Holt, Lee 4-H Gold Star Award Winners

Christy Holt, daughter of Cecil and Charlotte Holt and Audra Lee, daughter of Albert and Linda Lee, were the recipients of the Gold Star Awards at the annual Bailey County 4-H Achievement Banquet held Sunday afternoon.

In making the presentations Curtis Preston said, "The Gold Star Award is the highest award that can be received on the county level. It is given annually to two Bailey County 4-H members who have shown outstanding leadership and citizenship abilities. We can be proud of this year's recipients."

"The Gold Star winners will be recognized, along with the Gold Star recipients from the other 19 South Plains District Counties, at the District Gold Star Banquet on Monday, November 22 in Lubbock.

"Our first Gold Star recipient is a junior at Muleshoe High School and has been active in the 4-H program for eight years. Her major 4-H projects have included foods and nutrition, clothing, citizenship and leadership. She has served in several offices in her local 4-H club and is currently serving as president and on the County 4-H Council, Christy Holt.

"Our next Gold Star recipient is also a junior at Muleshoe High School and has been an active 4-H member for eight years. She lists her major projects as leadership, foods and nutrition, clothing and citizenship. She is currently serving as first vice-president of her local 4-H club and as a county delegate on the District 4-H Council, Audra Lee."

"The 'I Dare You' Award is presented annually to two Bailey County 4-H'ers and is one of the highest awards that can be received on the county level," said Kandy K. McWhorter, in making the presentation.

"This award is made available through the 'I Dare You' committee of the American Youth Foundation and the Bailey County Extension Service. The recipients of this award are chosen because of their outstanding 4-H careers to date. It is given as a challenge to these 4-H'ers to continue to strive for excellence in their remaining years in 4-H.

"The award is a copy of William H. Danforth's book, I Dare You. The book challenges the readers to aspire to their highest potential, and attain constructive lives of service and citizenship, and to commit themselves to excellence.

"This year's winners are Monty Turney, son of Dennis and Beverly Turney, and Kourtnee Magby, daughter of Rich and Cindy Magby."

The theme of this year's 4-H achievement banquet, held at the Bailey County Civic Center Sunday, was "4-H Known Around the World".

Audra Lee served as Mistress of Ceremonies and Mikki Bowen gave the invocation. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Lauren Foote, and Robin Tooley led the 4-H Motto and Pledge.

Frank McCamish, from Bailey County Electric Cooperative, Inc. gave the welcome.

Christy Holt gave the response. "The Bailey County 4-H Clubs would like to express our appreciation to Mr. McCamish and the Bailey County Electric Cooperative for providing this annual achievement banquet for our enjoyment.

"The cooperative has made our banquet possible for the past 32 years as a means of encouraging the 4-H'ers to become aware of HOW 4-H IS KNOWN AROUND THE WORLD, which will help them grow and become tomorrow's leaders of our nation. We want to assure Mr. McCamish and the electric cooperative that we, as Bailey County 4-H'ers, pledge our best efforts toward this goal. In the future, we also pledge our own support and encouragement to those 4-H'ers who will follow us.

"Again, Mr. McCamish, please accept our sincere thanks for the generosity your organization has given to the Bailey County 4-H Clubs and the members present today."

The trustees are members of the 1993-94 Leadership TASB class, an education leadership program sponsored by the Texas Association of School Boards. The program is open to all Texas school board members who have fulfilled 30 hours of certified board member training.

The first 1993-94 session focused on leadership and teamwork and was led by Peter DeLisle, who works on organizational issues with businesses, community groups, and academic organizations nationwide.

She is a former Arizona State Superintendent of Public Instruction who currently serves as the national treasurer of Jobs for America's Graduates and vice chairman of the Arizona Commerce and Economic Development Commission.

Texas Pharmacy Week October 24-30, 1993

Simple communication with pharmacists can save millions of dollars in health care costs and ensure that medical treatment is safer and more effective.

Texas Pharmacists United In Patient Care, (TPUPC) a conglomerate of seven pharmacy organizations in Texas, is promoting greater communication between patients and pharmacists, during Texas Pharmacy Week, October 24-30. Texas Pharmacy Week is a statewide observance, held in conjunction with a national observation of the pharmacists' role in delivering health care.

