Mrs. S. F. Flores of Tulia Makes Generous Gift to Wayland

From a pioneer plains family has come $50,000 gift to the Pioneers of Wayland College, Ivy Boggs, economic advisor for the college, revealed recently.

The life-long interest of Mrs. S. F. Flores, Tulia, in "the preachers down at Wayland," and the unselfishness of her pastor, Rev. C. G. Seawell, who contacted Boggs to arrange for the gift to go to Wayland, were responsible for the generous donation. The $50,000 is from the personal estate of Mrs. Flores.

"I've wanted for a long time to do something for Wayland, and it looks like the Lord brought this opportunity," Mrs. Flores said to President J. W. Bill Marshall, when making the gift. Mr. and Mrs. Flores both came to the plains in the late 1880's and have lived in this area for 60 years. A prominent ranchman and former president of the Tulia bank, Flores started his first ranch with $100 and 30 head of cattle earned while homesteading near Dimmitt.

Active workers in the First Baptist Church, Tulia, Mr. and Mrs. Flores have made several substantial gifts to the church. These include a baptistry painting, a public address system with seven loudspeakers, and a receiver set for the hard-of-hearing in the congregation.

Mrs. Flores also gave a carillon bell system costing $3800, and an organ. Flores has made a large contribution for a $110,000 educational building being erected by the church.

Rev. and Mrs. Grady Adcock and daughters, Linda and Judy, and Mrs. C. L. Gardner, visited in Tulia and Lubbock Tuesday afternoon. In Lubbock they visited Rev. Adcock's mother, who is a patient in Lubbock hospital.

ACP Helps Restore Soil's Organic Matter

Many farmers of Briscoe County are getting help from the Agricultural Conservation Program to replenish the organic matter in their soils this spring, according to Mr. R. M. Haverty, Chairman of the Briscoe County Agricultural Conservation Committee.

This help is offered, he explains, since green manure and cover crops are an important means for protecting, restoring and maintaining soils. Program assistance is offered for planting and turning under cover crops as green manure and also for adding plant foods to the soil so that cover crops can be grown. Legume cover crops have a special value because they add nitrogen as well as organic matter to the soil.

The chairman points out that in most parts of the country which have been under continuous cultivation, the amount of organic matter in the soil has greatly declined.

Different methods are used in various parts of the country to replenish the organic matter of soils, the chairman explains. In the South and other sections where soils wash during the winter, cover crops grow through winter months and are turned under as green manure in the spring. In the colder portions of the country, legumes—such as the clovers—and other crops are planted in the spring and turned under later the same year or the following year.

In the dry-farming parts of the country, straw and other crop residues are worked into the soil to accomplish a similar purpose. A recommended practice in all parts of the country is to get the land back into grass, or grasses and legumes, after it has been cultivated a few years.

Organic matter helps hold and build up the soil in a number of ways, the chairman explains. It improves "tilth," helps protect soil from wind and water, and improves water holding capacity.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kell and son, of Antelope, and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Bivins, and family, of Vigo Park; Mrs. Wylie Bomar Jr., and son, Robert, and Duaine Kell, of Brice, and Miss Estelle Guice, of Silverton, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hyatt Sunday.

Governor Jester Proclaimed April Control Month

HOUSTON—Calling for an expansion of cancer education, research and service in Texas, Governor Beauford Jester proclaimed April Cancer Control Month in the state.

April is set by an act of Congress as Cancer Control Month, and President Truman also has called for public support. The Texas Division campaign coincides with that in other states.

No Lack of Oil

A survey was recently made in 26 states and the District of Columbia in an attempt to determine just how much the general public knows about the current work of the oil industry in meeting the record demand and solving problems of supply and distribution.

Generally speaking, the results indicate that the people are generally well informed. A majority knows that the industry is producing more and more oil. Only 14 per cent believe that the spotty fuel shortages have caused real hardship. And a large proportion of fuel users have followed suggestions by the industry designed to make stacks of oil go farther.

What everyone should understand is that the oil shortages which have developed are not shortages at all in the real sense. They have been largely caused by the fact that oil supplies are not always immediately at the point of demand, due to transportation and storage problems. At all times there has been enough oil above ground to meet the need. Getting it to the fuel tanks of users, however, has occasioned some difficulties.

