WPA Help Needed For Highway 86

SILVERTON GIN TO OPEN

Contrary to rumors, the Silverton Gin will be open as usual this year, according to Carl Crow, who will act as the local manager of the Concern. A complete check-up will be made this week end to make sure that everything is ready to open. The gin has been overhauled already since the close of last year's ginning season, and everything is thought to be in readiness. In the words of Crow, "We'll be ready whenever the cotton is ready."

In the cotton ginning season the gin is one of the most important business places in town and benefits both farmer and merchant. In an ad this week the Gin announced very definitely that it WILL BE doing business.

Prospects for a cotton crop in the vicinity are considerable brighter than they were a few weeks ago. The acreage is small, and it is late, but with good fall weather, the cotton farmer may do pretty well. Better prices this year are expected to make up for a large quantity crop. Prospects around Quitaque are said to be the best in years.

RURAL TEACHERS FOR 1941 and 1942

Rural teachers as announced by W. Coffee, Jr., County Superintendent, are as follows: ROCK CREEK: Mr. and Mrs. Craft HAYLAKE.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Spencer GASOLINE: E. P. Lewis, Mrs. Virginia Degan SAN JACINTO: Mr. and Mrs. Braly.

The above schools are all the rural schools that will be operating as separate units. Wallace, Francis, Holt, and Lakeview will attend the consolidated school at Silverton.

SILVERTON LIONS IN DRIVE FOR ATTENDANCE

The Silverton Lions are having a slump in attendance and Maurice Foust, attendance chairman, announced this week that a drive would start next week in an effort to pick up the ends of a lagging interest. He has divided the club into two teams which are headed by Jake Honea and L. T. Wood. After a two months contest the losing side must pay off to the winners with a barbecue, banquet or some such thing for the winners and their wives.

The two teams are as follows (and it is suggested that each Lion clip this list and use it):

- Captain, L. T. Wood
- Clarence Anderson
- Claude Carpenter
- R. E. Douglas
- Roy Hahn
- George Kirk
- J. T. Luke
- Doc Minyard
- Alvin Redin
- H. S. Sanders
- Lem Weaver
- Grady Wimberly
- R. G. Alexander
- Captain, Jake Honea
- T. C. Bomar
- W. Coffee, Jr.
- Maurice Foust
- Victor Harmon
- Louie Kitchens
- Clay Fowler
- J. V. Peeler
- Paul S. Rogers
- W. E. Schott, Jr.
- J. L. Webb
- T. R. Whiteside
- Warner Reid

Paul Rogers furnished the program for the meeting Wednesday noon. With Lou Ann Williamson at the piano, Jean Northcutt and Dorothy Roy McMurtry sang, followed by two songs by young Rollin Wilborn. The Club enjoyed the young folks program.

Next week the club is working for a 100% attendance. Joe O'Neal is furnishing the Garden Club ladies with everything for a good meal, right from his farm, and Joe and his wife are to be guests of the club. Plans will also be discussed for a big party in the Haylake Community for Haylake folks.

Every Lion is expected — (even Gordon and Nig).

Indications are that work will start within the next few weeks on the construction work west of Silverton on Highway 86. Resident Engineer Garrett made a request this week for the number of men available for WPA work on the project. County officials are now locating dirt pit sites, and in all it looks like Highway 86 would soon be under construction.

The project as set up, is a state highway construction job, utilizing WPA labor. A complete job will be done—grade, drainage and paving. The completed job will tie the Silverton-Tulla gap, and for the first time Briscoe County will have a through paved highway.

Governor Stevenson has also called a special session of the Legislature, to reconsider the bond assumption act, in which Briscoe County is, at this time, vitally interested.

THE RIGHT TO SPEAK

The recent report from Washington that censorship legislation for newspapers, radio, motion pictures and all other forms of communications in and out of the United States was about to be introduced in Congress brought a prompt denial of any such plans from President Roosevelt. In spite of that, however, the news association that circulated the original story insists that it is true. Americans who value their liberty can only hope that it is not.

Freedom of the press has always been one of the fundamental freedoms in our democracy. Today we are arming to defend those freedoms—all of them. Our eyes are fixed outside our country for signs of aggression against us. But aggression does not always come from abroad. It may be well from time to time to turn back our gaze and search America for signs of internal attack upon traditional liberties.

In the dictator countries, freedom of the press was one of the first freedoms to fall under the axe of government decree. Take away a man's right to say what he honestly thinks, and you set the stage for a nation of puppets, all dancing to the vicious music of subtle propaganda. It has happened in other nations. We dare not let it happen here.

Mrs. Bob Pimlott, Eleanor Cable, Jim Cable, Ben Cable of Freedom, Oklahoma, and Mr. and Mrs. Art Pimlott of Kress visited the Roy Hahns one day last week. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lyons were Amarillo visitors Tuesday.

HEALTH NOTES

"The Venereal Disease Program of the Texas State Department of Health, in cooperation with the Texas State Medical Association composed of some five thousand Texas physicians, has rapidly expanded during the past two years", Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, declared here today. "And at present it is reaching 90 percent of the State's population".

This work is vital to National Defense and has been highly commended by those in charge of Selective Service. Young men infected with venereal disease are not acceptable for training in the armed forces for the defense of this Nation. Every effort is being made, in cooperation with military authorities, to keep venereal disease infections to a minimum. The need of this work in National Defense and in civilian life is apparent when the records of the draft boards in Texas show that six out of every one hundred men examined are rejected for military service because of a syphilitic infection.

At the present time 90 venereal disease clinics are in operation in 62 counties and in an additional 130 counties treatment is available to the indigent patients through service given by the physicians of Texas. In this latter case, through plans worked out between the State Health Department and local medical societies, drugs are supplied through the State Health Department to assist the physicians in giving service to the indigent patients. Of the 44 cities in Texas with a population of over 10,000 only a few are without available treatments, and in these venereal disease services are being rapidly developed. When is accomplished, Texas will be among the leading states in meeting its venereal disease problem.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Wimberly honored their daughter Freda, on her birthday Wednesday with a barbecue.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Dickerson of Amarillo spent Sunday and Monday with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dickerson.

Edythe Wimberly and Peggy have moved to Plainview where she has purchased a beauty shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Carver Monroe and daughter and Mr. J. W. Monroe spent Sunday with his brother Mr. J. Monroe, who is in the hospital at Stanford.

Wilford Mae and Roselyn Brooks returned home Monday after spending several days with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Lee in Quitaque.

Mrs. Claude Pharr of Ozona, Texas visited her sister Mrs. W. H. Brooks a few days last week. Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Vaughn have recently moved to Amherst, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Stevenson attended the Old Settlers Picnic in Canyon Thursday.

USE OF "ENRICHED FLOUR IMPROVES AMERICA'S DIET

Recognizing the serious problem of mal-nutrition in the United States, the Federal Government in cooperation with medical profession and the millers and bakers of the country, have embarked on a scientific course to improve the nation's diet.

An important forward step in the improvement of America's diet has been the development of "enriched" white flour. Up to this time most of the flour on the market was the plain white kind, made from the inner part of the wheat grain with the germ and most of the bran removed.

