BUSTER BOLAND HOME AFTER THREE YEARS AND FOUR MONTHS IN NAVY

Buster Boland has received his honorable discharge from the Navy after serving three years and four months. Two and a half years of this time was spent over seas in the Pacific. He held the rating of Water tender, first class when released from service. Boland is here putting in his wheat crop and will return to his home in Amarillo.

A. J. ROWELL, s 1-c, who has been here on leave from the Navy, left Wednesday for San Diego.

CHARLES DUNN DISCHARGED FROM NAVY AFTER THREE YEARS, THREE MONTHS

Charles (Chesty) Dunn was visiting in Silverton Saturday after having been discharged from the Navy on October 11, at San Pedro, California. He served in the Navy three years and three months and was holding the rank of Fireman, first class, at the time of his discharge.

Dunn served in both oceans and has two battle stars for action in the Atlantic; for the Asiatic Pacific; and two for the Philippine Liberation campaign. Serving aboard the U. S. S. Boise, Charles saw plenty of action, and it was his ship that carried the British Admiral to which the Italian Fleet surrendered in the Mediterranean.

He intends to make his home in Amarillo where his mother is now living. His father, W. N. Dunn, passed away here at Silverton while Charles was serving in the Atlantic, off the coast of Europe.

Pfc. Wade McGavock from Randolph Field is home on a 20 day furlough visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will McGavock.

VERN BEARDIN BUYS THE SILVERTON CAFE HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Beardin came to Silverton last week and purchased the Silverton Cafe which has been operated for the past few weeks by Mrs. Frances Christopher. Vern's Coffee Shop will be the new name of their place of business.

Mrs. Beardin is the former Zola Davis, and has lived in Silverton previously. She has made her home in Tacoma, Washington, and in Amarillo for the past several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Beardin will be assisted in their business by a daughter, Mrs. Norma Yeager, whose husband is on Iwo Jima Island in the South Pacific. They have one son, Clifton, who is of high school age.

They come here with considerable experience in this kind of business, having had a cafe in Amarillo for the past seven years. They plan to completely remodel and redecorate their shop and add some new equipment.

They have announced that they will stay open until after the show on Friday, Saturday, and Monday nights. They will also be open on Sundays.

War Fund Drive Lags Far Behind

Only $759.37 has been collected during the first three weeks of the War Fund Campaign, County Chairman Leo White reported yesterday. A remaining $857.63 must be subscribed in the next eight days to meet the assigned Briscoe County quota of $1617.00. All receipts from the rural districts have not been received yet, however, a great number have sent in their reports and it is evident that the drive is far below the desired goal at this time.

"A personal responsibility toward meeting our quota must be felt by every Briscoe County resident if we are to put this drive over", Mr. White insisted.

Solicitors are urged to contact those who have not had an opportunity to contribute. This money is used to help support various services for the armed forces. It will also be used to finance many types of relief in foreign countries. Leaders of this campaign are stressing the fact that although the war has ended, many of our boys are still in uniform and the need is great until every one of them is back home again.

THE FEED SITUATION

By George Martin

The Department of Agriculture's Feed Situation for September says in part:

Prospects for feed crops improved materially in August and the supply of feed concentrates for 1945-46, on the basis of September indications, is expected to total about 162 million tons, or slightly more than in 1944-45. The domestic supply of grains (production plus carry-over) is expected to be about 5 million tons larger. However, this increase will be about offset by the reduction in the quantity of wheat and rye to be fed and the quantity of oats and barley imported. Carry-over of feed grains was increased in corn, oats and barley and will probably be increased further by the end of the 1945-46 season. Most of the increase will be in oats and the lesser extent in corn. Prices of feed grains will average probably somewhat lower in 1945-46 than in 1944-1945.

Supply of by-product feeds during the 1945-46 feeding season are expected to be about as large per unit of livestock as the record quantity available during 1944-45. Supplies of oil cake and meal and animal protein feed are expected to be slightly larger, but supplies of distiller's dry grains are likely to be smaller. Demand for feed, particularly high protein feed and corn, continued unusually strong during September, as in previous months this year. Although abundant forage and pasture has been available this summer in practically all areas, little, if any, relaxation has been shown in demand for feed concentrates.

Heavy feeding is reflected in weights of hogs marketed and in record milk production per cow, and egg production per layer. Demand for poultry feed may decline during this winter as a result of prospective reduction in egg prices.

Dean Allard has been sick this week.

Pvt. William P. McDaniel of Silverton has reported to the Medical Department Enlisted Technicians School at Brooke Hospital Center, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, to undergo training as an Army medical-surgical technician.

