Solicit Funds For Girl Scouts

Plans for financing Girl Scout work in the Silverton area were formulated last Thursday afternoon when members of the Girl Scout council, troop leaders and committeemen met with Miss Ida Mae McClure, area scout executive, Amarillo. The meeting was held in the Red Cross rooms.

Direct solicitation was decided upon, and individuals were appointed to canvass the area. Appointments made included:

Lakeview, Lee Deavenport; Francis, Edwin Crass and L. A. Calloway; Wallace, Mrs. Beth Joiner; Rock Creek, Fred Mercer; Holt, Mrs. B. L. Stephens and Mrs. W. A. Holt; Haylake, Jim Brooks and M. B. Self; North Ward, Arthur Arnold and Arnold Turner; Silverton, Ben O. King, Virgil Ballard and T. R. Whitesides.

"Collections are coming in nicely," Earl Brock, council president, stated Wednesday. "We are pleased with the response."

The funds will be used to finance the work through 1946 and up to September of 1947. A budget of $350 has been adopted.

THELMA GEAN MERCER

BETTY NAN BURSON

VALEDICTORIAN AND SALUTATORIAN for the 1946 graduating class of Silverton High School were announced Friday by Supt. F. M. McCarty. Thelma Gean Mercer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Mercer, with an average of 96.42 will deliver the valedictory address at the commencement exercises Friday night, May 24. Betty Nan Burson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. True Burson, with an average of 95.95 will give the salutatory address.

Consolidation Will Be Decided on Saturday

Two elections are slated Saturday, May 18, to determine whether the Wallace school will be consolidated with the Silverton Independent school district. One election will be held at the Wallace school house, and the other will be held at the Silverton High school building.

The polls will be opened at 8 a. m. and will close at 7 p. m. A simple majority in both districts will effect the consolidation of the districts. Should either district fail to vote by a majority in favor of consolidation, the merger will fail.

Supt. F. M. McCarty, upon being interviewed about the elections, said that he felt that the consolidation would do a great deal toward improving the school situation. "While it is true that such a merger will increase the taxes in the Wallace district," he said, "the only increase for the 1946 tax payment would be 20 cents on the $100 valuation. It will not be possible for the valuations to be changed for this year, and the only increase will come from raising the present Wallace rate from 80 cents to one dollar."

The Silverton school board recently went on record as favoring the appointment of a member on that board from the Wallace district should a vacancy occur; also, when the equalization board is appointed next year to set the values a citizen from the Wallace district will be appointed on the board in order that Wallace's interest will be taken into consideration at the time the valuations are set for property in that district, McCarty said. This, of course, will not occur until next year, he pointed out.

The Silverton school board also went on record as agreeing to serve the Wallace district with a new bus next school term should the consolidation election be carried.

Stresses Advantages
Another advantage that all patrons served by the Silverton school will derive from the consolidation is that the merger will insure that henceforth from the increased valuations being derived from the merger, the Silverton school will not operate as a state aid school," McCarty said. "Since little increase in income will be derived for the 1946-47 school year, this will not apply for the school year 1946-47, but should all succeeding years."

McCarty continued, "the consolidation will give the people of the Wallace community the same voice in the conducting of the school affairs enjoyed by citizens of the Silverton district. They will have the added satisfaction of knowing that they are paying their full share not only in the operation of the school, but the other expenses that must be met to maintain the school."

McCarty added that he hoped that all people in the Silverton district, who are interested in an improved school situation, would go to the polls Saturday and vote. Since this is the first time that any common school district has offered to come into the independent district, it would indicate by the number of people who vote whether or not the patrons were in favor of including the Wallace district in the Silverton school, he said.

McCarty also stressed the need for the school to get off the state aid basis as soon as possible. Due to the teacher shortage and the fact that a state aid school must follow a definite salary schedule, it is very difficult to secure the best qualified teachers unless something more than the state aid salary schedule can be offered, he explained. The present arrangement for state aid schools is such as to render the financial situation very difficult to estimate, since it is always uncertain as to just how much state aid may be expected, McCarty pointed out. "Any miscalculation is likely to cause the district to be unable to meet its obligations," he said. "For instance, the state department of education permits $2730 to be paid for heat, water, lights, repairs, janitor service, clerical service and

Development Club Aids Girl-Boy Scouts

The Briscoe County Development club at its regular meeting last Thursday night voted to give $25 to the Girl Scouts and $25 to the Boy Scouts to aid in carrying on the work of these two organizations.