"This year during Texas Pharmacy Week, our goal is to inform the public of pharmacists' services," states Jeanne Lyon, chairperson of the Texas Pharmacy Week subcommittee of TPUPC. "By talking to your pharmacist, possible drug interactions and drug allergies can be identified and prevented. Pharmacists can ensure prescriptions are appropriate, medically necessary and not likely to result in adverse medical results."

Research has shown that 30 to 50 percent of these drugs fail to work due to improper use. Statistics like these explain why Texas' 13,000 pharmacists will join together in a concerted effort to educate the public during Texas Pharmacy Week, October 24-30, 1993.

Muleshoe Senior Citizens Meet

The Senior Citizens met in the Old Depot for their covered dish lunch September 27, 1993.

Odessa Shanks called the house to order and asked Mr. Floyd Grimsley to ask the blessing. Everyone enjoyed a very good lunch and fellowship. There were 27 present for lunch.

Margaret Collins asked Velma Gwyn to give a talk. Velma gave a talk on incredible adventures. She talked about things that most of us have done when we were younger that we wouldn't want to do again. "Like washing clothes on the rub board and washing a cream separator and many more things. A good reminder to make us thankful for what we have and not to complain too much. Opal Robinson played the piano and Gene Meador and Irene Dilts sang "Just Jesus And Me" and "River of Memories". Lou Knowles read the minutes and they were approved, and gave the treasurer's report.

Get well cards went to Clinton Finley. Happy Birthday son was sung to Mac Wiltering, Louise Roark, Dorothy Browning, Velma Gwyn and Florence Upchurch.

Senior Citizens bus will be going to the fair in Lubbock Thursday, September 30.

Happy Anniversary on their 55th anniversary to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Grimsley.

Our next meeting will be October 25. See you there.

The meeting was dismissed by singing "Bless Be The Tide".

Memphis Cotton Capital Cycle Tour

The Memphis Cotton Capital Cycle Tour will be held Saturday, October 9, in Memphis, Texas. There will be seven mile, twenty-seven mile and fifty mile courses, starting at the corner of fifth and main at 8:30 a.m.

The seven mile course is a mostly flat course that passes through cotton fields and wooded areas. Twenty-five miles of the twenty-seven mile course is through cotton farms and mesquite covered ranch land. Riders on this course will pass through Alaska, a once thriving West Texas town with several movie theaters, which now has only a few abandoned buildings. The fifty-mile course is an out and back course. It also passes through Alaska and over the little Red River and the Prairie Dog Town Fork Red River. All courses should offer some foliage color.

Tee shirts will be given entries postmarked before October 1st. The design on the tee shirt was created by a fourth grade student in a tee shirt design contest held by fourth and fifth grade students. She drew a picture of her sister riding a bicycle along a field of cotton.

Rewards will be given for the dirtiest bike, best (safe) costume, to person who came farthest distance to ride, and most family members participating together. A drawing for prizes donated will also be held.

The Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring an art exhibit on the town square in conjunction with the cycle tour. Artists will be at work and have pieces for sale from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00.

The historic Memphis Hotel bed and breakfast is serving as tour organizer and headquarters with local citizens and businesses working together to make this event possible. The hotel is also offering discounted room rates to tour participants. Entry fee is $15.00. Participants are required to wear Ansi or Snell approved helmets and sign a liability release form before participating. For more information contact Mark Hall or Wanda Hall at 806-259-21948.

To lose your money is a sin.

"But, moin, it was no fault of mine."
She thinks that is my fav'rite line.

It is I guess, what can I say?
"It just picked up and ran away."

I cross my heart and hope to die.
Before she gives me e'en a dime.

Then off I go, back to the mall.

Liver Transplant Recipient Goes Home After 64 Day Hospital Stay

The recipient of the first successful liver transplant on the South Plains went home Saturday after 64 days at University Medical Center. He underwent the 18 hour transplant procedure on July 24.

