Silvertown Wins Over Flomot Tuesday

On Thursday night, January 21,
the Silvertown cage team traveled to Flomot for a victory in the two boys games, but were thrown for a loss in the girls game, it was reported this week.

The Silvertown "A" team started the game off hot as a piker and by the middle of the second quarter the score was Silvertown, 24-Flomot, 4. The second team went in and Flomot proceeded to clean up. The game from here-out was nip and tuck. The game ended with the Silvertown team on the bigger end of the score, 33-35.

The "B" team played a very close game with the Flomot cage.
The home-boys led throughout,
but by a very slim margin. The game ended with Silvertown leading 24-27.

The girls' team played a fast,
hard and rough game, both sides
scoring regularly. Silvertown's scoring was led by Betty Gardner, who sunk 15 points through the hoop. The Flomot girls, playing the game for all it worth, won 23-30.

Break Land Deeply To Prevent Wind Erosion

Demonstrations in Terry county indicate that breaking land deeply is a worthwhile practice in preventing wind erosion and getting larger crop yields in West Texas.

Terry county agricultural agent,
R. N. McClain, reports that the demonstrations carried out show that land broken deep enough to bring clay to the top of the ground
suffers "scarcely any" from wind erosion, and "in practically every instance" deeply broken plots showed crop yield increases over unbroken land.

On the J. J. Jones farm in the Johnson Community, a plot was broken 12 inches deep and planted in milo, County Agent McClain says. This plot yielded 40 pounds more grain than a plot of equal size that was not broken deeply.
And on the Beavers farm near Wellman, 160 acres were broken to a depth of 28 inches and yielded double the amount of grain raised on shallow-broken land.

The clay brought to the top by the deep breaking offered definite resistance to erosion by wind, Mc-Clain says.

Magnetometers, suspended from airplanes and used by the Navy
during the war to detect enemy submarines, are now serving as aerial divining rods to discover new oil fields in inaccessible regions.

Dimes Campaign Is Memorial to President

The March of Dimes of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is a "living memorial"
to Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mr.
Honea, local campaign director of the 1947 March of Dimes declared
this week.

Mr. Honea asserted that the late Mr. Roosevelt would have preferred the American people to commemorate him in living institution like the March of Dimes, dedicated to alleviation of human suffering, rather than in monuments of stone or bronze.

The statement by the campaign
director said:
"The March of Dimes is our living memorial to a great American humanitarian, Franklin D.
Roosevelt, stricken by infantile paralysis in the prime of life, his indomitable courage in overcoming his affliction made him a symbol to thousands similarly affected.

"Through his own suffering his great spirit flamed with a love for all humanity. His personal fight to surmount his physical handicap caused by this cruel disease encouraged and gave hope not only to those stricken like himself but to the people of the entire nation and world.

"So that his own inspiration could be kept alive and handed
on to polio sufferers in the nation, Franklin D. Roosevelt founded the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to carry on to victory the fight against the disease.

"During his life he infused this crusade with his own unconquerable resolution and handed on the torch of his magnificent faith to the people of the nation. More than anything else he wished to see the elimination of this disease which has left a legacy of human wreckage in its trail down through the ages.

"To Americans who believe in things of the spirit more than purely material things, he bequeathed this great living memorial to carry on what was dearest to his own great heart. It would be his desire that we commemorate him not in monuments of stone and bronze but rather enshrine his memory in a living institution dedicated to the alleviation of human suffering.

"In giving to the March of Dimes we are carrying out a duty
we owe to a great man, a great humanitarian and a great American."

January 31st Is Last Day To Make Application

Milton G. Martin, of the Briscoe County ACA office, pointed out this week that January 31st is the last day on which applications can be made for Federal Crop Insurance on the 1947 crops.

"Federal Crop Insurance protects the farmer against all natural damages such as drought, hail,
flood, insect damage and other unavoidable hazards. It also is designed to meet the needs of the farmers of this section," Mr.
Martin said.

All farmers interested in taking advantage of these insurance benefits are urged to contact the local ACA office and make their application on or before January 31st, 1947.

SWING OF THE SOUTHWEST FARM MARKETS

Hogs led the upward price trend
last week at most southwest farm
markets with sheep, wheat, sorghums and eggs in tow, but prices of cotton, feeds, cattle and most vegetables declined, according to USDA's Production and Marketing Administration.

Last week opened with good demand and strong prices for beets, cabbage, carrots and spinach in the lower Rio Grande Valley, since wet fields curtailed harvesting. As loadings became heavier, prices declined. Cabbage and carrots dropped sharply.
However, beets were still scarce
and high. Broccoli remained firm.
Spinach from the Winter Garden-Eagle Pass area moved slowly in a dull market. Louisiana reported moderate demand and better feeling for sweetpotatoes. At Colorado shipping points, onions were slightly higher and potatoes steady. Texas citrus shipments were rather heavy with prices
about unchanged.