With the introduction of the new "enriched" white flour homemakers can purchase a higher vitamin and mineral content flour than in the past. A definition and standard for "enriched" flour will become effective under the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, January 1, 1942. This "enriched" flour will have to contain a certain amount of thiamin chloride (vitamin B), riboflavin (vitamin G), nicotinic acid (the pellagra-preventing factor), and iron. It may also have calcium and vitamin D added, but these will be optional ingredients.

Enriched flour on the market before the definition and standard were announced did not have to contain riboflavin.

The Surplus Marketing Administration has listed "enriched" flour as a "blue stamp food". It can be purchased by clients of the Food Stamp Plan with their free blue food stamps.

In taste the new flour cannot be distinguished from plain white flour. In looks, the new flour has been "enriched" by the addition of vitamin and mineral concentrates after it has been milled and resembles plain white flour. On the other hand, the new flour that has been "enriched" by modifying the milling process so as to retain a larger amount of the grain, particularly those parts richest in vitamins and minerals, will be a light creamy color rather than a pure white.

These new flours are labeled "enriched" and homemakers may be sure flour so labeled contains at least the minimum amounts of thiamin chloride, nicotinic acid, and iron set by standard. Many manufacturers are labeling the use of these nutrients in their product.

For home baking, the consumer now has the choice of patent white flour, "enriched" flour, and whole wheat flour, all are products of the wheat grain, but the "enriched" and the whole grain flours have more vitamin and mineral content than the patent flour.

Mrs. Virgil Ballard, and daughters Johni Jo and Betty Lou left for their home in Dallas Wednesday after spending the last two months with her parents Dr. and Mrs. O. T. Bundy. The Ballards returned to Dallas with Mr. Kiker of Plainview.

FARMERS FOOD STORE INTO NEW HANDS

The Farmers Food Store, which has operated here for the past five years under the management of I. S. Bogy, changed hands this week when Aulton Durham purchased the place. Durham resigned a coaching job at Munday, Texas to take charge of the store.

Several definite changes are being planned in the operation of the store as soon as possible, and when everything is in readiness, Aulton Durham plans to have a regular formal opening.

Mr. Bogy will be in and out of the store for the next two weeks, helping to get the new owner "under way".

This week the store is listing some grocery and meat buys, and with them Durham extends a cordial invitation to old customers to continue their trade, and invites everyone in to try the service.

Mr. Bogy has made many friends and customers during his residence in Silverton and he carries their "good luck" with him to his new home at Lubbock. He has announced no definite plans.

PRESBYTERIANS IN AUXILIARY MEETING

The Presbyterian Auxiliary opened their fall work with an interesting program, good membership and good fellowship. Last Monday afternoon, Mrs. Dean Allard welcomed a number of members and visitors to her home for the first meeting since last spring.

Mrs. Sid Richards presided during the business-part, during which time Mrs. D. T. Northcutt read the minutes and read letters thanking this Society for their gifts to the Amarillo childrens home and asking for supplies needed in the Presbyterian Hospitals. Roll call was answered by Scripture verses. Reports on everyday-cards and christmas cards indicated the committee will have an unusually large and lovely selection for their appreciated customers to choose from as early as they care to order.

Mrs. True Burson led the lesson and gave the devotional. This program was a prologue to the study course for the year on "Women of the Bible".

Mrs. Alexander gave a talk on "Physical Attributes of Woman", which the Scriptures approve or require.

Mrs. Lemons paper on "Woman's Appreciation of Beauty", as revealed in the Bible, was well-received; and Mrs. Wrights reading: "The Woman Who Understands," summarized the thoughts discussed by the others.

Mrs. Allard served grape-juice and cakes to her guests, there were three visitors, Mrs. Mary Jones of Plainview, the President of the Plainview Young Women's Circle, of the Presbyterian Church; Mrs. Allensworth, Silverton; and Miss Opal Watson of Lubbock, and the following members: Mesdames: Kemp Thompson, Gordon Alexander, Monroe Lowry, D. A. Northcutt, Jim Stevenson, Lena Northcutt, Sid Richards, J. E. Watson, A. L. McMurtry, True Burson, Fred Lemons and Clyde Wright.

The meeting of September 15 will be at the home of Mrs. True Burson.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hill left Monday for Dallas where they have employment.

Ed Stahl who has been employed at McEwin Grocery for the past few weeks left Sunday for Plainview. Mr. Clyde Hutsell has taken his place in the store.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gillespie spent Sunday with his brother Mr. and Mrs. Venus Gillespie.

Mrs. H. E. Fowler, Johnnie Quillen and Louie Bonds were shopping in Plainview Tuesday.

The March of Time Study Club held their first meeting Thursday afternoon at the High School.

Preliminary work by Phillips Petroleum Company has begun on Silverton's wildcat oil test well, nine miles south of town, and the real drilling crew will arrive within a few days. The storage basin and slush pit have been constructed, and the "cellar" marking the exact drilling site has been dug.

Lewis Francis has the contract for drilling the water well, and is down over a hundred feet toward water. A considerable amount of timber, and rig material has been assembled on the site, and the roadway improved to the location.

It was intended to start drilling by the fifth of this month but with the material not all on hand yet, it will probably be ten days or two weeks.

One thing is apparent, Phillips is going after oil, if it is there. One drilling man said that he thought that the 6,500 foot contract depth was not the limit—that if necessary drilling would go on "until we either strike oil or granite".

The crew is said to be three eight-hour shifts of five men each. An effort is being made now to find places in Silverton for these men and their families to stay.

SCHOOL REGISTRATION STARTS SATURDAY MORNING

The 1941 school term gets underway here Saturday with the registration of Junior and Senior classes. Town students are requested to register as early in the day as possible. Registration of other students will start Monday morning and books will be issued. The students' day will end at noon, and the rest of the day will be taken up with faculty organization. The regular school sessions will get under way Tuesday morning.

Parents are cordially invited to attend the Monday morning session. There will be a very brief program, and the introduction of teachers to student body and parents.

Bulletin — As we go to press a telegram was received from Fern Murphy, tendering her resignation as English Instructor. Virginia Knapp is contemplating an offer to teach journalism in another school. Rogers is hard at work trying to locate replacement teachers.

Regular football practices start Monday under the direction of Robert King. More boys are needed to show up for workouts, and more are expected when Monday morning rolls around.

Miss Vera Thacker of Floyd County has been secured to teach the fifth grade. Miss Wilkerson, Clarendon, will have charge of the music department, with the exception of band.

NEW MANAGEMENT AT BOWLING ALLEY

The bowling alley underwent a complete rejuvenation during the past week. Emmett Potter purchased the place from McWilliams and has refurnished the alleys, and has new pins and balls. He has renamed it the "Silverton Bowling Alley", and says that the place is tip-top in every way.

Emmett says that he has had several requests from the ladies wanting a special night. He has set aside Tuesday Nights for the girls. No men will be allowed—not even as spectators.

Let's bow!

STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO
By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

CAREY WILSON, producer of the Hardy Family pictures, was awarded a Master of Arts degree by the Colorado State College of Education recently, in recognition of his "artistic, creative and ethical contributions to the screen and because the Hardy pictures have made an outstanding contribution to clean, wholesome entertainment for the American people."