Wayne Williams, 52, was released six days earlier than planned because of a more rapid recovery than expected. His recovery is especially meaningful in light of the fact that he almost decided not to have the transplant.

Three years ago, the Hale Center resident started getting sick and in June 1992 was diagnosed with cirrhosis of the liver as a result of a surgical weight-loss procedure he underwent in the early 70's. In September, he was taken to the emergency center at UMC when his ammonia level rose to the point that he became disoriented.

His physician told him that, without a liver transplant, he had about six months to live. He chose not to have the transplant.

"I was wise enough to know it wasn't going to be a picnic. I decided I'd try to make the best out of what time I had left," Williams said.

His 11 year old daughter, Stephanie, had different ideas.

"She told him one night she was too young not to have a daddy around," said Williams' wife, Diane.

"That's when I decided to come and talk to Dr. (William) Millikan, (professor of surgery at Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center and medical director of UMC's liver transplant program)," added Williams.

On October 6, Stephanie's birthday, after going through much testing, Williams was accepted into the transplant program.

"That was part of her birthday present. I came home and told her I was in the program and I'd be there when she graduated from high school," he said.

Dr. Millikan said that it took courage for Williams to be the first patient to undergo the procedure after Cody King died in Mav after undergoing UMC's first liver transplant.

"It's always difficult to be the first, and he had lost a close friend," Dr. Millikan said.

Williams admitted to having fears when he got the phone call telling him his new liver was available, but by the time he went into his surgery, his fears were gone, he said. His wife said she noticed his increased confidence.

"I was in the holding area with him and he said, 'I'm fixing to make history; there are too many people behind me. I'm going to make it all the way,'" Mrs. Williams said.

Immediately following the surgery, physicians were very pleased with Williams' progress, but on Aug. 5, he had emergency surgery after rejection problems. During the next few weeks, he returned to the intensive care unit a few times for closer observation.

Now that he is well, what strikes him the most about his recovery is the team work it required.

"I'm still overwhelmed at how many people were involved and how it all had to click just right to come together like it was supposed to," he said.

Williams said he would not be alive if there weren't a liver transplant program in the area.

"I'd be dead if we'd had to go to Dallas. We couldn't have done it. We could not have done it because we couldn't afford it for one thing," he said.

Williams has returned to the surgery clinic at TTUHSC every day since his release from UMC for testing.

In Fashion

There are many ways to up-date last year's fall and winter clothes. A frilly blouse or a lace jabot and cuffs fastened to a white shirt brings a suit into this year's fashion. Blazers in houndstooth and tweed are brought up-to-date with fabric-store elbow patches.

If you have a flared skirt dress in a fall print, wrap ribbon in blending shades around the waist and cuffs. This can be stitched or tacked to the garment. There are many new-style leather belts with gold chains for accent.

Semifinalists In The 1994 Merit Scholarship Competition

The names of some 15,000 Semifinalists in the 1994 National Merit Scholarship Program are being announced today by National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC). These academically talented secondary school seniors have an opportunity to continue in the competition for more than 6,500 Merit Scholarships, worth over $25 million, to be awarded next spring. The nationwide Semifinalist pool includes about half of one percent of each state's high school graduating class.

NMSC is a privately financed, not-for-profit organization that receives grants from some 600 independent Merit Program sponsors to underwrite scholarships in each annual competition. By publicly honoring Semifinalists, NMSC hopes to broaden their educational opportunities and to heighten public interest in the educational development of able young men and women.

More than one million juniors in over 19,000 U.S. high schools entered the 1994 Merit Program by taking the 1992 Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT), which served as an initial screen of program entrants. The number of Semifinalists designated in each state is allocated according to the state's percentage of the national total of graduating high school seniors. Semifinalists are the top scorers in each state, and they must now advance to the Finalist level of the competition in order to be considered for Merit Scholarships.

To qualify as a Finalist, a Semifinalist must fulfill additional requirements. The Semifinalist and an official of the high school must complete a detailed scholarship application that provides information about the student's educational interests and goals, as well as participation and leadership in school and community activities. The student must have an outstanding academic record, be endorsed and recommended by the high school principal, and submit SAT scores that confirm his or her earlier PSAT/NMSQT performance. About 90 percent of the Semifinalists are expected to become Finalists, and all Merit Scholars will be chosen from this exceptionally able group.

