Increase of Whooping Cough in Texas Is Noted Says Doctor

A statement released this week by Dr. George W. Cox, State Health officer, indicates that the incidence of whooping cough in Texas is at present almost three times as high as the seven year median.

"Prevention and control of whooping cough, especially among infants and small children, may be accomplished through use of approved vaccine and convalescent serum," Dr. Cox asserted.

The infectious agent or germ of whooping cough, is transmitted by droplets expelled in coughing, sneezing, or speaking," Dr. Cox said.

The first sign of this disease is usually a dry cough which persists day and night and tends to become increasingly severe.

Much Wheat Harvested During First Week of Harvest; High Yields Made

With Briscoe County's harvest moving into the second week, but still not in full swing, huge quantities of the golden grain are pouring into the two local elevators.

Tuesday morning found the new Co-op elevator filled completely with only a small part of the 1947 crop. All cars had been filled and Tuesday afternoon the elevator was forced to shut down until more cars were received.

The Farmer's Grain Company, which has a huge storage space other than the elevator, reported plenty of wheat received there and that they didn't have enough cars to meet their demands.

Most farmers of this area are getting an unexpected return from their wheat. Some farmers who expected about 20 bushels per acre found that after cutting started, they are making between 30 and 40 bushels while some are making even more.

Wheat prices are holding steady at $1.85 and it is believed that harvest will not be in full swing before the last of this week or possibly the first of next.

PERSONAL ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Tadlock and children returned to Springtown, Texas, Sunday following a visit with their parents and other relatives of this city.

Paving of Local Streets Is Nearing Completion

Various portions of streets in this city which were placed under construction last week are nearing completion this week.

The streets running east of the courthouse for one block and from the Telephone office to the Locker plant have already been graded and filled in and are almost ready for the black top.

George Seaney, who promoted this paving, stated that he believed the paving would be completed in two weeks since the construction men were anxious to finish and get started on another job.

Another Irrigation Well Goes Into Operation Here

Another new irrigation well has been reported for the Silvertown community this week. The well is located on the farm of Lowell Rowell.

According to reports, a new pump was set on the well last week and it has a better than average water output.

Mrs. O. T. Bundy visited with Mrs. Will Smylie in Quitaque recently.

Pills Probably will Never Replace the Present Human Diet

Fried chicken and apple pie are here to stay," Texas Tech's Chemistry head believes.

Vitamin pills, mineral extracts and other forms of concentrated food capsules will probably never replace the present more conventional human diet according to Dr. R. C. Goodwin, Arts and Sciences dean and chemistry department head at Texas Technological College.

In the first place, science has not yet learned to manufacture all of man's complex food needs synthetically, and probably never will. Even if possible, the synthetics would probably be too expensive to be practical.

Now if successive generations of men should choose to live exclusively on these concentrated capsules—if they were available—and finish filling their stomachs with hay to start the digestive process, the possibility exists that in a thousand years a man might evolve with a very small stomach capable of handling the food pellets alone.

But meanwhile, little girls had best go right on learning to cook. It isn't very likely that men will pass up beefsteak and French fries in favor of fodder or pills.

SWING OF THE SOUTHWEST FARM MARKETS

Southwest markets remained generally firm to strong last week, but easiness cropped up on some types or classes of nearly all commodities, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Movement of new crop wheat, oats, and barley had gotten well under way and trade sources expected sorghums to join the parade in two or three weeks.

Wheat prices sagged steadily, and lost about 20 cents per bushel, closing at $2.25 Friday. Corn and sorghums advanced several cents, while oats and barley changed very little.

Low market stocks of rice consisted mostly of packaged lots in the hands of retailers. Feed markets showed a stronger tone last week, with higher prices for oilseed meals and corn feeds.

Cotton scored market net advances again last week despite late easiness. Good spot demand for the better grades brought only scant offerings. Most crop areas needed rain.