All of which is pretty impressive. But—right on the heels of all that, the National League of Decency cracked down on "Life Begins for Andy Hardy," the latest of the series, finding it objectionable for children!

Norma Shearer is back in Hollywood after a visit in New York, preparing for her first film since "Escape." It will be "We Were Dancing," based on a Noel Coward stage success, and Melvyn Douglas will be her romantic partner. He's now occupied with "The Twins," along with Greta Garbo and Constance Bennett—that's the one in which Garbo evidently does practically everything but walk a tight rope.

Lyle Moraine, who writes songs and works in pictures, was inspired by Bob Hope's "Caught in the Draft" to write "I've Been Drafted, Now I'm Drafting You," which Hope and Miss Lamour sang on the air. Moraine announced the other day on the "Louisiana Purchase" set that part of the title had been in the nature of a prophecy. He's set for a compulsory role in the army.

Dinah Shore, who sings "Yes My Darling Daughter" so effectively that it made her famous on the air, has had to defer her picture-making plans. She's been re-signed for the new Eddie Cantor program, which means that she'll remain in New York. Cantor is set to stay there; he's returning to the stage in the autumn in a musical comedy entitled "Banjo Eyes."

The Rudy Vallee program now has an impressively large production staff—six script writers and four song writers, to turn out the original music. All of which doesn't keep John Barrymore from ignoring the script and ad libbing occasionally.

Lana Turner, making it three in a row—three of Hollywood's most popular male stars. She did "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" with Spencer Tracy. Then came "Honky Tonk" with Clark Gable. Her next is "Johnny Eager," an underworld story, with Robert Taylor. That one sounds familiar — ex-convict, sored on the world, and society darling who falls in love with him.

As was expected, Ellen Drew lost no time after doing location scenes in Nevada for "The Remarkable Andrew" before marrying Sy Bartlett in the same state. Paramount lost no time in putting her into "Prison Widows," a story of the women who wait outside prison gates for their men to return to them. She's being currently seen on the country's screens in "The Parson of Panamint."

Mildred Coles was heartbroken a while ago when, after a week's shooting in "Scattergood Pulls the Strings," she came down with acute appendicitis and Susan Peters had to take over her role. Now she's happy; she's leading lady in "Scattergood Meets Broadway."

ODDS AND ENDS—Ann Sheridan will be in two Warner pictures at the same time for the next two months—"The Man Who Came to Dinner" and "King's Row" . . . The Mutual chain will bring five championship bouts to the air this late summer and fall . . . White Hoyt never was afraid of anything when he played baseball—but now that he's broadcasting he's afraid of the word "particularly" . . . Betty Harrison, Deanna Durbin's stand-in for five years, will appear on the screen for the first time in Deanna's "It Started With Adam" . . . Tyrone Power won two laurels recently as an eastern little theater.

ADD ZEST TO MEALS WITH JELLIES AND RELISHES

LINE YOUR PANTRY SHELF!

As full of tang and zest as autumn are these recipes tailored to fit your canning cupboard. Crisp relishes, sparkling jellies, bright tomato catsup, and pickles of cucumber and peach—what a selection you'll have for making your meals a festive board!

Your pantry shelf lined with these sweet, spicy fruits and vegetables will be your line of defense, too, not only for meal planning but in working out a nutrition and food defense program. Generous supplies of fruits and vegetables now will assure you of plenty in fall and winter if you put them up.

Be sure to use a good quality cider vinegar to prevent pickles from becoming soft, tough, or shriveled. Good, full-bodied spices are also vital to successful canning.

"Bread and Butter Pickles." (Makes 5 to 6 pints)
25 medium sized cucumbers
10 onions (medium-white)
1/2 cup salt
1 pint vinegar
2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons mustard seed
2 tablespoons ginger
2 tablespoons turmeric

Let unpeeled cucumbers stand in water overnight. Then slice cucumbers and onions and place in pan with salt (no water). Let stand 1 hour, then rinse off salt, add vinegar, mustard seed, ginger and turmeric. Boil all ingredients until peel turns yellow (about 40 minutes). Pack pickles in sterilized jars. Seal and allow to stand 10 days before using.

Remember those amber-colored watermelon pickles mother used to put out? I'm sure you do, so here's the recipe which rates high:

"Watermelon Pickles."
Thinly cut the green rind from watermelon, removing soft part of pink meat. Cut in pieces and cover with salt water made from 1 cup salt to 4 cups water. Soak 12 hours, drain and cook in boiling water until half tender, about 10 minutes. For every pound of rind, allow a sauce made from:
1 3-inch stick of cinnamon
8 cloves without heads
2 cups sugar
1 cup water
1 cup vinegar

The spices in a cloth bag. Cook all ingredients 10 minutes. Add rind and slowly bring to a boil. Remove spices. Place rind in sterilized jars, cover with hot syrup and seal.

Spice the fruits from your orchard or carefully chosen material from the market and you will always have something of a surprise to add to mealtime. Served as a meat accompaniment, garnish or a relish whole, luscious fruit decorated demurely with cloves, ripened and mellowed in heavy syrup, fills menu demands beautifully.

"Pickled Fruit." (Makes 5 to 6 pints)
2 cups vinegar
5 cups brown sugar
or
2 1/2 cups each, brown and white sugar
2 tablespoons whole cloves
2 sticks cinnamon
4 quarts peaches, pears, or crab-apples

Cook sugar, vinegar, spices 20 minutes. Select firm fruit, remove the thin skins from pears and peaches, if using them, but do not pare crabapples, rather leave them with skins on. Drop in fruits, few at a time, and cook until tender. Pack in hot sterilized jars, adding syrup within a half inch of the top. Seal and store in a cool, dry place.

Concord grapes, deep purple, velvety, and plump with juice are one of autumn's favorite fruits. They lend themselves nicely to jelly, either by themselves or in combination with other fruits. As conserves, too, they will help you make menu magic.

"Concord Grape Jelly." (Makes 11 medium glasses)
3 pounds ripe Concord grapes
1/2 cup water
7/8 cups sugar
1/2 bottle fruit pectin

Stem the grapes and crush them thoroughly. Add the water, bring to a boil, cover, simmer 10 minutes. Place fruit in jelly bag and squeeze out juice (about 4 cups). Place sugar and fruit juice in large saucepan, mix, and bring to a boil over a very hot fire. Add pectin, stirring constantly, bring to a full rolling boil. Boil hard 1/2 minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once.

"Grape Conserve." (Makes 10 12-ounce glasses)
7 pounds Concord grapes
Sugar
2 pounds seedless white grapes
4 oranges, sliced thin
1 pound broken walnut meats
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

Stem the grapes; wash and mash slightly. Cook slowly until juice is free, about 15 minutes. Force through a sieve to remove seeds. Measure pulp. To every 4 cups pulp, add 3 cups sugar. Add white grapes, orange slices, cinnamon and nutmeg. Cook to the jelly stage. Remove from heat; add nutsmeats. Seal in hot, sterilized glasses.

Putting up a batch of tomato catsup offers pleasure in more ways than one. You enjoy the luscious, spicy odor of the cooking, and the fragrance seems to permeate the house for days. You'll enjoy seeing the jars of rich red fruit on the shelves, and then again you'll like tartness of the relish as part of your meals.