Winners of three types of Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1994 will be selected on the basis of professional evaluations of Finalists' abilities, accomplishments, and personal attributes considered important for success in rigorous college studies--without regard to gender, race, ethnic origin or religious preference. Every Finalist will be considered for one of 2,000 National Merit $2000 Scholarships to be allocated on a state representational basis. NMSC's own funds will underwrite 80 percent of these awards, and grants from corporate organizations will sponsor the remaining 20 percent of the "National" scholarships.

Corporations, foundations, and other business organizations also will support some 1,200 Merit Scholarships for Finalists who meet a sponsor's preferential criteria. Most corporate-sponsored awards will be provided for children of employees of the grantor organization, but some will be offered for residents of communities a company serves, or Finalists whose career goals a sponsor wishes to encourage.

More than 3,300 Merit Scholarships will be financed by colleges and universities. Winners of college-sponsored Merit Scholarships will be chosen from among Finalists who will attend the institution financing the awards.

4-H...

1993 Friend of 4-H Awards. "The Bailey County 4-H members are proud to present the first of this year's Friend of 4-H Awards to a family who has supported the 4-H program in Bailey County for numerous years.

"These friends have assisted with the livestock show on many occasions by serving as chairman of the 4-H concession, cooking buyers' meals, working the show ring and serving as show superintendents. This family believes in our young people and wants to see them reach the goal of Making the Best Better.

Our first 1992 Friend of 4-H Award is presented with sincere appreciation to the Jack Dunham Family.

"Our second Friend of 4-H Award goes to a business that has supported the 4-H program in Bailey County for as long as they have been in business.

"This business gives much time to see that the 4-H program is viewed by many who would otherwise never see any of the activities. They cover all areas of the program from the food show to the livestock show. They believe in the 4-H Club Motto, To Make the Best Better, and want to see our young people develop into outstanding adults.

"These friends also help make 4-H the special organization that it is.

"We present this Friend of 4-H Award to Channel 6 and the Rennels Family."

Krystal Heathington presented the Outstanding 4-H Family Award to The Albert Lee Family.

This is the sixth year that the Bailey County 4-H Council has presented the Outstanding 4-H Family Award. This award is for a family who participates in the total 4-H program--agricultural projects, home economics projects, leadership, the parents' association, club management, record books, method demonstration, citizenship, etc.

The Albert Lee family has been involved with the 4-H program for at least seven years. Each of the children are very active in all phases of the 4-H program. The parents are and have been leaders in many projects during these five years and have been role models for their children as well as numerous others.

Jean Parker and Dani Heathington were presented the Outstanding 4-H Leader Award. The Bailey County 4-H Council presents this award each year to a leader or leaders who have devoted much time and energy to the 4-H program. This year they gave two awards.

Mrs. Parker has served as an active leader for one of the clubs for the past 14 years and always has time to give to help any 4-H member. She has been involved with record books, method demonstrations, foods and nutrition projects, clothing and textiles projects and club management.

Ms. Heathington is the parent of three active children. They are all now involved in the 4-H program. She has been a leader for several 4-H projects that include foods and nutrition, beef and swine and has served as one of the Muleshoe 4-H Club managers. She is always willing to assist in any way possible.

In closing, Melissa Bennett led the group in the 4-H prayer.

TASB is a voluntary, nonprofit association established 40 years ago to serve local Texas school districts. It includes 1,055 local school districts and county school boards, 46 junior colleges, 48 tax appraisal boards, 47 cooperatives, and the 20 elected officials in the state. Their combined annual expenditures total $15 billion, and they employ more than 400,000 people.

Reflex Not Approved For Use In West Texas

Environmental concerns by the manufacturer prevent Reflex herbicide from being approved for use in West Texas. ICI Agricultural Products, which manufactures Reflex, has decided not to support the registration of additional uses or use in new areas. Until the company reapplies, supports the use and supplies data, TDA cannot get this pesticide approved for use in West Texas, Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry said today.

