Quarterback Club Postpone Program

The Quarterback Club announced Wednesday that they would postpone their program which had been planned for Monday night, March 15, to a date to be decided on early next week.

Plans are under way to put on a good program at the high school auditorium, and it is hoped by those in charge to have a large crowd, and to sell several tickets and incidentally increase the amount of funds with which to pay for the projects now being sponsored by the club.

No admission will be charged when the program is given, but everybody will be given a chance to buy tickets, and the proceeds will be used to help defray the expense of their projects.

BREAKS ARM DURING ICE STORM

M. K. Summers had the misfortune of falling on the ice last week during one of the winter's worst ice storms and breaking his arm. He is reported to be improving nicely.

STUDENTS FROM SHANGHAI, ENTER WAYLAND

Wayland students greeted three more foreign students who have just arrived in the states and have come to Wayland College at Plainview for their studies.

The three coming from Shanghai, China, are Peter Chenk, Rose Wang and Lucy Zia. They report that they were 19 days enroute; 15 days were spent on the sea; two in San Francisco, and two days on a train.

Upon their arrival at Wayland they were met by Rachel Fong, also of Shanghai, who has studied at Wayland for the past term. They have found, as she did, that American colleges are quite different to Chinese colleges they attended.

The three have decided to major in religious education. Peter speaks for all three when he makes this statement concerning their future plans. "We thank God that we have an opportunity to study here and we will work for God in mission work when we return to China."

Although they studied English in colleges in China, they find it difficult to converse with Americans in the United States, since they seldom had the opportunity to speak with Americans in China.

VETERANS MAY REINSTATE LAPSED POLICIES

Service for southwestern veterans on their GI insurance is now on a current basis, D. C. Pray, Director of Insurance in the Dallas Branch Office of the Veterans Administration, said this week.

Elimination of wartime backlogs together with greatly improved service is prompting thousands of veterans in this area to reinstate lapsed insurance originally issued to most persons serving in the armed forces during World War II, Pray said.

He revealed that reinstatement of GI policies in the Dallas Branch Area (Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi) now amount to about 5,000 per month with a face value of approximately $30,000,000. This is the highest rate of reinstatement since the war ended.

Veterans have until July 31 to reinstate lapsed term policies under present liberal regulations.

"Premiums received by the Insurance Service at Dallas are now deposited within 24 hours after they reach our Collections Unit, and are normally entered on individual premium account cards within 48 hours thereafter," Pray said.

"Receipts for these premiums are mailed promptly to veterans, and the notice for the next premium due is issued at least ten days before the first of the following month."

The only cases presently involving delays in the Dallas Office are for those veterans whose records are in another VA Branch Office, Pray said.

"In such cases," he explained, "we are expediting the transfer of records from other parts of the nation, and notifying veterans concerned that a final reply to their insurance inquiry will be made as soon as the records are received in Dallas."

Pray requested that any veteran in this area who have not received explanations for delayed service, write to him personally at the Dallas Branch Office, marking their letters "Personal and Confidential."

IN MEMORIAM

Jim Bomar has left us and gone to his reward in the great beyond, to that city not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

Jim and his family came here before the county was organized, and attended school in the old school house in the southwest corner of the town. He was always good humored. A good mixer with all people, always ready with some joke or pleasant remark.

When a young boy, as many other boys of that time, he wanted to become a cowboy—he did something about it, and was soon working for the famous Matador Ranch where he worked for many years and was a trusted and valued employee.

He served four years as County Tax Assessor of this county, and made a good record, being fair to the people and just to the taxing units and preparing a neat set of correct assessment rolls.

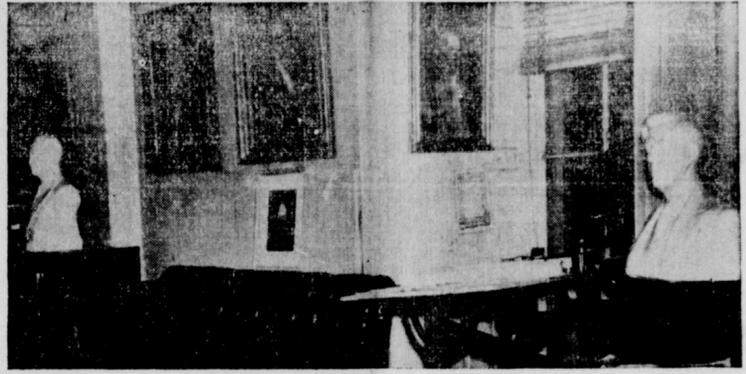

Soon after leaving the Assessors office, he entered the grocery business, and being a good and loyal member of the Baptist Church and a believer in trying, he conscientiously gave the tenth of his income to his church. Perhaps that fact had something to do with his phenomenal success, for he made a great success of all of his business from that day on.