The meeting, which was well attended, was held in the school study hall. It was also voted at that time to change the regular meetings to once every two weeks instead of every week. The next meeting is scheduled for Thursday, May 23, at 8 o'clock.

All members of the Lions Club, which has been inactive for some time, are urged to attend this meeting. This club has a large amount of funds, and disposition of these funds will be discussed.

Joe B. Mercer agreed to meet with the county commissioners and ask for consideration of a plan for a right-of-way down the cap rock to meet with the roads from Clarendon and Memphis. The possibility of using the route that was once surveyed for a railroad right-of-way will be considered.

State Patrolmen Fowler and Reese attended the meeting. Fowler made a plea to all parents to aid in seeing that driver's licenses are obtained by all who drive a car. He stated that the state law demands that everyone have a driver's license, if he expected to drive a car. He warned that it will be necessary for patrolmen to check on everyone in the future.

Announce Practice Payment on Cotton

Of interest to farmers and ranchers of Briscoe county are announcements made this week by Milton G. Martin, administrative officer, ACA.

"A number of farmers are almost ready to start planting feed and cotton on the contour," Martin said. "This practice payment is 75 cents per acre, but approval by the county committee must be granted before this payment can be made."

Farmers wishing to summer fallow land are required to get approval from the county committee before June 15, this year. This practice payment is 50 cents per acre if summer followed by one-way or 75 cents an acre if summer followed by lister.

"For the benefit of farmers who have not made application for dairy production payment for the months of January, February and March," Martin stated, "you may make application now. May 31 is the final date for making application."

Martin again reminded farmers of the bonus on wheat. "In order to receive the 30 cents per bushel bonus on wheat that is stored in granaries or warehouses," he said, "the wheat must be delivered to the elevator before May 24."

Ground Breaking Ceremony Planned

Ground breaking ceremonies for the new First Baptist church will be held Tuesday, May 21, at 10:30 a. m., according to announcement by Rev. G. A. Elrod, pastor.

Wrecking of the old church building was started Monday of this week.

The new building will be across the street west from the old building. The construction will be of brick and tile. In a T-shape, the edifice will consist of a main auditorium and an annex with a basement.

Services will be held in the old Calvary Baptist church until the new building is completed.

Caution Is Best Protection Against Infantile Paralysis

Infantile paralysis invaded the county this week.

With several cases reported in Antonio and with the announcement of a death in Amarillo from polio, attention of Briscoe county residents this week focused on precautionary measures concerning this disease.

Dr. O. T. Bundy, county chairman of the infantile paralysis center, issued the following statement:

"I am proud to say that your county is trying to protect its child from infantile paralysis. You have the assurance that we are doing OUR best to safeguard your child. But we need your best efforts to do an even better job, and so we relegate our responsibility to you. It is the responsibility of observing a few simple precautions against infantile paralysis in your home.

There is no answer to the begging plea heard from thousands of mothers. They want to know how their children can be protected against infantile paralysis. We can only tell them there is no serum, drug or vaccine that can prevent your child from contracting infantile paralysis.

Consequently, the best protection is that of observing a few simple precautions against infantile paralysis in your home.

Critical Period
Parents, please keep in mind the acute stage of the disease reaches its peak within about 10 days of the first appearance of symptoms. This is a painful and dangerous time. The future recovery of the patient depends in great extent on his receiving treatment immediately. He should be under the constant supervision of experienced medical personnel.

The epidemic, due to the demands for their expert attention, this is almost impossible in a hospital. That is why patients must be brought together at a maximum number can be treated by the available courses, and technicians.

