TURNER — HARPER

Miss Neoma Turner and Cpl. Henry R. Harper were united in marriage June 5, 1943 at the Methodist Parsonage with Rev. E. L. Yeates reading the ceremony. The bride wore a becoming white suit with blue and white accessories. Her corsage was of sweetheart roses.

Miss Turner is the sister of Miss Lola Mae Turner of Oakland, California and makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. Dan Dean near Brice. She is a graduate of Lakeview High School with the class of '43.

Corporal Harper is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Harper of Union City, New Jersey. He is a graduate of Aviation Mechanics school at the Amarillo Army Air Field.

The couple were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Dan Dean, Dick Jones Jr. and Mr. Jack Salmon.

MAY STILL REDUCE POINTS

Retailers may lower the point values of rationed meats and fats which are in danger of spoiling until July 31, OPA has decided. These emergency reductions must accompany a cut of at least 25 per cent in the established ceiling price of the item. If the point value is lowered more than 25 per cent, the price must be reduced proportionately, but never more than 50 percent below the Rev. T. G. Craft is in the Tulia Hospital following an appendicitis operation Monday. He is reported as making satisfactory recovery.

Private Thompson's Letter — may happen at the last minute. I must close, write to me. As Ever - Nora Mae"

SGT. HOMER GILKEYSON somewhere in India writes to his mother: "Boy, is it hot over here! It was 113 in the shade yesterday I feel much better when it is hot than I do when it rains all time. I was on a trip recently and it rained on us every day we were there. Am still at the same old place. Outside of making a few trips once in a while, I do very little work.

Can't seem to get much mail. Thanks for sending me the clippings. I still haven't received the paper. Hope you get your table soon.

Kind of seems like we might have the upper hand in Africa now. Hope the boys keep it up over there.

I am sending you two pairs of book ends and a little elephant bridge. Write soon" - Love Homer

JOHN LEON SANDERS S 1-c, writes to the editor: Dear Roy, Just a few lines to let you know my address has changed since I landed in the hospital.

I got my back hurt awhile back and it caused me to have fainting spells, so they sent me to the Naval Hospital at Mare Island where I stayed a little over a wk. They examined me there and I signed my discharge papers, then they sent me down here to Santa Cruz. I guess I will get my discharge in about 3 or 4 weeks.

This is a real nice place down here. It is a big Hotel and apartment houses that the Navy took over for a health resort. This is where all the sailors and Marine come that are waiting for a medical discharge, so they can gain back their health and strength. We have a big beach to spend our time on. Just lay around in the sun. People come here from all over the state of California during the week ends. More pretty girls than I ever saw. Of course I don't have anything to do with them. Ha

I received some of your papers that had been forwarded from Treasure Island down here today, and I want to tell you I enjoy them a lot. They cheer a guy up more than anyone would think.

How are the crops around Silverton? Fine I hope. Hope there is plenty of rain. Well I guess I'll sign off as news is short."

LIEUT. ORVILLE Graham of Quitaque was reported last week as "missing in action". He is the son of former County Commissioner L. E. Graham and was born and raised at Quitaque. He was flying a Flying Fortress which did not return from a mission over enemy territory.

HENRY JACKSON came in Wednesday from Rhode Island where he is stationed with the Navy.

ALLRED — JOSLIN

Miss Phyllis Allred, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Allred of Amarillo, and Mr. Cecil Joslin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Joslin of Plainview, were united in marriage Saturday evening, May 29, 1943 at Muleshoe, Texas. The single ring ceremony was read by the Reverend Turrentine at the Methodist parsonage. The couple was attended by the sister of the bridegroom and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Moore.

The bride wore a blue suit with white accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Joslin are at home in Lubbock where he is a civilian instructor at the Breedlove Flying School.

MRS. CARL DANIEL DEAD

Mrs. Carl Daniel, of about 15 miles south of Silverton, passed away suddenly Thursday morning. Details are lacking as we go to press. A complete account will be given next week.

OPA PROSECUTES VIOLATORS

In the four months ended April 30, the courts handed down decisions in 1,495 civil and criminal cases involving 1,676 defendants accused of violating the price and rationing regulations, according to OPA. Of the total, 1,437 cases involving 1,613 defendants were decided in favor of the OPA. Only 53 cases involving 63 defendants, or less than 4 per cent of the total were dismissed.

