OPEN LETTER TO MOTHER

MRS. C. E. HAHN

Dear Mom:

You and thousands of other mothers will be getting gifts and letters from their sons today... letters that can express but a tiny bit of the love we have for our Mothers. You have gone thru lots of trouble for your kids... the time you sat all day holding Hugh with his head crushed by the coil... the time the War Department listed Loren as killed in action... dozens of times that we were sick... there's no way we can repay you for the things you've done for us --- but we'll never forget.

Your son, Roy
(Speaking for millions of American Sons)

LETTER SHOWS WORLEY IS "ON HIS TOES"

The following letter was received today from Gene Worley, and it is self explaining: Briscoe County News, Silverton, Texas,

Dear Roy:
A few days ago Senator Tom Connally, Judge Marvin Jones, Messrs. Simpson, Hinton, Boyce, and myself, contacted all responsible officials in the entire War Department and urged that a careful survey be made of the entire Panhandle area in an effort to determine if this area or any part of it could possibly be utilized in any kind of a defense location. It was pointed out and pressed by all the delegation that we were interested in such a survey from the viewpoint of the entire area and not for any particular section or individual project or location.

The officials finally consented to make a fair and impartial survey of the entire Panhandle to determine if our section of the country could fit in with their plans. In an effort to be helpful I submitted to the Department officials the names and locations of at least one town in each of the 28 counties in the 18th Congressional District. I have no assurance what ever how long such a survey will require, nor at what point the survey parties will begin or end, but I did want you to have this information for yourself and other citizens of your city who are interested in this matter.

According to my information from the officials in the War Department the location of any particular unit, whether it be can-tonments, air schools, industrial plants, etc., depends upon many factors, but it is my belief that the Panhandle with all its resources can qualify as well as many other sections of the country. We might not get anything at all, but I personally feel a great deal better in making the strongest efforts possible, than I would if we did not take any interest at all.

So far as I am personally concerned I would like to see the representatives of each section of the entire Panhandle cooperate with the officials in the War Department and with one another, and point out every single one of the advantages offered from all sections of the Panhandle area.

I shall continue my efforts at this end and will be glad to comply with any suggestions or requests that I can in an effort to be as helpful as possible.

Sincerely yours,
Gene Worley

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR CHAPPEL BROTHERS

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Chappel honored their two sons, Valton and Wilbur with a birthday party Tuesday evening. Wilbur and his wife are now living at Sudan, Texas.

After playing several games the boys were ushered into the dining room to blow the candles out on their cakes that centered the dining table. One had red candles, and the other green.

Ice cream, cake and punch were served to about fifteen guests who all reported a grand time and a lot of fun.

Rev. Levertt extends an invitation to the public to attend the Mother's Day Service and Program to be held at the Baptist Church Sunday morning.

FOOD DISPLAY SATURDAY IN BURSON BUILDING

Carrying out their campaign of "Better Nutrition", the Women's Clubs, the FSA Office, and the County Agent will have a display of Foods in the Burson Building next door to the Palace Theatre Saturday.

The Nutritional Campaign is nation-wide in its scope, and is a part of the defense work of building stronger men.

At the display good diets will be compared with bad diets with suggestions for raising the general standard of foods.

Some time will also be given to explaining the food stamp plan. Everyone is invited to drop in at the display.

JAKE CARTHEL STILL IN DANGER OF LIFE

The burns received three weeks ago by Lois Carthel, are still endangering his life, according to reports from visitors at the Lubbock Sanitarium, where he is confined.

Badly burned from the waist up, Jake is unable to get any rest and is suffering great pain from the burns on the back. He is reported as "doing as well as can be expected", but is not out of danger by any means.

Carthel was burned while he was welding an empty gasoline barrel.

The Volunteer band of Wayland College is to be here to entertain with a program of music on Saturday night and Sunday at the Calvary Baptist Church. The Public is cordially invited to attend.

Our Nation Is As Strong As Its Workers

FOOD IS STRENGTH

AMERICA can dream that want will disappear. America can hope and live in hope that none will lack the food he needs. We can dream and hope, but we must also work.

We can work. With our lands, and hands, and machines we have built greatly. We have raised from the earth buildings that soar a thousand feet. We have dammed gigantic rivers and made the waters do the work of millions. We have created cities and highways, factories and machines that are the marvel of the world.

We have worked at many things. We must do more. We must work at this job of getting everybody a chance to earn a livelihood that includes the food needs. We must make sure that our farmers, the most abundant producers on earth, will have the help they need to keep on raising food and saving soil. We must make our dollars buy the best and safest meals for all.

This means work. We can start in our own homes. Make food do all the job it can do. Make certain each member of the family gets the food that keeps him strong and well.

We can look at our own communities, discover where meals are poor, why they are poor, how they must be enriched. We must banish low incomes and waste, and abolish monopoly that chokes the flow of foods from farms to homes.

We have the talent to do all this vigorously, persistently, and in the ways of a democratic people.

We have the talent to do all this vigorously, persistently, and in the ways of a democratic people.

We can make America strong by making Americans stronger.

Local Officers Smash Gang Operating "Trailer Cattle Rustling" In Nine Counties

SILVERTON VISITED BY TWISTER --- NEARLY

All Silverton turned out in full force Monday afternoon to watch the approach of a large and dangerous-looking tornado, which finally outskirted the town.

The twister formed northeast of town and approached rapidly with the tail waving dangerously close to earth. It reached down and barely struck the Morton house and the Silverton Gin in the east part of town. Very little damage was done at either place. After outskirting the town it moved on the southwest and apparently arose again. No reports of further damage have been had.

School children were taken from school and had there been storm cellars, most of the folks would have been therein. A storm of that size causes untold damage when it strikes. This was the first one reported for this year in this section.

DAVIS --- STANFORD

Mr. Paul Stanford of Dickens and Miss Vera Davis were married late Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lee in Dickens. After the ceremony they left for Lubbock where they will spend several days with a brother of Mr. Stanford.

Mrs. Stanford is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Davis. She graduated from Silverton High School with the Class of 1937 and from W. T. S. T. C. with the Summer Class of 1940. Since then she has been teaching school in Dickens. The Briscoe County News joins her many friends in wishing her much success and happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Venus Gillespie and Mrs. and Mrs. Maurice Foust attended a farewell party Saturday night in Amarillo, given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Berry of Quitaque. They are moving to California.

AGGIE BRIEFS

By Ray S. McEntire
Secretary Briscoe Co. Committee

Mr. Grover B. Hill will address a meeting of wheat farmers at 2 P. M. Saturday, May 10, 1942, at the City Auditorium in Amarillo. Mr. Hill will discuss the wheat situation with reference to Marketing Quota. This is to be an open meeting wheat farmers are urged to attend; wheat farmers will also speak at this meeting and in view of the importance of Marketing Quota at this time it is hoped that as many farmers as possible will attend.

Mr. Hill will also speak over KGNC from 1:15 to 1:30 P. M. May 10, if you find it impossible to attend the meeting you might wish to listen in on the radio address.

Marketing Quota

A number of producers have been asking questions relative to the Wheat Marketing Quota which is to be voted on May 31, 1941. Numerous rumors have arisen as to the date which the Quota, if voted, will go into effect.

Article 335 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 in part states "... Marketing Quotas for any marketing year shall be in effect with respect to wheat harvest in the calendar year in which such Marketing year begins, notwithstanding that the wheat marketed prior to the beginning of such marketing year..." The law further states that the marketing year begins July 1. From the above portion of the law it would appear that marketing quota, if voted, will be in effect immediately.

1942 Wheat Allotments

During the last two days the county committee have been working on Listing Sheets for the 1942 Wheat Acreage Allotments. Within the next few days the Listing Sheets will be submitted to the State Office for Approval. It is to be expected that the 1942 wheat allotments will be received prior to the preparation of the land for seeding.

