I wholly disapprove of what you say, but I will defend unto death your right to say it.—Voltaire.

It's a Shame . . .

Government control of sugar, already more than five years old, severely disrupted industries in the food processing field, especially the jelly and preserves industry. Now it is threatening the fruit canners. Unless sugar is made available to processors to absorb the vast stocks of frozen fruit in cold storage warehouses, there will be no room for storage for the 1947 fruit crop. This means a break in the sugar and severe financial loss to growers the country over, besides putting it tough on the man with a "sweet tooth".

According to a recent bulletin of the National Preservers Association, October 1st almost one-half billion pounds of cold pack fruit were clogging storage houses, an excess of 138 million over the average stocks of one year ago. On the basis of present sugar allocations, this stock of fruit would last a full two years, exclusive of the coming 1947 crop. With sufficient sugar to carry on normal manufacturing operations, the preserving industry alone could absorb the warehouse stocks, with the further advantages of providing needed warehouse storage space for meats and other perishable foods. The problem could be solved quickly if the government would turn eyes homeward instead of so blindly overseas. This year hundreds of thousands of tons of sugar were allocated for movement abroad. In Yugoslavia, who hardly has shown the greatest cordiality to America and Americans, secured tens of thousands of tons of sugar through UNRRA this year with the approval and aid of our government. Sugar has been dished out literally to foreign nations who do not normally secure their supplies in the Western Hemisphere.

Surely we should open our hearts and our pocketbooks for the relief of famine—wherever it exists. But let's do it sensibly. Why support our own industries by foreign beneficence beyond the point of self defense and security. If the government feels that it must control the market, let us control it to the benefit of American interests—not against them. This is our country, our government, our sugar, and our people—charity begins at home.

Radio and Electrical Shop Has Been Opened in City

A radio and electrical shop has been opened in Silverton this week, as will be noticed in the columns of the News this week.

The shop, which is located in the Seaney Appliance and Hardware store on the south side of the square, is operated and owned by Melvin Yancey, who comes to our city from the U. S. Navy. Melvin, as Mr. Yancey is known to his friends, spent four years in the navy and prior to his enlistment, resided in Lubbock. He was only recently discharged from the service.

Melvin has some very good radio-testing equipment and is equipped not only to repair radios but also any kind of electrical appliances. He invites the public to come around and get acquainted and says he appreciates the opportunity to serve the people of this community.

Mrs. Bill McGavock, who has been very ill, is reported to be improving at this writing.

The above nominations are not final and new candidates may be nominated for any office at the meeting next Tuesday night, it was reported.

A cordial invitation is extended to all veterans, whether they belong to the Legion or not, to attend this next meeting and take an active part in the organizing of the Post for the coming year.

Silverton and Flomot are Ruled out of District Play

The district committee, composed of representatives of the schools at Claude, Vega, Groom, Happy, Estelline, Turkey, Flomot, Quitaque, Kress and Silverton (with Silverton and Flomot having no vote) ruled in Amarillo, Saturday of last week, that the Silverton football team is ineligible for play in the District championship contest this year on the grounds that one boy who has been participating in games was not scholastically eligible.

According to Coach Bailey and Superintendent Wm. F. Talley, the rule was laid down after 16 hours of deliberation and was considered a fair decision by all parties involved. The coach and superintendent both agreed that the decision was fair in view of the records brought to bear in the case.

"There was no intent on the part of the Silverton school system to play anyone that was ineligible for play," Superintendent Talley said, "but the records were not entirely clear regarding the boy and a technical point ruled him out."

Coach Bailey and Superintendent Talley both expressed their gratefulness to the football boys and the community for the fine spirit in which the set-back of aspiration for the local team to engage in a game for the District championship this year, and it had been hoped that a letter from Chairman Morris of District 1-B, of Claude, would arrive before

SWING OF THE SOUTHWEST FARM MARKETS

Cotton took the spotlight at most southwest markets last week as it moved back to the 30 cents per pound level. Also wheat, sheep and hogs made small gains, but other farm products were steady to weak, according to USDA's Production and Marketing Administration.