"Tomato Catsup." (Makes 5 to 6 pints)
4 quarts of tomatoes, quartered
2 large onions, chopped
2 cups granulated sugar
2 cups vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons whole allspice
1/2 tablespoon whole cinnamon
2 tablespoons whole cloves
1 teaspoon whole black pepper
2 tablespoons paprika
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard

Simmer tomatoes, onions, sugar, and vinegar 2 hours. Tie the all-spice, pepper, cinnamon and cloves in a bag and add with the remaining ingredients, and continue cooking for another hour. Remove the bag of spices and force the vegetables through a sieve. Reheat to bubbling hot and pack in hot, sterile jars.

REVELATION: A MESSAGE TO PERSECUTED CHURCHES

LESSON TEXT—Revelation 1:3.
GOLDEN TEXT—Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life.—Revelation 2:10.

The Revelation is so little known that we need part of our first lesson for an introduction to the book. The fact that this is a "revelation" which God gave to Jesus Christ, "to show unto his servants things which must shortly come to pass" (1:1), should make us all eager to study it. But it is significant that there is a promise of special blessing to those who do read (1:3), and a solemn warning against tampering with the book (22:18, 19). Quite evidently God places great importance on the reading and study of this book. Can we do less?

The book is not easy to interpret, and men have differed greatly as to its meaning. There are four general schools of interpretation: (1) The preterist, which puts it all in the past. Since many of its predictions have not yet taken place, this view seems untenable. (2) The idealist, which regards the book as being entirely symbolical of spiritual principles. There is truth in this view, but it does not cover the historical events mentioned in the Revelation which are yet to take place in the world. (3) The historicist, which regards the book as mainly an outline of church history. This too fails to account for prophecies yet unfulfilled. (4) The futurist (which seems to be the best view); namely, that chapters two and three, while relating to actual churches then in existence, also outline the entire history of the church, and that the remainder of the book relates to future events. This is the interpretation which is largely held by conservative Bible teachers.

A brief outline of the Revelation is found (1:19) in the book itself: 1. "The things which were" (John's vision)—chapter 1. 2. "The things which are" (the seven churches)—chapters 2 and 3. 3. "The things which shall be" (the six sevens; namely, seals, trumpets, personages, vials, dooms, and new things)—chapters 4 to 22.

Our lesson portion brings before us two of the seven churches of Asia—Ephesus and Smyrna—with their lessons for our day.

I. The Ephesus Church—Active but Cold, and Facing Judgment (2:1-7)

Following the salutation and the glorious vision of the Son of man (do not fail to read it, Rev. 1:9-18), the apostle, who was the one to whom the vision came, is directed to write to the church at Ephesus, addressing it through "the angel" of the church. We do not know who he was, but since the word means "messenger," it may refer to a leading officer or elder.

The picture of the church at Ephesus was a very beautiful one. It was an active church, not afraid to work, patient under trial, commendably impatient with sin and worldliness. It was not afraid to exercise discipline, to discredit false apostles, and to stand against the evil works of the worldly-minded. There would seem that there could be nothing more said for a church, but there was a vital note lacking. In activity they were perfect, but they had departed from their first love.

What is meant by leaving their first love? "First love is the abandonment of all for a love that has abandoned all . . . The church at Ephesus was still a remarkable church, but it lacked the element of that enthusiasm, which in the eyes of the calculating worldling, is imprudent. There are some people who imagine that this lack of enthusiasm is an advantage. May God have mercy on such. I pray the day may never come when the heroisms and enthusiasms of first love shall cease" (G. Campbell Morgan).

Repentance was called for, or God said He would extinguish the light of that church. The lesson for us is that cold orthodoxy will kill a church.

II. The Smyrna Church—Poor but Faithful, and Facing Persecution (2:8-11)

This is one of the two churches of the seven for which there is no word of rebuke, Philadelphia being the other. It was a poverty-stricken church humanly speaking, but rich in the sight of God. Such a church may be more useful to God and more precious to Him than a large church which is cold and indifferent.

What does He have to promise this church? Persecution. We who follow Him upon whom men spat, who was so buffeted and despised, yes, even crucified—shall we be surprised if a hostile world persecutes us?

Note that the Lord knew all about their sufferings, both present and future. He was with them, and would continue to be with them, so they had no occasion to fear. Then at the end of their suffering there would be the crown of life.

FAMOUS ALL-BRAN MUFFINS. EASY TO MAKE. DELICIOUS!

They really are the most delicious muffins that ever melted a pat of butter! Made with crisp, toasted shreds of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN, they have a texture and flavor that have made them famous all over America.

KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN MUFFINS
2 tablespoons 1/2 cup milk
1 egg sugar 1/2 cup flour
1 cup All-Bran 2 1/2 teaspoons
Cream shortening and sugar; add egg and beat well. Stir in All-Bran and milk; let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Stir flour with salt and baking powder; add to first mixture and stir only until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) about 30 minutes. Yield: 6 large muffins, 3 inches in diameter, or 12 small muffins, 2 1/2 inches in diameter.

Try these delicious muffins for dinner tonight or for tomorrow morning's breakfast. They're not only good to eat; they're mighty good for you as well. For several of these muffins will add materially to your daily supply of what physicians call "bulk" in the diet, and thus help combat the common kind of constipation that is due to lack of this dietary essential. Eat ALL-BRAN every day (either as a cereal or in muffins), drink plenty of water, and see if you don't forget all about constipation due to lack of "bulk." ALL-BRAN is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

ROY W. HAHN
Editor and Publisher

WELL HERE TIS Wednesday night with vivid lightning flashes outside, the lights flickering, going, going, --- now they are gone. But I foled them this time. I have an old lantern at hand and in spite of Helen Highwater, (and the electrical service) you are going to have a column. Peeler isn't going to like that part in the parenthesis but Peeler and me don't jibe anyway. He told me the other day that a pile driver was some kind of a surgical instrument. Tch, Tch. Such knowledge!

WHUP, I'LL TAKE it back. The lights are on and seem to be pretty consistent. Peeler called me on the phone and told me they were on or I might have typed by my lantern the rest of the night.

WHERE THERE IS a will there is a way. Now take Maurice Foust for instance. When he makes up his mind to do a thing he does it. (Unless his wife is against it.) Any way, to go on with the story we had a few couple up to the house last night for a lawn party to celebrate the completion of an outdoor fireplace by Hahn, Hahn & Hahn, general masonry experts.

SO WE HAD a little beer for the girls and a lot for cokes for the men. But we got the buckets mixed and the redoubtable Foust got into the beer bucket. I was against it all the time but Barb insisted on serving watermelon just before quitting time. Is that a combination?

NOW TO GET back to Foust again and his remarkable sense of humor, originality, and resourcefulness. His missus reminded him that he had to get up early and open up the station. So Foust cuts off another big slice of melon and surrounds it. "Just to make sure I get up early", he says. Is that resourcefulness?