NOTICE

To the members of the L. T. D. Club, the next meeting will be with Mrs. Durward Brown on Tuesday, June 15th.

APPROACHING MARRIAGE REVEALED AT BREAKFAST

The outstanding social event of the season was the breakfast given Saturday morning at the home of Mrs. Clifford Allard with Mrs. Roy Allard as hostess.

The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Roy Allard and Miss Jonnie Allard and invited into the dining room where the meal was served from a table beautifully laid in china of pastel shades. Two bowls of rose buds were flanked on either side with lighted candles in crystal holders, which cast a soft glow over the entire setting.

Heart shaped place cards in the bride's chosen colors of white and blue cleverly concealed the words "Jonnie and Shafe" June 11, 1943.

A musical program in which all the girls participated followed the completion of the meal. Those present were Misses Carolyn and June Wimberly, Winona and Wilma Lee Frances, Opal and Ruby West, Dorothy McMurtry, Jean Northcutt, Willet Malone, Jo Webb and the honoree Jonnie Allard. - Contributed

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH Vacation Bible School News

We are very thankful for the fine spirit of fellowship from the other churches in helping making this Bible School a success this far. The first three days 104 students have been enrolled. The first day 68 came, second day 82, third day 97. This makes my fifth school to promote in pastorates that I have held; but I would like to say that this is the best faculty that I have had the privilege working with. We are very fortunate in obtaining Rev. Norris Fulfer of Matador as an outside worker, to help make this a good school. This school will close June 18th. Boys and girls if you haven't come the first week, be sure and come the last week.

Mens Bible Class

Some may have misunderstood the motive in starting a mens Bible Class down in town. The class wasn't started primarily because of the lack of space, but for the purpose of enlisting men that never go to Sunday School. Men we need you in this class each Sunday morning 9:45 to 10:45. I believe if more of the men of the First Baptist Church will back this worth while effort than that is being put forth, many of the men of this community will come.

We have a room for each Sunday School class ready for use Sunday morning. Isn't that great? Come to Sunday School and Church. Sunday school time at the Church 10:00 to 11:00. W. L. Brian, Pastor

TEXAS GARDENS PRODUCING

Human effort and favorable weather conditions are working together to bring about an all-time high in vegetable food production in Texas.

Victory gardens throughout the state have reached the point of quantity production of food. Lettuce, mustard spinach and other salad crops were the principal products available for early gardens. But vegetables coming into production now generally are those which were planted on a large scale to supply family needs around the calendar year. The largest planting of white potatoes in the history of Texas gardens was made this year, with yields of one to ten bushels per garden. If the crop can be stored successfully, there should be little need for out-of-state shipments at any time of the year.

Tomato plantings were made on a large scale with the idea of harvesting a sufficient supply for daily use and a surplus for canning. In south Texas, housewives are using pressure cooker and open kettle methods, and community equipment for canning tomatoes and green beans.

An equally large increase in green corn planting, and cream & black-eyed peas was made. Harvesting and processing of these vegetables are under way.

Timely rainfall throughout the sweet potato producing section enabled growers to expand planting from vine cutting. High-priced potato slips thus were multiplied without additional cost. In many localities harvesting of early white potatoes was succeeded by planting of sweet potatoes from vines.

Have You Seen the Want-Ads?

BARBARA JUST got word Tuesday that her brother-in-law, R. I. Monroe had passed away at the Veteran's Hospital in Lincoln Nebraska. She was called upon there a couple months ago, because of his very serious illness. He rallied at that time, and for awhile, seemed to be improving. Death came suddenly early Tuesday morning. Funeral services are being held at Jewell, Kansas. We will be unable to attend.

I REALLY DIDN'T know Monroe very well, but I know of the things he has done for his family, and the many friends he had. The thing he would have said of him is very short, but very sufficient. "He was a swell guy."