Cotton went up about $1.50 per bale last week as market activity in cotton textiles increased following the end of price controls. Spot market prices strengthened a little in relation to March futures. However, country buyers' prices were generally low in relation to central and future market prices.

Turkeys were about steady at 35 to 38 cents per pound for hens and 26 to 28 cents for young toms at most southwest markets last week. Some rural prices were 3 to 5 cents per pound below these. Hens and fryers held about

This year Texas farmers will have an opportunity to vote for farmer-committeemen in all Texas communities by mail. B. F. Vance, State PMA Director at College Station announced this week. The election will be conducted December 7 in Briscoe county.

Official ballots will be sent to each eligible voter. Vance explained. On this ballot, there will appear the name of one candidate for each position who was selected by a nominating committee of farmers in the community and also space for the farmer to write-in the name of any farmer he wants to represent him as community committeeman if he does not want to vote for the nominee. Each farmer will vote for three regular members of the community committee and two alternate members.

At the same time, voters will elect a delegate and an alternate delegate to represent their community at the county conventions. At that county convention the delegates from all the communities within the county will elect three farmers to serve as the county conservation committee for 1947. Delegates may or may not be the same persons selected as committeemen.

The ballots are to be sealed, secret ballots, Vance said. Voters may mail the ballots to their county ACA office, or bring them to the ACA office and place them in the ballot box in person, or they may take them to the polling place in the community on the day set for the election in that community.

Any person participating in the 1946 Agricultural Conservation Program or any person who has a contract with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation is eligible to vote in the election. This includes owners, operators, and tenants on farms where the conservation program is being carried out. The wife of every eligible voter who does not receive a ballot may secure one by calling at the ACA office or may go to the polls on election day and vote.

Vance said that the voting procedure was changed to assure a greater participation in the election, so that the men who are elected truly represent the choice of the farmers in the community. He stresses the point of electing men with good judgment to the committeemen jobs. He explained that the farmers elected as committeemen will be called on during the next year to perform many responsible duties. They will make important decisions about soil conservation, about crop adjustments, about government price supports, and other Federal farm programs. He urged that every eligible voter cast his ballot, and give his support to the men he wants to represent him as his committeemen for 1947.

SON INJURED AT GIN IN QUITAQUE MONDAY

Hilton (Runt) Vardell, an employee at the Wise Gin in Quitaque, was taken to the Plainview hospital on Monday of this week when he had the misfortune of getting his left hand caught in a cog of the gin machinery, it was reported yesterday.

"Runt" as Mr. Vardell is better known, lost the second finger of his left hand and suffered severe bruises on his third, but Wednesday he was reported to be doing fine and would be home again today.

"Runt" is the son of J. J. Vardell, owner of the City Laundry here.

Mesdames Pete Chitty, Dewey Beavers and Ola Long of Clarendon were in Plainview Monday.

Mrs. Raymond Bomar left Tuesday to visit with her sister, Mrs. Carl Hawkins, of Lubbock.

Big Dance To Be Held in Vets Hall Tonight

Tonight the rug will be rolled back again at the Veterans Hall in Silverton when another big dance is being sponsored by the local posts of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, in an effort to raise funds in order that the Vets building can be repaired and needed equipment be paid.

Music for dances in the past has been furnished by a hillbilly band from Ralls but this week an all-girl orchestra from Amarillo is scheduled to play for the dance. The group is known as the Melody Queens and from the best information obtainable, is one of the best small orchestras in this section of the state. The group consists of five girls.

Tonight's dance, which hasn't received the publicity that previous dances have, will in all probability be the biggest and best affair yet to be witnessed in the Vets Hall and record crowds are expected to attend due to the much better than average music. Reasons for the lack of publicity are due to the fact that there had been some question as to the obtaining of the orchestra and if which night it would be here. This question was answered Tuesday morning when word was received that the girls would be here Thursday night, November 21st (tonight) to play for the occasion.

Whether you like your music soft and sweet, fast, or with a boogie beat, you will find the music you like to dance to at the Vets Hall tonight, so, for the music you love and a night of good clean dancing pleasure, attend the dance tonight.