Demand for shelled peanuts
was slow, although slightly better than in recent weeks. The market was weaker and no farmers' stock offered.

Rough rice markets were still small stocks in farmers' hands were being held for seed. Prices were reported rather high with supplies already scarce in some sections. Heavy demand and firm prices continued to rule milled rice markets.

Wheat and sorghums moved a little higher at southwest markets last week. Other grains were steady to weak. Feed prices followed uneven trends with bran down and shorts up. Cottonseed and soybean meals were lower.
Alfalfa hay moved better under improved demand but trading was

Eighth Grade Pupils Selling Magazines Here This Week

By a special contract with the Curtis Publishing Company, the Silvertown Public Schools will receive fifty percent of the subscription price for publications of this company, it was reported this week.

The Eighth grade pupils have been active all week selling subscriptions to various magazines in an effort to raise funds for the school's library.

Members of the class don't want to bother anyone but they will certainly appreciate your subscription to one of their magazines
so that their library can get some much needed material.

Besides helping the library
fund, the students have two teams who are selling magazines and the team which wins is to be royally entertained by the losing team.
Each of the teams has a captain and the salesman of either team,
who sells the most subscriptions,
will be given a new Philco radio
as a prize.

People who expect to subscribe to magazines anytime in the near future are urged to let any of the eighth graders "write them up".

Bureaucracy is Static . . .

The problem of better health is not a matter which can be simply and quickly solved by the passage of a law. It is a long range problem whose ultimate solution lies largely in the medical laboratories.

Certainly, no country has made more significant progress in this direction than ours. Diseases which once were frequently fatal, such as smallpox, are now treated almost as simply as the measles. In 40 years the death rate from tuberculosis has been reduced 75 per cent. The discovery and application of new healing elements, such as penicillin and the sulfa group, have almost completely prevented the once-dread danger of fatal infection, and are nearly totally effective in preventing septicemia and gangrene when proper treatment is applied in time.

So it goes, down the long list of past killers which are no longer lethal. These are a few of the achievements of free medicine—precisely as our achievements in the economic sphere are those of free industry.

There are sound grounds for believing that governmental domination of medicine would slow, and in some cases stop, this fine progress. Bureaucracy is always static. It is deadening to the imagination, to the ambition. The doctor whose career depended upon political favoritism would not look ahead.

This does not mean that government should not assist the indigent to receive better medical care. A bill sponsored by Senator Taft, which would achieve that and also place the responsibility in local hands where it belongs, seems the best answer yet proposed to that problem. But government should not dominate or regiment the practice of the healing arts.

King Consumer . . .

An article in the Wall Street Journal tells of the preparations grocery manufacturers and distributors are making to attract customers. Modernization and expansion plans which had to be postponed because of material shortages, are being revived. Sales forces are being expanded. New products are being readied for market. As the article puts it, "Men who make and sell groceries are getting ready to fight for the housewife's business."

This spirit, which augurs well for the consumer's welfare, is general in all retail fields, from foods to clothing and furnishings. During the long war years, retailers had to take what was offered in the way of stock and struggle along with decimated and ill-trained sales staffs. They had to cut down on services. Now, with the restrictions off, and with the available supply of goods of all kinds steadily growing, they are returning to prewar standards as rapidly as possible.

The trend will be seen in every part of the country—in the village as well as the metropolis. You, as king consumer, will get better service, a more varied assortment of goods—and the lowest prices consistent with the times.

This competitive urge is traditional to the American merchant. His whole philosophy has been to sell goods cheaper, offer more service, and in general do a better job for the consumer. He knows that the only good customer is a pleased customer. And he was as unhappy as anyone else at what the war did to his establishment.

Mr. and Mrs. Winston Hamilton and Mrs. L. H. McMurry went to Lubbock to see Mrs. McMurry's mother, Mrs. J. F. Cowser, who was in the West Texas hospital. Mrs. Cowser was able to leave the hospital Sunday and is now at the home of Mrs. McMurry.

Mrs. Jessie Hill, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Bill Curby, and family in Dumas, returned home Sunday. Mr. Curby accompanied her here and returned to Dumas in the afternoon.

Mrs. Frances Christopher is visiting her daughter, Mrs. George Childress, of Tulia, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Steele went to Tenkawa, Okla., for several days' visit with Mr. Steele's mother, Mrs. J. H. Stone, and Mr. Stone.

