Eye Witness Account
Given of Atomic Bomb Blast

By WALTER A. SHEAD
WNU Washington Correspondent

ABOARD USS APPALACHIAN, OPEATIONS CROSS-ROADS. — From a military standpoint the explosion of the fourth atomic bomb was a huge success but as a spectacle worth traveling 8,000 miles to see it did not live up to its advance billing. From the standpoint of efficiency and precision the plutonium bomb was dropped squarely in the target area. The advance weather predictions held true. It was dropped on time to the second. The air drogues were sent through the cloud area and shepherded back by their mother ships. The boat drogues were sent into the area of radio activity and brought back via radio control. The cameras clicked and the instruments built especially to measure the results of the blast worked.

But to those of us here aboard the Appalachian, who had been orientated and lectured day after day for the past two weeks, who had interviewed scientists and scientific writers, the bomb burst and the atomic cloud were a disappointment.

The recapitulation of the damage showed the troop transports Giliom and Carlisle sunk; the destroyer Lamson capsized; heavy damage was done to the sub-

Church and Farm
Leaders to Unite
Sunday, July 21st

Church and farm leaders of Texas unite Sunday July 21 in observing "Soils and Souls Sunday," when the citizenship renews its vows for stewardship of the soil.

Governor Coke R. Stevenson spearheaded the program by making a proclamation setting aside the special Sunday which was sponsored by Farm and Ranch magazine under the direction of A. B. Kennerly, editor of the publication.

"It is fitting," stated the governor in his proclamation, "that religious groups should assume the initiative in carrying the message of stewardship of the soil, and that all groups whether governmental or private, should assist in this observance."

Church leaders in various denominations over the state are co-operating in the program and sermons on the special Sunday will be devoted to man's responsibility to God for passing on to future generations a fertile and bountiful soil.

Dr. Ide P. Trotter, Director of the Texas Extension Service has made speeches in many churches in which he stressed the need of connecting a religious emphasis to the plan for proper handling of God's soil committed to our use.

Other farm leaders active in the program are Lee Ozbirn, Regional

The local members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars assembled last Thursday night at the old Ford building, later moving to the High school study hall for their first organized meeting of the chapter.

During the meeting many new members were initiated into the organization and officers were elected for the year. Officers and their respective posts are as follows:

Garner M. Guest, Commander; Wm. W. Curby, Senior Vice Commander; Ralph Rowell, Junior Vice Commander; George M. Jones, Quartermaster; Jim C. Whiteley, Chaplain; Dr. Orville T. Bundy, Surgeon; and Joseph B. Powell, Post Advocate. Trustees elected were: Howard Bomar, for three years; John E. McCain, for two years; and C. F. Tate, for one year. All other officers are for one-year terms.

Ernest Dean of Tulia and the District Commander, from Borger, were in attendance and supervised the meeting last Thursday night.

The next meeting of the organization will be Thursday night, July 25th and all members are urged to attend, it was stated this week by Garner M. Guest, Post Commander.

Interest Keen in
4-H Club Contests

Although 1946 marks only the second year that Texas 4-H club girls have participated in national contests, girls in nearly two-thirds of the Texas counties with home demonstration work are competing for national honors this year.

In all, 124 county entries have been received by 4-H club specialists of the Texas A. and M. College extension service. Forty-four counties have entrants in three contests, including the Girl's records contests, forty-three have entered two and the remaining counties are competing in only one contest.

The Girls' records contest drew the most entries—94, while the dress revue is second in popularity with 70 counties submitting contestants. Next in popularity is the gardens contest with 32 counties. Other entries include: food preparation, 14 counties; clothing achievement and canning achievement, 16 each; farm safety, 10; dairy foods, home ground beautification, and poultry, 3 each; better electric methods, frozen foods, and leadership, one each.

Where participating counties were concerned District 2 led the state with 16, closely followed by Extension districts 5 and 11 with 15 each.