Owls Win Over Lakeview, 19-6

The Silverton Owls rang up their eighth straight win of the season last Friday on the Silverton gridiron against a powerful Class A eleven from Lakeview. The game was played during a sandstorm and the Owls were victorious 19-6.

Lakeview scored in the first quarter on an intercepted pass from Joe Allard which was intended for George Rampley. The Owls came back fighting and in the second quarter, Fullback Clayton Woods swept right end behind beautiful blocking to score. A pass in the fourth quarter from halfback John Arnold to Clifton Stodghill set up the second touchdown for the Owls with halfback Robert Isbell going over on a cross buck.

The third Owl touchdown came after pass-receiving interference was called against Lakeview and the Owls had the ball "first and ten" on the four yard line when Woods went over right tackle for the third and last touchdown. The Owls out-fought and out-played the visitors all afternoon.

According to Coach Bailey, the Owls recently elected their captain and co-captain of the squad. John Arnold was named captain and Clayton Wood, co-captain.

Where Economy Should Begin . . .

If those politicians who continually talk about government retrenchment and economy are at all sincere, they will have no difficulty in finding places to cut the Federal budget by billions of dollars. An excellent starter would be to pare to the bone all government expenditures for socialized power development.

When government goes into the power business, it destroys some of the very sources of the tax revenues which keep it alive. It blocks private investment which would create productive jobs, real business opportunity, and taxable assets. And, in return, it gives the people nothing that the publicly-regulated private utility industry is not ready to provide at the lowest rates in history.

The grandiose government power schemes which are currently proposed would, if all were approved, almost completely socialize the power business. The initial cost would run into untold billions, and maintenance and expansion costs would be an everlasting drain on the remaining taxpayers. Every state and county would be faced with the problems caused by removal from the tax rolls of property which local governments must have to pay for schools, roads, and all other public services.

The activities of the Rural Electrification administration should also be rigorously controlled. The private utilities are now starting the most ambitious farm electrification program in history. They want no subsidies. Instead, they will pay the gigantic bill with their own money, create properties which will pay heavy taxes in the future, and sell service at low rates approved by public regulatory bodies. We do not need government power plants any more than we need government business which competes with private citizens striving to meet the responsibilities of a 300 billion-dollar Federal debt.

A Thousand Years . . .

Are you concerned about the nation's oil resources? Well, you might as well put off your worrying, for, according to Walter L. Faust, vice president of Seon-Vacuum Oil Company, there's no danger of a shortage of crude oil at least until the year 3026!

There are many reasons why our oil reserves are expected to last for an indefinite period. For example, large additional reserves of crude are constantly being found here at home. The development of producing areas in Latin America and the Middle East should result in a vast amount of the black gold. And discoveries of ways to obtain oil by synthetic means are of increasing importance. Mr. Faust's Company, for one, recently developed a method of getting crude from shale, which was turned over to the U. S. Bureau of Mines, patent free, for use when and if necessary.

This goes back to the saying that more oil comes out of the laboratory than out of the ground. The enormous progress in the techniques of extracting and reclaiming oils from the crude product has in itself added billions of barrels to our potential supply. So don't worry about it—at least for a thousand years!

Roundhouse Solves Housing Problem

This old roundhouse has solved a housing problem for a Chicago manufacturer. The firm recently leased the building, built in 1902, from the Illinois Central railroad, boarded up the engine pits, eliminated the turntable that used to turn engines toward their stalls, and production soon will be begun by the new occupant. Up to a few years ago the roundhouse was used by the Michigan Central, which had erected the building, and in 1929 sold it to Illinois Central.

Workers May Now Be Permanently Insured, S. S. Says

"October 1946 is the first month in which workers under the old-age and survivors insurance program may become permanently insured," John R. Sanderson, manager of the local Social Security Administration field office said this week.

The program of old-age and survivors insurance went into effect on January 1, 1937. The 40th quarter, required by the Social Security Act for permanent insured status, has just been reached. Therefore, workers who have earned as much as $50 of creditable wages in every calendar quarter since January 1, 1937, and who have now earned $50 since October 1, 1946, have passed that milestone and are permanently insured.