The thing that would make real trouble when it comes to oil would be a resumption of rationing, allocations, price control, etc. Bureaucratic restrictions always seem to create dislocations and shortages. It is manifestly impossible for a political fiat to produce or remove a single additional barrel of oil. Everything that human ingenuity can devise is being done now simply as a matter of good business.

Transportation Preparedness Essential

Brehon Somervell, who was Commanding General of the Army Service Forces during the war, recently delivered a talk on "Railroads and National Security." During it, he discussed the necessity for great expansion of the railroad plant. Then he said: "Whether the roads are rehabilitated to the extent they should be—to the extent that it is necessary for the nation's welfare—depends on whether their financial position is sufficiently improved to enable them to attract the capital necessary to pay for the job."

The national welfare, as it is affected by the railroads, has two distinct branches. First of all, the economic life of the country—agriculture and industry in all their branches—depends upon swift flexible and abundant railroad service. Secondly, the national defense demands the best railroad system on earth. In the last war, as top military men have testified on innumerable occasions, the railroads did a miraculous job in transporting men and materials. As with everything else in family and national life, if we wait until an emergency comes before we ready ourselves for it, it may be too late. That is as true of the railroads as it is of the military services themselves.

Consequently, the request of the railroads, now before the Interstate Commerce Commission, that they be allowed rates which will provide a fair return on their investment goes far beyond the problem of one industry's economic well-being. It is of the most direct interest to every citizen and every institution in the nation.

BOYCE HOUSE

Somebody has said that knowledge is a wonderful thing. Why, if it wasn't for knowledge, we wouldn't know a thing!

Similarly—folks are great; we couldn't get along without 'em.

Recently your columnist was to speak at the annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce in Falfurrias and had journeyed by bus as far as San Antonio when I ran into Bill Furey, Hillsboro publisher, in the Gunter lobby and he was on his way to Edinburg and so I caught a ride to Falfurrias.

Coming back, I'd gotten as far as Austin by bus, stopped over for a few hours, ran into Carl Bruner, a friend from Cowtown. He and his son, Paul, veteran—and graduate student at the University of Texas, insisted—they didn't have to insist very strong—that I ride back to Fort Worth with them.

Not only that but I'd stopped in San Antonio (on the return trip) to see Col. Ray Leeman, executive vice president of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce, and tell him what a good job Ray Jr., is doing as Falfurrias C of C manager but it was noon so I thought I'd have lunch, then phone the Colonel. So I went into the Manhattan Cafe, had my favorite dinner, (the seafood platter) and, just as I finished, the man next to me at the counter got up, and one seat over, sat the man I'd stopped in San Antonio to see—Col. Leeman.

And I was so clumsy that he picked up my luncheon check.

Folks are great, I don't see how a fellow could get along without 'em.

American history has been marked by the passing of the Indian, the passing of the buffalo and the passing of the buck.

Something should be done about people that are late to shows and programs. And Alfred Lunt, the famous actor, does. Several years ago, I was attending a Shakespearean play and the first act had been going on for 10 minutes when a couple entered. Of course, their seats were right in the middle of a row so everybody in that row had to stand to let them get by.

Lunt was speaking. He stopped, waited till the late arrivals were seated and then said, "So nice of you to come."

Helpful Suggestions On Safe Pick-up Around House

There is much picking up for the housewife to do around the house, and some of it is difficult or dangerous if done by hand. Because burns and cuts are among the most frequent home accidents suffered by women, more care should be taken with hot and sharp articles. There are ways to handle these dangerous articles without getting cut or burned, says Mrs. Bernice Claytor, extension home management specialist of Texas A. and M. College.

Tongs to pick up hot articles at the stove, outdoor fireplace or kitchen sink will save many burned fingers, she says. Use tongs to lift jars from hot water in canning, large vegetables from cooking water, baked potatoes from the

A small magnet will easily pick up pins and needles that have been dropped on the floor, and to save fingers and hands when a glass falls off a shelf or out of a cabinet, use damp cotton. The cotton will pick up the small splinters of glass and will offer the housewife protection from cuts, says Mrs. Claytor.

