butter, melted | |
| 2 eggs, beaten | |
| 1 (8 oz.) carton mixed berry or raspberry low-fat yogurt | |
| 1/2 cup fresh or frozen raspberries (about 24) | |
| 1/2 cup fresh or frozen blackberries or blueberries (about 24) | |

In large bowl, combine oats, buttermilk baking mix, sugar and pecans; mix well and set aside. In small bowl, combine yogurt, butter, eggs and vanilla extract; mix well. Fold into dry ingredients. Do not over mix. Spray muffin cups with no-stick cooking spray; divide batter to fill 6 muffin cups. (Our home economists recommend using an ice cream scoop to place batter in muffin cups.) Place 4 raspberries and 4 blackberries in each muffin, pressing down slightly. In small bowl, combine streusel ingredients and mix until crumbly, sprinkle over muffins. Bake in a 400° oven for about 22-25 minutes or until golden brown. Cool for 5 minutes, remove from muffin cups. Makes 6 Texas-size muffins. (To make regular-size muffins, follow directions except divide batter to fill 12 muffin cups. Bake for 18 minutes.)

Ways To Relieve Stress

Knowing there are two kinds of stress is the first step in coping.

The two kinds are things you can do something about and things you cannot change, according to Dr. Michael Cox, a psychologist at Baylor College of Medicine at Houston.

Stress that people can do something about requires action. This type of stress could include personality conflicts, marital tensions or illness. Lessening these kinds of stress could be as simple as negotiation, compromise or following a physician's advice.

For sources of stress that cannot be changed, Cox suggests:

- *Reaching out to others for support.
 - *Making time for enjoyable activities.
 - *Learning to relax.
- Relaxation can be improved by:
- Closing your eyes.
 - Picturing an enjoyable scene such as the beach or a vacation.
 - Maintaining the scene in your mind and actually "feeling" it.
 - Thinking soothing thoughts.

Your Blood Pressure

(NU)—A full three-quarters of all adults fail to consume enough calcium, magnesium and potassium in their diets. These same adults, therefore, are candidates for hypertension (commonly known as high blood pressure), which could lead to a debilitating stroke or a heart attack.

Hypertension, or high blood pressure, can frequently occur during moments of tension or quiet concern. Remember that a hypertension diagnosis should be determined by using at least two separate blood pressure measurements by the same person under relaxed conditions. If a person is considered hypertensive, they may need extended (if not lifelong) treatment.

Hypertension is sometimes called "the silent killer" because it often causes no symptoms. If you have been diagnosed by a physician who has prescribed medication, take it without fail, even if you feel well, according to NARD, the national association representing independent pharmacies. Ask your family pharmacist about blood pressure screenings and for other tips on how to manage your hypertension successfully.

Mineral Therapy

The National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute (NHLBI) recently issued new recommendations for preventing hypertension. For the first time, the institute suggests adding healthy foods to the diet, in addition to eliminating excesses. Patients should make sure they get the recommended daily allowance of calcium, magnesium and potassium in their diets, says the NHLBI.

While calcium, magnesium and potassium can be found in many foods, dairy products represent the sole food source that provides all three minerals in meaningful quantities.

Calcium is not manufactured by the body, despite its status as the most abundant mineral in the human body. Without adequate dietary calcium, the body will drain the mineral from its own bones, where it cannot be easily replenished.

More than twenty clinical studies have identified biochemical evidence that some individuals with high blood pressure suffer from calcium deficiency.

Magnesium is an essential nutrient that aids the function of many enzymes, bones and neuromuscular transmission. Potassium is primarily involved in the release of energy from carbohydrates, proteins and fats, muscle contraction, maintenance of fluid and electrolyte balance in cells, and the transmission of nerve impulses. Both minerals may help regulate blood pressure.

NARD recommends restricting your sodium intake and exercising regularly to help keep your blood pressure under control.

Adjusting your diet isn't the only way to lower your blood pressure. Changes in lifestyle and behavior can also contribute. For instance, several studies report a mild lowering of blood pressure by using techniques of relaxation, medication and biofeedback. These approaches can be used in cases of very mild hypertension and, in more serious cases, in combination with drug therapy.

Study Looks At Silicone Implants And Breast Milk

A study at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston is examining the effect of silicone breast implants on mother's milk.

Researchers are testing pregnant and nursing women who have silicone implants to see if levels of silicon, the element from which silicone is made, can be detected in urine, blood and milk.

If high levels are detected, investigators will use ultrasound to determine if an implant has ruptured or is seeping into the woman's body.

If silicon is detected in milk, additional studies would be needed to determine the effect on children, said Dr. Alexander Reiter, a Baylor obstetrician and gynecologist.

Can Your Child Be Allergic To School?

If your child says he's allergic to school, it may be the truth.

"Many asthma attacks occur indoors where children spend most of their time," said Dr. Benjamin Interiano, an assistant professor of medicine at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. "At school, they are often exposed to allergens that can trigger asthma."

Asthma is the leading cause of school absenteeism, amounting to 10 million lost days a year, according to Interiano. It is especially prevalent among African-American children, who suffer more serious attacks.