"It works like this," Sanderson explained. "As a general rule, to be insured, a worker must have been in covered employment at least half the number of calendar quarters between January 1937 and the time of reaching age 65. Exceptions to the general rule occur in cases of people who were 65 before or soon after the law went into effect, and people who became 21 after January 1937. No one qualifies for payments if he worked on jobs covered by the law for less than six quarters. After working 40 quarters, this general rule need not be applied. "The special significance of having 40 quarters of coverage is that the wage earner has at least some permanent insurance for old-age—or for his survivors—should he be unfortunate enough to be forced to quit work before he is 65."

The law requires, however, that all workers in commerce and industry must continue their one per cent contributions and that their employer must contribute one per cent of payroll as long as they earn wages. Continuing to work under the social security program builds the value of the worker's insurance account.

With the passing of each calendar quarter from now on, other workers will be gaining that permanent insured status under the old-age and survivors insurance provisions of the Social Security Act, as they too get that fortieth quarter of coverage.

"But remember," said Sanderson, "if you should quit work before reaching age 65, or if your wages should be reduced, the amount of your eventual benefits would be decreased accordingly. It is the average of your monthly earnings, figured since January 1, 1937, or since reaching age 21 (whichever is later) and to the time of reaching age 65, that determines your benefits."

steady too, although demand was weak. Eggs reversed recent trends as expected holiday demand began to strengthen prices.

Cattle prices went up and down last week at most southwest markets despite active trading. However, no great losses or gains were registered. Top quality slaughter classes were steady to higher. Common and medium steers and yearlings brought $12 to $15 per hundred at Houston and $11 to $18 at Ft. Worth. San Antonio quoted common and medium grass fat steers and yearlings $14.50 to $16.50. Medium and good steers brought $18 to $20 at Oklahoma City while medium light steers realized $16 to $18 at Wichita. Medium to good steers ranged from $17.50 to $25 at Denver.

Last week saw hogs move gradually higher under active trading at most southwest markets. Friday's quotations for top butchers stood at $24.50 per hundred pounds at San Antonio; $24.50 to $24.75 at Wichita; $25 at Denver; $25.25 to $25.50 at Oklahoma City and $25.50 at Fort Worth.

Southwest sheep and lamb markets registered increases of 25 to 50 cents per hundred last week as good demand quickly absorbed light supplies. San Antonio quoted common and medium grades of lambs at $12 to $14.50, ewes at $6.75 to $7.75 and goats $5.25 to $6.75. Medium and good fat lambs brought $17.50 to $20 at Ft. Worth. Good and choice lambs realized $23 to $23.75 at Denver and $22.25 to $22.75 at Wichita.

Trading in domestic wool was less active last week due to the advance in prices effective November 11. Decontrol order stimulated buying in foreign markets.

Wheat went up a penny or more per bushel last week while corn lost 3 to 4 cents per bushel, barley 1 to 4 cents, oats about 2 cents and sorghums around 7 cents per hundred. Bran, shorts and soybean meal dropped $3 to $6 per ton too, but other feeds stood at recent high levels. Widespread snow and rain increased the demand for hay and strengthened prices.

Rice continued to sell at top OPA levels with the heavy movement from the new crop unable to meet the urgent demand.

Deliveries of farmers' stock peanuts from southwest area was light last week and most sales were at the support level.

Citrus, apples and most vegetables brought about steady to slightly stronger prices at southwest markets last week. Only potatoes and onions were easy. Louisiana sweet potatoes went up as haulings decreased and brought $2.65 to $2.85 per bushel crate.

Fresh Sausage Prepared Without Salt Keeps Best

Tests conducted at the Quartermaster Food and Container Institute for the armed forces at Chicago over a period of nine months have disclosed that fresh pork sausage prepared without salt keeps better than the same product prepared with salt.

The tests were to determine a satisfactory method of preparing sausage for freezing to provide maximum stability, appearance, and palatability. It had been found that fresh frozen pork sausage developed rancidity after relatively short periods of storage at temperatures of 0 and 15 degrees F.

Three lots of sausage from the same initial stock were identically prepared except for seasoning ingredients. One lot was seasoned with sage, pepper, sugar and salt. Another contained sage, pepper and sugar only, and the third contained no seasoning. Samples were prepared from all lots, frozen at zero degrees, placed in storage at that temperature, and every 30 days portions were removed from each lot and submitted to chemical as well as taste tests.