He was a true friend and a loyal citizen, a beloved and loving husband and a devoted father; truly all of us will miss his sunny disposition and pleasant smile; but we would not call you back, and are glad that your troubles are all over, never more to be bothered by physical ailments, aches and pains. We are proud of your REAL success here and rejoice in your present happiness.

Far Apart

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(Soundphoto)—President Truman and ex-Vice President Henry Wallace far apart! Indicative of present relationship between them in the coming presidential race, are the two stone-faced marble busts, reposing temporarily in the office of architect David Lynn. Awaiting assignment to a niche in the Senate wing of the capitol, by the Senate committee on rules and administration, they were purchased by Mr. Lynn under a law requiring that a marble bust be made of each U.S. Vice President. Purchase price was $2,500 each.

According to announcement made Thursday morning by Supt. Wm. F. W. Lacy, Phillips, elementary language arts; Miss Allene Crudington, Amarillo, elementary social studies.

Most of the conferences will be conducted from 2 to 4 o'clock, but several of them will be held at lunch-time, so that teachers may attend more than one meeting. Attendees at the convention should check the program for definite time and place, advises Miss Bond.

The study groups are but part of the day-long meeting that will free some 25,000 school youngsters of this area for a holiday. With the Municipal Auditorium as main headquarters, registration will begin at 8:30 o'clock, and the first meeting will be called to order at 9:30 o'clock.

Three nationally recognized educational leaders will be here as speakers for the annual spring conference: Dr. W. E. Goslin, superintendent of schools at Minneapolis; Dr. Hugh C. Stuntz, president of Scarritt College in Nashville; and Dr. A. J. Stoddard, superintendent of schools at Philadelphia.

Closing session will be at 8 o'clock.

Terraces Reach Eight Times Around The World

Texas farmers cooperating with the Agricultural Conservation Program during the past eleven years have constructed enough terraces to reach "Eight times around the world." This statement was made this week by Victor L. Cade, Lubbock County farmer and member of the Texas PMA committee. Cade attended a meeting of the PMA Committee in College Station this week.

"We farmers in my section of the state get double benefits from our terraces," said Cade. "The annual rainfall is very low in much of West Texas and the farmer wants to keep as much of the water that falls on the land as possible. Terraces built on the level hold the water on the land and store it beneath the surface to be used to sustain the crops during the dry, hot season."

"Many of the rains we have in the West are hard flash rains and our terraces prevent these hard rains from taking away our topsoil. We know that if our land is to continue to produce we must keep that topsoil."

Blizzard Which Moved In Wednesday Over The Entire Area Of The Panhandle Brought The Coldest Weather Of The Season To Silverton. According To Ray Bomar, Operator Of The Local Federal Weather Bureau Station, The Thermometer Registered Six Below Zero.

Moisture content for the week registered twenty-seven one-hundredths of an inch. Much ice and foggy weather has prevailed since Monday. Sunday night about three inches of snow blanketed the ground.

Improvements in weather conditions are predicted for the remainder of the week.

Fifteenth Annual Easter Seal Sale Underway

Dallas, Texas, March 10.—The fifteenth annual Easter Seal Sale of the Texas Society for Crippled Children was inaugurated this week with the mailing throughout Texas of 850,000 sheets of the colorful seals. Proceeds from the sale of the seals finance the Society's numerous services to the handicapped youngsters of the state.

In a brief summary, the Society points out how many ways each dollar is put to work for the benefit of less fortunate children. It states that the cerebral palsy program has surpassed all expectations, with treatment centers having been established throughout the state. An informational library also has been established to further acquaint parents of the cerebral palsied and interested laymen with the problems of treating these small victims. In conjunction with this service, one of the greatest bottlenecks in carrying out the program, the lack of trained personnel, is being alleviated by scholarships for the training of physio, speech and occupational therapists in the treatment of the cerebral palsied.

All of this in addition to the other services of providing crutches, wheelchairs, transportation, hospitalization, special education and rehabilitation to crippled youngsters. The Sheltered Workshop maintained by the Society has been enlarged and its products are being sold with profit to the handicapped.

"Texas must open its heart and purse in proportion to the ever-increasing work being done by the Texas Society for Crippled Children," Roscoe L. Thomas, Dallas, president of the Society, said. "Each additional project undertaken by the Society opens a door to children to whom help previously has been unavailable. We are confident that the 1948 Easter Seal Sale will enable us to continue expending our services."