Asthma attacks are frequently caused by allergies to dust and mold. Chalkboards, plants, dusty carpet, and chemicals used for art and science projects can all be possible culprits.

Exercise can also cause an asthma attack if preventive measures are not taken. However, asthma should not impede a child from participating in physical education and team sports, said Interiano, who is also medical director of the Baylor/Methodist Hospital Asthma Institute of Houston.

"The teacher or coach needs to know the child's physical limitations," he said.

Some asthmatic children are sensitive to certain food preservatives in school cafeteria food. Interiano recommends parents discuss the problem with cafeteria personnel and provide the child with sack lunches from home if necessary.

The first step toward helping a child manage asthma is knowing what symptoms to look for.

"Teachers should be aware of the signs of an asthma attack, such as wheezing, coughing, choking and shortness of breath," Interiano said. "Parents should make sure the child is referred to the school nurse so he can take medication to suppress an attack."

Anti-inflammatory drugs can ease asthma's severity. However, some children are reluctant to take their medication.

"Teenagers in particular tend to hide the need for medication from their peers because they think it is a sign of weakness," Interiano said. "They need to be taught to take their medication regularly even when they are feeling well."

Interiano adds that asthmatic children sometimes make excuses not to attend school or participate in school activities because they are embarrassed by their condition. He recommends that parents tell the child that they are not alone.

"Children with asthma must learn not to be afraid of the problem and that other children have asthma, too," Interiano said. "A team effort between the child, parent and teacher can create a positive learning environment."

Interiano recommends that parents:

- *Form a partnership with the child's teacher and school nurse by having a meeting with them at the beginning of the school year to discuss the child's asthma. Devise an emergency plan including phone numbers where you can be easily reached.

- *Explain what asthma medications the child must take and the side effects that may affect performance and behavior.

- *Make arrangements for the child to take medication discreetly, perhaps in the nurse's or secretary's office.

- *Ask the teacher to treat the asthmatic child like all the other children and to help classmates understand that asthma is not contagious.

What is your grandparenting style?

Grandparents are some of the best national treasures and natural resources in America. You enrich the lives of families and community members wherever you go. Did you know there are different grandparent styles? Consider:

1. The DOER-They have endless energy, like hands-on projects, are spontaneous and are never boring.
2. The DREAMER-they are great story tellers, artistic, future-oriented, sympathetic, and are exploratory in nature.
3. The DISCOVERER-they are investigative, competitive, love to play games, and held us understand the "why's" of life.
4. The DIRECTOR-they are organized planners, detail-oriented, dutiful and offer a great sense of security and safety.

Whatever your grandparenting style, it is important to permit yourself to be yourself, enjoy your role fully, and let your grandchildren spoil you with extra attention. At S.A.S. we think each of you has a special style to share! Happy Grandparenting.

Quote: I look back on my life, like a good days work...and I feel satisfied....I made the best of what life offered.

-Grandma Moses

Asthma among school children is a serious problem, says Interiano, but with a little planning, it can be managed.

According to the National Center for Health Statistics, school days missed due to asthma take a huge financial toll. Parents lose $1 billion in wages a year to stay home and care for their asthmatic children.

Parents Get Ready For The School Year

Children are not the only ones who should gear up for a new school year. Parents also need to prepare.

"Parenting is tough as a new school year starts," said Dr. James Bray of Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. Many parents do not set guidelines at home, so school rules may be difficult for children. By creating home rules, parents can help.

Bray also recommends not overly pressuring children to achieve. Parents should respect individual strengths.

Other suggestions include:

- *Getting involved in children's homework.
- *Attending parent-teacher organization meetings and arranging private meetings with teachers to check on progress.
- *Teaching children social skills to help them get along with schoolmates.
- *Praising children for work well done.

Just Like Your Mother Told You!

Your mother was right when she said, "You are what you eat".

Experts at the DeBakey Heart Center of Baylor College of Medicine and The Methodist Hospital in Houston agree what we eat plays an important role in reducing heart disease risk, controlling high blood pressure and diabetes, and preventing and treating obesity.

Eating for good health does not require large doses of vitamins and minerals or purchasing special foods, according to Lynne Scott, R.D., director of Baylor's Diet Modification Clinic and co-author of "The Living Heart Diet" and "The Living Heart Brand Name Shopper's Guide."

The key to healthy eating, Scott said, is eating a well balanced diet that includes a variety of foods.

For healthy eating, Scott recommends following the basic, daily guidelines of the American Heart Association and the National Cholesterol Education Program:

- * Less than 30 percent of calories from fat (To determine grams of fat for the whole day, multiply your daily calories by 0.30 and divide by 9).

- * Less than 10 percent of calories from saturated fat such as meat fat, poultry skin, butter, fat in dairy products, tropical oils, cocoa butter and coconut. To determine grams of saturated fat for the whole day, divide total daily grams of fat by 3.

- * Less than 300 milligrams of cholesterol.

- * 50 to 55 percent of calories from carbohydrates such as bread, cereal, pasta and starchy vegetables.

- * 15 to 20 percent of calories from protein.

