1942 Farm Program

Now that the 1942 Handbooks for the AAA program are being distributed to the farmers, it is necessary that your attention be called to important changes in the 1942 program which will affect your 1942 payments. The following changes are very IMPORTANT:

OVERPLANTING:

Wheat: Under the 1942 program, there will be no tolerance or "3 acres or 3 percent" as under the 1941 program, and "acreage planted to wheat" will in all cases be the acreage seeded to wheat. The deduction for overplanting wheat is ten times the rate of payment. That is, if you overplant your wheat by as much as 10 percent, the entire wheat payments will be wiped out. Parity payments will be paid in cases of overplanting, deductions being made accordingly. But the entire parity payment will be wiped out when the allotment is exceeded by 10 percent. THEREFORE, IT IS IMPERATIVE THAT YOU CHECK YOUR WHEAT ACREAGE BEFORE COMPLAINTS STARTS AND YOUR FARM IS MEASURED. After the wheat has been measured, there will be no chance to destroy the excess and come in compliance.

Cotton: The 1942 program will not permit disposition of cotton below the cotton allotment, but cotton acreage in excess of the allotment which is disposed of within ten days after late notice or before reaching bolling stage will not be considered as planted to cotton.

Leave-out land: 20 percent of the cropland must be set aside as a "required acreage" if you are to receive full payment. The payments will be reduced by 5 percent for each one percent of the "required acreage" that is not met in one of the following uses:

- (1) Perennial grasses or legumes
  - (2) Sudan or millet for pasture (rows or solid seeded)
  - (3) Sudan, millet, oats, or rye seeded broadcast or in rows cut green for hay provided a strip of such crops one rod wide is left on the land for each strip not over five rods wide harvested—the strips to be left must alternate with the strips harvested.
  - (4) Summer protected by contouring, pitting, chiseling, etc.
  - (5) Forest trees planted since 1935
  - (6) Idle cropland on which approved terraces are constructed during the 1942 crop year
  - (7) Cover crops of which a good stand and good growth is left on the land
  - (8) Green manure crops which have reached a good state of growth before turning under.
- The above changes are not all of the changes to be found in the handbook, but they are two of the most important changes to be found.

Scrap and "Junk"

Collection of scrap iron and steel and its sale is one of the ways Briscoe County farmers can help lick the Japs, the Nazis, and the Fascists. Everyone is aware of the growing needs of a nation at war—steel and scrap iron to build the hungry mouths of arms factories. An urgent appeal is being made to the public to gather up steel and scrap. The USDA War Board is not asking that you give your scrap to your county, but sell it at prevailing prices. The financial returns cannot be large but the results will be of untold value to farmers because the material will be for immediate defense use.

Look around your farm and see what amount of scrap iron and steel can be sold. However, this word of caution! Do not sell any steel or scrap iron which you can use yourself. Salvage all bearings, bolts, angle iron braces, and other materials which can be used around the farm.

We're in this war to win; each of us has a part to do.

PIONEER J. H. McCLENDON

Mr. J. H. McClendon was born in Hurd County, Georgia, in 1856. He was of America's sturdy, best frontier stock.

January 8, 1942—after many months of illness and homesickness for the Father's peaceful kingdom, Mr. McClendon left earth's thinning rags of pioneers to cross the last frontier, into that Kingdom of peace and rest.

His parents, Henry and Emily Burk McClendon, in 1858, moved to Texas, where they reared their family. J. H. (Jake) McClendon was the eldest; his 4 brothers, Dr. G. F. & J. M. McClendon (former Silverton residents), Jim and Sam McClendon are all deceased. His only sister Mrs. Emma Puckett Frieze.

He was married to Miss Mary E. Askey of Stephens County, in 1886. They finally settled near Silverton in 1891. To these two were born eleven children and 22 grandchildren, eight of the children are living: Mrs. Bertha McDonald, Amarillo; Mrs. Frankie Folley, Silverton; Mrs. Clay Fowler, Silverton; Mrs. Andrew Payne, Hinsdale Montana; Hugh, Ivor, and Haynes McClendon of Silverton, and Johnny McClendon of Amarillo. Those who have passed on were Paul McClendon, Mrs. Bertha Bell Hackler and an infant, Smich. The wife, Mrs. Mary McClendon, preceded her husband in death five year ago.

Mr. McClendon attended school, while a child in Madison, Texas, and as a young man, in Salada and Eastland.

In 1883 he joined the Masonic Lodge and later became a Royal Arch Mason in 1885, he was converted and joined the Methodist Church at Eastland, and was always a Christian. A cherished memory of his family is that of the Holy Book with his reading glasses on the open page, waiting for his return from work in the field, or from tending his stock.

Throughout the years of hardship in early days, he stood firmly courageous, staunch and upright. He was elected to the office of tax assessor for this county, and served well in that capacity. As a stock farmer, he was industrious, and was noted for his honesty and fairness. He always helped fellow man when the opportunity to serve came his way. His influence went for the improvement of his community, for the upbuilding of the new country, and for those things which he believed to be right. He was a good neighbor, a loyal friend, a kind and devoted father.

The funeral services at the First Methodist Church of Silverton were conducted on Friday afternoon by Rev. T. G. Craft and Rev. B. P. Harrison. The funeral directors were T. C. Bomar and J. W. Harcastle. The active pallbearers were Walter Watters, Bryant Brooks, Warren Merrell, Meridy Welch, Omer Cornet and Guy McWilliams. Honorary pallbearers were Benton Lanham, R. M. Hill, J. H. Burson, John Wheelock, Gid Mayfield, and Roy McMurtry.

The many floral pieces were carried by Mrs. Mollie Spencer, Luree Burson, Anna Jo Brooks, Othell Welsh, Leona Brooks and Delma Dean Self.

Out of town relatives attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Henry McClendon, Dalhart; Tom McClendon, Frincherra, Colorado; Cyrus Puckett, Amarillo; Mrs. Charles McBroom and Mrs. Ruth Blythe of Lubbock; and Dr. J. Ed Crawford of Tulia.

Members of the Masonic Order took charge and conducted the last rites at the cemetery where was laid to rest an estimable pioneer and citizen, J. H. McClendon.

TO THE VOTERS OF BRISCOE COUNTY

I again take this means of announcing that I will be a candidate for the office of County Judge of Briscoe County. In making this announcement I do so realizing that it will be impossible to make as thorough a campaign as I would like to make. My time is pretty well taken up with my regular work and the Defense program. I expect to do these things first and then see as many voters as time will permit.

