Tornado Does Heavy Damage

Silverton Gets Her Share Of Tornado's Work

A Texas tornado, and rain and hail storm swept across the Panhandle Sunday night to do untold damage, and claiming several lives at other places. Heavy damage was sustained here by the Silverton Co-op Elevator, and the Gabe Garrison home was unroofed and damaged.

The tornado swooped down at Kress and killed E. P. Singleton, 70, and critically injured Mrs. Singleton, their infant son, and several others. The storm tore up a path 200 yards wide there.

The tornado dipped down in several places between Kress and Silverton but no injuries were reported. The Gabe Garrison family were left sitting shelterless in the rain and hail when the roof of their home sailed away. In Silverton, at the elevator, the office building was moved several feet, and a huge safe crushed through the floor. The east wall of the elevator was swept away, and parts of the roof was torn off. Electric and telephone wires were a tangled mass. In one place a piece of "2x4" was driven endways thru the building.

Alton Steele, R. B. Byrd, and many other farmers sustained damage to outbuildings and fences.

At Clarendon the storm really reached its peak and Mrs. R. E. Drennan, wife of the Dean of the Clarendon College, was killed and at least three other persons seriously injured. Property damage in Clarendon was set at half a million dollars. The $40,000 home of Jim McMurtry, well known here, was wrecked. It was the worst storm of its kind ever ex-

Mrs. Dave Ziegler and son returned Tuesday from a two weeks visit in San Angelo with her mother, Mrs. R. C. Harris, who has been ill.

AGRI BRIEFS

Ray S. McIntire
Briscoe Co. Committee

A Program stands for: (1) Conservation of the soil. (2) Production for every acre. (3) More income for farmers.

A Farm Program is a limited effort of farmers, together in coordinated action with other Government agencies, to help bring about the best possible use of our agricultural resources. It is a program thru which the Government is helping farmers to improve their economic condition.

Representatives from Washington will be at the Hotel in Amarillo, June 13-14 to confer with farmers, elevator operators, warehouse men, and processors, as to their policies under the marketing quota law.

But also to make stronger and more serious aggression in a world of disturbances of war. Only in a free democracy, it is a program thru which farmers have an opportunity to work out their own salvation of the interest of the people in the United States in towns and cities. Farm people are assuring the main, basic resource of the nation. From it we get our bulk of our wealth. Foundation of our welfare.

Apply of soil, as we look at it, may seem inexhaustible. Averaging all we have only a few inches of soil. The mountains and rolling areas are subject to wash-

FARMERS TO HAVE PENTY OF HOME STORAGE

With the 200,000 bushel warehouse at Whitely Switch practically finished, W. T. Graham is rapidly going ahead with the work here of making his cotton warehouse into an approved storage for wheat. Another new storage warehouse will start up immediately and the foundation is already being laid. Altogether the Farmers Elevators expects to have well over a half million bushel storage capacity here.

CRASS RECEIVES PAINFUL INJURIES IN EXPLOSION

T. T. Crass, received very painful arm injuries Monday evening when a welding tank exploded. Crass was just making ready to weld when the tank blew up, badly bruising his hand and arm and tearing a deep, jagged flesh wound. While very painful, the injuries are not thought to be serious.

The tank had been empty for some time, and they had been welding on it. They haven't yet, been able to explain what caused the blowup.

Mrs. J. L. Francis Very Ill

Last minute reports from Mrs. J. L. Francis, who is at the Sanitarium in Plainview, were that she seemed to be resting a bit easier. She is in a very critical condition, and has been under the oxygen tent for some time.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED FOR THE SILVERTON LODGE

Silverton Masonic Lodge in regular meeting here last night elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

- R. E. Douglas -- Worshipful Master
 - C. D. Wright -- Senior Warden
 - L. T. Wood -- Junior Warden
 - T. R. Whiteside -- Secretary

- A public installation of the officers is planned at the next regular meeting, July 8th.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation to the kind neighbors and friends, who helped us in repairing our house after the storm. Thank you very much. Mr. and Mrs. Gabe Garrison and Pascal

SCIENTIFIC POLL SHOWS MANN IN THE LEAD

Attorney General C. Mann was campaigning in South and West Texas this week with a clear lead over every opponent in the United States Senatorial race, as established by the accurate Beldon Poll at Austin.

This state-wide, scientific poll of the campaign which Time Magazine has called "the biggest United States political sideshow since the presidential campaign last fall" show the standings of the candidates now to be:

- Gerald C. Mann ----- 27.0
- W. Lee O'Daniel ----- 25.6
- Martin Dies ----- 23.7
- Lyndon Johnson ----- 19.4
- Others ----- 4.3

Thursday Mann spoke in Brady, Mason, Taylor, Rockdale, Cameron and Temple. In the seven weeks of the campaign he has covered approximately 190 counties. He has made 260 speeches and has visited 750 Texas towns, large and small.

As the nation was swept with headline of strikes in defense industry, Mann lashed out angrily at the men responsible for those strikes and shouted:

"The president should use his emergency powers to see that the wheels of industry continue to turn. I predict that he will do this. "Strikes in defense industries must be stopped. We must have action in stopping them. They imperil the very freedom which has made it possible to strike in this country. A defense strike is a blow at democracy.

"I urge Congress to pass the bill I have advocated. It will prohibit strikes and at the same time guarantee labor fair mediation and retroactive backpay when labor's cause is just.

"I shall draw this bill now and make it available for Congress. My Congressman opponents are welcome to have it. "And I repeat, until a bill such as mine is passed, the President should, and I am sure will, use his emergency powers to see the wheels of industry keep turning."

CHILDRENS STORY TELLING

The Children's Story-Telling will be divided into two groups. Children up to nine years will report at 3:00 o'clock. Miss Othell Bomar will have charge of the younger group and Mrs. Sample the older. They report a good attendance last Saturday and a pleasant time. All children are invited to come.

Mr. C. B. Lagrone of Pomona, California is visiting here with his daughter, Mrs. R. B. Byrd. He will stay for some time.

NOTICE TO DELINQUENT TAXPAYERS

(Here's How You Can Save Money)

Under the provisions of H. B. No. 76 recently passed by the Legislature, you can make a great saving on delinquent taxes. Any taxpayer paying ALL taxes delinquent by him will pay only six (6%) per cent penalty during the short life of this bill. Under the usual method you will pay eight (8%) per cent penalty and six (6%) per cent interest per annum. Therefore you will readily see that it will be to your advantage to pay ALL your delinquent taxes.

Sanders Tells Of Hawaii

Dear Mother and Dad, This Sunday morning I find myself with a lot of time on my hands and I feel that it is a good time to tell you something of the Island of Oahu. You mentioned Roy wanting me to write something for the paper, so if you will pardon the repetition I will write this as if I had written nothing at all about the Island before.

I think that the best way to start this would be to tell you something of the Hawaiian language in order that you can better pronounce the names of the places.