WOOL GROWERS TO OPEN STORAGE IN FLOYDADA

Local wool growers of Briscoe, Hale, Swisher, Crosby and Floyd Counties have set up a wool storage house at Floydada for the marketing season. Floyd County Committeemen L. B. Crosby, T. Taylor, A. G. Cardinal and H. D. Meredith have made arrangements with the Mid-West Wool Growers Marketing Cooperative and have placed Mr. Gray Faulkner of Fort Worth in charge of the Floydada Storage Plant to assist wool growers in the marketing of their clip. Mr. Faulkner reports that the building which was formerly used for the bowling alley, located on the west side of the square, offers adequate storage and that wool bags and twine are available to growers.

This association will concentrate and make advances on all wool. It is hoped that local wool growers make themselves available of the association so that a wool market center can be established in this area. Wool growers must remember that June 15th may be the turning point when the division of purchases of the U. S. Government will state publicly, the amounts of wool needed in the defense program for the balance of the year and will also discuss the differential in foreign and domestic wool in an effort to find a fair and reasonable price to the domestic grower, Mr. Faulkner stated.

BASKET DINNER FOR SCOUTERS SUNDAY AT HAYNES CAMP

Boy Scout executives from over this district will meet at the Mammy Haynes Camp northeast of Silverton for a basket dinner and friendly get-together.

All are bringing basket lunches and everyone interested in Scout work in this area is invited.

Following the arrest and conviction of J. C. Hahn and LeRoy Hutchinson of Quitaque in the District Court here last week, for cattle theft, local officers this week have been kept busy unraveling a series of cattle thefts and burglaries dating back in the last part of 1940, and ranging over nine Panhandle counties.

The following are in jail or have bond: J. D. Gafford, Leon Lee Ruby Byrd, Troy Byrd, Doc Collins, Woodrow Collins, Leroyce Collins, Jake Honea, and officers expect to arrest several other persons within a few days.

Leon Lee, Ruby Byrd and J. D. Gafford have confessed to the theft of a cow from Judson Watson west of Quitaque April 16, and also to stealing a cow in Randall County. The cattle were sold in Amarillo and Lubbock. The Watson cow was loaded in a trailer and taken to Amarillo. A trailer was stolen in Canyon and on the way south the three picked up another cow in Canyon and sold her in Lubbock, after which they abandoned the trailer. The cow was traced to California.

Troy Byrd and Doc Collins, in their statements, admitted theft of three cows from Ira and John Bean January 30. The cattle were sold through the auction ring at Vernon. The cows were traced by Jake Honea from Fort Worth to Lawton Oklahoma, back to Vernon, thence to Bowie and then to Fort Worth. The Beans will receive payment from the auction ring.

Collins and Byrd also admitted burglarizing the Phillips 66 warehouse in Floydada March 7th, as well as to four burglaries in Hall County.

Doc Collins also confessed to the theft of a cow in Hall County in December of 1940 from Josh Smith. Confession was also obtained from Woodrow Collins that he had aided in the theft from Smith. This cow was sold by Jake Honea of Dickens County, who has confessed to receiving stolen property. The cow has been returned to its owner.

Doc and Woodrow also confessed to stealing three head of cattle in Dickens County. These were sold at Childress to a known person who will be arrested soon on a charge of receiving stolen property.

Leroyce Collins and Doc Collins confessed to stealing three head of cows from Garland Hill in Hall county in January. These cattle were sold in Vernon.

Leroyce Collins was implicated in the Floydada robbery when he confessed to loaning his car to the other boys and helped in the sale of sixteen cases of motor oil. Several Floyd County men have confessed and been fined for buying the oil.

Woodrow Collins became an accomplice to the theft of the Bean cattle when he loaned his trailer for the purpose of hauling the cows to Vernon.

J. C. Hahn Wednesday confessed to stealing cows from Bryant Brooks in the fall of 1939, and to the theft of two cows from E. W. Sheid about the same time.

While the list of persons arrested in the above cases cannot be classed as exactly a ring, yet they were allied in their crimes and most of the time were working together. It was their knowledge of each other's doings, that enabled Jake Honea to obtain the confessions. The case broke when Troy Byrd realized that he was double-crossed by other members of the gang. After his confession was made, first one and another began to "talk."

Honea and District Attorney Hamilton have worked on the suspects night and day since Byrd was taken into custody May 3rd. They have driven around eight thousand miles, and although there are other angles and leads; in four days, these "country officers" have unravelled one of the biggest crime rings in years.

SHORT CUT

Canada in Wartime

Caught the Toronto Express at Syracuse after a wild drive from Binghamton, N. Y. Five hours after leaving Syracuse, after five interruptions in the night, immigration and customs on either side of the International line, etc., descended in Canada's great city, a bit tired and sleepy.

Canada in war is a lot livelier place than Canada at peace. Streets scream patriotic banners; soldiers, sailors, women in uniform clutter traffic; bands blare all day, planes drone all night. Newspapers are crammed with "news from the Mother Country"; radio stations with reports "from back home."

Toronto's "time" is faster than during peace. The city has its own "war time" like the daylight saving time we have, only two hours faster than the regular time. This is to conserve electricity. They call it "war-saving-time."

Shops are even more war-like than the streets; display apparel for those in the nation's armed forces, such as shirts, socks, shoes, sweaters, underwear and helmets. The underwear, incidentally, is no longer two-piece because the British army requires its soldiers to wear combinations. Art stores sell maps, technical army books, compasses, altimeters, flags, drawing boards, heavy crayons.

Quite as many women as men are in uniform on the streets. They're jaunty-looking. Dozens of different outfits flourish, among them the C.D.F. (Canadian Defense force), the C.A.T.S. (Civilian Auxiliary Territorial service) and the C.R.C. (Canadian Red Cross). The C.D.F. has approximately 800 members in Toronto alone. They drive staff cars, and the "brass hats" as visiting officials are called. The C.A.T.S. is headed by Ivy Mason, a well-known spinster who teaches how to shoot down parachutists, cook, darn socks, sew on soldiers buttons and to camouflage helmets with paint. The C.R.C. admittedly does the best all around work. There are 9,000 separate Red Cross sewing units in Canada today. Their particular job is reconditioning clothes worn by soldiers in training, and making thousands of diapers, washcloths, and clothes for youngsters for their British sisters whose homes have been wiped out. During the past six months the Toronto division of the Red Cross has sent to London 42 ambulances and more than 20,000 blankets. Lady Reading distributes these gifts when they reach England. Hundreds of thousands of women in England work similarly. Many of them fly planes between airports and factories bringing in vital plane parts, and arranging new billets for evacuees. All cooking and sweeping in English cantonments is done by W.A.C.C. (Women's Auxiliary Civilian corps).

Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal, and Quebec are surrounded by scores of barracks, training centers, airports, camps and prison camps. There are nearly 100,000 Germans in Canadian prison camps today! Young draftees used to guard them, but escapes became too frequent, so old soldiers from the last war were stationed there instead. In one of the biggest prison camps the German officers recently struck because they were forced to eat at the same table as the enlisted men. Against the violent protests of many thousands of Canadians, the Canadian government decided to humor the prisoners and gave them their own army mess. This babying of the Nazis is the cause of much dissatisfaction on the part of the man in the street. He wants them to be put to work building highways, sewers, airports, dams and canals.

A couple of huge camps have become show places of Toronto lately. One of them is called "Little Norway." Here several thousand Norwegian youths are being trained by the R.C.A.F. (Royal Canadian Air Force). Across a hundred yards or so of water they have their own airport on an island. They own their own training and fighting planes, pay their soldiers in their own currency. These men are out for blood. Their private motto is "Take no Prisoners."

Thousands of young American boys are serving in the R.C.A.F. today. Some people told me the figure reached 15,000. They come from all parts of the United States, most of them hitchhiking. They are protected by wartime secrecy, and almost all of them are given the job of either training pilots, or working as part of the ground crews.