Slow demand for East Texas tomatoes resulted in slightly lower prices. U. S. No. 1 6 by 6 and larger sizes sold late in the week at $3.25 to $3.50 per lug box. North Texas onions held fairly firm at around $1.90 for 50 pound sacks of U. S. No. 1. Shipments of watermelons and cantaloups increased, with some price declines reported on the Fort Worth and St. Louis markets.

Good quality green beans from Arkansas and Oklahoma took over the Kansas City market, where first trump potatoes found slow sale.

Eggs remained firm last week, while poultry held about steady with declines of the week before. At Dallas and Fort Worth, heavy hens brought 22 to 25 cents per pound, light 18 to 21, and fryers 35 to 36. At Denver, New Orleans, Houston and Bryan heavy hens ranged from 22 to 26c, light hens 16 to 21, and fryers and broilers 30 to 35. The Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas area bought heavy hens at 20 to 25, and broilers at 25 to 31.

Cattle sold generally strong to $1.00 or more higher last week, but easiness developed on lower grade cows at San Antonio, and lower grades of all classes at Fort Worth. Common to medium steers and yearlings brought $14 to $20 at Houston, while medium to good kinds realized $19 to $23.50 at Fort Worth. San Antonio bought medium steers at $21 to $23.25, Oklahoma City moved good and choice steers at $24.50 to $25.50.

Hogs scored net advances of 25 cents to $1.00 or more at most southwest terminals last week, but butcher hogs lost mostly 25 cents at Oklahoma City, and sows dropped.

The Farmer's Grain Company, which has a huge storage space other than the elevator, reported plenty of wheat received there and that they didn't have enough cars to meet their demands, therefore making it necessary to fall back on their storage space when cars were all filled.

Most farmers of this area are getting an unexpected return from their wheat. Some farmers who expected about 20 bushels per acre found that after cutting started, they are making between 30 and 40 bushels while some are making even more.

Parents Urged to Guard Against Rheumatic Fever

The "growing pains" suffered by many children may not amount to much, and at the same time they may be the first warning of the childhood disease rheumatic fever, says Mrs. Eloise T. Johnson, family life education specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

Statistics show, says Mrs. Johnson, that rheumatic fever causes more deaths among school-age children than any other disease in the United States.

Apart from "growing pains," other symptoms of rheumatic fever are loss of appetite and failure to gain weight; pain and swelling of first one joint and then another, usually accompanied by fever, jerky movements of the face, arms, and legs especially when the child tries to dress or feed himself; and unexplained crying spells.

Mrs. Johnson urges parents to guard against rheumatic fever. Although the "growing pains" may not mean anything serious, it is a good idea to take the child to a doctor and find out.

"A Year-Round Public Responsibility" . . .

In May, the President's Conference on Fire Prevention adopted an Action Program which should be put into effect in every state without delay. One of its essential proposals is that all governors appoint statewide fire safety committees and that each state holds a fire prevention conference to establish a practical line of action tailored to its own particular needs.

The Action Program is all-inclusive. It contains recommendations, framed by the leading fire prevention experts of the nation, on such vital matters as law enforcement, building construction, fire-fighting services, public education, and research. But it will be of no avail if states and communities fail to put it into effect. It offers the nation an opportunity—and it is up to the people to accept it.

No one can doubt that the magnitude of our fire loss constitutes a real national emergency. More than 10,000 lives and $561,000,000 worth of property were destroyed last year. The total, unless it is checked, will be higher this year. Month after month, the figures have been rising.

In opening the Conference, President Truman said: "Fire Prevention is a year-round public responsibility. I believe the highest state and municipal officials must assume greater responsibility for leadership in this field." The time to act is now.

"Oh," said the city girl to the farmer, "What a funny looking cow, no horns!"

There are several reasons why a cow does not have horns," said the farmer. "Some are born without horns. Some do not grow any until the late years of their lives. Others are dehorned while young some breeds are not supposed to have horns at all. But the chief reason this cow doesn't have any horns is that it isn't a cow—it's a horse."

WORTH KNOWING

Q. Does milk taste after bitterweed because the cow eats the bitterweed, or can the bitter taste be caused by the cow's teats rubbing against the weed when she's out on pasture?