Lorene Stevens and Alice Wheatley, 4-H club specialists, said the number of individual girls entering the contests would not be known until fall. The girls are competing for a number of awards including trips to the National 4-H club congress, savings bonds, cash scholarships, and medals.

Winners in the dress revue contest will be determined during the Texas 4-H round-up to be held at Texas A. and M. College, College Station, August 27-30.

A Field for Cooperation

There is a real field for cooperation between advocates and opponents of compulsory health insurance such as now proposed under the Wagner-Murray-Dingell Bill.

Adequate health care is expensive whether voluntary or compulsory. Those who think it is going to be free because it is compulsory, will be due for a shock when they are required to pay some $4 per $100 on their monthly pay check, whether they want to or not.

On the other hand there is work to be done by the United States Public Health Service which seeks to better the health opportunities of the nation. It can improve in the fields it is now covering and extend its efforts to other fields. The Federal government may lend its financial support to areas where the people are not able to pay for comprehensive medical and hospital care. This does not involve compulsion.

In contrast with proposed compulsory Federal medical service there were in operation on January 1, 1945, fifty-nine medical-society-sponsored prepayment plans in twenty-five states and at least ten others were in the process of development, says Medical Economics. All are voluntary and all provide individual choice among participating physicians. Nearly all cover the entire family.

Medical leaders have expressed the opinion that a major need in the overall program is for a central authority to coordinate the work of the voluntary prepaid health plans.

Private medicine has given the American people the best service in the world and there is no need for socialized medicine now. Government can help improve economic conditions to better the health of the nation and it can cooperate with private medicine in promoting voluntary prepayment plans for medical and hospital service without compulsion. Let government take care of the indigent and destitute but don't change the whole medical system to one of compulsion to accomplish that end.

The Citizens Medical Reference Bureau in a recent report declared that compulsory health insurance would result in medical control of the individual by the government.

"The practice of the healing art is not a commodity which can be bottled up at a fixed price per person," the report states. "What is meat to one person is poison to another."

"Any attempt by the government to establish and maintain a monopoly of the healing art by compelling all wage earners to contribute to the support of such a monopoly must inevitably stifle progress and foster a mediocre type of treatment."

"The labor difficulties experienced during the past year and the food crisis at home and abroad should serve as a reminder that the Federal government has its hands full to handle its own problems without endeavoring to take over the personal problems of the states and the individuals in the respective states."

It is possible to extend Federal assistance to the states in such matters as tuberculosis and venereal disease control and child welfare without establishing a medical dictatorship in the process. The very great progress made in voluntary health insurance in recent years points to the solution of medical care problems in the nation.

Who GETS THE PATENTS?

MORE PATENTS ARE ISSUED to individuals than to any other one group, according to the latest figures available from the U. S. Patent office. They receive almost one-half. Small corporations win more than twice as many as large corporations, as shown by the above figures. These facts—pointed out by National Patent Council—refute recent statements made by the Department of Commerce that the individual inventor has given way to large corporations and their trained staffs of research workers. Skill in research, the Council observes, does not imply inventive aptitude.

BOYCE HOUSE

Here is a bit of verse by an anonymous writer:

"When I was at the party," said Betty (aged just four),
"A little girl fell off her chair,
right down upon the floor;
And all the other little girls
began to laugh but me—
I didn't laugh a single bit," said Betty seriously.
"Why not?" her mother asked her, full of delight to find That Betty—bless her little heart—had been so sweetly kind.
"Why didn't you laugh, darling, or don't you like to tell?"
"I don't laugh," said Betty,
"cause it was me that fell!"