HEARING THINGS: The open frankness with which Canadians criticize their prime minister and their government! The number of escaped German prisoners still at large! That it takes only five hours and ten minutes to fly from Canadian territory to England today, and that an average of five planes a day are traveling across. The announcement of the death of the father of "Lord Haw Haw" in England! These things could only happen in a real democracy.

Text—Deuteronomy 6:4-7:10. Text—Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old he will not depart from it.—Proverbs 22:6

Responsibility of the home rearing is primarily that of the parents. It is their duty to place for children to understand proper principles of living. That means that the child should be a Christian home, where parents follow Christ in their own lives.

... JUST LIKE MOTHER USED TO MAKE! (See Recipes Below)

IT WAS WONDERFUL FOOD!

Remember flying home, pigtailed thumping, to smell supper, and guess? Remember being saucer-eyed as mother's marble cake took a blue ribbon at the fair? And remember licking the last bit of sweetness from the frosting platter?

I know you must remember. How could you forget? It was wonderful food! And it's to the best cooks in the world — our mothers — that this week's column is dedicated.

In those days, to be caught without plenty of food, and good food, too, for all comers was to show oneself a poor housekeeper, a bad hand in the kitchen.

But times have changed. A large "crook" of butter, a "basket" of eggs, and a "wedge" of these are no longer a part of the regular supplies on the shelf in the vegetable cellar.

So, whether it be crusty brown doughnuts, chicken pie and jelly roll, huge, fluffy cakes, or rich chocolate pie, let's take mother back, down memory lane!

Lovely to look at and utterly delightful to eat is the Sour Cream Devil's Food Cake, which I'm sure was a favorite of grandmother's.

Sour Cream Devil's Food Cake. 2 cups sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup butter or other shortening, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 egg, unbeaten, 3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 cup thick sour cream, 1/4 cup sweet milk.

Sift flour once, measure, add soda and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together well.

Spread Felicity Frosting on top and sides of cake. Top with glossy...

LYNN SAYS: In an old book of household advice, written in 1879, are some words of wisdom "to help homemakers."

"Use a clam shell to scrape skillets or saucapans; to scour your iron pots and griddles, use wood ashes."

"Sweeping a carpet with new fallen snow will make it look very bright and fresh. Also, it is a good plan to save tea leaves, and, with them not too moist, sweep a dark carpet. This is not advised for light colors."

"Woodwork may be dusted with a long-feathered wing, preferably that of a turkey."

chocolate coating, made by combining 1 square unsweetened chocolate, melted, 1/4 cup sugar, and 1/4 cup water. Cook over low flame until smooth and thick. Cool slightly. Double the recipe for three 10-inch layers.

Felicity Frosting. 2 egg whites, unbeaten, 2 cups brown sugar, firmly packed, Dash of salt, 7 tablespoons water. Combine egg whites, sugar, salt and water in top of double boiler, beating with rotary egg beater until thoroughly mixed.

Fig Oatles. Boil 5 minutes in water to cover: 1 1/2 cups dried figs. Drain, clip stems and cut figs into thin strips (scissors are handy). Cream together: 1 cup butter, 2 cups beet or cane sugar.

Crackers Made With Yeast. 1/2 package granular yeast, 1 pint warm water, 1 1/2 quarts flour, 1 tablespoon salt, 1/4 cup sour milk, 1/2 cup shortening, 1 teaspoon soda.

Set sponge of yeast, water and flour at night. In the morning add the other ingredients and flour to stiffen very stiff. Pound with rolling pin. Fold over and pound again.

Place on a lightly floured board and punch holes on top with a fork. In ungreased pans and bake in a 400-degree F. oven. These are inexpensive and very good!

During the next few months there will be a virtual parade of film players to the Latin-American countries. Spencer Tracy and Eleanor Powell are slated for good-will visits; Douglas Fairbanks Jr. will be a sort of good-will ambassador, and Marsha Hunt plans on spending six weeks in South America after she's finished "Blossoms in the Dust."

"Citizen Kane," Orson Welles' first RKO Radio production, aroused plenty of controversy long before it was released, and will be one of those pictures that people will argue about years after they've seen it.

The first day she appeared on the "Manpower" set Marlene Dietrich announced that she'd take whatever punishment the script asked George Raft to hand her. That included his slapping her twice across the face, knocking her down a flight of stairs, then leaping after her and hitting her across the mouth with the back of his hand.

But George hit her harder than he intended. Marlene tumbled down the stairs (as per script), but wound up by severely spraining her ankle (which the script did not call for!).

Two more well known stage and screen players—Martha Sleeper and William Harrigan—have joined the cast of "We Are Always Young," Mutual chain's star-studded serial. That cast probably includes more "name" actors than any other serial on the air.

Andy Hardy's own, a squadron of RAF fighters, will soon take to the air. Mickey Rooney, the Hardy series "Andy," received a letter the other day from a young RAF flier who wrote "We're all young fellows in this squadron and we all think you're an o. k. sort of lad, so we've nicknamed our squadron (soon to see action) for you."

Stirling Hayward lost Madeleine Carroll in "Virginia," but he's slated to win her in "Dildo Cay." As originally planned, it was Dorothy Lamour whom he was to win, but she will be unable to finish her current assignment in "Aloma of the South Seas" in time to appear in the picture.

Star Dust STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

TWO April weddings in the Hollywood movie colony are still topics for conversation, one because it was so conventional, for Hollywood, the other because it was so unusual for that colony and just the accepted thing anywhere else.

The Yuma marriage of Constance Bennett and Gilbert Roland was Hollywoodian. It was Miss Bennett's fourth marriage, they drove to Yuma by themselves and the clergyman had to supply witnesses. The other, Deanna Durbin's marriage to Vaughn Paul, was a big church wedding, very beautiful, and motion picture stars who were friends of the bride and groom were invited but not featured as part of the performance.

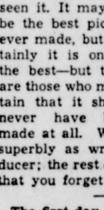

Rudy Vallee is ready to chuck his career and undertake a new one at the drop of a megaphone. Now appearing in Columbia's musical picture, "Time Out for Rhythm," with Ann Miller, Rosemary Lane and Allen Jenkins, he's ready to drop acting and singing if he can get a chance to direct pictures.

Stirling Hayward lost Madeleine Carroll in "Virginia," but he's slated to win her in "Dildo Cay." As originally planned, it was Dorothy Lamour whom he was to win, but she will be unable to finish her current assignment in "Aloma of the South Seas" in time to appear in the picture.

ODDS AND ENDS—Mutual's news analyst, W. H. Williams, is sponsored on more stations than any fellow analyst—has 100 stations... CTOR WARNS AGAINST HARMFUL "SPEED-UP"

The term speed-up repeatedly heard these days in connection with defense production. Under the present international pressure speed with which defense units are manufactured in this country is almost phenomenal. However, an acceleration in mass production of war and allied material is one thing, and the persistent high-speed living indulged in by thousands is a different matter." states Dr. George W. Cox state health officer.

"Hard work in itself is seldom harmful. The physical and mental breakdowns, which in ever increasing numbers are being sent to the attention of physicians, usually occur in men and women who are far removed from the exertions of an assembly-line. The recruits for shattered nerves are generally from those who do not lead physically strenuous lives. Habits which tend to devitalize plus misdirected use of leisure time represent the background for the majority of physical and mental crack-ups. In many cases, where the consequences are less pronounced, supreme vitality has surrendered to false conception of the value of high-pressure practices upon nature frowns.

"This speed-up which results in habitually robbing one's self of the required amount of sleep each night, which demands the stimulation of the excessive use of stimulants of any kind, which involves whipping up the nerves by constant excitement, and which consequently refuses to recognize the reconstruction and health-building advantages of out-door exercise and relaxation, can and frequently does end in serious and sometimes in permanent physical trouble. It is a scientific fact that over living man's capacity is a definite predicate for high blood pressure and other ills of advanced life. That these effects of ill-advised living usually take time to assert themselves definitely, perhaps is one of the real reasons for many persons to continue half-blissfully on their merry way.