At the end of three months it was noted that the sausage which contained salt had deteriorated in appearance, flavor and taste. Taste tests indicated similar deterioration, and chemical examinations confirmed these conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. [Name] of Canyon, and Stanley [Name] were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Parker Rampley and Wayne.

Navy Offers Commissions In Specialists Branches

The Navy has asked for applications for commissions in four specialist branches in order to bring into balance personnel types which were disrupted by the war.

Offering "an honorable profession, good pay and the distinction of being a part of the world's finest Navy," the office of Naval Officer Procurement here is seeking applicants for commissions in the Navy's Chaplains Corps, Civil Engineering Corps, Supply Corps, and Nurse Corps.

Qualifications include citizenship (native born or naturalized for more than 10 years), physical fitness and moral, mental and professional fitness.

Chaplains must hold both baccalaureate and theological degrees with seven years of college work, be ordained clergymen in good standing and with the endorsement of respective denominations, and be at least 21 but not more than 35 years of age.

Three years of experience in engineering or related active military service, along with a scientific degree in engineering from an accredited college, will satisfy professional qualifications for Civil Engineering Corps applicants, Cdr. F. M. Sloss said.

For purchasing, disbursing and general business duties the Navy's Supply Corps wants men from 21 to 26 years old with a degree from an accredited college or university.

Initial appointments as Ensign, with 30 days annual leave, a $250 uniform allowance, $172 base pay plus subsistence and quarters allowances, retirement and educational benefits, and other service advantages are offered to registered graduate nurses of 22 to 30 years of age who are high school graduates, the officer procurement director said.

The officer procurement office is in the Federal Building in New Orleans, Louisiana.

Back in the days when, outside the South, the country was almost solidly Republican (in the Coolidge era), Amon Carter was riding on the train with his friend, Will Rogers. The cowboy philosopher met another passenger, who had recently made the race for Governor of a Mid-Western state as the Democratic nominee.

J. M. North, Jr., editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, speaking of the enthusiasm of anyone who had made up his mind to run for office, said, "If one man asks you to run, you have been solicited; if two ask you, there is a great public demand; and if three ask you, you have been drafted."

He told of an early-day citizen of Fort Worth who ran a boarding-house. This citizen decided to run for mayor and received 11 votes. The ex-candidate put a notice in the paper that if those who voted for him would come by, he would be glad to have them as his guests for Sunday dinner. So many came that it took three hours to feed them all!

PAUL IN ATHENS AND CORINTH

LESSON TEXT—Acts 17:22-28a; 18:1-4; 1 Corinthians 1:22-25.
MEMORY SELECTION—For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid; which is Jesus Christ—I Corinthians 3:11.

History repeats itself, in spiritual things as well as in secular events. The experiences of Paul at Athens and Corinth are peculiarly applicable to our day, for here he encountered the very problems which face (and have apparently stopped) the church today.

The cities were not far apart in miles and were both pagan, but they differed widely in their cultural and commercial development.

Athens was the home of a godless culture. Corinth was a prosperous commercial center known throughout the world for grossly licentious living.

What did the gospel accomplish in such cities? We shall soon see.

I. Godless Intellectuality Meets the Gospel (Acts 17:22-28a).

Paul was alone in Athens. He had been separated from his companions Silas and Timothy (Acts 17:14), and was to await them at Athens. While he waited he looked the city over and found it wholly given to idolatry (v. 16). This was no idle observation of a scientific mind, for it caused Paul's spirit to stir in him.

It is a bad sign when a professing Christian can live in the presence of sin and false worship and not be deeply moved by it.

Paul did something about it! He went into the great daily gatherings of philosophers and gave them some solid Christian philosophy to work on. They were curious to know more, and when the opportunity arose, Paul preached the sermon on Mars

Hill. He found them superstitiously religious, but religion does not save. They even feared lest they had forgotten some god, so one altar was "to the unknown God" (v. 23). This gave Paul his opportunity, for he declared the one true God—unknown to them—as the answer to their question.