Grass Forecast: Fine Today, Dry And Poor Later

When pastures are best is the time to plant some more. Livestock specialists point out that the way to have productive, year-round grazing is to plan ahead so that other grasses are ready for grazing when present pastures pass their peak.

Permanent pastures and native grasses furnish peak grazing about this time of the year. When warmer weather comes in summer months, these pastures will begin to fade and need rest. Planned ahead, temporary pastures will continue the good gains livestock have made on permanent pastures and increase production and profits.

Sudan grass, especially the new, popular sweet variety, is one of the most practical temporary pasture crops in the Cotton South. Planted early in the spring when soils get warm, it usually reaches peak production when other grasses are no longer productive, and often provides excellent grazing until late fall. Sudan grass is popular because of its wide adaptability, ease of planting, and large volume of forage that is high in total energy value, vitamins, minerals and protein.

Proper stocking and the use of supplemental feeds increase the value of Sudan pasture for livestock. Sudan is most productive when allowed to grow to a height of 8 to 10 inches, and then grazed enough to keep the growth young and tender. Any extra growth should be mowed and cured for hay. Feeding cottonseed meal for dry roughage when grazing is short increases the productivity of the pasture.

It is best to keep some dry roughage always available to stock on Sudan pasture. Dry roughage is especially important when the grass is young and "washy."

When Sudan matures, a protein supplement is needed by livestock. One to two pounds of cottonseed meal or cake, daily per head, will meet the protein requirements of beef cows, dry dairy cows, or growing and bred heifers. The daily amount needed depends on the condition of the pasture, and age and condition of the cattle. When grazing is very poor, increase the protein to two to three pounds, or add one to three pounds of ground grain.

Producing dairy cows on excellent Sudan pasture need a concentrate mixture containing 13 to 15 per cent protein. With dry, mature pasture, a concentrate mixture of 19 to 20 per cent protein is recommended.

Good Sudan pasture will fatten beef steers and calves to a market grade of "good" when supplemented by a daily ration of 3 to 5 pounds of dry roughage, 4 to 5 pounds of cottonseed cake or pellets, and 2 to 3 pounds of grain. When grain is scarce and costly, it may be eliminated and the daily ration of cake increased to 5 to 7 pounds.

When young and tender, Sudan is excellent pasture for hogs and poultry. It furnishes vitamins, minerals, and variety of protein, and helps to improve sanitation and provide exercise.

Broad mares and idle work stock make good use of Sudan pasture. They should have 2 to 4 pounds of dry roughage, daily, while grazing good grass. As Sudan becomes dry, supplement it with one pound of cottonseed meal, one to two pounds of grain and five to six pounds of dry roughage. Working animals should have a regular concentrate ration, grazing Sudan at night or during idle days.

Have a Sandwich Between Meals Is Suggested

Three square meals a day is a good idea, but everybody can't hold to this. Some people do better by eating frequently—but lightly—during the day, rather than sticking to the three-meal-a-day business. Miss Louise Mason, extension food preparation specialist of Texas A. & M. College, says that research by the USDA home economists show that eating between meals is not always a bad habit. There are three things involved, says Miss Mason—the food, the time, and the person doing the eating.

Between-meal snacks may be used to supplement the regular meals and to help provide an adequate diet. Growing children, underweight and active workers often need more food than they can eat comfortably at a meal so they turn to snacks. For them a light fill-in at the mid-point between meals keeps them from getting tired and too hungry before the next meal.

A glass of milk, a sandwich, a hard-cooked egg or fruit after school is recommended for giving children plenty of energy for active play without spoiling their appetite for the supper meal. However, candy, cake, or sweet drinks shortly before a meal usually spoil the child's appetite for such essential things as vegetables.

Pack of Seed Nets Million Dollar Crop Plant Immigrant Has Typical Success Story

One package of seed sent home by a missionary less than 30 years ago has developed into a crop now valued at more than 200 million dollars a year. That is the success story of a plant immigrant - Korean lespezea.

Only three decades ago Dr. Ralph Mills, a medical missionary, sent a package of lespezea seed from Korea to the U. S. department of agriculture. Department specialists planted the seed at the experimental farm across the Potomac river from Washington. In a few years there was enough seed to plant lespezea at several state experiment stations.