RETURNS FROM STATE BEAUTY CONVENTION

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Smith and Miss Dorothy Bailey of the Smith Beauty Shop, who attended the State Beauty Convention in Dallas Monday, returned home Tuesday night.

Mrs. Ben Garvin, Mrs. Smith's mother, who had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Basham, of Lufkin, returned home with them. L. B. Garvin also went with the party and returned as they did. L. B. Garvin drove a new car back.

MRS. ELBERT STEPHENS' FATHER DIES

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Stephens received a message Monday that Mrs. Stephens' father, J. W. Woodfin, of Ballinger, Texas, had passed away. Mr. and Mrs. Stephens left immediately for Ballinger where they attended the funeral which was held on Thursday.

Mrs. J. S. Fisher Returned Home Tuesday From Chelsea, Mass., Where She Was Called on Account of the Serious Illness of Her Brother, J. S. Peek. Mr. Peek is a patient in the Naval Hospital there. Mrs. Fisher also visited with her sister in Tennessee while away. She reports her brother's condition as improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Alexander, of Childress, visited relatives in Silverton several days this week.

Cemetery Donation List Is As Follows:

CONCRETE PIPE MAY BE USED IN IRRIGATION

The possibilities of using concrete pipe in conjunction with a farm irrigation system is causing much thought among farmers these days. Adaption to this use has been suggested by a variety of uses in other lines for many years. Sewer line conduit, and drainage of cultivated land are but two of the many uses that are adaptable.

With a concrete pipeline, engineered and properly built the irrigation farmer could have his water outlet at any place he desires, which would be extremely useful, particularly in the initial installation of a sprinkler system.

Some day in the future, irrigation ditches may be completely replaced by large concrete tubes providing a saving of some 20 per cent of irrigation water which evaporates or soaks into unproductive land alongside the ditch. When this happens, the farmer will also have eliminated the nuisance of clearing weeds from his ditches, and other maintenance problems.

These and other possibilities bear thinking about.

More donations are being received daily by George Seaney, president of the Silverton Cemetery Association, he reported to the News Tuesday morning. However, contributions are not coming in as rapidly as they were when the drive was first started. All parties who are interested in seeing the Cemetery well kept should pay into the fund as soon as possible. See or mail your contribution to Mr. Seaney at once.

Those contributing during the past two weeks to the Silverton Cemetery Association, and the amount given, are as follows:

Jim Brooks	$3.00
Mrs. Cline	5.00
Milton Perry	2.50
Lewis Gilkeyson	2.00

Opportunity Unlimited . . .

Some very interesting studies have been made in late years on the subject of retailing as a career for young people. The old idea that anybody could do a satisfactory job of working in a store is no longer tenable. Retailing is a complex and highly specialized enterprise. Large stores have as many as 800 different job classifications. And even in very small stores, a long list of aptitudes and skills is required.

Small stores, it is pointed out, frequently offer the best place for training. One person performs a multitude of duties. That is a primary reason why the top people in retail trade today so often began at the bottom in modest stores. They literally learned the job from the ground up.

Opportunity in retailing is unlimited. Practically all of the large stores, including the chain systems, had extremely humble beginnings. Their growth was the inevitable result of their giving the kind of service that the public liked. What happened in the past is happening still. Few enterprises offer the individual so much chance to demonstrate imagination, ingenuity and a brand of personal public relations that makes friends and customers.

Retailing in all its varied branches, isn't just a job. It's a career. And those who approach it with that attitude have the best chance of going to the top.

Friends and Enemies . . .

There is one sure thing about fire: It is always waiting to strike when carelessness, ignorance and plain human laziness give it the chance.

Fire has many friends. Defective heating equipment of all kinds is one of its best. So is defective wiring and appliances. Smoking materials and matches are well up on the list. Inadequate maintenance of homes and industrial buildings is another, along with attics and basements and closets stuffed with burnable junk.

Fire's principal enemies are knowledge and watchfulness. Proper precautions, most of which cost little in either money or time, will prevent about 90 per cent of all fires—and save 90 per cent of the $3,000 lives that fire destroys each year. One spark can start a fire that will ruin half a city—as easily as a fire which does minor damage.

It isn't surprising that fire did nearly $700,000,000 worth of property damage last year. We have been so careless, as a people, that it's a wonder the loss wasn't even higher. And the loss will go higher, in all probability, unless we shake off our lethargy, realize the extent of the danger, understand that it is of direct and immediate personal concern to us all, and get down to the job of banishing fire's friends.

