Opportunity for 1947....

By this time, most of our New Year's resolutions have been made and forgotten in the traditional manner. But there is one resolution that should be constantly reaffirmed and that is to do something positive about Silvertown and our Silvertown Chamber of Commerce, which was organized last October 17th in another effort to build a better community in which to live and do business.

At the next meeting of the Silvertown Chamber of Commerce held since the date of organization. It was during the last meeting, which was held in October, that the new president of the Chamber and the board of directors assumed responsibility for the holding of the next meeting—a meeting which hasn't been held since.

There can be no evading of the fact that Silvertown needs an organized group of men to work together toward building a better community. Silvertown has that group of men in its Chamber of Commerce but unless meetings are held more often than every month, it would be better for the community if the membership joined the Girl Scouts.

Will the close of 1947 find Silvertown the same as it was ten years ago as it was at the end of 1946? Without promotion or city by an organized group, we are headed down a long and narrow road. Not only will Silvertown lose, our workers lose, our taxes lose, and everyone lose incentive, but lost opportunities, lost returns on investment, and fewer jobs will result. The loss is obviously incalculable. The only solution is a united effort of business men and others that will get the "ball" rolling.

The current year will tell the story. Will it be another chronicle of "lost time" or will it be a tale of achievement on the part of our merchants and businessmen—its Chamber of Commerce?

The Helping Hand of America . . .

The responsibilities that came to the United States as a result of victory in the war are not fully known to the American people. The history-making events that are taking place in Europe and the Far East naturally reach the headlines—but many another important job is being accomplished in obscurity.

An example of this is found in the Pacific islands. The Marshall group, which is typical, belonged to Germany until 1914. Then Japan, as one of our Allies in World War I, seized the islands, and her authority was legalized by a League of Nations mandate in 1922. Japan held the islands, using many of them as naval and air bases, until we freed them near the close of World War II.

Thus, purely as a consequence of war, the problems of thousands of natives living on scores of islands became our problems. And it is pleasant to report that the United States Navy, which is the administrative agency, is taking these problems very seriously.

The Navy is training officers in the arts of military government. It is making aggressive efforts to reestablish a system of adequate education. It is paying particular attention to health and sanitation. It is attempting to revitalize what little industry and commerce the islands are capable of maintaining. Its purpose, in sum, is to assist the inhabitants to stand on their own feet.

This is no simple task. An immense amount of work is being done by the Navy. Thus, the hand of America reaches out to tiny islands whose very names are unknown to all but a few persons.

SUPERVISORS FOR CAP ROCK DISTRICT—Earl I. Cartwell, Chairman, Louie Kitchens, Obra Watson, Pierce White and Bray Cook.

E. J. Hamilton, of the Kent Conservation Group, is using a disc terracer to rebuild old terraces on his farm this week. The disc-type terracer is being rented from the Supervisors of the Cap Rock Soil Conservation District.

A Group Educational meeting was called by J. P. White, Supervisor of Sub-Division five, for the Kent Community last Thursday evening, at the home of E. J. Hamilton. After the District program of work was explained by technicians of the Soil Conservation Service, the group of farmers present elected Mr. E. J. Hamilton as Group Leader. The following farmers were present at the meeting: B. K. Hamilton, D. E. Brunson, Henry Hamilton, Earl Hamilton, Ellis Curry, Clifford Hamilton, Earnest Wood, J. C. Hamilton, Chester Hawkins and E. J. Hamilton.

N. B. Moore of the County Line Conservation Group, has a year-round grazing program worked out on his farm, which he's applying to eighty acres of land subject to Wind Erosion. Mr. Moore plans to graze Colorado Grass properly through the summer, leaving sufficient residue on the land to keep down blowing. He plans to seed the land to Austrian Winter Peas in the fall. Mr. Moore also stated that his experience to date with Austrian Winter Peas is that they will stand a great deal of whipping from sand as well as sub-zero temperature and still survive.

Lowell Jarrett, a cooperator in the Gregg Conservation Group, is constructing irrigation ditches on his farm this week. Mr. Jarrett had the assistance of local Soil Conservation Engineers in laying out lines and determining the row directions for uniform irrigation water distribution.

A spectacular weapon of World War II—the proximity fuse, which automatically exploded shells within deadly range of their targets—is now helping many of the estimated 3,000,000 Americans who have serious hearing defects. The fuse was powered by "Mini-Max" batteries similar to those used in the new electronic hearing aids.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cozen and children spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Cozen, of Tullia.