"Quite aside from the personal responsibility to one's self in the development and maintenance of maximum health, is the added obligation in these uncertain days to conserve physical resources for whatever may be ahead.

"It follows that, however proud the United States and Texas may be of its high speed productive capacity, there is a patriotic duty for everyone to review his or her customary daily life, discover if any of the habitual speedy practices are affecting one's maximum health possibilities, and eliminate those which violate nature's basic laws.

they need. And we must learn more about food values for vigor and health. The food stamp plan and the school lunch program are channeling large quantities of nutritious foods to low-income consumers and raising their dietary standards. These programs should be supported by everyone.

Preparing meals for the family table is in too many homes, a hit-or-miss proposition, founded on solid, filling items rather than on balanced diet needs. Foods should be selected with more attention to their nutritive values, as well as quality and economy. Essential requirements in minerals and vitamins should be learned.

Methods of food preparations which conserve essential nutritive values and help to avoid waste should be learned. More familiarity with alternative foods is necessary so that high-priced items in the diet may be replaced with substitutes. (tomatoes for oranges during season when oranges are expensive) We should acquaint ourselves with the least expensive sources of energy foods and with healthful eating habits so that the most may be had and enjoyed from our food dollar.

Morris Sheppard's in support of Roosevelt, against appeasement and in defiance of dictators and everything for which they stand." The rising young statesman made completely plain his stand upon both the capital and the labor issue in the current crisis.

Firmly and without equivocation he declared that there must be no more strikes by minority groups and cliques on either side during the danger period.

"It has been said the right to strike, being a part of our peacetime social advancement may, under no circumstances, be questioned by any citizen. As one citizen, I do question the right in 1941 of unrestricted license for capital, government, labor or farmer, to strike.

"All for one and one for all once rallied Thirteen States fighting for freedom."

Moving to Texas and economic problems, Johnson made plain his views.

"We want to see a Texas where no one is hungry and none is ill-clothed," he declared.

"We want to see a Texas where every farm home is electrified where farm power rates are reduced twenty-five per cent, where the farmer's interest rate is three per cent. An agricultural and industrial Texas must prosper because we have rid ourselves of discrimination freight rates, rates strangling our Southland. I want full parity price for our farmers."

"Old pioneer Texans built this state. They gave their lives, their sweat, their tears—even their blood—to make it the greatest state in the Union. I am in favor of a nation-wide old-age pension system, beginning at sixty instead of sixty-five, paying enough so our senior citizens can live decently, by American standards."

Johnson strongly opposed socialized medicine, and favored opportunity for every Hexas boy and girl, rich or poor to go to school, to work for an education. I want jobs for them when they are ready for them." He told, too, of his work in handling veterans cases.

Johnson struck hard at subversive influences.

Best of management brains in defense positions was strangely urged by Johnson in recommending they be drafted by the nation.

He also urged that the distribution of defense work to a few firms be stopped and that it be spread into firms all over the country to make surer and faster.

Johnson, who has carried to success, the L.C.R.A program of developing the Colorado in Texas pledged his aid to helping other water conservation projects in the state in a like manner.

He likewise declared his promise to stand for retention of the community property laws.

Pointing to the importance of religious freedom, Johnson pledged his efforts against any undermining of religion or of persecution of any creed.

Likewise, he recognized the problems of the young men of the state drafted into army service pledging that they should have the best of equipment and of materials and that the problem of getting them jobs on their return to private life would be his.

Pleading for all out support of the President in Texas, Johnson urged his listeners to join him in his battle for the senate and unity of the country behind Roosevelt's leadership.

THE HOMEMAKER AND NATIONAL DEFENSE

As homemaker, as purchasing agents for their families, as guardians of our children, women face great responsibilities in the program to defend our national security.

Within the home, much can be done to raise national levels by improved nutrition practices. Millions of our people are undernourished because they must severely limit the amount of money they can spend for food. In countless other homes malnutrition results because families are not eating the proper foods for health and strength. These shortcomings exact a stupendous toll in susceptibility to illness, in sluggishness, weariness, and physical ailments.

We are more fortunate than any other nation on earth in our enormous food resources and our food production capacity. With more efficient distribution we could provide adequate diets for all our people. It seems the sad truth is that we are not managing properly. Our farmers are faced with large surpluses; many of our people who need this food are not able to buy it. Even if the consumers demand for these surpluses were made effective, we would still have a food job to do. Department of Agriculture nutrition experts estimate that if everyone in the country were eating a proper diet, we would need 20% more milk, 15% more butter, 35% more eggs, 70% more tomatoes and citrus fruits, 100% more leafy green and yellow vegetables.

We have a two-fold job on the nutrition front. The distribution dams need to be opened, giving more people access to the foods

JOHNSON CALLS FOR SOLID BACKING FOR ROOSEVELT

Senate Candidate Has Roaring Opening—Hits Campaign Trail Hard

With a rousing Campaign opening speech behind him, energetic, fast moving Congressman Lyndon Johnson, this week had hit the campaign trail full blast with a whirlwind tour of the state to meet supporters and campaign workers.

Johnson opened his campaign Saturday night at San Marcos before a crowd of thousands that time after time roared full approval of his firm stand for unity of all Americans behind President Roosevelt in the current grave international crisis.

From every section of the state to his opening came friends—new ones and old ones—to San Marcos, where in his college days Johnson worked at jobs from janitor to secretary to the college president to pay for his education.

Among them was Federal Judge James V. Allred, former governor, and an old friend of Johnson and Mrs. Allred, once his classmate.

Speakers from the five major sections of Texas bespoke the support of their areas for Johnson and their faith that his experience and dependability in the national congress would carry him on to victory.

Johnson, who announced his candidacy from the White House steps with the endorsement of President Roosevelt as an "old and close friend" pitched the theme of his opening address on the vital necessity of an all out effort by Americans for national defense and democracy and upon unified support of the President and his country's foreign policies. Johnson, who like the late Sen. Sheppard, has been a staunch backer in Congress of President Roosevelt and his domestic and foreign policies, paid tribute to the late Senator and recounted how he, as a member of the naval affairs committee in the House, has had experience comparable to that of Sheppard as chairman of the military affairs committee in the Senate.

"Texans must determine", he declared, "whether their new voice will join the voice of Taft and Vandenberg or ring out with them need. And we must learn more about food values for vigor and health. The food stamp plan and the school lunch program are channeling large quantities of nutritious foods to low-income consumers and raising their dietary standards. These programs should be supported by everyone.

A couple of bad eggs... but why blame the hen?

A bad egg does turn up once in a while... but that's not a sensible reason for destroying all the good eggs... or for taking it out on the hen.

Beer retailing in America is something like that. The vast majority of beer retail establishments are clean, law-abiding, wholesome places. And still there may be a few "bad egg" retailers who violate the law or permit anti-social conditions.

The brewing industry wants these undesirables eliminated entirely... to protect your right to drink good beer... and our right to make it.

And also to protect the many benefits brought by the beer industry to Texas... such as the 31,165 jobs created... and beer's $22,076,182 annual payroll. Beer contributed $2,273,968.64 last year in taxes to help pay the cost of government in this state.

You can help us in our program of law enforcement, if you will, by (1) patronizing only the legal and reputable places that sell beer and (2) by reporting any abuses to the proper law enforcement authorities.

THIRTY DIE FROM IMPROPER USE OF GAS

The improper use of gasoline and kerosene has already resulted in 30 Texas deaths in 1941, Marvin Hall, state fire insurance commissioner, warned today.

Strating or quickening fire with kerosene alone accounted for 15 of the deaths, while two housewives lost their lives in January and February cleaning clothes with gasoline.

