YOUR TRUE?
THOSE OF YOU who aren't attending the classes in Civilian Protection which are being held Monday and Thursday nights by W. Coffee, are missing not only an entertaining session, but also something that could be a lesson that would save the lives of your family. Whether or not you can attend every session, you should take advantage of what you can. Monday night we talked about, and Coffee illustrated the various types and sizes of bombs in general use and it is very interesting.

WE ALL HOPE that this information will never be useful right here in Silverton. Maybe it won't. And if it isn't so much the better. But do you have assurance that you will be living here next year? And if you stop to think about it, Silverton holds a pretty strategic spot in case actual air raids should come — just 70 miles as the crow flies — from Amarillo which is rapidly growing into one of the hot spots in War Work.

IF YOU HAVE been watching the Russians and their gallant defense of Stalingrad, you will see what the civilian population can do when necessary. Of course that means a trained civilian population. They have saved their city so far. The other extreme, of an untrained civilian population, was France. Beserk and frightened people clogged the roads and unwittingly helped the Germans more than any other thing. These classes all over the nation are to see that "it doesn't happen here."

THERE IS A great resemblance between Maj.-Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of the Selective Service, and the well known bar of candy. I mean the one with the nuts. That word "nuts" can cover a world of territory and with no offense intended toward the candy bar, or the peanut grower, it covers Hershey completely.

HE NEVER HAS anything to say, yet he is always on the air, and in the newspapers. How much simpler and pleasant 'twould be for the manpower of America if Hershey would have a record made of his voice and play it over several times a day for himself. There is no one else interested, it seems to me. Hershey has contradicted himself far too often to be considered as a source of information.

JUDGE DANIEL came around to tell me about a watermelon that Dan Dean brought him. It weighed 52 pounds, dressed. I don't just know what it weighed on foot. The thing that stumps me is the order of events. Such as: Dan gives it to Daniel; and Daniel tells me, and I tell you. The correct procedure is, or should be: Dan gives to editor; editor tells you — and cut out the middle man.

IN A SHORT talk at Lions Club Wednesday a member of the Amarillo Lions Club outlined plans for peace—a permanent peace. It was well delivered, and on the surface of the thing was very plausible. The theory was that nations, like men, need a police force. And so, after the war, let the Allies (providing it's us) set up a police force that will force adherence to the terms of the peace. These terms will be based on "do unto the other fellow, etc.," and the peace table will include representatives of the vanquished as well as the victors, with all taking an equal part. This plan would be outlined and used in the Axis Nations now as propaganda, tending to show that they would get more by an Axis defeat rather than an Axis victory. It looks well on paper, and it sounded well in a speech. However, there are several things that would keep it from being practical.

THERE IS ONLY one thing that will make for a lasting peace. That plan is one that is in my mind, and perhaps shows how narrow it is. But it is very simple. DESTROY THE GERMAN NATION UTTERLY as a political unit. For two generations take their government from them. Let the German people feel themselves the thing that they have been thrusting on the world every 25 years. We say "Damn Hitler". It isn't really Hitler. He is only an opportunist, taking advantage of a situation that is exactly suited to his character and ability. It is the German people, with their inborn tendency to believe the first super salesman that comes along and says, "We can rule the world."

WE CAN FURNISH the Germans all they need to keep from being a "havenot" nation. That will not suffice to make peace. They must be given a place in the world, but it must be a place wherein they have no say-so, and absolutely no chance to formulate a government or be united in any way. Crazy idea, you say? Well if it is then so is the idea of confining habitual criminals for life. The theory of that is that they have had their chance to be citizens and muffed it. And so the only thing left is to protect society by keeping them completely out of it. Can that be done to a nation? It can. And it can be done systematically and even without malice—because a habitual criminal has an incurable disease, a thing for which we can be sorry, but for which the penalty is death or isolation.

THE SANDERS had a few friends in last Friday night games and then a watermelon feed. It was all pretty keen. Games that we forgot about twenty years or so ago were played. You know what I mean — such games as Flying Dutchman and so forth. The highlight of the evening was probably Tom Bomar under the sheet. What I mean, that old boy was really going good. If you don't know how the game is played, then I won't tell you for it might spoil somebody's fun sometime. Howsomever, Tom was "it" and stayed it for the whole game. I think he is still trying to figure it all out—Oh, yeah, I almost forgot to mention that it was my Missus that was under there with him.

DISTRICT COURT OPENS on Monday. I could give you the names of the Grand Jurors, and the usual story, but I can't get in the Clerk's Office, and I can't get Bert to answer the phone. He is a very busy man, what with Mrs. D. teaching, getting Rex the great off to school, and keeping the teachers. That doesn't take into account the garden work, war work, raising a few steers, getting out a little wheat maybe, and also being District and County Clerk. Gosh I read that over, and maybe we won't be able to have District Court after all. However, we'll try to crowd it in somehow. . . and I'll be seein' you before the grand jury.