AND TO GET on with the idea of where there is a will there is a way. I am named to give Haylake folks a party out there somewhere next Wednesday night. That gives me a whole week yet to make plans, see the folks and invite them. You see the thing has this tone—"Come over to YOUR house and we'll play". But how we'll play I don't know yet. Next Wednesday I'll start laying plans. It will either be a watermelon feed, a weenie roast, a barbecue, a spelling bee, or a square dance . . . or perhaps a combination of all nine. But anyway, next Wednesday night we want you Haylake folks to come over to YOUR house and play. I hope really to have a brainstorm within the next seven days.

THE TOWN IS still in the dumps. Why? Don't ask me? This is a funny thing though. For any worthwhile cause, this bunch of men are generous to the extreme. BUT, ask a man for ten minutes of his valuable time to work on a committee or something and it is no sale. And at the same time he will build you for an hour telling why he can't do it.

I AM GOING to show Old Tack up. For months he cried, begged and threatened for Old Tack No.1 (oil well) to come in at Amarillo. He was sure of it and he couldn't miss—But he did! Now then, I have a chance to show him up. For really and truly we have an test starting, and I know, absolutely know, that we are going to hit. We have got to hit, and so we are going to hit. Now you watch what happens and see what happens. I have the type already set and she is already to go but dating. Something like this: "Oil history was made here today when oil blew over the derrick top at the rate of 500 barrels an hour. As we go to press the roar of the escaping gas and oil can be heard for over a mile. Streets and Highways are congested with newcomers who are seeking homes and jobs in the Panhandle's newest field" . . .

SERIOUSLY ON THIS OIL drilling we have a job to do. The crew will be here any day now and they have notified Bob Stevenson that they would need several apartments, and furnished rooms. Some way we must accommodate those men here, even if it inconveniences us a bit. Bob is looking up folks who can furnish accommodations of one sort and another. So far he has this to offer:

- Apartments:
John Hutchinson
Mrs. Lena Northcutt
Clyde Wright
Mrs. Clifford Allard
Dee McWilliams
Mrs. J. A. Bain
Clay Fowler
Mrs. J. B. Porter
Furnished rooms
Mrs. Ruth Cline, 3 rooms
Mrs. John Guest, 1 room
John Bain, rooms for 5
Mrs. Garvin, unfurnished house
Mrs. Annie Burleson, 2 rooms

Now if you have any place where you could accommodate any of these men, be sure to call the News Office, Jake Honea or Bob Stevenson. There are several other places no doubt. Let's try to make these folks like us and our town. Remember that they are here for our good. Let's just kinda hand them the key to the town for a while. They will find us some oil, if we will just find them some living places.

FLOWERS AND as usual they should have been sent sooner:
Dear Roy:

I take it all back, and on bended knees humbly make my apology; of course, I did not really mean it, for I actually think you are putting out weekly one of the best pieces of literature published anywhere. Now with all this atone for my misdeeds.

I'll have to romp over Frank, that he should let out such a secret; who in all of Silverton except a preacher to be able to buy a new suit; letting this out will, no doubt, cause a great injury to the "cloth".

Well never mind, I was glad to see my name again in your honorable publication, and to know that, at least, while you were writing it up you were thinking about me.

I think you have for the kind eulogy about my feeble attempt to write an article for your column. I did not know that you valued it so highly.

We are in the midst of the war games; soldiers are passing by here all day, and there is a good deal of excitement, especially with the Northern Negroes, but it will all be over very quickly; I suppose we shall be out of it by the end of this week. I sympathize with you over the loss of the wheat now we have just about lost our cotton, and to-day we found evidences of the pink Boll worm in operation; every pest known to cotton has troubled us this year, and our crop will be short . . . Best of all wishes are for you.

Yours
John Thorns

Mr. Douglas filled in the troop inspection report. We were class "C" with 574 points. It takes 600 points to be class "B". We feel that when it comes time for the next troop inspection we shall be class "B".

The program was under the direction of Clovis Hill, which was very entertaining. We did a few

Those present were: Billy Dunn, Paul H. Webb, Clovis Hill, Narland Havran, Ray Cash, Edwin Norris, Wayland Harrison, Fredy Garrison, Jerry Simpson, Alvie Gardner, Coyce D. Kirk, George Wayne Rampley, and Dan Brookshier.

All scouts are urged to be at the meeting next Tuesday night to make plans for the camporall at Lubbock.

Now there are two famous cows, Mrs. O'Leary's and Mr. Wright's. Everybody knows about Mrs. O'Leary's cow, and the lawyers and police officers of Texas are learning about Mr. Wright's. It was four years ago that Wright began selling his cow, along with a song and dance, and he's been selling it ever since.

Wright—his initials are C. R., but his friends call him Charley—always sells this cow to one C. A. Fox for $42. Mr. Fox pays by check, typing everything but his scrawled signature, and usually notes on its face that the check is "For 1 cow."

Usually, upon selling the cow again, Wright calls upon a lawyer in a medium-sized city, retains the lawyer to handle a suit against a railroad whose train allegedly

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS By Edward C. Wayne

British-Russian Forces Invade Iran In Drive to Foil Alleged Nazi Coup; Navy Takes Over Shipbuilding Plant; Fierce Battle Marks Russo-Nazi War

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

COLOGNE, GERMANY.—This picture gives a dramatic view of a recent sensational daylight air raid by the British Royal Air force on a huge power station in the vicinity of Cologne. The bombers flew at a height of less than 100 feet at times. Much of the smoke was caused by air raid missiles and many direct hits were scored. The planes then swept lower still to get photographs like this.

PRODUCE: Or Else

While President Roosevelt struck out at critics who said that production was lagging, quoting chapter and verse, also war department figures to show Senator Byrd of Virginia that he had been misinformed, he also put the Kearny, N. J., shipyard back into production by ordering the navy to take over the plant.

Secretary Knox sent one of his admirals to take charge, and history, made when the army took over the North American Aviation plant, was repeated.

Yet there was said to be a difference in this latest plant seizure, in that the navy would not plan to relinquish it to the private owners after putting it in operation, but continue to operate it as a navy yard.

Thus the eventuality oddly enough sought by men and employer as well in this instance, was brought into being, an eventuality which the state authorities of New Jersey sought vainly and bitterly to prevent.

Sixteen thousand workers were affected, and the work on two cruisers, one almost ready for launching, six destroyers, three tankers and two freighters was halted, contracts adding up to $493,000,000, and awarded by the navy and the maritime commission.

The union was the International Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of the C.I.O.

IRAN: And Britain

The British demand on Iran that she expel all Nazi agents from her borders, and the Iranian refusal to obey, turned eyes again to the Middle East and Near East, and showed that Britain, conquerors of Syria with the aid of the Free French, realized the need of strengthening the position of her forces in that part of the world.

Few doubted the ability of the British, with the possible aid of the Russians, to take over little Persia, and present to the Nazis coming down from the Ukraine, or wishing to, a firmer front. It also would extend the common frontier with Turkey, and allow Ankara to have an excuse for maintaining a stronger pro-British neutrality.

Iran's fears were realized when British troops under the command of Gen. Archibald Wavell crossed into southern Iran and at the same time Soviet Russian forces moved into northern Iran from the Caucasus. There was resistance encountered, according to the early reports from the fighting fronts. London sources indicated that the movement into Iran came to foil a Nazi coup. The move was seen as a direct action to the refusal of the Iran to give a satisfactory reply to the British and Russian request that Germans be expelled from the country.

