

YOURS TRULY
 THE PAPER WILL be issued a day early next week and it will be a big help if you folks will turn in your news and ads early in the week. The News Office is planning to move over by the picture show lobby and it will probably take several days. In fact you will probably be lucky if you get one at all the next week. However, we haven't missed yet and it's a poor time to start.

MR. MERCER put an idea in my head that I hadn't thought about. It's on the way we have to holler and pray and cry and beg to meet our bond quotas. He said, "Anyone listening to the radio or reading a newspaper would believe that we were absolutely at the bottom of the money barrel in the U. S." And there is no doubt more money in this country right now than at any time in history. But, it's a thought. Germany is sure to be hearing all of our broadcasts. If they get the idea through their propaganda machine, that we are on the rocks financially, they'll fight a lot harder, and starve a lot more comfortably.

BUT, THINGS being as they are there seems to be no other way to get folks in this country completely war bond minded. Americans shouldn't have to be coaxed to invest their money in the thing that is safe and worthwhile—if anything at all is safe and worthwhile.

BRISCOE COUNTY has raised less than half of their quota for September. It is plainly evident now, that if the quota is raised, the fellows who have money are going to have to dig again. Nearly everyone has bought one or more this month—little bonds. There have been few large investors. Folks with small incomes are investing till it hurts but there are many others who are buying a small bond when they should be buying a large one. It is only fair and right that the man with property and money should buy to just as near his financial limit as the man who is working for $100 a month. In fact a man with several sections of land or a large business is being given more protection by our soldiers than the man with a small job, and who perhaps doesn't even own his home.

WITHOUT ANY MORE talking or coaxing, why don't you guys who can invest $10,000 or $5,000—why don't you step up and do it?

I HEREBY NOMINATE Yours Truly for the title of "Saps, No. 1 to 1,000 inclusive". And here's my claim—The other day I was in Heard and Jones at Tulia and Allan Heard beckoned to me with fetching look in his eye, and with his brows arched in the most becoming manner. He said, "Roy, do you ever have any trouble with the Missus?" You know what I said, being a truthful soul. "Well," he goes on, "Here is the answer to all your troubles. Buy this and you will embark upon a second honeymoon, free from all woe." And he held up a little vial about an inch tall and perhaps a quarter of an inch thick. "Well, truthfully I had been getting along fairly well with the wife for about thirty minutes and wasn't much interested. But, I had a deal to make with Heard and so I came forth with 'Well I'll buy it if you'll buy a $100 War Bond from me.' I figured that I could stand the thirty cents for the perfume if he'd buy the bond. Allan scratched his head a minute and said, 'Well, OK, I'll take it.' And he wraps up the perfume and I make out the application for the bond. I reaches in my pocket and gets out a half-a-buck and says 'how much for the perfume?' As I sank through the third layer of flooring I heard him say again, 'Seven and a half.' Just like that—nonchalant, you know, with 'bargain' oozing from every syllable and in every expression on his face. The dam hound. He knew that I thought that was going to cost about two-bits, and not only that, but he probably already had it added in his head that the $25 he'd make on the bond in interest plus the $7.20 he made on the perfume would make him a profit of $32.20. Not bad, not bad—for him. Oh yes, though. The perfume. It really works. I put some of it on me, and was up to the school house that evening and had to show them my birth certificate to keep them from enrolling me as a freshman.

JAKE CARTEL was doing a little plain and funny roping last Sunday and had a little trouble with his mount. He baled out at about twenty feet in the air and his chute failed to open. They are still looking for the pieces but so far have found only enough to make a one-legged man.

STOP. LOOK. LISTEN. AMERICA
 T. G. Craft
 We are now engaged in a great war. We have hoped that it would soon end. Surely all of us would like to see the end of such a terrible carnage of life and blood shed. A glimpse at the battle fronts are encouraging, but the tide of battle has just begun for us. There are millions of square mile of unconquered territory that we must take before hostilities can cease. This war is a desperate one. It has just begun. The worst is all before us.

 I know that millions of mothers will not like to think that they will have to give, and give up their sons and husbands as sacrifices for freedom on the far flung battle fields of the world. But it is the inevitable price that we now must pay. There is no turning back from so great and necessary task which we must complete. Victory is a long distance hence. The years—not months ahead will measure the duration of this war. Our sacrifices have just begun. There is no place for a realist to relax into wishful wishing. We all must be prepared to face the facts that it is a long and costly road that leads to Berlin, and a still longer one that leads to Tokyo. Have we really taken this war seriously? Have we counted the cost in dollars, materials, and man power? If not, then we shall have to make some adjustments in our thinking. Our Government is asking the people of this nation to purchase $15,000,000,000 in war bonds during this month. All of us will have to find the money and make the investment for the sake of the cause which we are so seriously engaged, or at least our soldiers are. The truth of the war has come slowly home to every citizen of this nation. The call for this large sum of money by our government indicates a great and dire need for it. The appeal is made. No one will be giving the government a penny, but rather making a loan to the National treasury. This call is the second one. There will be another, and another, and another. How many more we do not know, but they will be coming often.