H. ROY SAYS that Mrs. Ben O. must be a mind reader. That he was just fixing to close the place up when she rams out the front window. He boarded it all up and all he would have had to do was turn the key, when in comes a big shipment of furniture, dishes, and what have you. He will be open for about another day and a half, for that's about how long it takes him to sell a car of furniture.

YOURS TRUE?LY, the love-lorn editor, says that it takes two folks with a lot of character to make marriage a success. Reputation won't do it. A man's reputation lasts only during the honeymoon and maybe not that long!

LIONS HAVE INTERESTING MEETING WEDNESDAY

A very interesting program was heard by those in attendance at the Lions regular meeting Wednesday. Johnnie Allard gave a Sax Solo and Dorothy Roy McMurty and Jean Northcutt sang a couple of numbers. A short talk was made by a member of the Amarillo Lions club on "After the War". Paul Reid became a member of the club at last week's meeting.

SOLILOQUY OF A SOLDIER

I'd like to live.
Sounds silly you say.
Well, perhaps you're right
It may sound silly,
But out here
So many die!
We've seen times
When just one tank—
One damned tank —
Would have saved the lives
Of many of us —
When you lie here
As I am
And you think
That just one tank
Or gun
Or plane
Can make so much difference!
Ever see a soldier die?
It isn't pretty.
Joe just threw up his hands,
Fell
And died.
That's the easiest way.
The way we all want
If we have to go.
But Pete,
He had his stomach shot half off.
He was conscious all the time.
Just laid there
Screaming—
Wanted us to put him away.
How would you like
To have YOUR buddy
Ask you to shoot him?
And the blind,
They're the worst of all.
They just sit and stare
At nothing
We're not complaining.
If you'll just
Send us the stuff
To fight with
We can win
And in a hurry,
But it'll have to be quick
Or
There'll be more
Jones, Petes, and the blind.
If we got to die
We've got to,
But give us an even break.
Take that extra hour
Or minute
It may not
Mean much to you —
But
It's our lives.

GET POULTRY HOUSES READY FOR WINTER

A large part of the chickens hatched last spring will come into production during September. The eggs these young layers produce during the fall and winter will count heavily in maintaining Texas' quota of the 1942 food goals. Accordingly, says, H. H. Weatherby, assistant poultryman of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, the hens should be provided with the most favorable surroundings in order to assure as nearly maximum output as is possible.

To provide comfortable housing and safeguard the health of the poultry, Weatherby suggests that poultrymen do the following things during September:
Clean and disinfect laying houses before pullets are moved in.
Repair roofs, walls, windows, ventilators and floors before cold weather.
Check all lighting equipment.
Lay in a supply of good litter.
Provide at least one foot of feeding space for each five hens.
If pullets haven't been vaccinated for pox, do it now.
Provide plenty of ventilation in the house until cold weather.
Cull old hens and pullets closely.
September is a good time to start fall chicks.
It takes plenty of good, clean feed to make eggs. Weatherby points out. A hen laying 110 to 120 eggs requires 69.3 pounds of feed and uses 7.06 pounds to make a dozen eggs. A hen laying 260 to 270 eggs needs 84 pounds of feed and uses 3.73 pounds to make a dozen.

Do you know your cowboy terms? The San Saba Star defines some of the terms:
Biting the dust — Being thrown from a horse.
Bronco — Mexican word shortened to bronc; a vicious unbroken horse.
Broomtail — Wild Mare.
Bronc-buster — Cowboy who breaks" horses.
Buckaroo — Cowboy.
Bulldogging — Often term for steer-wrestling; throwing a steer by his horns like a bulldogger.
Chaps — Leather or hair garment worn by cowboy to protect his legs from thorns and rain.
Chuck wagon — Range cafeteria which follows roundup.
Crow-hops — Term commonly applied to mild boating gyrations.

NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL PROBLEMS INSEPARABLE FROM LOCAL WELFARE

For sheer planned brutality, the Axis leaders have proven themselves comparable to the barbarians of ancient history. In World War I there was much talk of atrocities. But many of the atrocities stories were made up out of whole cloth for purposes of propaganda. Real atrocities were scattered and relatively rare, and they were not done as a matter of governmental policy. In World War II to the contrary, murder and rape and devastation are pursued by the Germans and the Japanese almost as a matter of routine — and that fact has been completely substantiated by reputable eyewitnesses. It makes little difference to the Gestapo whether a man is innocent or guilty, as the mass executions of hostages abundantly testifies. The Axis radio, at times, actually boasts of the wanton slaughter of non-combatants.

President Roosevelt, during the course of a recent warning to the Axis officials that retribution would come when the war ends, said, "The practice of executing scores of innocent hostages in reprisal for isolated attacks on Germans in countries temporarily under the Nazi heel, revolts a world already injured to suffering and brutality — civilized people long ago adopted the basic principle that no man should be punished for the deed of another." That principle has been entirely abandoned by the Axis.