There will be a meeting on Soil Conservation at Plainview, Texas, Saturday, January 23, 1947, at 2:30 p.m., in the City Auditorium, sponsored by the City National Bank, Hale County State Bank and Chamber of Commerce of Plainview, County Agent of Hale County and the Second National Bank of Houston, Texas, with the Burlington Lines cooperating.

There will be a moving picture entitled "This Is Our Land", made by the Ethyl Corporation, which shows just what has taken place. There will be talks on Soil Conservation and better farming methods.

Soil Conservation is one of the most important matters relating to the success of agriculture in the United States. The United States Soil Conservation Service survey shows that we have lost 50,000,000 acres in the United States that have been destroyed for further farm use. Another 50,000,000 acres have been seriously damaged, and another 100,000,000 acres have lost one-half to all of the original fertile topsoil. These add up to two-thirds of the best crop land in the Nation. This program is for the purpose of bringing to farmers, bankers, business men and individuals information which will be helpful to you and your community.

E. J. Hamilton, a cooperater in the Quitaque area, established lines for fourteen miles of terracing on his farm last week. Construction of terraces began last Friday with two patrol Graders operated by a public Contractor. Mr. Hamilton had the assistance of Soil Conservation Engineers in running terrace lines. Parties interested in having terraces constructed should contact Mr. Ken Hamilton, Quitaque, who is in charge of routing this equipment.

Chevrolet Outlook for 1947 Is Much Brighter, Report Says

With more than one million unfilled orders for cars and trucks, a production potential that will increase as new manufacturing units are completed in 1947, and business prospects that permit of "sober optimism" for the new year, Chevrolet rounds out another year of volume leadership in the industry recognized as the nation's business pacemaker.

T. H. Keating, general sales manager of this largest division of General Motors, today disclosed that as of December 20, when the last field report was received, Chevrolet dealers hold orders for more than a million vehicles.

"This order bank has risen steadily since 1946 production began last April," Mr. Keating said. "At that time unfilled orders totalled well over 800,000. With production finally underway, by the end of June orders had passed the million-mark; and despite the fact that production has mounted steadily and more and more units have been placed in the hands of waiting customers, orders in the last half of the year climbed at a steady rate of approximately 10,000 a month.

"The order backlog," he continued, "is sufficient to carry through 12½ months on passenger cars, 15½ months on trucks, producing at our current rate. Fortunately for the many thousands of motorists so badly in need of new transportation, Chevrolet's facilities will be expanded by the addition of two new assembly plants next year. There are indications, also, that some of the more perplexing production disturbances we have experienced in 1946 will be alleviated next year.

Unique in the Chevrolet report for 1946, Mr. Keating pointed out, was the record volume attained in production and distribution of automotive replacement parts, sorely needed to prolong the life of existent motor vehicles.

"More Chevrolet cars were produced last year than at any previous time in our history," he said. "Realizing that new car production could not possibly fill the need for transportation, Chevrolet placed extra emphasis on the replacement parts program, with the result that the maximum number of prewar models was able to continue functioning.

While admitting that forecasts for the new year must take into account intangible factors and certain as yet unpredictable trends, Mr. Keating reiterated his belief in the solidity of the Chevrolet market.

"There is every indication on the part of the dealer organization that the order backlog is a highly 'firm' figure," he said. "Considering the steady rate of climb of these orders as against the production rise that has prevailed in recent months, we believe that a very predominant percentage of these orders are valid.

"Recent rising costs of all commodities have made America price-and value-conscious. Automobiles are being examined more closely from a cost standpoint. One of the reasons our order list has increased despite our mounting production, we feel, is the tendency on the part of the car buyer to examine more closely the merchandise offered for his approval.

"Chevrolet's production potential will be greater in 1947. There are many reasons to believe that production will continue the climb it has shown throughout the last half of 1946. Dealers will continue to make deliveries as speedily as possible." And they will continue to welcome orders for new cars and trucks."

FARM MARKET—

slow in other types at prevailing prices.

Fryers were lower hens about steady, and eggs somewhat stronger at most southwest markets last week. Current receipt eggs ranged from 38 to 42 cents per dozen.

Hogs gained 50 cents to $1.50 around the market circle. Top butchers sold at $21.50 to $22 per hundred at San Antonio; $23.25 to $23.50 at Ft. Worth, Oklahoma City and Wichita; $23.25 to $24 at Denver, the highest at this market since early December.