The intellectual felt superior and had an idea that God needed him, a kind of snobbery which is as current in 1946 as it was in Paul's day. How effectively he disposed of that attitude appears in verses 24 and 25. They needed God, and without him they could not draw a breath!

Moreover, the pagan intellectual then as now would swell with pride as he thought of the race and people to whom he belonged. They were superior—a master race. Paul declares God's truth that all men are of one blood, and that the nations are in his hands (v. 26).

What they had to do, and what the godless intellectuals of our day need to do, is to seek God in humble repentance and faith; then lives can become fine and noble and useful (vv. 27, 32-34).

II. Sophisticated Immorality Meets the Gospel (Acts 18:1-4).

To Corinth Paul came (evidently still alone) without friends or funds. Like all well-bred Jewish boys, he knew a trade. He was a sail maker and tent maker. Rather than have the ungodly men of Corinth hinder his preaching by the criticism that he was doing it for money, he supported himself.

The minister who is eager for rich financial return, and who is willing to accept the gifts of the ungodly that his work may prosper, has closed the door for his testimony to many who do not believe. In fact, one wonders whether he has any real testimony to give.

In this wicked city, given over to vice and fleshly pleasure, Paul made his way to the synagogue and began to preach Christ. He reasoned and persuaded and won some for the Lord as he continued with them for a year and a half (Acts 18:11).

Paul's letter to the Corinthians reveals the struggle of the believers at Corinth to maintain moral standards and spiritual warmth in such a city, but it also clearly indicates that the gospel of Christ is "the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth" (Rom. 1:16), even in the midst of sin and corruption.

III. The Gospel Meets Sin—and Is Victorious (I. Cor. 1:22-25).

The wisdom of this world—for which Athens stood in a special way—becomes foolish in the eyes of men, as it is already in the sight of God, when it stands up against the gospel (read vv. 18-21).

The preaching of the cross, which looks foolish to the worldling (v. 23), is the wisdom and the power of God, and by it men are saved.

THE VETERAN'S FRIEND

Q. Does a veteran who is going to school under the G. I. Bill have to report money he earns through overtime work?

A. The veteran must report those wages received for the standard work period of the establishment where he is employed, including overtime work customarily scheduled. It will not include occasional overtime beyond the standard work period of the establishment.

Q. I am taking training under the G. I. Bill and am working at night for which I receive the usual 10 percent differential. Do I have to report this differential to the Veterans Administration in making a report of my income?

A. Yes. Both the pay and the 10 percent differential would be included as wages in determining the rate of subsistence allowance payable and accordingly must be reported by the veteran and the employer.

Q. Can my subsistence allowance be apportioned in event my wife and I decide to separate?

A. Yes. The subsistence allowance is subject to apportionment on the basis of 70 percent to the veteran and 30 percent for the wife. Further apportionment may be made in the case of children.

Q. Is a veteran following a course of vocational training entitled to a vacation during the time he is in training?

A. Yes. A leave of absence may be granted but not to exceed 30 days in any consecutive 12 months.

Q. Will subsistence allowance be reduced during the leave of absence or vacation of the veteran?

A. No. The veteran will be considered as pursuing his course of vocational rehabilitation while on vacation and will be paid accordingly.

The Veterans Administration will provide the most modern facilities to aid deafened and hard of hearing veterans, according to an announcement this week by VA's medical director.

The program is designed to aid these veterans in rehabilitation, economic independence and adjustment to society and their own communities.

Dr. Norton Canfield, associate professor at Yale University, will be in direct supervision of the program. Dr. Canfield was closely connected with the hearing program of the army in the surgeon general's office during World War II.

There are already 36,000 veterans of World War II who are ear casualties. About 12,000 veterans of World War I are still receiving compensation because of deafness. VA anticipates that there will be about 300,000 veterans in need of attention due to impaired hearing, within the next 20 years.

Special rehabilitation centers for the deaf and hard of hearing will be set up throughout the country at strategic locations. Here, veterans will be trained and provided with the latest in hearing devices.

Veterans who wish to assign their terminal leave bonds to the Veterans Administration as payment on their GI insurance should get the necessary assignment forms from the nearest VA office.