The imported crop fitted well on the poor, slightly acid soils unfit for such crops as alfalfa and soon was being grown widely in the East Central states as a seed and pasture crop. Now its use is becoming more widespread, particularly in areas of low fertility land.

The U. S. crop of Korean lespezea, developed directly from the single package, now is valued at more than 200 million dollars a year. Value of the seed crop amounts to 20 million dollars. The hay crop makes up another 100 million dollars of value. Although value of the pasture crop is difficult to estimate, specialists contend that it amounts to at least 100 million dollars. These figures do not take into account the profitable use of millions of acres of low fertility land made possible by introduction of the new legume crop.

He's a Rat

What is the most destructive animal in the world? No—it's not a puppy or a small boy!

The common Norway or brown rat has absolutely no competition when it comes to the ability to destroy. Annually, rats alone destroy about 4 per cent of the total grain and cereal crop in the United States, figures compiled by extension service entomologists indicate. As if its destructive abilities were not enough, the rat is host to carriers or is itself a carrier of bubonic plague, typhus and other diseases which are deadly to man.

Few farms are entirely free of rats, although rat populations can be reduced quickly. Cleaning up the premises, rat proofing, cutting off food supply, poisoning and trapping are major points in an effective rat control program. But, once the control measures begin to show results, there can be no relaxing. Rat control is a permanent, year-around program. A few days of poisoning will have only a temporary effect on the rat population.

Modern Dairy Buildings Will Boost Efficiency

Increased efficiency has entered the dairy industry with more widespread use of milking rooms and milk houses.

The ideal location for a milk house is attached to the milking room or barn. In most areas, sanitary requirements permit construction under the same roof.

Adjacent construction permits the dairyman to coordinate feeding, caring for the cows, milking them and handling the milk into an efficient system.

Miles of walking are saved annually when the milk house is adjacent to the milking room at barn, figures compiled by Cornell university show.

Requirements permit construction under the same roof.

Adjacent construction permits the dairyman to coordinate feeding, caring for the cows, milking them and handling the milk into an efficient system.

Rabbit and Chicken Raising Is Profitable

To offset high meat prices, home production of rabbits and chickens can be carried on very economically, making the family at least partially independent of commercial sources.

Raising of rabbits and chickens at home has a big advantage in the economical use of feeds, because such animals mature more quickly and at a lower feed cost per pound of gain in weight.

Behind The Scenes in American Business

Although luxury sales have been sagging steadily, buying of durable goods which were scarce during the war is still rising.

Release of figures showing revenue from federal excise tax levies gives a pretty complete picture of the industries and stores which have been hit hardest by the price—and tax—squeeze.

Fur, jewelry, luggage and cosmetics tax collections—reflecting sales in retail stores—dropped from five to 20 per cent from July 1, 1947, to February 29, first eight months of the federal government's current fiscal year.

At the same time sales of durable goods on which excise taxes are levied show increases over a similar period in 1946-47. Refrigerators and air conditioning equipment scored a gain of 60 per cent. Tax collections on the manufacture of autos and motorcycles jumped 43 per cent, auto parts and accessories 28 per cent, radios and phonographs 20 per cent, photographic equipment 19 per cent, musical instruments 12 per cent and sporting goods five per cent.

HOME REPAIRS—Keeping the nation's homes in tip-top condition is one of the construction industry's biggest jobs. This year expenditures for home repair are expected to run between $2,600,000,000 and $3,300,000,000 according to a report of the Tile Council of America. More than 30 of every 100 homes will be painted, either inside or out, and 12 will be re-roofed in the course of 1948, the report disclosed. Ten will have heating equipment overhauled or replaced, and nine will get new plumbing, have bathrooms tiled or showers installed according to the report. In addition, many thousands of farm homes will be greatly improved, for farmers today not only want but can well afford such modern conveniences as running water, tiled baths and streamlined kitchens. These home repair expenditures mean not only busy days for building products manufacturers but prosperity to skilled construction workmen throughout the country.