Commissioner Hall pointed out that it is suicidal for any person to attempt to use gasoline in the home for such purposes as: starting or quickening a fire, cleaning clothes, woodwork and floors or other purposes, since gasoline vaporizes at ordinary temperature and the inflammability of gasoline fumes and its explosive power is nineteen times greater than dynamite. The mere opening of a door between the room where gasoline was being used to clean gloves and a room in which there was a lighted hot water heater caused a destructive explosion.

A further warning was stressed by the state fire insurance commissioner in the use of kerosene, improper use of which in quickening fires caused during the first two months of 1941 the deaths of six Texas children. Mr. Hall said that kerosene was not intended for use to start or quicken a fire and persons who attempt to use it for this purpose is endangering the lives of his family and neighbors. If there are some home owners who will not heed the warning against the danger of using kerosene to start or quicken a fire and just must do so, it is suggested that they place some small pieces of kindling and then take the kindling and place it in the stove or fire place and apply a lighted match to it, but never bring kerosene in contact with a lighted match, open flames or slumbering coals in the stove or fireplace.

WHY IMITATE FAILURE

For nearly a quarter of a century, smart boys and girls who write books and deliver lectures, have been telling us of the great things to be expected from Soviet Russia. It was to be a worker's paradise. The capitalistic system was destroyed. The government became supreme, and the individual was a pawn of the state.

A quarter of a century is a long time. But if one can believe the record, results in Russia have been in reverse, rather than forward.

The principal idea of Russian communism is that government should own all means of production and distribution—all natural resources were taken from private enterprise and left to government to develop. Russia seized everything from private individuals. What has been the result? Want, starvation, stagnation, terrorism.

And, yet, in our own country, with Russia as an example to go by, we have those who would do, slyly and gradually, what was done in Russia ruthlessly and at one bold stroke. Government ownership, instead of fair and reasonable government regulation of private activities, is being promoted here in a subtle manner by tying up natural resources to the exclusion of their development by private enterprise. It's all done in the name of the dear people, the same as it was done in Russia. As officialism gains control, individual opportunity disappears.

Russia had its five-year and its ten-year program of electric power socialization. Witness the progress that same kind of a program has made in this country. Apparently the field is being prepared to widen the net including other natural resource industries.

If we are to learn anything from the object lesson of Russia, it should be to scrutinize all the laws of this land and discover to what extent our country is being influenced by Soviet ideas.

FARM CROPS MUST BE STABILIZED

"With War, the Nation's number one problem, staring us in the face, it is also important that we stop to consider problem number two: the stabilization of farm crop prices," declared Commissioner J. E. McDonald in a conference today with Representative Bill Chambers, Brownwood, Chairman of the House Agricultural Committee.

"Perhaps," said Mr. McDonald, "the public does not fully realize the seriousness of our unstabilized farm crop prices. Records show that hog prices fluctuated more than 25% in the short period of 31 months. On August 10, 1939, the Fort Worth market on hogs was $12.60; April 6, 1940, the price was $4.90. Cotton prices range about 70% of parity, and other major farm crops are also below parity price. No business can stand such disparity or fluctuations with out bankruptcy. The many hog breeders who went bankrupt during the 1937-40 period, and the thousands of Texas farmers on relief rolls today, are concrete evidence of conditions that Congress must recognize."

"Any type of government compulsory acreage control," the Commissioner told Chairman Chambers "is impractical and can never stabilize agriculture. The farmer's initiative must not be destroyed. His government must guarantee him parity prices on domestic consumption and leave him free to produce or form markets at world market prices."

"When this madness we refer to as 'war' is over," he said, "the warring nations will be bankrupt and they will struggle to become self-sufficient, curtailing imports, and the United States will have to depend more and more on home markets. After all, the American market is the greatest market on earth, and if the farmers can be guaranteed this market, and parity prices, they will have purchasing power with which to support other essential industries and organized labor."

HIGHWAY DEATHS INCREASING

Texas is piling increase upon increase in traffic deaths, Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., State Police director, said today.

Following upon an 11 percent increase in fatalities last year, January 1941 established a record peak of 161 deaths or that month, Colonel Garrison said, with a 32 percent increase in highway fatalities.

Cities decreased deaths by 8 for a 16.7 percent improvement, and county roads saw 2 less persons die for a decrease of 11.8 percent from January a year ago.

Increases were recorded in cities of less than 2,500 population up 1 death for a 9.1 percent increase, and on highways, up 23 deaths for a gain of 32.4 percent.

The over-all increase for the entire state was 14 deaths, or 9.5 percent.

"The increase in highway fatalities," Colonel Garrison said, "we attribute to a general tendency toward faster, less cautious driving—a direct result of national unrest—and to congestion adjacent to areas of defense construction."

"There were 18 deaths in January directly connected with defense activities. The victims were nine soldiers, one sailor, and eight civilians associated with defense projects. If it had not been for these deaths, 15 of which occurred on highways, the state would have shown a slight decrease in fatalities.

"The Highway Patrol is concentrating its efforts on defense areas and making surveys to determine the most advantageous procedure. We are hoping for the best."

SOCIAL SECURITY CLAIMS SHOULD BE FILED PROMPTLY

Person 65 years of age or over who may be entitled to Federal old-age insurance should immediately communicate with the nearest Social Security Board office when they are separated from their jobs, Dewey Reed, manager of the Amarillo office of the Board said today. "Otherwise," the statement continued, "they may lose benefits merely because of their delay in filing a claim. This applies to all persons who have been working in employment covered by the Social Security Act for a sufficient period of time to qualify for benefits."

It was explained that old-age insurance payments are not retroactive; payments cannot begin prior to the month in which a claim is filed. For instance, a person aged 65 or older who was separated from work on January 1, 1941, but who files his claim in March, will receive benefits beginning with the month of March. He loses the benefits he would have received in January and February had he filed his claim in January.

Reed explained further that an individual eligible for old-age insurance payments does not have to be retired permanently in order to receive such benefits upon reaching 65, but he may receive them monthly in which he does not earn as much as $15.00 in covered wages, even though he is receiving unemployment insurance and plans to return to work later.

Summer or winter, chickens seek protection from wind and sun. Tamarix, desert willow, lilac, Russian mulberry, and other shrubs add to the comfort of poultry.

FAR AS I CAN SEE, ALL REFRIGERATORS ARE ABOUT ALIKE THESE DAYS.

THAT'S WHAT WE THOUGHT—UNTIL WE LEARNED ABOUT THE GAS REFRIGERATOR.

NO MOVING PARTS—EH? THAT MEANS IT CAN'T HAVE A NOISE, NO MATTER HOW LONG IT RUNS, DOESN'T IT?

IT'S THE ONLY ONE WITH NO MOVING PARTS IN ITS FREEZING SYSTEM. AFTER THE NOISE AND REPAIRS OF OUR OLD 'AUTOMATIC'—THAT SOUNDED TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE.

YES; SINCE SERVEL'S FREE FROM WEAR, ITS LOW OPERATING COST ISN'T INCREASED WITH USE. ACTUALLY, OURS HAS SAVED ENOUGH TO PAY FOR ITSELF.

WHAT DO YOU THINK, TOM?

THAT'S GOOD ENOUGH FOR ME. FROM WHAT YOU TELL ME OF THE ADVANTAGES OF FREEZING WITH NO MOVING PARTS, I THINK IT'S TIME IRENE AND I CHANGED TO SERVEL.

MIND IF WE DROP OVER TONIGHT AND TAKE A LOOK?

...AND IN ADDITION TO ALL THAT, IT'S THE MOST BEAUTIFUL AND CONVENIENT REFRIGERATOR YOU'VE EVER SEEN. JUST LOOK AT ALL THAT ROOM!

EVERY YEAR, more and more people who've had experience with other makes are changing to Servel Electrolux. They know the Gas Refrigerator "stays silent... last longer"—because its freezing system has no moving parts to wear or make a noise.

Billions of barrels of Texas oil reserves money in the bank for you as a Texan.