Although VA does not issue the terminal leave bonds, under the Armed Forces Leave Act of 1946, the law authorized VA to accept the bonds as insurance payments.

When a bond is used for insurance premium payments, it must be assigned in its entirety, VA said. Any balance above the amount necessary to make the desired payment will be credited to the veteran's account and will be used to pay future premiums unless otherwise requested.

Copper Sulphate, ground	3%
Dextrine	70%

These percentages are by weight, and one pound of the mixture dissolved in a pint of water is sufficient for one litter up to weaning.

Q. Is goat milk ever evaporated or dried?

A. Yes. The processes for evaporating or drying goat's milk are essentially the same as for cow's milk. Goat's milk has been successfully evaporated and canned for a number of years. Dried goat's milk has been on the market even longer. The chief reason these enterprises have not expanded more is the limited amount of goat's milk available.

Q. What is a rex rabbit, and is it true that any breed of rabbits can be rexed?

A. Rex rabbits are any breed of rabbits that have under fur but no guard fur. A breeder who has one individual rex rabbit can, by proper matings, produce a rex breed in three generations, if a sufficient number of rabbits are produced. When the offspring of a normal-haired rabbit and a rex-appearing animal are bred together, 25% of the litter will be pure rex.

FARM FACTS WORTH KNOWING

Q. What do buyers look for in top market broilers?

A. The broilers that bring top market prices are those with good fleshing quality, good feathering, low shipping and dressing shrinkage, and absence of breast blisters and deformities.

Q. What can be done to prevent anemia in pigs?

A. Anemia is caused by a deficiency of iron and copper in the mother's milk, and no brood sow ration has succeeded in correcting this deficiency. The following plan has worked very well at the Research Farm of the Ralston Purina Company. A solution containing copper, iron, and dextrine is made up with water. This solution is painted once a day on the sows udders so that while nursing, pigs consume a sufficient amount of iron and copper to prevent the development of anemia. The mixture is prepared

We Should Be Thankful for Our Health Doctor Says

The first Thanksgiving Day in this country was proclaimed for the purpose of expressing thanks not only for the bountiful harvest which the colonists had reaped but for the sturdy health and endurance that had permitted them to survive the hardships and exposure, that first rigorous year in America. On the occasion of this Thanksgiving Day the State health officer, Dr. George W. Cox, is appealing to every citizen of Texas to give serious thought to the preservation of his own health and that of his community.

"We have much to be thankful for in that our national health level has remained high despite the nervous tension, the sacrifices, the deprivations of a post-war period," Dr. Cox stated. "Our people have maintained a remarkably high health level and even under existing conditions, Texas has shown a continued decline in maternal and infant deaths.

"The people of Texas have reason to be thankful for the steadily increasing interest and cooperation being shown in matters pertaining to general sanitation and the control of communicable diseases," Dr. Cox asserted. "Responsibility for advancement of the public health program lies not with the State health department primarily but with the people who support and encourage the local community efforts exerted and who apply in their own individual lives the health rules with which they have become acquainted through public health education."

Dr. Cox pointed out that one direct result of public health efforts in this nation has been the lengthening of the normal life span by more than 15 years.

"Certainly this is something to be thankful for and it should lend incentive for further efforts to promote and maintain community as well as statewide public health programs.

Saturday Will Be "Sister Kenny Day" In Texas this Year

Saturday, November 23, has been designated Sister Kenny Day in Texas, in a proclamation issued this week by Governor Coke R. Stevenson. Campaigns now being conducted in more than 150 Texas counties will put forth special efforts to complete their county quotas on this day and make their reports to State headquarters at the Driskill Hotel in Austin, it was announced by George C. Francisco, Jr., of Houston, chairman of the Texas chapter Sister Kenny Infantile Paralysis foundation.

Chairman Francisco has announced the Texas quota as $150,000. These funds will be used in training technicians, and building up a fund which will be used in establishing a Kenny clinic in Texas where the Kenny method of treating polio, the most successful yet known, will be available to all victims.

The picture, "Sister Kenny", in which Rosalind Russell plays the role of the famous Australian Nurse, will be shown in more than fifty Texas towns during the first week in December.