Concerns about Reflex include its potential to leach into groundwater and the lack of sufficient data or data applicable to West Texas conditions. Field studies in North Carolina indicated Reflex residue in groundwater 17 months following treatment. The sandy loam and loamy clay soils typical of West Texas increase the chances of groundwater contamination. Reflex has shown moderate to high mobility under these soil conditions. Another consideration is the annual rainfall, which is less than 20 inches per year. Dry surface soils have less dense microbial populations, making them less biodegradable. This persistence may result in accumulation if the treatment is repeated the following year. According to ICI data, persistence could occur in all areas outside the current label, but until ICI does the needed studies under West Texas conditions, it will not be available for additional use.

Young Farmers Loan Applications Available

The Texas Department of Agriculture has accepted written comments through September on its Young Farmers Loan Guarantee Program, and applications for up to $50,000 in Loan guarantees through the program are now available.

About $1.7 billion has been raised for the program from a $5 farm motor vehicle fee that was collected beginning Jan. 1, 1992. However, in order to keep the program constitutional, this year's Legislature designated the $5 fee as voluntary. Those who paid the fee between Jan. 1, 1992 and Aug. 29, 1993, and who want a refund must file for a claim by Nov. 1 with the state Comptroller. After Nov. 1, refund requests will be processed by the local county tax offices.

Written comments about the program and loan application requests should be sent to Robert Kennedy, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

Orozco Takes First Place In Contest

This was one of those weeks when if you missed over three games you were out of the contest.

There were three new winners this week. Richard Orozco only missed one game for a first place win. He will receive a check and ten points toward the grand prize of $150.

Bony Nicolas and Monica Gonzales both missed two games, therefore the Journal Judge was forced to go to the tiebreakers. Nicolas came in second place, he was only 21 points off in the tie breakers. He will receive a check and six points toward the grand prize.

Ms. Gonzales also missed two games but was off 30 points in the tiebreakers. She will receive a check and four points toward the grand prize.

You football fans, (and there weren't many that picked Colorado City to win over Muleshoe Friday night, should have been in Benny Douglas Stadium. You missed an exciting game.

Keep those entries coming in there is still time for anyone to win.

BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU REPORT

Fraudulent telemarketers have found yet another way to steal your money, this time from your checking accounts. Consumers across the country are complaining about unauthorized debits (withdrawals) from their checking accounts. While automatic debiting of your checking account can be a legitimate payment method, the system is being abused by some telemarketers. For example, a telemarketer may call saying you won a free prize but wants your checking account number to debit the shipping and handling charge. Once the telemarketer has your account information, it is put on a "demand draft", which is processed much like a check. The draft, however, does not require your signature. This kind of fraud can expose you to large financial losses. Do not give your checking account number over the phone to people you do not know. If someone asks for your account number, ask them why they need it. Beware of offers that sound too good to be true.

A constant recurring question of the Better Business Bureau staff whenever business schemes, rackets and other malpractices are discussed is: "Why don't they pass a law?" Obviously, in the mind of the questioner, laws are a panacea for all the ills of the market place. The only response is that if it were that simple to prevent criminal acts, there would be no murder, no burglary, no fraud, no crimes of any kind. Here in Texas, we have a plethora of laws designed to protect the consumer, including a very comprehensive Consumer Protection Act. And, yes, some laws are difficult to enforce. But, all the laws in the world will not protect a consumer who persists in

WINNERS ANNOUNCED FOR TCFA JUNIOR FED BEEF CHALLENGE

Young cattlemen from throughout the TCFA area converged in Amarillo recently to compete in the third annual Junior Fed Beef Challenge, sponsored by the Texas Cattle Feeders Association (TCFA). The TCFA Junior Fed Beef Challenge allows students in 4-H or FFA to gain practical experience in the commercial cattle feeding industry by feeding a pen of three steers. This year, 38 students competed for more than $17,000 in scholarships, cash prizes and premiums.

Champion Overall and top scholarship winner was Alicia Miller of Stratford, who won a $2,000 scholarship. Kurt Hinkle of Wichita Falls won Reserve Overall and a $1,500 scholarship, and Jarah Redwine of Muleshoe was First Runner Up, winning a $1,000 scholarship.