I DON'T KNOW whether or not President Roosevelt got the Briscoe County News last week or not, but he took my advice, and for the time being John L. Lewis has been put in his place. . . well, not exactly in his place, for to my notion that would be a jail cell. . . but at any rate the first round went to Kid Roosevelt who came out swinging, just when all seemed lost. There is another round to go. The result will be known in a couple of weeks. Meanwhile, the coal miners are at work. At the end of the two weeks, should they vote to strike again, a new law will probably be in effect, the Connally Anti-Strike bill, which will enable the President to take the proper steps to see that no more time is lost through wartime strikes.

IN A GALLUP poll taken among Union members of the various trades of the country, it was found that 78 per cent favored "no more strikes for the duration". Isn't it funny what a few rotten apples can do to a bushel of good ones?

THE SAME THING applies to all organizations. A few rotten church members can do more harm than all the known sinners in town. A few drunkards can make everyone who drinks a glass of beer look like a sot. And to bring it up to date — a few who through selfishness, take advantage of deferments and red tape, can make it appear that very few men are left who are willing to fight for their country.

THIS WEEK WE are printing a letter from Homer Gilkeyson, stationed in India with a flying unit. Mrs. Gilkeyson handed me the letter and said to print just what was of interest and to leave out the personal family stuff. Well maybe I am violating a trust but I can't help but mention that a part of the personal stuff was, "I am enclosing $—$. Please buy bonds with it for me there at home." I know quite a bit about Homer that he doesn't know I know. He had a little trouble with his first physical. Was turned down. Could have quit right there and said, "Well I tried." But he didn't. He wanted in. He did a little maneuvering around, struck a few more examining doctors and kept at it until he was accepted. He has been in active service now a long time, risking his skin every day. And then he sends what money he can spare home to invest in bonds. Homer isn't "doing his bit" he is doing his best, and some who read this will not be able to look him straight in the eye when he comes home.

MY, MY, ISN'T Roy serious this week? Well folks I don't mean to be. You see this darn shortage of traveling men is just playing Old Ned with the reputation that Yours Truly was building up. Used to be that every week some local sap did some loco thing that was good for a story. No can do anymore. Local saps are still saps but I am so busy trying to make enough to pay the grocery bill that I never get in on the rich stuff first hand, and I never repeat just any kind of hearsay. It has to be good hearsay.

FLAGS FOR FLAG DAY

New flags for Flag Day, June 14, are still available, but there will not be enough to meet the demand. Manufacturers are still permitted to use four types of cotton fabric and two types of rayon in making flags for civilians. Silk commonly used for high-quality flags before the war, has not been available for some time. Wool may be used only for flags for the armed forces. Metal flag accessories for civilian use are out.

GO FISHING WITHOUT GAS

It's okay with Mr. Ikes if the country's ardent fishermen continue their sport but he says, "We still think it's a good idea for them to fish when they can and where they can without extra gasoline." Gasoline for fishing trips won't be available, no matter how productive of food the sport may be.

LUMBER PRODUCTION IS GOOD

Lumber production in the United States for the first quarter of 1943 is estimated at 7,141,109, 000 board feet. That is close to the first-quarter goal needed to meet military and essential civilian requirements of 32 million board feet for 1943.

Harvest Bargain Rate Now In Effect

I MENTIONED SOMETHING last week about Frank Hunt getting his hands burned pretty badly. He grabbed hold of a rope and slid about 40 feet — just for the H-1 of it I guess. He comes around — make a special trip — to show them to me. "Anyway," he says, "It was just my hands." What in the heck did he mean by that?

I HAVEN'T SEEN J. W. Lyon, (Junior) since I accused him of being like a buzzard last week. I think I must have given him some ideas. Anyway I want to apologize for whatever I said. I didn't have any right to say he was like a buzzard, for I have never seen a real buzzard in my life (and I've known a lot of lawyers) — but did you ever happen to see a bull snake charm a bird? That is what I call description, par excellence. Comparison, sub glo to — meaning in the language of the layman, "like peas in a pod."