Mrs. Mary Jane Thornton of Amarillo spent the weekend with Grandmother Smith and Kate Horne.

Grandmother Smith has been on the sick list the past week.

Q. How important is vitamin A in the calf feeding ration?

A. The New Hampshire Experimental Station found that calves consumed more feed but that gains were reduced by 50% when the supply of vitamin A was low, while utilization of protein decreased by about 25%. Vitamin A deficiency decreases the efficiency of digestion, reduces the rate of absorption of nutrients, and results in less energy produced from feeds used.

Q. What is meant by the term "Coryza" in speaking of poultry diseases?

A. Coryza is merely the scientific name for nasal catarrh or cold in the head. This type of respiratory infection is very prevalent on poultry farms and in broiler plants.

Q. How soon after kindling should does be bred?

A. A three-year project at the Research Farm of the Ralston Purina Company indicates that production can be increased by breeding does three weeks after they kindle and weaning the nursing litter three weeks later. Results are more young rabbits per year, more pounds of meat, and less cost per pound. The size of the rabbits, their health and condition were as good as under the old system.

Q. What are the best pastures for hog production in the Corn Belt?

A. For hogs, alfalfa ranks first, with red clover and rape close seconds. Alfalfa and brome grass make an excellent pasture, and so do sweet clover and rape-and-oats. Blue grass is good in the spring and fall, but its returns are reduced because of its rest period during the summer. Rye sown in early fall provides an abundance of late fall and early spring pasture. Sudan is fair for filling in when other crops do not materialize.

Q. What are the incubation periods for pigeon, quail, and pheasant eggs?

A. Seventeen days for pigeons, 22 to 24 days for quail, and 23 to 26 days for pheasants.

FARM MARKET—

wools were about sold. Limited stocks of mohair found fairly active demand.

More liberal receipts of poultry found dull trading last week, and egg markets weakened. Current receipt eggs sold for around 35 to 41 cents per dozen. Broilers began to arrive in plentiful supply and demand was only fair at 30 cents per pound in Dallas. Fryers also sold at 30 cents in Dallas and 28 to 33 cents in Fort Worth. Heavy hens brought 22 to 24 cents in Fort Worth and 23 to 25 cents in Dallas.

Fruits and vegetables at shipping point markets ended the week mostly in slow demand. Cabbage, carrots and spinach were lower than a week earlier, and weakness appeared in beets, broccoli and sweet potatoes. Grapefruit was a little easier, including ink varieties which had recently advanced.

Demand was light for southwestern shelled peanuts, and the market was weaker.

Wheat and oats declined sharply last week and other grains were weak to lower. Rice markets were steady. Good seed of high germination was reported scarce in some sections. Plentiful supplies of feed found slow demand. Wheat mill-feeds registered the only advance while cottonseed meal and gluten feed were lower. Other feeds were generally steady to weak.

Cotton registered a net decline of $1.50 to $2.05 per bale for the week. Friday's closing price on middling 15-16 inch was $30.60 at Dallas; $30.76 at Galveston; $30.65 at Houston; and $30.70 at New Orleans.

Weekly SURPLUS NEWS WAA

Assets Administration has found that educational and health institutions will receive 95 percent discount on surplus equipment suitable for use in such institutions. The five percent of price that WAA will reimburse will cover approximately the cost of care and handling.

The items, all in long supply, are object detection apparatus (radar and loran), field hospital food carts, field hospital laboratory incubators, tracing paper (transparentized), mobile and water purification units, thermo-compression distillation units, carbon paper, typewriter ribbons (ink ribbons), child care equipment units and clinical and infirmity equipment units. Eligible institutions may obtain complete information from their nearest regional or district WAA offices.

Tax-supported and non-profit and public-health institutions may now buy surplus aircraft and equipment through WAA at 40 percent discount from list prices. The new amendment provides for the 40 percent discount on aeronautical equipment for any use the purchaser may desire. Surplus aircraft parts and equipment for flight use also are included in the discount. WAA stated that qualifying institutions may purchase aircraft at the discount directly from storage fields if the planes are in long supply. This includes training planes, some types of utility cargo and light transports. Surplus aircraft components and parts may be purchased from the National Aircraft Component Sales Center, WAA, 6200 Riverside Drive, Cleveland 32, Ohio, or from the Western Aircraft Components Sales Center at Torrance, California. Aircraft engines, however, must be purchased through the office of aircraft disposal, WAA, 425 Second Street, N. W., Washington 25, D. C.