Don't delay getting medical attention for your child or hesitate in hospitalizing him because you can't afford the expense. A doctor can arrange with the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for as much aid and medical aid as you have to see you through the difficult and convalescent stages of the disease. Remember, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis was organized to guarantee care for every victim of infantile paralysis in need.

again to observe the following 10 rules should this disease invade Briscoe county:

1. Keep your children out of crowds.
2. Give them plenty of fresh air and an adequate diet.
3. Avoid fatigue by seeing that they get their full quota of rest and sleep.
4. Observe sanitary rules in preparing food.
5. Wash hands before eating.
6. Keep garbage well covered.
7. Screen your house against flies and mosquitoes.
8. Keep children away from contaminated and unclean swimming places.
9. Avoid adenoid or tonsil operations during the epidemic.
10. Report any suspicious symptoms to your doctor immediately.

Bryan Strange in Race for Sheriff

Bryan Strange this week authorized the Briscoe County News to announce his candidacy for the office of sheriff of Briscoe county, subject to the action of the July primary.

Strange is well known to the residents of the county, having lived in Briscoe county and engaged in stock farming for 30 years. He is now living on his farm two miles west of Silverton and is serving his first term as commissioner of Precinct 3.

He says he was a little slow in making up his mind to enter the sheriff's race, but that he feels confident that with the cooperation of all he can fulfill the duties of the office.

"I fully realize the great responsibilities of the office," he said, "but I will try to make a good hand. It is my intention to see every voter in the county properly before the July primary, but, if I should miss you, I hope that you will take this as a means of asking your consideration and vote. I earnestly solicit your support of my candidacy and your influence and help in my campaign and your vote."

Who Are the Girl Scouts?

Currently there is a campaign in Silverton to raise funds for the financing of Girl Scout work. The support given this drive is just reward for a wonderful organization.

The Girl Scouts are more than half a million girls seven to 18 years of age in more than 6,000 American communities. They are serving their country today in practical ways, learning to be better citizens and homemakers of tomorrow.

Senior Girl Scouts from 15 to 18 years old are becoming Senior Service Scouts. They must know First Aid, the Morse Code, how to cook and live out-of-doors with primitive equipment, how to ride and repair a bike, how to care for young children, how to use simple tools, how to care for farm animals, how to sew and mend, how to transport by boat, how to pack an emergency kit, how to work with others and organize a group for action.

Seniors also act as farm aides, motor corps assistants and welfare and defense office helpers.

Girl Scouts from 10 to 15 camp and hike, learning their way around the countryside near their homes. They help with the housework and cooking to free mother for other work. They make Victory gardens. During the war, they collected metal, rubber, paper, books, phonograph records, old clothing and other things needed to help win the war.

Brownie Scouts, seven to 10, are old enough to help, too. They make toys for day nurseries, swabs and paper containers for hospitals. They learn what foods are good for little girls to eat. They are cheerful and helpful at home.

The Girl Scouts of the United States are part of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts which has member organizations in almost every one of the United Nations. They work for understanding with their neighbors, the Girl Scouts and Guides of the Western hemisphere, and by correspondence and contributions they encourage and help their sister Scouts in war-torn countries.

Millions of other girls are looking for ways to serve. They urgently need Scout training.

Are you helping them get it?

TRAIL DUST

Tossing heedless skirts of clouds, the wind danced on a rain-washed prairie where white buttercups swayed to the rhythm of music in the sky. Young whitefaced calves raced between the clumps of blue sage and felt the rocks tear at their spongy, untried hoofs. At intervals a cow would raise her head from cropping the tender grass and rush towards a calf that had frolicked too far from her side. Beyond the rolling hills flowed brown waters eating at the crumbling banks of the sandy river. Spilling between the clouds, sunlight reflected on the water like pieces of a mighty mirror flashing among distant cottonwoods. A mockingbird was secreted somewhere in the clump of chinaberry trees singing with all the joy that can be held in a diminutive soul. Some of each spring is borrowed from paradise.

Measured by the shadowless centuries that have passed across the mesa of creation all the puny toys of mankind will sustain their places but a little while. Grass roots will be nourished in soil made ready by their decay and the rains of a million years may find no trace of civilization to beat against. A candle burns without ash and the darkness is no less for its having burned.

I am the kind of a customer that a waitress will glance at, then return to the more absorbing business of dabbing nail polish on her fingers. There is little satisfaction to my vanity when a younger and more attractive customer causes her to beam and have water and the menu waiting by the time he is seated. The only thing I have ever received from tips was a secret feeling that I had been absurd.