On constant deposit in underground vaults they assure continued wages for Texas workers, lease and royalty payments for Texas farmers and ranchers, and tax revenues for our State and local governments.

Nearly 11 billion barrels of known reserves are on tap in 161 counties of our State. Texas oil men are now searching for new fields in 90 additional counties. They discovered last year almost three times as much oil as they produced.

These oil reserves can be cashed only through their production and processing by Texas workers.

As a means of safeguarding this backlog economic security, you as a Texas citizen can and should expect:

(a) Sound conservation practices, (b) A reasonable land policy by State and local governments to permit healthy development without loss of employment through abandonment of properties, (c) Increased use of this great land source through creation of new Texas industries.

SURPLUS FOODS FOR MAY

Fresh onions have been eliminated from the list of surplus foods available during May to Texas families benefitting from the food stamp plan.

This means the May list of commodities which can be obtained with blue food order stamps includes: Fresh grapefruit, oranges, apples, carrots, Irish potatoes, butter, raisins, pork lard, all pork (except that cooked or packed in metal or glass containers), corn meal, shell eggs, dried prunes, hominy (corn) grits, dry edible beans, wheat flour, and whole (Graham) flour.

In announcing the May list, Surplus Marketing Administration officials said that the blue food order stamps were responsible for the moving of foods valued at $335,399 in Texas, during March. In addition the 47,254 participants in the plan maintained their regular purchases of food stuffs by buying $452,010 worth of orange stamps during the month.

Pork products continued to take about one-third of the free blue stamps issued by the government. Nearly a half million pounds of pork valued at $68,362 and nearly a half million pounds of pork lard worth $36,250 were purchased with the stamps.

Surplus commodities moved included 67,470 pounds of butter valued at $23,062; 152,375 dozen eggs valued at $26,762; 2,133,192 pounds of white flour valued at

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS By Edward C. Wayne

U. S. Extends Its Neutrality Patrol To Protect 'Aid-to-Britain' Shipments; Germans Drive British From Greece; Lindbergh Resigns Air Corps Post

EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

U. S. ATTITUDE: Toward War

In this country the reaction to the loss of the Greek campaign was sharp.

The forces of the isolationists immediately took to the air, held a giant mass-meeting in New York, which was marked by violence outside the hall, and, paced by Charles A. Lindbergh, took an "I told you so" attitude, urging the nation to believe that British defeat of the Nazis was not only impossible, but that British loss of the war was a certainty, and that if America gave "all-out" aid to Britain that we, too, would suffer through this defeat.

President Roosevelt, frankly infuriated by this attitude and these utterances, had Secretary Hull and Secretary Knox take to the radio and prepare the way for a statement by the President which ripped the "defeatists" up the back, and made it plain that the government would have none of this attitude.

The administration, they said, was frankly committed to "all-out" aid to Britain, and would go its way toward this goal. Instead of retrenching on this policy, as urged by the Lindbergh coterie, it was boldly announced that the government would extend its aid still more vigorously.

Singling out Lindbergh especially for administration ire, the President, in a press conference, characterized him as an "appenser" and "defeatist" and used the word "copperhead" in making a comparison with earlier days in American history.

Aftermath of the President's remarks regarding Lindbergh was the news that he announced his resignation.

CHARLES A. LINDBERGH He "took the air."

tion as a colonel in the U. S. army air corps reserve. He said he was "greatly disturbed" at the implications made by the President regarding his loyalty toward the United States. He had been an officer in the reserve air corps since 1927, year of historic flight to Paris.

PATROL: Extended

The navy, said the President, now was engaged in extending the neutrality patrol 1,000 miles out into the Atlantic, and that its protection to American shipping, especially to vessels carrying aid to Britain, would know no boundaries on the seven seas.

This brought the question of convoys out into the open, which the President had simply leaped over in his statement, taking the stand that discussion of convoys was beside the point, as he considered it the navy's job to keep the waters 1,000 miles off the American coast safe for all shipping.

At the same time he made the rather cryptic statement that he had information that the Nazis already were setting foot on Greenland and that the United States would deal with this phase of the situation, which indeed brought the war mighty close to this country.

In the meantime newspapers took another poll of the senate on the question of convoys, and found that body to be in favor of convoying supplies to Britain, though only by a vote of 50 to 45. If convoying meant active participation in the war, as many claimed, the informal canvass of the senate showed the temper of congress, at any rate.

Included in the tentative list opposed to convoying were 23 of the senate's 28 Republican members. The only official act connected with the subject of convoying was the Tolley resolution, and they were seen as supporters of this measure. Adding to this the non-intervention Democrats, and some other scattering votes, and Tolley's resolution, which would forbid convoying, could only look for 45 votes.

The Tolley move, however, was not considered so vital by some senators, these holding that President

SECRETARY OF NAVY KNOX He "took TO the air."

Roosevelt's executive power as navy head would permit him to put a convoy plan into effect by executive order, with no sanction by the senate or house asked or needed.

GREEKS: 'Out'

Closing days of the Greek campaign were stirring. The British made a noble stand of three to four days at Thermopylae pass, historic rendezvous with heroism of Leonidas in ancient days, only to lose the pass after heroic resistance and after inflicting admittedly heavy casualties on the invading Nazi hordes.

The second great stand was made on Mount Geranea, the British high command, after a careful advance study of the terrain, finding places to defend that the Germans had claimed were impossible.

There was hardly a question even in British and Greek circles of making a successful stand, but the valiant Australian and New Zealand soldiers fought a rear-guard action that military men said would live in history.

Main objective of the British, after the port of Piraeus was shown to be impossible as an evacuation port, was to gain the southern portions of Greece and make the final stand on Crete and other islands.

The flight of the government from Athens prepared the Greek people for the eventual occupation of the historic capital by the Nazis. Yet the Greeks, with unswerving devotion to their cause, seemed not dismayed by the loss of their capital, but seemed willing to fight on to the end, as did the British.

Churchill had prepared the British for the bad news of the Greek campaign, and toward the close Athens dispatches frankly admitted that the final stages of the fighting were simply rear-guard actions.

While there was again raised in England among the people the cry of "too little and too late," the people of Australia seemed little inclined to criticize, but on the other hand seemed proud of the achievement of their armies.

The loss of the Greek campaign was more of a shock to those in the United States who had been hoping that American aid through the lend-lease bill might turn the battle.

Yet from more considered sources came the word that the Greek defense should not be viewed in that light, but rather from the standpoint of a general harassing and delaying action against Germany.

The cost to the Nazis of having to transport food and men and munitions for the final weeks almost entirely by plane must have been enormous in fuel alone, which Germany was unable to spare.

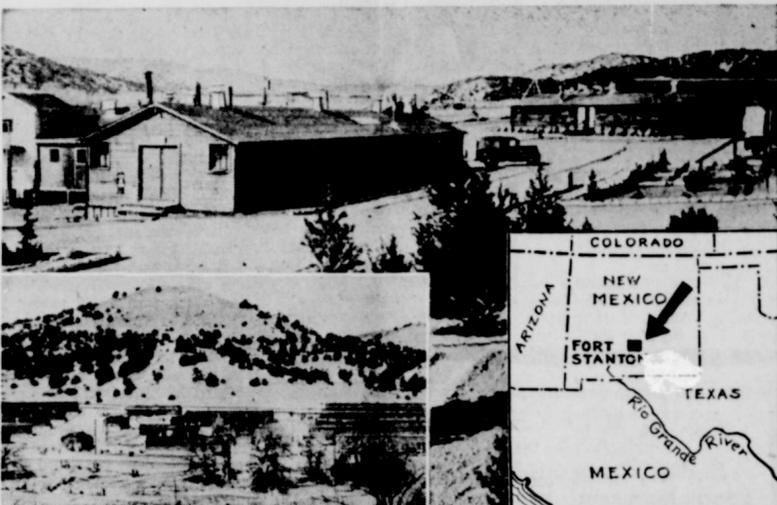

The surprise expressed by King George of Greece at the sudden surrender of the army of Epirus which precipitated the close of the Nazi-Greek campaign and just preceded the flight of the government to Crete caused the commanders later to tell part of the story.