The Hawaiian language consists of 12 letters, the same vowels as ours, A, E, I, O, & U, and the consonants L, M, N, H, K, P, & W. The vowels are pronounced as follows:

- A ----- AL
- E ----- AY ex. (Kole is Kolay)
- I ----- E sound as in police
- O ----- full O as in dope
- U ----- OO as in boo

Each vowel and syllable is given full value. There is no slurring; for instance Honolulu is Ho no lu lu. At the beginning of a word W is pronounced as a W but in the middle it's V, as in Garman. Waikiki is W and Hawaii is with the V sound.

Another thing I want to make straight, is that Honolulu is on the Island of Oahu. Most people think it is on Hawaii but it is not. The whole group of islands is the Territory of Hawaii and each island is organized as a county. Honolulu is the capitol and principal city Hilo is the next city in size and importance and is located on the Island of Hawaii.

There are 252,000 civilians on the Island of Oahu and a little better than 50,000 on Hawaii and about 5,000 to 7,000 on the other six combined.

My first knowledge of this Island (Oahu) came from a trip around it. We left Schofield Barracks and proceeded to Kole Kole pass which is on the military reservation. The west side of Kole Kole is a way steep and winding road covered with lava rock. The army asked civilian engineers to build them a dirt road there and they said it was impossible and would not touch it. In 1933 the army corps of engineers went to work and in a period of 3 years put a paved highway there.

When we reached the bottom, we proceeded through a naval reservation until we reached the coast at Manauli where we turned south down the beach. After about 15 miles we turned inland through sugarcane fields then we came out of them and to our right we could see Pearl Harbor, where practically the whole U. S. Navy is disclosed. Along there it is a criminal offense to even remove your camera from its case, while driving down the road in your car. After we left Pearl Harbor we passed Hickam Field which is the main military airport from there into Honolulu.

Honolulu is a town of about 100,000, not a particularly picturesque, just a seaport town with every race in the world walking its streets. The outstanding thing is its residential sections, where you can see the most beautiful flowers imaginable. Out toward Waikiki beach and on past there are the fine homes of the wealthy with beautiful flowers in the front yard and the Pacific Ocean in the back yard.

Several miles out of town, we started over the mountains, where they reach right down to the sea, at this point there is not much vegetation; just lava rocks and a few bushes that remind one of our mesquite.

After crossing this we are on the windward side of the Island (Continued on back Page)

MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETING

Mrs. Finley was hostess Monday afternoon to the W. M. U. of the Silverton Baptist Church and the Lottie Moon Circle of the Quitaque Baptist Church.

The program consisted of a very interesting study of the Book of Job. A social hour followed during which Mrs. Finley received a chenille bed spread as a gift from the Quitaque Circle. Lovely refreshments were served to seventeen guests, each of whom reported a very pleasant afternoon.

BRIDAL SHOWER

Mrs. Dick Cowart, Mrs. Dutch Tidwell, and Miss Nortica Graham were hostesses Tuesday at a shower and tea honoring Mrs. Jess Dempsey of Duncan, Oklahoma, who was before her marriage, Miss Willie C. Wilson. The shower was held in the home of Mrs. Cowart.

Mrs. Tidwell, Mrs. Cowart, and the Honoree received the guest upon arrival. Miss Marinez Cowart presided at the tea table and Miss Dorothy Roy McMurtry had charge of the Bride's Book. Over forty guests called during the afternoon to see the lovely gifts and wish the bride much happiness and success.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Byrd of Robert Lee, Texas, visited with their son, R. B. Byrd and family, Thursday and Friday. They report that all territory between here and Robert Lee is flooded and wet.

Alton Steele and family were in Wichita Falls and Fort Worth Tuesday. The family stopped off at Wichita Falls and Alton went on to Fort Worth to transact business.

Miss June West left last Friday for a months vacation in California, Salt Lake City and Yellowstone National Park with a group of teachers from Phillips, Texas.

FAMOUS ALL-BRAN MUFFINS. EASY TO MAKE. DELICIOUS!

They really are the most delicious muffins that ever melted a pat of butter! Made with crisp, toasted shreds of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN, they have a texture and flavor that have made them famous all over America.

KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN MUFFINS 2 tablespoons shortening 1/2 cup flour 1/2 cup sugar 1 egg 1 cup All-Bran 1 cup milk 1/2 cup flour 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 cup All-Bran 1/2 cup milk 1/2 cup flour 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 cup All-Bran 1/2 cup milk 1/2 cup flour 1/2 teaspoon salt

Try these delicious muffins for dinner tonight or for tomorrow morning's breakfast. They're not only good to eat; they're mighty good for you as well. For several of these muffins will add materially to your daily supply of what physicians call "bulk" in the diet, and thus help combat the common kind of constipation that is due to lack of this dietary essential. Eat ALL-BRAN every day (either as a cereal or in muffins), drink plenty of water, and see if you don't forget all about constipation due to lack of "bulk." ALL-BRAN is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D., Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for June 15

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

PROGRESS IN WORLD MISSIONS

LESSON TEXT—Acts 13:44-52; Galatians 3:23-29. GOLDEN TEXT—For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus.—Galatians 3:26.

"All people" are included in God's plan of redemption. When the angel of Christ to the shepherds he said, "Fear not: for behold I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people" (Luke 2:10). The invitation is: "Let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely" (Rev. 22:17).

I. Popularity and Persecution (Acts 13:44, 45). In the synagogue of Antioch or Pisidia they were invited to preach, and Paul was blessed in the presentation of a powerful gospel message.

But wait!—there's a worm in that red apple of popularity, and its name is jealousy (v. 45). It caused the Jews to blaspheme as they contradicted Paul's preaching. Jealousy always makes a fool out of the one who yields to it.

II. Rejection and Acceptance (Acts 13:46-52). All through the record of Scripture and the history of man to this day we find some rejecting the grace of God—others accepting.

The disciples now turn from the Jews to minister to the Gentiles, even as had been prophesied (Isa. 42:6, 49:6, Luke 2:31, 32). They accepted the word of truth and "were glad, and glorified the word of God."

It really works! Have you given God a chance to prove it in your life? III. Neither Jew nor Greek (Gal. 3:26, 27). This selection from the letter which Paul wrote some ten years later to the people of the area in which he had now preached reveals the same truth, that faith in Christ is primary—and essential—in Christian experience.

In this early life we recognize distinctions based on nationality, sex, social position, and many other grounds. While these are overemphasized by most people, they are legitimate and necessary distinctions. But in Christ—ah! there the differences disappear. We are all one in Him (v. 28). This is a lesson which we have not learned even yet, but our slowness of heart and mind does not alter God's truth.

The church is talking much these days about ecumenicity, which in plain words means the unity of the people of the various branches of the church all over the world. All too often, however, the proposed basis of unity rests on a surrender or a partial surrender of what Paul declares to be the essential (the sine qua non if you wish), which is faith in the Lord Jesus Christ.

Wonders of God ... His wonders to perform; He plants His footstep in the sea ...

YOUR SUNDAY DINNER (See Recipes Below)

ESPECIALLY FOR DAD

Sunday, June the fifteenth, is the day you want to especially prepare DAD's favorite foods—for it's Father's day—and don't forget it. The favorite of all men is a good tasty meat pie—so the suggestion for the main course is a delicious individual meat pie. Dad doesn't like to bother much with side dishes of salad, so place his salad right on the plate with the rest of the meal.