A. When the cow eats the bitterweed, the bitterness is transmitted to the milk, but the milk is not affected by the udder rubbing against bitterweed in the pasture.

Q. Is it safe to use DDT in laying houses?

A. Yes, DDT is a safe insecticide for use in the laying house, either as a residual surface spray for fly control, or applied direct to birds as a treatment for lice. For residual spray purposes, we recommend Purina Fly Spray for Farm Buildings, mixed with water at the rate of 1 pound per 5 quarts. For direct application to birds, use Purina Insect Killer. This product contains DDT 10% and rotenone 1.67%. Repeat treatment as often as necessary.

Q. How can I get uniform egg production throughout the year? How many hatches should I have in a year and at what seasons?

A. Most commercial poultrymen who raise chicks for egg production have two or more broods at different seasons in order to get uniform production for the year. Usually they have a brood of chicks in the spring and another in the fall.

Q. Do weather conditions affect hatchability?

A. Yes. Hatchability is usually lower in the hot summer months. It will also be affected adversely if the birds are not protected from extreme cold, particularly if the combs and wattles are frozen.

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQVIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago Released by Western Newspaper Union

LESSON FOR JUNE 22

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

THE TRAGIC END OF A NATION

LESSON TEXT—II Kings 25:1-12. MEMORY SELECTION—Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to many people.—Proverbs 14:34.

The end of the road! Down, down, down went Judah in its sinful refusal to keep God's Word, and ultimately came the final day of reckoning. It always does! The catastrophe which had long been approaching had arrived at last.

The fall of a capital city, which carries with it the empire, is a worldshaking event. The fall of Rome shattered the world for a thousand years. The fall of Berlin and Tokyo are within the memory of all of us, and the results are seen in a disordered world.

The destruction of Jerusalem, which our lesson presents, was even more serious; for it was not only a national tragedy, but also one with deep religious significance.

The wicked king Jehoiakim was succeeded by his son Jehoiachin, a mere boy who reigned only three months. He gave way to Nebuchadnezzar, who appointed as his successor his uncle Zedekiah.

It is in the verses just preceding our lesson that we learn that Zedekiah turned against Babylon in an act of

I. Rebellion (v. 1).

Zedekiah ignored his oath of allegiance (II Chron. 36:13), for which he was condemned by Ezekiel as a traitor (Ezek. 17:13-18). Zedekiah has well been called the vanishing point in a diminishing line of kings. It was an evil thing he did (II Kings 24:19), an act which showed his conceit, vanity and rashness.

True it was that he only followed what he had learned from his predecessors, but that is never a good excuse for a man foolishly to turn against God's will.

Observe that God was not just a disinterested spectator, and yet he had come to the place where he let Judah go down to its own awful doom. The worst thing that can happen to a man or a nation is to be let alone by God! Zedekiah's act of folly quickly brought

II. Retribution (vv. 2-10). Jeremiah urged Zedekiah to surrender (see Jer. 37, 38) in order to save Jerusalem and himself, but he refused, and the city was besieged.

The king's refusal to hear God's prophet and his turning to Egypt for help speak to us of the manner in which unrepentant sinners reject God's mercy and then seek help at the hopeless cisterns of this world (Jer. 2:13).

The king tried to flee, but was taken captive. Then came the siege of Jerusalem. For one and one-half years the enemy gradually closed in, while famine and distress grew apace in the city. Jeremiah went through this entire period sharing his people's trouble. The book of Lamentations is the record of this eyewitness.

Sin does its terrible work. Even as it can take a great city and turn it into a plague spot marked by cruelty, suffering and death, even so it can bring forth its inevitable and unspeakable results in the life of the individual who persists in resisting the voice of God.

Note also that the sin of Zedekiah brought quick judgment, not only on himself, but upon his innocent children (v. 7), and on many in the besieged city who were equally guilty of wrongdoing. It is again a picture of what sin does today in the homes and communities of our nation.