Behind The Scenes in AMERICAN BUSINESS

By REYNOLDS KNIGHT
NOTE TO READERS—The information contained in this weekly summary of happenings in the world of business and industry has been obtained from sources we consider reliable but is not guaranteed. Opinions and forecasts are based upon careful analysis but are subject to change without notice.
—The Editor

NEW YORK—Most economic opinions say prices will remain permanently up over 1939 levels, despite the hopes of those who looked upon the recent commodities market break as the beginning of a swift toboggan ride to much lower retail levels.

Living costs are now 70 per cent above 1939, a year when you could buy a good five-cent cigar or lunch sized candy bar, a good pair of $4 shoes, a $2.95 man's hat and a good $17.50 man's suit. Our present living costs likewise are about 48 per cent above those of the bull market year 1929. The economic statistics of all postwar price plateaus indicate that the nation will be doing a good job if it can stabilize prices at somewhere near 1929 levels.

Clearer indication that the buying power of the American nickel and dime has been worn permanently thinner is found in the Five and Ten cent stores. In 1939 one company reported that two-thirds of all merchandise sold was priced at under 50 cents. Today that two-thirds is priced at under $1.

NEW LOOK IN HOMES—In a poll of the nation's builders taken at the annual exposition of the National Association of Home Builders in Chicago, two out of three persons said that expanding use of glass for indoor-outdoor living was the most important single factor in postwar housing trends. Utilizing new materials such as Thermopane insulating glass developed by Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company, houses with large picture windows and window walls are proving increasingly popular with home owners. "Thanks to self-insulating glass," said Cliff May, Los Angeles architect whose "Pacesetter House" was featured in a national magazine, "it is now possible to use larger glass areas without sacrificing precious fuel." The poll indicated that greater mechanization of homes is the second most important development in housing and that radiant panel heating is third. The six-room house is leading the construction parade, the builders said, and today's average home costs between $9,000 and $10,000.

THINGS TO COME—A coffee shampoo soon to hit retail markets heads a whole slew of pharmaceutical and detergent products being developed to make wider use of coffee. . . . Circular fluorescent fixtures of spun aluminum are now available to glamorize ceiling installations. . . . A new non-dip paint brush supplies paint to bristles from a gravity feed tank, a process said to save about 25 per cent of the normal amount of paint used by conventional brushes. . . . You will soon be hearing more about a simplified new dry-cleaning process which is said to make garments odor-proof, germ resistant and mildew-proof. . . . Plastic egg holder now on the market makes it easier to handle boiled eggs without suffering burned fingers. . . . That first mass-produced five-room house from Iustron Corporation will soon be off the assembly line. . . . Home workshop hobbyists are being offered a versatile tool set consisting of tools for metal, leather and wood-working. . . . A new three-way furnace, convertible to gas, coal or oil has been developed by a Detroit manufacturer. . . . New light socket which protects lamp filaments from vibration is said to stretch lamp-burning time by as much as 60 per cent.

TUBE-FREE TIRE — A tire that does not require an inner tube—goal of the automotive and rubber industries since the beginning of the automobile age—was announced as a practical reality by the B. F. Goodrich Company last May. Since then BFG has been quietly building up production facilities and conducting further road tests. A few weeks ago the company started the trade when it put its puncture-sealing tubeless tire on sale in Cincinnati and surrounding areas. Apparently the public was more pleased than surprised, because the company reports that early response "exceeded expectations." The tire will go on sale in other regions throughout the country as soon as production permits. A thick, gummy substance inside the tire prevents "flats" by gripping any puncturing object and immediately closing the hole when the object is withdrawn. BFG has made sure that air will not escape around the valve or edge of the rim, and a special rubber compound on the inner side of the first ply prevents air from seeping out through the body of the tire itself. In fact, the company has applied for some 65 patents on the revolutionary product.

Q. Do brood sows need exercise?
A. The general belief is that exercise has a marked effect on the general thrift and health of pregnant sows, the ease of pigging and promptness of recovery after farrowing. See that breeding stock gets exercise. One way to increase it is to feed the sows at the opposite end of the lot from where they are housed.

Q. How can mites in the poultry house be controlled?
A. One of the best ways is to spray the roosts, floors and walls with Purina Insect Oil. A thorough job with this insect oil will keep down mites for a year.