The appetizer: Carbohydrates, minerals, Vitamins A, B, C, and G. The Meat: Proteins, phosphorus, Vitamins B, B-1; fats, carbohydrates in crust.

The Vegetables: Minerals, Carbohydrates, Vitamins A, B, C, and G. Muffins and butter: Vitamins A, B, C, and G, minerals, carbohydrates. Salad: Minerals, Vitamins A, B, C, and G, carbohydrates and fats.

Dessert: Carbohydrates, minerals, fats, Vitamins A, B, C, D, and G. To Serve 6 You Need:

- 1 can apricot nectar
1 can pineapple juice
2 lbs. lamb shoulder
2 bunches carrots
1 No. 2 can peas
6 tomatoes
1 small head cabbage
2 pints blueberries
1 pint ice cream

Individual Lamb Pies. 2 lbs. shoulder of lamb 2 small onions 3 tablespoons flour 1 1/2 teaspoons salt 2 1/2 cups milk

Trim the lamb, cut in small cubes and brown in a hot frying pan. Add the chopped onion and cook until light brown, stirring constantly. Add the flour and salt and mix well. Stir in the milk gradually. Cover and cook over low heat for about 45 minutes or until the lamb is tender.

Roll out pastry and place in individual pie tins or cut in six five-inch rounds and place in large cupcake pans. Fill with the lamb mixture and brush the rims of the pastry with milk.

Top each pie with another round of pastry. Crimp the edges and cut slits in the top for the steam to escape through. Brush each pie with milk or cream. Bake in a 425-degree F. oven for 25 to 30 minutes or until the crust is evenly browned. Lift gently from the pan and serve.

LYNN SAYS:

Dad's day might be the one day when Dad would really like to try his hand in the kitchen. How about some feathery light biscuits to go with dinner?

The dessert had better be served in a rather deep dessert dish. Place a square of cake in each dish, then top with a ball of ice cream. Over all pour the rich looking blueberry sauce. Prepare this dessert just before it is to be served. The whole family will love it.

Star Dust

By VIRGINIA VALE (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

THE first motion picture scene to be directed by long distance phone 3,000 miles from the spot where it was shot is credited to Elliott Nugent. He stood on a Paramount sound stage in Hollywood and gave instructions to cameraman Dewey Wrigley, whose equipment was set up on Biscayne boulevard, Miami Beach, Fla.

Wrigley had shot some atmospheric film for "Nothing But the Truth," but it wasn't exactly what Nugent wanted. He'd never been in Miami Beach, but he picked the right site from some still pictures and then gave instructions over the telephone.

Marjorie Reynolds has established a record of some kind; she's played the heroine opposite more western stars than has any other young Hollywood actress.

Marjorie Reynolds ... "Cyclone on Horseback," for RKO Radio, in which she will appear opposite Tim Holt. Born in the cow town of Buhl, Idaho, she's right at home in those roles.

Edmond O'Brien and his bride, Nancy Kelly, are spending their honeymoon by working in the same picture at RKO. The film is "Parachute Battalion."

Following his work in the Harold Lloyd comedy, "A Girl, A Guy and a Gob," O'Brien signed two long-term contracts—one with RKO and the other with Nancy. She was to work in "Parachute Battalion."

Joan Fontaine certainly picked herself a nice vacation when she finished "Before the Fact" with Cary Grant. She was satisfied with nothing less than a three-week jaunt to Honolulu, Tahiti and Pago-Pago as an escape from Hollywood.

Spencer Tracy won his Academy awards in roles that hadn't a suggestion of "boy meets girl." But in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" he meets two girls, Lana Turner and Ingrid Bergman, just by way of evening up the score.

"Sky Over Britain" brings to the air a new series of dramatic programs under the auspices of the British War Relief Society, presented over the Mutual network every Thursday evening.

The officers and crew of a British destroyer will comprise the first movie audience outside the Americas to see Anna Neagle's "Sunny." If present plans go through, Miss Neagle's older brother, Alan Robertson, is commander of a destroyer, and has not seen her or any of her pictures for more than two years.

The Rudy Vallee program won't move to New York this summer after all. Moving would have meant leaving John Barrymore behind, and listeners like the Vallee-Barrymore combination so well that it's inadvisable to break it up.

ODDS AND ENDS—In "The Big Store" the Marx Brothers are private detectives who run wild in a department store. The only sound track in America of a London air raid has arrived at Warners' for scenes of London's bombing in "The Flight Parol."

Orson Welles wants the screen rights to "Louisiana Hayride," the story of Huey Long's life. Marjorie Main will once again play a landlady—this one in "Honky Tonk's" Midwestern mining town. Irving Berlin will write fifteen new songs for "Holiday Inn," in which Bing Crosby and Fred Astaire will be starred. Priscilla Lane is now the name of a street in Burbank, Calif.

Household Hints

To avoid smudges on freshly washed clothes, give clothes-lines and clothes-pins periodic washings. Lining the basement walls with insulating board will help to eliminate the dampness usually found there.

Putty will not adhere to wood surfaces that are not prepared for it. They must be cleaned of all old putty and thoroughly soaked with linseed oil so that they will not absorb oil from the new putty.

To broil bacon place the strips close together on a wire rack over a drip pan. Use medium heat. Turn bacon over and drain on unglazed paper or on paper towels.

Cider sauce makes something just a little different to serve with pancakes or waffles. Boil one cup of sugar and half a cup of cider for four minutes. Serve either warm or cold.

Fighting Bird

One of the most powerful of all birds, and able to fly long distances, the great skua is seldom caught, but a dead specimen has been presented to the museum at the Smithsonian Institute in Washington. It was brought down in the Atlantic. The skua lives on penguins' eggs and chicks, and scores of half-eaten birds may be seen near the sites of penguin colonies during the hatching season.

A famous British aircraft is named after the fierce, killing skua.

The Rudy Vallee program won't move to New York this summer after all. Moving would have meant leaving John Barrymore behind, and listeners like the Vallee-Barrymore combination so well that it's inadvisable to break it up.

ODDS AND ENDS—In "The Big Store" the Marx Brothers are private detectives who run wild in a department store. The only sound track in America of a London air raid has arrived at Warners' for scenes of London's bombing in "The Flight Parol."

Orson Welles wants the screen rights to "Louisiana Hayride," the story of Huey Long's life. Marjorie Main will once again play a landlady—this one in "Honky Tonk's" Midwestern mining town. Irving Berlin will write fifteen new songs for "Holiday Inn," in which Bing Crosby and Fred Astaire will be starred. Priscilla Lane is now the name of a street in Burbank, Calif.

WANTED: a bank in Silverton by harvest time. (signed) if
—SILVERTON COMMUNITY

WEATHER --- Not so worry as week before last, nor as wheat as last.

I'M SORRY FOLKS, but that's right. I was out with Tull Tuesday and his is pitiful. Three weeks ago it was fifty bushel wheat and no fooling. Tuesday it was perhaps five. Everything happened to it and to top it all off, the hail Sunday night caught it for at least 50% loss.