The 8-week course, followed by a month of on-the-job training at an Army hospital, qualifies enlisted medical personnel to attend war casualties and other bedridden and convalescent patients and further assist the medical officer. Anatomy and physiology, emergency medical treatment, materia medica, hygiene and prevention of disease, nursing and operating room procedures and ward management are included in the curriculum.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sedgwick of San Angelo were here last week attending to business. He sold their farm north of town to Roy S. Brown.

BRISCOE COUNTY TEACHERS ORGANIZE LOCAL UNIT

Teachers from Quitaque and Silverton schools met in the Silverton High School Thursday evening, October 18, for the purpose of organizing a county unit of the State Teachers Association.

The program was opened with an invocation by Rev. G. A. Elrod. Superintendent McCarty gave an explanation of the purpose of the meeting and introduced the main speaker of the evening, Mr. Ross H. Larsen, Principal of E. Nixon Junior High School, Amarillo, who explained the purposes of county units and discussed the method of organization and operation.

Following his talk, Superintendent P. A. Ammons of Quitaque, presided in the business meeting. He, in turn, was elected as president. F. M. McCarty was elected as vice-president, Mrs. Irene Kuykendall of Quitaque was chosen as secretary treasurer, and Mrs. Otto Denton King and Mrs. Lula Shaw were selected as congressmen at large. Plans for the next meeting were discussed, but the time was not set. It will be early in November. Following the adjournment of the meeting, all present enjoyed coffee and doughnuts prepared by the Silverton teachers.

This is the first time in recent years that it has been possible to have a local unit. The reason for failure the past years was that there were not the required twenty-five members necessary for meeting the requirements belonging to the State Teachers' Association. Since both Quitaque and Silverton teachers have enrolled one hundred per cent in the state organization, the required number is available, hence the unit was formed.

The returning serviceman and his problems is a topic being studied and discussed at great length these days, and that is as it should be. Heaven knows, he will be facing situations that will be difficult, regardless of how much study, help and planning he is given. Possibly one of the hardest things for him to do will be to settle down to normal, routine civilian life again. No person, regardless of experience, training or background can be uprooted and transplanted to a new environment as these men have been, without having to undergo a period of readjustment. Some will adjust readily—others will need longer. And all they ask is a fair chance. Give it to them by letting them make their own decisions, decide their own futures, and live their own lives. Give them guidance, yes, but also give them their freedom.

So many are returning from the armed forces that I'm in a dither trying to find out about all of them. I'm anxious to have this news, but I'll need your cooperation to get it. I will appreciate it if you parents and friends of discharged veterans will report the facts to this office. I would also like very much to meet these veterans in person if they'll give me the opportunity.

I've taken quite a bit of kidding about using my column last week to pass on to you ladies a new recipe. Just to show you that my efforts were appreciated, I've had several inquiries this week about it. Any time you men have a recipe you'd like to have printed, just bring it by the office. (Maybe I'm letting myself in for something).

How soon do we forget? That question will be answered by our response to the coming Victory Loan Drive which begins Monday, October 29. We didn't forget our boys during the dark days of Guadalcanal, New Guinea and the Solomons. We didn't forget them when going was the toughest in North Africa, Italy, France and Germany. We remembered them by supporting the War Loan Drives when they fought their bloodiest battles on Tarawa, Iwo Jima, and Okinawa which resulted in paving the way for the final defeat of Japan.

We can't afford to forget now—not as long as there are so many still in need of hospital care—not so long as there is still so much to be done to bring things back to a normal way of life.

I have always enjoyed reading the ads in papers and magazines, and I think most folks do. Here is one that I found in a "funny book" and it beats any I ever read:

New "Kiss Me Necktie" Glows in the Dark! By day, a lovely Swank Tie—by night a Call to Love in Glowing Words. MEN! BOYS! Now amaze your friends. Surprise and thrill every girl you meet! Be different and the life of the party in any crowd! Here's the most amazing spectacular tie that you ever wore, a smart tailored cravat which at night is a thrilling sensation. It's smart, superb class by day, and just imagine in the dark it seems like a necktie of compelling allure! Sheer magic! Like a miracle of light there comes a pulsing, glowing question—WILL YOU KISS ME IN THE DARK BABY? Think of the surprise, the awe you will cause! There's no trick, no hidden batteries, no switches or foolish horseplay, but a thing of loveliness as the question gradually emerges to life, touched by the wand of darkness, and your girl will gasp with wonder as it takes form so amazingly. It's new and utterly different. A Hollywood riot wherever you go. And here's wonderful news! You can see and examine this glorious tie yourself without risk. Just mail the coupon . . .