"A Printer's Prayer" makes use of terms that are connected with the work and equipment of a newspaper composing room:

To the Great Printer Who prints in all colors of the rainbow and Whose type faces are stars and clouds, autumn leaves and sunbeams, snowflakes and flowers tiffs is my prayer:

That I may set up my life to the measure of a man; that I may have the courage, win or lose, to follow the rules of the game; that I may point my life toward the things that count; that I may look up within my heart idle tales, gossip and words that hurt, that I may make ready for the opportunities to serve that come my way; that I may register in my memory the splendor of sunsets, the glow of friendships, the thrill of great music, and the mental lift of inspiring thoughts; that I

Q. How long does it take 2-4D, the new selective hormone weed killer, to kill weeds?

A. Plants will die in two to four weeks after application, the first indication being a twisting of leaves and stems.

Q. Do hens laying at a high rate consume more feed than those laying at a lower rate?

A. Yes. 100 hens laying 70 eggs a day will take 29 to 32 lbs of feed daily, 100 hens laying 40 eggs a day will take only 20 to 22 lbs.

Q. Should special attention be given to feeding and handling the herd boar?

A. Yes. Records at the Ralston Purina Company's research farm indicate that any improper feeding, mis-handling, or neglect of the most important single individual in the hog herd, the herd boar, will be reflected in smaller litters, lowered production, and less profit.

Q. Should tom turkeys be separated from females during the growing season?

A. It is probably not necessary until the last six weeks or two months of the growing period. Such a separation makes the birds more docile, they grow better, and there is less bruising and skin tearing as the result of fighting.

Q. What was the change in the International Livestock Exposition recently announced.

A. Carlot feeder cattle will be dropped this year from the International's competition. Carlot feeder cattle will be featured at a special show to be held at the Chicago Stock Yards, October 28 and 29, under the sponsorship of the Union Stock Yard and Transit Company and the Angus, Hereford, and Shorthorn Breed Associations.

Veterans' News

Q. Is an insured veteran entitled to a waiver on his insurance premium in case of disability?

A. All National Service life insurance policies provide for the waiver of payment of premiums during continuous total disability of the insured for six or more consecutive months, for as long as the period of such disability exists.

Q. If the insured veteran dies while his insurance is in default for nonpayment of premiums and during the continuance of total disability that began less than six months before his death, is his insurance considered in force?

A. Yes, provided, total disability commenced prior to the insured's 60th birthday, after the date of his application for insurance and while his insurance was in force under premium paying conditions. Any unpaid premiums will be deducted before final payment of policy proceeds.

Q. Is there a limit to the time that the veteran has to reinstate his permanent (converted) insurance policy after separation from active service?

A. A permanent (converted) policy which has lapsed and has not been surrendered for a cash value or for paid-up insurance, may be reinstated at any time after separation from active service upon written application therefor signed by the applicant and payment of all monthly premiums in arrears with interest from their several due dates at the rate of 5 per cent per annum, compounded annually. Any indebtedness against the policy which existed at the time of default must be reinstated or paid.

NOTICE — Silverton Masonic Lodge No. 754 will have its regular meeting Tuesday, Aug. 13, at 8:00 p. m. All masters urged to attend.

A LOCAL LADY SPIT UP ACID LIQUIDS FOR HOURS AFTER EATING

For hours after every meal, a local lady used to spit up a strong acidulous liquid mixed with pieces of half-digested food. She says it was awful. At times she would nearly strangle. She had stomach bloating, daily headaches and constant irregular bowel action. Today, this lady eats her meals and enjoys them. And she says the change is due to taking INNER-AID. Her food agrees with her. No gas, bloating or spitting up after eating. She is also free of headaches now, and bowels are regular, thanks to this remarkable New Compound.

INNER-AID contains 12 great herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get INNER-AID. Sold by all drug stores here in Briscoe County.

Industry needs a lot of electric power and we're ready to supply it. We started long before the war ended. Our expansion program which includes additions to six power plants, an entirely new plant in one location, and miles of new transmission lines, makes it possible for industry to settle in practically any section of the territory we serve. We can offer ample electric power for any industry, large or small. The effort we are making to help develop the territory we serve proves our faith in the future of the people we serve.

THIS 600-POUND BRAZILIAN tapir in a Buffalo zoo apparently has heard that used cooking fat is desperately needed, and is carting hers off to the local meat dealer. Every pound brings four cents, enables industry to turn out more soap and other short commodities, and relieves some of the pressure so that more food fats may be shipped to famine areas.