WE LOOKED AT several other fields and several of them look to still be plenty good wheat, but for some reason the grain just isn't in the heads. Everyone is still hoping, but right now it doesn't look too good. The late wheat is going to be a lot better than the earliest.

I GOT TICKLED at R. B. Byrd telling very seriously about his oats and barley. He said: "The darn stuff... it has got down and got up, and got down and got up and now its down again. Believe me if it can make it up just once more, it's going to get cut, ripe or not ripe."

THE WEATHER HAS treated the cotton farmers just a little worse (if possible) than the wheat men. There isn't enough cotton up right now in the whole county to make a pair of cotton pants for Sally Rand. And if you've ever seen Sally, you'll know that that isn't much cotton.

IT'S 11:00 P.M., and there goes the wind again. I'll relax and go to bed so I can bring you another weather report in the morning.

THAT WEATHER REPORT is good. No hail, very little wind and no rain to speak of. And by the way, in this country it takes at least an inch 'to speak of'.

DEE REID TOLD me that he was out on the old Wimberly place yesterday. The water was way over the road and he saw a sheep drowned on the edge of the lake. He walked around and found in all, 79 sheep that had drowned. That's a lot of sheep money for someone to lose.

MRS. WILLIAMSON was in a few minutes ago. She had been fishing and she had caught something that looked like a catfish with legs. It was a very fancy little rascal with a bunch of red feather things around its neck. He was a funny looking outfit.

If it hadn't been Mrs. Williamson I would have sworn that she had imagined it. My seeing it doesn't prove anything. I see a lot of crazy looking animals that I don't believe.

BY THE END OF next week, you can no doubt take advantage of the Harvest Bargain offer of $1.25 a year. The low rate goes into effect with the first load of wheat hauled to Silverton, and will last until after harvest. Then the price will be $2.00 in this and adjoining counties and $2.50 elsewhere. During the rate the $1.25 will take the paper anywhere in the world.

WALTER SMOCK just brought his ad copy in. During the harvest rush he is just going to have one feature (plus the Free-vue on Saturday night) for Friday and Saturday. That feature is to be a really late picture, and this week end it is "This Thing Called Love" starring Melvin Douglas and Rosalind Russell. It has been given top-notch ratings everywhere it has shown. It was released less than two months ago. The next three week end shows will be "Hudson's Bay", "Western Union" and "Virginia".

FIRESTONE TIRES WIN AGAIN IN 500-MILE INDIANAPOLIS RACE

MAURI ROSE, Co-Winner With Floyd Davis in the 500-Mile Indianapolis Race May 30th. Averaged 115.117 Miles per Hour on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires Without a Tire Change or Tire Trouble of Any Kind.

FLASHING down the straightaways at speeds as high as 160 miles an hour, Mauri Rose streaked to victory in the 1941 Indianapolis Sweepstakes without a tire change. 500 miles of grinding, pounding, torturing speed — and not one tire failed! Here's proof of safety — proof of blowout protection — proof of endurance — proof of tire superiority backed not merely by claims, but by PERFORMANCE! For 22 consecutive years all the winning drivers in this great classic of speed and endurance have driven to victory on Firestone Tires. Why? Because race drivers know that their very lives depend upon the safety of their tires. They have made it their business to know how tires are built. And they know that the patented construction features found only in Firestone Tires provide the extra strength and durability necessary to safety and victory!

The same super-safety and dependability that are built into Firestone Tires for the speedway are also built into the new Safti-Sured Firestone DeLuxe Champion Tires for the highway. Both are Safti-Sured against blowouts by the patented Safety-Lock Gum-Dipped cord body. Both are Safti-Sured for longer wear by the exclusive new Vitamic rubber compound. Profit by the experience of famous race drivers. Equip your car today with a set of these new Firestone DeLuxe Champion Tires — the world's first and only tires that are Safti-Sured.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS By Edward C. Wayne

Great Britain's Loss of Crete to Nazis Endangers Mediterranean Position; President's Pledge to 'Help Britain' Spurs Study of Aid Being Extended

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Billows of smoke rise from the Erie railroad terminal in Jersey City, to form a cloud that palled the entire city of New York. Frantically the tiny fireboats below play tiny streams of water on the gigantic fire which destroyed over five million dollars worth of defense and other materials. Although authorities had been warned of sabotage and were watching, the fire broke out following an explosion in a hay shed.

SUPREME COURT: A Retirement

Seventy-nine-year-old Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes of the U. S. Supreme court is retiring from the bench, July 1 of this year. In a telegram in answer to the request on the part of Hughes to cease active duty at that time, President Roosevelt accepted the retirement and spoke of "the splendid service" rendered. The "grand old man" of the court has been eligible for retirement since 1934 but he continued to serve in a regular capacity up to the present time. It is known that Mrs. Hughes has been urging him for some time to retire and spend his time in rest and as his reasons for wanting to retire. His career of public service has few parallels in U. S. history. He has served as governor of New York, secretary of state, presidential candidate, member of the world arbitration tribunal and was twice justice of the Supreme court.

CRETE: Its Meaning

The Battle of Crete, another outstanding victory for Germany, won almost without Italian aid except in the closing stages, was not only a serious loss for Britain, but it was marking an epoch in warfare from several standpoints. The German claim apparently was justified that it was the first airborne invasion of an island where the water lane separating it from the mainland. In the case of the Norwegian invasion, which in some ways was similar to Crete, the Germans did control the water division between themselves and Norway. But into Crete they had to send and supply an army into a country occupied by the enemy, presumably an enemy in position to send reinforcements and supplies by ship to their own forces. The hand-to-hand fighting at the beginning of this campaign should have been more to the advantage of the British, yet the parachutists and gliders arrived in such force that the advantage rapidly wilted away and the British found themselves being pushed back by superior forces, sufficiently well armed and well supplied to hold out and await their air-borne reinforcements. That the Germans themselves had little confidence in the experimental war was shown by the fact that both they and the Italians were ready with shiploads of expeditionary soldiers, and the Germans, at least, tried to land theirs and lost an announced 5,000 men. But this very attempt proved another thing—that fleets are vulnerable to attack from swarms of airplanes. Reports showed that the Germans allotted hundreds of Stukas to this attack, and survivors of the plane-ship battle, British survivors, told stories of 20 Stukas at a time being assigned to each ship, and that when they went away their places were taken by 20 others. Now, the dive-bomber is apparently able to hit or come close to its objective and it makes a poor target for anti-aircraft fire, so great is its speed and so narrow the appearance of its approach. Hence the destroyers and cruisers were hit and badly hit, and many went to the bottom, the fleet had to withdraw to Alexandria to repair its wounds, and the coast was clear for the Italians to land their ship-borne forces. This was the last straw, but the battle had been won without that, and the German propagandists took full advantage of the fact to predict England would fall the same way. The Australian premier decried the battle as a simple lack of machines on the part of the British defenders.

AID: A Question

Congress and many newspapers were beginning to question how much lease-lend aid was reaching British points, and this question the President promised to answer "in round figures."