Wisdom has no measure by which to weigh itself, thus the sage is satisfied with his knowledge although it may be less than rust on the towers of learning in a decade. Lest his back feel the whip of ridicule a man may hide the secret which his vision has uncovered, and look to the things which others have not concealed. History records the waste of learning again that which has been known. Knowledge in a frenzy is apt to devour its young.

and soda water generation, My knowledge of bars is not extensive but my appreciation of craftsmanship in woodwork is liberal. So it will be better to allow the past to keep its secrets from which the massive mahogany fixture emerged. While I drank the cup of stale, gray coffee, steam from the urn blistered a varnished arch too close above. Near me a man forked hopefully at the rubberish filling in a piece of pie. Greasy vapor in the small cafe had settled on the ornate bar; the mirrors were half-hidden in the grime. Circling twice the fly made a perfect landing on the thick, scarred counter, then departed. Through my half-closed eyes the mirrors reflected faded impressions of another age; deep carpets, heavy gold watch chains and the soft glow of gas lights. There was gentle music and feminine laughter. Wealth rubbed the fine wood with the wax of splendor. Suddenly the fly returned and walked slowly to a grain of sugar on the counter. The man had finished the pie and was dunking a portion of the crust in his coffee. The bar was like an old man who had known great beauty and luxury, compelled by circumstance to drink bitter wine with his cabbage.

Did you hear about the official in one of the departments in Washington who sent a proposed order to the legal department to learn whether it complied with the law? After a very long time, the order was returned with no comment on its legality but with the sarcastic comment on the fact that several sentences ended in prepositions.

The official thus criticized replied: "Your remarks about my ending my sentences with prepositions is one of the things up with which I do not intend to put."

That reminds me of my old teacher who used to say: "Never use a preposition to end a sentence with."

And that, in turn, reminds me of the boy in English class who turned in a sentence:

"Where should I stop at?"

And the teacher said, "You should stop just before the 'at'."

And that, in turn, reminds of still one more. A teacher in college put a sentence on the board without any punctuation and then asked John how to punctuate it. The sentence read:

"Pretty Mary wearing her new spring dress went strolling down the street." The boy said, "Professor, I'd make a dash after Mary."

A Bowen bus driver puts on a free show in the bus station cafe at Buffalo when someone drops a nickel in the juke box. He takes two silver spoons in each hand and rattles them in time with music like an old-fashioned minstrel performer.

And there used to be a Greyhound driver, who, at the end of the line, would call out, "Please don't forget suitcases, small babies or miscellaneous packages." Still on the subject of bus drivers, there was one, a few years back, on the TCU line in Fort Worth who was gifted as a ventriloquist. He would start up the bus, then throw his voice and it sounded as though someone outside was yelling: "Just a minute; I want to catch the bus." Newcomers would shout to him to stop the bus and regular passengers, who knew about the driver's talent would enjoy a laugh.

Our dealers join us in making this frank report to THE FARMERS OF AMERICA

INTERNATIONAL Harvester is getting back into production with all possible speed. Extra shifts are being employed wherever conditions permit, to try to overcome the production losses of the recent strike. Everything is being done to get parts and machines to you.

While we and our dealers would like to tell you that this means an immediate end to the shortage of service parts and machines, it is more accurate to say that it means the beginning of the end of it. If illness or bad weather delays you seriously in the Spring, you know how much it throws you off your schedule. The strike has thrown our schedules off balance, too. There are many "chores" we must do before new machines reach you.

duction efforts will mean that your local dealer can expect only a small number of parts and machines at a time. Since we must play fair with all our customers, there will be a sprinkle of parts and machines all over the country—not a downpour in any one section.

You will be glad to know that all repair parts production schedules are far beyond normal.

No hoarding
 You may be sure that every machine will be shipped to dealers as soon as completed. We do not and will not hold machines off the market.

Material shortages
The preliminary chores of getting our plants back into shape for full production are finished. But disturbances in other industries and resulting material shortages may affect our plans. Light gauge steel sheets, brass and copper, fractional horse power motors, and many other items are all very short. The coal situation may also prove serious—we hope not.

Refilling the well
 Both our dealers and our branches have run dry on parts and new machines. So the biggest chore is to get their working stocks back to normal. It will take time to fill the pipeline to dealers—just as it takes time for you to refill a well or cistern after it has run dry.