Q. Will the heavier calves at birth make bigger gains than those of lighter weights?
A. Yes, the Wyoming State Experiment Station has reported a test in which a group of heavy calves which had an average birth weight margin of 24 lbs. showed a 43 lb. heavier weight per animal at six months of age over a group of lighter calves. Three groups of registered Holstein-Friesian heifers were used in the test. Average birth weights per animal for the respective groups were 77, 90 and 101 lbs. At six months of age, the average weight per animal in each group, in the order named, was 322, 347 and 365 lbs.

Q. What is the normal gestation period for a rabbit?
A. The normal gestation period is 31 days from the date of mating. However, a doe may vary a day either way and still kindle a strong healthy litter of young.

Q. What is a brace of dogs?
A. Two dogs of the same breed, matched closely for color, type and size. They need not be the same sex.

MRS. LOIS THOMAS IS RECENT ADDITION TO WAYLAND COLLEGE FACULTY

Mrs. Lois Thomas of Plainview, who appeared last season as soloist with the Lubbock Symphony orchestra, is the most recent addition to the Wayland College faculty, President J. W. Bill Marshall announced today. Mrs. Thomas teaches courses in elementary and advanced conducting, in addition to private voice lessons.

Following her graduation from Juilliard school of music in New York, Mrs. Thomas was auditioned and given a contract by the New York Opera Company. She decided against an operatic career, however, in favor of marriage to Louis Thomas, Plainview insurance man.

A native of West Virginia, Mrs. Thomas majored in music at Marshall College, Huntington, W. Va. She was graduated from Juilliard school in 1943, following three years of graduate work there. A full scholarship student, she was outstanding in New York music circles and in coaching at Juilliard. She appeared in all operas presented by the school during her stay there, including "Don Giovanni," "The Gondoliers," and "Orpheus and Eurydice." In addition to her duties at the college, Mrs. Thomas is director of music at the Plainview Presbyterian church.

NEW TESTING PROGRAM TO MEASURE CHANCES FOR SUCCESS OF STUDENTS

TCU is one of four Texas schools co-operating in a program that has resulted in a new testing program to measure the chances for success of students and junior accountants just entering the profession.

The American Institute of Accountants, which sponsored the four years of investigation involved, announced this week that the tests are now available for use by accredited schools and universities.

More than 60,000 individual examinations were given by 90 schools and 16 public accounting firms in developing and verifying the new tests.

Christian Character Lesson for March 14, 1948

WHO is the most valuable person in your community? In many communities it has come to be the custom to select the Man of the Year or the Woman of the Year, the idea usually being to name the person, through a process of sampling of public opinion, who has rendered the outstanding service of the year.

Sunday's lesson is a dramatic scene out of the long ago, picturing a community's tribute to a truly great man, the apostle Paul. Read Acts 20:17-35, and you will have the story.

LOVED AND HONORED THE first impression I get from this story is the fact that these people of Ephesus loved Paul. They loved him enough to lay aside their work and hasten to the seaport of Miletus to see him for the last time, and to bow down in his presence and honor him.

Why did they thus love Paul? Because he had told them about God. You need but read again the record of Paul's ministry in that important city of Ephesus to be reminded of how greatly he had served them in the name of Jesus. Loved and honored! What a tribute to the worth of Christian character! Wouldn't you appreciate the tribute which they paid Paul as the goal yonder to which you strive? Boys and girls of today may thus be honored tomorrow, if they will live for Jesus as Paul did.

THE POWER OF RIGHT LIVING PAUL not only told the Ephesians how to live, but illustrated day by day in his own life what he preached to them. The most eloquent sermons are not spoken, but lived. "What you are speaks so loudly I can't hear what you say."

The boy and man who plays the game straight are putting into practice what the teacher and preacher proclaims on Sunday. The power of right living will win its way today, just as it did in the long ago when Paul witnessed for Jesus in Ephesus.

It was not easy to live for Christ in Ephesus, nor is it easy to live for him in Chicago or Los Angeles or Boston or Miami, but it is the one way to ultimately impress the world of the reality of Christianity.

PAUL'S CONSUMING PASSION WE ARE what we are becoming, and never was this axiom of life more powerfully illustrated than in the case of Paul. "I press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus," Philippians 3:14. And in Ephesians 5:4-21, Paul reviews the qualities of conduct which produce worthwhile character, admonishing all Christians to strive for these qualities.

"I live, yet not I, Christ liveth in me," is another of Paul's watchwords, and still again, "I can do all things through Christ, who strengtheneth me."

It was the consuming passion of his life to embody the teachings of Christ in his words and in his works. It is conceivable that the people in Ephesus had come to see Christ in the life of Paul, and that his daily ministry in their midst convinced them that God was in Christ reconciling the world unto himself.