The Axis is deliberately exterminating entire populations. Hitler himself has said that the Poles must be liquidated — and, according to reports which have seeped out of Warsaw, the death rate has assumed incredible proportions, especially in the Jewish areas. Starvation is rampant in Greece, and some authorities believe within two years, under present conditions, the Greek people will virtually disappear. Men who have escaped from Jap concentration camps in Hongkong and elsewhere say that the Japanese are pursuing an almost identical policy. Captured soldiers and civilians alike are given almost no food. They are denied all medical supplies and attention. Sanitary conditions are literally horrible. And these people, as a result, are dying like flies.

One of the latest Axis innovations has been to raze entire villages, shoot every male resident, and send women and children to forced labor within Germany. For every attack on Axis officials, major or minor, dozens of innocent people are executed. When a really important Axis official is killed, such as "Hangman" Heydrich of the Gestapo, the toll of slaughter runs far into the hundreds.

When the War ends, as the President has said, the men responsible for this will be brought to justice. And a long list of Qualifings within the occupied nations who are working hand in glove with the Axis will also have to face judges appointed by the people in whose ruin and torture they have collaborated. In the meantime, Hitler's barbarous tactics have not broken the spirit of the conquered nations. To the contrary, the flame of revolt burns ever higher. Sabotage goes on. Germans are found dead in the towns and countryside of France, Greece, Holland, the Netherlands, the Balkans, etc. And in all of the occupied nations, amazingly well developed "undergrounds" exist.

The men who belong to these undergrounds are unknown. The names of many of them will never be known. Theirs is the most risky and desperate of undertakings. Every second of the day they must face the specter of death by torture. This is the highest kind of human courage. Life recently ran an article on the French underground which is especially effective. The leaders quietly and continually organize sabotage of the Nazi war effort in French factories. They print little newspapers which are widely circulated and which bring to the enslaved French people news of the free world outside their borders. As part of this work, the French Underground has compiled an interesting "blacklist" of men and women who are marked for assassination. All of the names on that list belong to Frenchmen who have sold out Germany. And some of the names are world famous: Petain, Weygand; Laval; Derain the painter; Mistinguett, the celebrated music star; Carpentier, the pugilist; Maurice Chevalier, the movie actor; etc., etc. The Free French have pledged that not one of the men and women on that list will escape swift justice at the earliest possible time.

To quote the President's warning once again, "The Nazis might have learned from the last war the impossibility of breaking men's spirit by terrorism — Fright can never bring peace to Europe. It only sows the seeds of hatred which will one day bring fearful waiting with grim anticipation for that day.

retribution." The patriots in the conquered, tortured nations are waiting with grim anticipation for that day.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

The farmer's wife has no excuse for not being cultured, and up to date. All she has to do is cook the meals, wash the dishes, mop the floor, scrub the steps, wash the clothes, mend the linen and darn the socks; milk the cows, churn the butter, feed the chickens, bathe the children and can the fruit; cut the children's hair, set the dog on tramps, chase the cat out of the milk house, polish the silver, black the stove and straighten the shades —

Settle the children's scraps, shoe hens off the perch, wipe up mud father and boys track in; and bake bread, make the cake, chase the pigs out of the garden, answer the telephone and air the featherbeds, heat the water for father to wash his feet, watch out for bed bugs, get the men up in the morning gather the eggs, set the hens and keep the neighbor's baby while she goes to town, and get the children off to school —

Get rid of insurance agents, spray the fruit trees, gather the berries, trim the lamps, swat the flies, empty the ashes and slop the pigs; peel the peaches, rake the yard, feed the pet lambs, sort the beans, fill the lantern, string the apples, carry in the wood, and pick the geese; and answer the door, and tell the men what they did with the axe the last time they used it; and write a letter to mother.

Then in the afternoon, she can go to the missionary meeting and work her head off for the heathen.

UNHAPPY WIVES FIND NEW HOPE IN SPECIAL VITAMIN COMBINATION

Clinical Tests Demonstrate Sterile Women May Be Aided — Happy Homes Are Dependent on Babies

Nothing equals a baby to bring complete unity and happiness into the home and tie husband and wife into a stronger bond of enduring love and mutual interest.

Many homes break up from lack of children and contribute to the amazing American record of one divorce for every five marriages. Unhappy wives, childless due to a vitamin-deficient functional weakness, may now enjoy the desires and activities of Nature's most wonderful creation—a normal, fully-developed, vigorous woman.

Sensational clinical tests demonstrate that a vitamin-deficient instance, a new vitamin of the B Complex has a striking effect on sterile women, with known sterility for as much as five years, were cured for the test. After weeks of waiting with Paraaminobenzoic acid (PABA) of the B Complex, group 2, half of these women became pregnant and their condition was hopeless. The vitamin is absolutely harmless and beneficial to general health.

Thus it is apparent that the missing thing needed by the childless baby into the home.

If you are childless and have no hope, if you wish to change the greatest cause of unhappy marriages, by all means give this Combination Vitamin System a trial in the privacy of your home. Introduce this new vitamin combination to a million women, the Company, 314 North Michigan, Chicago, Illinois, will send you a $2.00 supply for only $1.00 plus cents postage. You need send no money. Just your name and address comes in a plain wrapper—no stamps or money needed. The vitamin is quite simple, and no special exercise is required.