Stock and display rooms of our dealers represent not one, but ten thousand reservoirs which must be refilled. The most heroic proand DISK HARROWS is reasonably good. On COMBINE MOWERS, HAY RAKES, OSMAN HAY BALERS, CORN PICKERS and many other items our schedules have been seriously disrupted. We must in fairness say that many of our customers are likely to be disappointed in delivery of these machines. MILKING MACHINES, SECTIONARY ENGINES, and other small units we are hopeful of making practically normal delivery.

We know you will understand the reasons why your dealer cannot fill your orders overnight. We would like to give you the best delivery on machines you would like to get, but his situation is difficult one and not of his making. He is doing the best he can.

No cutting corners on quality
 There is one thing you can be absolutely certain about: we will NOT cut corners on quality in order to increase production in this emergency. For years we have had "QUALITY IS THE FOUNDATION OF OUR BUSINESS." Today we say it—and mean it as much as ever.

We know you need new machines—and need them now. But we believe it will pay you to wait just a little while longer. You cannot get all you want immediately. By waiting you can be sure your new equipment will have the quality so rightly associated with INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER for so many years.

SUPERVISORS FOR CAP ROCK DISTRICT—Earl I. Cantwell, Chairman, Louie Kitchens, Obra Watson, Pierce White and Bray Cook.

Irrigation well locations were made last week by Leon Martin of the Rock Creek group, Elbert C. Dickerson of the Gregg group and Milton G. Martin of the Rock Creek group.

Terrace systems constructed by Paul Hamilton of the Quitaque group, Amos Persons of the Scheid group and O. C. Crabtree of the Gasoline group were checked by SCS engineers assisting the supervisors for meeting district specifications last week.

Bert Hawkins, a cooper, constructed a second stock water dam on his ranch northwest of Quitaque last week. The dam is located in a portion of pasture where it has been impossible to get well water. The dam was constructed with carry-all and crawler type tractor by a local contractor.

B&PW Club Plans Pioneer Round-up

Members of the Plainview Business and Professional Women's Club are hard at work preparing for the 18th annual Pioneer Round-up which is to be held in Plainview May 18. Plans are moving forward and the affair promises to be one of the best in Round-up history, committee heads predict.

Miss Curtie Mae Rogers is chairman of the parade committee, which is busy rounding up floats and other parade entries.

Mrs. R. L. Thornton, reception chairman, has announced that the pioneer reception will be held in the chamber of commerce office at the city auditorium from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

A colorful background will be used for the program, which begins at 8 o'clock. A variety program is being planned with musical numbers predominating. Gifts will be presented to the oldest pioneer woman and man present and to the pioneer woman with the largest number of children. A prize will be given the man with the longest beard. Mrs. Willie Merle Halthcock is chairman of the program committee.

Mrs. Jack Yates, dance chairman, has everything in readiness for the square dance which follows the program. For those, who prefer the modern dance steps, there will be a dance at the American Legion home.

Improved, Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for May 19

A FRIEND WHO LEARNED TO BELIEVE

LESSON TEXT—John 11: 7, 8, 16, 20: 24-29
MEMORY SELECTION—Blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.—John 20:29.

Doubt and faith—both seem to come to the hearts and minds of men. Yet they are directly contradictory to one another and cannot exist together. To believe is to drive out doubt, and when doubt comes in, faith loses its grip.

Thomas, and his experience following the resurrection of our Lord, presents a lesson on what a man can do to meet honest doubt and how such a man can come out into the sunshine of faith.

We find in Thomas, first, an expression of

I. Fearless Loyalty (John 11:7,8, 16).
Unafraid of the threats of men, Jesus was about to go once more into Judea. On his last two visits there, the Jews had sought to kill him, namely, at the feast of tabernacles (John 8:59) and at the feast of dedication (John 10:31).

He was not one to draw back for the fear of men when the Father's will led him forward in his service to humanity. Lazarus was dead, and Mary and Martha needed him and he was going to them.

Then came a fine expression of the loyalty of Thomas. If his Lord was going to face death, he was willing to go along and die with him. Let us recognize that here was a man of real courage, willing to show his loyalty even by giving his life.