- * Five servings of fruits and vegetables, preferably fresh or frozen.

- * Consume total calories to reach and maintain desirable body weight.

In addition, Scott recommends that daily servings of meat, poultry and fish total no more than 6 ounces, cooked, and that dairy products by low-fat or fat-free. People who need to lower cholesterol should also limit egg yolks to three a week.

Recent research indicates antioxidants (vitamins A, C, and E and beta carotene) may help reduce risk for cancer, immune diseases, cataracts, aging and heart disease.

Scott recommends selecting foods that are concentrated sources of these substances when choosing vegetables and fruits. Carrots, broccoli, spinach, yams, oranges, bananas and pumpkin are good choices.

"It is much better to get the vitamins and minerals we know are beneficial from food rather than from supplements," Scott said. "Supplements can cause side effects and consuming too much of some vitamins and minerals can be toxic."

Adhering to a healthy eating lifestyle requires more awareness than effort, Scott said. "Be aware of the fat content of food and choose those that are lower in fat. For example, select meats that are roasted, grilled or baked instead of fried.

"Choose a wide variety of lean meat, low-fat or non-fat dairy products, fruits, vegetables, bread, cereal, pasta, starch foods and limited amounts of oil and margarine--just as your mother told you.

Medicare Approve Cost Of Flu Vaccine

With fall and winter fast approaching, so is the flu season and according to Bruce Wells, Social Security manager in Lubbock, there is good news for Medicare beneficiaries enrolled in Medicare. Since May 1, 1993, the cost of getting a shot to protect you from influenza virus has been covered by Medicare.

Most Medicare beneficiaries, because they are elderly, belong to an "at-risk" group and are strongly urged to consider getting a flu vaccination, generally, flu shots are given once a year, usually in the fall or winter.

According to Wells, the Medicare payment for the shot will be for the full amount and beneficiaries will not have to pay a deductible or coinsurance amount. A doctor's prescription or supervision is not required to have this vaccination covered by Medicare.

People are encouraged to get a flu shot every year. Even if they have had flu, they need to protect themselves against each year's new type of flu, and the best time to get the shot is in the fall.

You can get the flu shot at your doctor's office, your local health department, or even while you are in the hospital.

typically low in calcium and marginal in phosphorous and magnesium content will often be low in wheat forage. There is no evidence that supplemental magnesium will decrease the incidence and (or) severity of bloat of stocker cattle on small grain pastures. However, there may be a relationship between ruminal motility (and the ability of stocker cattle to eructate gases) and the calcium states of the cattle. Therefore, it is recommended that supplemental calcium be provided to the cattle to help the animal meet requirements for growth and to possibly decrease the occurrence/severity of bloat by augmenting ruminal motility.

"Providing the feed additive poloxalene is a proven management practice that reduces the occurrence of bloat. When cattle are used to coming to bunks to consume supplement, poloxalene can easily be available to the cattle by mixing it with the feed.

"The key to maximizing gains, regardless of the type of forage being grazed, is to match the nutrients provided by the forage to the requirements of the animal. Nutrients that are deficient should be provided to the animal in some form of supplement. These nutrients might include protein, energy and both macro and trace minerals, ionophores and growth promoting implants have been proven again and again as cost effective means of increasing cattle performance. Today's cattlemen cannot afford the potential loss in income from ignoring these opportunities.

Farm Credit Reports Strong Performance

Strong earnings highlighted the Tenth farm Credit District's first six months of 1993, according to financial results released.

The district comprises the Austin-based Farm Credit Bank of Texas, 48 Federal Land Bank Associations in Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas, and 17 Production Credit Associations in New Mexico and Texas.

The bank and its affiliated associations reported net income of $58.8 million for the six-month period, up from $6.1 million for the first six months of 1992. Of the increase, $20 million was due to a one-time charge incurred in 1992 to comply with changes in the way in which postretirement benefits are reported. Discounting the one-time charge, the district's income was up $32.7 million over the cumulative effect of a change in accounting for income taxes also contributed to the district's earnings.

"We are particularly pleased about the trends we are seeing in the rural real estate markets," said Bank Chief Executive Officer Arnold R. Henson. "We are observing continuing signs of improving real estate markets in the district, as evidenced by our $5.2 million increase in net gains on the sale of bank-owned properties during the last six months. The strong movement of our properties, we believe, indicates a growing confidence in investing in rural real estate.

Nonaccrual loan volume also showed significant improvement during the period. A top district priority, the reduction in nonaccrual volume was 18 percent, or $21.6 million, in the first half of the year.

During the second quarter, the district made its first Fannie Mae loan, a new program aimed at broadening the financing options for rural home buyers through Federal Land Bank Associations. Also, District Production Credit Associations announced a fixed-rate equipment financing program, with options for three-year or five-year terms.

Combined loan volume at June 30, 1993, was $3.5 billion and district assets totaled $4.2 billion.

It isn't necessary to prime an alert mind with alcohol.

Nationally, the Farm Credit System reported combined net income of $288 million and $686 million for the second quarter and first six months of 1993, respectively, as compared with combined net income of $201 million and restated combined net income of $444 million for the same periods of the prior year.