All government-owned surplus abrasives totaling nearly $15,000,000 in acquisition cost, are being offered for sale on a competitive bid basis in a new national program by WAA. The sales program includes paper and cloth-backed sticks, stones, hones and other types, and all natural and synthetic, crude and manufactured products except natural carbon abrasives (industrial diamonds) and grinding wheels. The material will be offered in lots of not less than $1,000 in acquisition cost. Although the abrasives are located primarily in the seven industrial regional offices—Detroit, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago, New York, Philadelphia and Boston—it is anticipated that most WAA regional offices will have stocks for offering.

Approximately $760,000 worth of surplus sulfa drugs, including sulfathiazole, sulfadiazine, sulfaguanidine and sulfapyridine, in powder and tablet form, are being offered for sale at fixed prices. All orders should be mailed to the Director, Drugs and Medical Sales Division, WAA, Railroad

Retirement Building, Third and C Streets, S. W., Washington 25, D. C.

"So You Don't Like Texas", by Virginia Spencer in "Holland's—A Texas Magazine".

This is your first trip to Texas, you have been here a few weeks and you are more than ready to go home. Texans are all right, but you just cannot get along with them. The facts are, they get into your hair, and you are annoyed because you let them.

You have been taught that if a thing needs to be done, then do it right now. Texans are a little different. They reason that if you wait until tomorrow or next year, maybe you will not have to do it. It usually works out that way, especially if there is somebody like you around all fired up to do it right now. Which is all right with Texas.

A native Texan would rather sit down and talk it over than get the job done. He likes to talk, and after he has told you his family history, he sits back expectantly eager to hear you tell yours. If you fail to reciprocate, you are not friendly and, therefore, queer. After patient prodding if he still gets no results, he diagnoses your case. You are just a damn Yankee, which means that you hailed from somewhere north of Red River. Lots of "furriners" from up nawth are real folks once you get to know them; but they are all a little "standoffish" at first.

To you the "furriner" from up nawth (which may mean that you are from Kentucky or California) Texans seem noseey. It isn't that you have anything to hide, but you wonder why anyone should be interested in things which are, strictly, none of their business.

There is one way you can ruffle the easy going Texan. Ruffle him? You will make him fighting mad if you persist in it. That one thing is to try to change him, to teach him to become like you. He does not want to be like you. He confidently expects to live to put flowers on the graves of people like you, and he usually does. He reasons that if you don't like this country, you can go back where you came from. And sure enough you do.

Or maybe you don't. Possible circumstances detain you a while longer, an unwilling guest, in friendly Texas. What happens? Do you continue trying to change Mr. and Mrs. Texas into perfect composite of Messrs and Mesdames Massachusetts, Maine, Michigan, and Montana? No, you realize you might as well try to change the miles of grassy plains into range of snow-capped peaks.

So you admit, a bit grimly perhaps, that Texans are Texans and that is that. And since you cannot change them, you must make the necessary adjustments to get along peaceably with them. But how? The answer is simple. Be yourself and allow them to be themselves. Do your job as it should be done when it should be done, and let their jobs go undone unless that interferes with your own work. In that instance, you may prod the native gently, and if he does not respond, then do your job and his too. He will smile tolerantly and think you are a sap.

With your drive, your success in Texas is assured. At the height of that success you take a trip back home. You rush out to see old friends, to give them the glad hand. The first fellow you meet seems a bit cold, not half as glad to see you as you are to see him. It could not be that he is jealous of your success. No, impossible. He must be worried about something. Perhaps you were not sufficiently interested in him and his business. Should you look up again, ask some friendly questions?

You meet some other friends, and they are all alike, lacking in warmth and friendliness. None of them have done as well as you, doubtless due to the stiff competition in that country. But they should not resent your success. No, jealousy was not the answer. But what?

Disappointed in your vacation, you return to Texas, and feel a glow at the prospect of getting back into the old harness. Your Texas friends and acquaintances welcome you back, give you the glad hand; they say they missed you, ask questions, hope you had a nice trip. You are grateful for their interest, flattered by their warm welcome.