I WANT TO award Elmer Sanders with a fur lined spittoon engraved, "Johnny-on-the-spot." Today I say to the business manager, "It is about time for harvest to start. I am going to put on another of them hair-raising special subscription offers — a dollar newspaper special at $1.50. And lo and behold, the first guy I saw was Elmer Sanders and he hands me two bucks and said to mark him up a year. I wouldn't have been able to sleep with myself if I hadn't given him 50c change. He was the first to take advantage of the special offer. The rest of you can save four bits, but the cupid goes only to the first customer. . . The line forms at the right!"

MRS. ELIZABETH SNOW

Mrs. Elizabeth Anne Snow, of Plainview passed away Thursday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. G. Duncan after a long illness. She had made her home with Mrs. Duncan for ten years.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at three o'clock, from the First Methodist Church, with Dr. E. A. Reed and Dr. L. N. Lipscomb conducting the service.

Mrs. Snow was born October 4, 1851, in Indianapolis, Indiana. Her husband preceded her in death 62 years ago.

Two daughters, Mrs. Maude Hoben of Laramie, Wyo., and Mrs. Duncan, survive. There are five grandchildren and five great grandchildren. The grandchildren are Gene and Leon Duncan of Plainview, Jamie Duncan and Mrs. Shelton Murrath of Amarillo and Mrs. M. C. Tull of Silverton.

The Harvest Bargain rate is in effect on the Briscoe County News, and you may now renew your subscription for $1.50 instead of the regular $2.00. This is a short time offer and is made keeping with the custom of giving a special rate during the harvest season.

The rate is also a great convenience for the News force, as makes the keeping of the mail list a great deal easier. For offers have been $1.25. There is need for explanation of the slight increase.

The combination rate for your own subscription and a man service remains the same. $2 will pay for both.

Subscribers are keeping their "dues" paid pretty regularly now and we went to extend our thanks to the following folks who had subscribed in the past month:

- J. H. Williamson
- Sgt. James T. Williamson
- J. E. Cupell
- Le Roy Cupell

Take advantage of the special offer this month and renew. All subscribers delinquent at the end of this offer, will be removed from the list. Check the number after your name and if it reads 6-43 or before, your subscription has expired.

MILK ADDED TO RATION LIST

Evaporated and condensed milk are now on the list of rationed foods with a value of one point will be made available to consumers for such purchases. The rationing is intended to conserve limited supplies for infant feeding, special diets, and for persons unable to obtain adequate supplies of fresh milk.

DON'T WRITE ROUND ROBIN

Writing soldier's "round robins" or news letters, and inviting replies by the group is inadvisable. The War Department has warned Replies tend to become anthologies of military information, and a custom that arose from innocent motives become security hazard.

THE PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all".

Flag Day--June 14

Let's Be RIGHT On Flag Etiquette

HOW TO GIVE THE PLEDGE: Stand at attention, which means standing with both hands at the sides; face the Flag and salute by placing the right hand over the heart. However, civilians will always show full respect to the Flag when the Pledge is given, by merely standing at attention, men removing the headdress. Persons in uniform shall render the military salute.

When the Flag of the United States is displayed otherwise than by being flown from a staff, it should be displayed flat, whether indoors or out; or so suspended that its folds fall as free as though the Flag were staffed.

When the Flag is displayed from a staff in a church or public auditorium, if it is displayed in the chancel of the church or on the speakers' platform in the public auditorium, the Flag should occupy the position of honor and be placed at the clergyman's or speakers' right, as he faces the congregation or audience. Any other flag so displayed in the chancel or on the platform, should be placed at the clergyman's or speakers' left as he faces the congregation or audience.

When the Flag is displayed from a staff in a church or public auditorium elsewhere than in the chancel or on the platform, it shall be placed in the position of honor at the right of congregation or audience as they face the chancel or platform. Any other flag should be placed on the left of the congregation or audience as they face the chancel or platform.

The American Legion has a special ruling of its own in the display of the Flag in its meeting place. The Flag is placed to the right of the Commander's desk regardless of whether or not the desk is on a raised platform or on the floor level.

When the Flag is displayed against the wall, whether horizontally or vertically, the union or blue field should always be uppermost and to the Flag's own right; that is, to the observer's left. The Flag should always be displayed in a window with the union or blue field to the left of the observer in the street.

The Flag should be displayed outdoors only from sunrise to sunset, except on special occasions.