Octoberfest To Draw Hundreds

Experience fall and nature at it's best this year "Deep in the heart of Texas". That's what folks 55 and over will be doing at the Texas 4-H Center on Lake Brownwood when several hundred will enjoy the 15th annual Octoberfest during October says Kandy McWhorter, Bailey County Extension Agent-H.E.

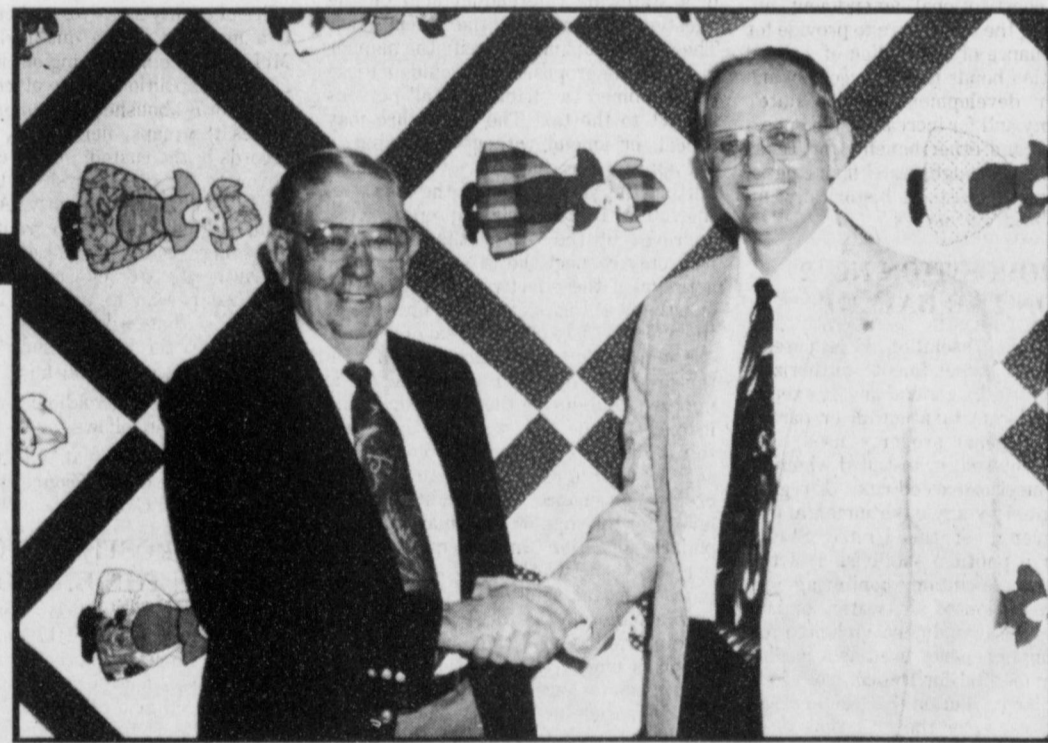

Sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, four weeks are offered from which men and women alike may choose: Octoberfest I-October 5-8, Octoberfest II-October 12-15, Octoberfest III-October 19-22, Octoberfest IV-October 26-29

Opportunities include "hands-on" learning centers where one can learn leather working, oil painting, woodworking, stained glass and other exciting projects. Educational programs on topics such as horticulture, photography, nutrition, finances, and other current interests are a popular highlight.

Boat rides and fishing on Lake Brownwood add popularity to your stay. Lighted tennis courts, horseshoes, billiards, volleyball, shuffleboard, dominoes, and card and table games are all popular activities.

A special "Name That Tune" theme will provide a festive atmosphere to the event. Thursday's theme party will feature some exciting activities and entertainment.

Octoberfest '93! Are you 55 or older? Then it's for you! Each week is limited to 165 participants at a nominal fee. Get away and learn to make the most of the best years of your life. Call your County Extension Office today at 806/272-4583.

DENIM PRODUCTION IN COTTON COUNTY

West Texas is known as a forerunner in cotton production. So what better place to process and manufacture the crop than in the heart of cotton country?

One of the world's largest denim plants is located in Littlefield, where it employs over 500 people. The American Cotton Growers Denim Plant is a division of Plains Cotton Cooperative Association (PCCA) and produces approximately 28 million linear yards of denim each year.

The Great Plains Agricultural Council (GPAC) forestry committee had the opportunity to visit this impressive manufacturing plant while at their annual meeting in Lubbock. The GPAC is an alliance of land grant universities, several federal and state agencies and others involved in the economic and environmental productivity of the Plains.

The Littlefield denim mill is in operation 24 hours a day and ships 98 percent of its cloth to Levi Strauss & Co. throughout the world. The plant currently serves 25,000 cotton producers in Texas and Oklahoma, said Lance Broadhurst, personnel director.

Broadhurst said there are four general stages in denim production.

The initial stage is Opening and Blending. This deals with the baled cotton fiber being opened and separated into small tufts and then blended together. Carding is next, which removes foreign matter from the cotton fibers and transforms the fiber into a web and then a rope-like form known as a sliver.