Alone, you ponder. What was the matter with the old friends back home? Don't you know? They are the way they used to be. You are a Texan now!

Veterans' News

Nearly 200,000 veterans of World War II are going to school or training under federal benefits in the Dallas Branch Area of the Veterans Administration, a year-end report has revealed.

As of January 1, 1947, veterans in training by states in the Branch Area numbered 131,306 in Texas, 31,310 in Louisiana; and 33,444 in Mississippi.

VA reported the status of other major veterans benefits in the tri-state area as follows:

1. Disability compensations being paid to veterans of all wars—Texas, 112,088; Louisiana, 28,072; Mississippi, 31,433.
2. Number and value of GI guaranteed loans—Texas, 28,271 for $147,557,537; Louisiana, 5,224 for $29,731,875; Mississippi, 2,234 for $10,896,787.
3. Veterans in VA hospitals in the three states—6,432.
4. Out-patient treatments—monthly average of 41,000 examinations and 25,000 treatments. (No state figures available).
5. Insurance—more than one million GI policies representing accounts of 986,000 veterans in the three states. (No state figures).
6. Death compensation and pension awards—33,000 awards in the three states. (No state figures).

The cost of all veterans benefits (including administrative expenses) in the three states for 1946 was: Texas, $180,775,264; Louisiana, $37,411,561; Mississippi, $45,084,790.

Veterans with service-connected dental conditions may apply to the VA regional office in their area for out-patient treatment by private dentists participating in VA's "home town" medical program.

For one year after a veteran's discharge, VA will accept prima facie evidence of a service-conneted or aggravated dental ailment and authorize out-patient treatment.

After the veteran has been out of service a year, his application must be adjudicated by a rating board as service-connected before out-patient treatment can be authorized.

Treatment authorized must be in a VA clinic if it is feasibly available. If not, treatment on a fee basis by a participating dentist of the veteran's own choice will be authorized.

"The Windjammer" is a "rib-tickler" story of a windy day on the Newby farm. Bob Burns will be able to make his experiences, and his charming daughter, a talking animal picture in Hollywood will provide an hour of top-notch entertainment every farmer and his family will long remember.

In the supporting cast are such other well-known artists as Gale Robbins, Scott Elliott, Kenneth MacDonald, Ida Moore, Eddie Kane, Dan Duncan, and Sam Flint.

In addition to "The Windjammer", four other new, all-talking pictures will be shown. They include "Headliners in Tractor Value"—the story of the new John Deere Models "A" and "B" Tractors for 1947... "New Power for the Smaller Farm"—an important announcement of a new small tractor with a complete line of integral equipment for the small acreage farmer... "Conservation Farming with Regular Equipment"—an educational picture on how to keep your soil "at home" with the equipment you have on your own farm... and "New Pages in John Deere Progress"—a newsreel on newly developed John Deere integral and drawn machines for 1947.

DAILY BIBLE PASSAGES FOR FAMILY WORSHIP

DAY	BOOK	CHAPTER
Sun.	II Corinthians	3, 4
Mon.	II Corinthians	5, 6
Tues.	II Corinthians	7, 8
Wed.	II Corinthians	9, 10
Thurs.	II Corinthians	11
Fri.	II Corinthians	12
Sat.	II Corinthians	13

This is addressed to young people who sometimes find their evenings dull, who would like to meet others, who are just a little perplexed.

Right here in this community are many churches, whose members have worked year after year to make this a better place for everyone.

If you would like to get out of the "rut" you seem to be in, visit all of the churches.

You are sure to find one that seems to fit you. Then join any Bible Class, offer to act as an usher, or secretary, or clerk, or teach a Sunday School class.

It's a matter of record that the happiest people are those who do things for others. You just can't keep good friends from coming your way if you associate yourself with some Church. It's the ideal place to meet, to marry. Millions have found this to be true.

Smart Lines Characterize New Chevrolet

Re-styled for the new year, with emphasis on a more massive front end and a smoother sweep to body contours, the new Chevrolet will soon make its debut. New front-end grille and complementing bright work, as well as attention of the body belt molding, have done much to give the new model an air of greater luxuriousness.

Traffic Fatalities Can Cause Demise Same as Illness

An automobile collision can kill a human being just as certainly as cancer, and a traffic accident can cripple just as badly as poliomyelitis, and for this reason Dr. George W. Cox, State health officer, urges Texans to protect their health and lives by using the utmost care on highways.