The Flag may be displayed at night upon special occasions, when it is desired to produce a patriotic effect. By "special occasions" is meant athletic events, bond campaign ceremonies, patriotic pageants, parades, etc.

There are only four places where the Flag is flown day and night. Two flags are over the Capitol Building in Washington — one over the east front and one over the west front. The Flag is flown day and night at the grave of Francis Scott Key, author of "The Star Spangled Banner", in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Frederick, Md. The Flag is also flown day and night over a permanent fort or ship engaged in battle; and when our armed forces are engaged in battle.

The Flag should be displayed daily, weather permitting, on or near every schoolhouse during school days; on or near the main administrative building of every public institution. The Flag should be displayed in or near every polling place on election day.

When the Flag is carried in a procession with another flag or flags it should be either on the marching right, that is, the Flag's own right; or if there is a line of other flags, it should be in front of the center of that line.

The Flag should not be displayed on a float in a parade except from a staff or displayed flat. The Flag should be displayed on a staff, which is fixed firmly to the chassis or clamped to the radiator cap.

The Flag should never be used as a drapery of any sort whatsoever, never festooned, drawn back, nor up, in folds, but always allowed to fall free.

Bunting of blue, white and red, always arranged with the blue above, the white in the middle, and the red below, should be used for general decoration.

The Flag should never be carried flat or horizontally, but always aloft and free.

When flags of two or more nations are displayed, they are to be flown from separate staffs of the same height. The flags should be approximately the same size.

When flags are flown from adjacent staffs, our Flag should be hoisted first and lowered last. No other flag or pennant may be placed above, or to the right of the Flag of the United States.

When flags of states, cities or localities or pennants of societies are flown from the same staff or halyard with the Flag of the United States, the latter should always be at the peak of the staff.

No other flag or pennant should be placed above or, if on the same level, to the right of the Flag of the United States, except during the church services conducted by naval chaplains at sea, when the church pennant may be flown above the United States Flag during church service for the personnel of the Navy.

On Memorial Day the Flag should be displayed at half-staff until noon, and at full staff from noon to sunset. The Flag should be first hoisted to the peak of the staff for an instant, and then lowered to the half-staff position, which is one-half the distance between the top and bottom of the staff. When the Flag is flown a half-staff, it should always be raised to the peak again before it is lowered for the day.

To pay proper respect to the Flag when it is passing in a parade or in review, or during the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the Flag, all persons should face the Flag, stand at attention and salute. Those present in uniform should render the military salute. When not in uniform, men should remove the headdress with the right hand, holding it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Men without hats should salute by placing the right hand over the heart. Women should salute by placing the right hand over the heart.

The salute to the Flag in the moving column should be rendered at the moment the Flag passes.

The Flag, when it is faded and torn and is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning, with appropriate public ceremony or privately. It is permissible to wash the Flag when soiled, but preferable to dry-clean it.

The Flag should never be fastened, displayed, used or stored in such a manner as will permit it to be easily soiled or damaged in any way.

The Flag should never touch anything beneath it, such as the ground, the floor, water or merchandise.

The Flag should never be flown with the union down save as a signal of distress.

The Flag should never be dipped to any person or thing.

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

When the National Anthem, "The Star-Spangled Banner," is played and the Flag is displayed all present should stand at attention, face the Flag and salute. Those in uniform should give the military salute at the first note of the anthem, retaining this position until the last note.

When not in uniform, men should remove the headdress with the right hand, holding it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Men without hats should salute by placing the right hand over the heart. Women should salute by placing the right hand over the heart. Aliens should stand at attention.

When the National Anthem is played and the Flag is NOT displayed, all present should stand and face the music. Those in uniform should give the military salute at the first note of the anthem, retaining this position until the last note. Others should stand at attention, men removing the headdress. Aliens should stand at attention.

When the National Anthem is sung by an entire audience or a soloist, those persons should stand but not salute.

When the National Anthem is played and the Flag is not displayed but a reproduction of the Flag is flashed on the motion picture screen persons present should stand at attention and face the music, but not salute. It is not necessary to salute reproductions or photographs of the Flag. However, if the Flag is displayed in the theater when the National Anthem is played, all persons should stand at attention, face the Flag and salute.