Once the individual slivers are formed, one single uniform sliver is made from all the individual ones. This additional blending cleans the fibers and prepares them for yarn formation.

Broadhurst said the individual slivers are laid down in the groove of a fast spinning rotor and twisted into yarn. A spinning machine automatically repairs any broken ends in the fibers and removes full packages of yarn after they are completed.

The second step in the production of denim is Warp Preparation.

Individual strands of warp yarn, which is the length-wise yarn in a fabric, are gathered in a rope form and wound onto a "log", thus forming a ball warp.

The indigo dye range is the largest machine in the plant, handling 20 ball warps at the same time. The yarn goes through sulfur dye, wash boxes, indigo dye vats, over a skying device (to allow for denimoxidation), through additional wash boxes, over drying cans and is finally coiled into tubs.

"Sixty percent of the denim is dyed blue for the front side of jeans and forty percent is dyed white for the backside," said Broadhurst. "This total dyeing process takes seven hours and 15 minutes."

The tubs are transferred to the next stage of warp preparation, Long Chain Beaming process. This separates the dyed yarn into individual strands and winds them onto a large section beam for slashing.

Slashing takes 10 section beams, coats them with a starch solution and winds the yarn onto a loom beam. The starch solution is applied to enable the yarn to withstand tension and abrasion it will be exposed to in the third stage of weaving.

Broadhurst says the weaving stage interlaces the warp (length-wise indigo yarn) and the filling (natural-colored cross-wise yarn) producing 100 percent cotton denim of 14.5 ounces per square yard.

The last stage of production is Finishing. The Finishing Range brushes and sings the cloth before the cloth enters a finishing solution. The cloth is then pulled to the proper width, skewed, dried and rolled for the Compressive Shrinkage process.

The shrinkage process reduces the amount of shrinkage that a finished garment will have after being washed. Approximately 14 percent shrinkage in the warp yarn takes place.

After the yarn dries, the cloth is rolled onto an "A" frame. Every yard of cloth must pass rigid inspection and be carefully weighed and measured to ensure the proper quality and size.

The Littlefield denim mill was constructed in 1975. It has since served to provide thousands of jobs for South Plains residents and was a major step in the development of a more efficient off-farm system.

From the cotton crop in the field to the pair of blue jeans in the closet, West Texas is home to a multi-million dollar business which encompasses more than just farming.

Know The Weather

What is fog? Is it really a cloud on the surface of the earth?

Yes, fog is nothing more than a cloud. All clouds are formed when some kind of cooling process lowers the moisture capacity of the air to the point where moisture becomes visible particles--thus a cloud.

This process can occur in several different ways and under different circumstances. In the fall, when fog is seen most often in most parts of the country (the west coast experiences much fog in winter), fogs are usually caused when the earth (heated during the summer) loses its heat into the cooler night air.

As the warmer air from the earth's surface rises and is cooled, fog forms. Cold ground, in spring, can make its own fog when warm moist air blows over it--by cooling the air to the cloud stage.

Fog, then, is nothing more than a land-locked cloud

PUBLIC NOTICE

BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS

OF PROPOSED

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

SPECIAL ELECTION

NOVEMBER 2, 1993

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 9 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the Texas Legislature to provide for the issuance of bonds for the state financing of start-up costs for historically underutilized businesses. The amendment provides that the legislature by law may establish a Texas historically underutilized business capital growth and start-up fund. The money in the fund may be used without further appropriation and only for a program established by the legislature to aid in the start-up costs of a historically underutilized business, as defined by the legislature. To carry out the program, the legislature may issue up to $50 million of general obligation bonds to provide funding. The legislature may require review and approval of the issuance of bonds, the use of the bond proceeds, or of the rules adopted by an agency to govern use of the bond proceeds. Bonds authorized by the amendment constitute a general obligation of the state.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to provide for the issuance of $50 million of general obligation bonds for the recovery and further development of the state's economy and for increasing job opportunities and other benefits for Texas residents through state financing of the start-up costs of historically underutilized businesses."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 86 proposes a constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature, by general law, to exempt from ad valorem taxation all or part of real and personal property used, constructed, acquired, or installed wholly or partly to meet or exceed rules or regulations adopted by any environmental protection agency of the United States, Texas, or a political subdivision of this state for the prevention, monitoring, control, or reduction of air, water, or land pollution. The amendment applies to real and personal property used as a facility, device, or method for the control of air, water, or land pollution that would otherwise be taxable for the first time on or after January 1, 1994. The amendment does not authorize the exemption from ad valorem taxation of real or personal property that was subject to a tax abatement agreement executed before January 1, 1994.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to promote the reduction of pollution and to encourage the preservation of jobs by authorizing the exemption from ad valorem taxation of real and personal property used for the control of air, water, or land pollution."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 3 proposes a constitutional amendment to clear land titles in which the State of Texas relinquishes and releases any claim of sovereign ownership or title to an undivided one-third interest in and to the lands and minerals within the Shelby, Frazier, and McCormick League (now located in Fort Bend and Austin counties) arising out of the interest in that league originally granted under the Mexican Colonization Law of 1823 to John McCormick or or about July 24, 1824, and subsequently voided by the governing body of Austin's Original Colony on or about December 15, 1830. Title to such interest in the lands and minerals is confirmed to the owners of the remaining interests in such lands and minerals.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing for the clearing of land titles by the release of a state claim in a fractional interest, arising out of the voiding of an interest under a Mexican land grant, to the owners of certain property in Fort Bend and Austin counties."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 49 proposes a constitutional amendment that would prohibit a state personal income tax without voter approval and would dedicate the proceeds of any income tax, if enacted, to property tax relief and education. The amendment provides that a general law enacted by the legislature that imposes a tax on the net incomes of natural persons, including a person's share of partnership and unincorporated association income, must provide that the portion of the law imposing the tax not take effect until approved by a majority of the registered voters voting in a statewide referendum held on the question of imposing the tax. The referendum must specify the rate of the tax that will apply to taxable income.