Rural Boys 'Make Good' As President's Advisers

Harry Hopkins and Leon Henderson Have FDR's Confidence in Policies Vital to U. S. Welfare.

By BAUKHAGE National Farm and Home Hour Commentator.

(WNU Service, 1343 H Street N. W., Washington, D. C.)

WASHINGTON.—America faces its second crisis under Roosevelt. Whether America knows it or not—and by the time this reaches print—the last doubt may be removed—the President knows it now. The first crisis was the peak of the economic panic. The present one is the valley of allied fortunes.

The WPA and the NRA were two of the institutions which the President created to meet our economic problems in 1933. Since then many an outstanding member of the New Deal palace guard has had his hour to strut and fret upon the stage and then be heard no more. General Johnson and his blue eagle—now a mere columnist; Donald Richberg, his successor, back with his law books; the professors, Raymond Moley, once in the state department, in the seat behind an editorial desk in the seat of the scorpion, and Rexford Guy Tugwell, still loyal, but silent, a partner of industry. We might go on.

But two men, one a veteran of NRA, another of WPA, have been chosen to sit at the right and left hands of the Chief in crisis II: Harry Hopkins, head of the program under the lend-lease law, and Leon Henderson, officer of price administration and civilian supply.

The two men are alike in few characteristics except that both were poor farm boys, and neither a New Deal slant on life, and neither has much interest in the art of a Fifth avenue tailor.

There is no doubt that the defense program, if we must still use that euphemistic label for this anything but negative undertaking, has passed out of the joint power of the dollar-a-year men and into control of these two staunch supporters of the Roosevelt administration.

The rise of Harry Hopkins' influence has been steady, interrupted only by periods of ill-health. His relationship with the President started from a sympathy of viewpoint concerning the duty of government toward its underprivileged. It has grown into an intimate friendship, bastioned by propinquity that comes from sharing the same roof-tree and many leisure hours, before nine in the morning and after six at night, since May of last year.

That was when Hitler's blitz across the low countries showed the President that the possibility of peaceful intervention in the cause of democracy in Europe was over. In his despair, he called his friend to the White House for a week-end of comfort and counsel. Hopkins has been there ever since.

Perhaps the barefoot boy driving a neighbor's cows up a dusty lane some four decades ago dreamed of the White House—every boy has a chance to be President we know. But how many boys dream of being a President's chief advisor and bossing seven billion dollars' worth of supplies for democracy?

Harry's father was a harness maker. He had a harness shop in Grinnell, Iowa, and it was in Iowa because Mrs. Hopkins was ambitious for her children and there was a college there. Harry earned some nickels and dimes herding cows, and then worked in the shop. Later he worked his way through college. Money never meant much to him. He never handled much of his own. But he has bossed millions for other people—in the Red Cross during the World war, with a citation for the Improvement of Poor in New York, where he knew Governor Roosevelt, and with the relief organization of the federal government.

Hopkins, lean, slight, and counter-grew up with the New Deal. So did Leon Henderson, who reached the inner circle by a roundabout way. He is a dynamic and energetic man, and the confidence of Generalissimo the NRA, as an economist, punctuate his theories with examples that appealed to the President.

When the blue eagle wings, Henderson played fiddle and got out of the way. He was not needed but always ready to bob up when he had a chance to say something. He predicted the "burst" called it—the slump of 1932, he warned against price control, kept warning. Prices went up, he is czar over prices.

Like Hopkins, Henderson's way through college. He, too, the jobs he has held and maturity were all outside the trade and commerce.

These two self-made men see the same dreams of the when they look out of the House windows side by side Hyde Park Square.

Early Morning In a Nation's Capital

Six o'clock in the morning. From a Saturday to a Sunday, buds turned to blossoms, bare branches burst out in green.

In a city, the first rays of this newly spread canopy of life is a strange delight. Nothing quite like it. Last night shut out the harsh, cold steel about you as a dream, shuts out the night from the room.

Washington does not wake. At six in the morning there are few people on the streets, folks you pass seem as if a neighbor you meet on a lane. The red and green lights still have their eyes on and only the yellow bulbs glow at you as you have all night these days the sun is well up as you walk west to east the strikes you square in the eye always reminds me of a town and that always reminds me of how I was reminded of my town when we used to be eastward in the dawn of a French morning when the sun burst on us and made us for the old, wide-brimmed campaign hat instead of the little rag of an overseas cap. You see many campaign hats and

As I came down the street a morning almost-empty bus passed me. I saw a colored man with a pathetic little patch of hair in front of his two-story cottage. The rest of the family were still in the bedroom windows were open, saw an old-fashioned ornate lamp in one.

All rooms seem to be bedecked with Washington. The fine old houses—many of them—and on the morning the windows are open. In an hour thousands of government workers will be hurrying dressing behind carelessly shades, then jamming the empty buses with all the comfort of steers in a cattle car.

Between old, transom-ribbed windows rise the new apartment houses. Here and there are a few sprang into being when 1917 the city with war workers. They are frequently impressive looking on the outside, built to get a French chateau. Inside, little boxes of rooms with low ceilings that the third floor windows hardly see over the sills of the second floor of the residences on door.

But the modern apartments are springing up like dandelions these days do not go in for French cadets. They are the same on the side. Outside, there are light walls with plenty of glass, the entrance is glass. They look much like modern Moscow to my old-fashioned eyes.

BRIEFS . . . By Baukhage

One of the most important factors in settling a strike, according to William H. Davis, vice chairman of the National Defense Mediation board, is public opinion. Both sides know that the people are back of the board.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in U. S. Defense news

Administrator Henderson of the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply requested manufacturers of farm implements not to increase the prices of farm machinery at this time. Mr. Henderson pointed out that in announcing the steel price schedule he had stressed the wide range of finished products of which steel is a part and the importance of maintaining stable prices in these finished products.

Treasury Secretary Morgenthau announced an agreement setting up a fund of $50,000,000, contributed by the U. S., and $20,000,000, contributed by Chinese government banks, to stabilize Chinese currency. A joint statement by Mr. Morgenthau and Dr. T. V. Soong of the Central Bank of China, described the agreement as a "co-operative agreement between friendly nations that are working together in many ways."

INSTALLMENT IV THE STORY SO FAR:

W.N.U. Release

King and Lew Gordon were owners of the vast King-Gordon ranch stretched from Texas to New Mexico. When building up this string of land, they continually had to fight the rapacious Ben Thorpe. Thorpe ri-valued King-Gordon in power and wealth, but he had gained his position through wholesale cattle rustling and gunplay. King outbid Thorpe in an auction of valuable grasslands; the same afternoon he was killed. Bill Roper, King's adopted son, found out that he had been shot down by Thorpe and two aides. Against the strong opposition of Gordon, Bill decided to start a cattle war against Thorpe. Bill went to tell his sweetheart, pretty Jody Gordon, about his plans.

and the southwest outpost of the old Bar-Circle. I want two of the border camps; Willow Crick will do for one, and the Dry Saddle Crossing will do for the other. I want the new Bull Wagon camp, and the K-G horse ranch at Stillwater."

"The brands are going to be terrible mixed up," Gordon said. "I'm only taking such cattle as are running under odd brands; all our regular brands stay with you. I've placed my camps so that your stock can be worked as before. Except maybe the Pot Hook, and we'll come to some special deal—"

Gordon threw his pencil down. "You're not getting anything out of this that anybody can use," he declared.

"Later on I'll know how to use it. The northern camps I want; they'll amount to about the same as the ones I want in Texas."

"It sure sounds to me like you're wanting me to buy you out in cash," Gordon said. "And if that's what's against Ben Thorpe by his own voice was bleak; it could hardly be heard. He was looking at his watch. "We've talked too many times of what couldn't be done, or needed but almost done. I reckon you'll turn to ride, now."