The thing that struck me, doubly funny is that I know a girl here who ordered some lipstick that glows in the dark. Now if a guy with the glowing necktie would happen to meet the gal with the glowing lipstick . . . Tch, tch, I can't bear to think of it—but it would be something like a combination bear hunt and Fourth of July Celebration!

OCTOBER GOLD
By Mrs. Flora Dickerson

There stands in my front yard a golden tree
Whose beauty is a source of joy to me;
A month ago its leaves were green,
But now their lovely, golden sheen
Brings wonder and delight to all who see.

Soft zephyrs touch the yellow shimmering leaves.
They rise and fall like dainty maidens feet
The glancing sun-rays falling there—
Reflecting molten glory rare,
Suggests a magic vision, pure and sweet.

Reminding one of winsome autumn things,
Of fleecy clouds like distant seraph's wings
Of hazy Indian-Summer blue—
Of lazy winds and sparkling dew,
My golden tree in transient memory brings.

But all too soon the gold will tarnished be;
The chilling winds will whip the branches free;
But as returning seasons go,
October's coming will, I know,
Bring to me once again, my golden tree.

ROOT ROT ENDANGERS COTTON IN TEXAS

Root rot, which destroyed 20 per cent or more of the 1945 cotton crop in Texas in some leading blackland counties, can be controlled by steps which also increase soil fertility, C. B. Spencer, agricultural director, said this week in a statement released by the Cotton Production Committee of Texas.

"Experiments and experience prove that root rot can be controlled by using legumes in a crop rotation and by putting back into the soil such crops as green cotton and corn stalks, and grain sorghum and small grain stubble", Spencer said.

"Unfortunately, too few farmers know this. When it is generally realized that growing and turning under legumes will reduce root damage 20 per cent or more, on the average, the use of legumes is expected to increase greatly."

Hairy vetch, Austrian winter peas, Hubam and other sweet clovers are the legumes best adapted for use in controlling root rot.

Only 3.8 per cent root rot damage resulted in 1943-44 at Temple Experiment Station when cotton on Houston black clay followed Hubam clover that had been harvested for seed, and the straw returned to the land, and the cotton produced 306 pounds of lint per acre. Root rot damage was 38 per cent when cotton followed corn, and the yield was 200 pounds per acre. Cotton planted continuously showed 63 percent root rot damage.

In addition to the value in controlling root rot and improving the soil, the plowing under of green cotton stalks is one of the most effective methods of reducing boll weevil damage, Spencer added.

"Plowing under cotton stalks and planting legumes are two things that farmers can and should do right now to lay the foundation for a more productive and more profitable crop in 1946. They are two steps that will pay big dividends next season", he said.

RATS ARE COSTLY AND A MENACE TO HEALTH

Because of the economic losses they cause to industry and commerce, and the annoyance they create in homes, rats have been considered a serious menace to mankind since long before their role as vendors of disease was understood. Today, at least six diseases are known to be transmitted from man to the rat, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. These diseases include the dread plague, typhus, trichinosis, a form of jaundice, tapeworm, and food poisoning. Typhus fever, in the past few years, has become a major health problem in Texas.

"It is necessary to public health," Dr. Cox said, "that a continuous rat control program be maintained in every urban and rural area throughout Texas.

"It is necessary to public health, Dr. Cox said, "that a continuous rat control program be maintained in every rural and urban area throughout Texas. This is of especial importance on farms where rats may flourish by feeding on grain and other farm products."

The Doctor pointed out that rats, like other living things, require food and shelter if they are to propagate and increase in number. Destroying their shelter and breeding places includes the employing of rat-proof design in buildings, employing ratproof methods of construction and installation, and providing for periodic inspection of buildings to insure permanent safety. This program will force the rate out in the open where its destruction may be accomplished.

Of equal importance as a control measure is the elimination of all food supplies. This consists of storing all food in ratproof containers, the proper storage of garbage in closed containers until disposal, and careful feeding of stock to prevent the waste feed from being picked up by the rats.

By observing these control measures, the community will benefit, not only in the eradication of a nuisance and economic menace, but in improved health conditions and the certain decrease in the incidence of typhus which alone, would make the control program worth while.

All of us can admire the rich man's yard and mansion without having to mow the lawn and pay taxes on the house.

It's all right for a man to own some things but if he gets too many, they owe him. A Chinaman said, "Though a man drinketh at a river, he can only drink a belly-full."

You don't have to seek an opportunity for revenge; time will bring it. But the finest revenge is not to take it.

My grandpa had a thousand-and-one sayings. He didn't bother with quotation marks; he just reached up and took what he wanted. The wisdom of years of practical experience is found in such observations as:

If a man fools me once, that's his fault. If he fools me twice, that is my fault.