I ask for the office on my past record alone. I hope my record will show a credit in the eyes of those whom I have tried to serve. My efforts have been sincere and will continue to be as long as I have the privilege of serving you.

If you think I have served you well and that my past experience will be of benefit to you and Briscoe County then I will appreciate your active support.

If my administration of your affairs have met with any measure of success it is due largely to your cooperation because without that nothing could have been accomplished. I am grateful for the cooperation of everyone.

Sincerely,
W. Coffee, Jr.

P. D. JASPER IS CANDIDATE FOR COMMISSIONER

P. D. Jasper, of Precinct No. 3, has authorized the Briscoe County News to announce that he is a candidate for Commissioner of that Precinct. Mr. Jasper is a former commissioner and served three terms, from 1933 to 1938.

He was not a candidate in the last election, but has decided to try his hand again in the coming race. In making his formal announcement, Mr. Jasper says:

P. D. JASPER

I have decided to again ask you folks for the office of county Commissioner in Precinct 3. As you know I have served in this office three terms from 1933 to 1938, inclusive. I hope to have the full support of my friends in the coming July Primary. I am not asking for the office on any grounds except my record while in office. I would be very glad to have you examine that record, and I would be glad to discuss it with you.

If I don't get to see you in the near future, I want you to take this announcement as a personal request for your vote and support.

Yours sincerely,
P. D. Jasper

Real Organization In County For President's Birthday

PRESBYTERIAN COOK BOOKS ARE READY FOR DELIVERY

The long-awaited Presbyterian Cook Books are ready for delivery. The Presbyterian Ladies should be congratulated on their recipe books. The book is 74 pages of the favorite recipes of Briscoe County ladies and covers every kind of baking and cooking. In addition it contains the latest information and charts on vitamins and how they should be used in the daily menu. The books, which were printed by the Briscoe County News, are made with white, washable covers, and bound with the new Celotex binding which allows the books to lie entirely flat while open. The cover printing is in two colors, blue and gold, featuring a birthday cake, signifying both the contents of the book, and the fact that they were published in the fiftieth year of the Silverton Presbyterian Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Theron Crass entertained the supper club at their home Tuesday evening. After a lovely buffet supper rummy and "42" were enjoyed by the following, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hill, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Luke, Mr. and Mrs. Venus Gillespie, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lyon, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Feust, Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Hahn, Mr. and Mrs. Monte Stanforth, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cash, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Jo Womack, Mr. and Mrs. Aulton Durham, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mercer.

Friends of crippled children be there and bring your money so we can get it all. All proceeds will go to the fund for fighting infantile paralysis. Please be there for we'll be looking for you.

Signed,
Earl Cantwell, Chairman
Assistant committee,
"Helping Hand" Club

HAYLAKE TO CELEBRATE PRESIDENT'S BIRTHDAY FRIDAY NIGHT

The Haylake celebration for Infantile Paralysis Fund will be held Friday night, January 23 at 7:30. All Briscoe County citizens are cordially invited to attend. They will be entertained by games of 42, etc. Music will be furnished by local talent. Cocoa, coffee, sandwiches, pie, cake, and home made candy will be sold.

NOTICE. IMPORTANT CHANGE

By Paul Rogers
The chicken supper banquet Tuesday, January 27, will be given in the home economics cottage of the Silverton School instead of the Methodist Church as was originally planned. Inasmuch as many had mistaken the chicken supper for a Methodist Church affair rather than a community wide project made it necessary to change the place in order to get the full support of the entire community. All five churches in Silverton are supporting the drive to raise funds for the infantile paralysis fund. The women from these churches are donating the food and the plates are sold for $1.00 each. When the chicken supper was decided upon by the committee the goal was set at $100.00. To date $90.00 in tickets have been sold and only about of the people have been contacted. The committee has raised this goal to $150.00 and every person in the community will be asked to buy a ticket within the next few days. The members on the committee are, D. O. Bomar, Bill Dunn and Paul S. Rogers. Don't wait for these men to come around and ask you to buy a ticket to the chicken supper. Contact them and buy your ticket. The chicken supper is to be served between the hours of 6:00 and 8:00 P.M. Thirty-two persons will be served at a time. Those waiting to be served will be entertained with a couple of basketball games with Flomot. These games are to be free to all who have tickets to the chicken supper and all school children are to be admitted free. Bring your children to the ball games and attend the chicken supper. Chicken sandwiches will be sold to the children for 10c each if there is sufficient food to spare.

County Expects To Exceed Quota Of $350.00 For Infantile Paralysis

Plans are moving along swiftly toward the President's Diamond Jubilee Birthday Celebration, and according to present prospects, Briscoe County is going to go over the top in a big way for the "Crippled Children".

Chairman Joe Mercer held a called meeting of his community and local committeemen Tuesday night and the reports were very favorable. The complete county set-up in committees is as follows: General Chairman — Joe Mercer Vice-Chairman — E. G. Rice Women's Activities — Mrs. O. T. Bundy

Secretary & Treasurer — J. E. "Doc" Minyard
Executive Committeemen — Bill Middleton
Rock Creek Chairman — R. J. Craft

San Jacinto Chairman — Mrs. H. T. Gill

Haylake Chairman — Mart Self
Francis Chairman — Earl Cantwell
Antelope Chairman — S. A. James assisted by — Erma Joy Weaver
Gasoline Chairman — Bill Helms
Kent Chairman — Von Chandler
E. G. Rice, at Quitaque, has appointed E. W. Shied and Coach Green as his sub-committee, and they will have a benefit basketball game and boxing exhibition at the High School Auditorium January 30.

At Silverton there are two sub-committees, one for the ball, and one for the banquet. The committee in charge of the ball is headed by T. T. Crass, with Frank Havran, Tom Bomar, and Doug Northeut. The banquet committee has secured Clyde Miller and his Swing Band to play for the Birthday Ball January 30. The banquet committee has already completed arrangements for a big chicken supper at the High School Auditorium Tuesday, January 27, and have already sold about 80 plates for the affair. Mrs. Bundy as Women's Activity Chairman, has appointed Miss Leota Rampy to take charge of the banquet itself.

Mrs. Gill has announced a chicken supper at San Jacinto School January 30. A charge of 50c will be made for each plate and it will be a swell feed.

The night of January 23, Haylake and Francis communities will stage their entertainments at their respective school houses. Music, fun, "42" will be plentiful and there will be cake, candy, etc. for sale.