The overall winners are determined by combining the scores in four areas—a written exam, oral interview, record book and carcass performance of the steers. In addition, a $500 cash award is given to the first place winner in each area and plaques are awarded to second and third.

Jeff Weber of Pilot Point turned in the top written exam, followed by Jarah Redwine and Wade Johnson of Hereford. Moriah Olson of Hereford bested the group to win the oral interview contest, followed by Jeff Weber and Jarah Redwine. Luke Unruh of Dalhart, Caleb Burnley of Hereford and Wade Johnson split the top award for the buying or investing blindly. Furthermore, it is also evident that the mere passage of laws could penalize a legitimate business operation, bogging it down with government red tape until the owner could no longer continue in business.

Non-profit organizations in the United States generated a record $124.31 billion in donations, gifts and bequests in 1992. Giving increased 6.41% from 1991, according to the latest estimate just released. As in past years, individual giving continued its dominance as the major contributor of funds by reaching a record $101.83 billion in 1992. With such a huge amount of cash money available, it is understandable that some talented, innovative, imaginative promoters are using all sorts of deception and misrepresentations to get their share. The BBB's slogan of Give, But Give Wisely has never been more appropriate, especially when you consider this $124 billion industry is largely unregulated. It is hard to believe these numbers when you take into account the unemployment and economy of the last few years, but it goes without saying that Americans are a giving people. When you are asked to give, though, give with your head as well as your heart. Check them out through your BBB at 763-0459.

Some retailers in the South Plains use 'rain checks' when they run out of merchandise that they have had on sale. The term 'rain check' came into existence in the grocery industry when grocers would offer a rain check for items that had disappeared quickly. The Federal Trade Commission established the Unavailability Rule which, after being amended in 1989, allows grocers to comply by offering rain checks. The Rule requires retail food stores to have best record book. Top individual carcass went to Will Shaw of McLean, followed by W.G. Lasley of Stratford and C.B. Perkins of Hooker, Okla. Shaw came back to win top carcass pen, followed by Alicia Miller with Wylie Maupin of Gruver and Amy Acre of Canton splitting third place.

In addition, TCFA awards $500 to the best first-year student in the contest. Top rookie this year was Lance Scott of Dalhart, followed by Wylie Maupin and Brad Gruner of Amarillo. In a live evaluation contest, Alicia Miller took first place, followed by Moriah Olson, Jim Bob Sides of Farwell, Brice Redwine of Muleshoe, Steven Watson of Coleman and Jeff Weber.

New to this year's contest was the Team Challenge, where a team of two or three students competed in the written exam and live evaluation. Top overall team consisted of Todd Baize and Andy King of Wheeler. These two young cattlemen turned in the top written exam score and placed second in the live evaluation contest. The reserve overall team was made up of Jacob Blackwelder, Angela Fischer and Tandon Sawatzky of Hooker, Okla. This group won first place in the live evaluation contest and placed second on the written exam. The team of Aaron Fischer, Ashley Harrison and Aaron Witt, also from Hooker, took runner up overall honors and placed third on the written exam. Toby Reynolds, Wes Sanderson, and Aaron Williams from Electra won third place in the live evaluation contest.

News From the Baylor College of Medicine

A team of U.S. scientists has for the first time used gene therapy to provide long-term treatment of hemophilia B in laboratory animals, a significant step in the eventual use of gene therapy to cure human illnesses.

The research was reported in the October 1 issue of the journal Science by a multi-institutional team led by Dr. Savio L. C. Woo of Baylor College of Medicine in Houston and the Howard Hughes Medical Institute. A collaborating group in North Carolina was led by Dr. Kenneth M. Brinkhous of the School of Medicine at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

"This is a significant milestone in providing direct gene transfer to treat hereditary illnesses," Woo said. "If successful in treating hemophilic patients in the future, the technology also is applicable for treatment of other liver diseases in the general population."

Hemophilia B, mainly confined to males, occurs when liver cells fail to manufacture a blood-clotting protein called factor IX. Patients experience recurrent spontaneous bleeding, often in their joints, which is extremely painful and can be crippling.