III. Removal (vv. 11, 12).

The fall of Jerusalem prepared the way for the closing scene of the immediate history of the nation as the people went into captivity. It also ended for the time being the history of the city that had once so proudly held a position of privilege and power, but was now brought down by its sin and rebellion against God.

We say rightly that history repeats itself. We see that any nation that lifts itself up in pride and forgets God will inevitably perish. We ask ourselves where our beloved country stands. As we consider its debauchery and drunkenness, its disregard of moral standards, its indifference to the things of God, we feel that instead of pointing a finger of scorn at Judah, we ought to be on our faces before God in penitence and shame.

Let us not assume that we hold a place of favor with God, which exempts us from the certainty of judgment. Israel was his chosen, and they still are, for his promises of ultimate blessing to them have never been withdrawn. But their sin brought certain punishment, and the same is true today not only of the nation but of the individual.

The Sunday school lessons will take up the history of Israel again at this point in April, 1948, when we consider the captivity and the partial return of the people to their land.

Novel Idea For Serving Ground Meat is Given

A novel idea for serving ground meat is always a welcome discovery for a busy housewife. Once you have tried these Beef or Lamb and Bacon Whirls, you'll want to serve them often. They're attractive and tempting, as well as being unusual.

From the convenience angle, you'll appreciate the fact that these "whirls" may be either broiled or panbroiled. Also, it is often handy to have a dish that can be partially prepared in advance.

If the meat is cooked in the broiler, other foods may be cooked at the same time, thus making the meal preparation still easier. When beef is used in the "whirls", tomatoes and onion slices or mushrooms might be the other items of the broiler meal. With lamb, an excellent combination is broiled pineapple slices and pre-cooked cauliflower flowerets, the latter sprinkled with grated cheese.

Beef or Lamb and Bacon Whirls

- 1/2 pound sliced bacon
1 1/2 pounds ground beef or lamb
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon marjoram
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 cup cornflakes
3 tablespoons water

Arrange slices of bacon, side by side and slightly overlapping, no sheet of waxed paper measuring about 8 by 10 inches. Mix ground meat with other ingredients; spread and pat evenly over the bacon. Roll up like a jelly roll, lengthwise of the bacon slices. Wrap tightly in waxed paper and chill thoroughly.

Before slicing, place wooden picks through the roll at 1-inch intervals, to hold the bacon in place. Slice between the wooden picks (making slices 1-inch thick).

Place in frying-pan and brown slowly on both sides, turning occasionally to insure even cooking. Pour off drippings as they collect in the pan. Serves 6.

To broil: Place "whirls" on rack of broiling pan and insert in broiler so the surface of the meat is about 2 inches from the heat. Broil until brown on one side, turn and brown on other side. Serve immediately on a hot platter.

The long-time value of legume crops is the fertility that they add to the soil, and the fact that they prevent erosion by holding the soil in place.

It was said 23 hundred years ago by the Greek, Xenophon, that "When agriculture flourishes, all other pursuits are in full vigor; but when the ground is forced to lie barren, other occupations are almost stopped, as well by land as by sea."

SUPERVISORS FOR CAP ROCK DISTRICT—Earl I. Cantwell, Chairman, Louie Kitchens, Obra Watson, Pierce White and Bray Cook.

Doris Martin's trial seeding of Weeping Love grass on the W. W. Martin farm, one mile south of Rock Creek, shows promise of being a success. The seed was broadcast on top of the ground after cuts had been planted. No effort was made to cover the seed. The rain that was received soon after sowing covered the seed sufficiently and brought it up to a good stand. Mr. Martin is a co-operator with the Cap Rock Soil Conservation District. Mr. Martin planted a few seeds a year ago in his garden and was so impressed that he wanted to try this grass on a larger scale. The present planting should show up very favorably by late summer.

The first cutting of alfalfa on irrigated farms is well under way. Among those working are L. W. Francis, H. M. Newberry, and Joe Mercer.

Mr. E. J. Duncan has watered his maize land. Mr. Duncan is a co-operator with the local Cap Rock Soil Conservation District. Numerous others are watering row crop land now.