The amendment also provides that a general law enacted by the legislature that increases the rate of the tax, or changes the tax in a manner that results in an increase in the combined income tax liability of all persons subject to the tax, may not take effect until approved by a majority of the registered voters voting in a statewide referendum held on the question of increasing the income tax. The referendum must specify the manner in which the proposed law would increase the combined tax liability of all persons subject to the tax. The legislature may repeal, or amend without increasing, a tax approved by the voters without submitting the amendment or the repeal to the voters. If the legislature repeals a tax approved by the voters, the legislature may only reenact the tax without voter approval if the effective date of the reenactment of the tax is within one year of the effective date of the repeal of the tax.

The amendment also provides that, in the first year in which an income tax is imposed, and during the first year of any increase in the tax, not less than two-thirds of all net revenues from the tax shall be used to reduce the rate of ad valorem maintenance and operation taxes levied for the support of primary and secondary education. In subsequent years, not less than two-thirds of all net revenues of the tax shall be used to continue such ad valorem tax relief. The net revenues of the tax remaining after the dedication of money for reduction of ad valorem maintenance and operation taxes shall be used for support of education. The maximum rate at which a school district may impose ad valorem maintenance and operation taxes is reduced by an amount equal to one cent per $100 valuation that the school district's ad valorem maintenance and operation tax is reduced by the minimum amount of money dedicated under the amendment, provided that a school district may subsequently increase the maximum ad valorem maintenance and operation tax rate if the increased maximum rate is approved by a majority of the voters of the school district voting at an election called and held for that purpose. The portions of the amendment relating to dedicating tax revenues to reduce the rate of ad valorem maintenance and operation taxes apply on or after the first January 1 after the date on which an income tax takes effect, except that if the income tax begins to apply on a January 1, the amendment applies to ad valorem maintenance and operation taxes levied on or after that date.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment prohibiting a personal income tax without voter approval and, if an income tax is enacted, dedicating the revenue to education and limiting the rate of local school taxes."

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 18 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the legislature to prescribe the qualifications of sheriffs. Currently, the constitution authorizes the legislature to prescribe the duties, perquisites, and fees of office, but not the qualifications for the office of sheriff.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to prescribe the qualifications of sheriffs."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 21 proposes a constitutional amendment that would abolish the office of county surveyor in Jackson County. The amendment also provides for the powers, duties, and functions of the county surveyor to be transferred to the county officer designated by the commissioners court.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment abolishing the office of county surveyor in Jackson County."

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 57 proposes a constitutional amendment that repeals article XII, section 6, of the Texas Constitution, which currently provides that no corporation shall issue stock or bonds except for money paid, labor done, or property actually received, and that all fictitious increase of stock or indebtedness shall be void.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment repealing certain restrictions on the ability of corporations to raise capital."

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 22 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the commissioners court of McLennan County to call an election to abolish the office of county surveyor. The office of county surveyor will be abolished if a majority of the qualified voters of McLennan County voting on the question favor the abolition. If the office of county surveyor is abolished, the amendment requires the maps, field notes, and other records in the custody of the county surveyor to be transferred to the county clerk of McLennan County. After abolition, the amendment also grants the commissioners court of McLennan County the authority to employ or contract with a qualified person to perform any of the functions that would have been performed by the county surveyor if the office had not been abolished.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to abolish the office of county surveyor in McLennan County."

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 19 proposes an amendment to article VIII, section 13 of the Texas Constitution that would modify the provisions for the redemption of real property sold at a tax sale. The amendment deletes current language in article VIII, section 13 that allows the legislature to provide for the sale of property without trial to pay for delinquent taxes. It also states that the deed to the new owner vests a good and perfect title subject only to redemption as set out in this amendment or impeachment for fraud. Language is added limiting application of the current two-year redemption period to former owners of residence homesteads and land designated for agricultural use sold for unpaid taxes. When property is sold as the result of a suit to enforce collection of unpaid taxes, the amendment would allow the legislature to limit redemption to property used as a residence homestead or designated for agricultural use at the time the suit was filed. The amendment creates a second type of redemption for former owners of real property when property is neither a residence homestead, nor designated for agricultural use. These owners would have a six-month period in which to redeem their property by paying the amount of money paid for the property, including the Tax Deed Recording Fee, all taxes, penalties, interest, and costs paid plus an amount not exceeding 25 percent of the aggregate total. The amendment applies to redemption of properties sold at a tax sale for which the purchaser's deed is filed on or after January 1, 1994. For redemption of properties sold at a tax sale for which the purchaser's deed was filed before January 1, 1994, the former law is applicable and remains in effect.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to modify the provisions for the redemption of real property sold at a tax sale."

PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 34 proposes a constitutional amendment that adds a new section 49-b-2 to article III of the Texas Constitution. This new section provides that, in addition to the general obligation bonds authorized to be issued and sold by the Veterans' Land Board (the "Board") by sections 49-b (950 million) and 49-b-1 ($1.3 billion) of article III, the board may provide for, issue, and sell general obligation bonds of the state in an amount not to exceed $750 million to provide financing to Texas veterans.

$250 million of the bonds authorized by this new section shall be used to augment the Veterans' Land Fund (the "Land Fund"). The Land Fund shall be used by the Board to purchase lands situated in Texas owned by the United States government, an agency of the United States government, the State of Texas, a political subdivision or agency of the State of Texas, or a person, firm, or corporation. The lands shall be sold to veterans in quantities, on terms, at prices, and at fixed, variable, floating, or other rates of interest determined by the Board. Lands in the Land Fund that are offered for sale to veterans and that are not sold may be sold or resold to the purchasers in quantities, terms, prices, and rates of interest determined by the Board.

New section 49-b-2 creates the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund II (the "Housing Fund II"), and $500 million of the general obligation bonds authorized by the section shall be used for the Housing Fund II. The Housing Fund II is a separate and distinct fund from the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund (the "Housing Fund") established under section 49-b-1 of article III. Money in the Housing Fund II shall be administered by the Board and shall be used to make home mortgage loans to veterans for housing within this state in quantities, on terms, and at fixed, variable, floating, or other rates of interest determined by the Board. The principal of, and interest on, the general obligation bonds authorized by this section for the benefit of the Housing Fund II shall be paid out of the money of the Housing Fund II. The principal of, and interest on, the general obligation bonds authorized by sections 49-b or 49-b-1 of article III, there is appropriated out of the first money coming into the treasury in each fiscal year an amount that is sufficient to pay the principal of, and interest on, the general obligation bonds that mature or become due during that fiscal year.

If the Board determines that assets from the Land Fund, the Housing Fund, or the Housing Fund II are not required for purposes of the fund, the Board may transfer the assets to another of those funds or use the assets to secure revenue bonds issued by the Board. The revenue bonds shall be special obligations of the Board and payable only from and secured by receipts of the funds, assets transferred from the funds, and other revenues as determined by the Board and shall not constitute indebtedness of the State of Texas or the Board. The Board may issue revenue bonds from time to time, which bonds may not exceed an aggregate principal amount that the Board determines can be fully retired from the receipts of the funds. The revenue bonds shall be sold in forms, denominations, and in installments, and bear a rate or rates of interest as the Board determines.

The general obligation bonds authorized to be issued by the Board by this section or by sections 49-b and 49-b-1 of article III shall be issued and sold in forms and denominations, on terms, at times, in the manner, at places, in installments, and shall bear a rate or rates of interest the Board determines. The bonds shall be incontestable after execution by the Board, approval by the Attorney General of Texas, and delivery to the purchaser.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing issuance of $750 million in general obligation bonds to augment the Veterans' Land Fund and the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund and to fund the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund II."

PROPOSITION NO. 11 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 31 proposes a constitutional amendment relating to the duties of trustees of local retirement systems which provide retirement and related disability and death benefits for public officers and employees and that do not belong to a statewide retirement system. The amendment provides that the board of trustees of such a system shall (1) administer the system of benefits; (2) hold the assets of the system for the exclusive purposes of providing benefits to participants and their beneficiaries and defraying reasonable expenses of administering the system; and (3) select legal counsel and an actuary and adopt sound actuarial assumptions to be used by the system.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing that the trustees of a local public pension system must administer the system for the benefit of the system's participants and beneficiaries."

PROPOSITION NO. 12 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 23 proposes a constitutional amendment providing that any person accused of a violent or sexual offense committed while under the supervision of a criminal justice agency of this state or a political subdivision of this state for a prior felony may, after a hearing and evidence substantially showing the guilt of the accused, be denied bail pending trial. If the accused is not, however, accorded a trial within 60 days from the time of his incarceration upon the accusation or indictment, the order denying bail shall be set aside unless a continuance is obtained upon the request of the accused. In the amendment, the term "violent offense" means murder, aggravated assault (if a deadly weapon was used or exhibited during the commission of the assault), aggravated kidnapping, or aggravated robbery. The term "sexual offense" means aggravated sexual assault, sexual assault, or indecency with a child.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment permitting the denial of bail to certain persons charged with certain violent or sexual offenses committed while under the supervision of a criminal justice agency of the state or a political subdivision of the state."