But one of Harry Hopkins' associates, in answer to a senatorial inquiry, wrote a letter which tended to the belief, expressed by Senator Byrd of Virginia, that the aid thus far sent had been "infinitesimal." Burns, the Hopkins associate, explained the delays for Britain, explained that much of the material being turned out was required by "our own forces," and suggested that the few weeks since the passage of the bill had been needed just to start things in motion. Senator Byrd got the idea that not much had gone, in fact the Burns letter had attempted to explain why he couldn't give figures on how much had been sunk, which was what Byrd wanted to know. Burns said there couldn't have been much sunk because much hadn't gone. Byrd pointed to figures of 400 to 600 combat planes a month being built, medium tanks just started, 90-mm. cannon for anti-aircraft fire just started, and heavy tanks not started yet. He voiced sharp criticisms of the President's production and lease-lend set-up, and it was following this criticism that the President promised a report. But it was likely that this report would not come until the 90-day required period was up, 12 weeks and more after the passage of the bill. At all events it was plain that the hiatus between congress voting seven billions of dollars to implement the lease-lend bill and the setting down in British hands of the seven billions of dollars' worth of war material was going to be considerable. The consensus of opinions as to defense production was that the country had done "pretty well" in the first year, but that the country was going to have to do "much better" in the future.

SPEECH: Aftermath

Some newspapers who had praised the President's fireside chat to the highest, in the days that followed began to write editorials criticizing the President for not carrying out his implied promises. The President's press conference on the Wednesday following the Tuesday of his speech had been a shock, and it produced some pretty bitter editorial comment. The President, who had demanded "freedom of the seas" and had promised any and all measures necessary to achieve this, turned around and said that he didn't mean that American ships had to go where they might be sunk, and he didn't think he would ask repeal of the neutrality act, which forbid just that. The American press began to wonder whether the President's speech had been just words, and that his policy was going to be much weaker than what had been expected by the public from the speech. Even the anti-interventionists were frankly surprised by the turn events had taken, though their thunder did not lessen.

On the labor question, too, the President had indicated that he would not tolerate stoppage of work in defense plants, yet the Pacific coast machinists' walkout still continued. In this strike, as well as others which were continuing, there seemed no immediate change in the government's active attitude, the mediation board going through the same procedures as it had before the President's speech, and the President himself taking no active hand, or making any personal moves.

Washington Digest U. S. Acts to Encourage South American Market

Endeavor to Prevent Nazi Trade Foothold; Famous Men Mingle in Washington; Railroaders Neglect Annuities.

By BAUKHAGE National Farm and Home Hour Commentator.

WNU Service, 1343 H Street, N.W., Washington, D. C. WASHINGTON.—The other day rumors began to spread around the capital that the United States had declared a war that nobody knew anything about—a war marked "private and confidential," the kind that nobody must talk about. So everybody talked about it. At cocktail parties, in the Press club, in the corridors of the solemn buildings with the "closed doors." You have heard of them—the closed doors behind which all the real things happen that are not supposed to. Finally, since this was a highly private and confidential matter it soon got into the papers, labeled "economic war." Immediately the idea was roundly denied, disparaged, and generally abused. So I started out to try to locate it. There was smoke. Where was the fire? Since economic warfare is dollar warfare, I went to see the man who has a whole arsenal full of dollars which could be used as ammunition in such a battle, namely, Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator and secretary of commerce. I found him in his office. The tall, good-natured, hard-working Texas multi-millionaire was friendly, helpful, sympathetic, as he always is. But what he did not say about economic warfare would have filled a volume.

Famous Men Mingle in Capital

"A pony will be a dollar." The voice that spoke was gratifying, with a foreigner's accent. He seemed a little surprised. So was I. For he was getting for a dollar an oversize thimbleful of brandy. In a moment a group of gentlemen who had purchased pony rose bearing. "Well, how are you people?" he said. For just a second there was a blank look on the general's face. He put out his hand and shook all the warmth of a good pony. "Well, well, well, how are you?" Mr. Jones, and how's the weather?" Jones beamed again, and sat down satisfied. He was greeted by one of the Not, however, by a high official of the army as the title he used indicate, but a former cabinet member.

Visits Leading Economist.

So I went to another man, who if such a war is going on right now is sitting on the board of strategy. I must not mention his name, but he knows the terrain perfectly. He has been all over the ground which I might mention here is South America. He has served as a government representative and as a business representative, and in other capacities which I cannot catalogue without identifying him. "Economic warfare," he said, "is impossible, without war." What he did not say was that undeclared economic warfare is impossible without wartime conditions, and right now, we seem to have enough of those to make possible some early skirmishes. This is the situation as it was "unrevealed" to me (officially) by a certain official. In the first place, experts here are convinced that even if he takes Africa, Hitler cannot feed and clothe Germany and its acquired domain without a strong trade foothold in South America. As one German economist recently put it to a former American representative in Berlin: "South America is a natural complement for the expansion of industrialized Germany in the field of foreign trade." Africa has raw materials but it will take a long time to exploit them. The Nazis cannot wait. Hence, South America becomes the goal of their triple threat: economic, political and military. Now what are we going to do about it?

Three Methods Open.

There are three methods which the United States can use to keep the totalitarian businessmen, the totalitarian trade methods, the totalitarian politics out of the Western world. We can deal with South America by means of: 1. Voluntary co-operation. 2. Enticement. 3. Pressure. Number 1 is not warfare. Nor is it the old-fashioned "dollar-diplomacy" which exploited South and Central American countries for the good of the few and made us hated as the Colossus of the North. It is, however, "dollars PLUS diplomacy."

This method is already at work. It consists of loans to South America; cultural activities and good will propaganda, genuine co-operation in finding complementary outlets which will encourage a north-and-south flow of goods. When we come to number 2, we must be very careful. This method will never be mentioned in any official statement. We have to fight fire with fire, or to be more literal, fight marks with dollars. In plain unvarnished language, a large part of method 2 is "graft." You slip a few well-chosen "gifts" into the right palms. It is not nice but after all we are talking about war-time conditions and it is far nicer to shoot a man with a golden bullet than with a silver one.

Railway Employees Neglect Annuity Benefits

Have you "been working in the railroad" and forgotten all about it? Strange as it may seem, a group of railway employees who were employed before 1937 have neglected to file statements which would enable them to file annuity service when they retire. The railroad retirement board in Washington has been sending notices and writing letters to everyone to spread the word. It still a long list of names that still without the check mark of them that shows they have filed their statements. Congress authorized the board to determine in advance of a railway employee's retirement the credit to his annuity. The railway industry to do this was creating already nearly a million cases that were filed. In this day and age when people are anxious to collect that is not coming to them, it is a shame that people who have earned an honest credit are neglecting to do so. Just to help matters along, the board is glad to forward any letters to me in Washington, to the railroad before 1937.

PAGES ATTEND SCHOOL

There are many schools of kinds in the capital. In many of the schools there are many books. Some of the pages are constantly changing. The school which consists entirely of pages. But not the kind in the pages. These are the pages whom you find on the floor of the senate, carrying messages, and some of them are being forgotten pair of glasses or an important document. The school in which these pages were founded in 1870.