Walter Graham, who operates the Will Graham farm just west of Quitaque, is rebuilding old terraces now. He is using a whirlwind terracer and a rotary tresser for making fills. Mr. Graham is a co-operator with the local District. Since this farm lays at the head of quite an extensive drainage area, the construction of terraces and other conservation measures are essential to the control of the water throughout the watershed.

Veterans' News

Widows and near relations of World War II veterans living in 27 foreign countries and seven United States territories and possessions are receiving monthly National Service Life Insurance payments totaling nearly $700,000, VA reported this week.

Although veterans today may select any person, firm, or legal entity as a beneficiary, nearly all of the 7,002 living beneficiaries abroad were receiving payments on policies which matured more than nine months ago—when the selection was limited to wives and near relatives.

More than half the beneficiaries—or 4,067—reside in the Philippine Islands. They receive $561,000 a month. Another 856 live in Puerto Rico, 472 in Hawaii and 458 in Canada.

England has more beneficiaries than any other nation in the Eastern hemisphere, or 146. Ireland is a close second with 134.

Other beneficiaries, in each case numbering less than a hundred, live in Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Finland, France, Greece, Italy, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Scotland, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Yugoslavia, Algeria, Egypt, French Morocco, South Africa, Arabia, China, Palestine, Syria, Turkey, Australia, New Zealand, Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Peru, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Honduras, Mexico, Panama, Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Islands, Alaska, Samoa, Canal Zone, Guam and the Virgin Islands.

Veterans must secure authorization from the Veterans Administration before going to a local dentist for dental treatment at government expense VA officials have warned.

Unless prior authorization has been granted, VA can not pay for this treatment.

To secure authorization for outpatient dental treatment, veterans must establish their dental defects as service-connected. This necessitates the filing of a claim.

VA pointed out that most dental conditions are assumed to be service-connected if application for treatment is made within one year after discharge. In many of these cases VA can authorize outpatient treatment prior to adjudication and rating of the claim.

Where applications are filed later than a year after discharge, the claim must be adjudicated and rated as service-connected before any dental treatment can be authorized by VA Regional Offices.

Where VA dental clinics are not feasibly available, treatment by private dentists on a fee basis may be authorized by VA in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi.

Eight out of every ten students studying abroad under the GI Bill are enrolled in educational institutions in five countries, according to the Veterans Administration.

The five countries are Canada, Mexico, Switzerland, France and England.

The Amvets want preservation of veterans rights in acquiring war surplus as aggressively opposed to those who want to scrap all priorities, according to Ray Sawyer national Amvet commander who conferred at Grand Prairie with zone and regional War Assets Administration officials recently. After looking over the Grand Prairie WAA plant and visiting a veteran's sale in the warehouse, the Amvet chief said he was well pleased with reports on WAA's handling of surplus in Texas. "You're doing a good job. Don't let criticism get you down," he said on leaving.

Seven to eight million dollars worth of surplus government owned paints, clear and pigmented lacquers, enamels and related products are being offered at low fixed prices on a national sale through War Assets Administration. These products generally are best suited for use as production or maintenance finishes in the industrial field, it was said. Information on the paints and lacquers is available through the Customer Service Center of the Grand Prairie WAA office.

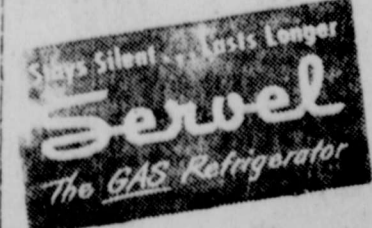

Wholesalers led all other groups of buyers of surplus property in the Southwest during May, purchasing 42.4 per cent of all goods sold, according to a monthly report analysis released by the Grand Prairie office of War Assets Administration. Total sales of government surplus for May more than doubled those of April in the area.

MRS. BILL LONG
Miss Othel Welch Becomes Bride of William Long June 8

Miss Othel Welch, daughter of Mrs. Merdie Welch and the late Merdie Welch, and William Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Long, were united in marriage on Sunday afternoon, June 8, at 5:00 o'clock by Rev. T. G. Craft of Muleshoe in a single ring ceremony.