A pie supper has been announced at the Antelope School House on January 28, according to Mr. James. He guaranteed that there would be plenty of pies, and an entertainment will be given.

Bill Helms at Gasoline has arranged for an "old hen party" January 30. The old hens will be auctioned off and a general entertainment will be given.

At Kent, the Sunday School has taken over the raising of the money. Just what method they are using is not known.

The Rock Creek Community invites everyone to their carnival and cake-walk to be held at the Rock Creek School House Saturday night January 24th. The proceeds will go to the Crippled Childrens Fund.

With the county organized as it is, there is very little doubt that we will go over the top. Briscoe County should really give larger counties a mark to shoot at. The slogan is "Remember the Kid Around Your Corner"—it's a good one.

Briscoe County Lads Are Producers

How the Farm Security Administration is assisting American farm youth to participate in the nation's Food for Freedom drive, was explained here this week by Otis Wilson, Chairman of the county USDA Defense Board.

Farm Security loans for 4-H and Vocational Agriculture club projects are available to boys and girls whose parents are now cooperating with this agency. The loans, not exceeding $75 for each individual, are made to the club boys and girls at 5 percent interest, and can be made for a period up to five years.

Supervision of the 4-H Club loans is given by the county extension agent, and the Vocational Agriculture Club loans are supervised by vocational agriculture teachers.

The pictures above show how the farm youth in Briscoe County made it possible for the county to exceed its quota set by the State USDA Defense Board for an increase in dairy animals. Farm Security loans were made to more than 75 club members for the purchase of young dairy heifers, sheep and heifer beef stock.

At the top are J. B. Brooks, Jr. and Troy Brooks, with their 4-H Club flock. Also in the picture are Claude Carpenter, Farm Security supervisor, and County Agent, Lem Weaver.

All the boys and girls participating in this special type of financing in Briscoe County have organized themselves into a club project association with an advisory council of leading citizens. The association has an insurance plan which protects the club members against livestock loss by death.

Club members in Briscoe County wishing to finance their projects with Farm Security Administration loans during 1942 should contact Lem Weaver, County agent, or Claude C. Carpenter, Rural Rehabilitation supervisor for the FSA with offices in the Court House at Silverton, Texas.

OWLS WIN SECOND PLACE IN DISTRICT

The Silverton Owls lost to Turkey 43-21 Saturday night after having reached the finals in the district tournament at Turkey by winning over Flomot 32-18 earlier in the day.

The taller and more experienced Turks were too much for the Owls who had played an excellent game in defeating Flomot. The win gave Turkey the district championship with Silverton second and Flomot third. The other entrants were Estelline, Quitaque, and Roaring Springs.

Bonds made the all-district team as guard while Alvie Gardner was selected as forward on the second team.

OWLS DEFEAT QUITAQUE TUESDAY NIGHT

Led by Bonds the Silverton Owls trounced the Quitaque Panthers 33-22 in their first county championship game Tuesday night at Quitaque. The Owls chalked up a lead during the third quarter after a close first half.

The Silverton girls strutted off with a 43-8 victory over Quitaque. Led by Marilyn Johnson, the girls played their best game of the year in defeating their rivals.

Snack on a Frosty Night—Broiled Wienies
(See Recipes Below)

Winty Snacks

The cold, frosty evenings with their full program of basketball games, sleigh ride parties, skating and other winter-time amusements call for piping hot, hearty snacks to take care of brisk appetites. While in warmer weather, the family could raid the ice box, now the problem is slightly different, as hot food, satisfying but still simple, is in demand.

Here's a dish that just seems to fit the bill: the broiled wienies and hot potato salad pictured above. Of course, hot potato salad with wienies is an old favorite but there's a touch of something new in the wienies broiled with cheese and the green beans around the potato salad to add a touch of color.

Broiled Wienies.

Select two to three skinless frankfurters for each person to be served, two will do nicely for the girls and women but better count three for the men and boys. Split the frankfurter and insert a strip of American cheese. When almost ready to serve, pop into the broiler and cook until cheese melts and browns slightly.

Hot Potato Salad.
(Serves 6)

6 potatoes, boiled with skins on
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
2 hard-cooked eggs, diced
Salt and pepper
8 slices bacon, broiled until crisp, crumbled

Cooked Salad Dressing.

3 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon yellow mustard
1 1/2 tablespoons flour
1 egg yolk
3/4 cup water
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon butter

Blend dry ingredients, then add egg yolk and blend until smooth. Add water, then vinegar, stirring constantly. Cook over boiling water, stirring all the while, until thick. Remove from fire, add butter and serve hot, mixed with potato salad.

Baked Spaghetti.
(Serves 8)

1 pound package of spaghetti
3 small onions, chopped fine
2 tablespoons oil
1 pound ground beef
1/2 pound sausage (in the bulk)
1/2 pound mushrooms
1/2 teaspoon pickling spice
1 teaspoon salt
4 small cans tomato sauce
1/4 pound grated American cheese

Cook spaghetti in boiling salted water 12 to 15 minutes. Drain and run cold water through it. Saute onion, ground meat and sausage in oil until brown. Add mushrooms, spice, salt and tomato sauce. Simmer slowly for 40 minutes. Put thin layer of spaghetti on bottom of buttered casserole. Then add a layer

Lynn Says:

Here are a few quick snack ideas you'll like to paste in your notebook: Baked beans garnished with brown bread, cream cheese sandwiches, placed around the bean pot. You might try the canned baked beans with sliced ham, too. It's quick, easy and delicious. Toasted buns with hamburgers, cheeseburgers, or ham and cheese slices go over nicely, too. Toasted English muffins with an egg fried or poached with ham are high in favor.

of sauce, then cheese, another layer of spaghetti and so on until all sauce, cheese and spaghetti is used. Bake 30 minutes in a moderate (350-degree) oven.

Another tomato-meat dish which is guaranteed to be aces with your guests dropping in after a basketball game, sleigh ride or what-have-you is this:

Tamele Pie.
(Serves 8)

1 medium-sized onion, chopped
3 tablespoons oil
1 1/2 pounds beef, cut in cubes
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon chili powder
1 large can tomatoes (2 1/2 cups)
1 cup yellow bantam corn
1 1/2 cups corn meal
5 cups boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup grated cheese

Brown onion in oil, then add beef and cook until brown. Add salt, chili powder, tomatoes and corn and cook slowly 1 hour. Add corn meal to stiffening and cook 15 minutes, stirring frequently. Cool mush, then line buttered casserole dish with a 1-inch layer of the mush. Pour in meat-vegetable mixture, then top with remaining mush. Bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 1 1/2 hours. During last quarter hour, sprinkle top with cheese. Serve with a sauce made by heating one can of tomato soup to which has been added 1 can of ripe, pitted olives.