There seems to be a feeling among many of our citizens who are far removed from the great war plants and the battle fronts, that the war is not so bad. The news reports indicate that the tide is running all in our favor. Yes, it must continue to run this way if Victory to come at the end of a minimum of years. Any slackening on the home front means a delayed victory on all fronts. But we must realize to day what we will realize a year from now—the war is a hard and long one which can only be won with the help of all. Each one of us will make greater and greater sacrifices from now on until the last day of the war.
 What we must do now and many times over for the duration of this war, is to invest all the surplus money that we can secure and spare to not only bring ultimate victory, but speed victory and save more and more lives of our fathers and sons.

 To a faith embalmed in glory.

Whose boy sleeps so far from home?
 A mother's boy, once glad and gay, Sweet with dimples and curls
 In her arms she held him tightly, To her bosom she drew him snugly

P.S.
 Of course, I haven't forgotten that trip we planned that was interrupted when you joined up. I dream about it and plan it down to the last detail. Of course, we'll have to go in our present car, as we probably can't get a new one as soon as you get back. So, like a hen with a chick, I'm mothering it no end. Down it goes every week to your old friend Mileage Merchant Jim, and he does everything to it. He says to tell you he's keeping the engine OIL-PLATED with Conoco Nth motor oil and for you not to worry. It will be in fine shape for our trip —says he'll practically guarantee it!

Where would we be if THEY said — "We've done enough?"

Do More in September

—at least an EXTRA
$100 War Bond for everybody!

Look at the headlines in this newspaper today. They tell vividly what our men are doing on battlefronts all over the world.
 We thrilled to victory in Tunisia... victory at Munda... invasion of Sicily. And tomorrow more victories will fill us with pride in our fighting forces.
 But what would happen to us if our men in Service said, "We've done enough"? It would be the end of all of us.
 We know, of course, that they'll never quit.
 We know, too, that YOU won't let America down. That YOU won't say, "I've done all I can." For your job is no less important than that of the man in uniform. And this month your country asks everyone who possibly can to invest in at least one extra $100 War Bond.

 You know the benefits of War Bonds. They're the safest investment in the world. They secure your future. They help your country and your loved ones doing the fighting.
 Get at least an extra $100 Bond in September in addition to your regular purchases. More if possible.
 Invest not only out of current income but out of idle and accumulated funds. And do it NOW!

 Then in September you must buy bonds.

RAYMOND BARROW writes to his father from somewhere in the Pacific Theatre of war: "Dearest Father: I received your letter and was glad to hear from you and to know that you are well and let you know that I am OK and still fighting the Japs and we are doing our best to keep Old Glory waving high. With God's help we can win. If God is for us, who can be against us? You wanted me to tell you something. I can't tell you except that I am somewhere in the South Pacific. That is all I can tell you. You can make a good guess and I'll tell you if you are right. If I could I'd tell you everything. Papa, look to Jesus and pray for me and we will do the job. By-bye, with lots of love.— Raymond."

CPL. JOHN H. CROW writes from Salt Lake City. "Hi Roy — This is a nice cool place but give me Texas. I've done so much K. P. since I got here that I think I'll be an excellent maid when I get out of this army. This is really beautiful country though. Remember the B. C. N. — Crow.

CARLTON GARDNER in a letter to his parents "Thought I would drop a line and let you know I am still around the country and it looks like I will be around for quite some time to come. I got transferred from the outfit. Well, I would have liked to have gone with them, but that seemed to be an impossibility. Maybe I will catch one of them before long. At least I hate to think I will stay in the states until the war is over. I guess it gets in your blood to want to go across.

I got a letter from Leslie Bradley (a former Tulia boy, who was later killed in action) and he said he had saw action with the Japs and said it was pretty dangerous but a lot of fun.

Guess I will go to Tampa, Florida from here. Well I don't like that at all, but guess I'll make the best of it. All my love - Carlton."

HENRY JACKSON S-1c writes Dear Editor, — thought I would notify you of my change in address so I can get my paper.

I am stationed here in Iceland, have been for several days and like it O. K. It is a very beautiful place altho cold and not much recreation, but isn't hard to take as we have plenty of hard work to do. Well it is time for morning exercise so will close. Bidding you a jolly good day. — Henry.

THE LEAST WE CAN DO FOR HIM— IS TO DO MORE IN SEPTEMBER!

Here's what YOU must do to Back the Attack

Now, as America goes all out for the INVASION — your dollars must join the fight, too! For the very least you can do for your country — and for your loved ones doing the fighting — is to invest in MORE War Bonds in September.

Think of Jim fighting with Eisenhower... or Bill with MacArthur in the Solomons... or Bob up in Kiska. They've given their pledge to fight — and die if need be — for their country. They're ready to go all the way. And we at home must see them through all the way, too! That means every individual in the country who earns a wage or draws an income or has accumulated funds must invest in at least one EXTRA $100 War Bond if he can possibly do so. Those who can, must invest more. This in addition to their regular War Bond subscription.

Yes, the least you can do for your men in service is to do MORE in September. MORE in the safest securities in the world — U. S. Government War Bonds. But do it now — it's for the INVASION!