There is something fine about that attitude, and something which shows us that when his man later expressed doubt, it was not the silly and shallow unbelief of a trifler. This man loved the Lord and served him, and yet he failed him.

When we think we are strong, we had better watch out lest we fail. Let us be clear and triumphant in our declaration of loyalty to Christ, both by word and by life. And then let us set a double guard against the enemy of our souls.

Thomas next appears in

II. Faithless Failure (John 16:24, 25).
He had been willing to die for his Lord, or with him, but now the Lord had been taken by wicked hands and crucified. He and the disciples were alone to face a hostile world; at least so it seemed to them.

The awful day of crucifixion preyed heavily upon the mind of Thomas. That is evident from verse 25. He had been thinking of those awful bleeding wounds, and had forgotten about the promises of resurrection.

Jesus died, and that is a precious truth; but one must not stop there, for a dead Saviour is no Saviour at all. Thomas got sidetracked in his thinking. Let us not make the same mistake.

Another reason for his failure was that he did not go to the meeting of his brethren. Perhaps he did not feel like going, and did not think it was any use to do. Ah, but that's just the time one needs the fellowship of other believers. Go, and you will meet the Lord!

The Lord was there and Thomas missed him. We, too, will miss the Lord and his blessing if we stay away from his house and the meeting of his people.

Having gone thus far in discouraged unbelief, it was easy for Thomas to take the next step and demand physical proof of the resurrection. His despondency had now reached the place of making unreasonable demands and of discrediting the witness of others.

We are glad that we can close our study on the note of renewed faith and of

III. Full Confession (John 16:26-29).

Note that the Lord was ready fully to meet the demands of Thomas, even through they were on the unreasonable side. That was undoubtedly because he knew the essential fineness and truthness of Thomas.

His doubts were unfortunate and entirely unnecessary, but they were genuine. No real doubter will ever remain one long, for if he brings a genuine doubt to the Lord, he will find it fully met. It is the triflers, those who use their doubts to hide their sins, and those who are unwilling to bring their dark thoughts into the light of the presence of Jesus, who go on doubting year after year.

Notice the comment of Jesus following the glad and complete confession of faith by Thomas. It is a good thing to believe because one has seen and been convinced. That is proper and blessed.

But the real fullness of blessing comes to the one who can rise to faith in Christ because of his word, quite apart from the visible or tangible evidence. This is real Christian faith which declares Christ to be our Lord and our God, the one whom having not seen, we love (I Peter 1:8).

The Best Proof We Have

That we get pretty close to what's right in the grocery line is that so many of the experienced housewives remain our constant customers.

That couldn't happen if we didn't have goods about as they ought to be.

No store could have a better recommendation than a steadily growing list of customers.

We don't suppose that the people of your home are a bit harder to please than the others that we serve with perfect satisfaction.

Then why not let us please you, too?

School teachers are underpaid. Sunday School teachers WORK FOR NOTHING!

In America may be found two groups of "Unsung Heroes," our underpaid day-school teachers and our Sunday School teachers who teach Sunday School without a cent of pay.

State and city laws compel parents to enter their children in day schools. Sunday Schools rely on the interest of parents, voluntary gifts, and the beauty and age-old truth of the Scriptures to win children to regular attendance at Sunday School.

Are American Churches dying? Well, hardly. From 1926 to 1944, Church membership in this country increased 32.3%. Our population during this period increased 17.9%.

This coming Sunday is a good time for you and your family to join some Church in this community. It's also a good time to volunteer to teach some Sunday School class.

Blue Grama and Buffalo for Grazing

Blue grama and buffalo grasses may be relied upon by cattlemen for summer grazing, and western wheat and crested wheat grasses may plug the gap between wheat-field grazing and the growth of native grasses in both spring and fall, the Texas A. & M. college has announced.

These recommendations were made by the Texas agricultural experiment station in reporting results of the third year of steer grazing trials at the Amarillo conservation experiment station, carried on cooperatively by the research and operations division of the Soil Conservation Service and the station's division of range animal husbandry.