Cattle declined at some southwest markets last week as trading grew dull. However, Denver reported firm to steady prices with medium to good steers bringing $18 to $24 a hundred and common to good cows $13 to $15.50. San Antonio prices were irregular with medium and good shorted yearlings and steers selling at $17 to $22. Medium and good steers brought $20 to $22 at Oklahoma City; $18 to $22 at Wichita and $16 to $22 at Ft. Worth. Common and medium steers and yearlings realized $11 to $16 at Houston.

Active trading at southwest sheep and lamb markets last week kept prices steady to strong. Some weakness showed at Wichita where good and Texas lambs sold at $22 to $22.80 per hundred. Good choice fat lambs brought $22 at Ft. Worth; $22 to $23 at Oklahoma City; and month 50 at Denver. San Antonio receipts were hardly large to establish a market, but sales of medium fall shorts went at $16.

These criminals may have a longer time in the future if state departments take advantage of the latest War Assets Administration offerings. 1,500 surplus ingraprint outfits, complete with rubber sheets, powder, magnifying glass, scissors and etc., are now for sale to state and municipal police departments. Price per set is $3.98 each. Orders will be accepted at the Fort Worth WAA office, though the entire inventory is located in Louisville, Ky.

ABRASIVES—Nearly $15,000,000 worth in acquisition cost, are being offered for sale on competitive bid basis in a new national program, WAA announced this week. The sale program includes paper and cloth back sticks, stones, hoes, and other types, in various sizes and shapes, and all natural and synthetic, crude and manufactured products except natural carbon abrasives (industrial diamonds) and grinding wheels. The material is offered in lots of not less than $1,000 of acquisition cost. Although the abrasives are located primarily in seven industrial regional offices—it is anticipated that most all WAA offices will have stocks for offering.

A second reminder that effective February 1, the Fort Worth regional office of WAA, located in the T & P building, will move to the plant of North American Aviation at Grand Prairie.

The priority of small business to purchase surplus property is still in effect, WAA announced this week to clarify the status of the priority which had been in question since the first of the year. The expiration on December 31 of an act creating the Smaller War Plants Corp., did not effect the function of purchasing surplus for small business by RFC.

Do you wanna buy a village? virtually a complete village of more than 200 buildings, including a flag pole, is being placed on the auction block by War Assets Administration, at the Coffeyville, Kansas, Army Air Base. Buildings must be removed from the air base, either in whole or after dismantling. Ranging from sentry boxes to warehouses, the group includes a skeet range, bowling alleys, fire stations, nurses quarters, mess halls, laboratory etc. Purchase may be made by 4 priority groups: government agencies, RFC for small business, state and local governments, and non-profit institutions, now until January 18 through the Kansas City WAA office. Thereafter, holders of veterans housing certificates may bid on the remainder until February 4.

"The Thief of Bagdad" is for a "bad time" if he tries any crooked stuff. WAA announced this week the sale of 16 surplus Navy revolvers to the government of Iraq, which will be used to guard the palace grounds.

Mrs. J. V. Crum of Dimmitt is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Arthur McJimsey, this week.

THE VETERAN'S FRIEND

Q. Can I pay my National Service Life Insurance premiums at the Veterans Administration contact office?

A. No. Contact offices are not authorized to accept remittances for insurance premiums. Payments must be made to the branch office.

Q. Is a veteran of World War II entitled to emergency ambulance service to a VA hospital or other government hospital in which VA has beds allocated, if the occasion arises?

A. Yes. When a veteran or his representative contacts a field station requesting emergency ambulance service, the chief medical officer or his designate will get all information possible about the case and will grant authority, if warranted.

Q. I was captured by the enemy during World War II and was in a prisoner of war camp for 15 months but my claim for disability has been denied by Veterans Administration. What can I do now that the disability is getting worse?

A. Veterans Administration will give special consideration to disability claims filed by veterans interned in enemy prison camps. You should get in touch with your nearest VA office and have your case reopened.

Q. I am going to school under the G. I. Bill. My eyes didn't bother me while I was in service, but they bother me now when I try to do very much studying. Will VA pay for a reader to read some of my textbook assignments to me?

A. No. Veterans with visual impairment are eligible for reader service only if they are enrolled under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act (Public Law 16).

"Basic Science Law" To Come Before Legislature Soon

Austin, Texas, Jan 14.—Texans were warned Saturday that the "basic science law", which will come before the 50th Legislature, is designed solely to protect the interests of the medical profession by cutting off competition from chiropractic practitioners.

Dr. L. George Grupe of San Angelo, first vice-president of the International Chiropractors Association, charged here that the "basic science law" is part of a long campaign by the medical profession to sponsor legislation that will create a shortage of doctors and maintain high income for medical men and high fees for the patients.