"I'll quit, as he breaks. I'm after Cleve Tanner first, in the Bend; and when I'm through with him, Thorpe won't be able to feed a herd on the trail. Walk Lasham, in the north, they're already hurt for lack of a Crying Wolf—until—"

words were monotonous, but Gordon, bred and born to the Texas plains, knew what a bunch was, and what it meant against Ben Thorpe by his own voice said, "And—what about us?" "I was hoping—I was hoping that way with me."

"I'll take a long time; but I won't take forever. Some day these war clouds will be cleared up. And—if you could see it maybe you'd let me come back to you then."

seemed to be no breath in his voice. "I'm supposed to wait and think well of you, while you hang with the wild bunch in a useless feud that you can't in your mind—I can't do it, Bill. There just ain't the money."

CHAPTER VI
Bill Roper headed south shortly after sunrise. Today Dry Camp would be going east by railroad, beginning the long roundabout way which would bring him to Texas long before Bill. With his camps as a secure base, Pierce was to begin the missionary work which would lay the foundations for Bill Roper's wild bunch.

Lew Gordon had shaken hands with him gravely at his departure; an uncomfortable job for Bill, which he was glad to get over with. But Jody Gordon—he had not seen her again at all. He was thinking of her now as she had flared up at him the night before, warlike as a little eagle, but very lovely still, with the fire in her eyes.

Bill didn't say anything. He had a gray face, and he stared into the distance. Presently, as he watched the fire, he saw again a rift of brush, and a little boy hid like a rabbit and a gently grinning face, that through with grinning now. He thought of Dry Camp's story; he remembered he'd never fall . . . "

He did not have so long to wait as he had thought. No more than ten minutes had passed when the unknown rider came dusting around the shoulder of a sand hill and headed toward him at the dead run. Roper turned his horse broadside to the approach and waited.

What did Jody say?" "She's quitting me, Lew."

He could hardly hear her as she said, "Don't you think you ought to tell me where you're going?" "Dry Camp Pierce is on his way, by a quicker way than mine is. If he don't fall down there'll be the start of a wild bunch waiting for me when I land in the Big Bend Country. I figure to take that bunch, and build to it, and add on. After that—well, you know what comes after that."

"And now, you're asking me to swing with that?" "Jody, I've already told you what I've got to do."

The silence stretched out until you could have hung a saddle on it, and this time Bill's eyes were on Jody, and hers were on the saddle horn. Slowly she shook her head. After a minute he said, "I guess that settles it, doesn't it?" "I guess it does."

Hardly seems it can be done in a minute. I'll take a few days to—"

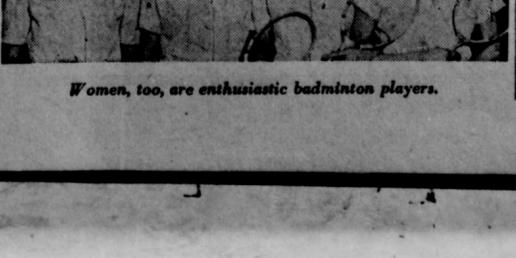

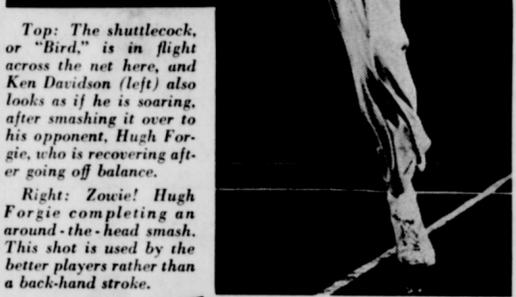

"You sure punish that horse," he said. "I've got no call to save him. I'm not going any place."

CHAPTER VII
I want the Pot Hook camp; and I want the winter camp of the Three Bar, ed son, found out that he had been shot down by Thorpe and two aides. Against the strong opposition of Gordon, Bill decided to start a cattle war against Thorpe. Bill went to tell his sweetheart, pretty Jody Gordon, about his plans.

NAZI PROPAGANDA GOES ON UNCHECKED IN U. S.

ALL AMERICANS, from the President down to the least of us, condemn Hitler and Nazism. We want none of Hitler or his kind, or his ideology. We send men to prison for spreading the Nazi doctrines, and yet each week we are countenancing the spread of this thing we abhor.

The German Library of Information, undoubtedly financed by Germany in the interests of Hitler's Germany and all it represents, sends broadcast over America the most subtle kind of Nazi propaganda. Millions of copies of its weekly publication, "Facts in Review," are circulated in this country. The American postal system is used to distribute this publication. It boldly announces that copies may be obtained upon request and without charge.

Typographically it is an attractive publication, well printed, beautifully illustrated. Each word in the text of its 44 pages is a eulogy of Hitler, his henchmen and Nazism. Its purpose is to convince American people that Hitler is working for the best interests of the world, that he is a world savior, that England would destroy world civilization if that country itself is not destroyed. While smooth, it is not even cleverly veiled.

ROAD TO ALASKA FEASIBLE, SAYS 'SLIM'

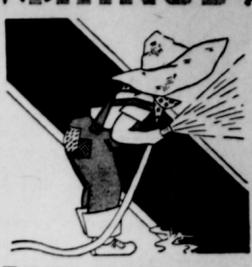

IN THE NAME OF NATIONAL DEFENSE serious consideration is being given in Washington to the subject of constructing a highway from the American line through British Columbia to Alaska. The defense purpose is for the moving of an army, mechanized or other, should we find it necessary to defend Alaska. The proposition is for the United States to provide the funds and Canada to provide the right of way and patrol it after the highway is completed.

Long, lean, weather-beaten "Slim" Williams, an old Alaskan sourdough, has agitated such a highway for several years. In the winter of 1931-32, "Slim" drove a dog team from Alaska to Washington as his first demonstration of the feasibility of his dream. In the summer of 1939, starting from Fairbanks in May, he made the trip through to Vancouver on a motorcycle, at least both "Slim" and the motorcycle came through but whether he carried the motorcycle more miles than it carried him, I am not sure. He insists he has proved that a highway to Alaska is practical.

THE PRESIDENT is said to favor a revision of the draft ages, reducing the minimum to 18 years and stopping the maximum at 30 years or less. That is practical.

THEN AND NOW
IN WASHINGTON they will tell you today of a perfect working house of representatives majority, with some six key men directing legislation. During the twenties, and up to some 15 years ago, when the Republicans had a heavy majority in the house, one man largely directed the course of legislation. If Martin B. Madden said a bill was to pass, it passed; if he said no, it did not reach the floor. Madden was the house of representatives.

EGGS FOR DEFENSE AND PROFIT

Feeding chickens for more eggs is a real opportunity for farm families to aid defense and add to their incomes. Extension Service workers are telling rural people, following announcement of a Department of Agriculture plan for supporting the market price of eggs during the next two years.

Jennie Camp, extension specialist in home production planning has pointed out that plenty of feed for farm poultry flocks means more eggs, and more eggs help assure ample food supplies for this country, Great Britain, and other countries resisting aggression. She says since commercial poultrymen already are feeding their flocks to get the most possible eggs, extra eggs must come from special feeding of farm hens.

Here are some tips George McCarthy poultry husbandman, gives farm families on their expansion of poultry flocks. "Feed plenty of mash, either home-mixed or commercial, and all the grain the hens will clean up at night," he says. "Keep fresh, clean water where the hens can get to it easily at all times. Wet mash is an excellent appetizer. It should be fed in a crumbly state, and once started, must be kept up. Extra eggs will pay for the additional work." Both specialists explain that eggs are an ideal means of turning ever-normal reserves of feed into defense foods, and that increased production can be maintained by better feeding. Their advice is: "Give the hens all they'll eat this spring. Don't make them rustle for their food."