This test involved a 171-day winter period and a 194-day summer period, from November 1, 1944 until November 1, 1945. Through all phases, 120 steer calves were used. They averaged 381 pounds when received at the Amarillo station. Calves wintered on native grasses with less than 2 pounds of cottonseed cake daily, then summered on native and reseeded grass pastures gained 493 pounds during the year; while similar calves wintered on wheat fields and sorghum bundles, then summered on native and reseeded grass pastures made a total gain of 535 pounds.

Details of the grazing tests are shown in a four-page progress report now being distributed by the Texas agricultural experiment station.

Bright Garnishes Lure Appetites

One of the best ways to keep appetites up to par in the spring is to pay special attention to the appearance of the foods you serve. "We eat with our eyes" is a familiar saying, and there is a great deal of truth in it.

Not only should each dish look appetizing, but the meal as a whole should be planned with a thought for variety and harmony in the color and shape of the various foods additional interest may be provided by garnishing platters cleverly.

For the most part, garnishes that are edible are the best, according to Jessie Alice Cline, home economist. They may be simple or elaborate, according to your taste and artistic ability. The simplest garnishes are often the most effective, especially if they are original.

Here are a few suggestions for garnishing your springtime meat platters. These will undoubtedly suggest other possibilities:

Apple rings, panfried or baked, with a bit of bright-colored jelly in the center, make an appropriate garnish for pork chops or pork roast.

Small whole carrots browned in ham fat make an attractive border around a slice of ham.

Mashed potato cups filled with green peas or diced vegetables are an excellent accompaniment to serve on the platter with broiled lamb patties.

Sprigs of parsley, lemon slices cut in fancy shapes, or watercress garnish a steak platter attractively. A border of French fries or lattice potatoes is also effective.

Hot pickled beets, sliced and topped with slices of hardcooked eggs, give a decorative touch to browned corned beef hash or any other kind of hash.

Thin slices of orange, with rind left on, topped with a cube or teaspoonful of jelly, are attractive either on a meat platter or individual plates. Use mint jelly with lamb chops, crabapple or currant jelly with ham, canned cranberry sauce with beef.

W. Coffee, Jr., left Monday on a fishing trip to New Mexico. He was accompanied by his father of Amarillo.

Mrs. L. H. McGowen moved into her new home in the east part of town on Wednesday.

Care in Dress Buying Insures Lasting Value

With a minimum of effort you can choose your summer dresses so they will look good throughout the season without too much fuss and care.

What to look for in a dress is the subject of an article in the May issue of Good Housekeeping magazine, which states in part:

"Shoulder pads should be easy to remove before washing and easy to fasten again. Buttons, if of the strictly decorative type and not washable, are wonderfully easy to manage if they have shanks and can be pinned in place with small safety pins.

"Buttonholes should be carefully finished and well reinforced at the ends to withstand wear. See that belt straps or loops are fastened securely at both ends. They should fit the belt and keep snugly in place.

Seams give the best service when edges are pinked wide enough—one-half to three-quarter inch—to allow for fraying. See to it that your hem line is exactly even and at the most leg-flattering point if you want your costume to be smart and satisfying.

"There are special fabric finishes which are definitely plus values for dress satisfaction. These finishes not only contribute to the nice appearance but help simplify the care of your dress.

"A crease-resistant finish wards off creasing or wrinkling—whether from wear in warm weather or from being packed for traveling. A starchless finish, as the term implies, gives the fabric a crisp finish which remains after several launderings. A fabric that has been processed to that it will not shrink more than 1 per cent in laundering is an assurance that your dress will fit practically as well after repeated washings as before."

Edwin Davis, Edgar Mills, Lynn Welch and Claudia Welch left on Monday to enter the wheat harvest in Knox county.

Q. May turkeys be raised to maturity on wire or slat-floored porches?

A. Yes. Porches constructed of both slats and wire are very serviceable. About six square feet of floor space should be provided per bird.

Q. Is domestic rabbit meat increasing in favor with the American public?

A. Yes. During the war, production of domestic rabbits increased from 400 to 500 percent. The demand for rabbit meat continues to be so great that many butchers now sell it dressed, cup and ready for cooking. Numerous farmers have found domestic rabbit production a profitable sideline.

Q. Why should dairy calves be kept off pasture until they are four to six months of age?

A. This practice is recommended for the prevention of parasite infection, and to keep young calves from eating so much soft, watery grass that they can not eat the proper amount of growing ration for satisfactory growth.