Bean and Sausage Bake.
(Serves 4)

1 small onion, sliced
1/2 pound link sausage
1 can baked beans
1 tablespoon pickle relish
1 tablespoon chili sauce

Place onion on bottom of casserole and lay sausage on top of onion. Bake in a moderate oven 15 minutes, then drain off excess fat. Combine beans with onion, sausage, pickle relish and chili sauce. Return to oven for 20 minutes to reheat.

If you have only eggs, don't ever despair for they have excellent possibilities as snacks. Try scrambled eggs with cheese, bacon fried crisp and brown and crumbled, or broiled sausages. Omelets made with a slice of American cheese before they're folded are menu tempters, as are omelets made with a tomato sauce folded over them before serving.

THE TEMPTATION OF JESUS

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 4:1-11. GOLDEN TEXT—For we have a high priest who was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin.—Hebrews 4:15.

"We have not a high priest that cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but one that hath been in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin" (Heb. 4:15, R. V.). We recognize that Jesus was tempted as the Messiah (see Matt. 4:3, 6) and as One who had no sin, and yet He was tempted in all points as we are; and we may learn from His temptation how to meet temptation and be victorious over it.

I. Temptation.

It is the common lot of all mankind to be tempted (I Cor. 10:13). The strongest and most noble of men are subject to it; angels were tempted—yes, even Jesus was tempted. We need to know about temptation, so we note

1. What It Is (v. 1). Temptation is of the devil. It is, as Principal Fairbairn expressed it, "seduction to evil, solicitation to wrong. It stands distinguished from trial thus: trial tests, seeks to discover the man's moral qualities or character; but temptation persuades to evil, deludes that it may ruin. God tries. Satan tempts."

Note that temptation is not sin, but yielding to the temptation is sin.

We are told by James (Jas. 1:13-15) that man is tempted by his own lusts. He also tells us that God may permit temptations or trials to test our faith (Jas. 1:2, 3), but His purpose is only to prove us able to stand. God does not suffer us to be tempted beyond endurance, but provides a way of escape (I Cor. 10:13).

2. How It Works (vv. 2, 3, 5, 6, 8, 9). Satan has only three temptations, although he is a master at giving them different appearances. The temptation of Jesus followed the same threefold line as that of Adam and Eve (Gen. 3:6), which is described in I John 2:16 as the general temptation of all men, namely, "the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life." Observe how Satan worked on Jesus: (a) By appealing to the flesh (vv. 2, 3). Jesus had fasted 40 days, and Satan took advantage of that fast to suggest that He use His divine power of creation to satisfy His hunger. To do so would have been to deny His very mission on earth.

Satan observes in man the normal appetites of his body, excites them to a high degree, and then tempts him to satisfy them in an improper way. (b) By appealing to pride (vv. 5, 6). God had promised to keep Jesus "in all his ways" (Ps. 91:11), but casting Himself from the temple was not one of God's "ways" for Him.

The devil wants us to be presumptuous and call it faith, and this is his pitfall for one who really wants to believe—cause him to become a fanatic and substitute foolish presumption for faith. (c) By appealing to the eyes (vv. 8, 9). By showing Christ the kingdoms of the earth in some kind of striking panorama, or moving picture, he offered a short cut to their rule by a brief act of worship of him, rather than by way of the cross. The devil showed his real purpose here. He wants worship—he wants us to bow to him instead of to God.

II. Our Lord Was Victorious Over Satan.

We, too, can triumph in His blessed name. To do so we need to study the way of victory.

1. How to Gain It (vv. 4, 7, 10). Three steps appear: (a) By the right use of Scripture. If our Lord needed and used that weapon, how can we possibly do without it? How can we use it if we do not study it, and hide it in our hearts (Ps. 119:11)? (b) By complete dependence upon God. Every Scripture used by Jesus against Satan honored God the Father. We cannot fight Satan in our own strength. Luther was right—"Did we in our own strength confide, Our striving would be losing."

The real victory for the Christian is to bring Satan to the foot of the cross. Christ defeated him completely there, and we may plead that victory. (c) By denouncing Satan. Jesus sent him on his way. We may do the same, in Jesus' name. It is always a serious error to argue with Satan, or even to discuss matters with him. He is not divine, but he is a supernatural being with knowledge and cunning which are too much for us. Meet him with Scripture, honor God by your faith in Christ, then "resist the devil, and he will flee from you" (Jas. 4:7).

2. What It Brings (v. 11). When the defeated devil left Christ, angels came and ministered to Him. The overcoming of temptation brings victory, peace, and blessed rest. This is ever true in the life of the believer. Temptations victoriously met make one stronger in meeting the next temptation. There is always a next one, for we read (Luke 4:13) that the devil left Christ only "for a season"

AROUND THE HOUSE

Keep spices tightly covered and away from the heat. Otherwise, much of the flavor may be lost.

Don't open cans or chop ice in the sink—you will damage the enamel.

If you like the flavor of cloves, try adding a few whole ones to the fat in which doughnuts are fried.

To remove paper that has stuck to a polished surface, soften with a little olive oil.

Moisten dry stove polish with vinegar instead of water and your stove will take on a better polish.

If shredded coconut becomes dry it can be softened by steaming in a clean cloth over boiling water.

BOYS, I CAN TAKE IT, I mean I can dish it out. No, I mean you can take it I guess. But gather round—I've had an experience.

I'VE HAD MY throat swabbed. Boy it is really sore to-night so I saw Tom Bomar and he said, "Shoot, let me swab it." I did. And he did. Only I didn't. I lost it. If you have never had your throat swabbed, you have never lived. Until to-night, my life has been a vast emptiness, and now that emptiness is where my supper was.

BUT THAT TOM has technique. I'll bet that twenty years ago he was a real technician. He gets out his swab and soaks it in some kind of vile solution. Then he puts you back at arm's length, and says "Let me see her. (All the time he has that swab behind his back). Then he sticks a delicate little piece of lumber on your tonsils and as your stomach rises to the bait, he let's you have it with the swab. And what I mean he gets up the old r.p.m.s too. The only thing wrong to-night was that he got the stick lodged behind a tonsil and we couldn't get it loose. "Well", he says "It will work loose in time." By the time I got back to the shop, it had.