Housekeeping Hints

Even as little as one part sugar to eight parts fruit is sufficient when sweetening fruit for freezing, reports home economics institute whose research on home-freezing continued throughout the war when sugar was as short as it is now. More sugar can be added before serving the fruit if desired.

For broiled fish at its best, home economists use moderate heat, placing the fish about six inches away from the broiler. No extra fat is used with oily fish, but lean fish is rubbed with margarine or bacon drippings before broiling.

In suggesting the refrigerator as an ideal place to store bread now that it is so precious it is pointed out that it will stay fresh for a period of two weeks or more and, of course, will not mold. Even if refrigerator space is at a premium, it is considered advisable to "make room" for bread, especially if one doesn't have a regular bread box.

In removing grass stains, home economists make this careful distinction between white and colored washables: With white cottons or linens only, rub with grease (cooking fat or oil) and wash in hot suds; bleach any remaining stains with alcohol or hydrogen peroxide, then rinse thoroughly. In both cases stains must be treated before the garments are laundered.

Convincing proof that milk should be refrigerated promptly and stored alongside the freezing compartment — is found in a Meal Planning Guide published by the Westinghouse home economics institute. It includes the information that if milk is kept 40 degrees — the acknowledged safety line — bacteria multiply only two-and-one-half times in 24 hours. But at a temperature 53 degrees bacteria multiply 5 times in 24 hours.

Veterans' News

Veterans planning to enter school this fall should make their arrangements immediately. Veterans Administration authorities warned this week. A record enrollment is anticipated, VA said. Prospective students were advised to contact schools they expect to attend and to obtain certificates of eligibility from the nearest VA office.

A new physical medicine program for paraplegics (spinal cord cases) and amputees has been started by the VA hospital at Dallas, Texas. Promising results already have been obtained. Dr. John J. Szama, director of the program, said new physiotherapy techniques and exercises developed by VA specialists are of special benefit in the rehabilitation of these handicapped veterans.

Veterans who left Army or VA hospitals without the benefit of this new rehabilitation program can re-enter VA hospitals for the instruction, Dr. Szama said.

Personal counselors will soon serve veterans throughout the county. These experts are now taking a series of special university courses on counseling. Very soon they will be available in VA regional offices to help veterans baffled by blind alleys in their education or on-the-job training.

The VA's master contract with Texas county vocational schools to provide — initially — training for some 8,000 veterans became effective this month. Wilbur T. Murphy, VA's director of education and rehabilitation in the southwest, announced.

The contract calls for three months of training to be provided to enrollees: agricultural, industrial and business. By fall, Murphy said, the number of schools cooperating under the contract will increase to 100, with a total enrollment of 15,000. Similar contracts for agricultural vocational schools are operating in Louisiana and Mississippi.

Glenn Stevenson returned Wednesday from visiting relatives in Harlingen.

F. M. Marty transacted business in Harlingen Saturday.

Mr. Lewis Gilkeyson spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. L. Tracy of Quitaque.

It is planned to send a truck for these seed at the source of supply as soon as the amount desired can be determined.

THIS BOMB-LIKE "flying eye," which helped win the battle of the Atlantic, will usher in a new era of oil exploration from the skies. Originated by Gulf Oil research as a magnetic detector for aircraft, it can "see" submarines hidden under water—or "look through" the earth's crust to chart the underground magnetic structure. As the first practical airborne prospecting device, it opens to oil exploration hitherto inaccessible jungle, mountain and ocean regions; and will tremendously speed-up discovery of the world's remaining oil resources. The young lady perched on a pontoon of the exploration plane hears from E. W. Westrick, engineer who assisted in its development, how the "flying eye" trails from a table in flight.

Plans to dismantle the Hereford prisoner of war camp, at Hereford, and make the salvage lumber and critical building materials available for building under the veterans emergency housing program are now under way, Harry L. Holliday, Dallas regional director of War Assets administration, announced Tuesday.