While the proposal purports to establish certain basic qualifications for every person seeking to practice the healing art, Dr. Grupe pointed out that the bill is discriminatory since it exempts certain practitioners, such as all medical men now practicing, all osteopaths now practicing, all dentists, all optometrists, all chiropractists, all religious healers and all nurses.

If the bill should go into effect, chiropractors would be forced to appear before a board of college professors for examination in certain basic sciences. "Examination in basic science subjects serves in no way to test the qualifications or ability of a practitioner to render chiropractic service, especially when the examination is given by a board unversed in the art of chiropractic," Dr. Grupe explained.

"The only object of the 'medical union' in sponsoring this basic science law is to protect themselves from the competition of chiropractic service and to deprive Texans, by Fascistic laws, of their right to chiropractic service," Dr. Grupe charged. Dr. Grupe took strong exception to recent statements by spokesmen of the State Medical Association who asserted that "We (medical men) are the rightful guardians of the people, therefore basic science legislation must be passed." Dr. Grupe answered, "Unless we betray those who died to free other countries of their 'rightful guardians' we cannot permit the passage of basic science laws in Texas."

Texas chiropractors will actively oppose efforts of the Medical Association of Texas to force passage of the basic science law during the forthcoming session of the Texas legislature in Austin, Dr. Grupe said.

Veterans' News

The Veterans Administration is training many doctors in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi in psychiatric work because of the national shortage of trained psychiatrists, Dr. Oscar E. Hubbard, chief of VA's Neuropsychiatric Division in the Dallas Branch Area, said.

About 4000 veterans are now in VA hospitals in the three states for treatment of neuropsychiatric troubles. It is anticipated that many thousands more will require treatment on an out-patient basis in the mental hygiene clinics VA is establishing in the Southwest.

William Bendix, the stage and screen star, is coming to the Southwest to visit patients in Veterans Administration hospitals, Roy E. Eury, VA's Special Services Director at Dallas, reports.

The actor is booked for visits to hospitals at Dallas, Amarillo, New Orleans, and Jackson, Miss. He will be in the Dallas Branch Area from January 19 through January 28.

Women veterans, who are entitled to the same medical care as male veterans, in addition may receive treatment for non-service-connected disabilities from private physicians and in civil hospitals, VA reports.

VA estimates the potential load of women war veterans in the United States at 350,000. As of November 30, VA had only 1,339 women patients.

Veterans can speed up the service they receive from the Veterans Administration by taking extra care to identify themselves in their correspondence with that agency, Jefferson E. Kidd, Director of Contact and Administrative Services in the VA's branch office at Dallas, reports.

Kidd advised all veterans to give their full name and the identifying VA file number when writing to the VA about their insurance, pension claims or other GI benefits.

"If the veteran does not have his file number, he will get a more prompt reply from us if he gives his date of birth, his service serial number, his date of enlistment or discharge from the service or some other information to help us identify his file," the VA official said. "There are more

Are you too skeptical about the work of Foreign Missionaries?

During the past 100 years, thousands of men and women of all faiths have voluntarily dedicated their lives to spreading the "Good News" found in the Scriptures. Some have been physicians; others have been agricultural specialists; others have been teachers. What have they accomplished? Any War Chaplain who has served in the battle areas, and tens of thousands of returning veterans, will tell you that Foreign Missionaries have laid the foundation stones for world peace, that they have changed the thinking of millions of people all over the globe, and that they have made it possible for nations to trade with each other with confidence. When your Pastor, Rabbi, or Priest asks you for money to expand the work of some Foreign Missionary, invest as much as you can. Your returns will exceed anything you have ever known.

THINK IT OVER

I'll go where you want me to go, dear Lord
Real Service is what I desire,
I'll say what you want me to say, dear Lord,
But don't ask me to sing in the choir.

I'll say what you want me to say, dear Lord
I like to see things come to pass,
But don't ask me to teach girls and boys, dear Lord—
I'd rather just stay in my class.

I'll do what you want me to do, dear Lord
I yearn for the Kingdom to thrive.

I'll give you my nickels and dimes, dear Lord—
But please don't ask me to tithe.

I'll go where you want me to go, dear Lord
I'll say what you want me to say.

I'm busy just now with myself, dear Lord
I'll help you some other day.

Each of Texas' 254 counties currently is producing or has produced oil or gas, or has land under lease for oil and gas development, a new map prepared January 1 by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association shows.