If the National Anthem is played outdoors, for instance, played for a public gathering in the street or park, or a parade, and is near and quite audible, all persons should stop, men remove headdress, and stand at attention.

The National Americanism Commission believes that when the National Anthem is played over a radio or in a restaurant from juke box or some other type of musical reproduction machine, it would seem more or less forced and unnatural to pay special respect.

Order Coal Now

This is to confirm the report that you have read, that there will be no civilian coal produced after July 1st. With the coal miners out on strike, that government order regarding civilian coal is very apt to become more drastic — for our factories must run, that our boys may have fighting equipment.

We have a part of our coal on hand now, and the rest is supposed to arrive this month. We're not afraid we can't sell it . . . we're just afraid that some of our good friends and customers will be caught short when winter arrives.

Buy your coal and haul it now. Co-operate with the war effort and Uncle Sam says:

ATHLETES FOOT COMMON IN SUMMER

The common disease, popularly known as athlete's foot is said to be the third most common disease seen by skin specialists during the summer, and the fifth most common disorder in winter. It is due to a little mold-like growth or fungus which thrives best where there is moisture and warmth. Therefore the feet make an ideal place for the growth of this germ.

"To have athlete's foot, the infection must be gotten either directly or indirectly from someone else," states Dr. George Cox, the State Health Officer. "The most common places to contact the infection are around shower rooms, baths and bath houses, locker rooms, and other public places where persons go barefoot. And it is probable that at least one-half of all adults suffer from the infection at some time." Dr. Cox suggested the following as some effective measures for preventing and avoiding recurrent attacks of athlete's foot.

1. Dry carefully and thoroughly the spaces between the toes.
2. Use a mild alcoholic solution on these areas after drying.
3. Liberally apply a plain, unscented talcum to areas and sprinkle it freely in socks, and shoes.
4. Wear socks that are absorbent but not too coarse. Shoes should be well fitting but not too tight; sufficiently roomy but not large enough to chafe and rub.

MORE MONEY INTO BONDS

The average American family "should and must" be investing 25 percent of its income in war bonds by the end of 1943, Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., said recently in announcing a new "streamlined" bond campaign "Of the 45 billion dollars still necessary to complete our war financing needs for 1943," Morgenthau said, "at least 18 billion dollars, or almost 25 percent of the national income for the remainder of the year should come from purchases of bonds by individuals. From those workers earning $1,000 to $5,000 net, who will have seven-eighths of all the current available individual savings 25 cents of each dollar is not too much to expect. In fact, they should and must invest more if our goal is to be met.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

I am not bound to win but I am bound to be true. I am not bound to succeed but I am bound to live up to what light I have. I must stand with anybody that stands right, stand with him while he is right and part with him when he goes wrong. Abraham Lincoln.

Your columnist never has been very proficient at games - but I like to play dominoes, anyway. My favorite opponent used to be a hotel proprietor in a West Texas town (when I lived out there.) He was a good player and on the rather rare occasions that I would plunk down a rock and score 15 or 20, he would drily remark: "Blind hog found an acorn." That will give you the general idea as to my ability.

However, I used to mystify acquaintances by informing them that I had such delicate powers of perception that I could tell, when a domino was face down, which end had the most spots on it, provided it was not double. I would spin the domino and explain that the end with the most spots would wobble a little differently; though, of course, since they didn't have such marvelous eyesight, they couldn't see the difference. They would scoff — but I picked them right every time.

The dominoes had an eagle design on the back and the eagle faced the way that the most spots were.

Sure missed you for Spring plowing. But everything's going along in good shape. You'd hardly know Jimmie. After you joined up, he figured it was up to him to fill your shoes. He's proved himself a real man. Any day now I expect hell be trying to shave. That new Conoco 70% oil you started using in the tractor and car is a real help, too. The Conoco agent tells me it contains special oil-improvers to cut down cylinder wear and bad acid action. He said acid is worst in a car standing around — not used much. That means us, because we're saving the car and tires, and not wasting time, either. Just tell your buddies that farmers around your home are busy as the devil, raising all you can eat, and the some. We all send love — and luck. Del.