BREATHES there a man with soul so dead
 With throat so sore (and aching head)
 Who never to himself hath said
 I will not go unto my bed.

Who never to the nearest store
 Hath hied himself with throaty roar,
 And asked the bird behind the door
 To fix him up to "go" some more.

And who after the unpleasant task is done,
 Hath left the druggist on the run
 Proclaiming to every mother's son
 That the pain of life had just begun.

Who hath not sworn by every god,
 That under foot he hath been trod,
 And that ere again he'll take the prod
 He'll lie forever beneath the sod.

BOY WAS THAT A pome? It was not.

PUT JASPER rounded me up this week, and pressed five bucks in my palm and said "What can you do for me?" for a long time

I thought about it. And the next day it came to me—just like that it happened—Flash. He wanted his picture run in the paper. And I'll do it. And not only that but I'm going to run him for commissioner. He's running all right—saw him again yesterday and he was shaved. I think he is going after the women's vote this year.

AND COFFEE, AFTER having an extra week to think up nice things to say about himself, could only get about a dozen lines together. I feel kinda like Cooney Alexander said he felt after getting his first army pay check—"taking money under false pretenses." He would have done better to have had me written it. For another ten bucks I could get old Coffe elected governor in a write-in campaign.

NOW THAT STATEMENT applies to all you fellows. It doesn't make any difference to me about your qualifications, your chances of election or defeat. The thing that talks to me is the ten bucks. (Five dollar SPECIAL on this week for any commissioner announcement).

TIME SURE FLIES. An old boy up at Pampa wrote me this week and said that a salesman had been in his shop and told him that I had an old linotype for sale. The old boy just six years behind times. Since I had that machine for sale, I've traded it in on a new one and paid it out with blood by the month—64 of them. Boy, how news travels.

Then he has one where he hovers the stenographers and gives them their instructions for the day. Then he has one where he does nothing.

I WONDER HOW the daylight saving time is going to benefit me, or you or anyone. I am dumb but I do not understand daylight saving. Out here we work as many hours as the old body can get up and down and I do not see how changing the clock can make the old body get up and down any oftener.

BUT THERE ARE two things that I do not know. I do not know who is going to pay the national debt, and I do not know how I am going to make my next car payment.

ALBERT MYERS WRITES ON AIR RAIDS AND WHAT TO DO

Here is a letter from Albert Myers who is stationed with the army at Biggs Field. The remarks on "air raid conduct" are very timely, and in case we ever have a raid they would probably fit about 90% of us:

Dear Folks:
 Well, how is everyone at home now? Fine I hope. Well it is pretty warm here as I have had to put a coat on only a few times and then it was not really necessary. The first time that I have been off the field since you all left was Thursday when I took those pictures down that we took when you all were here. I will send you some when I get them back.

Well I will give you some information if there ever comes a time when that part of the country is bombed:

What To Do In Case Of Air Raid
 1. As soon as bombs start dropping, run like h..... (It doesn't matter where—as long as you run like h.....)

(a) Wear track shoes if possible: if the guys in front of you are slow, you'll have no trouble getting over them.

2. Take advantage of opportunities afforded you, when air raid alarms sound the attack warning:

(a) If in the Cafe, grab some pie.
 (b) If in the Taproom, grab a bottle.

(c) If in a movie, grab a blonde or other suitable female.

3. If you find an unexploded bomb or dud, always pick it up and shake like h.....—the firing pin may be stuck.

(a) If this doesn't work, throw it into a fire. (The Fire Department will come later and take care of things.)

4. Always get excited and holler bloody murder. This will add to the fun and confusion and scare h..... outta the kids.

5. If you should be the victim of a direct bomb hit, don't go to pieces. Lie still, and you won't be noticed.

6. If an incendiary bomb is found burning in a building, throw gasoline on it. You can't put it out anyway, so you might as well have a little fun!

(a) If no gasoline is available, throw a bucket of water on it and lie down—you're as good as dead anyway.

(b) The properties of the bomb free the hydrogen from the water, causing rather rapid combustion (in fact it will explode with a h..... of a crash).

7. Drink heavily, eat onions, limburger cheese, etc., before entering a crowded air raid shelter. This will make you very unpopular with the mass in your immediate vicinity—hence eliminating any unnecessary discomfort that would be more prevalent if people crowded to closely. The smoking of three-for-five cigars (the kind distributed by newly promoted non-coms) might also help.

8. Knock the Guards down if they start to tell you what to do. They always save the best sheltered spots for themselves anyway.

By the way this reminds me do Clyde and Philip still smoke? I don't have a curtain in my room, I don't get what you mean?

As for chairs I don't need one because I am not in my room except at night and that is to go to bed, and because of my work I sometimes have to work late at night I have worked many nights until 2:00, but everyone is doing three times as much work as they should because we don't have enough men here, but in about two years I guess we will have one of the biggest fields in the world. As for the examination it hasn't come out yet, again.

Well I hope to hear from you soon so with this I will say goodbye.

As ever,
 Albert Myers

Precautions About Handling NATURAL GAS

In Case Of Air-Raid Alarms!

Natural gas is the safest fuel you could be using during an air raid. BUT, the HANDLING of natural gas is a technical matter, requiring the services of trained men who know how to avoid the hazards involved.

It is therefore extremely important that everyone should study and follow the carefully prepared instructions relating to the handling of natural gas during air raid alarms. If these instructions are not followed, serious consequences may result. Untrained persons should not attempt to turn gas off and on at the meters.

Following are the official instructions which have been approved and adopted by local Office of Civilian Defense. They are simple. Read them carefully. Discuss them in the family circle so all will understand. Cut them out and post them where all can see them. Above all, follow them!

In Case Of An Air-Raid Alarm:

1. Make no attempt to shut off the gas at the meter.
2. Simply turn off all burners which you customarily turn on and off. Do not turn off pilot lights.
3. Only in case the house or building is badly damaged should the gas be turned off at the meter.
4. If, for any reason, the gas is turned off at the meter, do not turn it on again yourself. Call for a trained man.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS By Edward C. Wayne

Speed Up of U. S. War Production And Reports of Russian Victories Cheer Allied Nations, Although Axis Gains in Malaya and Philippines

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Two government officials "on edge"?

JESSE JONES—RFC administrator and secretary of commerce, pictured sitting on desk as he listens to Representative Dingell of Michigan charging that the army was building new production plants while many others were idle.