THE SMOKY YEARS

By ALAN LE MAY

INSTALLMENT 9 THE STORY SO FAR:

...and his sweet heart, Jody Gordon, and her father. Roper's successful raids against Thorpe's Texas holdings wiped him out of the state. When Roper visited Jody one night, she almost contemptuously called him a cattle thief.

...were on the flats of the Little Thunder, far away. Here, struggling through a soft blinding snow, they ran off five hundred head, and a few days later three hundred more. They Christmased in company with a herd of lifted steers somewhere between Three Sleep and the Little Powder; and New Year's found them sifting the pick of Lasham's cattle out of his Lost Soldier range.

...Moved three thousand head—the very cream of the wintering stock. Repeatedly they had driven cattle incredible distances in impossible time.

...Yet he knew his work had only begun. All their hard riding would fall of effect unless he could strike such a smashing blow as would cause a split between Lasham and Ben Thorpe.

...And Roper had a plan—rash in scope and method, but savage in effect if it could be fulfilled. Already he had enough riders in sight to strike this last desperate blow. But the men available to his purpose were wild-eyed fighting kids who could not be driven and could scarcely be led; Roper could not lead his campaign alone. So now he fretted in Miles City, seeking three or four outlaw leaders who would make his preparations complete.

...Still studying everyone who came into the bar, Roper broke open a

They first struck at Muddy Bend.

...Roper sat alone at a rear table of the Palace Bar, in Miles City, the turbulent center of a wide range, the possibilities of which were still unknown.

...deck of cards and laid out a hand of solitaire.

...Now one of the dance hall girls came to his table, slipping uninvited into a chair. This was a girl whose attention bothered and embarrassed Roper every time he came here. Her name was Marquita.

...He didn't know what attracted her to him; he didn't know what attracted any particular woman to any particular man. It may be that his very disinterest was what caught her attention first, and later gave him the desirability of the unobtainable.

...She spoke to him now in a quiet, lifeless voice. "Why don't you like me?"

..."I like you all right," he said.

..."No, you don't. You don't even see me at all."

...He noticed now that she looked different tonight; and after a moment he recognized that this was because there was no paint on her face. That would be because he disliked paint—though he had no idea how she had found that out. Her washed face was a perfectly symmetrical oval set with black eyes a little slanted, and her black hair, parted in the middle, was drawn back severely, in the fashion of the mestizo girls of the Texas border.

...She leaned toward him now, and spoke rapidly, her voice low and compelling. "Listen—I hate Walk Lasham, too."

..."Listen," she insisted. "You have to listen to me. Walk Lasham's in town. He came in this afternoon."

...So, Roper thought, the time had come to move on again, with his work undone. He didn't like it, much.

..."Well, thanks," he said; "I'm glad to know."

..."He knows you're here—and what you're for."

..."I suppose he does," Roper said.

..."You're waiting here for Lasham," she accused him. "You know he'll come here. You're going to try shooting it out."

...Roper shrugged and was silent.

..."Bill, it's hopeless! Walk Lasham is the fastest gunfighter in the north!"

...and gunman. His determination unchanged, he now turned his attention toward Thorpe's ranches in Montana. Jody was secretly visited by Shoshone Wilce, one of Roper's men, who warned that her father's life was in danger.

...Roper shrugged again. "Walk wants no fight with me."

..."You're going to force the fight yourself! That's what you've been waiting here for, ever since you came to Miles City. Any moment Lasham may walk in that door—"

...Marquita sat staring at him hopelessly, in her eyes a fixity of devotion which his taciturnity seemed to increase. Against his will he was becoming something that was happening to Marquita.

...He remained silent; and, in a little while, she went away.

...An hour passed, while Roper, drinking slowly, played his solitaire and watched the door.

...Then suddenly Marquita was back. She came behind his chair to speak close to his ear in a panicky whisper. "He's coming! He's coming along the walk—"

..."All right."

..."Walk has two of his men with him," she said rapidly. "You haven't a chance, not a ghost of a chance. I can't bear to see you killed! I know you don't care anything about me. If you did I'd go anywhere in the world with you. But now you have to come out of here—quick—by the back way. I'll do anything—"

...Roper turned his head to look up into her face, very close to his. There was more to this girl than there was to the rest of her kind. Even now he was unable to recognize that Marquita was capable of a sincerity of purpose, and a passionate preoccupation in her purpose, not to be expected here. "I wouldn't step aside two feet," he told her, "to pass Walk or any man. I tell you, Walk won't fight!"

...Suddenly she whimpered. Bill Roper saw that three men had come into the front of the Palace Bar.

...The first of the three, a dark, lean man with wide, bowed shoulders, was Walk Lasham.

...Marquita caught Bill's head in her arms, forced up his chin, and kissed him. He was surprised at the unexpected softness of her lips, but against his mouth. Then abruptly Marquita stooped, and as she sprang away from him he felt the weight of his gunbelt ease. She flung over her shoulder, "It's for your own sake!" Her face was white, frightened.

...He half started up, in instant anger, but the girl was running down the room. He saw her put something under the bar, and he knew it was his gun.

...Roper rang his whiskey glass upon the table, trying to catch a bartender's eye. If Lasham had not seen what the girl had done, one of them could bring him his gun before it was too late. But the bar was thronged; the bartenders were working fast, in the thick of the evening rush.

...The bar-flies had made room for Walk Lasham at the end of the bar, and Lasham and his two cowboys had their heads together now, consulting.

...One of the cowboys, a man with a scar across his face that distorted his mouth in the manner of a hare lip, went quickly behind the bar, hunted beneath it, and returned to Walk. Roper saw Lasham's long face set. He said to himself, "Walk knows..."

...Walk Lasham was fiddling with his empty glass on the bar, and the scar-mouthed man was watching Roper covertly with one eye from under the brim of his hat. Lasham reached for a bottle, filled his glass, tossed it off. Then he turned squarely toward Roper, and came walking back through the big room.

...Roper played his cards, his hands visible upon the table. It seemed to take Lasham a long time to walk the length of the room. Roper glanced at the lookout chair, where a salaried gun-fighter usually sat. It was empty now.

...Walk Lasham was standing in front of him.

..."So you," he said, "are the tough gunman that killed Cleve Tanner."

...Bill Roper raised his eyes to Walk Lasham's face. "And you," he said, "are one of the dirty cowards that murdered Dusty King."

...A hush had fallen upon the room, unbroken by the clink of a glass or the rattle of a chip. Lasham and Roper looked at each other through a moment of silence.

...He dropped his eyes to Roper's hands, and his own right hand started a tentative movement toward the butt of his gun. His spread fingers shook a little as his hand crept down. But he was grinning now, sure of his ground.

..."Looks a little different to you now, huh?"

..."A coyote always looks like a coyote to me."

...The smile dropped from Lasham's face. "I'm going to give you every chance," he said. His voice swung in even rhythms, low and sing-song. "I'm going to count five. Draw and fire any time you want to; because on five I'm going to kill you where you sit."

..."I don't think you are."

..."One; two—" Lasham said.

MAN HOURS LOST MAKES FEARFUL TOTAL

BURIED in the department of labor at Washington are the figures which tell the story of strikes in the United States. For his book, "The Dead Hand of Bureaucracy," Lawrence Sullivan dug up those figures for the years from 1930 to 1939.