The ceremony was a quiet but beautiful one performed in the Methodist parsonage in Muleshoe by Rev. Craft, who was, a few years previously, pastor of the Methodist church in Silverton.

The bride wore a beige butchery dress with lace yoke and a touch of lace forming the sleeves with navy accessories. A corsage of pale pink carnations with a touch of silver was worn on her shoulder as she became another and lovely June bride.

Mrs. D. O. McElmurry, matron of honor and sister of the bride, was dressed in a white butchery dress with black trimming and black accessories. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Welch, mother of the bride, wore a teal-blue dress with pink accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

D. O. McElmurry, husband of the matron of honor, was best man.

After a wedding trip to New Mexico and into parts of Old Mexico, they are now at home in Silverton where the groom is operating the Magnolia Service Station.

Others attending the wedding were Carol Dean and Ronald, brothers of the bride, and Mrs. T. G. Craft and Miss Betty Craft, both of Muleshoe.

THE VETERAN'S FRIEND

Q. What income provision is attached to the pension that I will get as the widow of a soldier who died in a German prison camp?
A. As the widow of a soldier who died in line of duty, you are pensionable under the law regardless of income.
Q. I divorced my wife on grounds of desertion and would like to know if she can claim part of my pension?
A. The divorce discontinues the marital relationship and your wife could not successfully claim a portion of your pension unless she successfully contests the divorce.
Q. How much is allowed for a child whose father is taking a G. I. college course? We are divorced and he claims that he is receiving only $65 a month.
A. A veteran going to school under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (G. I. Bill), if single and without dependents, may receive an allowance of $65 monthly; if he has a dependent or dependents, he may receive $90 a month. If the child is dependent on your former husband, he would be entitled to the higher rate.
Q. How long after discharge from armed services is readjustment allowance available to a veteran?
A. Readjustment allowances are available to an eligible veteran at any time after his discharge or release until two years after the date of his discharge or release or until two years after the official termination of the war, whichever is later.

"Signs of Life" Are Keynote to June Traffic Drive

To awaken motorists and pedestrians to the value of highway signs and markings and to make their meaning more clearly understood, the National Safety Council has announced a "Signs of Life" program beginning in June.

The program will attempt to make the public "sign conscious." State and local traffic officials, safety councils and other national, state and local organizations interested in traffic safety are co-operating, as are newspapers and radio stations.

Special materials including leaflets, posters and films, are being distributed, and every facility is being employed to make the public realize that the purpose of signs, signals and markings is to increase the safety and comfort of traveling.

Ignoring Signals Fatal

More than 1,500 deaths a year result from automobile-train collisions at grade crossings alone, the Council reports, and the motorists' disregard for the signs and signals at the crossing is to blame in about half the accidents.

While grade crossing accidents are only one obvious and clear-cut type, the Council emphasized that failure to heed signs is one of the most important underlying causes of traffic accidents.

The Council also is working actively with state highway departments to standardize signs and pavement markings throughout the United States, so that there will be no confusion among motorists driving from one state to another.

Program Is Three-fold

The three-fold aim of the program is to point out that signs are intended to help motorists, that all signs have a definite meaning, and that it is an individual responsibility to heed them.

"In traffic accidents generally, disregard of mandatory signs and signals is reported as one of the most frequent violations that contribute to accidents," said Ned H. Dearborn, president of the Council.

"In addition, failure to heed advisory signs contributed to many other accidents, for often where other causes are given for an accident, the real cause was the driver's disregard of an advisory sign.

"Despite all the efforts that may be made in behalf of better sign observance the final results on the accident toll must always lie with the individual.

Signs Must Be Heeded

"Following the message of a standard sign is not difficult," he said. "Mandatory signs such as the stop sign state exactly what the driver must do. Advisory signs, however, place more of a burden on the judgment of the motorist. A curve sign, for example, can only point out that there is possible danger ahead. What the motorist does to heed that warning is up to him.