THE WAR: Up and Down

The war had become an up and down affair, with the Russians winning all along their huge front, the British gaining victories in North Africa and the Germans on the run, and the Japanese generally in the ascendancy on the Philippine and Singapore fronts, but taking a continued whipping at the hands of the Chinese.

Such was the situation as there was no longer any question but that the large and well-equipped army of the United States was on the move to join battle actively in the war, though the detailed whereabouts of that participation was still a closely guarded secret.

Estimates of when the tide of the battle of the ABCD forces against the Japanese in the southwest Pacific would change varied considerably.

Some observers felt it would be weeks, others months, some who were more pessimistic felt it would be a year before enough American pressure could be brought to bear to produce a definite change in the battle.

But that victory would be won in the end, nobody seemed to doubt. They watched the United States moving troops and ships, producing faster and faster more powerful armaments, moving to put new soldiers and sailors into uniform, and could see but one result, eventual victory, perhaps in 1943.

RUSSIA: Brightest Spot

Moscow had begun to report mass surrenders of German troops without fighting. The Reds also reported large masses of Nazi soldiers in rapid retreat to the southwest from the upper central front, abandoning much war material.

The sieges of Sevastopol and Leningrad have definitely been broken, and their garrisons had swept out beyond the city borders to engage retreating Germans and to attempt to form junctions with other Russian troops.

The radio broadcasts picked up from Germany tacitly admitted the situation was serious. One described it as a "crisis, but one with which Adolf Hitler will know how to deal."

Hitler was believed to be planning some sort of major coup, but the nature of it could not be guessed at. He also was variously reported as facing tremendous internal pressure as a result of his break with Von Brauchitsch.

There also had been reports that crack German reinforcements were being flown by gliders to the Russian front to attempt to bolster the cracking Nazi defenses.

MAC ARTHUR: Tough

Only fragmentary reports at wide intervals, testimony to the increasing difficulties of communications, were coming from the Philippines.

Some military commentators saw hope for General MacArthur and his defending forces if they could hold out for three weeks more.

But this was admittedly problematical. How much in the way of supplies and munitions the MacArthur army had was one question. Another was how long these supplies and munitions would continue to get to him.

Admittedly the Filipino-American troops had all the advantage of terrain and superior position. The Marivales mountain range, which they were defending, was lofty, provided much natural fortification, and tactically was the planned line of defense from the outset. This worked out as planned.

LEON HENDERSON—Price administrator, as he appeared before the senate committee on small business. He and representatives of the retail automobile trade are in search for means to cushion the economic shock which car dealers face.

MALAYA: 'At All Costs'

While the British were seriously being forced backward and ever backward in Malaya, losing the capital of the Federated Malay States, Kuala Lumpur, Sir Henry Pownall, the commander in the Singapore defense, made the statement that the British plan was divided into two general parts, first the slowing or stopping of the Japanese attack; second, the turning of the British to the offensive and driving the invaders out. He said:

"We are now engaged in the first of these activities."

Returning British wounded, however, paid tribute to the fighting qualities of the Japs, and members of Commando groups said that when confronted with the cold steel the Japs would scramble up into tall trees, from which they would hurl grenades on the British "like monkeys with explosive coconuts."

They were said to be adept at hiding in small places, and that at times furious fire would come from directions in which it did not seem possible that soldiers could find cover.

R.A.F. activity over the peninsula was constantly on the increase, however, and American-made bombers, some of them flown by Eagle fliers with the volunteer Chinese air force, were bombing Japanese bases in Thailand and Indo-China from Burma flying fields.

The picture was not generally optimistic in Malaya, but it was regarded as far from hopeless, at least at present.

PRODUCTION: On Home Front

All over the United States groups of workers were getting together and adopting resolutions to speed up their effort, and some factories producing war materials were reporting as much as 70 per cent added output since the declaration of war.

Ships of war were being launched and put into commission as rapidly as possible. The Liberty ships were going into the water at scores of shipyard ways.

Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, received several large new gliders for test, gliders said to have a wingspread of 80 feet, probably capable of transporting soldiers in large numbers.

Swiftly they had been put under test, their pilots from the new schools which are training men to manage these motorless ships, which possibly may be towed in "trains" to be released over territory in which it is desired to land troops.

In the invasion of Crete, Germany used hundreds of them, reportedly landing 15,000 troops that way, also large numbers of light field guns and ammunition.

The newest glider training school is at Twenty-Nine Palms, Calif., turning out classes every four weeks, the students being already graduate pilots.

The gliders were so large that in transporting them from factory to Wright field by trailer truck they had to be broken into two assemblies.

PRICES:

The price control bill finally was passed, but in such a form that it was said to have been a major defeat for the administration.

Although the senate passed it 83 to 1, the farm-relief amendment passed only 55 to 21.

As the bill went into conference it provided, according to opposition senators, such possible farm price raises that the cost of living could reasonably advance 25 per cent before the price control administrator could do anything about it.

Expanded War Program Will Touch Every Home

All Phases of National Life to Feel Effects of Changes Brought About 'Colossal' Economy; Tire, Car Curbs Mere Beginning.

By BAUKHAGE National Farm and Home Hour Commentator.

WNU Service, 1343 H Street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

In less time than it takes to read this column a new airplane should be completed—that is, if the program outlined by the President in his message on the state of the Union is carried out.

That seems like a large order. It is. But this is what the President has planned for 1942: 60,000 new planes, 45,000 new tanks, 20,000 new anti-aircraft guns, 8,000,000 tons of merchant shipping. Since there are only 8,760 hours in the year, if the OPM is to meet the President's goals, planes will have to roll out of the factories at the rate of one every eight minutes, tanks at the rate of one every 11 minutes, anti-aircraft guns at the rate of one every 25 minutes, and shipping at the rate of 15 tons a minute.

America's resources may be unlimited, but human comprehension is not. Ever since that message was delivered in congress, Washington has been straining in an attempt to comprehend those colossal figures.

Already some of the effects are being translated in terms of human experience—you know if you have tried to buy a tire or an automobile. Other even more painful experiences are ahead. One of them is the unemployment which is coming while the civilian industry is being converted to defense production.

Small Plants Hit

It means that some 133,000 small plants will close their doors for good. They are too small to be converted. Their workers and supervisors, if they are competent, will be able to find employment elsewhere.

It means that thousands of salesmen who sell, not merely refrigerators, ice boxes and juke boxes, vacuum cleaners and electric toys, but other things which we once thought were necessities will stop selling. They may have to take off their white collars.

A survey of some thousand middle sized manufacturing concerns now turning out defense products has been made by the labor department.