The labor department keeps them on the basis of the number of man hours lost and the figures for 1941, when available, will demonstrate how much more we might have accomplished in the matter of preparedness and aid to England had there been no strikes.

In 1930 the number of man hours lost because of strikes was 2,730,368. In 1932 it had increased to 4,462,973, but in 1933, the year of the enactment of the Wagner labor law, it jumped to 16,872,123, with 19,591,949 for 1934. The top year was 1937, with the staggering figure of 28,424,857 man hours lost. That meant one week's work for 710,621 men, or 52 weeks of 40 hours each for 13,663 men—enough time to build approximately two battleships. For 1939, the last year for which I have any figures, the loss was 18,687,739 man hours.

What will it be in 1941? How much will strikes affect our efforts for preparedness and aid to England? It will certainly mean enough hours to have produced hundreds of airplanes or other implements for the defense of the nation.

Strange as it may seem, both William Green and John L. Lewis say the administration of the Wagner act by the National Labor Relations board is responsible for the strike problem.

WITHOUT THE PLAIN FACTS THERE IS NO DEMOCRACY

AMERICAN DEMOCRACY is being sabotaged through the feeding of misinformation, paraded in the guise of facts, to the American people. That is not the act of any one political party, or any one group of political leaders. The policy of all parties is to attempt to support their policies by false interpretations of the acts of the people's government.

American people do not object to any expression of political opinion on the part of political leaders, but they do object when the men they have set up as leaders attempt to support their opinions by false presentations.

People are entitled to the bare, unvarnished facts, and they are not getting that kind of information. Some day the people will discover they have been hoodwinked and when they do, the political leaders who are responsible for the condition will pay the penalty. Before that happens, democracy may be so far gone that it will take generations for its recovery.

Democracy will function only when all people who must carry the responsibility for its functioning are in full possession of the plain facts.

THE DOLLARS SPENT AT HOME WORK FOR US

A CLERK in a market of our town receives a dollar as part of his salary. He spends it with the clothier for a necktie. The clothier's clerk gets it as a part of his salary. He spends it for food at a market. The owner of the market pays it to a carpenter for store repairs. The carpenter pays it to the lumber dealer. The lumber dealer pays it to his truck driver and so on and on. That dollar spent in our town may pass through many hands, and each person receiving it derives a benefit.

Because of the dollars spent in our town, our merchants and home owners are able to pay taxes. With the taxes they pay, we support our town government, we maintain schools for our children, we pave and maintain our streets. It is the dollars spent at home which make our town a desirable place in which to live.

The dollars spent outside our town do not help in doing any of these things. They do nothing toward maintaining our property values.

These are things to think about when we have dollars to spend.

HOW DICTATORS ARE BORN

ON MARCH 23, 1933, the German Reichstag gave Hitler the privilege of making the laws of Germany for four years. That made Hitler a dictator; that marked the real beginning of World War No. 2. When the legislative branch of any country abdicates and passes its functions on to the administrative branch, a dictatorship results. At the end of four years the Reichstag could not take back what it gave away in 1933.

TOO BIG

LOOKING BACK through history we find that Kaiser Wilhelm, Napoleon, Tamerlane, Genghis Khan, Charlemagne, Attila the Hun, Caesar, Alexander and perhaps others, have at one time or another attempted to conquer the world and make it over to their liking. No one of them succeeded. Hitler's effort is destined to meet the same fate. The world is too big for any one man to swallow. Even in lesser affairs, things can become too unwieldy for successful handling.

Mechanizing the Farms

With mechanization going on everywhere it is but natural that we should find this trend in evidence also on the farm. Although the farm horse is by no means "through," he is less in evidence than formerly. In a tour of the Philadelphia area several 100% mechanical farms were found, as shown by these pictures.

Implements, typical of a mechanical farm's equipment, in action on the 6,500-acre King farm at Morrisville, Pa.

Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr.
Being Mostly in Midwest

SPENT a delightfully quiet afternoon and evening in St. Louis with the Leicester Fausts at their country place in Clayton, Mo. Leicester much interested in civic welfare, especially in "Manresa," the first and only Negro layman's retreat in the world. It is conducted by the Reverend Otto J. Moorman, pastor of the Holy Angels' Church and Mission in South Kimlock. Father Moorman took over the mission in 1929 and the congregation has increased from 49 to 306 since. Although it is announced that money for the retreat—house, chapel and rock garden—was donated by an anonymous white St. Louisian, practically everyone knows that the heir of Anheuser Busch is the man. The chapel is built underground in the garden and is a copy of the cave in Manresa, Spain, where St. Ignatius of Loyola, founder of the Society of Jesus, retired from the world four centuries ago in meditation. Each morning the Retreatants walk through the garden reciting the Rosary. The Fausts' beautiful country home is also Spanish in design, architecture and priceless antiques.

Talked next evening before the students of the Concordia Seminary, largest male Lutheran institution of its kind in the world, founded in 1839 by Saxon immigrants who fled to America to escape early day brutalities in Prussia. It has stood for 102 years as a shining light to all the oppressed. It covers 73 acres on a hill overlooking St. Louis, has an enrollment of nearly 1,000 students from every state in the Union and from 27 foreign countries. Theological students are exempt from the draft and I was told by one of them that the enrollment this year is much larger than it was two years ago. Twenty-two out of every 100 students actually enter the ministry. Concerning all "uprisings" in any part of the world, the students vote among themselves as to whether it is a "just war" or not. No vote has been recorded so far on the present war and as the students enroll for a period of more than four years, it may be some time before a vote is taken.

Took the midnight express to Chicago and out immediately to Fort Sheridan, 30 miles north on Lake Michigan, to spend the day with my old friends, the Colonel Durings. He is executive officer of Chicago's largest cantonment and although German born, fought heroically in the last war and received the D.S.O. from the American army. Besides being the Midwest's largest induction center for draftees, Fort Sheridan is best known perhaps because it has the army's only school for bakers and cooks. Here every 60 days a large number of culinary experts is turned out. They are sent to cantonments, barracks and army posts throughout our vast military area. Visiting this section, I was especially impressed by the cleanliness of everything and by the modernity of the machinery now used to prepare the enlisted men's mess. Besides all sorts of electrical equipment, the new army gas stoves are everywhere. These fit into the rear end of army trucks and are attached to the motors' exhausts. They are collapsible. The present-day American army in the field is no more like the AEF in which I served in the last war as a buck private than night is like day. Today, a modern buck private sleeps between sheets; he carries four of them and two pillow cases among his equipment! We used to roll our marching shoes in our tunics and use them as a pillow in 1917-18. The Durings gave a tea party in their attractive house on the Post for Colonel and Mrs. John H. Horner, commandant of the 48th Artillery Brigade and one of the army officers told me an amusing fact: British officers attached to the camp as instructors are now flying back and forth across the Atlantic from Canada with no more effort than we cross the nation. One of those present was leaving that very evening. He would be back in Chicago inside of four days—the flight from "a point in Canada" to one in the British Isles now takes less than five hours! Coming back in the big British flying boats, they bring 30 to 35 young men every trip to instruct them in Canada in all the most modern flying tactics, so that they may pilot the planes being delivered to England.