"It is the duty of the State Health department to do everything in its power to foster good health and prevent as many needless deaths as possible," Dr. Cox declared, "and because so many Texans each year are killed, permanently crippled, or disabled for long periods of time through preventable traffic accidents, I earnestly urge every driver in the State to do his conscientious best to help reduce the number of these tragic and often fatal smash-ups."

Dr. Cox said that it is a driver's responsibility to know that his lights, tires and brakes are in good condition; that he pay proper attention to traffic signals and road signs; that he give due regard to other drivers and pedestrians; that he use great caution at unmarked inter-sections, "and above all," he urged, "use common sense and follow a live-and-let-live policy when in your car, whether driving to the corner grocery, or going from coast to coast."

State's Industries To Help Move Big Onion Crop

Texas food industries have pledged full cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture's national campaign to help farmers move the largest stock of onions on record for this time of year, B. F. Vance, state director of the Production and Marketing Administration, has announced.

The "big push" will open a country-wide scale January 27, Vance says, with jobbers, distributors, retail and wholesale grocers, restaurants, dining cars and other food handlers featuring onions.

All Her Eggs in One Basket

DO put all your eggs in one basket—if it's a new rubber-covered one made especially for that purpose. Suggested by poultry raisers who had seen a rubber-covered potato basket introduced about six months ago, the egg-carrying version offers less danger of breakage. The basket is made of lightweight steel wire coated with rubber, and is rustproof.

FRUIT CROP MIGHT HAVE BEEN DAMAGED SAYS TECH PROFESSOR

Severe damage to the West Texas peach and apricot crop likely resulted from recent extremely cold weather, according to Dr. W. W. Yocum, horticulture professor at Texas Technological College.

If buds were killed, they will begin shattering within the next few days, he said. Fruit growers should inspect their trees carefully and if almost all of the apricot and peach buds shatter, producers may go ahead and prune trees now as much as necessary without waiting until late spring.

Foods on the market in abundance during February will be fresh citrus and apples, canned citrus juices, canned grapefruit segments, dried peaches, potatoes, onions, celery, eggs, heavy tom turkeys and peanut butter.

The only way to be sure that dairy cows are kept full of feed is to offer them plenty of roughages all the time.

The United States produced 267 million pounds of popcorn in 1946.

At the close of December there were 13 dairy herd improvement associations in operation in Texas, involving a total of 4879 dairy cows.

Phosphate is the key to pasture improvement.

Production of high quality, improved meat-type chickens is first a matter of breeding, followed by proper feeding and management.

In the last 50 years, potato yields in the United States have increased a bushel an acre each year.

The average size farm in the United States is now 50 acres larger than 25 years ago, and 20 acres larger than five years ago.

LESSON FOR FEBRUARY 2

JESUS THE GIVER OF LIFE
LESSON TEXT—John 4:46-51; 5:2-9; 11:11-13.

MEMORY SELECTION—I am the resurrection, and the life; he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live.—John 11:25.

The miracles of God, through his servants and the Lord Jesus Christ, are not mere marvels or wonders. They are not for the advancement of the cause of any man or for personal glory. They are the mighty signs of an omnipotent God wrought for the good of men, for their spiritual enlightenment and as a testimony to the one true God. Jesus is the giver of life; first and most important, of spiritual life, but also of physical life and health.

Leaving Samaria after his blessed work there, our Lord went up into Galilee, where he met many simple-hearted folk who were ready to believe. Here he was able to work miracles of healing and of grace.

yes, affliction and sorrow came to the home of the rich as well as the poor. Death comes to the young as well as the old. In fact, the first grave dug in this world was for a young man.

But it is also true that affliction may be, in God's hand, a means of blessing. This son's sickness sent his father to Jesus, and resulted ultimately in the salvation of the entire household (v. 53).

There is another helpful lesson here—our Lord's Word is as good as his presence. The man asked Jesus to come, but he sent his word instead. It was accepted, believed, and completely effective.

How blessed for us who may not have the physical presence of the Lord to recall the potency of his Word. When he says it, believe it!

II. A Lame Man Made Whole (John 5:2-9).

Back in Jerusalem at the Feast of Purim, a time of joy and gift giving, our Lord found his way to the pool of Bethesda where there were misery and disease. His compassionate heart sent him there to help and to bless.