Q. Is self-feeding of bred sows and gilts advised?

A. No. Self-feeding results in excessive consumption of feed, even when bulky rations are used. Long-term experiments at the Research Farm of the Ralston-Purina company indicate that hand-feeding makes it possible to control both condition and feed consumption of sows and gilts, resulting in stronger, healthier litters, and lower feed costs.

Q. What feeding and management methods for lambs have aided in the control of death losses caused by "over-eating" disease?

A. In Colorado experiments, the addition of sulphur to the grain mixture for fattening lambs has greatly reduced death losses from over-eating. The sulphur was added to the grain mixture at the rate of two pounds for each 100 pounds of grain for lambs on both self-feeding and hand-feeding. Under each system, the rate of death losses was greatly reduced, and the profit per head was increased by as much as 85 cents per head because of the lowered death loss.

Forest Trees To Get Recognition in New Service Booklet

An opportunity to learn more about the trees of the state was given nature lovers this week through a 140 page booklet, "Forest Trees of Texas," prepared by the Texas Forestry Service, A. & M. College and just published by the Texas Forestry Association.

N. D. Canterbury, association president, said that the book is designed mainly for school use, but that it would appeal to many tree-loving citizens as well.

"Right now we are seeking to place it in the hands of our young people through school teachers, boy and girl scout leaders and farm club group leaders," he stated.

He urged that requests from these groups be sent to the Texas Forestry Association, so that sponsors could be found.

Canterbury suggested that local industries, merchants, banks, utility companies, civic organizations and others make the booklet available for their local schools and scout groups. He cited an instance of the First National Bank of Bryan sponsoring 140 of the tree books for students in a class in the Bryan high school who were studying forestry.

More than 8,000 tree booklets have already been purchased by public spirited citizens for use by schools and scout groups. Funds derived from the sale of the books will be used for educational projects of the Forestry Association, in cooperation with the Texas Forestry Service Canterbury said.

"Forest Trees of Texas," was prepared by the Texas Forestry Service, A. & M. College and Canterbury stated that college authorities had given the Texas Forestry Association permission to reprint the bulletin as an educational project to stimulate greater appreciation of the trees in the state.

A total of 145 trees common to Texas are described in the book, with their use and location also given. Most of the trees are illustrated with drawings of the leaves and twigs. Special sections describe the value of the forests and how to study and identify trees.

Upset Stomachs Yield Inches of Gas and Bloat

"I was so full of gas I was afraid I'd burst. Sour, bitter substance rose up in my throat from my upset stomach after meals. I got INNER-AID, and it worked inches of gas and bloat from me. Waistline is way down now. Meals are a pleasure. I praise Inner-Aid to the sky."—This is an actual testimonial and we can verify it.

INNER-AID is the new formula containing medicinal juices from 12 Great Herbs; these herbs cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering—Get Inner-Aid. Sold by all drug stores here in Briscoe County. (adv)

The book is printed on paper made from East Texas trees, Canterbury said.

Complete information on how to obtain the tree booklet may be obtained by writing to the Texas

Forestry Association, College Station, Texas.

Maybe you aren't this big a nut about cars

Maybe you're able to resist taking your engine apart—as long as it runs well. That's generally enough for most anybody—no matter how curious he is to see Conoco Nth motor oil in the act of OIL-PLATING the engine's insides.

OIL-PLATED engines aren't forever having the top opened up to see about carbon—nor having the bottom opened up to see about sludge. Carbon and sludge are the camp-followers of wear. But OIL-PLATING is in the best position to oppose wear—because it is fastened and held direct to inner surfaces.

This is accomplished by the magnet-like action of an added material in Conoco Nth oil—patented.

OIL-PLATING is an addition—a durable protection—to the engine's fine inner finish. Ask new car owners and you'll find them widely adopting OIL-PLATING. This time, with this new car, they want to start out right. . . . And should an older car logically have anything less than the safeguard of OIL-PLATING! Then get Conoco Nth motor oil—at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station—now. Continental Oil Company

Mrs. Toler is now in charge of the kitchen and will prepare your food in that good old home-cooked style.