Have been reading Quent Reynolds' "The Wounded Don't Cry." By far the most readable book on the war thus far published, at least to my mind.

SEEING THINGS: Sign along the highway—"Pull in at Pulleys." We did—and had the best piece of Y-pie ever. ing, especially where rainfall is heavy. In dry areas the soil blows away. These factors, plus misuse, such as overcropping or wasteful stripping of the land for quick profits have caused rapid soil losses from the very beginning of this Nation's development. Thus, soil depletion can be regarded as the first and biggest factor in our national farm problem. When the great depression hit us in the early 1930's many farm families were on land that had been cropped out, others continued to grow more and more soil-depleting crops. Surplus supplies piled up, prices went down, buying power dwindled. The Nation then realized that we could have suffering and want in the midst of plenty.

It now appears that on an average the farms of the United States have lost one-fourth of their soil covering. Some believe that without conservation program we might see half of it gone in another 39 years. Others say this country might cease to be a world power in the next 100 years if we should continue to use our land in the old way.

The serious nature of the problem is recognized, but the solution will be difficult. Farm income is comparatively low and farmers must have a greater return from their land to enable them to conserve it properly and stay in business. To do these things they must work together on a Nation-wide scale, using the best facilities of all the action agencies dealing with conservation and land care. That's where the AAA comes in.

perienced in the Donley County Seat. Silvertown received 1.58 inches of rain along with the high wind and tornado, and also considerable hail. Hail and wind damage to the ripening wheat cannot be estimated. Some of the wheat is coming up again, while plenty of it has gone down for the count. All cotton will have to be replanted in this vicinity, part of it for the fourth time. Many are turning to other crops in the hope of getting a stand.

All in all, in property and crop damage, the Sunday night's storm may have been the Panhandle's most costly storm. Daily papers report the damage extending on north through Oklahoma and Kansas.

SANDERS WRITES OF LIFE IN HAWAII

where the wind blows all of the time. We came to a pleasant looking beach and stopped for lunch. Just outside the breakers was a high rocky island called Rabbit Island. It is a bird refuge and at times there are thousands there.

After lunch we proceeded on and dropped back inland, after a little we started up another mountain. At the top we dropped off to the right back toward the coast. The road to left went even higher to the famed Wuani Pali where old King Kamehameha and his army jumped over the cliff rather than be captured by their enemies.

Not long after we had dropped back to the coast I looked off to my left and saw a herd of white face cattle. It made me very home sick.

Then we were back in the sugar cane again, and here they were harvesting. The cane grows very thick and rank so they set the field on fire and burn the fodder, then they cut the cane and stack it. Next they lay railroad tracks into the field every 100 yards or so and run flat cars in and haul the cane to the sugar mills.

On other occasions during the maneuvers just over I have been through some beautiful mountainous country accessible only by foot even pack horses could not go. The most beautiful and most rugged of these trails is Waikane. It goes up to almost 4,000 ft. The trail is very narrow and rocky and goes on the upper part, it rains nearly all the time. You get wet to the skin and muddy to the waist, and so tired you want to lay down and say to H... I with it. At two places the trail goes along a ridge two to three feet wide and almost sheer drop over a 1,000 feet on either side.

Standing at the top in all directions you can see beautiful green mountains and valleys and the Pacific Ocean on two sides of the island. The ocean is bluer here than it is the mainland.

From a soldiers standpoint there are three main drawbacks: too many sailors, too many M. P.'s, and prices too high.

ALLIS-CHALMERS AUTHORIZED SALES AND SERVICE

We're Ready For Your Wheat

The 1941 harvest is here and we have our elevators and warehouses in tip-top shape for taking care of your wheat. We will, as usual, be in the market for your wheat at both Silvertown and Whitely Switch. Bonded storage is open to you at both places.

Licensed And Bonded STORAGE

HOME STORAGE WILL MAKE YOU MONEY

You, no doubt, will want to take advantage of the Government Loan on this year's crop, as the loan value is several cents higher than market price. We have licensed and bonded storage that will handle 500,000 bushels of wheat, and will build more if necessary.

Let us show you that WHEAT STORED AT HOME will make you several cents on the bushel.

Wheat stored with us is subject to withdrawal at any time . . . or we will be glad to buy at top market prices.

We want you to know that your annual harvest business is appreciated at these elevators. We are continually improving and enlarging our elevators and our storage capacity to give you a time and money-saving service.

Certified: 13,398 MILES ON A SINGLE 5-QT. FILL OF THIS NEW OIL

5 OTHER GOOD OILS OUTDISTANCED 74% TO 161%

- Impartial test in Death Valley Desert.
- 6 cars Destroyed to give you Economy data beyond any Quibbles.

U. S. Patent No. 2,218,132 tells exactly what is new about the new Conoco motor oil named

CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL

5 quarts of this same new Conoco Nth oil that you can buy today, lasted 13,398.8 miles in a stock coupe—under lock and under scrutiny every minute.

13,398 miles up and down Death Valley. Sand and sagebrush. Lowest land and highest extremes of heat in our U. S. A.

5 other well known oils got the same chance as new Conoco Nth oil. 6 identical new cars were used. Tune-ups, tire pressures, speeds, and all other factors were the same for all—impartially. Engines were under lock. Qualified authorities eyed everything.

The test was simple and stern... Each car got its 5-quart fill of some one competing oil and was run at a 57-mile speed, without added oil, till the engine smashed up. New Conoco Nth motor oil went 13,398 miles. Certified. Not another oil came within 5,683 miles of that and one was outlasted 8,268 miles by new Conoco Nth oil. Certified.

The reasons are straight and simple... New, patented Conoco Nth motor oil contains Thiakene inhibitor, a new synthetic . . . man-made by Conoco.

Now an inhibition is something that restrains you—checks you. And Thiakene inhibitor checks the effect of poisons always formed in normal engine operation. Instead of "festering," weakening, and passing out, this oil is scientifically prepared to keep its health, so that the engine can do the same—a good way to keep up the oil-level.

OIL-PLATING, too!... Long the keystone of Conoco success, OIL-PLATING comes from another Conoco synthetic. . . (U. S. Patent 1,944,941). Magnet-like action bonds OIL-PLATING to engine parts, so it can't all drain down—not even overnight.

While you use Conoco Nth, this OIL-PLATING stays on guard against wear in advance! By OIL-PLATING the engine and inhibiting the worst effect of oil pollution, one fill of new Conoco Nth lasted 13,398 miles. Certified.

You'll not put your car through such a third-degree—any more than you keep starting in high gear just because you could. You'll certainly never want to exceed the recommended distance between crankcase drains. But knowing that new Conoco Nth oil lasted 74% to 161% longer than other oils tested, see how seldom you add a quart. At Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station today change to your correct Summer grade of popular-priced new Conoco Nth oil. Continental Oil Company—Pioneers in Bettering America's oil with Synthetics

CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL

CERTIFIED I hereby certify that the Death Valley Test and related work were thoroughly and fairly conducted. Engine Destruction occurred in each case at the mileage stated.