MODERNIZE THE OIL FILTERING SYSTEM ON YOUR OLD TRACTOR

REPLACING THESE...WITH THIS

Keeps Engine Oil Clean Twice as Long. Protect your tractor engine with the new International Harvester "umbrella" type filter element. It lasts twice as long as the familiar old-style cloth or metal strainers which had to be cleaned daily and is more efficient than the star-shaped cellulose element. Even under adverse operating conditions the "umbrella" element affords full protection for 120 hours of use (100 hours for Diesel engines). This new element is made of special, creped cellulose, resin-impregnated and baked to form a plastic-like material that withstands hot oil without collapsing. It keeps oil free from harmful material and filters out particles so small they can be measured only in microns. For maximum protection use the new "umbrella" element and change regularly at the recommended time interval. Take home a supply today.

JESUS CROSSES RACIAL BOUNDARIES

LESSON TEXT—John 4:1-10, 27-30, 39-42.

MEMORY SELECTION—Who-soever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst.—John 4:14.

Racial and social prejudice divide mankind, although they are really one family by the creation of God. Speaking a thousand or more tongues and countless dialects; living in separated areas; suffering under or priding themselves in (as the case may be) a certain social order, and disagreeing even about the things of God, they manage to build up formidable barriers between their various groups.

The Word of God by both precept and practical example teaches just the opposite.

I. Barriers Broken (vv. 4-9).

Contrast the woman of Samaria with Nicodemus, whose coming to Christ we studied last week. He was rich; she was poor. He was a Jew; she was of the mixed race of Samaritans. He was a man of character and high position; she was immoral and uneducated. He sought Jesus; Jesus sought her.

In doing so, he cut straight across the barriers of race, tradition, social position, education, everything. He was interested in her soul's salvation and nothing could stand in his way. We would do well to follow his example.

Every Christian is by his very calling a soul-winner. We dare not delegate this responsibility to the pastor or missionary. As soul-winners we are virtually interested in our Lord's approach to this woman who was far from God, apparently hopelessly involved in sinful associations, a citizen of a hostile nation and an adherent of another religious faith.

By asking a favor of her, Christ tactfully placed himself (as does any petitioner), for the moment, on her own plane. He was not a distant, learned religious leader deigning to cast a bit of religious philosophy to her. He was a tired, thirsty man asking for a drink of water.

But he was more! He was the gracious Son of God, declaring to her that he was ready to give to her the water of life.

II. Problems Solved (vv. 9, 10, 27-30).

The first problem this poor woman had to face was her sin problem. Is not that true of all of us?

She first tried to avoid it by raising the race problem, and the reply of Jesus told her of the water of life. Her quick desire to escape the drudgery of carrying water, gave him opportunity to face her with her sin. She could never find peace and joy until there was a frank and open facing of sin in her life.

Let us make no mistake at this point, for the moral law of God is the same now as it was on that far-off day when Jesus brought the woman of Samaria face to face with her own sin.

Possibly in an effort to evade her moral problem by theological disussion (a common practice in our day, too!), and partly because of her ignorance of true worship, she asked a question about a controversial matter relating to outward ceremony. Is it not a singular thing how men who know nothing of spiritual life delight in the propagation and defense of organizations and in the conduct of outward religious exercises?

True worship is revealed (v. 23) as being first "in spirit". We do not cast aside all external helps to worship, but real worship goes through and beyond both place and symbol to real soul communion with God, second, "in truth."

The disciples were wise enough not to interfere with what Jesus was doing (personal workers take note!), and it was not long before the woman saw Jesus as the Christ! Observe how quickly she went to tell others.

III. Salvation Declared (vv. 39-42).

Jesus honors this poor fallen woman by making to her his first declaration of himself as the Messiah (vv. 26, 27). He is the high and exalted One, but he is at the same time the friend of sinners. To Nicodemus, the learned ruler of the Jews, he spoke of the new birth. To the poor woman of Samaria he declared his Messiahship. He is no respecter of persons, and neither are those who truly follow him.

Those whom the woman brought to Jesus saw and heard for themselves, and many of them believed. Personal testimony is a wonderful thing, but the ultimate purpose of such witness is to get men to come by faith into the presence of the Lord Jesus himself.

A personal experience with Christ leads to real assurance; without which there can be no spiritual growth or usefulness.

May many who read these words, and who have so often heard and read about Jesus, come to him today so that they may say: "Now we believe . . . for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Saviour of the world" (v. 42).

tons off my shirts; now, they lose the shirts.

Everybody has heard of "Indian summer", that idyllic period when the heat of summer is past and the air is soft and mild and the trees are red and yellow. But have you ever heard of "blackberry winter"? So many people in Texas hadn't that your columnist checked up with Aunt Agnes while back in Tennessee and she said there was such a season; it's a cool snap that comes about the time that blackberries ripen.