It revealed that three-fourths of the plants were working on three shifts already. Remember that was before the President tossed off his new production figures and the OPM "raised its sights" to meet them. But in these plants it was found that the second and third shifts used only half the man-power employed in the first shift. Right there is a 50 per cent increase in employment. These were plants selected as typical.

Someone will have to fill those extra shifts and a great many others. It will mean that a lot of "brainworkers" will have to work their hands. When a nation suddenly turns over 50 per cent of its income to defense production, it means that the man in search of a job has less than half a chance at getting any other kind of work.

In our homes, the effect of war measures has already made itself felt. Wool is rationed already. That is because even with all our sheep we depend on Australia and the Argentine for wool. We haven't the ships to bring it here. And we are getting ready to clothe an army of 5,000,000 men. Other restrictions will come.

In his budget message, the President hinted that we might have to carry ration cards the way the Europeans do before the war is over. That is more of a threat perhaps, than a prediction but it is worth remembering before we get too complacent.

Fertilizer 'Rationing'

Already the farmer is being rationed though he may not realize it. Take fertilizer, for instance:

First, the nitrates. All synthetic nitrates have to go into munitions. The one word nitro-glycerine reminds you of that. Natural nitrates have other things in them, so the army is after those, too. But since they come from Chile, they have to come in ships. And there are few ships for this purpose.

Second, phosphates. They come from Florida, Wyoming and Idaho. But they come in rocks. You can see a whole pile of these rocks right over in Baltimore. But it takes sulphuric acid to "digest" them. Sulphuric acid is needed for munitions.

Third, sprays. Formaldehyde is a vital part of many sprays. It is needed to disinfect stored grain and to remove smut and fungi from grain before seeding. But formaldehyde is necessary in the production of plastics to dissolve woody material. And plastics! They are needed as substitutes for essential metals.

Fourth, copper sulphate. There is no need to comment when you consider the part copper plays in agriculture.

When it comes to rubber, the farmer, like everybody else is affected. The difference is that the farmer is going to be making rubber the next few years.

Out in California the climate produces the best Gayule plants. There will be acres and acres of these plants cultivated. It takes some time—but some are already growing. A two-year-old crop will produce 900 pounds of very good rubber per acre. The trouble is that you have to dig up the plants to get the latex—it comes from the roots.

Then, of course, there is synthetic rubber, but I am not allowed to reveal the figures, which are greater than many of our enemies think. Our victory production. There are also the big cultivated rubber plantations in Brazil and Central America run by Ford and Goodyear. They are the wild rubber from the Amazon. And most important of all, there is the contribution that the most unskilled people in the world are bringing to have to make—the production of not buying tires for America's 27,000,000 pleasure cars.

The privilege of "not buying" is going to be extended. There will be no more gadgets and there will be a lot less money to buy even the necessities when we pay our share of the bill for building the greatest war machine in history. A machine so big and so destructive that perhaps it will destroy war itself.

Weather Information And Broadcasting

The highly interesting yearbook just issued by the department of agriculture is devoted to climate and weather. It appears just when the first time in American history that it is worse than a crime to discuss the weather—that is if you talk loud enough to be overheard by enemies ears. A few weeks ago the navy department released an official communique severely blaming a commentator who mentioned the weather in Dakota. He gave out information which the navy said may have been the cause of increased submarine activity in the eastern Atlantic.

In Washington we are not permitted to mention even yesterday's weather on the air. This ruling seemed a bit far-fetched to me. I was commenting on the fact to an official I told the story of what happened to me when I was broadcasting from Berlin just after the war broke out.

On a beautiful moonlight evening of blandly announced over the radio that "it was a fine night for an air raid." Nobody objected to that. There had been no air raids and the question had never been raised. But the next night it was different. Her more description of the current weather, I was told by the military censor—"You can talk about last night's weather but not tonight's," he said.

I asked my Washington friends why, if Berlin let me talk about last night's weather I couldn't do the same thing here. "Weather," he answered, "moves from west to east. Berlin's weather moved over where it didn't matter in 24 hours. Washington's weather moves right into the eastern Atlantic where knowledge of it might benefit raiders."

"Without disparaging in the least the huge metropolitan dailies, with circulations running into the hundreds of thousands and occasionally into the millions—and I say they are the best daily newspapers in the world—it is to the weekly newspapers and the small-town daily newspapers that I, myself, turn for information, guidance and inspiration, especially in the case of problems and questions affecting the public welfare."—Sen. Arthur Capper in the U. S. senate.

SHE LOVED A SPY

by SYLVIA TAYLOR (WMAU-Release)

THE STORY SO FAR: Joan Leland, city secretary to Arthur Mulford, San Francisco importer, is amazed and angry when he unexpectedly discharges her on a two-week salary and refuses any assistance. The bewildered girl arrives at the apartment she shares with her sister Sybil, feeling thankful that one of them still has a position, only to be told her sister that the beauty salon where she works, is closing up. Over the protest of Sybil, Joan answers a secretarial ad requiring some night work. The salivating proprietor, Karl Miller, engages her at once, at a salary of $50 per week and insists upon paying her in advance, even though she lacks references. Karl suspects something sinister and pines Joan's quick interest in Karl. He pleads with her not to take the job until the two quarrel. Joan accepts Karl's offer invitation.

Now continue with the story.

CHAPTER III

Joan felt Karl's irritation towards Sybil. "My parents are both dead," she explained. "Sybil feels that she has to look after me." But even Joan was annoyed to find Sybil waiting up for them later that night. "It's almost two o'clock," Sybil yawned. "What's the idea?" Karl Miller looked amused as he pulled his hat in hand in the doorway. In that case, I shall say good-night without further delay. When he had gone Joan turned reproachfully to her sister. "Why did you have to say that? I'm old enough to manage my own affairs." There were deep circles of fatigue beneath Sybil's blue eyes. Her voice seemed to echo like a warning through the old-fashioned, high-ceilinged rooms. "You've got to quit working for Karl Miller! You've got to quit tomorrow!"

The sisters stared at each other in the dimly lit room. Joan threw her head back defiantly as she cried, "You've made Karl angry! You had no right to do that." Sybil smiled ruefully. "He looked more amused than angry. 'It's up to me to look after you, Joan. I feel responsible since mother and father are gone. If anything happened, I'd never forgive myself.'" "I know, Sybil! And we mustn't quarrel about it."