THINGS TO COME—N i g h t

traffic cops can now direct in technicolor with new flashlights that can be push-buttoned from red to green . . . Built-in spray system for wooden buildings can be loaded with a powerful chemical toxic to combat termites . . . Broad-based auto jack with a rated capacity of 2,800 pounds can be used safely and efficiently on upgrades and in mud or sand . . . Tap water can be "demineralized" into the chemical equivalent of distilled water by using a newly developed renewable resin cartridge . . . For dramatizing pictures or household beauty spots or highlighting the front door, Westinghouse is manufacturing 75-watt spot or floodlights with built-in reflectors . . . Heater hood for tractors does double duty by circulating engine heat through the operator's cab and also acting as protective cover for the machine, eliminating the need for indoor storage . . . Confidential messages can really remain private through use of a new automatic coding device. The system "scrambles" a dictated message in code on a recording machine. The message cannot be decoded unless the recipient has a playback device equipped with the same code as the sender . . . Concentrated apple juice is a new food development of the week.

BIG ORDER—A refreshing note was sounded in international trade last week when Graham-Paige Motors shipped some 1,500 farm implements—rototillers, Jaques-Frazier tractors, plows, mowers, harrows and other tools—to Argentina. Noteworthy in its own right as the largest single export order in the company's history, it is also encouraging as evidence of the functioning of free enterprise. Neither Graham-Paige nor its Argentine distributor, S. Ring & Cia, requested or received any government aid in the transaction; nor did it involve any special legislation, or special pleading. Graham-Paige has been vigorously developing the Latin American market as a prime outlet for its farm equipment and the big order was a direct result of this active salesmanship. According to President Joseph W. Frazer, similar demand has been created throughout Latin America as well as in Belgium, the Netherlands, Scandinavia and South Africa to the point where the company expects to increase its foreign trade this year from 10 per cent of output to about 25 per cent.

BITS 'O BUSINESS—Some control of manpower is regarded as inevitable late in 1948 when the stepped-up defense program makes large demands on the labor market . . . One large textile firm has warned its sales force not to expect increases in merchandise if the military draft plan goes through. Some appliance manufacturers, however, are beginning to plan on the possibility that sizeable armaments contracts may solve their over-production problem . . . Industrial firms are finding it difficult to obtain good salesmen despite the fact that annual earnings of beginners in sales have risen from $2,500 to $3,000 since 1936 . . . Alabama businessmen are telling high school students the story of free enterprise through tours by students and talks by business leaders in schools and colleges . . . Annual business volume of the average U. S. retail store climbed from $23,000 in 1939 to $59,000 in 1947—up more than 150 per cent.

Veterans Friend

Q. I have a discharge from the draft of World War I. May I consider myself a veteran?

A. For the purposes of laws administered by Veterans Administration in order to be classified as a veteran you must have had active military service during a time of war. A discharged draftee is not considered to have had such service.

Q. I received a pension as a Spanish-American War veteran's widow. I remarried and my second husband is now dead. Am I eligible for a pension again as a widow of the Spanish-American War veteran?

A. Yes, if you meet the other requirements of the law and regulations.

Q. May I receive death benefits for my husband and my son?

A. Yes, if both were veterans and you are otherwise eligible.

Q. What proof is required to obtain death compensation or pension for an illegitimate child.

A. Acknowledgement in writing, signed by the veteran, or evidence showing he has been judicially ordered or decreed to contribute to the child's support or has been, prior to his death, judicially decreed to be the father of such child, or evidence satisfactory to the Administrator of Veterans Affairs that the veteran is the father of such child.

Q. Is it necessary that a child, in custody of the widow, file a separate claim for compensation?

A. No.

Cold and Covered Best Way to Keep Eggs Fresh

Cold and covered is the best way to keep eggs fresh and in prime condition for eating, was the information Miss Louise Mason, extension food preparation specialist of Texas A. & M. College, received from USDA home economists.

The quicker eggs are placed in the refrigerator, the better they will be when used. Experiments have shown that eggs at room temperature have lost as much freshness in three days as they would have in two weeks if put in the refrigerator.

There are two good reasons for keeping them covered in the refrigerator, says Miss Mason. One is to keep them from losing moisture through their porous shell in the dry atmosphere of the refrigerator, and the other is to protect them so they will not absorb odors of "off flavors." A covered dish or one of the closed containers or vegetable works much better than a cardboard carton or an open bowl.