Iran was powerless militarily, though with an army technically measured at 120,000, to halt a British invasion in similar force to that which moved in on well-defended Syria, but she was in an important position geographically for Britain's Middle Eastern defense, believed one of the next tactical moves of the war, as the weather in northern Russia was about to tighten into winter temperatures and snows.

TRIPOLI:

The lengthening range of R.A.F. bombers was bringing the harbor of Tripoli, chief Mediterranean base for Nazi-Fascist operations in North Africa, more easily within reach.

Ports of the character of Tripoli being rare in northern Africa, the latest of these bombings, during which 25 tons of explosive were dropped, were said to show that the British are putting into effect a plan they believe utterly necessary—the preparation for the "switching" of a major Nazi offensive to Africa.

Land and Air Maneuvers at West Point

'Love Your Enemies' on Eastern Front

Mystery Blaze Sweeps Brooklyn Waterfront 'Gold in Them Peaks'

Darting as close to the flames as it dared go, a cameraman on a special plane made this unusual photo of the conflagration that swept pier 27 in Brooklyn in one of the worst fires in recent years. In the center, between both piers can be seen the Cuban liner, Panauca, ablaze. Scores of firemen were severely injured and some military supplies were damaged.

Goldminer Frank Gimlett, in from Colorado, gets his first glimpse at New York's architectural peaks. Equipped with pick, shovel and gold pan, he stands atop the Pennsylvania hotel with the Empire State building in the background. He is 76 years old.

Home from 'The Wars'

The U. S. S. Wakefield, formerly the S. S. Manhattan, is shown arriving in New York harbor with the force of soldiers who recently went south to co-operate with the U. S. marines in mimic war. Landing exercise and beach head tactics on the coast of North Carolina were high spots of the "war."

'Ears Pinned Back?'

This German plane looks like it had its "ears pinned back." Not so, however. It was a fine, almost undamaged specimen of the latest German fighter plane.

Post-War Food Problem Needs Intelligent Study

Method of Handling and Sharing Surpluses Could Have an Important Effect on World's Economic Future.

By BAUKHAGE

National Farm and Home Hour Commentator.

WNU Service, 1343 H St., N. W. Washington, D. C.

"The most surprising thing, of course, is a real egg for breakfast." The speaker was an Englishman who had just arrived from London and had flown from Nova Scotia to Ottawa, Canada. We were sitting in the Rideau Club in Ottawa, the third war-capital which I have visited since 1939.

As I watched my English acquaintance enjoying his Canadian salmon and deep dish pie, I realized how bad the food situation in England must be. In this column I have been writing about the millions of eggs which have been shipped across the Atlantic under the Lend-Lease law and the millions of dollars worth of cheese and bacon and fruits which have been purchased for the purpose of supplying the British Isles with American farm products.

"The people in England are worse off now, as far as food goes, than at any time during the World War," said the Englishman, "and I'm not too young to remember how bad that was."

It must have seemed strange to him to be sitting there in the capital of a nation at war and enjoying everything a generous table can offer. There is, of course, no lack of food for Britain. There is only lack of ships.

I myself found it difficult to get the war feel in Canada's capital. There are plenty of uniforms. This city of Ottawa, like Washington, has greatly increased in population; new temporary buildings have sprung up and others are in the process of construction. Even the beautiful new Supreme Court building is housing offices of the director of information and other war-torn bureaus; painted signs are pasted on the marble walls and messenger boys and stenographers hurry along the corridors where the stately justices are wont to tread. In Washington we haven't quite come to that yet.

Same Ghosts Present

And in these crowded government buildings the same ghosts walk which haunt our own capital. Like the United States, Canada is thinking about starvation in the midst of plenty. And she is thinking about it not only in terms of feeding her mother country, but of the terrible problem she must face with her farm surpluses after the war.

"We shall be eating less American potatoes next spring," said a Canadian official to me. "We shall go without green peas at Christmas-time, but it won't be because we can't get them. It will be because we save our American dollars to pay for war supplies from the United States."

Canada is building new granaries to store the wheat with which the barns are bursting. Wheat is stored in church cellars and in every available corner. This growing surplus is a greater threat to the balanced economy of the nation than the dislocation of social and industrial life caused by the war.

But what is to happen with that grain and the other raw materials Europe has no money to pay for them? It is exactly the same question our own farmers face.

Well, here is the answer which is being given serious consideration by Canadian economists and its inspiration comes neither from the theories of conservative capitalists nor from those who like to toy with the teachings of Karl Marx. It comes from the twelfth chapter of St. Paul's Epistle to the Romans. This is the passage:

"Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord. Therefore if thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink; for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head."

This is the text of a plain talk by Gilbert Jackson, which has caused considerable comment by officials and others who are able to look ahead at the problems of peace to come. Mr. Jackson has a very practical reason for making this admonition of St. Paul the basis for a policy which he urges be carried out after the war. He proposes a plan to give a very great part of Canada's surplus to the 400 millions in Europe who will be starving, over-ty-stricken and probably when the war is over. Important Effect "On our immediate bread these people when the war says Mr. Jackson, "may future of Europe, in per whether those 400 million be steady customers of our whether the new countries ing Canada (Mr. Jack elsewhere to the United one of the 'new countries now try somehow to live, the world market which reason for their existence. "The problem," he goes "of course is international, not a counsel for Canada, Britain and ourselves, for dominions in the war, and most resolute and helpful belligerents, the United Britain, it is pointed out, no surplus stocks of her will probably still have ances in the Western particularly in South America, therefore can help bear this enterprise—"the greatest in history." Uncle Sam, Mr. son says, is no Fairy God can't do it alone. He will Britain must take the lead. Such a move now might war, he believes, if actual by the governments of supplies were immediately as a definite policy. It was less than six months ago says.

I could get no government to express open approval plan, but I found no one who to recognize that some may be taken eventually, is something from a nation its every effort, as Canada perfect its military machine. An Excellent Book On Defense Achievement "My desire is," said John mine adversary had book." My adversary isn't but a sistant has, or at least the some brilliant Washington collaborated on a tome, with white and blue cover, "America Prepares for Tom Unlike Job, I am unable use of this volume, either more work out of my my Pauline Frederick, or try from my friend, William who edited and contributed very excellent record of Am defense achievement. At can't use their creation wished, to condemn their their own mouths. There is to condemn. It is a good you want to know the latest as to just what the United government is doing for how the various department agencies—including 20 new are functioning. According to Mr. Boutwell, the reader for Harper & B who published the volume, the manuscript, she said: "If Hitler were to read would curl up and die." War's Effect On 'Average' Canadian How is the average Canadian ing the war today? Most intimately, of course, the picture of a young felo appears in the paper, reported war ministry as killed or m Canada has more than a the such casualties as reported July 1. She has raised five d for overseas service. A six be raised. Ninety thousand now overseas; 300,000 are on service elsewhere. Coal, gas, certain food su such as pork and cheese will be used for export will be rationed soon. As early fall, aluminum went out of use. There is an 8 per cent tax on a large range of m tured products. It is an ir wholesale tax and so isn't able. Canada feels that the real is in the pocketbook. A m Canadian with no dependent ees on an income of $1,500 a $75 on the $5,000-a-year man pays the $5,000-a-year man pays $3,080. Higher bracket over more than 50 per cent government. "We went to war at Brita because we believed her right side," said Macdonald, Canada's prime minister.