This constitutes the first offering in this area under terms of the Lanham-Mead resolution whereby surplus lumber and building materials from military installations will become available for veteran housing. The entire program is an outgrowth of arrangements made between Wilson Wyatt, of the national housing agency and War Assets administrator, General E. B. Gregory to expedite veteran housing, Holliday explained.

Sales of the surplus materials will be handled as real property with government agencies, state and local governments, and non-profit institutions, being allowed to exercise their priorities in the above order for the first ten (10) days after the camp buildings are advertised for sale. The facilities being offered are approximately 320 buildings including administrative buildings, barracks, guard towers, quarters, messhalls, storehouses and ware-houses.

Improved Uniform International LESSON

Lesson for July 21

JESUS AND TRUE WORSHIP

LESSON TEXT—Deuteronomy 8:11-14; 14:20; Isaiah 40:30, 31; Mark 12:28-34. MEMORY SELECTION—God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship in spirit and truth.—John 4:24.

The one true God is worthy of the wholehearted worship of all men. The second commandment, which we studied last week, forbids all and every idolatry and thus requires exclusive worship of God.

It really means something in the life of a man to worship God in sincerity and truth. It makes life worthwhile both here and hereafter.

I. Worship Balances Life (Deut. 8:11-14).

Prosperity is usually thought to be a blessing. We fear depression and poverty. The Lord through Moses warned his people that prosperity was dangerous. It still is, because material things have the power to so satisfy the natural desires of man as to make him forget his spiritual needs.

Is it not true that material prosperity usually brings with it a corresponding decrease in spirituality. Life values are weighed in gold, silver, wheat and iron instead of being viewed in the light of God's Word.

Worship of God will balance life for it will keep man from forgetting God and his laws. In the wilderness Israel had to call on God for daily bread. Now that they were to come into the promised land they would be apt to think they produced their own food.

II. Worship Protects Life (Deut. 8:18-20).

One of the most mischievous mistakes of life is the idea that man is the maker of his own money. Only God can give man the power of hand and heart, of muscle and mind, which brings forth wealth, and then he can only draw it out of God's resources in mine or field or sea.

This fallacy of man leads him astray, and he begins to worship the very powers he uses and finds pleasure in the gods of this world. That way leads only to eternal destruction, to spiritual death.

How is man to be delivered from this awful destructive force? By a right relationship with God, by worship of and devotionship to the Lord.

Israel had a covenant with God, and in the keeping of it they would find deliverance from all which would pull down and destroy—yes, and from the judgment of God (v. 20).

We who are believers in Christ are under the new covenant of grace. If we have been born again we have the promise of God that we have eternal life. But let us be clear that it is possible for a Christian to so forget God and his covenant with the Lord as to lose his fellowship and joy, and to be useless and fruitless.

III. Worship Strengthens Life (Isa. 40:30, 31)

The Christian life is not an easy one to live. After all, who wants it easy? There is, however, full provision by God for the power needed to live a life as victorious and exultant as that of the soaring eagle. That power is for those who "wait upon the Lord" (v. 31).

It is taken for granted that those who are old may become weary and faint, but the fact is that even the youth have this disappointing experience.

We, leaders of the church and parents, are apt to forget that youth is often a time of great struggle. The young man or woman must make the choices of purposes and ideals which will determine their future. Too often youth, left unguided and without the balance of a real faith in God, makes the wrong choices and winds up in bitter disappointment.

Only God is sufficient for the need of our young people but he is sufficient. Let us teach our boys and girls to wait on the Lord.

IV. Worship Completes Life (Mark 12:28-34).

Here was a man, who, by the testimony of Jesus was "not far from the kingdom of God." He was very near to a full devotion of God in Christ. He knew "all the answers", but he did not follow the teaching which he knew to be his proper and blessed conclusion.