"And it is only when we heed signs conscientiously that they indeed become 'Signs of Life.'"

About a year ago, the United States planned to export 400 million bushels of grain to the needy people of foreign countries. By July of this year, 525 million bushels will have been shipped. The famine overseas still exists.

Gives You Texas
years ago when Tom C. was running for governor Kansas, one of his opponents assailing him. McRae's only back was, "A wise hunter doesn't waste ammunition on a dead duck." McRae was elected and made a great chief executive.

In these days when so many best sellers are filled with filth, I am so old-fashioned as to count it a real tribute when someone says, "None of the things in your books have to be fumigated."

And a speaker can be humorous without being vulgar.

Touring Texas: At Guthrie, a big rock house enthroned on a hill is visible for miles. The castle-like mansion is the main ranch house of the 6666

On west is Red Springs. I didn't see the springs but in nearly every yard were red flowers that looked like tulips.

It is a scenic drive. To one side is broken country which is the divide of the Wichita River. Then there is picturesque Blanco Canyon.

And in Plainview is a "honey house", a store where nothing but honey is sold. And a little ways north of the town is a row of trees, half a mile long beside the highway. One house is surrounded by trees taller than it is and the house is two stories high. I can remember when it was said that trees wouldn't grow on the Plains. Now they have big nurseries up there.

Between Abilene and Coleman during May there were several miles of hills and valleys clad in solid sheets of light yellow flowers.

Hollywood has its Brown Derby—and Bangs has its Sombrero, a little cafe built in the shape of a Mexican hat.

And approaching Brownwood on the highway from the west your car drops down on the city almost as though you were coming in on an airplane.

Plans Being Made For Carnival to be At Memphis in Oct.

Plans are well under way to stage the first West Texas Cotton, Chemurgic and Ceramics Carnival in Memphis October 3-4, James F. Smith, President of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, and President of Silvertown's First State Bank, has announced.

Taking the theme of natural resources and their relation to industry, more than 47 West Texas counties are being invited to participate in the two-day "Western Mardi Gras."

Governor Beauford H. Jester will head a host of state officials to the commemoration events and a score of national and state officials of the Cotton and Chemurgic councils have pledged attendance.

Exhibits will be shown on all phases of cotton and its products; the Chemurgic exhibits alone will tax the display space capacity, according to officials. Every type of clay to be found in West Texas will be shown along with the products they make.

Street shows, athletic events, street dances, in fact every form of amusement and entertainment will be presented free in an "around-the-clock" schedule.

The parade to be covered by news reel cameramen, press photographers and correspondents, will be staged Saturday morning, October 4 and will afford an opportunity for each riding club, each community and individuals to march. Floats depicting the natural resources of the area will compete for cash awards.

The West Texas Queen of Cotton will be crowned in Memphis to climax the attractions. She will be awarded an all-expense-paid trip to her choice of three glamorous cities and will also be feted by both state and national cotton agencies.

"In the past," President Smith explained, "West Texas has been identified strictly as a cattle country. Yet one-twelfth of the world's supply of cotton is grown in this region; some of the outstanding premium grain crops of the nation originate in West Texas and our clays are being used for everything from cosmetics to building material. We hope to make this an annual attraction and focus the spotlight on our natural resources and to prove to industry the advantages of locating in this virgin Empire of opportunity."

Town and communities boasting outstanding entertainment talent are cordially invited to assist in making the Carnival attractions more amusing. A gigantic review composed of this talent will be presented in Memphis' large amphitheater.

Modern Gas Refrigeration

THE problem of food preservation has been a serious one since mankind first began to give thought to matters of diet.

Old-fashioned methods of refrigeration which were never really adequate or safe no longer be trusted with the job of protecting the family's health for, by means of liquefied petroleum gas, the most modern of all types of refrigeration is available in all parts of the country.

Fueled with "tank" or "bottled" gas which is delivered regularly to the user's premises, the modern gas refrigerator is safe and silent.