BRIEFS . . . By Baukhage

Did you know that you will soon be able to buy defense savings stamps at your nearest retail store? If the old steel rails on your main street which are no longer in use are being dug up, the chances are that the government needs the steel for defense. The Transportation division of the OEM estimates that there are 232,000 tons of abandoned rails buried in city streets, and has started a campaign to tap this source of scrap metal.

... After watching her for several days from a vantage point in the lobby, he fell in love with her. In an effort to meet Jack—as Jacqueline is called—he dictated an imaginary letter to Roy Allen, noted archeologist. As he had planned, this induced her to talk an ultra-modern prospector and ride a plane. Well, I've been there off and on for over two years . . . Somewhat to the north of the main diggings, however. Primitive enough to suit anybody."

"I imagine so."
"Yes, ma'am. But it's worth it, if you find something. I was lucky, myself."

"Gold?" The firm trace of interest.
"Some . . . Good enough showing for me to dispose of a half interest in my claim."

"That is very nice, I'm sure."
"As far as it goes. I came back here on purpose to . . . But we won't go into that. I'm foot-loose. No family but some distant cousins that I don't know. They may be dead. One of my ideas was to get married. Been knocking around alone long enough. I decided that I wanted a home . . . companionship. And comforts. I suppose every man does at one time or another."

"And you decided to offer yourself to the first girl you met?"
Larry Cutter was unable to detect either amusement or sarcasm in that comment. It was a colorless statement and offered, seemingly, to clarify a situation.

"Nothing of the sort!" he objected hotly. "I want somebody to believe me, Mr. Cutter." Jacqueline showed a flat little voice. "If I have a letter you wish written, take it. Otherwise, I am in."

He took the letter. It can be seen on your pirates. I've got to tell you . . ."

He got off to scowl at a small figure that appeared in the doorway. The intruder was looking at the little stenographer. Larry was aware of a sudden change in the atmosphere.

about her longing for travel. When Larry told her she could easily realize her dreams, she replied, "How could I? That costs money." He explained, "Simple enough. You can marry me." Now continue with the story.

his left hand and tapped the thumb with the end of his pipe stem.
"First. I'm asking you to marry me. You've nothing but my own word for it that I'm decent, healthy and independent. I'm all three."

"Second. I'd prefer to make it a straight business proposition at the start. I've something to sell, if you want to put it that way. My name and the promise to care for and respect you as long as I live. You will be running no great risk . . . I think. I would protect your investment from the start. Let me be frank about that. I mean financially. It's no inducement . . . a bond. And with no strings whatever."

"Third. I ask nothing in return. Until you wish to give it of your own accord. You would be free to keep your name, your present way of living . . . your job, if you wish. You'll see me no oftener than you like. No one need know of our marriage until you are ready."

"Fourth. If it doesn't work out after a fair trial, the deal is off. You'll be as free as air . . . and forever."

"Fifth . . . But you get me. I'm ready to draw up a paper covering all that and sign it. You're a notary. I, suppose. Larry permitted himself a slight smile at this practical note. "And that covers the ground about as well as I can do it. I suppose it sounds pretty bad for me . . ."

There was silence as he waited for an answer. Jacqueline was the one who broke it.
"Aren't you forgetting something?" she asked slowly.

"I dare say. What is it? We'll include it."
"You know nothing about me."
"Oh, that," Larry gave a relieved sigh. "It seems to me that I have known you always. But, until the day I came into it, your life is just your own. It doesn't concern me. Your life will always be your own. Please be assured of that."

"You are generous." Still that expressionless note in the girl's voice.
"Don't say that! I'm not trying to be generous . . . to you. All I'm trying to do is to be fair . . . dreadfully fair. I know what a great thing I'm asking of you. I was so afraid that you wouldn't even listen to me. Well! Anxiety gave almost a harsh tone to the last word."

Jacqueline leaned forward, leaned forward until the light fell relentlessly upon her small face. Her dark eyes were inscrutable. She was searching her mind for the words she needed.
"I don't know why I did listen," she admitted wonderingly. "An hour ago, I . . . I must be mad . . . too."

"Then you mean . . ." Larry caught his breath sharply. Waited. "I am mad." Jacqueline Anthony was deciding that for herself.
"But you will do it? I ask for nothing until you can give it to me." The little stenographer's face went visibly white. Her lips trembled and a whispered answer that Cutter barely heard.

"I'll . . . I'll do it."

CHAPTER II
Little Miss Anthony breathed an incoherent prayer when she found herself alone once more in her office, and with the door closed. The dazed petition was that no one look at or speak to her until she could collect her scattered senses.

The entire world was gone topsyturvy. It still moved shakily through a dull haze.
There had been no suggestion of so vast a cataclysm when Jacqueline opened her eyes in the comfort of her small apartment on Courtland street. She had lain in bed until the last minute listening to the steady drip of water from a leaking spout above her window, wishing that there were no need of going to work.

Another dull day and, probably, few customers. But each customer counted just now. They counted tragically.
Jacqueline's numbed brain still was trying to get across the message that she had just now promised to marry a man. A man she never had seen before. A man who had walked into her office and asked her to take a letter. It must be a dream . . . A nightmare, rather. And yet . . .

It might have happened. Because this man had told her his name after he proposed . . . Larry Cutter. And he wanted to marry Jacqueline Anthony. She still couldn't comprehend any clear reason for it.
It just didn't make sense.

And this Mr. Cutter apparently had been perfectly satisfied with her halting, foolish little acceptance. He had asked Miss Anthony to have dinner with him tonight . . . anywhere she liked. There were things to talk over. Arrangements to make. Arrangements! Jacqueline shivered. That meant a wedding. He would want to talk about their wedding.

Larry spread apart the fingers of

Following the example of 11 million British women who are engaged in war effort, Uncle Sam's nieces are rushing to volunteer. A Gallup poll reports 27,500,000 women are eager to devote at least an hour a day to defense effort. Women are at work in defense industries. #### FIRST BIG RFC LOAN IS FULLY PAID UP

THE FIRST large loan made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has been repaid to the last dollar.

In 1931 when the banking situation was extremely bad in all sections, Chicago was an especially hot spot. Many of the smaller banks of the city had closed and some of the larger ones were threatened with withdrawal demands on the part of depositors, which, although solvent, they might not have been able to meet because of inadequate cash reserves.

Of these, the Central Trust, of which Gen. Charles Dawes was president, was one. It had a run on Friday and Saturday, and if it had continued on Monday without help from other sources, it would probably have had to close for lack of available cash. The closing of that bank would undoubtedly have precipitated a general bank crash in Chicago and other cities. Under these conditions, an appeal was made by the Chicago Banks to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for help for Central Trust.