It is terrifying to think how close a man can come to entering into eternal life, and yet miss it altogether. It prompts the writer of these notes to ask you, the reader, very earnestly, Have you entered into eternal life through Jesus Christ? "Almost" will not avail; you can be almost saved—and eternally lost.

The true nature of worship is revealed in this lesson as a loving dependence on God at all times and in all circumstances. We recognize him as the one who can supply our every need, spiritual and temporal. We accord to him quick and full obedience. We find in him such complete satisfaction that we cannot withhold our love and his love from our fellow men. We worship him.

lieve from many sources to expect drama and adventure and excitement. Let me assure you there was no drama and certainly no excitement. I confess that as I pulled the polarized plastic goggles over my eyes as we heard the signal "bomb away" I did feel excited and tense as I awaited the blast. It came as I saw it, well above the horizon, a huge orange ball.

It might have been a fireworks display on the fourth of July, although not near so dazzling. I watched the cloud appearing like nothing more than a huge cherry ice cream soda. Cream white on the surface but deep inside the hues were pink and rose, and it boiled and seethed up through a cumulous natural cloud which hid it from our view. I felt a slight "pft" in my ears but felt no heat blast. Seconds later the sound of detonation came like a distant peal or roll of thunder that's all, but then we were 18 miles away.

Ten minutes after the blast the cloud had mushroomed up to a height of 26,000 feet and was approximately 12,000 feet across the top. The trade winds soon broke it up and it was pushed westward where it gradually leveled off and dispersed as our ship steamed slowly along the seaward side of Bikini island.

We could see the ghost fleet in the lagoon through our binoculars. Fire amidship showed on the Saratoga. The Salt Lake City was ablaze. There appeared to be a small fire aboard the Nevada. These fires made a smoke haze over the lagoon, but it soon cleared away and as I look toward the lagoon now there is little indication of a fire anywhere.

We are changing course now, following the Mt. McKinley. Admiral Blandy's flagship, apparently with the intention of entering the lagoon. Television receiving sets in the ward room of the Appalachian registered the blast from cameras installed on the island, then they went out of commission.

The carrier Independence likely suffered more damage than any other capital ship to its superstructure and all planes which were atop its flight deck were carried away. There was superficial or superstructure damage to other ships of the 73 in the target fleet but to me the pathos of the thing was emphasized when I saw the sturdy masts of the old Nevada brilliant in its orange paint, standing there still staunch and true despite the atomic bomb.

There was no wind, no waves and no thunderstorm. No trees were damaged on the island. There was no tidal wave and no earthquake. In fairness there was no prediction from the navy or army officials that any of these things might happen. The navy frankly said they didn't know what would happen. These wild predictions were made by scientists or scientific writers. Also, in all fairness to the officers of joint task force No. 1, the bomb, which looked so small to the lay writers, may actually have been big.

Scientifically of course there can be no adequate judgment of the results until the instruments have been read, the damage on the various ships actually determined and measured. In the light of the objectives, the navy and the army had in mind the actual effect of the bomb on naval construction, navy and army material armament, ordnance and other equipment.

Admiral Blandy, commander of the task force, issued a statement in which he said he was highly pleased with the whole operation in which he said he was highly with the bomb drop and with the efficiency of the bomb. There are several aboard the ship who saw the Nagasaki bomb drop and the drop at Los Alamos, N. M. They declared this bomb appeared to be smaller, judging from the flash and the atomic cloud which in the case of Nagasaki soared to a height of about 55,000 feet.

There is no doubt that the force of this terrible energy is like nothing ever known on earth before but the distances out here are so great that the energy was dispersed and dissipated over a vast area. For instance, at Nagasaki the area of total bomb damage was in six square miles, an area of about a mile and a half radius, while the distance of the Nevada from the shore of Bikini lagoon was about three miles. At the lagoon itself is 10 miles across and 25 miles long. I must also be remembered that as this story is written for transmission time to get it to you there has been no actual assessment of the damage. There may be more we enter the lagoon and visually assay the damage.