WHAT AM I WORTH? THE question then emerges, "What am I worth to my community? When I come to the end of the journey, will the people who know me best honor and love me for what I have done?"

I can see the people of Ephesus bowing on the deck at Miletus, kissing this weary old servant of the Lord. It is a beautiful scene. This tribute meant more to Paul than all the gold of Ephesus would have meant. It was compensation of abiding worth to him. And what is vastly more important, it was glory to God which must have evoked the praise of the angels about the great White Throne.

On God's Word

John Wycliffe, in the introduction to his translation of the Bible into English in 1380, wrote as follows: "When the teachings of the Bible are generally accepted and acted on, then shall we have a government of, for and by the people." Four hundred years later the American republic was established—the first great democracy—and it was successful because the Constitution and the Bill of Rights were founded on God's Word.

It has been said that there are only 14 people in the world who can understand Einstein's theory. Well, here is an explanation of that theory, in Einstein's own words: "When you sit with your girl an hour, you think it's a minute. When you sit down on a red-hot stove for a minute, you think it's an hour."

A good many years ago, traveling with a candidate for governor was a group of newspapermen representing their respective papers and one of these newspapermen looked like the candidate. This reporter however was for the other candidate. So, after a speaking, he would go into a beer parlor, drink a schooner then come out and stand right in front of the door for half a minute so that anybody on the street could see him.

Next day, it was all over town that Candidate Zilch had been seen coming out of a tavern and wiping his mouth on the back of his hand—and so all the "drys" voted for the other fellow. Which was exactly what the newsman had wanted to happen, of course.

A friend was telling me about going to a city and the hotel room he got was so small that if you dreamed it would have had to be about midgets.

Some weeks back, this column made a favorable reference to that great guy, Jimmy Durante. Well, sir, soon afterwards, here came a letter of thanks from Durante. Such appreciation is one of the reasons why he is where he is today, a top favorite of screen and radio.

Winsome

This winsome lass "models" a fabric napkin that will never be laundered. The fabric, nonwoven, is made by a completely new process, recently patented. Spinning and weaving are entirely eliminated. According to National Patent Council, several continuous weaves of 88's come off a set of cards in a wide strip and are laid over each other, forming a "lap." The "lap" goes into a binding machine which deposits an adhesive on the face of the material to bind the individual fibers into place. When soiled, the napkin is thrown away.

CAUSES FOR DIS-COLORED CANNED GOODS

Home canned fruit or vegetables which have been discolored on the shell are a problem to many local housewives who wonder whether they are safe to eat.

Canning specialists of the U. S. department of agriculture say there are several causes for discoloration of canned food besides spoilage. Fruit and vegetables may darken at the top of the jar from air in the jar. They also may darken from too little or too much heating during canning. Canned pears, apples, and peaches sometimes take on pink or blue tints from chemical changes in their coloring or from too slow cooling after canning. Iron or copper in cooking utensils or in water may cause brown, black or grey color in canned foods. Highly colored foods, like beets, or raspberries, may fade when canned in plain tin. Such color changes are not harmful although the food may be unappetizing.

If food shows any sign of spoilage along with discoloration, however, the specialists advise destroying the food without tasting. Signs of spoilage are: leakage, swelling of jars or tins, a spurt of gas when the can is opened, mold at the top of the jar. Mold in acid products is usually not harmful although it affects the flavor of food, but it may cut acidity so that dangerous spoilage organism can grow.

Any canned food that shows sign of spoilage, should be disposed of where it cannot be eaten by humans or animals. Unfortunately as it is to have to waste canned food, it does not pay to take health chances on food that may be harmful. Canned vegetables especially should be suspected if they show the slightest sign of spoilage.

Mrs. Roy Mack Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Pleasant Seaney, of Richman, Indiana, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Arnold of San Jan, New Seaney this week. They are on a return trip from California.

SUPERVISORS FOR CAP ROCK DISTRICT—Earl I. Cantwell, Chairman, Ora Watson, Bray Cook, L. A. McJimsey and Bill Helmes.

The season for planting spring and summer legumes is near at hand. Various kinds of legumes are adapted to this area particularly in the irrigation belt.

The annual sweet clovers, yellow or sour clover and the white blossomed Hubam Clover are usable where a one season crop is wanted. These clovers can be overseeded in wheat or planted in pure stands. They can be grazed throughout the summer, grazed part of the summer and then seeded or they can be planted for turning under as a green manure crop. Being legumes, they build up the nitrogen supply of the soil when properly inoculated.