Some four years ago former-President Hoover told me of the anxious hours he spent at his summer camp near Washington during Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night. With direct telephone connections to New York, Chicago and Washington, he made every possible effort to meet the situation without a loan from RFC. He knew the loan was justified. He knew Central Trust could pay out in time. He knew the integrity and ability of General Dawes. The general disliked the idea of receiving aid from RFC because the President was his friend. His bank was in no worse predicament than some of the others but had suffered the misfortune of encountering a more severe run than others had up to that Saturday.

Mr. Hoover told me he made every effort of which he was capable to procure relief for the Chicago situation without an advance from RFC. He worked at the job without any intermission from Saturday until before dawn Monday, but without success, and finally authorized the loan and instructed the treasury to rush ninety millions in currency to Chicago.

That the loan was justified was evidenced by the relief in the situation of all the larger banks in Chicago. That his faith in the integrity and ability of General Dawes was justified has been proved by the payment in full of that $90,000,000. And no depositor of Central Trust lost a dollar.

FINANCIAL TOWER OF BABEL UNDER CONSTRUCTION

WITH THE HELP and support of the American people, Samuel Insull built a towering, top-heavy financial structure measured in millions. When it toppled over and we lost, we damned Insull and demanded his punishment. Insull fled the country to escape our wrath. He could not have built that financial myth without our support and help.

Today we are assisting in building another financial tower of Babel that is measured in billions, instead of the Insull millions. The government's expenditures are backed only by our ability to pay. The billions that congress so blithely appropriates must come out of the sweat of our brows, and there is a limit to what we can pay.

When that limit is reached, there will be a crash that will be a hurricane as compared to the gentle zephyr of the Insull failure. The hysteria or insanity of us Americans will be responsible, as we were for the Insull collapse. We are building the top-heavy structure that will topple over and bury us in a financial morass. Whom will we damn for that catastrophe? For what are your representatives in congress voting?

RAILROAD WAGES

RAILROAD employees are demanding a heavy increase in wages. If they get it, each farmer will pay more transportation on the products he sends to market. Each housewife will pay more for the food for her family. The railroads will pass the increase along to their patrons if they are permitted to do so. If not, they will probably be in the hands of receivers and the several millions of Americans who have invested their savings in railroad securities will lose. Railroad net earnings will not permit the paying out more money unless more is taken in. It is from such things that inflation is born.

OLD AND NEW

HITLER IS MORTAL, just as we are mortal. His expectation of days or years of life can be no greater than that of other mortals. With his death will come an end of the vast structure of hate he has builded on the bodies of conquered people, including those of the Germans. It will topple and fall. In its place will come some other demonstration of the power politics of Europe, of which we may or may not approve, but which we cannot control, no matter how we tried.

Tobacco tops the gift list with men in the service. They've said so themselves in survey after survey. A gift of a carton of cigarettes or a tin of smoking tobacco is always welcome, and more than welcome the week before pay day. Actual sales records from service stores show the favorite cigarette with men in the Army, the Navy, the Marines, and the Coast Guard is Camel. Prince Albert Smoking Tobacco is another popular favorite. With these sales figures and preferences in mind, local dealers have been featuring Camels by the carton and Prince Albert in the big pound tin as gifts preferred by men in the service from the folks back home.—Adv.

In no event can the cotton be counted as destroyed unless it is done within ten days of the receipt of the notice from the County Office. Therefore, it is very important that you destroy the cotton within 10 days of the data on the notice. This rule of 10 days will not be waived for any reason.

1941 Cotton Loan Program

Changes in the operation of the 1941 cotton loan program in counties are designed for the convenience of cooperating farmers.

One of the major changes is the designation of clerks and witnesses by the county AAA committee to assist farmers in executing loan papers.

The clerks who will fill out loan forms are limited to persons engaged or employed in warehouses for storing cotton, banks, and production credit associations acting as lending agencies. When producers desire to sell their equities in loan cotton, witnesses to the transfer of title are limited to employees in the county AAA office, county and community AAA committeeman, and banks acting as lending agencies.

In counties where adequate service for executing loan papers cannot be obtained from, warehouses, banks, or production credit associations, the county AAA committee, with the approval of the state committee, may designate one or more of its employees to execute the papers.

The roster of clerks approved by the county AAA committee will be sent to the state committee. After approval in the state office, it will be sent to the Commodity Credit Corporation where it will be used in checking loan papers originating in this section.

The list of approved witnesses when mailed to the state committee for conformation will be sent to the Federal Reserve Bank serving the territory where the cotton is stored.

Fees of 15 cents for one to two bales of cotton, 20 cents for three to four bales, 25 cents for five to six bales, 30 cents for seven to eight bales, and 35 cents for nine to ten bales, are the maximum charge on eleven to twenty bales is two cents per bale plus the rate for ten bales; and twenty-one or more bales is one cent per bale plus the rate for 20 bales.

This graduated scale of fees is applicable to the cotton pledged on a single note.

Any person desiring to apply for approval as a clerk to execute the loan papers should apply at the AAA office in Silverton.

FOOD AS WEAPON — President Roosevelt's program to "make food a more powerful weapon of defense" is handicapped by outmoded marketing practices which hamper free flow of food from farm to dinner table, says Earl French, marketing director for the A & P's produce-buying affiliate. Urging a remodeling of the nation's food distribution machine to eliminate unnecessary in-between costs involved in routing food through congested terminal markets and trade intermediates, he cited U. S. Department of Agriculture figures showing that distribution costs last year took 58 cents on the average of each retail dollar spent for food. While some organized retailers are developing more efficient, less expensive methods of moving food, the great bulk is still handled by old-fashioned methods, and is sold and re-sold by numerous middlemen, at great cost to producers and consumers alike, he points out.

BITS O' BUSINESS — Federal Reserve Board data shows extent of consumer buying rush of recent months: in New York district, for example, sales of household appliances rose 123 per cent; radios, 43 per cent; "soft" goods went well, too, with sales of domestics, linens and blankets up 49, floor coverings up 61 per cent . . . however, as consumers continue to find that stocks of goods are available, the rush to "stock up" is dwindling somewhat . . .

"BEHIND THE SCENES IN AMERICAN BUSINESS"

ANNIVERSARY — It's just two years this week since the outbreak of war in Europe set in motion what's now known as the "defense drive." A measure of American business' stimulation under this war economy is seen in Bar-ron's index of general business, now hovering around 103, whereas it was 71.8 on September 1, 1939. Indexes probably won't move up much more, at least for a while. In fact, this one has eased off somewhat during last three weeks from the "peak" point of 105.4 We're not at saturation point of total productivity, but shortages of materials, dislocations in production and distribution of them, and changeovers of many important industries from civilian to defense activity have interrupted the upward surge. Further gains in over-all volume will have to await completion of new plants or enlargements of old ones.

ALL-AROUND -- Last week in Washington was issued "Priorities Regulation No. 1." It goes into effect immediately, and means that defense orders for any material must be accepted, even if it means dislocating civilian orders already on the books. And a defense order is defined as "any contract or order for material or equipment to be delivered to, or for the account of: (1) various U. S. government agencies; (2) The government of United Kingdom, Canada and other dominions, crown colonies and protectorates of the British Empire, Belgium, China, Greece,