She yawned and started for the bedroom but Sybil caught her arm. "Then you will quit working for Karl Miller?" "No, I will not. I'm twenty years old, Sybil, and I'm not going to let you or anyone else run my life." The grandfather's clock in the corner chimed. "Two-thirty," Joan observed, glancing at Sybil's worried glance. "We'd better get some sleep. Don't you have to work in the morning?" "No. Today was my last day. From now on I'm one of the unemployed."

"And you expect me to quit my job? Oh, no, Sybil! I'm making a good salary and whether you think so or not, Karl is a gentleman." "Maybe so," Sybil said as she snuffed off the lamp, "but I don't trust him." The next day Joan Leland arrived at the Club Elite promptly at two o'clock. Karl Miller's office was filled with baskets of flowers. Tonight was opening night but Karl was unrumpled behind his desk, impeccably dressed in a gray suit, a red carnation in his buttonhole. She was glad that she had worn her best black dress. It was an expensive sophisticated dress, the kind of dress Joan knew Karl would approve. Heavy silver earrings were her only ornament, and she had used a touch of mascara, a dash of dark lipstick. Joan had the assurance of a woman who knew that she looked her best. Her green eyes sparkled as she closed the office door behind her.

"Good afternoon," she said demurely. Her employer was not the type to evade issues. "I've been thinking about your sister, Joan. Tell me something about her." Joan removed her hat and coat and smoothed her black hair before she replied, "Sybil's a little low right now. You see, she's just lost her job. The beauty shop where she worked has been closed." Karl laughed. "Then perhaps that was why she was in such a bad humor?" He said it with such apparent honesty that Joan was not angry. She sat down at her own small desk beside Karl's and mechanically inserted a sheet of paper in her typewriter.

Karl suddenly leaned forward. "Would it please you if I could help your sister?" The girl's lovely face lifted innocently to his. "Oh Karl, could you?" "I think so. A friend of mine, a Mrs. Murdock, owns the Ritz Beauty Salon. If I ask her, I feel sure she will be able to use another experienced girl." Joan's eyes were shining. "The Ritz Beauty Salon! Oh, Karl, that's wonderful!" It was one of the best shops in town. Sybil would be thrilled. "Of course," Karl continued, "your sister may not want any assistance from me since she so obviously dislikes me." "I'm sure Sybil will appreciate it very much," Joan assured him. "It was sweet of you to think of her, Karl."

But with a swift change of attitude Karl had ground out his cigarette and when he turned again to

"All right! From now on I'm not saying another word. You can do just as you like, Joan."

Joan his eyes were void of any emotion. "Get that orchestra leader on the telephone," he said. "I have some instructions to give him." "Yes, Mr. Miller!" and as Joan dialed the number she found herself more than ever intrigued by this man who had offered to help her sister. This strange enigma that was Karl Miller. At six o'clock Joan decided to go home for dinner. In two hours she could easily make it and she was eager to tell Sybil of her good fortune.

Her sister looked up in surprise as Joan burst into the living room. "What on earth are you doing home? You didn't by any chance quit?" "Don't be silly!" Joan cried, throwing her hat on the table. "I have wonderful news for you. Karl can get you a job at the Ritz Beauty Salon." Sybil was genuinely surprised. "The Ritz? That smart new shop on Post street?" "Nothing less! Isn't it wonderful? Karl knows the owner. He's going to call her and fix it up for you." "But it's one of the best shops in town," Sybil said unbelievably. "Of course! Wasn't it nice of him? Honestly, Sybil, how can you dislike a man who is so kind? Imagine his thinking about a job for you today, of all days, when he's so busy with the club opening!"

Sybil was standing by the window. "Doesn't look like a very good night for it. It's going to rain." "Is that all you can say!" Joan cried indignantly. "Karl said maybe, since you didn't like him, you wouldn't want his help. But I thought you would." Sybil turned, "You're right, Joan! I do need the job. You may tell Mr. Miller that I appreciate it very much." Joan did not notice the coldness of her sister's reply. She was happily unconscious of the expression on Sybil's face. "How about dinner? I'm starved. I have to be back at the club by eight."

Sybil broiled the chops while Joan made a salad. "I see you're wearing your good black dress to work. What's the idea?" "Why not?" Joan retorted. "I'm making fifty dollars a week now and I have to look my best." "You didn't seem to think it necessary when you worked for Mr. Mulford." Joan put the salad bowl on the table and set places for two. "You know how I feel about Karl, Sybil!" she said in a low voice. "Why make it hard for me?" "All right! From now on I'm not saying another word. You can do just as you like, Joan. Maybe it's none of my business, after all."

Joan put an affectionate arm about her sister. "Don't feel that way, darling. But give me a little credit for knowing what I'm doing. I'm not a child, you know." Sybil smiled as she turned back to the stove but she said no more. As Sybil had predicted, it was raining when Joan reached the club but the weather had not seemed to affect business. Already the first guests were arriving. The bar was crowded. Gay laughter, conversation, tinkling glasses made an exciting combination of sounds which spelled success for the future. Joan felt a little thrill of pride as she passed on down the corridor to the office.

She settled herself at her desk and began to type. Karl was not there. Her mind wandered as she worked. Only a week ago she was working for Arthur Mulford. Now everything was different. Life had turned a fresh page, which Joan felt sure would be filled with adventure. It must have been fate that she answered Karl Miller's advertisement. Fate that Mr. Mulford had gone out of business and been forced to fire her. She was thinking so intently that when he opened the door she felt the color rush into her cheeks. And she knew that his keen eyes had observed her embarrassment. Karl seemed pleased. "Everything's going fine. Couldn't be better. By the way, I spoke to Mrs.

Murdock. Tell your sister she can start work Monday morning." "Oh thank you!" Joan cried. "It's so kind of you, Karl!" He rose, came around the desk. "Has it made you happy, Joan?" "Of course," her eyes faltered beneath the steel-blue eyes. Karl Miller laughed softly as he drew her into his powerful arms. Sybil's warnings rang in her ears but the pounding of her heart overcame them as her lips blindly met his.

Brown Boys in Blue

The navy department has established naval reserve officers training corps at various colleges throughout the nation. Typical of these is the unit at Brown university, Providence, R. I., where the navy has a key base at nearby Newport. These photos take you to Brown, and show you how the Brown boys in blue are learning the arts of the seagoing warrior to man the fortresses of floating steel that are our first line of defense.

Like the generations of Brown sons who have fought in every one of America's wars since the Revolution, these young men are determined to share in America's victory effort.

Loading and firing of naval guns is practiced in this loading machine. Dummy shells are used. A job where teamwork counts.