An old favorite by an unknown bard:

"If you want to live in the kind of town
Like the kind of town you like.
You needn't slip your clothes in a grip
And start on a long, long hike.
You'll only find what you left behind,
For there's nothing that's really new;
It's a knock at yourself when you

knock your town;
It isn't the town—it's you.

Real towns are not made by afraid
Lest somebody else gets a shirk,
You can raise a town from dead.
And if, while you make your sonal stake,
Your neighbor can make too,
Your town will be what you to see.
It isn't the town—it's you.

HOW STEADY ON THE TARGET?

If you've ever done any shooting, you know that lining up the target in your sights isn't too hard.
What is tough is keeping your aim steady until the trigger is squeezed, and the bullet starts for the bull's-eye.

FARM FACTS WORTH KNOWING

A. Principal breeds in the United States are: Ayrshire—from Scotland—first imported 1822. Brown Swiss—from Switzerland—first imported 1869. Guernsey—from Island of Guernsey—first imported 1818. Holstein—from Holland—first imported 1857. Jersey—from Island of Jersey—first imported 1815.

Q. Should any special precautions be taken with a sow just before she is due to farrow?

A. Yes. The farrowing pen should be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected and the floor lightly covered with a bedding of clean, dry straw. The sow should be moved into the farrowing quarters about five days before she is due to farrow. This can be done easily if the proper breeding records are kept. Before putting the sow in the farrowing pen, wash her thoroughly with soap and water and then spray or sprinkle her with a good disinfectant, such as Purina Chek-R-Fect. This is an important practice in a sanitation program for the control of disease and parasites.

Q. Should rabbits be test mated?

A. Yes. It is good practice to breed the doe 18 days after she is bred for the first time. Do not try her before 18 days, because, if she has not conceived, it is quite likely she has what is known as "false pregnancy" and will not conceive until this condition has passed away, which is about 17 days after the first breeding. If the doe avoids the buck, she should be force mated, because the reaction of the doe towards the buck is no indication of her condition regarding pregnancy, whether it is the first breeding or succeeding breedings.

Q. How wide should cow stalls be?

A. They should be at least 3'8" wide for Gurnseys and 4 ft. for larger cows. Most stalls are too narrow. Construction men say that wider stalls demand a wider barn to house the same number of cows, but the height of the hay mow can be less, so that the barn will cost about the same.

Q. Are there any figures to show the effects of treating cattle with DDT?

A. Yes. Kansas State College has recently put out a bulletin giving actual results in test demonstrations using DDT to control the horn fly. More than two million cattle were successfully treated with DDT for horn flies during the 1946 grazing season. These cattle gained about 50 lbs. a head more than untreated cattle. According to this, horn flies alone were causing a loss of at least 10 million dollars annually to Kansas cattlemen.

Q. Does a hen's body weight have any influence on her ability to produce eggs?

A. No. According to the Virginia Station Technical Bulletin No. 96, measurements of 204 White Leghorn pullets indicated that neither body weight within the normal range nor body type was shown to be a reliable index of egg-production ability of the hen, nor could either be used as a guide in predicting future egg production or in estimating the past production of a hen. However, birds that are definitely under weight or over weight should not be kept in a laying flock.

Q. Does feeding wheat germ oil increase the fertility of bulls?

A. Probably not. After extensive independent trials, the Ralston Purina Company's Research Farm and researchers at Cornell University have been unable to find that wheat germ oil makes any difference in the fertility of bulls.

Q. Will calves vaccinated for Bang's disease spread the disease to other cows?

A. The evidence is that a properly vaccinated calf will not spread Bang's disease to disease-free cows.

Q. How long may hatching eggs be kept before they are put in the incubator?

A. Hatching eggs should be placed in the incubator after a maximum of one week, although it is possible to keep them as long as two weeks. Hatchability drops quite rapidly after the eggs have been held for ten days.

Many Die as Result Of Pellagra in Texas Every Year, Dr. Says

Pellagra, although not a communicable disease, is one of great concern to public health officials in Texas for many people die of pellagra in this state every year. The disease is caused by the lack of certain essential foods, and as it comes on slowly may not be recognized until the victim begins to have the more serious symptoms such as sore mouth, stomach trouble, and reddening and scaling of the skin.

the disease has been present for some time, states Dr. George W. Cox, State health officer. "The longer an individual has pellagra the harder it is to cure. It is advisable, therefore, to watch for the early symptoms such as nervousness, indigestion, and burning of the hands and feet, and if these symptoms appear, treatment should be instituted at once. In its advance stages pellagra may become so severe as to not only cause physical suffering but seriously affect the mind."