"Impotent folk"—the words well describe not only those who lay helpless about the pool of Bethesda, but they fit us as well. Oh, yes, we are strong, capable, fearless but only until we meet some great elemental problem. Then we see that we are indeed "a great multitude of impotent folk." The silent fog can paralyze a nation. Death, sickness—who can stay their hand?

Long familiarity with his weakness had bred in the man with the infirmity a sense of despair. Such an attitude invites defeat. It is unbecoming to a Christian. Let us not forget in the darkest hour to "keep looking up."

Jesus told the man to "rise and walk"—the very thing he could not do for his 38 years of life. But when the Son of God speaks to us he gives the power to respond to his command.

III. A Dead Friend Made Alive (John 11:11-13).

The fact that Jesus is our Friend and our Saviour does not exempt us from human sorrow, but it does assure us of the needed grace to bear the trial and to trust him even in life's darkest hour.

Lazarus, the friend of Jesus, was sick. The home in which Jesus had found rest and fellowship was in deep trouble. Jesus was no longer in Judea. In haste, word is sent to him of his friend's illness. But he did not come.

Why does he delay? Such is the heart cry of thousands today who call on him in their hour of trouble. The purposes of God are beyond our ability fully to understand. We need only to trust him and abide his time.

Notice that his failure to respond at once to the message of Lazarus' sisters did not mean that he had deserted them (11:4-6). Nor did it mean that he had denied them his help (v. 7). Lazarus may have been dead before the word reached him. He may also have been delayed in order that there might be no question about the resurrection miracle. And he may have tarried in order that their faith might be strengthened.

Above all, do not fail to notice that he came. He always does. Jesus has never failed any child of his. The time and the manner of his answer to our prayers may not conform to our opinion of what should have been done, but let us remember that we know only in part. He knows all. Let us trust him. In his darkest hour Job said: "Though he slay me, yet will I trust in him" (Job 13:15).

He called Lazarus forth from the sleep of death. Even so he calls sinners forth from their spiritual death into glorious eternal life! The lifegiver, our Lord and Saviour, is here now ready to give life to everyone who will call on his name. Will you?

Locker Plants and Home Freezer Makes Question Arise

Whether to buy a home freezer or rent a space in a community food locker—that's a question that many frozen-food conscious farm families are trying to decide now.

A good answer to that riddle for an average family of four is a combination of both sides of the question, says Miss Gwendolyn Jones, food preservation specialist of the Texas A. and M. college extension service. Combining rented locker space with a small home freezer of about six cubic feet is a solution that appears to strike a good balance between cost and convenience.

Here's how she has it figured: a six-cubic-foot home cabinet with separate freezing compartment will provide enough space for freezing and storing those fruits and vegetables that are brought in each day, until they are ready to be taken to the locker. And when the growing season is over, the cabinet furnishes plenty of storage space for a number of packages of each type of frozen foods, as well as space for leftover and cooked foods. Assuming that such a home freezer would last ten years, and figuring in the purchase price and operating costs, a six-cubic-foot box will cost the family about $73 a year to own and operate.

Then, renting three food lockers at $12.50 each, and using locker plant facilities for handling meat, the total cost per year of both the lockers and the home freezer amounts to about $155. This plan costs a family only a little over 80 cents a week more than if they depended entirely upon the community food locker, says Miss Jones. And in return they have a good supply of frozen foods at home, and higher quality fruits and vegetables due to faster handling from garden and orchard to the home freezer.

Fewer Acres and Higher Yields Result From Management

Secret to getting higher cotton yields in West Texas is "not so much acreage, and more attention to production per acre," is the belief of Hudspeth County Agricultural Agent C. M. Knight, of Sierra Blanca.

"It's not the big farmers that always make the largest yields per acre on cotton," Knight reports. He points to the case of Marge Guigliardi, Fort Hancock farmer, who owns a "dandy good small farm". Guigliardi produced 145 bales of cotton in last year.

Knight says the high a result of "rotation and alfalfa, and the yard manure." Guigliardi to his farm all the neighbors will let him cotton production. West Texas is the Knight believes. Level irrigation much cheaper easily done.

Guigliardi's high yield that it is better to have acres of land and high production per acre." "It means less trouble and pleasure and better