The biennial sweet clovers (these clovers do not produce seed until the second season after planting) can be used in much the same way as the annuals except they will not produce seed the first season after planting. The biennial sweet clovers adapted for this area are sold under the names, biennial white, blossom biennial yellow or Madrid clover. Madrid clover is probably the most promising of the group.

In the sandier areas below the caprock the same kind can be used. The amount of green forage or seed produced will likely be much less than that of irrigated farms. However, they are soil improving crops and should not be overlooked in the conservation cropping system.

W. M. U. Holds Joint Meeting Monday

Circle No. 1 and Circle No. 2, of the W. M. U., met in a joint meeting Monday at 2:30 p.m. at the Baptist Church. Circle No. 2 had charge of the Royal Service Program.

Monday, March 15, each circle will meet in its separate group.

Circle No. 2 will meet with Mrs. O. C. Allard. Circle No. 1 will meet with Mrs. Lee D. Bomar. All members are urged to be present.

PELLAGRA GIVES CAUSE FOR MUCH CONCERN

Pellagra, although not a communicable disease, is one of great concern to public health officials in Texas and other southern states. The disease is caused by the lack of certain essential foods, and as it comes on slowly, it may not be recognized until the victim begins to have the more serious symptoms such as sore mouth, stomach trouble, and reddening and scaling of the skin.

"When these symptoms appear, the disease has been present for some time," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "The longer an individual has pellagra the harder it is to cure. It is advisable, therefore, to watch for the early symptoms such as nervousness, indigestion, and burning of the hands and feet, and if these symptoms appear, treatment should be instituted at once. In its advanced stages pellagra may become so severe as to not only cause physical suffering but seriously affect the mind."

Pellagra is not contagious and it can be prevented entirely by including the right kinds of foods in the daily diet. These essential foods are milk, fresh meat, whole wheat products, brewer's yeast, and salmon, as well as tomatoes and other fresh fruits and vegetables. Including these foods in the daily diet will prevent pellagra, and as in the case of any disease, it is much better to prevent it than to cure it.

Trouble Shooters Go Modern

Already car dealers throughout the United States are delivering new cars equipped with telephones. This introduces a new phase of servicing for both the car dealers and the tire distributors. Joe Raye, Cuyahoga Falls, O., General Tire Dealer is pioneering this type service and he finds himself quite the popular dealer in his territory. No farther away from his customer than a telephone call, Raye's business is enjoying a boom. He always has a car in the shop at Raye's place of business has only to call the phone for them to give him a list of motorists in a certain neighborhood who have had tires in his market that he'll be ready to extend the service to them. "Time is an important factor to the customer," says Raye, "and an hour saved in repairing a tire is a real saving." Not even Alexander Graham Bell could have predicted this.

LAST-MINUTE JOBS MAY YET BE CARRIED OUT IN GARDENING

"If you've not made all the changes which you plan in your landscape, there's still time to get it done before the growing season starts," Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of Texas A. & M. College points out.

If shrubs around the house are crowded, some of them can be moved to a border or used for screening out-buildings, she says. Or go to the nurseries and select the plants which will fit into the home landscape, as they can be successfully transplanted now.

Other jobs which can be done to the home landscape now are listed by Miss Hatfield. Flower beds for late spring or summer plantings can be prepared, as barnyard fertilizer will have about six weeks to decay before planting seeds. Order rose bushes from reliable sources and set them out in soil where only grass has grown for the past five years. That will insure healthy plants and many blooms.

Evergreens which have grown too large and are crowding other plants can be pruned. Do not prune early blooming shrubs, such as spirea, flowering peach and forsythia until they finish blooming, she warns. Shrubs which have not begun to bud can be sprayed with oil emulsion to control scale. If the spray emulsion has been frozen or if the oil has separated, it's a good idea to get fresh material and follow directions exactly so the plants won't be injured.

As a final job, Miss Hatfield says, remove and burn all diseased plants, disseed and dead limbs and take out unhealthy plants. The general appearance of the landscape will be improved.

NEW YORK—(Soundphoto)—Meat, lard, flour and butter prices dropped sharply in retail food chain stores in N.Y. Metropolitan area. Porterhouse, sirloin steaks down as much as 13¢ a pound as housewives jubilantly hailed expansion of their budgets. Economists warned drop might be temporary. Here, Mrs. Ellen Boles, customer, looks on happily as Gottfried Zose meat department manager, changes price tags on steaks from 79¢ to 66¢.