Since it contains no moving parts, there is no maintenance and no food spoilage resulting from interrupted service due to mechanical failures. It cannot wear out—gas refrigerators made 20 years ago are still in use.

Gas refrigerators appearing on the market now have special compartments for storage of frozen foods, for freezing ice cubes and preparing frozen desserts. They also offer a type of cooling that keeps at a minimum the food dehydration inevitable in old-style mechanical refrigerators.

An Irishman with the British expeditionary forces was telling his friends of his narrow escape at Dunkerque.

"The bullet went in me chest, and came out me back," said Pat.

"But," answered his friend, "it would go through your heart and kill you."

"Me heart was in me mouth at the time," came the quick reply.

Wayland College is Now an Accredited Four-Year College

Wayland College at Plainview received the go-ahead signal this week for accreditation as a four-year college.

A unanimous vote by the executive board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas at a meeting in Dallas Tuesday approved the Wayland board's application to make the school a full-fledged senior college, according to word received from Dr. J. W. (Bill) Marshall, president-elect. This makes Wayland one of these full colleges on the plains.

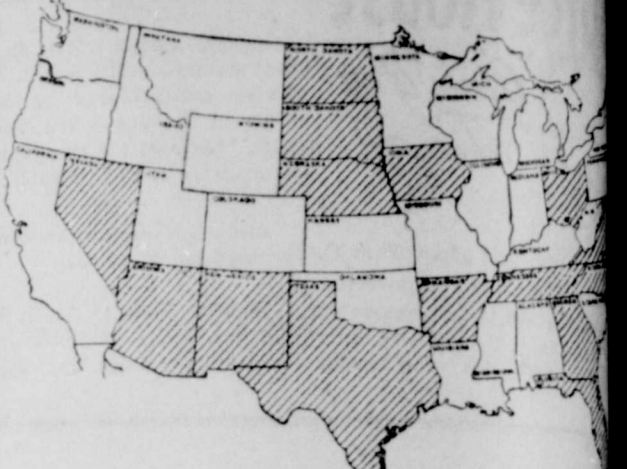

The board's decision will make it possible for Wayland students to attend two more years and receive standard college degrees. Silvertown students who completed junior college work last year and will be eligible to return this fall are Fred Garrison and Travis McMinn. Others from here who went to Wayland last year and may continue training there for three more years are Joe Ray Grimley and Carrie Dell Watters.

Little Girl: "Can you fix castor oil up so it won't taste?"
 Druggist: "Certainly. Won't you have a glass of soda water while waiting?"
 Little Girl: "Yes, thank you." (And drinks it.)
 Druggist: "Something else, Miss?"
 Little Girl: "Oh, no, just the oil."
 Druggist: "But you just drank it."
 Little Girl: "Oh, dear, I wanted it for my little brother."

CLOSED SHOP OUTLAWED IN 16 STATES

Houston, Texas.—The shaded states in the above map have adopted or submitted constitutional amendments or laws prohibiting the closed shop. Sixteen, or one-third of all the states taken such action. They are Arizona, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Maine, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Carolina, Ohio, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia. The Texas Bill recently passed by Congress contained a provision outlawing closed shops.

The Right to Work, regardless of union or non-union affiliation, principle of government, originated in this fast growing industrial Vance Muse, Secretary-Treasurer of the Christian American National headquarters here, directed the campaign that resulted in adoption as an amendment to the Constitution of Arkansas. The support of the Attorney General of Florida in its enactment. Five hundred labor papers of the nation recently voted Mr. Muse's "Public Enemy No. 1" of the movement to organize the unions has been investigated by two State Legislatures and several others and a bill has been introduced in the Texas Legislature to revoke the charter of the Christian American which was passed November 1936. The Chairman of the Communist Party recently filed suit against Mr. Muse for $15,000.00, claiming reputation was damaged when Muse printed her picture and members of the Texas House of Representatives who voted the Right to Work measure. The suit was withdrawn when Muse's Bernard A. Golding, announced he was ready to go to trial. The objective of the Christian American group is an Amendment to the Constitution of the United States guaranteeing every person to work regardless of union status.