It's the squeaking axle that gets the grease.

And it's the hit dog that hollers. No gentleman will hurt me; no other can.

What is a gentleman? He is one who is kind and courteous to boot-blacks and newsboys—in short, to those to whom he doesn't have to be.

The Lord gave us our relatives but thank the Lord, we can choose our own friends.

A wise hunter doesn't waste ammunition on a dead duck.

The race for Governor is off to the earliest start ever known. In fact, one candidate who has been occupying another State office for the last three years has been running all that time and he has been putting big advertisements in the big city newspapers, the ads paid for by a mysterious group of "little business men," so-called.

And another who has been in State office several years is reported to be assembling a fabulous campaign fund and is already buying time on the radio for next year.

Have you got a sailor boy in the family? Then you'll be amused by these verses from the Malakoff News, entitled, "A Brother's Complaint" and composed by David Dodd and his fellow sailors aboard one of Uncle Sam's fighting vessels:

Sis is going with a sailor; At first it didn't faze us; But now the family talk is full Of sailor's salty phrases. We found it rather hard at first To follow all his speech Since talk is different on board ship Than it is "On the beach."

For when the time to eat comes 'round, He sings out "chow" for "food" And always "stows it down the hatch", Which Grandma says is rude. When talking during dinner, He talks like other boys, Except he calls the lettuce "grass" And celery just plain "noise."

His salty talk is slangy And hard to understand; He calls the canned milk "iron cow", And sugar he called "sand". The chicken he calls "sea gull." The ketchup is "red lead," The waffles are "collision mats" While "punk" is just light bread.

We finally caught on, though, And now are doing fine: We say "six bells" for 3 o'clock When we are telling time. When Ma goes to the city Or runs down to the store And someone asks us where she is We say she's "gone ashore."

The place has sure gone salty, Which makes me lots of trouble; For when Ma says, "Come here, Chop-Chop" I go there "on the double." I wish that "tar" would "weigh his anchor" And do what I often think; "Point his bow" and "Trim his jib And go jump in the "drink".

"Have you been here a long time?" a visitor asked a gray-haired settler in the Panhandle. He replied, "A right smart while; when I first come here, the moon was no bigger than a half dollar and there was only six stars."

Similar is the declaration of a Central Texas pioneer, "When I settled in this country, there was only one other man livin' in 30 miles and that big hill over yonder was a buffalo wallow."

Removing Fruit Stains

Directions for removing fruit stains, as given in a laundering booklet issued by Westinghouse Home Economics Institute, are broken down, fabric by fabric, as follows: For wool, silk and rayon—Fill bowl with steaming hot water, add a few drops of ammonia; spread stained portion of fabric over bowl; apply hydrogen peroxide from a medicine dropper at intervals of five minutes. (Test an unexposed part of fabric for color fastness first, of course). For cotton and linen—Pour boiling water from a height through stain don't use soap. If stain is old first rub well with glycerine, then use boiling water as above. All stains regardless of cause, should be treated before laundering.

The teacher was giving the youngsters a mental drill. "Now, Bobby, tell me which month has twenty-eight days in it."

Bobby had forgotten. After a moment he had the answer, "They all have."

DISTRICT FARM BUREAU MEETING SCHEDULED

Reconversion and postwar problems confronting agriculture will be the principal topics for discussion by producers of this area at a meeting to be held at Tulia on Friday, October 26.

The meeting is sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau Federation and is one of a series of 14 being held throughout the state.

J. Walter Hammond, president of the organization, announced. The purpose of these meetings is to bring farm and ranch people first hand information on the immediate problem of postwar prices.

"There is a growing sentiment to lower agricultural prices," Mr. Hammond said. "A collapse of farm prices, such as followed World War I, will lead to a break in the entire price structure of our economy. It will take the combined thinking of the best minds in agriculture to map a sound and practical farm program that will insure fair prices and prevent endangering the postwar economy of our nation."

The Farm Bureau strives to represent the true thinking of the producers of this state, and it is therefore necessary to call the farm and ranch people in to district conferences to give them an opportunity to express their views on these issues of such permanent importance at this particular time in order that as an organization the Farm Bureau will know what course of action to pursue, Hammond declared.

All farmers are urged to attend this meeting and have a voice in the formulation of a program which they believe will be sound and constructive.