Pellagra is not contagious, Dr. Cox pointed out, and he emphasized that it can be prevented entirely by including the right kinds of foods in the daily diet. These essential foods include milk, fresh meat, whole wheat products, brewer's yeast, salmon as well as tomatoes and other fresh fruits and vegetables. The inclusion of these foods in the daily diet will prevent pellagra, and as in the case of any disease, it is better to prevent it than to try to cure it.

Facts About The BRISCOE COUNTY Water Use & Conservation Association

The Briscoe County Water Use and Conservation Association has been organized in order to aid in preventing the passage of any legislation that would prohibit the use of irrigation water of the Texas High Plains.

The directors of the association have agreed that an all-out effort should be made to keep the farmer from being jeopardised by state law.

If and when this problem is solved the association will be in a position to cope with other problems which might arise.

Some other possibilities of the association are:

- 1. To help develop markets for perishable products that may be produced on irrigated farms. 2. To aid in developing new crops which are not yet adapted. 3. To determine some means of building up the water supply.

- 4. To help write conservation laws if and when they are needed. 5. To be able to carry out an organized campaign against detrimental plants, insects and diseases. 6. To be better able to secure and use technical information on water formations, soil and water analysis, fertilizers and soil-building crops.

The merchants of Silverton realize that the bulk of their trade comes from the farm population. In order for our business to increase, it is necessary that we cooperate with the farmer and help to build up his business.

We believe that the underground supply of irrigation water is the key that will open the door to greater things for the farmer.

We know that when our trade territory becomes a proven irrigated area that other farmers and business men will be attracted to come here and that our schools and churches will grow.

WE AS MERCHANTS, ARE AGAINST THE RESTRICTED USE OF IRRIGATION WATER AND WE ARE 100% BEHIND THE BRISCOE COUNTY WATER USE AND CONSERVATION ASSOCIATION.

Ignorance is Cause Of Spreading of Many Diseases

Carelessness and ignorance represent two of the most powerful factors in spreading communicable diseases from man to man. No more emphatic example of this fact exists than the continued ravages of tuberculosis. In spite of the knowledge of its cause and spread, and of curative methods, tuberculosis is still a very serious problem not only in Texas, but throughout the United States," states Dr. George W. Cox, State health officer.

"It is true that tuberculosis no longer is first on the list of killing diseases, as it was formerly," Dr. Cox said, "but despite having been reduced to fifth place in Texas, it is still responsible for more deaths between the ages of fifteen and forty-five than any other disease. And this fact exists even though the majority of tuberculosis patients could have their condition

Paris has been arraigned and held in $25,000 bail for a further hearing. He is being held on two charges: (a) attempting to bribe participants in a professional game, and (b) bookmaking.

arrested if it were recognized early and proper treatment applied.

"Treatment of the early recognized case is essential. It is of equal importance, from a public health viewpoint, that the spread of this devastating infection be prevented. A more intelligent appreciation of this fact would result in the saving of thousands of lives.

"When a diagnosis of active tuberculosis has been made, examination of all of the other members of the immediate family should follow as a matter of course. Tuberculosis runs in families, not because of any special susceptibility to the disease, but because it is communicable, being usually transmitted through close and prolonged contact with the active case."

To reduce the number of deaths caused by tuberculosis, Dr. Cox suggests periodic examination of all adults, a check-up by physicians of the known active cases and contacts, regular examinations of high school children, isolation or hospitalization of the active tuberculosis case, and a more intelligent application of hygienic living principles.

Homemakers Are Urged to Make Lard at Home

Since fats are still a big shortage item, homemakers shouldn't pass up the chance to render a supply of lard at home this year, says Miss Gwendolyn Jones, food preservation specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension service.

The biggest problem in making lard at home is how to keep it from becoming rancid, says Miss Jones. The selection of a vessel in which the lard is to be rendered has much to do with rancidity. A large kettle of aluminum, stainless steel or enamel should be used. Scientists have found that copper, zinc and iron containers cause fats to become rancid. Too much heat, air, light and moisture are other causes of rancidity.

Leaf fat makes the best lard, the specialist says, but back fat and trimmings are also good. Fat from the internal organs should be cleaned, chilled and then rendered separately from other fats. These fats sometimes give a darker product with a slightly "off" odor and flavor, which is why they are rendered separately.

If it is necessary to let fat stand several days before making lard, it should be kept cold in a container. The sooner it is rendered the better, says Jones.

Homemakers who want to know the proper procedures on making lard should call at their county home demonstration agent's office and a copy of Extension manuscript "Rendering Lard at Home" they may write to the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, College Station, Texas, and that a copy be sent to the publication gives equipment needed for making lard, information on the selection and preparation of fat, and steps in rendering lard.