Hemophilia B affects about 1 in 30,000 males.

"This is the first time hemophilia has been partially corrected," Brinkhous said. "If the treatment is eventually effective in human beings with hemophilia, it would allow them to lead relatively normal lives."

Gene therapy produced factor IX in hemophilic dogs. After treatment, the animals produced factor IX for more than eight months; current therapies to stop bleeding last only a few days.

Investigators administered the gene that makes factor IX directly into the dogs' livers where it became incorporated into the check, a substitute or other compensation. Remember, though that the unavailability rule only applies to grocers. Other retail establishments that offer rain checks do so as a courtesy to its customers.

animals' cells, producing the missing blood-clotting factor.

"We showed that replacing even a small amount of the missing protein in the hemophilic dogs produced a dramatic reduction in the time it took for their blood to clot," said Woo, director of Baylor's Center for Gene Therapy.

"Gene therapy could have a tremendous impact on medical-care costs for hemophilia patients," said Brinkhous, a member of UNC-CH's Center for Thrombosis and Hemostasis. "Instead of receiving frequent therapy with anti-hemophilic concentrates, they could be treated every few months."

The other UNC-CH researchers involved in the project were Dr. Dwight A. Bellinger, Dr. M.S. Read and Charles N. Landen. The other Baylor investigators were Dr. Mark A. Kay, who was the lead author and who is now at the University of Washington in Seattle; Dr. Steven Rothenberg; Dr. Milton J. Finegold; Francis Leland; and Carol Toman. Also part of the team was Dr. Arthur R. Thompson of the Pudget Sound Blood Center in Seattle.

Canadian Air Force Snowbirds To Fly At Reese AFB Oct. 6th

Colonel Roger A. Brady, commander of Reese AFB's 64th Flying Training Wing announced today that the Canadian Air Force's Snowbirds will perform at Reese on Wednesday, October 6, 1993.

The Snowbirds are the Canadian Air Force's renowned 431st Air Demonstration Squadron based at the Canadian Forces Base, Moose Jaw in Saskatchewan, Canada.

"I invite all residents of the West Texas-Eastern New Mexico area to come out and join us to see the Snowbirds tremendous air show, and to see up close how Reese personnel cooperate with our Canadian allies," said Colonel Brady.

In addition to the Snowbirds, there will be as many as two dozen military aircraft on static (ground) display on the flightline aircraft parking ramp.

The base will be open to the public from 12:30 to 5:30 p.m. The Snowbirds will begin their demonstration at 3:30 p.m.

The team, which is in its 23rd year of existence, has flown more than 1,200 shows throughout the North American continent including the only shows by an aerial demonstration team within the Arctic Circle. On May 11, 1975 the squadron flew another first, a midnight performance at Inuvik, Northwest Territory in the "land of the midnight sun." The Snowbirds will be making their first ever appearance in the West Texas-Eastern New Mexico area.

The Snowbirds fly the Canadair CT-114 Tutor, a Canadian built jet trainer used by the Canadian Forces as its basic pilot training aircraft. The Tutor is slightly modified for use by the Snow Birds with a smoke generating system and distinctive red, white, and blue paint scheme added. With its high maneuverability and relatively slow speed the Tutor is ideally suited to the formation and aerobatic maneuvers flown by the Snow Birds.

Each year competitive tryouts are held to select half of the Snowbirds team pilots who are assigned to the squadron for a two year tour of duty. Their show includes 45 separate flying maneuvers flown within a 28 minute time period. Nine Tutor aircraft, including two solos, fly in the Snow Birds demonstration.

Snowbirds Air Show project officer, Lt. Colonel Mark Edwards, recommends that persons interested in visiting the base on Oct. 6th travel to the base in order to "arrive early!" We know that Oct. 6th is a work and school day and the Snowbirds have worked with us in order to schedule their show as late in the day as their flying policies permit. We expect a large number of visitors to try to join us just before show time at 3:30 p.m. So, for that reason we urge all visitors to come out as early as they can and to follow the directions of the law enforcement officials who will be trying to make motorists' arrivals and departures as smooth as possible.