EDWARD EDWARDS, in a letter to his mother, says that he is on the way home—with a discharge in the near future:

Dear Mother: How does this find you—in good health I hope. As for myself, I am OK. Don't know how I could be much better. It has been several days since I wrote you so I think I would drop you a few lines while it is possible, but don't expect me to write any more as I probably won't get a chance until I get to the USA, and that will be around the 27th of this month—I will probably get home the first few days in November. We are at the present time bound for Siapan then Pearl Harbor and California. I am on an air craft carrier. I was on a hospital ship but am riding anything going to the States, and this one will go all the way. I left the Ammon the 23rd of September and am doing pretty good according to the way everything is out here.

So I want you to be looking for some row crop land. Would like around 100 acres to put in cotton next year and about 75 for feed. Well, news is rather poor, so don't worry if you don't hear from me until the last of the month when I get to the States. You may not can read this as I have a very poor place to write.

BUY VICTORY BONDS

To help fulfill your obligation for your share in victory—put your crop dollars into Victory Bonds! That money will help bring our boys home . . . bring our wounded back to health . . . and in 10 years, your Victory "E" Bonds will bring you $4 for every $3 you put in!

Women's 1925 Study Club Plays Santa To Service Men at Sea

Christmas boxes for servicemen on the high seas, those who will not be in port on Christmas Day, have been packed under the sponsorship of the Woman's 1925 Study Club. Those interested in this project met in the Red Cross room in the court house Wednesday and prepared the packages.

Every box included at least six items which consisted of such things as chewing gum, candy, wash cloths and camphor ice. Khaki service kits donated by Mr. Whiteside were also put in each package.

SHOTGUN SHELLS TO BE RELEASED SOON

Duck, pheasant and other small game hunters will have plenty of 12-gauge shot gun shells on hand this fall for their favorite sport, according to an announcement just issued in Washington by the Office of Surplus Property, Department of Commerce.

Over forty million rounds of 12 gauge shells, frozen for military use since the start of the war, will be sold this month to dealers throughout the eleven United States Regional Offices of the Office of Surplus Property. The sale began October 13, 1945.

Supplies of shotgun shells for civilian use have been extremely short and the return of this ammunition to dealers shelves in time for the hunting seasons will be welcomed by sportsmen the country over. The shells will also be useful to farmers and ranchers for crop and livestock protection.

The ammunition being sold is of the standard commercial type used by hunters and includes both birdshot and buckshot.

MORE FARMS IN BRISCOE COUNTY THAN IN 1940

The number of farms in the County of Briscoe, State of Texas, as shown by the preliminary count of returns of the 1945 Census of Agriculture was 560, as compared with 516 in 1940, and 699 in 1935. This was announced this week by Weldon Boyles, supervisor for the 1945 farm census in the First Texas Census District with headquarters at Panhandle, Texas.

The total land in farms in Briscoe County, according to the preliminary 1945 census count, was 347,034 acres, as compared with 347,220 acres in 1940, and 492,462 acres in 1935. Average size of the farms shown in the preliminary 1945 census count for Briscoe County was 620 acres, as compared with 673 acres in 1940 and 705 acres in 1935.

In announcing the 1945 census totals of farms and land in farms in Briscoe County, Supervisor Boyles pointed out that the figures are preliminary and subject to correction. Final tabulations of Briscoe County farm census returns will be made by the Bureau of the Census and announced from Washington when completed, Boyles said.

THE RIGHT TRACTOR FOR THE PARTICULAR JOB

THE proverbial Jack-of-all-trades was master of none. The modern world of science and technology passed him by. The same principle applies to farm tractors. The tractor that does a wide variety of jobs unsatisfactorily can't possibly produce the greatest results at the least cost in any job. But that's what the farmer—particularly the small operator—has got to do to meet postwar competition: he's got to produce the most food possible with the least effort and, consequently, at the lowest cost. The farmer with 10 acres in truck crops needs one kind of tractor. The farmer with 100 acres in wheat alone needs another kind—or, as is usually the case, two or more different tractors. The tractor which does a good job on the Great Plains may be useless in the rice territory. And so it goes. Conditions of climate, the lay of the land, and the character of soils in the different parts of this vast country, together with wide variations in the nature of crops and the size of operations, combine to produce wide differences in the requirements for tractors. Harvester's policy is to meet all these requirements. That is why Harvester's postwar line includes a great variety of Farmalls and other specialized tractors and attachments rather than a single tractor with a single system of tools. Every tractor in the line was developed after scientific research and testing under actual operating conditions showed the specifications needed for efficiency and economy. Every Harvester-built tractor is the right machine for its particular job.

Dear Son
Here's the check for your college expenses... more money from the Victory Bonds we bought for your education.
Money from some of those other bonds we bought back during the war is now fixing up the kitchen for Macker and paying for the new barn. Certainly is helpful to get back $4 for every $3 we invested in Victory Bonds!
Keep up the good work at school son.