PLANT BOXES START YOUR HOME GARDENS EARLY

A plant box is a handy thing to have around when it comes to starting tender plants such as tomatoes, lettuce, and peppers, says J. F. Rosborough, extension horticulturist of Texas A. & M. College. Eggplant, cabbage, cauliflower and Brussels sprouts may also be started in plant boxes. The boxes are easy to build. The plants are seeded in rich, well-prepared soil, watered when they need it, and insects and diseases are easily controlled.

By using a plant box the small, tender plants have a chance to get started earlier in the spring, giving the gardener stronger plants and better stands. Plant boxes give the slow growing plants a chance to get a head start in their long growing season, and the "cool weather" plants have time to grow before the weather gets too hot and dry. And the fall garden can be started early in the plant box if it is kept in the shade.

Make the plant boxes of good lumber, and nail together well so the weight of the dirt does not cause the box to fall apart. Size of the box is up to the gardener, but don't build them too big. You will want to move them around frequently, and if they are big, they're heavy. Most people make them 18 inches wide, 30 inches long and 4 inches deep; or they can be 15 inches by 24 inches by 3 inches. Lumber can be 1 inch by 3 inches, 1 by 4 or 1 by 6; any of these are good. Leave a one-eighth to one-fourth inch space between the bottom boards so the box is easily drained.

To get the young seedlings into the ground after the last spring frost, plant the seeds in the box six to eight weeks before it is time to move them into the field or garden.

These plant boxes are not for the large scale commercial grower, reminds Rosborough, but for the home garden, where only a few dozen plants of each kind are needed. If the home gardener wants to go on a little larger scale, and have vegetables to sell, a hot bed or a coldframe will be needed.

SWING OF THE SOUTHWEST FARM MARKETS

Most farm prices followed rising trends last week, but sharp declines Monday in some products erased much of the gains, according to the Production and Marketing Administration U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Cattle scored gains of mostly 50 cents to $1 during the seven days ending Monday, and calves sold as much as $1.50 higher at Texas markets. Houston brought good calves at $25 to $27, San Antonio and Fort Worth paid from $24 to $27 for good and choice grades. Oklahoma City took good and choice calves at $27 to $28.50, as heavy lots brought $21 to $25 at Wichita and below $26 at Denver. Good and choice vealers cleared Wichita from $24 to $27 and Denver up to $30.

Sheep prices rose 50 cents to $1.25 at principal southwest terminals for the week. Top woolled lambs brought $20 at San Antonio, $22 at Fort Worth, and $21.50 at Oklahoma City. Good and choice grades sold up to $20.85 at Wichita and $22 at Denver. San Antonio bought common and medium shorn goats fully steady at $8 to $9.

Hogs advanced sharply early last week, but steady losses on succeeding days more than erased the gains. Good and choice medium weight butcher hogs sold Monday at $22 at San Antonio, $22.25 to $22.50 at Fort Worth and Oklahoma City, and $22.75 to $23.25 at Wichita and Kansas City. Sows sold from $16 to $19.

Egg prices dropped off a couple of cents per dozen last week as spring supplies increased rapidly. Dallas paid around 38 cents a dozen for current receipts Monday as Fort Worth gave 39 to 40 cents. Poultry held firm. Heavy hens brought 24 to 26 cents a pound at Dallas and Fort Worth, light hens 20 to 22, and fryers 32 to 35.

Monday's cotton losses more than erased gains of late last week. Spot middling 15-16 inch closed Monday at 33.10 cents a pound at Dallas, 33.00 at Houston, and 32.90 at New Orleans.

Most grains advanced sharply last week to regain levels of a month ago but liquidated most of the gains in a sudden break over the weekend. No. 2 white corn closed Monday at $2.86½ per bushel at Texas common points, and No. 1 wheat $2.52.

Rice found limited demand last week in domestic and foreign trade, but the Commodity Credit Corporation made large purchases. Feed prices advanced mostly one to two dollars per ton, as medium and low qualities of hay declined 50 cents to $1.50. Peanut butter manufacturers with government contracts influenced demand for shelled peanuts. Fine Texas wools continued in demand at steady prices.

Cabbage markets gained considerable strength in the Lower Rio Grande Valley as the week progressed. As this week trade opened straight cars of domestic round type loaded at 75 to 95 cents per pound sack. Other south Texas vegetables said about steady to slightly lower. Southern Louisiana shallots dropped to $6 per barrel unpacked at the shed for U. S. No. 2, and sweet potatoes moved slowly in barely steady to slightly easier markets. Colorado potatoes also eased a little.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Porter, of Amarillo, came Monday to bring Mrs. Porter's mother, Mrs. J. W. Haynes home. Mrs. Haynes had been visiting the past two weeks in Amarillo as the guest of her daughter and Mr. Porter.