Eggs should be kept far enough away from the ice container or the freezing unit so that there is no danger of their freezing. There is another thing the food specialists want to remind you of, and that is don't wash the eggs until just before they are to be used. The dull "bloom" on the eggshell is a protective film which helps prevent bacteria and odors from entering the pores of the shell.

Miss Connie Dell Waters, of Plainview, spent the week-end with relatives.

Mrs. J. W. Brannon, Sr., and Mrs. Richard Hill attended church at Lakeview Sunday of last week.

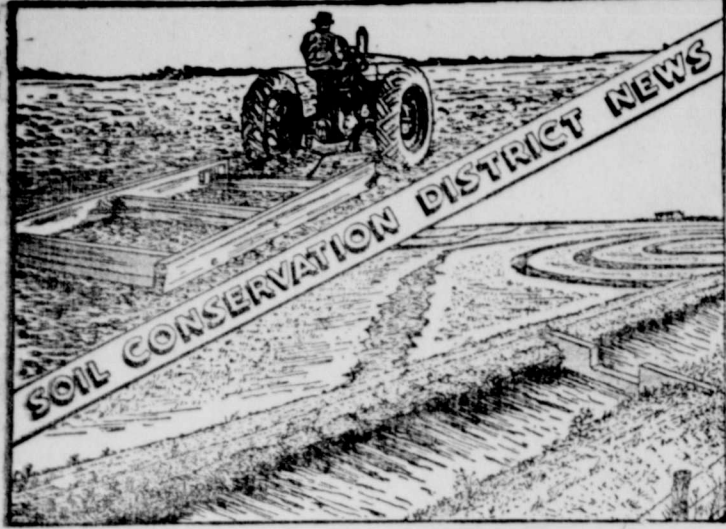

Abe Stevenson went to Amarillo Monday for medical treatment.

Nuptials vows were solemnized for Maxine Nuzum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Nuzum of Tulia, and Carlton Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Gardner of Rising Star, on Saturday evening, April 10, at the home of the bride's great-aunt, Mrs. W. P. Lamar, at Crosbyton.

Rev. Ural S. Sherrill, pastor of the First Methodist church at Sudan read the double ring ceremony. He was assisted by Rev. L. B. Smallwood, retired Methodist pastor of Sweetwater.

The mantel was decorated with a bouquet of calla-lilies and an arch of lilies fern and stock flanked by tall candelabra with basket arrangements of lilies and stock interspersed with fern formed the setting or the exchange of vows. The tall white candles were lighted by Bruce Aldridge of Hereford, brother-in-law of the bride, and W. T. Smoot, Jr., of Amarillo, cousin of the bride.

A recording of "I Love You Truly" was played softly before the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white linen suit trimmed with gold buttons. Her accessories were in black and white. For something old, the bride wore her great aunt's high school class pin; for something blue, she had a dainty blue handkerchief pinned inside her pocket; for something borrowed she wore a triple strand of pearls belonging to her aunt, Mrs. W. T. Smoot of Amarillo. The bride carried a new white leather Bible topped with an orchid with white satin streamers.

Miss Mae McKone of Tulia attended the bride as maid-of-honor. She wore a gold gabardine suit, black accessories and a corsage of maroon carnations. Walter Brown, Jr., also of Tulia, served the groom as best man.

Mrs. Nuzum, mother of the bride, wore a black crepe dress with black accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

All flowers used in the wedding and the cake cut during the reception which followed were gifts from the bride's great aunt, Mrs. W. P. Lamar and daughter, Marie. Mrs. Alan Dickerson from Lubbock, and Miss Bettye Gardner of Silverton, sisters of the groom, poured the punch, while Mrs. Bruce Aldridge of Hereford sister of the bride, served the wedding cake.

Mrs. Gardner was graduated from Crosbyton High School and attended Draughon's Business College in Lubbock. Mr. Gardner attended Silverton Public Schools. He served seven years with the United States Army serving part of this time in the European Theatre.

After a brief wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Tulia where Mrs. Gardner is employed by the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, and Mr. Gardner is a co-owner and operator of the State Cleaners.