There will be no charge to attend the air show. There will be plenty of food, drink, parking and rest rooms available. There will be a reasonable charge for food and beverages.

"This is a tremendous, one-time only opportunity for residents of the South Plains to visit with the airmen from one of our primary allies and help them achieve their mission of demonstrating to the North American public the skill, professionalism and teamwork of the Canadian Forces. I look forward to a large crowd to give the Snowbirds a great, enthusiastic West Texas welcome!" concluded Colonel Brady.

PAY LESS PER FILL UP.

Now you can fill the tub again and again without getting soaked. Because a propane water heater can save you $2,000 over the life of the heater. And a propane water heater pays for itself in about two years. It heats twice as much water as an electric water heater in the same period of time. And propane is better for the environment. So get more hot water for less cold cash. Switch to propane. For more information call 1-800-64-CLEAR.

1. Never leave your stove unattended while cooking.
2. Keep curtains, dish towels, potholders and other combustibles away from the stove.
3. Have your furnace checked by a reputable service company at least once a year.

5. Check cords and plugs frequently for signs of broken insulation or frayed wires.
6. Buy appliances having approval of Underwriters Laboratories or another nationally recognized testing laboratory.
7. Teach children to not play with matches or cigarette lighters.
8. Install at least one smoke detector on every floor of the home.
9. Keep a fire extinguisher in the home and one in the car.
10. Have an escape route and alternate route planned in advance in case of fire, and designate a safe meeting place for family members once outside.

NOVA
Celebrates its 20th anniversary season

Nova celebrates its 20th anniversary season with a visit to Jurassic Park this fall to determine whether the movie and book's premise is a genuine possibility. Other programs follow the search for the bones of Butch Cassidy and Sundance, investigate the secrets of the psychics, and profile the late physicist Richard Feynman. Nova also sits at the bedside of a cystic fibrosis patient, rides a roller coaster, flies with the condor, and studies visual agnosia (a rare neurological disorder in which a person may not recognize what he sees).

The opening program in October, "The Nova Quiz," tests the science literacy of a cross-section of Nova viewers from around the country, including a graphic artist, a high school principal, an event planner, and a cattle rancher. The eight contestants ponder fast-paced questions on a wide variety of science topics. They even perform hands-on experiments.

Next, Nova follows cowboy and forensic anthropologist Clyde Snow to Bolivia in "Wanted: Butch and Sundance" to determine if the two outlaws were killed in a shootout in a small Bolivian town.

Legend has it that the train-robbing duo split for South America around the turn of the century when Pinkerton detectives made the bandits' life too risky. There, they resumed their outlaw ways, but allegedly met their end in a shootout with Bolivian troops in 1908.

Then on Nova, magician James "The Amazing" Randi challenges claims of paranormal phenomena — from knifeless surgery in the Philippines to faith healers in the United States — in "Secrets of the Psychics."

Trained as a professional magician, Randi believes that the tricks of his trade are often misrepresented as supernatural powers. Randi was awarded a MacArthur "genius" grant to pursue his research into the eerie world of ESP, fortune tellers, faith healers, mediums, dowzers, and others who claim paranormal talents.

Nova follows Randi as he puts world renowned psychics to the test . . . and comes up with some very interesting results.

Finally in October, Nova covers the tense, dramatic vigil of three people with terminal lung disease as they await the most complex of all organ transplants, on "Dying to Breathe."

Linda Summerhill, Bob Friesen, and Lisa Carpenter have come to Toronto fully prepared to die. Yet their hope against hope is that the skill of the lung transplant team at Toronto General Hospital, combined with the gift from a chance donor, will give them each a new lung, and a new breath of life.

The Nova crew was on 24-hour call for five months as they awaited word that donor lungs were available and an operation was imminent. "Dying to Breathe" captures scenes of couriers arriving in the middle of the night, patients being prepared, surgeons confer . . . and the perilous operation itself.

Nova is broadcast Tuesdays at 7:00 p.m., Saturdays at 9:00 p.m., and Sundays at 12:00 midnight on KENW-TV.