PROPOSITION NO. 13 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 13 proposes a constitutional amendment that amends article VII, section 17(a), of the Texas Constitution to provide that, of the $100 million currently appropriated by that section for the use of public institutions of higher education during each fiscal year, those institutions may also utilize this money to pay for acquiring, constructing, or equipping or for major repair or rehabilitation of buildings, facilities, other permanent improvements, or capital equipment used jointly for educational and general activities and for auxiliary enterprises to the extent of their use for educational and general activities. For the five-year period beginning on September 1, 2000, and for each five-year period thereafter, the legislature, during a regular session that is nearest, but preceding, a five-year period may, by a two-thirds vote of the membership of each house, increase the amount of the $100 million constitutional appropriation for the five-year period. The amendment also reflects name changes that have been made to some of the institutions of higher education for which such funding is available. The amendment adds the Texas State Technical College System to those institutions eligible to receive such funding, but limits its allocation of the annual appropriation to 2.2 percent of the total appropriation each fiscal year. The amendment also provides that each governing board authorized to participate in the distribution of money under article III, section 17, may also issue bonds and notes for the purposes of refunding bonds or notes issued under that section or prior law for the purposes of acquiring capital equipment, library books and library materials, paying for acquiring, constructing, or equipping or for major repair or rehabilitation of buildings, facilities, other permanent improvements, or capital equipment used jointly for educational and general activities and for auxiliary enterprises to the extent of their use for educational and general activities. The amendment deletes language in article III, section 17, which authorizes the legislature to designate a single agency to issue such bonds or notes in lieu of the governing bodies, and to transfer to that agency the authority to collect and pledge money to the payment of such bonds and notes as directed by the governing body of each eligible institution. Funds appropriated under article III, section 17, may not be used for the purpose of constructing, equipping, repairing, or rehabilitating buildings or other permanent improvements that are to be used only for student housing, intercollegiate athletics, or auxiliary enterprises.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment relating to the amount and expenditure of certain constitutionally dedicated funding for public institutions of higher education."

PROPOSITION NO. 14 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 45 proposes a constitutional amendment that adds a new subsection (e) to article III, section 49-h, of the Texas Constitution. The new subsection provides that, in addition to the amounts authorized by subsections (a) ($500 million), (c) ($400 million), and (d) ($1.1 billion) of section 49-h, the legislature may authorize the issuance of up to $1 billion in general obligation bonds and may use the proceeds of the bonds for acquiring, constructing, or equipping new corrections institutions, including youth corrections institutions, and mental health and mental retardation institutions and for major repair or renovation of existing facilities of those corrections and mental health and mental retardation facilities. The amendment also provides that the provisions of subsection (a) of section 49-h, relating to the review and approval of bonds, and the provisions of subsection (b) of section 49-h, relating to the status of the bonds as a general obligation of the state and to the manner in which the principal and interest on the bonds are paid, apply to bonds authorized by this amendment.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the issuance of up to $1 billion in general obligation bonds payable from the general revenues of the state for projects relating to facilities of corrections and mental health and mental retardation institutions."

PROPOSITION NO. 15 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 37 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the county commissioners court of a county to call an election to abolish the office of county surveyor. The office of county surveyor is abolished if a majority of voters of the county voting in the election approve the measure. If the office of county surveyor is abolished, the maps, field notes, and other records of the county surveyor are transferred to the county officer or employee designated by the commissioners court.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to permit the voters of a county to decide, at an election called by the commissioners court, whether to abolish the office of county surveyor in the county."

PROPOSITION NO. 16 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 44 proposes an amendment to article III, section 49-(b) of the Texas Constitution, which currently limits the principal amount of bonds outstanding at one time for the Texas agricultural fund to $25 million and for the rural microenterprise development fund to $5 million. The amendment would raise the principal amount limit for the Texas agricultural fund to $100 million. The amendment would also make the principal amount limit for each fund apply to the total principal amounts of both bonds and notes issued or sold rather than just the principal amounts of bonds outstanding at one time.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing up to a total of $100 million in bonds and notes to be issued or sold to finance the Texas agricultural fund for providing financial assistance to develop, increase, improve, or expand the production, processing, marketing, or export of crops or products grown or produced primarily in this state by agricultural businesses domiciled in the state."

Este es el informe explicativo sobre la enmienda propuesta a la constitución que aparecerá en la boleta el día 2 de noviembre de 1993. PROTECTING OUR WILDLIFE

Wetlands Conservation Saves Wildlife

(NAPS)—Making a splash with many Americans concerned about saving wildlife—as well as our health and our economy—is a plan to preserve our wetlands. Wetlands—marshes and swamps—are the single most productive source of life on earth, ecologists agree. Perhaps no other single natural resource provides us with so many benefits:
• Cleaner water in lakes and rivers.
• Drinking water, thanks to recharged groundwater.
• Protection from flooding and soil erosion.
• Commercial and recreational swimming.
• Boating, swimming and other outdoor sports.
• Habitat for 600 wildlife species, many endangered.
Unfortunately, for the past 200 years, laws and policies which encouraged filling and draining wetland areas caused the
